Heritage Junior High School Wins Award from Freedoms Foundation

Heritage Junior High School has been named the recipient of the George Washington Honor Award for outstanding accomplishment in helping to achieve a better understanding of the American way of life. The award is presented by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

Heritage Junior High School was selected for the honor in recognition of its Heritage Project, conducted during the 1967-68 school year. At that time each of the seventh and eighth grade classes researched, discussed and selected quotations which they felt contributed significantly to the American heritage.

Each of the rooms then developed a bulletin board, on which the quotation was written. Also included was background information on the author and the circumstances surrounding the quotation. Each day during the month one of the quotations was read over the school public address system, with some appropriate comments emphasizing the contributions of America's forefathers.

Dr. John V. Rowley, principal of the school, notified the Board of Education this week that arrangements are now being made for the presentation of the honor certificate and the trophy.

The Board extended its congratulations to the students who were involved in the project, some of whom are now at Livingston High School, and to Dr. Justin Galford, who at that time was vice principal of the school and who prepared the description and scrapbook which was submitted to the Freedoms Foundation.

The Freedoms Foundation is a non-political organization which attempts to encourage better understanding of the American heritage and democratic principles.

United Fund Allocations Made To Local Charitable Agencies

Allocations totaling $725,000 were made last week by the United Fund of North Essex. These funds were based on the campaign which closed in January after having raised $725,042 from residents, corporations and small businesses in the ten North Essex communities of Caldwell, Cedar Grove, Essex Fells, Fairfield, Livingston, Montclair, North Caldwell, Roseland, Verona and West Caldwell.

"Changing communities and changing times have brought new emphases on United Community Services Planning and Budget Divisions," Charles Maxwell, president of the board of trustees, said in announcing the agency allocations for the current year.

"Both these Divisions, composed of volunteers from the communities in which the United Fund operates, have given greater emphasis than before to basic human needs in the areas of poverty, mental breakdown, children, the aging and the disadvantaged. Thus, a system of priorities was established by the UCS Planning Division to be used as a guide for the Budget Division in actually making allocations. Since the year's allocation. The New Jersey Association for Retarded Children is being increased in recognition of its efforts toward finding employment for retarded adults.

Because of its commitments throughout the world and particularly in Vietnam, the U.S.O. allocation has been increased.

The Y.W.C.A. of Montclair now reaches a disadvantaged population more than do many of the other agencies. Because of its programs in this critical area, its allocation is being substantially increased.

In considering the two Red Cross agencies, since the West Essex District is responsible for a population twice that of the Montclair Chapter, the former's allocation was increased.

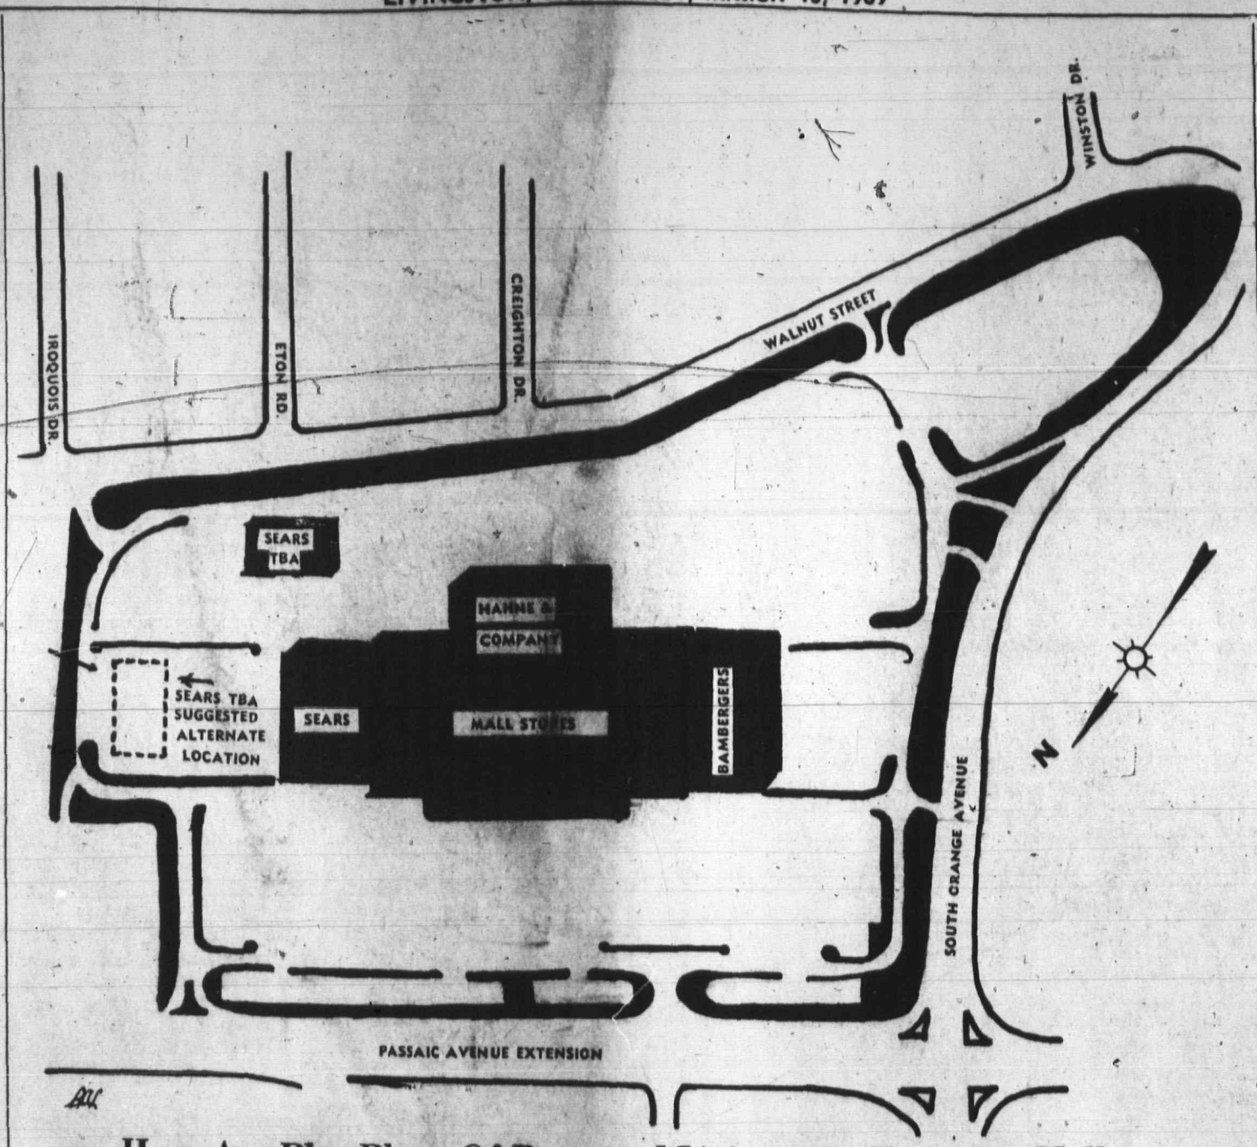

Most of the other 30 agencies supported by the United Fund of North Essex will receive the same allocation as they did in 1968. The allocations have been divided as follows: family and children's services, $280,302; character building services,

School Board Sets Salaries

Salary guides for Board of Education employees were officially adopted by the Board on Monday evening. The guides were adopted for teachers, principals, office personnel, cafeteria personnel, custodians, and for additional responsibility factors for teachers.

The action was routine, and followed the approval of the school budget in the recent referendum.

Here Are Plot Plans Of Proposed Livingston Shopping Mall

Invests Funds

Board of Education business manager George M. Bowman reported this week that $200,000 in Board funds had been invested in Treasury Bills. As of February 27, he stated, the investment in 91 day bills had earned $2,721.

On that date, when the bills were redeemed, another $200,000 in Treasury Bills was purchased. These will mature on May 29 at a discount rate of 6.08 percent, he said, which will earn $3,071 in interest.

The invested funds are taken from allocated money which is not needed immediately. Rather than hold such money in checking accounts for future use, it is invested in short-term Treasury Bills.

Charged with Drunken Driving After Collision with House

The home of Joseph Connell was damaged when a car drove into the foundation on Saturday night, March 8. The car was driven by Helmut Danner, whose driver's license indicated he lived in Hanover but who stated that he had moved to 32 Charles street in Livingston.

Danner told police that he had been going eastward on West Mount Pleasant avenue when he saw a car leaving the parking lot of the Landmark Tavern. He swerved to the left and jammed on his brakes to avoid a collision with the car, but in the process crossed the road, jumped the curb, went through some bushes and crashed into Connell's home at the corner of Blackstone drive.

Danner consented to a breath test, and following the test was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was released later when a bondsman posted $250 bail pending a court appearance on March 19.

Danner's car was extensively damaged, with the loss estimated at $2,500 by investigating officers. No estimate of the damage to the house was immediately available.

Given Jail Term

Ronald Naso of 36 Brandon avenue was sentenced to a jail term in Livingston Municipal Court on Wednesday evening. Naso pleaded guilty to driving after his license had been revoked. He was sentenced by Magistrate Frank I. A. Kent to 15 days in the Essex County Jail.

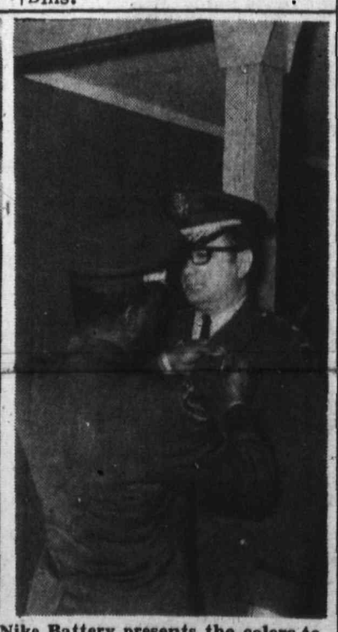

Schools Get Free Pickup Truck

The Livingston Board of Education has acquired a pickup truck for maintenance work at no cost to the Board. George M. Bowman, the Board's secretary and business manager, reported this week that the vehicle had been obtained from the State Agency for Surplus Property.

He had applied to the Agency some time ago for a light pickup truck, he said, and last week was notified that such a vehicle was available. Inspection revealed that it was suitable for the purpose, and it is now in the possession of the school maintenance crews.

Bowman reported that the truck is in excellent condition following rebuilding and painting. He estimated the saving to the Board at about $2,000.

Major Rieth Assumes Command of Nike Base

On Saturday, a Change of Command Ceremony was conducted at the local Nike Base. LTC William S. Frye turned command of the 7th Battalion (Nike Hercules) 112th Artillery, NJARMG to Major Kenneth L. Major Kenneth L. Rieth was born and educated in Newark, N.J. He graduated from Newark Central HS, received a BS Degree from Univ. of Delaware and an MA Degree from Seton Hall University.

Major Rieth is a graduate of the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. He was selected as one of 31 Reservists throughout the country to attend the Armed Forces College, Norfolk, Virginia for a two-week orientation course on National Defense Policies.

Major Rieth received a Regular Army Commission from the ROTC program at the Univ. of Delaware when he was designated a Distinguished Military Graduate. He served on active duty for six years. He commanded an air defense battery in Alaska and concurrently coached the base Army football and basketball teams.

School Board Hires 4 Teachers; Acts on Other Staff Matters

Four new teachers were employed by the Board of Education on Monday evening to replace teachers who have resigned.

Mrs. Jacqueline B. Schaefer was granted a leave of absence following the death of her daughter-in-law, as she is now caring for her grandchild. Her kindergarten classes at Harrison School will be taken by two new teachers, Mrs. Mary Craig and Mrs. Sonia Tabankin.

Mrs. Craig teaches the afternoon class, starting last Monday. She has had previous kindergarten experience in the Livingston schools. Mrs. Tabankin, who has also taught kindergarten previously, will handle the morning class.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hazewski submitted her resignation to the Board on Monday due to pregnancy. The resignation will become effective on March 31. Her third grade class at Hillside school will be taken by Mrs. Sara Sepic, a Livingston resident, starting on April 1. Mrs. Sepic taught for three years in Pennsylvania, and for the past 14 years has been a substitute teacher and tutor in the local schools. She has taken advanced courses in elementary education and learning disabilities at Montclair State College.

The Board also reemployed Jerome Krumeich to teach physical education at the Mt. Pleasant Junior High School; he had been in the army. In addition, Krumeich was appointed sponsor of the Track Club at the school for the remainder of the school year.

Several other teachers' resignations were accepted by the Board on Monday evening.

Miss Joanne Giuliano, who now teaches first grade at Burnet Hill School, will be getting married and moving to California during the summer, and resigned as of June 30.

Mrs. Ralph E. Crane, Jr., received a leave of absence for maternity reasons, effective May 1.

Mrs. Olga Sgambettera also received a maternity leave, effective on May 15.

Mrs. Mary P. Briggs, who has been a secretary in the Board offices for many years, submitted her resignation for reasons of health, effective March 28. At the Monday evening meeting it was noted that consultation would be arranged with assistant superintendent Matthew Smith, in whose office Mrs. Briggs worked, to plan a search for a replacement.

The Board also granted a leave of absence, without pay, to Mrs. Ruth R. Rudner. The Mt. Pleasant Junior High School teacher reported that she was unable to find competent domestic help to care for her two children while she was teaching. She hopes to be able to return to teaching in the fall if a suitable housekeeper can be found.

Cops - Clergy Basketball Mayhem Set For This Sunday at 4:30

On the eve of Livingston's Super Basketball Game between the Livingston Police and St. Philomena's undefeated Clergy, the cops have been dealt a crushing blow. It was announced from Clergy headquarters (Seymour's Luncheonette) that the Reverend Gibbons from the Presbyterian Church of Livingston will play in the game. Gibbons made this formal announcement in a speech at Clergy headquarters: "My participation in the game will bring together all religious forces in Livingston against the long arm of the law."

Reverend Gibbons was given a standing ovation. Two men were thrown out of the store for booing. It was found out later that these men were Det. Ed Ollerenshaw and Det. Sgt. Al Fachet of the Livingston Police. Two summonses were immediately placed on Reverend Gibbon's vehicle which was parked in front of the store. The summonses were placed there by Officer Henry Blocker; he wasn't the only cop there, but he was the only one who had summonses.

Al Ferguson, Head Referee, made the announcement that because of illness, George Cox will not referee this year. Al Jacobson, head football coach, will take his place. Ferguson figured more weight would be needed to handle this gory, bloody battle this year.

The Town Council got into the act Monday night by passing Ordinances like they were going out of style:

A. All basketball backboards on any Church property will be taken down immediately.

B. Any Clergy with a basketball found in his possession will be arrested and held without bail till after March 16.

C. Any Clergy found driving a vehicle in the Township of Livingston on Sunday, March 16, will be arrested and held till after the game.

A last minute announcement from Police Headquarters: "Chief Richard Swain will play." Chief Swain was a member of that "great" 1920 undefeated Methodist Church team that beat Caldwell College in that bloody battle for the Championship. Swain is known for his strong rebound and elbowing opponents, and he could be the link the police need to defeat the strong Clergy team.

For the first time in over ten years, Player-Coach Seymour Schramm had nothing to say when he heard the Chief was playing. Lights have been burning late at Clergy headquarters lately. They're trying to figure out a way to stop the Chief.

This year's game promises to be even bigger and better than the preceding years' games. Tickets may be purchased at Police Headquarters, Seymour's Luncheonette, Y.M.C.A. and St. Philomena's. Proceeds will go to St. Philomena's C.Y.O., the Y.M.C.A. and the Boy Scouts.

Oh, yes, in case you didn't know it, the game will be played at the LHS gym at 4:30 p.m. Assuming there are some survivors among the contestants — a doubtful assumption at best — they will be feted after the game at dinner at the Knights of Columbus Hall, where Deputy Grand Knight Doc Dougherty will present the K of C Trophy to the winners. All K of C members and friends are invited.

Firestone Seeks Permission to Build

When the Zoning Board of Adjustment meets on March 20 it will hear an application from Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. for permission to build a service and sales garage at 79 East Mount Pleasant avenue. In its application the company states that the proposed building would be used for merchandise sales and storage and for car service. It is noted that major engine work, body repairs and painting would not be undertaken.

The Board will have to grant variances for front and side yard setback and for the advertising sign if the building is to be constructed. In addition, it is noted that the proposed building would be near a church, theater, gas station, car wash and dancing school.

Several other new applications have also been received by the Board. Samuel A. Bonito has applied for permission to put an addition on the rear of his home at 45 Blackstone drive. John A. Tomburro, who recently obtained Planning Board approval of the division of property on Hillside avenue into two lots is seeking several variances upon which the Planning Board approval hinges.

Joseph DiBenedetto has applied for permission to build a home at 51 Hazel avenue. The Livingston National Bank is seeking sign variances for its new Northfield office. Howard Lichterman has applied for an addition to his home at 95 Laurel avenue. The Christian Science Society is seeking a variance for a driveway with deficiency at its 274 West Northfield road building.

The Board will meet on Thursday, March 20, at 7:45 p.m. in the Township Hall.

State Allots Road Funds

The State Department of Transportation this week announced allocation of $100,000 in roadbuilding aid to 11 municipalities in Essex County. Under the program, Livingston will receive $10,000 toward the cost of reconstructing portions of Burnet street and Crescent road.

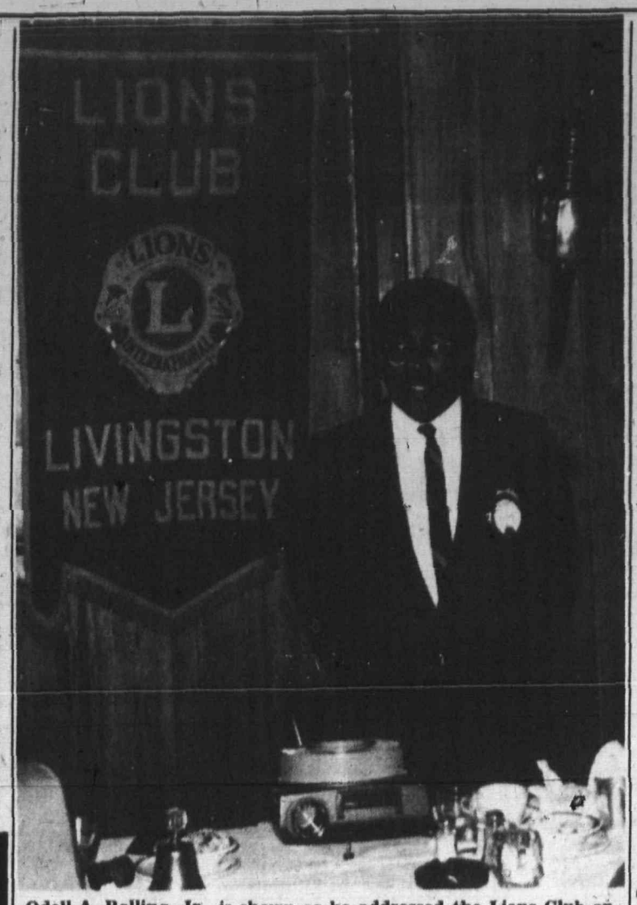

LWV Conference To Discuss China

A delegation of Livingston residents will attend the national conference of the League of Women Voters in New York next week. The conference topic will be "United States and China: The Next Decade." It will be held at the New York Hilton Hotel on Thursday and Friday, March 21 and 22.

Chairman of the LWV conference will be Edwin O. Reischauer, former U.S. ambassador to Japan, and author of "Beyond Vietnam: The United States and Asia." Among the participants will be Harrison E. Salisbury, A. Doak Barnett, John K. Fairbank, Arthur Goldberg and Senator Jacob Javits. Senator Edward Kennedy is scheduled as the dinner speaker.

Members of the Livingston League of Women Voters and other interested residents may obtain further information on the conference from Mrs. David Gardner, LWV Foreign Policy chairman, at 992-4904.

Lions Hear of Airport Growth

Odell A. Rolling, Jr., terminal renting agent for the Real Estate Department of the Port Authority, spoke to the Livingston Lions Club on Monday night.

He said that Newark Airport handled 6,500,000 people last year and that 150 per cent expansion in traffic is expected by 1972. Included in a master plan is complete revamping of major highways leading into the airport.

The new Newark Airport will feature bilevel roads for arrivals and departures. In addition, he stated, rapid transit will be incorporated to get people from distant parking lots to terminals in minutes.

Car Burglarized In Parking Lot

Frederick W. Walsh of 160 South Livingston avenue reported to police on Thursday, March 6, that his car had been broken into and several items taken. The car had broken down, he said, and he had left it at the parking area adjacent to the Felix Fox Paint store on West Mount Pleasant avenue.

When he went back to pick up the car, he reported, the vent window and the rear deck had been forced open. Walsh noted that a power saw, electric drill, socket wrench set and jumper cords were missing.

Police to Auction Unclaimed Bicycles

A public auction of unclaimed bicycles has been announced by Livingston police chief Richard G. Swain. The auction is scheduled for Saturday, March 22, at 9:30 a.m.

The chief noted that a substantial number of bicycles were picked up by police in the past, and many are still unclaimed. There are, he said, 18 bicycles and two stripped bicycle frames.

Both boys' and girls' bicycles are included in those to be auctioned. Many are in excellent condition.

The auction will be held at police headquarters, 357 South Livingston avenue, and will be open to the public.

Teachers Earn Raises For Advanced Study

Five Livingston teachers were given pay raises by the Board of Education this week as a result of the accumulation of additional academic credit.

Frank Gambelli and Hilda Perlowin, who both hold master's degrees, were advanced after earning 16 credits beyond the degree.

Kathleen Pizzi, Arthur Stadlin and Ralph Thomas were all moved up to the pay grade for teachers holding the bachelor's degree plus 16 additional credits.

Imperial Guardsmen to March in Newark St. Patrick's Day Parade

The Imperial Guardsmen Junior Drum and Bugle Corps of Livingston has been selected to participate in the Newark parade on St. Patrick's Day. This is the third consecutive year in which the Guardsmen will represent the Cryan Association in the parade. John W. Cryan will be the parade's grand marshal.

This will be the first public appearance for the 1969 season by the group of area youngsters. They will have as their guest the Reverend Martin Sherry of St. Raphael's Church. St. Raphael's is one of the sponsors of the Corps.

Following a winter of practice sessions, the Imperial Guardsmen are now entering a busy performance season. Business manager Clay Fell stated this week that the Corps will be traveling a great deal this year for both stage performances and field exhibitions and competitions.

The Imperial Guardsmen have extended an invitation to Livingston youth who may be interested in joining the Corps to register now for the coming season. The Corps, sponsored by the Livingston Department of Recreation and Parks, holds rehearsals on Wednesday nights for the Color Guard and on Thursday nights for music. Practice sessions are held at the Riker Hill School from 7 to 9:30 p.m., and are open to the public.

Tigers 35, Lions 27

The Tigers, led by Mickey Baker's 19 points, upset the Lions. Heston had 14 points to assist the victors.

In a great defensive game the Scarlet Knights nipped the Crimson Tide in the final seconds with a lay-up by Norman. Norman paced the Knights with 11 points.

In a real defensive battle, the Buckeyes, led by Lyons and Manning, squeaked by the Boilermakers and held on to its undefeated season. Litterest and Mario played well for the losers.

Illini 25, Spartans 19

The Illini were too powerful for the smaller Spartans, grabbing all the early rebounds and converting them for points. Martin led the victors with 16 points.

Badgers 28, Wolverines 27

Both teams scored well in the final quarter, but the Badgers held on for a victory. Campisi led the winners.

Hoosiers 11, Hawkeyes 24

Change Story on Who Drove Wrecked Car

Two Livingston youths were involved in a collision with a parked car on Friday night which demolished the front end of the car in which they were riding. Grant D. Muller of 24 Belmont drive went into police headquarters shortly after 10 p.m. on Friday to report that he had hit a parked car on Memorial Park drive while driving his own car. The other car had been parked at the curb with parking lights on by Josephine Romano of 59 Baker road.

At the scene of the collision, police took the account of the collision. Muller stated that he had been driving eastward on Memorial Park drive and was unable to negotiate a curve due to ice on the pavement. His car slid into the other, resulting in a total of about $1,400 damage.

On Monday evening Muller returned to police headquarters to report that he had not been the driver of the car. He said that he had been a passenger, and that Richard S. Sniffin of 4 Falcon court was driving at the time of the collision.

One out of every three Livingston families owns a dog.

In other League action, Seymour's managed to take an extremely close game from the Knicks, 36-34. A shot by McNally in the final seconds gave the game to Seymour's. High scorer for the winners was Hope, with 11 points.

Livingston Pharmacy rolled over Underwood, 24-15 behind the ten-point leadership of Conti.

Other text reads, "50 years; Veterans as Citizens."

The first day of issue of the new six-cent stamp will be on the Legion's fiftieth birthday, March 15. Issuing ceremonies will be held at the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington, D.C.

Red Cross Seeking Local Interpreters

Mrs. J. Stokes Carswell of North Caldwell, chairman of the International Committee of the West Essex Red Cross, has announced a project to find interpreters for various foreign languages.

Mrs. Carswell explained that the number of foreign-speaking persons who come in contact with Red Cross services is growing daily. She cited foreign wives of servicemen, patients at Overbrook Hospital, foreign exchange students and nurses, and past experience with such groups as Hungarian refugees.

"If these people have a problem," she stated, "it is a great comfort to them to be able to converse in their native language."

Livingston residents who would be willing to be placed on file in case of need may call the West Essex Red Cross at 226-0738.

Sylvester Harris, a resident of Hollis, New York, was fined in Livingston Municipal Court last Wednesday evening on two charges.

He had been charged with driving an unsafe vehicle and with using a borrowed driver's license. He was fined $15 on the first charge and $25 on the second.

Have Court Session For Dogs and Snow

A special session of Livingston Municipal Court was held on Friday evening, March 7, in order to handle the tremendous number of complaints of unregistered dogs and unshoveled sidewalks.

Fined for failure to license their dogs before January 31 were Barry Wolf of 22 Arlington drive, Gordon A. Clark of 52 Cobblewood road, Ilene N. Kaplan of 70 West Cedar street and Joe Lewis of 22 Goodhart drive. Each was fined $5.

Two residents were fined $5 each after being found guilty of failure to shovel their walks as required by municipal ordinance. Frank Klosowski of 18 Westgate road and Barry Dorflaufer of 59 Havenwood road had both pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Virtually all of the dog license and show shoveling complaints were handled by waivers, without court appearances.

Oliver?

Once upon a time a lady came to Rug & Design Fair looking for a carpet to match her olive green sofa. When shown a sample she asked "Have you anything oliver?"

"You don't have to twist my arm", said our design consultant, "what the dickens do you think we are here for?" Admiring his quick wit as well as his ability the lady bought not only the rug, but also draperies, furniture, and accessories to complete her room.

Rebuilding?

As evidenced by at least one prior editorial, we have been greatly distrubed over the current trend of violence and unrest that has evidenced itself on many college campuses (and quite a number of high schools too) throughout the nation. Suddenly it has become "the thing to do" to riot, disrupt the program and often seriously damage the facilities of our institutions of learning.

What are the riots all about? As least 50 per cent of the time we doubt if the rioters themselves are certain. Often a relatively minor incident or decision on the part of the authorities is used as a rallying point. Sometimes the battle cry has been that these people believe in non-violence and object to the war in Vietnam — which they proceed to object to by violently manhandling those who oppose them and destroy property in the cause of peace.

Most evident of all is the fact that the rioting students seem to feel that everything is wrong and connot be corrected unless they do the correcting — not matter what means are needed to do this. To some extent this can be put down to the brashness of youth. We all went through it. We all had periods when we were certain that the older generation had made a mess of things and it was up to us to do something about it.

Frankly, we think most older people would agree that we have made a mess of many things. Certainly the continuance of wars, the disparity of economic and social opportunities in our nation (and incidently throughout the world), hate and bigotry are all symptoms of a sick society.

However, the actions of these students does not, to us, have any direct bearing on the problems. They want to protest, which is their right, but we have yet to see any basic program for improvement put forward. One student, trying to explain this, said to us that they have come to the conclusion that the education they are now receiving is designed to mould them into a world in which they no longer desire to live. Thus, they feel they should tear down the educational system itself and start from scratch building for their brave new world.

We would be a bit more sympathetic for this attitude if they would put forward a plan for this education. It is very easy to tear down — it is much harder to build an acceptable alternate. We can look back in history and see similar situations. The mobs of Rome so weakened that nation that it fell victim to barbarian hordes whose total destruction paved the way for 1,000 years of ignorance called "The Dark Ages".

Getting to local cases, the proposed original settlement at Rutgers seemed to us to be no settlement at all. The rule permitting all negroes in the upper half of the classes of Newark High Schools to gain admittance to Rutgers Newark, and to exempt them from academic dismissal for a period of up to one and a half years, is no solution. Certainly those truly qualified should be admitted, and we would support heavy scholarship aid for them too. But to waste our resources, and the time of the students and faculty, to try to force an education into a mind that is improperly prepared for it is sheer waste and no solution. It would be far better if a system were set up for intermediate instruction, in which those graduates desiring to go on, who did not yet meet the rigid requirements of today's college, might get extra college preparatory courses.

The so-called institutions of learning cannot be all bad. They have given us great minds in the sciences and arts, and leaders in the humanities who have attained many wonderful things. We grant that in the present conditions it appears that the sciences have outstripped the humanities — they have made it possible for us to have a highly technical civilization that we cannot fully control. The answer to this is not the destruction of the colleges, but a continued mutual effort to improve them.

We wish we had a pat formula that could end this strife. We don't. Actually all we are doing is making a cry of distress from one who is genuinely concerned about the future of us all. Solutions attained by violence are not solutions., They can only breed counter-violence.

Lauds Examinations By Family Doctors

School superintendent Dr. Harold F. Hoffman reported this week that an increasing number of parents is accepting the School Health Department's suggestion that family physicians conduct scheduled physical examinations of pupils.

Dr. Hoffman stated that the reason for the suggestion is that the child's own physician has generally known him for some years, and is therefore familiar with his medical history. An examination under such circumstances is of more value, he said, than a brief examination by a school physician.

Last year, Dr. Hoffman said, about one third of the parents of school children accepted the recommendation. This year, about 41 per cent of the pupils due for regular examinations were examined by their own doctors. The greatest percentage was in the elementary grades, where 51 per cent used their family physicians.

Plan Outing

The Couples Club of the Evening Department of the Livingston Women's Club will go to the Old Straw Hat in Green Brook on Saturday, March 22.

Anyone interested in going is asked to call Mrs. Howard Scheible, 992-5132. Dinner begins at 8:15 p.m.

Livingston On Ice Show To Be Held At Arena on March 30

Plans for a gala benefit ice show to be held at South Mountain Arena on Sunday, March 30, from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. were announced this week by the Livingston Hockey Club. The show, entitled Livingston On Ice, will demonstrate many different skating arts.

While it is expected that there will be some guest outside talent, the show is designed to feature Livingston individuals and units. There will be demonstrations of figure skating, dancing on ice, speed skating, etc.

Units of the various teams of the Hockey Club program will give a demonstration of ice hockey techniques and an explanation of the rules governing the game. There will also be a demonstration of curling put on by members of a Plainfield Club. Also included in the program will be a comedy act, and plans are being made for a game between the Squirts and town dignitaries.

Tickets have gone on sale at Silverman's, Seymour's, and the Sugar Bowl. They may also be purchased from any member of the Hockey Club. Proceeds will be used to finance the extensive League hockey program for younger boys put on by the club.

United Fund

$232,500; and health services, $122,700. In addition, $13,000 is set aside as a reserve against uncollectible funds.

United Community Services has been able to allocate a full 90% of its funds for member agency operations. The 10% retained for United Fund administrative expenses covers the full-time professional and clerical staff and all other office and campaign expenses. This compares to the national average of 15%. The United Fund of North Essex has the lowest administrative cost among the 92 United Funds which raise close to or the same amount of money. This is due, in part, to the volunteers who help the staff with clerical details involved with keeping up with nearly 40,000 contributors.

All addressing, mailing, posting and billing is done at United Fund headquarters. In addition, planning in the area of social welfare is also done by one wing of the organization. Fund raising is done by the other. Both operate with the help of many community volunteers.

Fined in Court

LIVINGSTON WINES AND LIQUORS

ON THE PLAZA LIVINGSTON CENTER

Members of the Woodwind Quartet include Jerome Kurtz, oboe; Melvin Clere, clarinet; Bruce Bogert, bassoon; and David Berry, French horn.

Livingston Symphony to Feature Woodwind Soloists

The Livingston Community Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of its regular conductor, Joseph Moyer, will present the second concert of its 1968-69 season on Friday evening, March 28, at 8:30 p.m. The concert will be performed at Mt. Pleasant Jr. High School.

The program will explore the development of symphonic forms through such works as Beethoven's Symphony No. 1 in C Major, Mozart's Sinfonia Concertante in E flat Major for oboe, clarinet, bassoon, and French horn, and a group of Symphonic Dances by Edvard Grieg. The concert will open with the popular Overture to "Orpheus in Hades" by Jacques Offenbach.

The Mozart Sinfonia Concertante, although originally written as a display piece for the four soloists, marked a moment of major significance in the development of the modern symphony orchestra. Through the solo and unison playing of the four woodwinds it helped bridge the gap between the basic string orchestras of the early symphonic era, and the fuller orchestrations of Beethoven.

Written for four woodwinds and orchestra, this work will feature the orchestra's principals: Jerome Kurtz, oboe; Melvin Clere, clarinet; Bruce Bogert, bassoon; David Berry, French horn. Though their common bond is good music, each presents a different background of musical training and vocation.

The oboist, Jerry Kurtz, is a Certified Public Accountant, and a senior member of his own firm. He has played flute and clarinet and more recently studied the oboe with Albert Goltzer, associate first oboe of the New York Philharmonic. Now residing in West Orange, he has played with the Bloomfield and Nutley Symphony orchestras.

The clarinetist, Mel Clere of Livingston, is a former Bostonian. He studied with Julio Mazzocca, and has played with the MacDowell Club Symphony Orchestra directed by Arthur Fiedler, and the Boston Young Peoples Symphony. Clere is market planning manager for Schering Diagnostics, Port Reading.

Bruce Bogert, bassoon, is a member of the technical staff at Bell Telephone Laboratories in Whippany, and has an extensive musical background. Since studying with R. Allard, former first bassoonist of the Boston Symphony, in the late forties, he has played with orchestral groups associated with MIT and Harvard University, and the Plainfield and New Jersey Symphony orchestras. Bogert also plays contrabassoon and helped organize the Madison Colonial Little Symphony in 1951.

The principal horn, David Berry of Far Hills, makes his living at music; teaching, selling instruments and music, and playing with symphony orchestras here and abroad. While in the Navy, he was sent on a world tour to play with the London Symphony, Paris Conservatory, and other major orchestras.

Ticket information and reservations may be had by calling the orchestra manager, August Dickert, at 992-9622.

BEST IN LEAGUE — Grant Polzer and Bob Peacock hold trophies won during the North Jersey Squirt Hockey League tournament. Polzer was named the best goalie and Peacock the outstanding player.

Hockey Squirts Lose to New York In Essex Invitational Tournament

On Sunday night at South Mountain Arena the Livingston Squirts lost the finals of the Essex County Park Commission's fourth annual invitational hockey tournament to the New York City Squirts of the Greater Metropolitan New York Hockey League.

Livingston and New York skated two scoreless periods. With 9:20 left in the third period Peter Martine scored unassisted to break the tie. New York scored quickly again at 9:01 as Mike Iadenza, on a pass from Martine, scored the decisive goal.

With 5:26 remaining in the game, Bobby Peacock, Livingston center, on a pass from Jeff Hoerner, hit the nets from just inside the blue line. In the last period Livingston continuously fired at the New York net, but goalie Steve Antelis was able to hold off any score.

The Most Valuable Player Award went to Bobby Peacock, Livingston Squirt captain, who scored seven goals in the three games of the tournament. Polzer and Peacock were presented their awards on the ice by Reggie Fleming of the New York Rangers. Also in the audience was New York Ranger coach Emil Francis, whose son, Bobby, had competed against Livingston in the Squirt Division final.

The Livingston Squirts have two remaining scheduled games, one this coming Sunday against Lake Placid at Long Island, and March 23 against a Metropolitan All-Star team at South Mountain arena.

Hockey Team Ties In Playoff Game

Frank Evans, with 2:06 left to go, slapped in an unassisted goal to salvage a tie for the Livingston High School hockey team in the consolation game of the Gordon Cup Playoffs at South Mountain Arena Monday night. The game with Morris Hills ended in a 4-4 deadlock.

The game was marred by a general fracas in the third period which resulted in four Lancers and five Knights being banished from the ice.

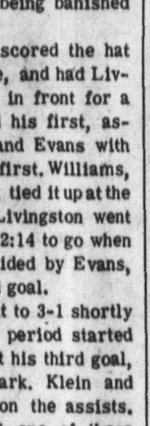

Tom Hoerner scored the hat trick in the game, and had Livingston well out in front for a while. He tallied his first, assisted by Ochs and Evans with 10:56 to go in the first. Williams, aided by Deresky, tied it up at the 8:19 mark, but Livingston went out in front with 2:14 to go when Hoerner, again aided by Evans, tallied his second goal.

The score went to 3-1 shortly after the second period started when Hoerner got his third goal, at the 14:07 mark. Klein and Evans were in on the assists. Morris Hills got one of these back at 4:38 when Stokes, aided by Apgar, tallied.

Stokes, with an assist from Deresky, fired in a long one from the red line at 12:50 of the third to tie it up, and Deresky, unassisted, put Morris Hills ahead at 10:08. After the battle, Stokes went into the net for Morris Hills, and parried numerous shots until Evans backhanded in the tying counter.

John Liebenow of Livingston was named a defenseman on the All-Star team of the North Jersey Scholastic Hockey League. Bob Ochs on defense and Hoerner as a forward, made the second team.

We think we did it. Remember we told you two weeks ago about a particular bedspread for your daughter's room? Well, we figure we actually sold one out of three who came out to see it, and that's progress! Before we unleash our big guns on you for draperies, we'd like to have you come to a SAFARI in either of our two stores. No, nobody let the tiger out of his tank, but we have cornered a pack of leopards and made a bedspread and draperies that's wild! — but not harmful. Our all quilted throw leopard bedspread is $28.00 twin—$30.00 full size, 63" draperies $9.00.

DENTAL HEALTH WEEK PROGRAM

During Dental Health Week this year, a group of dentists gave a program at Heritage Junior High School. The program was held in the gymnasium where tables were set up with different displays. The dentists discussed things such as the correct way to brush one's teeth, braces, and sweets and their effect upon one's teeth. The program was well planned and quite interesting. For instance, did you know that the average person brushes his teeth in thirty seconds, or by chewing gum, you exert 10 pounds of pressure on your teeth?

Jane Freund

PUBLIC SPEAKING 1969

The Third Annual Speaking Contests were held on Wednesday and Thursday, March fifth and sixth, at Heritage. Participating in the assemblies were the members of the language arts classes of all three grade levels who were chosen in class competition or who volunteered. Contestants delivered orations of three to five minutes on a variety of subjects. They were evaluated by three judges in the following categories: poise, voice, diction, content, and rapport with audience. In each case, the judges strove to make the difficult choice of the three best orators.

Taking third place in the ninth grade was Thomas Maguire discussing "Braces." In second place, Scott Paul expounded the weird rituals of our parents as teenagers in "They Call Us Strange." Richard Crater took first place talking about "Speech" in his singular style, well known to all his classmates.

FACULTY PORTRAITS

There is a new face at Heritage Junior High. He is Mr. Bruno, student teaching ninth grade English under the guidance of Miss Iamartino. He will be working with students of Heritage as part of his college curriculum until approximately April 18.

He enjoys teaching English and has chosen the ninth grade because he feels it is a challenging and formidable year for both the students and teacher. Feeling well relaxed in front of a class, Mr. Bruno thinks Heritage is a beautiful school and that the students are friendly and energetic. He anticipates that the teaching of literature will be the most enjoyable.

Born in Hoboken, Mr. Bruno has also lived in North Bergen, Fort Lee, and Englewood Cliffs. While attending high school in Fort Lee, he decided to take up a teaching career. He is currently living in Newark, while attending classes at Seton Hall. As a senior, his activities include being the president of his fraternity, Delta Sigma Phi, and the president of the Students of New Jersey Educational Association. In the future, he hopes to enter Penn State and later work with handicapped children.

Some of his favorites are the color blue, Chinese cooking, the art work of Salvador Dali, and touch football. He is also a music fan. He enjoys college and is having a fine time at Heritage. Welcome, Mr. Bruno.

POP'S NIGHT

Wednesday, March 5, was a big night for the members of the Girls Sports Association at Heritage. It was Pop's Night, so named because each girl and her father joined together in a night of fun and frolic. The evening began with a welcoming speech by Diane Ferguson, the president of the Girls Sports Association. The theme of the night's activities was "The 1969 Olympics." After the welcoming, Karen Rogers and her father ran into the gymnasium with sparklers representing torches. Then there was a brief explanation of the different games in which fathers and daughters would be taking part.

To repare the fathers for the evening ahead, Pat Munro led a few exercises. The participants were divided into teams representing different countries. At 8:15 the games began, each lasting ten minutes. They included the bobsled race, discus throw, basketball, volleyball, slalom ski race, and baton relay. For each game, the winning team got either 5 or 2-1/2 points depending upon the event. During the evening, refreshments were served in the hall. At the conclusion, medals were presented to the three teams with the highest total score. First place went to Mexico, second to Spain, and third to Australia. The girls' gym teachers, Miss Kennedy, Miss De Marzio and Miss Doda, who made the evening possible were given corsages. Many weeks of preparation went into Pop's Night, and it was a great success. Many thanks to all who participated.

Accept Registrations For YWCA Camp

Registrations are now open for the coming summer season at Camp Lenoloc, resident camp of the Young Women's Christian Association of the Oranges. Located on Lake Cohasset, Bear Mountain, New York, the camp is entering its forty-fifth year of service to girls, and is under the direction of Mrs. Richard Becker.

"Camp Lenoloc's aim," Mrs. Becker said, "is to give each camper the happiest vacation of her life, a store of health and enthusiasm, and such guided instruction that she may know the joy of real achievement, all leading to a better understanding of life. The interracial and cross-sectional policy of enrolling Lenoloc campers brings appreciation, knowledge and stimulation from those of different racial, economic, social, religious and national backgrounds thus putting into practice the Christian principles inherent in the purpose of the YWCA."

Buildings at camp consist of 11 sleeping cabins, tents with wooden platforms for experienced campers, a new kitchen and open air dining rooms, a recreation hall with a huge fireplace, a craft cabin, an infirmary, and shower rooms with hot and cold water.

Lenoloc, which accommodates 90 girls seven through 16 years of age, will feature three two-week encampments for the seven to 13 year-olds from June 28 to August 13. From August 13 until August 27, a new "special" for teenagers will be featured: swim regattas, advanced boating, Junior and Senior Lifesaving and co-ed activities with boys' camps in the neighboring parks.

Mrs. Meyer has issued a call for donations of used canoes or sailfish for the older girls. "There just might be someone who would be willing to give away a canoe that is no longer needed in his family," she said, "and, with the YWCA in the middle of a building campaign, we feel we must rely on someone's kind heart to furnish this kind of equipment." Further information may be had by calling the YWCA at 672-9500. The YWCA is a member agency of the United Community Fund of Essex and West Hudson and the United Community Services of North Essex.

Volleyball Team Winless in Tournament

The Livingston Green Streaks women's recreation volleyball team travelled to Gloversville, New York, this past weekend for its initial tournament experience at the Eastern Regional AAU Championships. In six games the locals emerged winless in their pool, even though they had strong spurts and almost upended the eventual divisional winner in two exciting contests.

In the opening match against Gloversville YMCA, the tournament jitters took a role in a 15-5, 15-4 defeat. Only Ellen Fitch could string together a brace of serves in the two game match with the more experienced host sextet.

In the middle set, the Streaks awakened to the challenge, met Brockport State College nose to nose, and three times held a lead they eventually lost. The Brockport six eventually won all six of its contests, which speaks well of the teamwork the Streaks molded in losses of 16-14 and 15-13. In the first game, Ellen Fitch put two strings of four serves together to supplement an excellent passing combination of Arlene Stomackin, Jane Freund, Nancy Sharpless and Estelle Fitch. The locals raced into leads of 9-4 and 14-11 over the University girls, but lost in overtime, 16-14. In the second game, Andy Stroup and Ellie Fitch accounted for ten points from the server's corner and the strong front line play kept Livingston in the game all the way through. They were as close as 11-12 and 13-14, but didn't have quite enough gas to snatch the win. The steady back line play of Mary Vidal held the defenses together.

In the third and final match in a battle for the cellar, the Rochester Rogues "B" team upended the local team 15-9, 15-7. Once again it was the serves of Ellen Fitch combined with the talents of Jane Freund and Estelle Fitch which accounted for all but four of Livingston's point total. This final two game match finished play for the day in a tournament that saw defending champion, Lyndhurst Recreation, repeat its 1968 victory over a hustling Cayuga V. C. from upstate New York.

In this week's action, the Green Streaks travelled to Parsippany in a New Jersey Women's Recreation League match. Results were not available at press time.

LIVINGSTON MALL -accent on beauty

From the sparkling skylights in the ceiling of its central court to the fountains flowing below, Livingston Mall has been designed to stand as a beautiful source of pride to its tenants and the Township of Livingston. It will be a glistening, climate-controlled environment of eye-pleasing vistas that will be a pleasure to visit. Even if you never buy a thing.

It is the creation of one of the world's most honored architectural firms, Charles Luckman Associates, whose staff of more than 400 planners, architects and engineers has brought into being such modern marvels as New York's Madison Square Garden Center and Prudential Center in Boston.

The Mall's principal tenants will be branches of three distinguished department stores — Bamberger's, Hahne & Co., and Sears. That the management of each of these organizations shares the architect's belief that shopping should be "a beautiful, pleasant adventure," is underscored by the accent on beauty at Livingston Mall.

The Mall will be more than an esthetically gratifying community shopping mall. It will be a source of economic benefit to the Township, becoming Livingston's largest tax producer and thereby contributing substantially to the support of the superior schools and other municipal services that make this community a fine place in which to live. In the process, The Mall will add little to the cost of local government, since it will provide its own lighting, policing, cleaning and refuse and snow removal.

The reproduction here of architectural renderings of Livingston Mall is in keeping with our policy and our promise to keep the people of Livingston fully informed on the progress of Mall planning. The original renderings, in color, have been filed with the Livingston Planning Board. It is our hope interested residents will avail themselves of the opportunity to view them at the Office of the Planning Director in the Township Hall.

The Art of Home Decor

by DAVID BROTMAN

Small touches make the big difference in decorating. A room grows dull if it has no subtleties to be discovered as you live in it. Accessories – that just right lamp, the little table and, of course, the pictures on the walls – bring life into the big furnishings in the room. So do "intimate" objects that reveal the personalities of the people who live among them. The little things that turn a room into a success aren't always tangible objects. The way the plants are arranged, the picture hung, the braid trim used, etc. In the weeks to follows, we hope to make you aware of all the little subtleties that will enhance your home.

Be also aware of ORANGE SHADE AND FLOOR COVERING CO., 272 Main Street, Orange, 673-4212. We are the specialists in window shades which are custom made in our own workroom. Jaycees Resume Jogging Program

The Livingston Jaycees and the Department of Recreation and Parks are co-sponsoring a jogging program which is expected to be similar to the one which met with so much success last year.

"Jogging is an exercise involving both running and walking and is especially useful for those who fail to exercise regularly," according to chairman Dick Hill. "It tends to tighten flabby muscles, promote loss of excess weight and generally improve the well being of the participant. If you are over 30, jogging might be of special interest to you."

No background in jogging or any special skills are required for this program, and men, women and children can participate. The public is invited to attend the kick-off session, starting at 7:45 p.m. on Wednesday, March 19, in the girls' gym at Livingston High School (entry at rear of building). An outdoor program is scheduled for those interested as soon as weather permits.

Further information is available from Jaycee Jogging Program chairmen Dick Hill (992-1528) or Bob Honor (992-7547), or the Department of Recreation and Parks (992-2620).

Ask Donations to Easter Seal Drive

Jeffrey P. Ruddy, chairman of the Easter Seal Committee for Crippled Children and Adults of Essex County, this week reminded residents of the effects of crippling diseases.

Some 28 million Americans were prevented from leading normal lives last year by crippling diseases. They were unable to attend school, to work at useful jobs, or to enjoy churches, libraries, sports and entertainment.

"But crippling did something worse," Ruddy stated, "robbed our nation of a vast resource of abilities, talent, and possibly even genius, inhibited in these persons because of the physical fact of a disability, a disability that in most instances can be overcome, or at least counterbalanced by appropriate treatment."

The Easter Seal Society, Ruddy said, aims at helping crippled individuals to realize their fullest intellectual and physical potential.

From March 1 through April 6, said Ruddy, more than 5400 volunteers will campaign door-to-door throughout the county. In addition, more than 100,000 letters will be mailed to homes not canvassed by volunteers.

Father & Son Dinner Held by Troop 30

Troop 30 held its annual father and son dinner Friday evening, March 7, at the Olivet Church. The fathers and sons were welcomed by Dick Blake and after a short prayer by Pastor John Gillmore, the scouts and their fathers enjoyed dinner.

A film, "Beyond the Tooth of Time," about the scout camp at Philmont, Arizona, was shown to the group after dinner.

After a first aid demonstration the following awards were presented: First Class Badge, Jeff Zacher; merit badges for citizenship and reading to Steve Blake; two year pin to Joe Maulbach; and first year pin to Don Richardson, Steve Rollin and Chris Slaughter.

A new patrol was formed by the troop, the Cobras, with Joe Maulbach as leader and Doug Lowing as assistant patrol leader.

Among the guests were Dave Feisner, Livingston commissioner of Scouting, who presented the 1969 charter to Pastor Gillmore; Bill Boland, Council executive and camp director at KEP; and Ed Oleksiak, a Scout commissioner in the Township.

The 1969 committeemen were presented their cards by Dick Blake and the group closed the meeting with a few scout songs and cheers.

The next camp out for Troop 30 is scheduled for the weekend of March 21 at High Point State Park. The summer camp is scheduled for the first two weeks of July at KEP.

U. S. Savings Breaks Ground for New Building

Plans to construct a new Roseland Office of the United States Savings Bank were announced Saturday, March 8, by William B. Licklider, President of the bank, at a ground breaking ceremony attended by Roseland officials.

Work on the building, which was designed by James S. Jones, Architect, will be started this week by the Wm. Blanchard Company of Springfield and is expected to be completed in six months.

The new building, which will be located at the corner of Eagle Rock avenue and Roseland place on over one half acre of ground, will be of Williamsburg Colonial design, in keeping with the traditional character of Roseland, with pink brick exterior, gray slate roof and a Cathedral Window.

There will be two drive-in windows for in-car banking and two walk-up windows with enclosed lobbies for the bank's extended hours service. Parking facilities have been provided for approximately 30 cars.

The interior of the bank will be cherry wood and textolite with colonial chandeliers and raised molding on all trim in colonial style. The lobby will contain a wood burning fireplace to give the bank an atmosphere of living room banking.

The entire banking floor, totaling 1,700 square feet, will be carpeted and contain colonial furniture and decor.

There will be six tellers stations for fast service and a full size steel and concrete vault with safe deposit boxes of various sizes and coupon booths on the ground floor. There will also be a conference room for the convenience of customers.

William B. Licklider, president, and Richard A. Voorhees, vice-president and controller, of U. S. Savings dig the first shovels-full.

Mountain Beats LHS In Tourney

Mountain High School continued its winning way over Livingston this year when the Rams defeated the Lancers 61-54 to eliminate Livingston's basketball team in the first round of the State Tournament. The game was played at West Essex High School Tuesday evening.

Mountain demonstrated its superiority early in the game. Leading from the first basket, they built up a 20-11 margin in the first period alone. They continued in the second quarter, tallying 16 to Livingston's nine, and built up a 36-20 margin at half time.

The Lancers made a determined effort to come back in the second half. Gaining control of the backboards, where they outrebounded Mountain 37-28, they tallied 13 points to eight for Mountain in the third period. Going into the fourth, they put on a drive that got the score to 40-46 before Mountain again found shooting range. The Lancers ended up with 21 points in the last period, but Mountain, scoring 17, was able to keep their lead safe.

YMCA Campaign May Exceed Goal

The final meeting of the Partner of Youth sustaining membership campaign of the YMCA of the Oranges, Maplewood and West Essex was held last Monday, March 10, at the Central Branch, Main street, Orange. More than $9,000 of cash was returned, plus better than $5,000 in pledges, which puts the drive up to the goal of $14,000. John J. Unkles, Jr., general chairman, announced that this goal may be exceeded when all monies are in.

Leaders at the West Essex Branch YMCA included Mrs. Kenneth Riker, Herman Schaub, Bob VanZee and Mrs. June Graf.

The general chairman announced at the victory dinner that this was the first time in the last three years of the Partner of Youth campaign that all things pointed to going over the top of the projected goal.

JWV National Commander Addresses Dinner Dance

Two hundred members and friends of Livingston Post 740, Jewish War Veterans of the United States, turned out at the ninth anniversary dinner dance on Saturday evening to meet National Commander Charles Fuereisen. Mayor Kenneth Welch, on behalf of the Township of Livingston, presented Commander Fuereisen with a certificate of "Honorary Citizen of Livingston," citing his outstanding contributions and services to his country.

Commander Fuereisen, in his address, spoke of his concern for the racial, radical and student unrest that was stirring within this country. He stated that while they received the greatest press coverage, they only represented a minority of the people, and in the end the basic democratic majority of the American people will prevail with reason and order. He also assailed the role of the Soviet Union in stirring up the Mid-East, trying to undermine the position of the United States. Commander Fuereisen was critical of Charles DeGaulle for his role in embargoing war materials to Israel.

School Cafeterias Report Deficit

A deficit of more than $8,600 in the operation of the school cafeterias was reported this week by Mrs. Elsa Hetterly to the Board of Education. It was noted, however, that some of the expenses which comprise the deficit are non-recurring, and will be balanced by continuing income between now and the end of the school year.

Mrs. Hetterly reported that decreasing subsidies and unpredictability of surplus commodities have added to the financial uncertainty of the cafeteria operation. It has always been the Board's policy to operate the school cafeterias with the lowest prices which will cover costs.

Mrs. Hetterly noted that the sale of food thus far in the school year had brought in slightly more than $125,000. Federal subsidies amounted to nearly $26,000 additional. Total expenses for salaries, food, supplies, warehousing, and other costs amounted to $159,783 as of January 31. This figure is $8,604 more than the income.

She evaluated surplus commodities received for use in the cafeterias at about $11,600, but noted that the value of such commodities varies widely from one month to the next. This makes budgeting for the future difficult. It was also stated at the Board meeting that the commodities themselves vary widely, with resulting "feast or famine" situations in certain staple foods.

Congresswoman Dwyer Reports

THE CONGRESSIONAL ICEBERG

Where Congress is concerned, appearances are often deceiving. Like the proverbial iceberg, much of what Congress does is often below the surface, relatively out of sight of the casual observer – a fact which may help to explain the currently fashionable charge that the 91st Congress has spent its first two months doing little more than raising the pay of its own members, the President and other top officials of the Government, a charge I would dispute.

This is not to say that Congress can't be criticized. It surely can and should. The method by which the House disposed of pay raise legislation, which I criticized in an earlier report, may be one example and Congress' continuing failure to reform its antiquated procedures is certainly another. Often inefficient, sometimes unproductive, Congress can be both of these, but it is also amost always busy, and the present time is no exception.

Understandably, Congress attracts most attention when it is passing laws, when the House and Senate calendars are crowded with major legislation, and when floor debates keep the galleries packed in anticipation of decisive action.

THE SUBMERGED HALF

This is the visible top of the iceberg, the climax of the often long and involved legislative process. But the process ordinarily begins long before – in the minds of thoughtful constituents confronted by practical problems they can't resolve; in the committee rooms of Congress where investigations uncover conditions not fully appreciated before; in the hidden corners of the Capitol and the downtown departments and agencies where anonymous staff experts give birth to new ideas. The sources are inexhaustible and the Congressional appetite is insatiable, but, the process itself unfolds to a great extent in obscurity.

The process continues as Congress ponders, digests, refines – during lengthy hearings in which new information and conflicting points of view are aired; at highly technical bill-drafting sessions; in personal exchanges between members; and in the more formal executive sessions of a hundred committees and subcommittees where the painstaking, line-by-line review of legislation is pursued in the effort to reach agreement, compromise differences, and construct a majority strong enough to send a bill to the floor.

All of this constitutes the submerged half of the Congressional iceberg, and without it there wouldn't be the dramatic crest, the headline-producing action which finally transforms bills into laws.

THE SIGNIFICANT EARLY STAGES

Congress today is in the early stages of this process – and necessarily so since a brand new Administration has just taken office and a host of new policy-makers are just beginning their immersion in the cauldron of problems they will be expected to solve. With so much of the legislative end product dependent on some kind of Executive Branch input (specific proposals or recommendations or simply comments), final action on most legislation is still a good distance away.

Yet, these early stages are highly significant, for the work that goes into the preparation of legislation is inevitably reflected in the quality of the final product. The lengthy hearings now underway before the House Ways and Means Committee on tax reform is an excellent example. Hundreds of proposals from dozens of sources (the Treasury Department, bankers, economists, industry, labor, agriculture, foundations and the whole range of public and private interests) have been and are being poured daily into the committee's mixing bowl where, during the long weeks ahead, members must separate and stir and taste as they determine what can be done to improve an admittedly unfair and over-complicated and sometimes regressive tax system. Most of this work will be done quietly and unobtrusively – in the kitchen at the back of the house, as it were – until the results are presented to a hungry but critical Congressional family.

THE ACTION NOW

Though the front pages do not usually record these early developments, the pattern is being followed in virtually every House and Senate committee. The House Appropriations Subcommittees are already fine-combing the 1970 budget. The Education and Labor Committee is alternating between bills to improve elementary and secondary education programs and to strengthen school lunch and child nutrition efforts. A special House Armed Services subcommittee is probing the capture of the U. S. S. PUEBLO, not so much to learn what happened (we have most of that now) but why it happened, especially in terms of what may be wrong with the system itself. From District of Columbia crime to air and water pollution, from the effects of space and weapons developments on U. S. commitments abroad to the continuing problems of highway safety and design, Congressional committees this week and last and the week before and the many weeks ahead are and will be doing the digging and the thinking from which the laws are made that sometimes change the shape of the lives we lead.

Believe me, Congress is busy. My own Banking and Currency Committee has held hearings to review the Truth-in-Lending regulations prepared by the Federal Reserve Board to implement the law we enacted last year which takes effect July 1, and to consider whether the Uniform Consumer Credit Code (being proposed for adoption by each of the 50 States) actually offers consumers more or less protection than they now receive or will receive under Truth-in-Lending.

ON THE MOVE

We have also considered and favorably reported a major bill to enlarge the lending capacity of the International Development Association, a major multilateral attempt to stimulate economic development in the poorest countries through low-interest loans. Though the bill ran into trouble last year, President Nixon's strong support this year helped it through committee quickly and by a large majority.

And just ahead of us are hearings that could become the year's most controversial. On April 1, based on extensive staff studies, we begin consideration of legislation to control the growth of unregistered bank holding companies, an important aspect of the growing concern over corporate mergers and the economic effects of huge conglomerates.

Though our Government Operations Committee was excessively slow in getting organized, we, too, are on the move. This week, hopefully, we will send to the House floor the bill extending the President's authority to propose to Congress specific plans for reorganizing Executive departments and agencies. And, at long last, it looks as though we might soon begin hearings on proposals to establish a Hoover-type Commission which I have long felt is essential to the kind of independent, objective, expert evaluation we need in order to reform the structure, organization, and functions of the Federal establishment.

Finally, our Military Operations Subcommittee is preparing for an extensive investigation of military procurement policies and procedures – one of a series of investigations and studies by several House and Senate committees into various aspects of defense spending. In fact, the volume of activity of this kind now in progress on Capitol Hill and the intensely critical character of members' views about defense spending – and this includes the system generally, the Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) controversy, and numerous contracting scandals – suggest that for the first time in recent history Congress may substantially trim the defense budget and force through some badly needed reforms in this hyper-expensive but often-neglected area.

My point? Simply that to assume Congress is merely drifting along could be most misleading, especially to those who have to know what's happening.

EDWARD J. WILSON of 26 Briar Cliff road was sworn in this week as a deputy attorney general in the State Department of Law and Public Safety. He is shown at left with attorney general Arthur J. Sills at right; Wilson's father, a Newark attorney, held the Bible for the ceremonies.

YMCA Retired Men's Club List Schedule

The Retired Business Men's Club of the YMCA of the Oranges, Maplewood and West Essex will be celebrating its 25th anniversary next April 16. The April calendar for the club includes the annual bus ride on Monday, April 7, at 1:30 p.m. to Radio City Music Hall.

Wednesday, April 9, at 2 p.m. the Master Singers from Montclair Academy will entertain at the club's regular meeting. On Wednesday, April 16, the club will celebrate its 25th anniversary with a luncheon at the Suburban Cocktail Lounge in East Orange to which ladies are invited.

On Wednesday, April 23, Wilson W. Stearly, trust officers of the National Newark and Essex Bank, will discuss wills and estates.

Interested retired persons are invited to attend.

Health Department Warns of Accidental Child Poisonings

"National Poison Prevention Week, next week, March 16 through 22, reminds us that every year 600,000 children ingest potentially poisonous substances," Paul Jackson, Health Officer said recently, "everything from the foulest-tasting household chemicals to chocolate covered pills."

Jackson pointed out that many parents have no conception of how poisonous ordinary chemicals and drugs around the house can be. It has been estimated that there are 250,000 household chemicals on the market. At least 15,000 of these products, or 79 percent have proved to be toxic or worse. Parents, not appreciating the danger, treat these items casually, leaving them in unlocked cabinets, under sinks and on table tops, easily accessible to youngsters.

Kids will eat the strangest things, Jackson reiterated. Leading the list of top ten categories most often swallowed is aspirin. This fact may surprise parents, but not authorities who know that aspirin is the number one child poisoner. Next in order of frequency are insecticides, bleach, detergents, soaps and cleansers, furniture polish, kerosine, vitamins and iron preparations, disinfectants, deodorizers, lye and corrosives and laxatives.

Jackson outlined measures that should be taken by every parent to prevent accidental poisoning. Don't leave products where children can find them – the more accessible the more chances of poisoning. Don't transfer products to other containers – putting hazardous chemicals in bowls, glasses, milk bottles or soft drink bottles invite children to ingest its contents. Don't tell children that medicine is candy – in most incidents of aspirin poisoning, the parent had led the child to believe the drug was candy. Read the label – look for manufacturer's warnings, also read the label on all medicine immediately before administering – both for dosage and to make sure it is the correct drug. Parents often unintentionally poison their own children and finally if the child swallows a nonedible substance, call a doctor or poison control center immediately. Don't wait for symptoms to develop. By the time you notice a child is ill, it may be too late to save him. When calling the doctor or poison control center, have the product container handy, so you can tell the brand name and contents.

Jackson indicated that St. Barnabas Medical Center serves as a poison control center in this area and may be reached 24 hours a day at 992-5500. The local pharmacist or health department generally can provide educational materials dealing with counter-doses or antidotes to the parent upon request.

Jackson concluded by saying that parents who follow these five precautions can be relatively sure that the name of their child won't show up as an accidental poison statistic.

atural Resources

Dear sir:

In view of the many and varied rojects proposed and pending in ur community which will dras-ically affect the future of Liv-ngton, its citizens, and its future generations, I would like to presently urge our mayor, councilmen, and citizens to establish a Conservation Committee as permitted through the Legislature's enactment of Bill A-735, Municipal Conservation Commission.

As you surely are aware, our country, states, and cities are spending millions of dollars daily to correct past mistakes in the areas of conservation. We have polluted our air, our water, and our soils. We have destroyed much of our wildlife, unique natural areas, and many of our prime resources. We have endangered our very existence as a species.

I urge you to help to enlist all people of Livingston to help to ensure that we will begin, immediately, the upward trend to help to prevent future destruction and wrong doing, and to correct and eradicate present problems.

I read in your paper of several projects which will affect Livingston appreciably. Proposed is the flood control project off of Passaic avenue. Proposed is the tremendous shopping mall off of Walnut street. Our town has for several years been attempting "to tax out of existence" the water rights of the East Orange Water Reserve. We have flood problems along several bodies of water on various ends of town. We have ever-increasing evidences of random waste disposal along our roadsides and streams.

True, our local government has been working hard in some of these areas. We now have a very admirable air pollution ordinance. They are attempting to correct some local flooding conditions. But, will the water runoff from a 5600 space parking lot at the new mall be adequately provided for in an already "wet" community? What would be our flooding problems if the Water Reserve were "taxed out of existence" and built upon? This area is a tremendous asset to Livingston, exactly as it stands today! What of the garbage being dumped along our streets and streams? Does this contribute to that recently mentioned rat problem? Are we, the present citizens of Livingston, providing adequately for our future generations, our children, when we act today without a conservation mindedness?

Many communities in our state and country are already working along these lines and have already established effective and active committees. Livingston will not be the first if we begin today, nor will we then be the last!

If such a committee has already been designated tasks such as these, I have seen little evidence of their concern and action except as I have mentioned.

Let's get Livingston moving toward and for tomorrow. Let's end our preoccupation with today and yesterday. I urge you to support this request with the full efforts of your newspaper and respected position in our town. I urge our officials and our citizens to press for this move and to support it so that in the end we may say, we have done what is right, we have helped to prevent disaster in Livingston.

Sincerely,
George R. Gross

YMCA Opens Pool To YWCA Members

Construction of its new building is being made a little easier for the Young Women's Christian Association of the Oranges by the men of the neighboring YMCA of the Oranges, Maplewood and West Essex.

In a recent memo to all staff members, Everett E. Stark, executive director of the YMCA said, "the YWCA has found it necessary for a short time to close its pool. During this time, as a good neighbor, we will honor the YWCA membership cards on the following schedule, the same as we would one of our own branches:

"On Friday evenings from March 7 to April 25 they may use our facilities the same as the Branches from 7 to 10 p.m. This includes the gym, pool, ladies' locker room and shower room. Starting March 16 through April 27 they may use the gym, pool, locker room and showers on Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m. Cost to the YWCA members will be 50 cents for children and 75 cents for adults."

According to Mrs. Tyler Richards, director of the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Department of the YW, the swimming pool will be closed during the month of March for construction of a new entrance and walkway.

Minor electrical repairs can be made by most homeowners. Most repairs can be prevented by not overloading the circuit. Most home-lighting circuits are fused with 15 Amp. fuses, designed to carry no more than about 1400 watts. When too many high-wattage appliances are plugged into an individual outlet at the same time, a fuse may blow, without a short or other defect occurring. Keep an emergency kit handy with extra fuses in various sizes, a small flashlight, insulating tape, screw driver, pliers and test light. You'll be ready for "lights out"!

Have Trouble With Anti-Pollution Fuel

Difficulties in the use of low-sulphur fuel oil were reported to the Board of Education this week. The public schools are now using the special fuel as a part of a general campaign to reduce air pollution.

It was noted that a number of oil burners in the schools had been subject to malfunction as a result of the new fuel. In his report, business manager George M. Bowman stated, "we have found this year that we have had to spend substantially more time in maintaining the proper oil-air mixture required for a hot, clean flame."

The problems, he said, could be traced to the blending of high viscosity African oil with the domestic fuel. "It is our understanding," he concluded, "that by next year the oil refineries will be able to process the domestic oils in a different manner which will alleviate problems we are having."

Keglines

By Moe M. Down

This has been a week of great activity but only one new record for the books. Among the ladies, particularly, there are a great many entries on our three honor rolls.

Starting with the high-game honor roll for the women, where 200 is the qualifying score, Marylyn Lang takes top place this week with her 208 in the Women's Club League. Davita Freedman, subbing for the Thursday Afternoon Belles, made the list twice with her scores of 207 and 206.

In the same league, Miriam Slatic had a 205 game and Dot Kerber had 200.

Ruth Fowler rolled a 205 game in the Ladies Thursday Night League. In the Friday Night Quartettes, Millie VanZee had a 200 game.

Top series for the week was tallied by Davita Freedman, a 536 with the Thursday Afternoon Belles. Two ladies, Dolores French and Elsie O'Neill, had 531 series, and each was a two-time winner, also making the 3-over-160 list.

Bergoth Meusel, another two-time winner, had 520, the qualifying score for this honor roll. She bowls with the Ladies' Thursday Night League.

The final honor roll for the ladies is for three games over 160. Top honors for consistent bowling go to Dolores French this week, in recognition of her 190-171-170 scores. Another Ladies' Thursday Night Leaguer, Bergoth Meusel, had scores of 193-167-160. Two ladies from the Friday Night Quartettes also made the honor roll: Elsie O'Neill had scores of 187-184-160, and Lydia Lawrence had 185-173-161.

On the men's side of the honor roll there was more activity this week than we've had in recent weeks. The only league making the roster was the Businessmen, however. William Osborne takes honors for the top game this week with his 253. He also put his name on the high-series roster with a 638, good for a three-way tie for seventh place on the annual standings.

William Nagy is another two-time winner. He made the high-series list, where the qualifying score is 620, with a 631 total. In the final category for the men, two games over 210, he posted scores of 216-213.

Final entry on the last scoreboard is William Harriot, who had game scores of 226-213 to take honors as the best 2-over-210 for the week.

It is rare enough that a league contest scores over the 1000 mark, but this week we had two such scores in two different leagues.

In the National League, Van-Kel scored 1019-916-936 against Bedford's Realtors 846-920-917. In the Church League, Trinity Covenant had 953-1009-860 against Livingston Baptist's 930-881-868.

Three young Livingston bowlers have distinguished themselves in the Essex County Junior Bowling Association Annual Championship Tournament. Gary Abeles of Demarest road, Jay Kohen of Alcott drive and Paul Rubenstein of Madison court were members of The Eagle's Rocks, along with two Verona bowlers. The Rocks placed first in a field of 34 teams as net winners of the Tournament. Gary Abeles led his team with a 543 series.

Manager Harp's Report Continued

The year 1968 marked the Twelfth Year for the municipal operation of our Swimming Pool Utility. A condensed statement of our operations may be outlined as follows:

INCOME		EXPENSES
Membership Fees	$112,505.50	Operating	$ 55,865.36
Surplus	11,933.19	Capital Improvements	27,201.58
		Debt Service	21,293.19
		Others	1,462.00
Total	$124,438.69		$105,822.13

Membership fees increased by $14,070.50 over the 1967 total – this increase is totally attributable to increased membership fees. Actually, the number of memberships decreased. The operating surplus for this utility totalled $33,623.77 – an increase of $18,801.68. The actual operating experience for our swimming pools continues to be excellent. It should be noted that the Capital Improvement Fund for this utility, at the end of 1968, totalled $108,445.62.

Collection of Local Improvement Assessments in 1968 totalled $75,209.30, as compared to a 1967 collection experience of $102,573.13. The major decrease in this category of collections reflect the continuing reduction in the backlog of local improvement assessment projects. By the end of 1969, the assessment of local improvement projects should be on a current status. Revenues from this source provide adequate funds to pay the amortized costs of either short-term or long-term obligations that may be issued to underwrite the costs of these projects – the revenues are pledged to the payments described above. Exceptions to this rule involve the deficits in constructing major sanitary trunk sewer mains and some residential sanitary sewer extensions. In these cases, we try to erase the deficits by annual budget appropriations – a sound financial procedure that limits long-term debt (bond issues) and the costly interest payments.

In 1968, only $1,204.00 in interfunds or short-term loans from the current account were repaid by the capital, trust, and water accounts. At the same time, $93,198.50 of current funds were advanced or interfunded to the general capital accounts to temporarily finance the South Orange Avenue, Passaic Avenue, and West Mount Pleasant Avenue sanitary sewer extensions. By the end of the fiscal year, the total monies involved in the interfund account was $93,198.50. – This use of available monies enabled us to avoid costly bond anticipation notes with substantial savings in interest costs.

The collection of unpledged assessment monies, in 1968, produced a Trust Surplus of $42,246.15, as compared to $31,108.64 for the prior fiscal year – an increase of $11,137.51. The total of this account will depend, in a large measure, on the number and value of local improvement projects planned, approved, executed, and assessed. This fund will continue to serve as a revolving fund to support our capital improvement program for the reconstruction of roads and streets.

The three divisions of the Department of Finance continue to handle an increasing volume of activities. Highlights of the work performed are set forth in the sections to follow.

Assessment

1968 was another interesting year for the Tax Assessor's office. For the first six months of the year, no sales data was available for local property transactions. The sales data for the last six months of the year reflected the impact of an unbelievable inflationary spiral in real estate values for all classifications of property. The appreciation of property values will serve to increase our burden of county taxes in the year 1970. Never before has our financial strength been so closely tied to our inflated economy.

The number of new tax appeals to the County Board of Taxation totalled thirty-six. We were disappointed with the number of new cases because of the tremendous appreciation in property. To a large degree, many of the appeals are based on the premise that an appeal to the county will produce some reduction. We are hopeful we may someday see this practice discontinued and discouraged. A major revision in the tax appeal machinery in the State of New Jersey is long overdue.

One of the major tax litigation cases of 1968 involved a suit by the City of East Orange claiming farmland assessments for all of the Livingston water reservation properties. We are pleased to report that the decision of the Superior Court in this matter rejected the claim of the City of East Orange. This matter is presently being appealed to the Supreme Court of New Jersey, so we remain cautious concerning the final disposition of this suit. The financial implications involved in this suit are sizable and could effect the future and hoped for financial stability of our community.

During 1968, this division completed appraisals on approximately 173 new houses, all of which have been added to the tax rolls. Additions or alterations to homes required many appraisals and inspections for new and added taxes. In addition, appraisals were necessary for several new commercial and industrial structures. It was another year of unusual citizen interest in the detailed calculations of assessments.

Total assessed values for 1968 and 1969 may be summarized as follows:

Category	1968	1969	Increase or Decrease
Real Estate	$256,553,250.00	$265,637,600.00	$9,084,350.00
Personal Property	3,579,500.00	3,728,200.00	148,700.00
Total	$260,132,750.00	$269,365,800.00	$9,233,050.00

The unexpected increase in ratables can be fully explained by three factors. First of all, the increase reflects the assessed values of the new Foster Wheeler Research facility, and the new nursing home. Secondly, the increase reflects a large number of final plat plans that were approved in 1968 – this means acreage values for some land areas were replaced by the higher values for improved or unimproved building lots. The third factor relates to the higher values for the new homes being constructed.

Other activity in this office included:

* Review and Filing of more than 815 transcripts.
* Processed 3,096 Veteran and 230 Senior Citizen Tax Exemptions.

Treasury

The annual total of revenue collections continued to increase. A total of $11,649,288.18 was collected by this division. The collections may be summarized as follows:

Account	1968	1967	Increase or Decrease
Current	$10,970,504.84	$ 9,406,279.05	$ 1,564,225.79
Assessment and Improvement	75,209.30	102,573.13	27,363.83
Water Utility	449,472.50	420,350.39	29,122.11
Dog	13,156.50	10,739.00	2,417.50
Swimming Pool	112,834.50	98,662.95	14,171.55
Recreation Special	14,658.51	13,858.81	799.70
Refectory	13,452.03	12,771.74	680.29
Total	$11,649,288.18	$10,065,235.07	$1,584,053.11

You will notice that collections from the seven basic accounts increased by $1,584,053.11 or fifteen percent. Tax collections in 1968 were 95.32 percent of the levy – a slight improvement over the 1967 level of 94.83 percent of the levy. Our goal continues to be a tax collection experience of ninety-eight percent of the levy.

It is of interest to note that the Division of the Treasury issued a total of 651 new and 83 continuation searches in 1968 – a sizable total. The fees of three dollars (minimum) and five dollars (maximum) continue to fall short of our costs and the responsibility connected with a tax search.

Continuous progress was recorded in the Tax Collector's office in many areas. First of all, our annual tax list for 1969 was again completed in record time with improved quality. Secondly, the Register for Properties acquired through tax liens has been updated to the current date – a tremendous and most valuable completed project that covered the past fifteen or twenty years. Third, new addressograph plates were prepared for all of our water utility accounts. This office continues to look for new procedures to improve its administrative performance.
