A black and white photograph of a large group of students, likely a choir or band, posing in a classroom. They are arranged in several rows, with some standing and some sitting at desks. The students are dressed in casual attire typical of the late 1970s or early 1980s. The background is a dark chalkboard.

A black and white photograph of a marching band in uniform, playing brass instruments on a field. The band members are wearing dark uniforms with light-colored horizontal stripes on the sleeves and light-colored pants. They are holding brass instruments, likely tubas or euphoniums. The background shows a grassy field and some trees.

Adviser's Colophon

1. This colophon is an attempt to make a meaningful, useful, and truthful account about the creation of the 1983 CYNOSURE. The education and perspective for present and future yearbook personnel is the point of view from which this is written.

2. Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas is our publisher. Their field representative is Mr. George Franklin of Warren, NJ whose telephone number is 647-1661. The original press run of 700 books was cut to 600 and the price per book increased from $15.00 to $17.00. Total number of pages is 176 produced as follows:

October 15: 9 pages due, 9 pages shipped.
December 23: 46 pages due, 48 pages shipped.
January 31: 46 pages due, 40 pages shipped.
February 28: 46 pages due, 57 pages shipped.
March 15: 22 pages due, 22 pages shipped.

3. Biem Studios of Irvington, NJ (Tel. 375-9000) is our portrait and candid photographer. All varsity sports were covered at least once by studio photographers. Unfortunately and against all training to the contrary, a staff photographer left one of Biem's cameras in her locker; it was promptly stolen and staff had to complete the year with only one camera and fewer pictures.

4. Of the eight trained Junior staff from last year, only three "stayed the course." Most of this year's Junior Staff disappeared one day into a crowd of passing classes and were never heard from again. Many students offered consolation and short term help occasionally, but commitment and consistency were not to be had — not for a title or even posterity. Not to be overlooked in compounding our staff problem, was the slight matter of knowing what to do and how to do it. Unfortunately, the nature of CYNOSURE production does not lend itself to part-time, occasional efforts nor the continual retraining of changing short-term volunteers.

5. Because no one could be found to assume a full time editorship of Student Life, the section had to be dropped. However, the Managing Staff did attempt to incorporate parts of Student Life in other sections of the yearbook.

6. A new name was adopted for the faculty section, Academia, in the hope that much of the defunct Student Life section could be incorporated there.

7. Our annual Senior Staff trip to Columbia University in New York City for yearbook training was cancelled again this year by the Managing Staff. The reasons reflected the times — too few people to train accompanied by a prohibitive cost.

8. The main aspects of our layout style are based upon what a few dedicated seniors could realistically hope to accomplish. Captions are only I.D.'s and primarily morticed over pictures. There is no copy. Student Life Section per se does not exist. Page numbers accompanied by content designations are apparent on every page. Relevant sentence-style headlines have been placed on spreads wherever possible — especially in sports. A dominant photo has been attempted on most double page spreads. All copy inclusive has been confined to the Index.

9. In all sixty-two years of CYNOSURE production, staffs had been obliged to meet in private homes outside of school for deadlines whenever a willing parent could be found. Thanks be to Mr. Alvin Coplan, Principal, we were allowed to meet at school in our publications room. Wouldn't you know? At our very first in-school Saturday meeting there was a break in elsewhere in the building. Well, compared to hectic in-school production, Saturdays provided rich deposits of time and calm during our deadlines. This year's deposit of Saturdays balanced our books in its on-time production schedule.

Richard Van Pelt

Like the Scarlet Pimpernel, he was here; he was there; he was everywhere!

Danny Soemer

Not a Mohican but the last "walk-on" to have volunteered himself for a job. He undertook the new and difficult Academia section.

Felica Kalb

Unafraid to tackle anything. A true heroine by her deeds and the slayer of Apathy and Indifference — useless and cruel CYNOSURE dragons.

Susan Wetstein

Singlehandedly she whipped the entire undergraduate section into shape, and anything else too, I might add. When she finished asking "Why?", she was a good whipper upperer.

Flora Tomascovic

An efficient secretary to the adviser and thorough Business Section Editor. Her many quick hands made the adviser's work lighter.

Dave Araya

Dedication and dependability were his watch-words whether in the field or in the darkroom. We couldn't have done this book without him.

Linda Berzanski

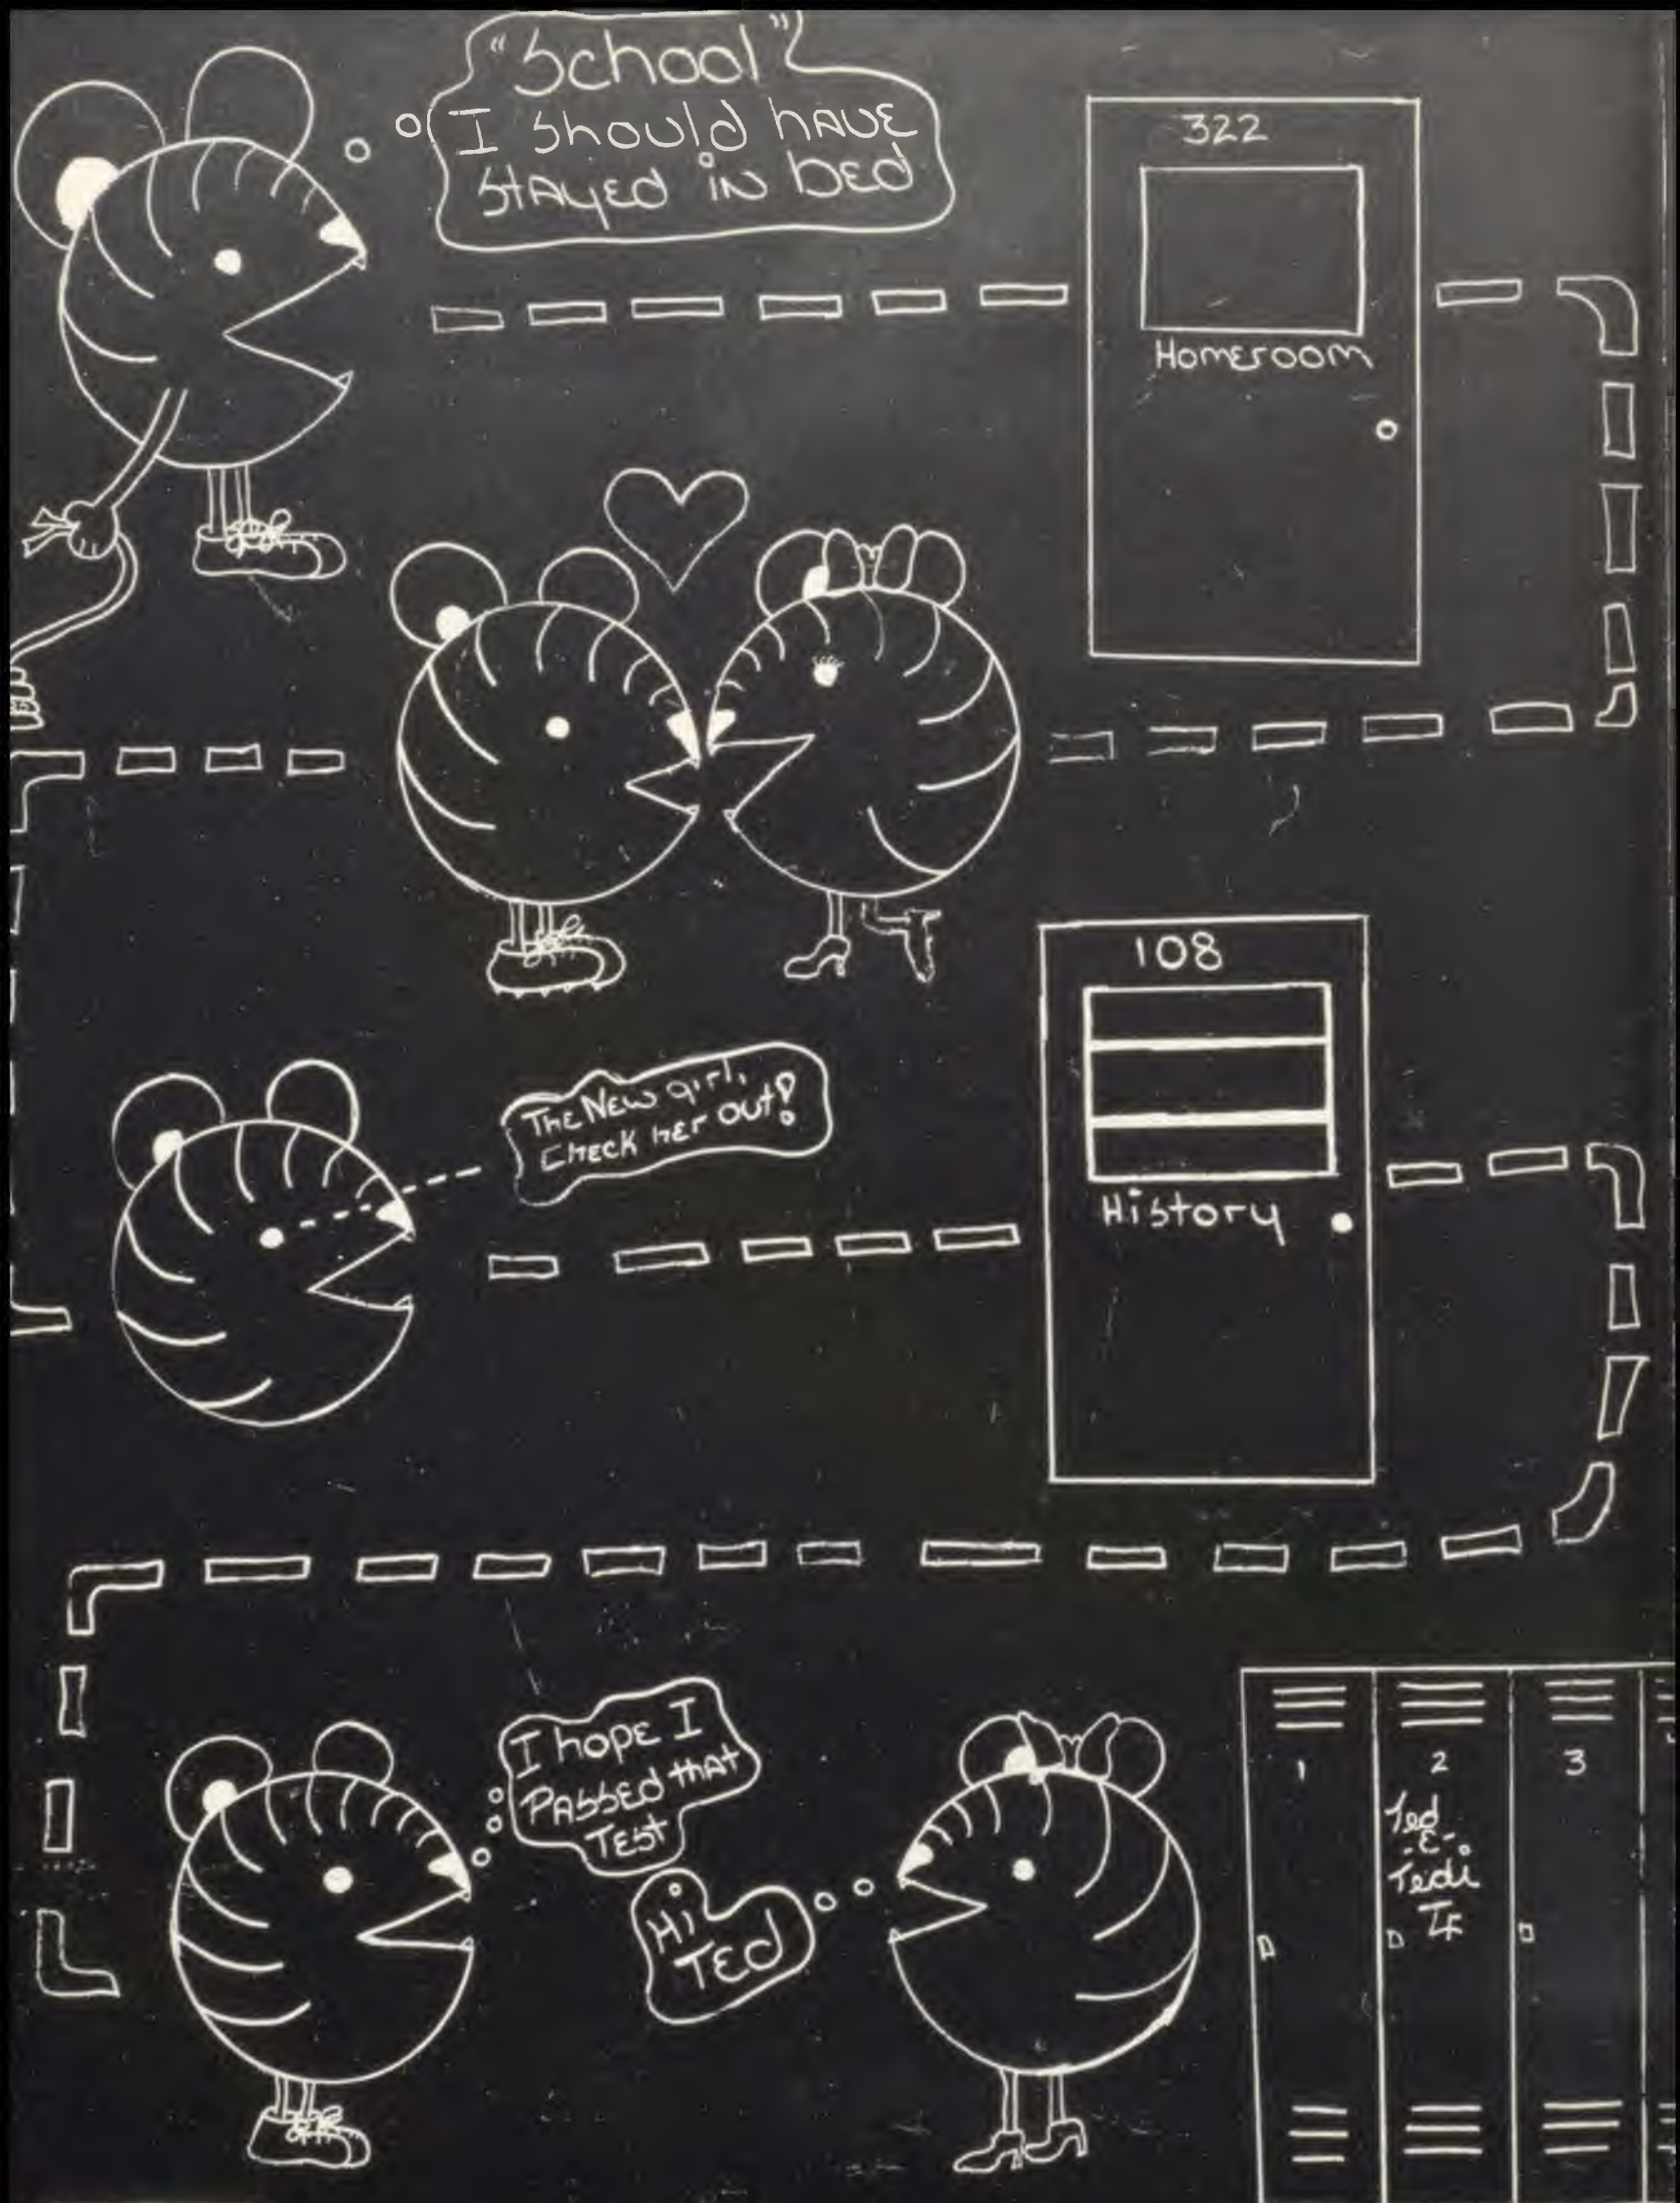

Was typing editor last year and became sports editor this year. She typed this year too.

Alice Di Micele

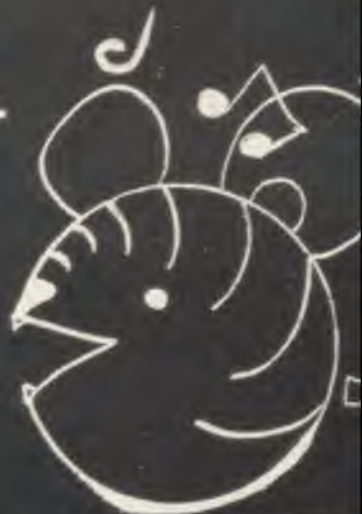

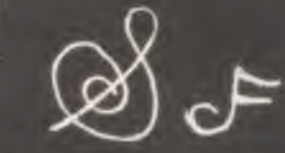

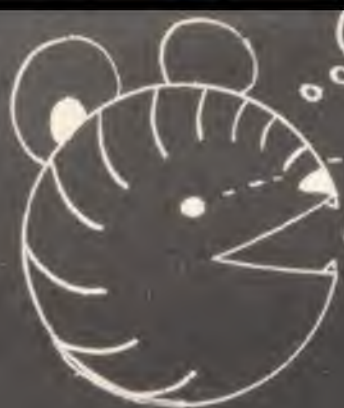

A stalking stick of dynamite seeking out the photographer who missed his assignment. He missed; she wouldn't. He won't be missed either.

Is it Kathy McBride?

Indeed it tis. And a fine artist too! Surely the wind will be at her back going up the next hill!
