Ellen Klein Takes Board Seat, Richardson Re-Elected President

Alex Richardson was elected Monday evening to serve a second consecutive term as president of the Board of Education. The vote for Richardson was unanimous.

Eleanore Cohen was returned as vice president by a three to two vote. Also running was Stephen Werdenschlag, who voted for himself and also received the support of Louis Venza.

Richardson appointed Venza to continue for a second term as delegate to the New Jersey School Boards Association.

Newly elected Board member Ellen Klein took the oath of office replacing Judith Zients whom she defeated in the recent election. Zients had served on the Livingston Board of Education for 15 years.

Klein comes to the Board as a former president of PT Council and of the Collins School PTA.

Free Summer School Will Offer Only Remedial Courses This Year

This year the Livingston School District will again sponsor a state approved tuition free summer school for Livingston residents. Unlike past summers when the program included enrichment courses, this year's summer school is designed only for students who will be taking remedial work.

The summer elementary remedial program will begin June 27, and continue through August 3. The program will offer remediation in the basic skills areas of reading and arithmetic. Course offerings include: reading and perceptual training, K-1; reading, grades 2-9; arithmetic, grades 2-6; and Work and Study Skills, a program designed to develop better work habits and to teach children how to study, which will be offered to students in grades 4-9. All classes will meet at the high school between 8:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

Participation in the elementary school summer program will be by referral of the building principal. Students will be assigned to classes according to grade level and transferred after diagnostic tests have been made. Each child will have one hour of instruction per day and class size will be limited.

The secondary school summer program will offer remedial credit courses for students in grades 7-12 who have failed a subject or who have been recommended by their school for extra review. The program will run from June 25 to August 3, with the exception of the English and mathematics review courses for grades 7-8, and the Family Living course which are scheduled for three week periods.

The planned course offerings include: English I-IV; Basic College Math I and II; Algebra I and II; Geometry; Spanish and French I and II; U.S. History I and II; Geography Grade 9; Social Studies Grades 7 and 8; General Science, and physical education. The scheduling of courses is subject to sufficient enrollment.

Students may take a maximum of two remedial subjects. Participation in the Secondary School Summer Program is based on the recommendation of the guidance department of the school which the student regularly attends.

Registration for the summer school will be held at Livingston High School, Friday, June 22. Prospective registrants must have had the appropriate referral authorization form completed before registering. Applications are available in all school offices.

Further information is available by calling Gerard Veglia, summer school director, at 994-1550, extension 270.

Zoning Board Approves Warehouse on Microlab Rd.

Two variances needed to enable construction of a warehouse building in an industrial area were approved by the Zoning Board in a lengthy meeting on Thursday night, May 17. The variances were granted to William D. Pinkham, owner of the building occupied by Pinkham Trane Service Company, and air conditioner installation and service firm, at 11 Microlab Road.

The action by the Zoning Board followed approval by the Planning Board earlier in the month.

The project, which had been outlined at the Zoning Board's April 19 meeting, involves construction of a 30 by 80 foot storage building at the rear of the company's lot. Although other locations had been considered for the additional space, the Board agreed with Pinkham and architect Lawrence S. Stern that the rear of the lot, although unusual, was the most suitable place. The land at the rear slopes steeply upward to the higher elevation occupied by the adjacent drive-in movie theater, and the warehouse will be set into the hillside.

At the earlier meeting there had been some discussion of the possibility of a future owner selling the warehouse building to a new owner, who might develop it into an office or manufacturing site. With the agreement of Pinkham, the Board imposed the condition that the warehouse be bound to the principal building in legal fashion so that it could not be sold separately, and could only be used as an accessory to the main building.

The offices of the West Essex Tribune will be closed on Monday, May 28, in observance of Memorial Day. Although deadlines for advertising and news will remain at noon on Tuesday, because of the shortened work week we shall greatly appreciate early submission of material for the May 31 issue.

The office will be open today, Thursday, and tomorrow, Friday, to process advertising and news.

Program Tuesday to Examine Drug Problem in Local Schools

According to the recent Essex County Grand Jury investigation of the schools in Essex County, drug abuse is widespread. This report also indicated the need for parents to become aware and involved in the attempt to deal with this problem that is threatening the well-being of our youth.

On Tuesday evening, May 29, at 7:30 p.m. at Livingston High School, there will be a town-wide adult drug education program. Ray DeMaio of Mount Pleasant Junior High will introduce the speakers for the evening who will be Assistant Essex County Prosecutor Richard Roberts and Detective Joseph Pariso of the Essex County Sheriff's Office. The film, "What Did You Take?" will be shown.

Roberts, a graduate of Seton Hall Law School, was a detective for six years and a prosecutor for two years in the Organized Crime Squad. He is a prosecutor and Director of the Bureau of Narcotics.

Detective Pariso, an expert witness in the area of narcotics, has been with the Narcotics Bureau in the Essex County Sheriff's Office since 1972. Prior to this, he worked in narcotics enforcement for the Newark Police Department. Three years ago, he joined the Sheriff's Office Narcotic Education Program which to date has reached over 60,000 students.

Roberts will discuss the findings of the Grand Jury investigation and the extent of the drug problem in Livingston. Detective Pariso will speak about the present and future effects inherent with the use of marijuana and other drugs on our young people. He will present the latest medical findings.

This program is sponsored by P.T. Council and endorsed by the Livingston Board of Education and other community organizations.

Truck Ban On Walnut Approved After Debate

The proposed ordinance barring trucks over four tons from Walnut Street and West Hobart Gap Road was approved Monday evening by the Township Council. A considerable discussion from the audience, mostly in favor of the measure, preceded the Council vote, which was 4-0. Councilwoman Beck was not present.

In the public hearing, Robert Tiensch of 57 Walnut Street led a delegation of residents seeking to have the law passed. Tiensch stated that he had seen many violations in which overweight trucks traversed the street. They shake the houses, litter the property, and endanger the area, he maintained.

Patricia De Poe of 40 Walnut stated that she had four children in three different schools. They all had to walk along the street to a school bus stop. Trucks, she said, entering Walnut Street from Route 10 have to pick up speed to make the grade, and pose a danger, particularly in wintertime when snow is plowed onto the shoulder. She stated the trucks often exceed 40 miles per hour. She was not in favor of sidewalks, she said on being questioned. Their house is so close to the road that if there were a sidewalk there would be no front lawn.

Diane Hatch of 46 Walnut said that trucks, particularly long tankers, go through the street all night long, shaking the house. Windows rattle and lose their putty. The dust problem is terrible.

Sole opponent of the ordinance was Allen Cruse of 20 South Orange Avenue. He said that he operates trucks, and it is far more practical for them to use Walnut Street than to negotiate Eisenhower Parkway and the traffic circle. Going north from Parsonage Hill Road and Passaic Avenue, trucks go through three traffic lights via Walnut Street, as against nine if they go up South Orange Avenue, across Eisenhower Parkway, and negotiate around the traffic circle. Stops and starts wear out trucks more than straight driving, he said.

Cruse said he operates dump trucks, not tractor trailers. They weigh about 11,000 pounds empty. He felt that the four ton limit was too small, and questioned just what this limit meant — gross weight of the vehicle empty, loaded, or what?

He also charged that the measure was being adopted by default. He said the police knew nothing of the proposed law until after it was introduced. He asked what studies had been made. He was advised by Councilman Crincoli that engineers of the State Department of Transportation had made a survey and the proposed regulation was recommended by them.

Cruse said that if the Council really wanted to do something, they should improve the circle, which is 35-40 years old, bridging it and eliminating dangerous cross traffic. He also wanted Eisenhower Parkway continued to Route 24, and 24 continued to I-287. Mayor Grady said that the Council was doing its

Attorneys Agree On Sundeck Plan

Following receipt of testimony and objections at the April meeting, the Zoning Board of Adjustment this week approved modified plans for a sundeck addition to the home of Stephen J. O'Remus at 106 North Ashby Avenue. The objections of Mrs. Morton Weiss of 5 Washington Court, the adjoining neighbor, were resolved in a meeting between O'Remus and attorney Leo C. Zucker before Thursday night's Board Session.

At the April 19 meeting Zucker, representing the objector, had told the Board of her objections to the sundeck and her concern that the resulting noise and outdoor activity would be a distraction. On Thursday evening Zucker told the Board that he and O'Remus had worked out an amicable settlement in which O'Remus would plant a buffer strip to separate the two properties. In addition, steps to the deck would be moved and a railing wall would be reduced in height.

With the resolution of previous objections, the Board voted unanimously to approve the rear yard setback variance needed to enable the construction.

Recycling Center Open on Saturday

Members of the high school Key Club, who supply much of the manpower to operate the municipal recycling center two Saturdays each month, will have full responsibility for the center this week. The center, located adjacent to the VFW Hall on West Mt. Pleasant Avenue, will be open from 9 to noon on Saturday, May 26.

Newspapers for recycling should be tied in bundles of newsprint or magazines. Glass should be sorted by color, and the metal rings removed from bottle necks.

In the event of bad weather the session will be cancelled; the next one is scheduled for June 9.

Neighbors Oppose House On Cedar Ter. Vacant Lot

Plans to build a new home on a vacant lot at Cedar Terrace and Cedar Parkway North were vigorously opposed by a large delegation of neighbors at the Zoning Board of Adjustment meeting on Thursday night, May 17. The item was the last one heard by the Board at the marathon meeting, which extended into Friday; a special meeting has been set for June 7 for the continuation of this case and for hearings on three items that were never reached at the regular session.

Under the terms of the application filed by Kenneth and MaryLynn Waters, the portion of their property at the corner would have to receive lot area, side yard and side street variances. A similar plan had been presented in 1964, but had been denied by the Zoning Board.

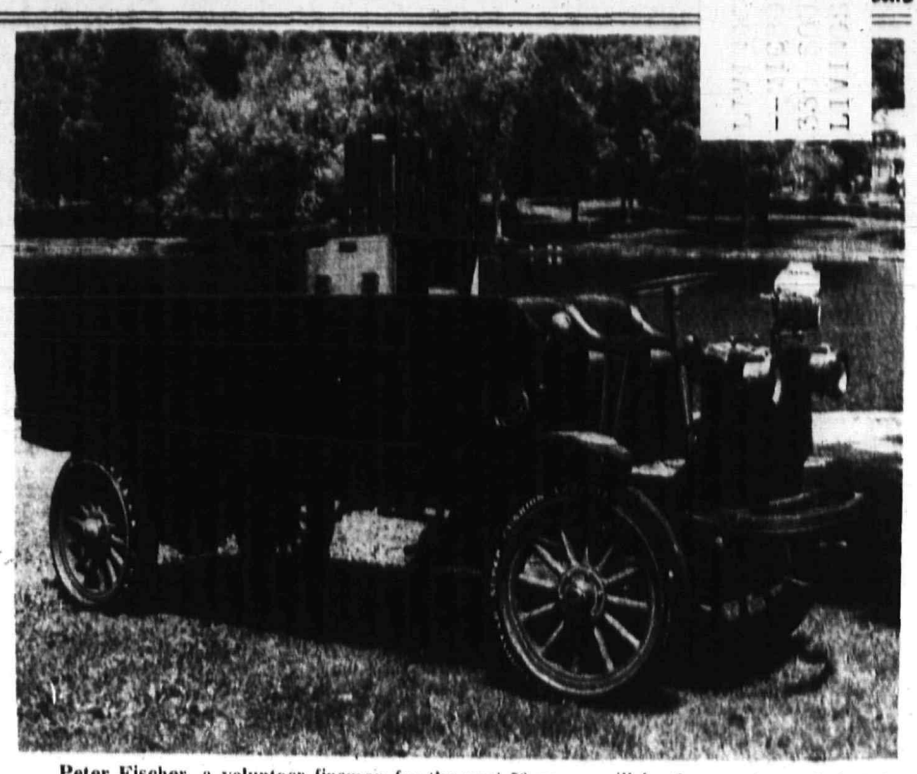

The applicants presented real estate expert Neil H. Guirtzman, who testified that in his opinion the new house would not damage neighborhood realty values, but attorney Leo C. Zucker, representing a group of objectors, presented several speakers who disagreed. Many of the neighbors said that they were concerned about drainage problems in the area, and the effect that new construction would have on current water runoff. Stanley Reisman of 25 Cedar Parkway North, adjacent to the vacant lot, expressed the opinion that Waters would gain financially from the project, but only at the expense of real estate values in the neighborhood.

Another neighbor, William Gill of 24 Cedar Parkway South, said that the vacant lot was overgrown and uncared for, and would profit more from some attention to its appearance than a new house.

Pointing out that many of the homes in the area are now on minimun size lots, Melvin Rosenblum of 9 Wildwood Avenue said that to allow lot area variances for the present Waters home and for the proposed new home would depreciate property values. Variances are sought to allow lots about two thirds of the required size in the R-4 residential zone. He was joined by several other neighbors in the opinion that the substandard lots would be an over-use of the land.

Another resident of the area, Rhoda Sichel of 23 Evergreeen Avenue, said that with six years background in the real estate business she could not agree with Guirtzman's assessment of the situation. To allow two substandard lots, she said would amount to going backward in time to very small lot sizes when the current trend is toward larger lots.

With the hearing running well past midnight, Board chairman Francis X. Sheehan asked the members to visit the site before the special meeting on June 7, when the matter will again be on the calendar.

Peter Fischer, a volunteer fireman for the past 52 years, will be the grand marshal of the Memorial Day parade on Monday. He will lead the parade on this antique 1920 Autocar truck, carrying a Tangley calliope of the same vintage. The unit is operated by Yesteryear Museum of Morristown, and has appeared in parades in other communities since its restoration.

Memorial Day Observance Starts 9:30 a.m. Monday

Livingston's Annual Memorial Day Parade will be held on Monday, May 28, starting from Memorial Park. The traditional memorial services will begin at 9:30 near the monument in the park, and the parade will start north on South Livingston Avenue at 10 a.m.

Most of the marching units will form up around Memorial Park, and motor vehicle traffic in that area will be limited. When the parade gets started, traffic will be diverted from South Livingston Aveune to Livingston Center and then from North Livingston Avenue to the end of the parade route at Harrison School.

The parade will be divided into six marching sections. The first section, led by a mounted police escort, will include the flag bearer, Grand Marshal Peter Fischer, township officials, Board of Education officials and Miss Buddy Poppy.

The second section will consist of veterans' organizations, including the VFW Drill Team, VFW Ladies' Auxiliary, American Legion Post 201 and the Ladies Auxiliary and Sons of the Legion, Jewish War Veterans Post 740, the Army National Guard and the Model A Club.

The third section will include five groups of township organizations: an honor guard from the Livingston Policemen's Benevolent Association, the Fire Department, the Fire Department Ladies' Auxiliary, children of firemen, and the First Aid Squad volunteers.

The fourth section will include 12 different youth groups, led by the assistant grand marshal. Among the youth groups will be the high school band, the band boosters, the West Essex YMCA, the Top Hats twirling group, Brownies, Girl Scouts, Cubs, Boy Scouts, a dance group, the Advisory Youth Council, AFS exchange students and a group of unicyclists.

The fifth section of the parade, beginning the second division, will include 21 different community organizations. Entries have been planned by the Lions Club, library, Proctor's Artillery, Kiwanis, Historical Society, UNICO, Knights of Columbus, LIFE Committee, Warrington School, Rotary Club, League of Women Voters, Chamber of Commerce, Barbershoppers, Livingston Racquetball Club, Jaycees, Chinese Association, Knights of Pythias, Orange Savings Bank, Red Cross, AAUW, Corinthian Lodge 11 and the Rainbow Girls.

The final section of the parade will be the Shriners from Salaam Temple. This organization will provide a wide variety of marching units, including a mounted guard, musical groups, motor corps, clowns, and the famous Shriners' String Band. At the end of the parade the Holiday Inn Double-decker bus will carry the parade marshals and the Old Guard, and several horse groups will bring up the rear.

Municipal emergency services, including the Fire Department, First Aid Squad and Police Department, will form up in the township hall parking area. In the event of a fire or other emergency the necessary units will leave the parade.

Organizations taking part in the parade are to be at Memorial Park at 9 a.m. to form up at the direction of the parade marshals. In the event of rain, the parade will be cancelled; there is no rain date for postponement.

The parade will be presented on Suburban Cablevision channel three on Monday afternoon at 3:30 p.m., and will be repeated on Monday evening, May 28, at 9:30 p.m. and again on Wednesday, May 30, at 2:30 p.m.

Board Plans Extra Meeting

A special meeting of the Zoning Board of Adjustment was scheduled by the Board this week as a result of a very long agenda. The extra session is to be held on Thursday evening, June 7, starting at the usual 7:30 meeting time.

Board chairman Francis X. Sheehan, noting the length of the calendar for this week's meeting, said that he felt it was unfair to ask a month's delay for those applicants whose cases could not be heard on Thursday night. Even with the reduced agenda, the meeting ran into Friday morning.

The cases which are to be started at the special meeting on June 7 include the following three applications:

Vidmantas Matusaitis of 14 Charles Street has applied for permission to build a second story addition on his home. A front yard setback variance is needed to enable the construction.

Jean Michaels of 26 Westlawn Road seeks to erect a sundeck on her home. Side yard and total side yard variances are required.

Allen L. Spergel has filed for permission to build a garage and laundry room addition on his home at 2 Dorothy Avenue. A side street setback variance is needed for the corner lot.

In addition to these three new cases, action will also be taken on cases which were heard at the May 17 meeting.

Subdivision of Ernst Estate Is Considered by Zoning Board

Plans for a group of three new lots on the former Ernst estate at West Northfield Road and Mounthaven Drive were presented to the Zoning Board of Adjustment on Thursday night, May 17. The plans were also before the Planning Board for subdivision approval, which was granted earlier in the same week.

Attorney George Sodwick explained that the boundary between the R-4 and R-3 residential zones runs through the property. His application to the Zoning Board, on behalf of the new owners of the property, Wyoming Gate, Inc., of Irvington, seeks lot area variances to allow the R-4 standards to prevail. Sodowick said that the three new lots which are to be created along Mounthaven Drive will equal the front footage of the largest lots on that street at present. Some small remnants of the estate will be conveyed to adjoining land owners to make their lots more regular in shape.

Several Board members noted that one of the new lots will be irregular in shape, and expressed concern that the new owner will appear before the Board to get variances to allow a large non-conforming house to be built.

Following the discussion the Board directed legal counsel Mahlon L. Fast to write a draft resolution approving the application for consideration at a special meeting to be held on Thursday, June 7.

LHS Stickmen Win 1, Lose 2

The late season splurge of the LHS lacrosse team continued on Wednesday as Summit fell to the Lancer stickmen by a score of 6-3.

Outstanding fast break offense during the first period resulted in goals by Dean, Peyser and Wonsor, giving the Lancers a 3-0 edge. The green and white never moved the ball better as the entire team executed its fast break responsibilities to perfection. Whether it was Koss, Dellosso or Perley on defense, or the middle lines of Wonsor, Whitaker and Peyser, or the combined line of Braun, Abramson, Sobel and Schuyler, the Lancers were able to manage excellent fast break opportunities. Several near misses by Sullivan, Dean, Gruchacz and Cherenson allowed Summit to enjoy a deficit of only the 3-0 score as the Lancers failed to capitalize on at least four excellent breakaway situations.

Hustling by Bondy, Schwartz and Bergman and by Schaible, Jacobson, Greenhall, Whitman and Koch allowed the first attack. Jeff Dyer made several spectacular saves as he thwarted the Hilltoppers from scoring throughout the first half. Chuck Jaffe helped to preserve the first half shutout when Dyer moved up for extra man situations.

Summit came out smoking during the third quarter as they tallied two fast goals by Mason and Paydos on two beautifully executed fast break goals of their own. A Ron Whitaker score finally got the Stickmen an extra-man goal to up the lead to 4-2. Moments later, Mason scored his second goal on a fine feed from Bennet West to cut the Lancer's lead again to a one goal edge. However, Whitaker, on a beautiful face dodge, hit the bottom right corner to put the Lancers up by one, and Wonsor followed at 8:49 to extend the lead to two as the third quarter ended.

Pete Schuyler scored the only goal of the fourth period by either team as both teams played tough defense. Particularly effective for the Lancers during the fourth period were the man down teams. One man down and a two man down situation were executed by Koss, Pecora, Imgrund, Dellosso, Perley and Sobel to preserve the victory.

This win enables the Lancers to establish the best record ever as they chalked up their eighth win of the year, while winning for the seventh time in the last nine games.

Livingston-Montclair

Livingston played a rare Sunday afternoon lacrosse game against Montclair on May 20, and came away on the short end of a 10-6 score.

Jeff Heath opened the Montclair scoring as he tallied a solo goal at the 2:42 mark. Steve Cherenson equaled this score at the 5:09 mark. John Tobin put the Mounties ahead at the 6:08 on an assist from Chris Short, with Short putting one in on an assist from Walter Johnson to close out the first period scoring at 3-1. Two quick goals, each within a minute of each other, made the score 5-1. These four goals within a five minute period overlapping the first two quarters proved too great a hurdle for the Lancers to overcome. Johnson's goal at the 9:19 mark edged Montclair closer to victory. Short and Johnshaw scored for the Mounties during the third period, ending it with an 8-2 score.

The fourth period was a very productive one as the Lancers came up with four goals to two. Whitaker took a face off and went in unassisted. Dave Dean took a fast break feed from Braun for a score and Mike Braun came back 16 seconds later to score another. Dave Dean, on a well executed clearing pattern, scored the most spectacular goal of the game as he took Pete Schuyler's feed in front and made a blind backhander for a very fitting climax to an excellent quarter.

Livingston-Hunterdon

The Lancer Stickmen traveled to Flemington on Monday and fell by a 10-3 score to a very fired-up Hunterdon Central Regional team. John Peiper opened up the scoring by putting in an extra man goal just as the penalty time was ending. Dave Dean assisted. High-scoring Joe Collela of the Lancers tied the score as he was assisted by Jeff Frim. Steve Cherenson gave the Lancers another lead at the 6:41 mark as he took a fast break situation and turned it into a well-placed bounce shot goal. Keith Laird tied it as the first period wound down, beating his man on a one on one.

The Lancers did not play their usual sharp brand of lacrosse, and Hunterdon's great speed advantage resulted in only one Lancer goal in the remainder of the game. This was a beautiful play by Braun and Cherenson proving a third period tally by Mike Braun. However, two goals by Hunterdon during the period more than offset this solo shot by the Lancers. Hunterdon took a commanding lead as the fourth quarter ended.

The Lancers will participate in the state tourney Wednesday, May 23, at Columbia.

Property valued at $409,336 was stolen in Livingston burglaries during 1977.

Zoning Board Refuses Garage, Cites Question of Fire Safety

In a split vote on Thursday evening the Zoning Board of Adjustment declined permission for a garage addition at the home of John Ferguson at 18 Burnet Street. Following a discussion of the legal technicalities involved, the Board then took unanimous action to deny the application.

Ferguson had described his proposal to the Board last month, and the case had been adjourned to allow Board members to examine the site.

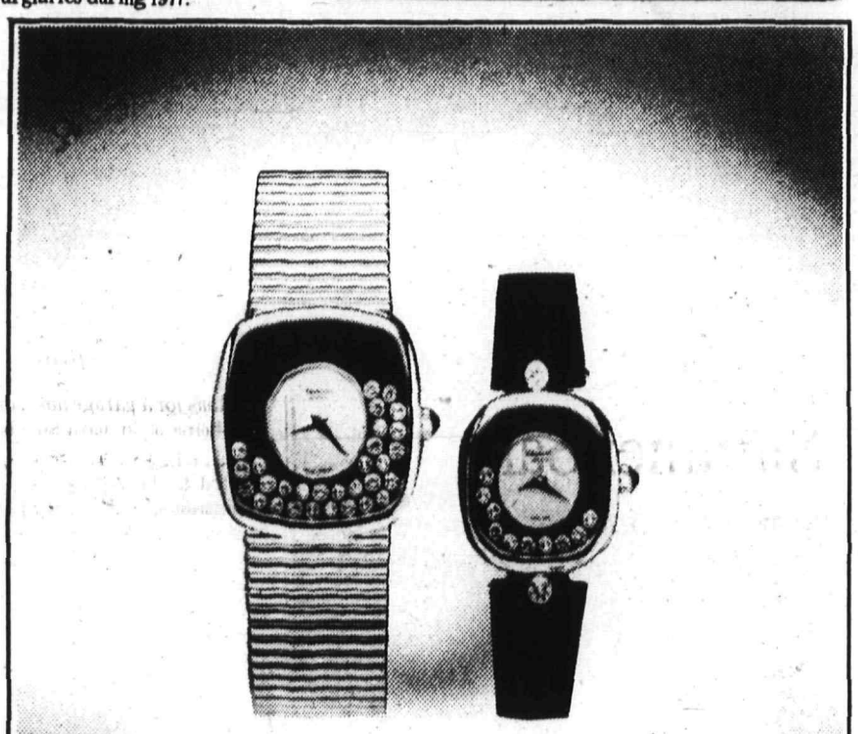

As a result of the inspection, Board member Alan Davenport read a motion finding that the proposed new garage would fit into the neighborhood, and would also be an advantage in that it would make the property conform to present codes which require that every home have a garage.

In discussion of the motion, Board member Joel Siegel said that he was opposed to approval because he felt that access for fire trucks might be a problem in the crowded back yard. Ferguson, a Livingston police officer for 11 years, said that he could not recall having ever seen a fire engine driven into the rear yard of a home. Davenport, in defense of his motion, pointed out that there is excellent access from the nearby commercial parking lot behind Livingston Paint and Wallpaper.

In a vote on the motion, only Davenport and alternate member Marilyn Kussick favored the application. Several Board members suggested that perhaps a revised application might receive a favorable vote, but the Board's legal counsel, Mahlon L. Fast, outlined the legal entanglements involved. Fast agreed with Davenport's comment that since no affirmative action had been taken to deny the application, it would be possible to approve an amended application.

The Board's second alternate member, Arthur Grossman, moved for denial of the original application, citing what he felt was a fire safety problem because of limited access to the rear yard. The Board, having no amended application, voted unanimously to approve the motion and deny Ferguson's variances.

495 S. Livingston Ave. Livingston

LIBRARY EXTENSION OPENS — Members of the Library Board of Trustees happily watched Ruth Rockwood, director of the Livingston Free Public Library, cut the ceremonial ribbon last Sunday as the new wing of the library was formally opened. The new wing, which primarily will be used for a research and study center, features many extra features including a ramp and elevator for the benefit of Livingston's handicapped residents. In the picture above, left to right are Board members Vivien Heinzemann, Judy Nudelmann, Mayor John Grady, Ruth Rockwood, Board president Gilbert Zimmerman, and Board members Joan Dollinger, Mel Klein, and Gene Manto. Below is pictured one of the new sections of book stacks. Tribute was paid to the Widenmann Foundation which made a gift of $5,000 to finance these stacks, in memory of the late George Widenmann, longtime Livingston resident. The new wing has many special features, including movable magazine storage racks to provide more storage space in a small area and still have easy accessibility.

before adjourning the matter. Several neighbors indicated that they felt the proposed construction would overcrowd the lot. One pointed to the addition of a sundeck in 1975, and said that he felt the house was already too large.

Chairman Sheehan asked the members of the Board to visit the site, and directed that the matter be place on the agenda for the next meeting. Following several other matters on the Thursday night agenda a special meeting was scheduled for June 7. The item has been put on the calendar for the special meeting, but as of Wednesday it was not known whether the new notice and plans would be ready; if not, the case will be heard at the regular June 21 meeting.

Arrest 2 Saturday At Shopping Mall

Two Newark residents face a number of complaints in Livingston Municipal Court as a result of an incident at Livingston Mall on Saturday afternoon, May 19. The two, Adrian Chambers and Jacquelin Drummer, have been arrested on several counts of possession of stolen property, plus an additional charge of possession of drugs.

Police were called to the mall on Saturday afternoon when a security officer at Hahne's reported seeing a man leaving with what appeared to be a bag of stolen merchandise. As the police officer was questioning the man in the parking lot, he saw a woman in the back seat of the man's car throw a bag out the car window. Checking, he found that it contained clothing from several mall stores.

Investigation with store security personnel indicated that none of the garments had been paid for. The two occupants of the car, identified as Chambers and Drummer, were arrested on three counts each of possession of stolen property. Drummer was charged with possession of Marijuana, and Chambers with driving without his registration. Investigation indicated that Chambers was also wanted on four warrants from Newark. Both were released on bail pending court appearances.

Neighbors Protest Garage Addition

Plans for a garage addition to the home of Richard Steinberg at 22 Fieldstone Drive were presented to the Zoning Board of Adjustment on Thursday night, May 17. Although the Board did hear the objections of some neighbors, testimony on the application itself was postponed when it was discovered that the required notice to nearby residents did not properly describe the scope of the project.

Described in the application and the notice to neighbors as a one car addition about 9½ by 24 feet in size, the project will also involve a room above the garage. Steinberg's attorney, Martin Picillo, said on Thursday night that the exact use of the additional room has not been decided. Since the notice to neighbors did not mention the upstairs room, Board chairman Francis X. Sheehan asked that Steinberg return at a later meeting with more complete plans and proof of service of an acceptable notice.

Rather than require the objectors who had attended Thursday's hearing to return in order to be heard, Sheehan offered to hear their comments

Parsippany Girls Defeat Livingston

The Parsippany Hills girls' softball team avenged an earlier loss to Livingston by defeating the Lancers 11-6 at Parsippany on Monday.

The Vikings jumped out to a six run lead in the bottom of the first inning and held that lead until the fifth. In the top of the fifth the Lancers tied the game. The Lancer runs were the result of walks to Alyse Hirschhorn and Nancy Scocozza.

Karen Turi, Caren Holtzman and Barbara Oelz then followed with singles, and Fran Miller cleared the bases with a double down the left field line. Unfortunately the Vikings came back with five more runs in the bottom of the fifth for an 11-6 lead which they held until the final out.

Also getting hits for the Lancers were Mary Ellen Joyce, Sue Grohowski, Shirley Westcott and Alyse Hirschhorn.

Excerpts from the West Essex Tribune of 40 Years Ago

May 25, 1939. Livingston day at the New York World's Fair was set for June 9. The West Essex Tribune announced that an all day adult tour including transportation would cost $3.95, $3.45 without lunch; and without lunch or amusements, $2.95.

The deluxe tour for children would cost $1.95, $1.55 for the budget trip, and $1.30 per child if he or she goes on an organized tour.

On that day a Livingston program will be held in the Special Events Hall and a Livingston band will furnish the music.

When Livingstonites could think about something else besides the World's Fair they were planning the Fourth of July celebration under the direction of American Legion Post 201. In 1939 there was no Memorial Day parade, but American Legion and VFW members planned to decorate graves of Livingston war veterans.

One of Livingston's most noted citizens, Ralph DeCamp died during the week. More than 750 persons attended the funeral at Livingston Baptist Church. DeCamp, who inherited the DeCamp Bus Lines, also was director of the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders. A group of DeCamp Bus drivers escorted the cortege to the cemetery. DeCamp also had been a member of the state legislature.

All Livingston town offices closed on the day of the funeral and flags were flown at half mast. The Livingston fire department and National Bank were draped in mourning.

Though DeCamp started out his professional life as a dentist he took over the bus line from his ailing father and expanded it, opening up Livingston as a suburb of Newark.

Drivers Fined In Traffic Court

Several Livingston drivers were among those fined in Municipal Court on Wednesday, May 16, on a variety of traffic offenses.

Melvin L. Berger of 14 Morningside Drive and Michael J. Franchino of 47 Tanglewood Drive had been stopped for speeding.

Richard W. Meyler of 12 Dickinson Lane was fined $15 for driving a vehicle with overdue inspection, and Moshe A. Kasinetz of 12 Beverly Road was fined $15 and court costs of $15 after being found guilty of making an improper turn.

Emily F. White of 21 Tiffany Drive denied passing a stop sign, but was found guilty and fined $15 and costs.

Anne P. Tozzi of 21 Nottingham Road was fined $20 and costs for passing a stopped school bus.

Local Taxes

Speaking of taxes, we were interested to receive this week the breakdown of taxes for each of Essex County's 22 municipalities. As our readers will note, we've attempted in the news columns to do some analysis of the figures.

The one conclusion that we could reach was that regardless of the way one calculated, the suburbs were generally far better off than the city when it came to tax loads. Livingston's cost of municipal government (excluding the schools) was the lowest in the county whichever way one figured it. The overall costs showed us as being fifth lowest. As we pointed out, the school costs, we think, should be compared more on a cost per pupil basis than on a cost per assessed or actual value. Thus, comparisons on the school side are a bit difficult to make.

We hope we got the point across that the true comparison should be made by multiplying the tax rate by the ratio between assessed value and true value. This is a difficult concept for many to follow, but it is the only fair one by which to make comparisons. For instance, Orange's tax rate appears to be three times that of Livingston. Actually, in actual dollars paid out against true value, it is a little less than double Livingston's costs.

One interesting thing we discovered. Theoretically, the county share of the tax rate against true value should be the same. For most communities it was. However, a few, such as Cedar Grove, the figures seemed to be way off. We finally checked with the county board on it, and found that certain adjustments are made because of special circumstances. In Cedar Grove's case, for instance, the community loses a large slice of ratables for the county hospital, but provides many services to this facility, so an adjustment of 50 per cent is made in the county charge.

Could It Be Blackmail?

The daily press this Wednesday carried the surprise news that the Educational Improvement Center Northeast has voted to suspend operations as of July 1, turning over their services to the newly formed Essex County Educational Services Commission. This action was taken despite an assurance given only a short time ago to Livingston and 83 other school districts in six counties that their service would be continued for at least another year.

The service in question is the provision of various health and remedial instruction and health services to non-public school children. The local Board of Education is required to make this service available to all local children attending such schools. The EIC has been operating vans carrying the various specialists who visit schools throughout the six counties on a scheduled basis. In Livingston's case, a $30,000 federal grant has picked up the cost.

Livingston, and at least 19 other school districts in Essex, recently decided not to join the Essex County Education Services Commission plan for a variety of reasons, one of the major ones being a loss of local control.

The suddenness of this decision, plus the mandate that such services must be supplied, leads us to wonder — is this just a bit of legal blackmail? Are we being forced to join a system of which we do not approve? It surely looks so.

Full details are not available at press time, but we do not like the look of it.

A Matter of Perspective

Recently nuclear experts told us that 2,000 Americans will die from the results of nuclear power generation by the year 2000. This is indeed a terrible thing, and the public is justly outraged.

On the other hand, when the National Safety Council announces, as it did last week, that 50,000 persons died in 1978 as the result of automobile accidents, the public scarcely raises a collective eyebrow.

Memorial Day weekend is upon us and soon the Fourth of July. Even with the gasoline crisis, millions of drivers will take to the highways.

Is it somehow less painful, less tragic to die in a mangled car than succumb to radiation disease? Has existence without the automobile become so unthinkable that we are willing to look upon 50,000 deaths a year as an "acceptable risk?"

Apparently so. Nearly 100,000 swarmed into Washington D.C. for the anti-nuclear demonstration a few weeks ago in an effort to save the unfortunate 2,000 who might die from the atom. No one has even suggested that we gather to mourn those 50,000 men, women and children who already have met death by automobile.

Peggy Kuo Wins Speaking Contest

Peggy Kuo, a student at Livingston High School, won first place in the girls' division of the New Jersey District, Optimist International Oratorical Contest. As winner of the statewide competition, she will receive a $500 scholarship for college.

Entering the local competition sponsored by the Optimist Club of West Essex on March 28, Kuo and Newark Academy student Greg Stankiewicz won at that level and later went on to take the zone semi-finals held in Belleville on April 26. In the semi-finals they defeated other speakers from Optimist Clubs of Belleville, Kearny, West Hudson and Ironbound-Newark.

The finals were held at Point Pleasant, where Kuo and Stankiewicz competed against eight other finalists in each division.

Kuo and the other contestants delivered a four and a half minute address on "In My Youth I See." The contest was judged on the basis of content, appearance and poise, delivery and presentation, and overall effectiveness.

The Optimist International oratorical competition, first held in 1928, each year awards about $40,000 in scholarships.

utmost to get the road connected to Route 24, and that improvements for the circle also had been sought. These were not within their power as a local Council.

In response to a question, it was said that the police would enforce the trucking ban, if it were passed, but that residents could help by noting license numbers and relaying the information to the police, who could not be stationed on that road at all hours just looking for trucks. David Strassburg of 204 Walnut, was advised that it would take several months for the law to go into effect. The County freeholders would have to pass a similar measure, and both would have to be approved by the State Department of Transportation.

After the vote, at the end of the meeting, Tiensch spoke at length about dangerous and unsightly conditions on Walnut Street, including speed, overweight trucks, broken bottles, and slippery surface. He urged the Council to pass slower speed regulations, and to ban right turns on red at the intersection of Walnut and Eisenhower.

The second mortgage

A buyer does not have enough money for a down payment on the home he wants. An investor needs some extra money for a new business venture. A homeowner cannot afford a new addition to his house. In each of these cases, a second mortgage may be the answer. If it is, all parties should understand just what a second mortgage involves.

A second mortgage is like any loan in which the lender is secured by real estate owned by the borrower — with one major difference. It is subordinate to any pre-existing mortgage on the same property. A first mortgage takes priority. The question of priority would arise if a borrower fails to meet his obligations under a mortgage note. There may, in fact, be nothing left for the second mortgagee at all. Because of this, the lender who gives a second mortgage is taking a greater risk, hence the higher interest rate and shorter term.

A home buyer is most likely to need a second mortgage when he lacks the funds to make an adequate down payment on a house. In today's real estate market, more prospective purchasers are encountering this problem.

The borrower considering a second mortgage should recognize its potential drawbacks: a higher interest rate and a short term. Furthermore, he will be incurring the separate expenses of any loan transaction, such as closing costs, loan application fees, title insurance, credit check, points and legal fees.

• Second mortgages are not permitted with VA and FA financing.

The second mortgage should be handled with care and its drawbacks recognized. When the circumstances are right, however, it may be an ideal financing tool. For a home buyer with a good income but little money in the bank, a second mortgage may be better than none.

To the Editor:

Keep Mrs. Boyd

Dear Sir,

One of the recent concerns of the residents of Livingston has been a decline in student population. Until this year, despite the decline in attendance, the number of teachers has remained the same. A group of students was informed that Mrs. Boyd, along with other LHS teachers, regardless of their tenure, were not asked to return for the 1979-80 school year. We feel that the Board of Education is making a mistake.

Mrs. Boyd has been working in this school system for 15½ years, unfortunately only 11 of those have been consecutive. To our knowledge, the Board is basing their decision on the number of consecutive years which a teacher has been working in our school system not on the experience she has had while working in the classroom.

In the past 15½ years, Mrs. Boyd has developed and is presently teaching new courses in the Home Ec field. For example, her courses in creative needlecraft, family and child development and nutrition are taught only by Mrs. Boyd. If she does not remain in the school system, these courses will either be dropped from the curriculum or be taught by inexperienced teachers.

Many people feel Home Ec is just a course in how to cook food and how to sew. Until Mrs. Boyd came to this school system, it had been. With her expertise, the home Ec department now encompasses the many aspects in this field. Her course of family and child development for example, includes speakers for the Lamaze method of child birth, child rearing and discipline and basic parenting; something which everyone should know. Her creative needlecraft course is not just sewing, she helps the students to bring alive the dying American art of quilting. Her nutrition course shows the students how to eat preperly and how to stay healthy and fit. Please don't let these courses go to waste. We need your support to keep Mrs. Boyd and her courses with LHS.

Temple Beth Shalom Dedicates New Torah

More than 1,000 members and friends of Temple Beth Shalom attended a Siyum HaTorah, the celebration of the completion, dedication and consecration of a Scroll of the Five Books of Moses, at the temple last Sunday. Rabbi Samuel L. Cohen, spiritual leader of the congregation, presented the Scroll in memory of his father, Rabbi Tzvi Cohen of Montreal, Canada.

The celebration got under way with a procession from Rabbi Cohen's home to the temple grounds. The new Sefer Torah was carried under a canopy, borne by members of the congregation and Rabbi Cohen's family.

As the procession, led by Rabbi Cohen and Cantor Butensky, reached the temple grounds it was greeted in the centuries-old traditional manner, by honorees bearing the seven Sefer Torahs currently in the temple's Holy Ark.

Following a program of singing and dancing in the temple's front garden, the procession entered the sanctuary, and the Sefer Torahs were carried around the entire congregation. Seven Sefer Torahs were returned to the Ark, and the Rabbi Tzvi Cohen Memorial Torah was placed on a Table of Honor for a service of dedication and consecration prepared for the occasion and led by Rabbi Cohen and Cantor Butensky.

After the ceremony, Rabbi Shlomo Koenig, a scribe, completed inscription of letters and verses, following Rabbinic Law and 3,000 years of tradition. Members of the congregation have endowed various portions of the Scroll, one of the Five Books, a weekly portion or a verse, and with the scribe, each individual symbolically completed the endowed section.

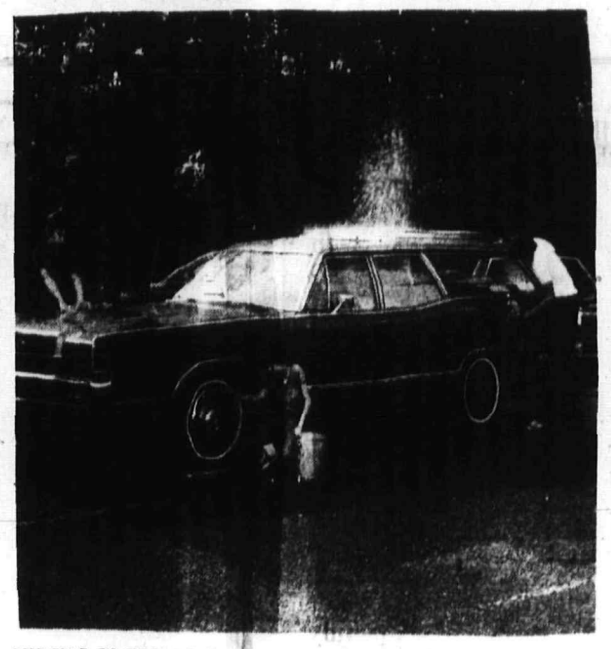

Get Bids On Brook Wall

Cifelli Construction Company of Newark was the lowest of five bidders Monday evening when quotations were received for constructing a new retaining wall along a portion of Slough Brook. They quoted a price of $39,545, just under bidding Pipeline Utility Construction Company whose price was $39,983.

The three other bidders were also close, the highest quotation of all being $45,628. The bids were all referred to Manager Harp for study and recommendation.

The retaining wall is to be erected along the westerly and southerly bank of Slough Brook in the vicinity of the east end of Manor Road. The wall is necessary since erosion has cut deeply into the bank, and is threatening to expose and damage the Slough Brook trunk sewer line.

The construction work will be based on town owned lots at the southerly end of Eastbrook Terrace.

Babe Ruth League

Rochester 10, Columbus 5

Combining alert base running with timely hitting and solid defense, and taking advantage of streaks of wildness by two opposing pitchers, Rochester returned its Prep "B" League record to .500 by defeating Columbus 10-5 at McCann Field.

Mike Lalas picked up his second win of the season, holding the opposition to five scattered hits, as Rochester jumped off to an early 5-0 lead and was never headed. The team added a single run in the second inning and four more for the clincher in the fourth.

Mark Rothenberg led Rochester offensively with a key double to left field and three walks, and defensively with several sparkling plays at second base. Marc Greenberg continued his "hot streak" of getting on base, 14 for 15 in four games, with four more walks and added five stolen bases.

Also supplying key hits for Rochester were Ed Freiberg, Jeff Koenig and Peter Glassman, while Lalas chipped in with three walks and Ed Frayne added two more.

Stu Falber, Sam Shaver and Brian Gottlieb also contributed to the Rochester win.

Columbus hitters included Dubrow, Selyem, Silverman, Bathman and DeFusco.

Hire Architect For Police HQ

Livingston is embarking on a program to modernize the interior of the police headquarters building. On Monday evening, the Township Council approved a contract with architect Arthur Haas, to cover design and supervision services for the work.

Haas has been working with Richard P. Wells, Livingston engineering consultant, to design more modern and efficient layout of the headquarters' electronic console, which has grown vastly in the past 15 years. A complete new design is being evolved.

Increased security for headquarters and for the detention cells are among the plans. There will be no exterior structural changes in the building, but the interior will be considerably modified.

Manager Harp stated that $200,000 has been allocated for the work in the budget.

Conduct Tay-Sachs Prevention Day At YM-YWHA on Sunday, June 3

Lenore Dechtman of Livingston is co-chairwoman of a Tay-Sachs Prevention Day program on Sunday, June 3 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Northfield Avenue YM-YWHA. "We're asking people to do something for themselves — to take a simple blood test to determine whether or not they are carriers of Tay-Sachs disease. We want to educate people, to make them aware that the disease can be avoided," she said.

Tay-Sachs, an inherited fatal disorder caused by the absence of a vital enzyme, results in the destruction of the nervous system. Attacking seemingly normal children in the sixth month of life, it is most common in Jews of Eastern European descent, and it has been estimated that one in 30 Jews carries the gene. In order for the disease to be inherited, both parents must be carriers, and the chances of these "at risk" couples having a Tay-Sachs child is one in four with each pregnancy.

In cooperation with the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry, blood tests will be made available Sunday, June 3. The medical school technicians will do the blood tests. A contribution is being asked from each person to defray expenses of testing and technicians, but no one will be refused testing because of inability to make a contribution.

Other Livingston residents in addition to Dechtman assisting the testing program are Sandra Newman, co-chairwoman, Margie Karpas, coordinator of Medical Committee; Sara-Ann Sanders and Bonnie Shapiro, coordinators of organizations; Sandy Greenberg, Carole Hartman, Dr. Anatoly Hochstein, Norma Ginsberg, Lois Wilner, Dr. Jacob Rosenkrantz, Larry Press, Allyn Cooper, Louise Berliner, Pearl Lewis, Cynthia Plishtin, Sharon Seiden, Rita Katz, Ellen Weiner, Gloria Baruch, Janet Rosenblum, Sarah Doppelt, Sydell Shulman, Paulette Pines, Evelyn Meister, Ester Stein, Denna Oksenhorn, Mimi Hammer, Sylvia Thaler, Anita Hannoch, Phyllis Kalfus, Sylvia Silverberg, Elaine Truehaft, Janice Levine and Elaine Kadison.

Livingston State Bank Must Increase Capital

Definite orders to increase its capitalization either by merger or by getting new investors have been given to the Livingston State Bank by both the State Department of Banking and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Dominick Crincoli, executive vice-president of the bank, confirmed this report to the Tribune today. John Radli, chairman of the Board of Directors, had earlier confirmed it in the daily press. The state authorities stated they wanted capitalization of at least a million dollars more, while the FDIC, reportedly, had recommended 1.5 million.

Crincoli stated that the requirement for additional capitalization in no way meant that the bank was not solvent. Actually the bank has assets in excess of $16 million and is operating normally. The demand for more capitalization is an effort by authorities to provide a higher ratio of capital to total assets. Usually, state banks have between nine and ten per cent ratios. Currently, Livingston State's capitalization is less than a million.

The bank was chartered in 1974 with a capitalization of $1.5 million. However, they have been forced to write off $500,000 in bad commercial loans that had been made under the presidency of Robert K. Rockhill, the original president. Rockhill resigned in 1977 as a result of this, following a battle within the board of directors precipitated by Harry Augenblick and H. Charles Hess.

Stuart W. Anthony succeeded Rockhill briefly in this period, but resigned due to ill health. Augenblick and Hess later sold the bulk of their stock to other directors and stepped down from the board.

Dominick Crincoli, Livingston Councilman and former mayor (currently deputy mayor), came in as an executive vice-president, and more recently Charles Irish was brought in from the Chemical Bank of New York as chief executive officer.

Crincoli stated that the current board members are engaged in the effort to raise additional capital or, as the alternative, arrange for a merger with another institution. He could not state at this time what had transpired in these efforts.

He did assure the people of Livingston and the area that the bank was fully solvent and there was no danger of depositors losing their money. Business, he said, was going on as usual. All deposits, as was noted, are covered by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to a maximum of $40,000.

Buy Conveyor

On recommendation of Manager Harp the Township Council on Monday evening authorized the purchase of a portable conveyor for the sewage disposal plant. The contract was awarded to Conveyor Engineering Supplies Corp. of Clifton at a bid price of $3,100.

This was the lowest of three bids for the equipment. There had been considerable confusion at the preceding meeting when Zoubek Associates had bid $9,900 for supposedly the same equipment. Harp reported that the Zoubek conveyor was far heavier and more sophisticated than the specifications called for, and was much more than the Township wanted or needed.

The conveyor is used to convey filter cake from the filter to a dump truck, and a smaller conveyor is entirely adequate for that job.

Yankees 8, Tigers 6

After being held to just one hit and no runs for three innings the ShopRite Yankees exploded for eight runs on as many hits to defeat the Huffman Koos Tigers in a game shortened by rain. Mike Sorrintino came to bat in the fourth with a line drive homer over the right-center field fence. Billy Massa followed with a double, Andy Zeiger walked, and both scored on an error to tie the score. Steve Wright followed with a single to drive in Chris Jacksic with the go-ahead run.

The Yankees added four more when Brian Bushwell collected his second hit, Modugno followed with a walk, and both scored on Mike Sorrintino's second hit of the inning, a double to center. Billy Massa followed with a single to drive in Mike with the last run and Andy Zeiger added a single.

The Tigers scored one in the second when Mike Selyem was hit by a pitch and later scored. They added two in the third on singles by Mario Arace and Steve Meyerson and a walk to Danny Friedman. The Tigers fought back in the fourth with three runs on singles by Glenn Kopinsky and Steve Meyerson. Paul Modugno was the winning pitcher in relief of Gregg Saccone.

Yankees 3, Angels 1

The ShopRite Yankees scored two runs in the first inning on singles by Chris Peacock, Brian Bushwell, Alison Fordyce and Billy Massa to defeat the Knights of Columbus Angels. Two runs were all that Paul Modugno needed as he limited the Angels to one run on just two hits and eight strikeouts. Dave Froling scored in the first inning after drawing a walk. The Yankees scored an insurance run in the third inning on a walk to Sorrintino, a double by Alison Fordyce and a single by Steve Wright.

The game was marked by sparkling defense plays by both sides. Vinnie Salierno saved a run when he made a fine running catch of Paul Modugno's fly ball with men on second and third with two outs. Kathy Joyce made a fine shoestring catch, and collected the only two Angel hits. Yankee second baseman Chris made two fine plays on fly balls. Chris also started a double play after fielding a ground ball. Danny Richmand threw to first for the second out.

Indians 5, Tigers 0

Jeff Zenna and John Gieson together pitched a 5-0 shutout for the B.P.O. Elks Indians over the Huffman-Koos Tigers. They gave up three hits, four walks, and had eight K's. Kim Antonacci, who pitched well, had the A's lone hit and scored while Glen Shulmann played well defensively.

Red Sox 10, Brewers 6

The Kiwanis Red Sox defeated the Pro Shop Brewers 10-6 behind the fine pitching of Steven Bonn. The Sox erupted for six runs in the second inning with a five hit rally. To Give Program On Chautauqua

The public is invited to a free program on the Chautauqua Institution. The program will be presented in the lounge of the Federated Church of Livingston, at Livingston Center on Friday, June 1, at 8 p.m.

A sound motion picture will be presented, and Mr. and Mrs. William Klaber will give supplementary information on this special resort where music, art, education, and interdenominational religion are blended into an inexpensive summer resort with all athletic facilities and programs for children, teens, and college students as well as adults.

Chautauqua, founded over 100 years ago, is a fenced community with no auto traffic, featuring many outstanding speakers, its own symphony orchestra made up of members of most of the major orchestras in the nation. It has its own professional theater and opera company, the latter singing all operas in English. Affiliated with the Institution is an accredited college and university program where courses can be taken for academic credits.

Brass n' Glass Shatters U.A.C.

Brass n' Glass has won its first three games in the men's industrial softball league, sponsored by the Department of Recreation and Parks. Their first win was against U.A.C. by a romping 25-0 score, followed by a win over Orange Savings Bank 10-5 and then a win over J & S Tool, 25-0. Danny Hope and Bruce Lorenz have been the sparkling battery for Brass n' Glass' victories.

Defensively, the cousins trio of Joe Ferrigno, Rich Mauriello and Tommie Bowers were devastating in the infield and at the plate. Third baseman Dave Johnston and Saul Studen have been powerful both offensively and defensively. Jimmer Glynn, Ken Schaller and Dougie Bowers are the mainstay of the outfield, proving that defense is the key.

Nasguls Defeated Twice In Week

J. Hall and Sons pulled out an exciting 8-7 victory over Nasgul in the men's B softball league sponsored by the Department of Recreation and Parks. Behind 7-5 in the bottom half of the seventh inning with two outs, J. Hall singled to leftfield, Bob Silk singled, Jack Hall walked and Andy Hall doubled to drive in the winning runs for the victory.

The Nippon Hamfighters once again proved their unprecedented ability on and off the field, by outplaying their opponents 14-8. The unsurpassed abilities of Mike Fox, Tim Sexton, and Hondo were matched by magnificent fielding through the efforts of Evan Gavarter, Gene McElroy, Scott Davis, the dynamic duo of Herschel and Marks, and the whimsical Theo. This stupendous record of 3-0 could not have been accomplished without the great pitching efforts of Tommy John Matts and Scott Weiss.

Racquetball Tourney Aids LYSB

Racquetball's recent popularity among both youth and adults has prompted the Livingston Youth Service Bureau to stage a tournament to be held at the Livingston Racquetball and Health Club on June 1, 2 and 3.

Ken Alexander, LYSB counselor, said, "The tournament will provide a vehicle for adult and youth community members to participate together in a constructive activity and share a positive experience. In addition to counseling it offers many social and recreational activities such as coffeehouses and yoga, as well as rap groups, communication skills workshops and tutoring.

Divisions of play in the tournament will be open, novice, (less than one year experience), and student (under 18) for both men and women, with trophies and prizes awarded to winners and runners up. An entry fee will cover court costs and club facilities, and balls will be provided. Entry forms are available at the Livingston Racquetball and Health Club and at LYSB. Softball

On Monday the Heritage softball team erupted for six runs in the bottom of the first to notch their eighth victory of the season,9-5.

The star of the game was Ann Marie Cefelo with great fielding at third base and three for four at the plate with 3 R.B.I.'s! The entire Heritage defense was sound as usual, and the offense was able to bang-out 11 hits. Leading the scoring for the Eagles were Sandy Antonacci, Laura Stuart and Laurie Litvak each coming home twice.

The Eagle softball team lost their second game of the season to Lincoln of West Orange 14-10 last week. The Eagles were down 9-4 in the second but came back in the sixth to tie the score 10-10. However, a seventh inning rally did Heritage in with Lincoln scoring four to ice the victory. Cindy Schiafo played well and went three for four at the plate with a home run to left field. Ann Marie Cefelo had two hits and the following girls each scored twice; Kathy Joyce, Maureen Quinn and Maria Valenza.

The Heritage softball team squeaked out an 11-8 victory over Bloomfield North last week. The Eagles jumped out to a 10-0 lead sparked by aggressive bats. Computer Field Trip

All 32 students in Mr. Banagan's Introduction to Computers classes attended a field trip to Bell Laboratories in Whippany on May 17. The purpose of the trip was for the students to see the applications of computers in the business world.

The tour of the facility was conducted by two Bell Laboratory employees, D. S. Milne and Fred Picini, both Livingston residents. The students were shown the computer installation and the drafting section of the Whippany complex. Their questions showed a great transference of classroom instruction to practical applications. The trip arranged by Picini, whose daughter Mary Beth, is a student in the computer class.

To the Editor:

Important Program

Dear Mr. Klaber,

I hope that all Livingston parents and concerned citizens will take the time to attend the Livingston Home and School Association's program on drug education at Livingston High School on Tuesday evening, May 29, at 7:30 p.m.

This program will be very informative as to the types of situations that exist in Essex County and Livingston in particular. In what way are parents responsible? How to become more aware of the effects of pot smoking and pill taking on our young people. There will be a film entitled "What Did You Take?" and a question and answer period where parents can address questions to the people that know. Mr. Richard Roberts, assistant Essex County Prosecutor, and Detective Joseph Pariso, drug educator, will be speaking on this most relevant subject. The program should concern every citizen because the effects of drugs are far reaching.

Shapiro Talks on New Government At Chamber of Commerce Dinner

"Exciting things are happening in Essex County." This was the statement of County Executive Peter Shapiro in his speech at the dinner meeting of the Livingston Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Shapiro's speech was the major feature of a meeting which also saw three scholarships awarded, a new Miss Livingston Chamber of Commerce crowned, and special honors given to retiring postmaster Herbert Cohrs Jr. The Dapper Dans of Harmony provided entertainment as well.

In his talk, Shapiro stated that county government in New Jersey was traditionally weak from an administrative point of view, but strong politically. The county could accomplish little besides work for political ends. Prior to the charter change, Essex, he said, was run by a nine member committee known as the Board of Chosen Freeholders. They had the largest local government in the state, with the biggest budget, and the most employees. However, there was no chain of command, and there were many autonomous commissions and boards whose members had full power but were not elected. These included such bodies as the Welfare Board, the Park Commission, etc.

Centralization was needed, and has been achieved through the charter change. His biggest job, so far, has been the reorganization of the county and a study of county manpower. It became apparent at once that there was no uniform system of evaluation, no real salary schedule, and no consistent labor relations. All told, the county had in excess of 10,000 employees.

He said that he had to dismiss 100 employees early in the game because of budget shortfalls. Under present laws, he had to let the newest employees go first. There was no decent system of evaluation to determine who deserved to be retained.

He cited instances, such as the various security forces, where a dangerous condition of no-shows existed. He told of visiting one institution to check on the midnight shift. He watched for a period of time after 11:45 and saw nobody go in. He finally went in and found, to his amazement, that the whole crew had checked in at precisely the same time — 11:31. What's more, every evening they all checked in at precisely the same minute. The only catch was, he could not locate any of the security personnel on the job. Over half an hour later, the first person suddenly appeared, and he was out of uniform.

The county reorganization has taken 68 separate agencies and reorganized them into eight departments, all under central control. In the former system, 50 departments had run themselves. There was all sorts of waste.

Shapiro cited the problem of motor vehicles. When he was sworn in he asked how many cars were in the executive department. He was told that there were five, but only two could be located right away. The other three, it was finally learned, were being used privately by "friends" of top personnel. Only one car had oil in it. One car had been overhauled after 20,000 miles. Another with 40,000 miles had had to have three overhauls. There was no maintenance system. The county has between 800 and 900 motor vehicles. There are 90 different makes, and no consistent plan or facilities for maintenance.

He outlined the major departments under the new regime. The principal one will be Administration and Finance, which will be in charge of personnel and budget. Others will be the Departments of Law; Public Works, which will have jurisdiction of over 200 buildings where he forecast that a saving of $1 million could be made on the current $5 million energy bill; Environmental services controlling such things as toxic chemicals, the mosquito commission, etc.; Public Safety which would encompass all branches of county police, penitentiary guards, etc.; Parks and Recreational Affairs, which would also promote the arts; Citizens' Services, which would handle all social service programs, health and rehabilitation, the hospitals, etc.; and Economic Development, with which he hoped to attract good business and industry to relocate in Essex. Part of the latter would include an expanded CETA program to train people for new jobs. CETA, he said, had been taken away from Essex because of mismanagement, but now was restored once federal officials were assured of proper supervision.

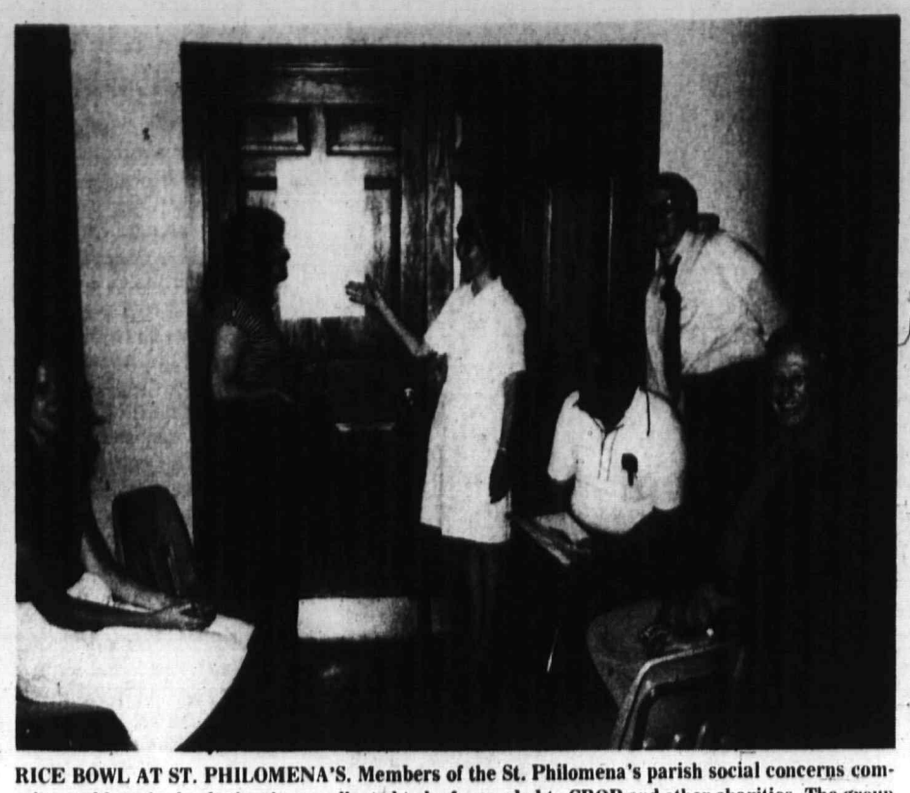

The whole program, he said, was a big job, but Essex's new administration can and will make it work.

In the ensuing question period he was asked how he justified eliminating a $30,000 County Treasurer (Samuel Angelo) and replacing him with two $36,000 employees. He replied that first of all it was one employee paid $39,500. This employee was the former assistant treasurer who actually had done all the work for many years while the County Treasurer was a political appointee that did little or nothing. Angelo, he said, had raised his own salary without authorization, and was dismissed for this reason. Rather than fill the post with another person, he elevated the assistant to the top post and eliminated the assistant's job. The former assistant was being paid a salary commensurate with his ability and service. Actually, the county was spending less money.

Learn of Drugs

Dear Bill,

The recent Essex County Grand Jury investigation of the drug problem in the Essex County schools substantiates the wide spread use and acceptance of marijuana among our youth.

Coupled with these findings, the latest medical research is proving that the use of marijuana is far more dangerous than previously thought. In fact, the latest statistics are positively frightening!

Now that the extent and dangers of drug abuse among our young people have been made evident to us, we can not just sit passively by and let it happen. We must start now to take the necessary actions that will help us to deal with this problem.

As a response to this need, there will be an adult education program, "Turn On To Drug Education" at Livingston High School, Tuesday evening, May 29, at 7:30 p.m.

The speakers for the evening will be Richard Roberts, Assistant Essex County Prosecutor and Detective Joseph Pariso from the Essex County Sheriff's Office. They will discuss the gravity of drug abuse among our youth, enlighten us as to the types of drugs being used and their effects and then give the audience an opportunity to ask questions.

We, as the adult community, must join together in admitting the problem, educating ourselves to all its aspects and thereby take the first step towards a solution.

We urge all adults in Livingston to participate in taking this first step toward finding a solution for this complex and frightening problem. "Turn on" to drug education -- May 29.

All About Drugs

Dear Mr. Klaber,

On Tuesday, May 29, at Livingston High School The Parent-Teacher Council is sponsoring a townwide drug education program for the parent's of Livingston. This program is being planned to help inform parents on the current status of drug use in our community and to answer questions they might have on drug abuse.

It is evident from newspaper headlines that drug abuse is a problem that has wide reaching effects. We of PT Council feel that every parent should become as informed as possible in this area. The schools have included drug education in their curriculum, but parents, too, play an important part in the education of their children. We urge all parents to take advantage of the program being offered on May 29, to make your feelings known to your children and to play a positive role in helping to combat this problem that is harming so many of our young people today.

Girls Track Team In Relay Meet

On Wednesday, May 16, the Livingston High School girls track team participated in the Iron division of the Iron Hills Conference and finished fifth.

The format for the relays stated that each girl could enter only one event. As a result everyone on the team was involved and each relay team from Livingston scored at least one point. The overall team effort was good enough to get fifth place which was only two points out of second.

On Tuesday, May 22, the girls lost to Millburn 76-42 in the final dual meet of the season.

The only winners were the mile relay team of Eileen Larney, Michelle James, Bonnie Sheitelman and Sue Brower, and Terri Levine who won the two mile after losing the mile run by 1/10 of a second.

The girls finished with a dual meet record of 2-8; finished eighth in the conference meet and fifth in the conference relays.

A few members of the team will be competing this weekend at the NJSIAA sectional championships and the Essex County Championship meet.

Lancer JV Lacrosse Team Lists 4 Victories, 1 Loss During Week

After a shaky start, the Lancers JV lacrosse team dominated the second half to defeat a strong Summit squad, 5-3. Summit opened the scoring at 1:25 as Wright scored on a fast break, but a minute and a half later, Mike Braun scored his first goal of the game to even the score. Summit took the lead again as Weisse scored at the 5:02 mark in the first period. Steven Bondy closed the first quarter scoring with an unassisted goal at 7:25.

The second quarter started off well for the Lancers as Tom Schwartz scored at 3:10, but poor positioning of the officials hurt the Lancers as Vags of Summit illegally kicked the ball into the net, as the refs were unable to see him score. The Green and Gold bounced right back as Mark Greenhall fired a 30-footer past the Summit goaltender at 5:50.

The second half was all Lancers as the defense was airtight and stifled the Summit attack. Led by Dave Pecora and John Imgrund, with Jim Murphy and Dave Rosenberg helping out, the defense played exceptionally well and held Summit scoreless. Midfielder Larry Gerson was sensational on clears, and he helped the JVs get out of a number of threatening situations.

At 4:14 of the fourth quarter, Mike Braun scored his second goal of the day, and goalie Chuck Jaffe protected the lead as the Lancers raised their record to 10-7.

West Essex

The JV lacrosse team was outstanding as it defeated the West Essex lacrosse club by a 3-0 score. Freshman Mark Greenhall led the Lancers with two unassisted goals, and Rich Jacobson iced the game with a beautiful goal on a feed from Jody Bergman. The Lancers controlled the game with hustle and determination. Mike Braun did a superlative job on the face-offs, while Tom Gruchacz, Tom Schwartz and Steve Bondy controlled the offense. Atilla Koch, Ken Wolfe, Brad Whitman and captain Mark Scheible led the Lancer fast break and excelled in the ground ball department.

The real strength for the Green and Gold came from the defense, however. Led by Wayne Delloso and John Imgrund, with support from Dave Pecora, Dave Rosenberg and Jim Murphy, the defense denied the Warriors the ball, and started many fast breaks. Goalie Chuck Jaffe played his best game of the season, and Keith Simons came in during the fourth quarter to preserve the JV's first shutout of the season.

North Hunterdon

Raising their record to eight and seven, the JVs defeated the North Hunterdon High School JVs 6-2. The Lancers dominated as Steve Bondy and Lonnie Schaeffer each pumped in two goals. Rich Jacobson tallied another goal and freshman Mark Greenhall scored one goal and one assist. Brad Whitman and Atilla Koch each had assists. Once again Bergman, Scheible, Wolfe and Stanley Weber, Bruce Behringer and Glen Cumisky controlled the game with their hustle and precise passing. John Imgrund, Dave Pecora and Dave Rosenberg were punishing on defense, and goalies Chuck Jaffe and Keith Simons surrendered one goal each, while they contributed with a number of saves. The Lancers continued to play their tough and aggressive ball as they try to surpass last year's JV record of ten wins.

Clifton

The Lancers faced a tough Clifton team, but the Green and Gold outclassed the red-clad visitors to come away with a 6-1 victory. After Clifton controlled the ball for the first few minutes, the Lancers broke loose for their first goal. Tom Schwartz creased the net at 4:04 of the first period. It took the Lancers until the second period to score again, but once the JVs did score, they were never headed.

Schwartz scored again from a beautiful pass from Greenhall at 1:08 in the second period, and Mark Scheible followed on a beautiful feed from Brad Whitman on a fast break clear at 2:54 — Greenhall from Bergman at 6:19 of the third period made it 4-0 Lancers, and Steven Bondy scored two unassisted goals at 6:44 and 7:36 of the third period to finish the Lancer scoring.

The defense, once again, collared its opponents as Imgrund, Pecora, Rosenberg and Jim Murphy all played an outstanding game. Jaffe in the nets played three shutout quarters and Keith Simons finished strong as the JVs assured themselves of a winning season.

Montclair

Last Sunday afternoon the Lancer junior varsity lacrosse team dropped an 11-4 decision to Montclair High School. Scoring for Livingston were Jody Bergman, Richard Jacobson, Tom Schwartz and Steve Bondy. This was the final game of the season, and the JV Lancers finished with a fine 10-8 record.

LHS Nine Routs East Side 16-1, Then Downs Union Farmers 4-1

The Livingston High School baseball team eliminated Newark East Side from the state tournament with a convincing 16-1 triumph at Livingston.

Scott Parsons, pitching for Livingston, turned in a strong performance in picking up his fourth win against one loss as he struck out five batters while walking one batter.

Livingston scored in the first inning as Troy Brydon singled, stole second and third and scored on Scott Parsons' infield single.

The Lancers made it 3-0 in the second inning as George Alpert and Greg Bushwell singled with both runners scoring as John Modugno's bunt single was thrown away allowing both runners to score.

East Side scored an unearned run in the fourth inning as undefeated pitcher Greg Selecky (6-0) reached second on a throwing error and scored on Joe Lamiera's single.

Livingston retaliated in the fifth inning as Bob Baker homered a deep centerfield to make the score 4-1.

In the sixth inning Gary Gill walked stole second and advanced to third as the throw went into center field and scored to the fifth run on John Modugno's single. Livingston could do no wrong in the top of the seventh as it scored 11 runs.

Chris Christie walked, Stan Yagiello singled, Troy Brydon walked, Bob Baker doubles in three runs, Scott Parsons singled, Gary Gill was safe at first on a fielder's choice, George Alpert's long fly to center drove in a run, Greg Bushwell singled, John Modugno was safe on a fielder's choice, Chris Christie hit a fly to deep center for the second out, Stan Yagiello walked, pinch hitter Bill Guiliano was hit by a pitch, Bob Baker hit his second double of the inning, Scott Parsons singled and pinch hitter Steve Litvak mercifully popped up to first to end the inning and the rout.

The Lancers improved the team record to 16 wins and five losses.

State Tournament

Livingston travelled to Union and engaged the Farmers in the second round of the state tournament winning 4-1.

Scott Parsons started for Livingston and was seeking his fifth win and turned in a very strong game as he pitched a three hitter, striking out five batters and walking two.

Union took an early lead as Don LaRusso walked, stole second and scored on Ron Peake's single to right center.

Livingston was hitless through the first three innings with Gary Gill getting the first Lancer hit in the fourth inning.

In the fifth inning John Modugno tripled to deep right center and scored on Mike Inga's ground out to first.

Livingston rallied in the bottom of the sixth for three runs as Troy Brydon led off the inning with a single to center. Bob Baker then unloaded a long double to dead center, scoring Brydon. Scott Parsons' single to center scored Baker. Gary Gill's infield single put runners on first and second. They were moved up a base on a successful bunt by George Alpert.

Greg Bushwell's ground ball up the middle was stopped on a nice play by Union short stop Wally Egnatuck which enabled pinch runner John Whelan running for Parsons to score the third run of the inning and post a 4-1 Livingston lead.

Parsons turned in a very strong seventh inning as fourth hitter Bob Haderer grounded to shortstop Stan Yagiello for the first out. He then struck out Alex Lucco and Dan LaRusso to end the ball game and imporve the Lancer record to 17 wins and five losses.

Schedule for the coming week: Thursday, press time, Roxbury; Friday, state tournament game Linden at Livingston 4 p.m.; Saturday, Great Newark tournament Livingston meets Caldwell at Verona High School 11 a.m.

Wazoolis Squash Keansburg Team; To Meet South Plainfield Sunday

The Livingston Wazoolis soccer team defeated the Keansburg Internationals 7-1 in a soccer match played in Old Bridge on May 20.

Lou Bucca, with two goals and one assist, and Gene Cifrodelli, with three goals and two assists, paced the high-scoring Livingston attack. The Wazoolis outshot Keansburg 42 to 6 in shots on goal.

Lou Bucca opened the scoring in the first half of the game on a pass from Steve Scardena. Rich Dempsey made it 2-0, assisted by his brother, Mike. The first half ended at 2-0 with Steve Hall, Dan Fisher and John Bailey turning in fine performances for Livingston.

Lou Bucca scored eight minutes into the second half, assisted by Gene Cifrodelli. Livingston's fourth goal came as Gene Cifrodelli found an opening in the Keansburg defense and scored, assisted by Mike Dempsey and Bob Forbes. Bill Cece took command in the midfield and found Cifrodelli, who scored again.

Cifrodelli scored his hat trick goal when Marty Hammer found Lou Bucca open on the left wing, and he crossed the ball to Cifrodelli. It was his second hat trick in a row.

Keansburg's lone score was by Jose Marina, on a rebound, and Steve Scardena closed the scoring for Livingston with only five seconds left in the game on assists from Cifrodelli and Dempsey.

Livingston is scheduled to meet South Plainfield at the Heritage Junior High School Field on Sunday, May 27, at 10 a.m.

Virtually all of the bowling leagues are winding up their activities for the season, and this week's column is the last regular installment until next September. Some of the leagues had games to make up because of bad weather last winter, and with those out of the way we're getting final standings from the last few holdouts.

The only new entries this week on the honor roll come from the Strikes and Spares Forever. Rose DeFeo had a 211 game, and Lucy Caballes was right behind with a 209 score. On the high series honor roll, Ellen Dorn added up a 521 total to qualify for honors.

There are no new entries at all on the men's side of the chart for this week.

Our annual hall of fame, listing the ten best bowlers in each of six different categories — three for the ladies and three for the men — will be published next week. We'll also have a comparison of how this year's record-setters made out in comparison with those from previous years.

Memorial Service

Dear Sir:

On Memorial Day, Monday, May 28th, at 9:30, Memorial Services will be held at Memorial Park to honor the men and women of all wars who gave their lives to free the world of tyranny and bring a lasting peace to the world.

The theme of our Memorial Day Services is "Because We Care." These services are dedicated to the thousands of men and women of all wars, who had such love for their country, that they gave their very lives to ensure the American way of life.

Their ages varied from teenagers who never really had a chance to know life, to men and women of all ages. But death does not have an age preference and they were all struck down in the fury of war. Some died in their first battle. Others fought battle after battle, month after month, suffering the terror and the hardships of war before they too were struck down.

We of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and veterans of other organizations who were in combat during the wars, were fortunate to have survived. We know that the years pass quickly and the public soon forgets the sacrifices these men and women made.

"Because we care," we have not forgotten them. They are very close to us. They are part of our thinking and actions. We feel that by their sacrifice they have molded the future of our great nation.

"Because we care," we are not going to let the future generations of Americans forget what they did to preserve the American way of life. We have conducted services for many years and will continue to do so as long as a member survives.

We care, because they gave their lives so that we, today, can live in a town like Livingston, free men and women, free to worship God in the church or Synagogue of our choice. Free to speak out, and live wherever we wish without the fear of the sound of gun butts or fists pounding on the doors during the night or day. Free from oppression.

Now we ask you to care. We ask you, as you leave the park Monday to take a good look at the Memorial monument, deciated to these men and women who made the Supreme Sacrifice, and in the future when you pass it, reminisce for a moment. Tell your children what it really stands for. Not just an ornament, but a symbol of the 633,000 crosses on the graves of American servicemen and women who were killed and lie buried all over the world.

Please care and attend these services to these heroic men and women on Monday morning at 9:30 at Memorial Field.

Assembly Candidate Jim Bildner Opens Full-Time Campaign Office

Jim Bildner, the Democratic nominee for state Assembly in the 25th Legislative District, has begun his 1979 general assembly campaign. Bildner had early been endorsed by the Essex County Democratic Organization, the Wayne Democratic Club, and the Passaic County Democratic Party. He is unopposed in the June 5 primary.

In announcing his campaign kick-off, Bildner said, "For too long, the constituents of the 25th legislative district have been ignored by their representatives in Trenton. My candidacy will show the people of the 25th district just how much a legislator can do for them when his only commitment is to representing them and making their views known in Trenton. During the next six months, I plan on walking the entire legislative district, some 90 square miles, to better learn what is on the minds of the voters. Only in this way will I truly be able to represent their interests in Trenton," he said.

"I want to represent all the residents of the 25th district — Democrats, Republicans, and Independents," Bildner said. "This is not a question of partisan politics, it's simply a question of giving the voters what they pay for — effective and responsive representation," he continued.

"I intend to serve in the Assembly as a full-time legislator and staff and maintain a full-time district office whose sole purpose is to provide constituent services," Bildner said. Bildner has already opened a full-time campaign office on West Northfield Road in Livingston, and plans on opening a field office in Wayne later this summer.

"Neither of our present incumbents have a full-time legislative office available to the public. To fill this void, I've asked my campaign staff to help any constituent who calls in with a problem as an interim step until the November 6 election," Bildner said.

When asked what his number one legislative priority was, Bildner commented, "Streamlining our bloated state government is my first priority. We need to cut out waste, make state programs more cost-effective, and utilize sound business principles in implementing legislation when it is needed. Again, this is not a political issue — it's just simple logic."

Bildner is a graduate of Newark Academy, Dartmouth College and Case Western Reserve Law School. He has served as an assistant to former senator Walter F. Mondale, senator Howard M. Metzenbaum and New Jersey secretary of state Donald Lan. He now serves as staff director and legislative counsel to the New Jersey Privacy Commission — a commission charged with safeguarding the basic privacy rights of citizens. Bildner also serves on the Millburn Township Rent Board and the New Jersey Committee on the Humanities.

The 25th legislative district includes Millburn, Short Hills, Maplewood, Livingston, North and West Caldwell, Roseland and Fairfield in Essex County; Lincoln Park and Pequannock in Morris County; and Wayne in Passaic County.

Methodist Sale To Raise Roof

The Livingston United Methodist Church plans to hold a trash and treasure sale on Saturday, June 2 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Proceeds will go toward the cost of a new roof for the church building. Anyone wishing to support the sale may make donations, large or small, with the exception of appliances. Items may be left at the church or they will be picked up. Call 992-4530 for a pick-up. Anyone wishing to rent a table may do so for a nominal fee by calling 992-6760.

Also planned for the sale is a bake goods booth and snack stand which will benefit the Youth Fellowship trip to Appalachia in June.

6 Months Jail For Shoplifter

A Newark resident, Lethaniel Pringle, was ordered jailed for six months following an appearance in Livingston Municipal Court on Thursday, May 17. Pringle had been charged with shoplifting by security officer Larry Evangelista of Bamberger's store at the Livingston Mall on May 15.

In court Pringle pleaded guilty before Judge Martin J. Brenner. He was sentenced to six months at the Essex County Correction Center in North Caldwell.

Mayor Reports On Gross Receipts Tax

Mayor John Grady, at Monday evening's Township Council meeting reported that he and other mayors of the area had joined in a campaign to retain the present way of handling gross receipts and franchise taxes from public utilities. At the present time these taxes are apportioned to communities of handling gross receipts and franchise taxes from public utilities. At the present time these taxes are apportioned to communities of the state depending on the value of utility installations within the community.

Grady stated that Governor Byrne, in his state of the state message at the start of the year, had indicated that he favored having these taxes utilized for state, rather than municipal, purposes.

The mayor's committee, under the leadership of Mayor Kramer of Paterson, feels that these taxes should be considered purely local taxes, and not even be figured under state aid. They are campaigning that there be no change made in this system.

Favors Night Tennis

Appearing before the Township Council Monday evening, Richard Gartenberg of Orchard Lane registered his approval of the proposal to equip at least some of Livingston's tennis courts for night tennis. Involved would be the installation of special lighting for the courts.

Gartenberg felt that it could be financed by adding a special fee to the license cards of people wanting to play after dark. He also felt that many of Livingston's businesses would be willing to underwrite part of the installation course. Gartenberg is president of Berkeley Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Howard Savings Bank Opens New Center

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies were held recently at the Howard Savings Bank's new Operations Center on South Orange Avenue in Livingston. Mayor John Grady and representatives of the Township of Livingston joined Howard president Murray Forbes, members of the board of trustees and others who were involved in the design and construction of the building.

The 130,000 square foot contemporary structure, located on a 72 acre site between Eisenhower Parkway and Passaic Avenue, opposite the Livingston Mall, was designed by the Grad Partnership of Newark and built by William Blanchard and Company.

The new building will house the bank's central computer system along with several computer-dependent departments. The Howard's Trust Department is relocating from West Orange, and a new full service banking office with four drive-in lanes will soon be opening at the center.

The Livingston building will house about 300 of the bank's over 1,000 employees.

Howard services are now supported by four separate computers. The new center will enable the bank to consolidate and upgrade its computer operations with an efficient duplex system which will service a network of 35 banking offices, some 500,000 savings accounts, over 100,000 checking accounts, 42,000 mortgages, and 12,000 Dial 'N Pay accounts. Computer operations also provide support for the Howard's Trust Department and several other bank departments.

One example of improved customer service as a result of the expanded facilities at the new Livingston office would be realized by the Mortgage Servicing Department, which recently converted to a fully automated system of handling its over 42,000 accounts. The millions of legal documents and active correspondence in their files have been placed on microfilm with immediate access through a high speed retrieval system. In addition, a new on-line mortgage system which utilizes the bank's computer can provide immediate up-to-the-minute information regarding the mortgage balance, monthly billing, tax and insurance status of every account.

The Howard, chartered in 1857, now has over $2.5 billion in assets, and ranks as New Jersey's biggest bank and the eighth largest savings bank in the country.

Mets 7, Cards 2

The Orange Savings Mets got back on the winning track as they defeated the Rotary Club Cards 7-2 behind Neil Cohen's four-hitter.

The Mets took an early 3-0 lead in the first when Cohen walked, Glen Holiday singled and Tony Samms slammed a three-run homer over the fence in right center.

The Cards narrowed the gap to 3-2 in the second when Jeff Budd reached first on an error and scored ahead of Marty Durkin, who lined a homer over the fence in left. Chris Judge then doubled but was left stranded. There was no further scoring until the fifth, when the Mets scored two more runs behind line singles by Jeff Blum and Eddie Sullivan, both of whom scampered home ahead of Holliday's second hit of the game, a screaming double. The Mets scored the final two runs of the game in the sixth when Samms tripled down the leftfield line, Dave Beck singled and came around to score when Jerry Petruzzi lined a double over the rightfielder's oustretched glove.

Scott Testa pitched well for the Cards, utilizing his speed and excellent control striking out eight Mets. Cardinal defensive standouts were Brian Walden in left, Robert Marshall at third, Judge at first, and Steve Meranus at second. Testa and Budd picked up singles in the third.

The Met defense was led by Samms behind the plate, Petruzzi at first, Chris Del Plato and David Beck at second, Cohen the pitcher, and Holliday in center.

Cards 10, Giants 2

A grandslam homerun by Bob Fusari in the fourth inning broke open a 3-2 ball game and the Rotary Cardinals went on to defeat the Kiwanis Club Giants.

The Cardinals had a big day at the plate as they collected 10 base hits; Scott Howland belted a triple and a single and Steve Meranus added two singles. The other Cardinals who stroked base hits were Scott Testa, Jeff Budd, Bill Judge, Mike Gianella, Scott Howland and Bruce Titan.

Scott Testa went the distance for the Cards and allowed four base hits: two singles by Moranz and one each by Grum and Abramson.

Cards 10, Braves 2

The Rotary Club Cardinals extended their winning streak to four as they defeated the Lions Club Braves.

Jeff Budd hurled a three-hitter for the Cards, yielding two singles to Franzblau and one to Bennett.

The Cardinals were led offensively by Scott Testa with three singles and Tim Dillon with a single and three RBI's. Cardinals Brian Waldon and Tony Georges also connected for singles.

The Cards played a great defensive game with Tim Dillon making two running catches in right and Scott Testa turning in some nifty plays at short.

Western League

Chiefs 9, Bears 1

Led by the outstanding pitching efforts of Lee Trachtman and Andy Goldstein, the Degnan Realty Chiefs played their best game of the season to defeat the tough Bears 9-1. After a scoreless first inning, the Chiefs exploded for five runs in the second inning behind the two-base hits of Jeff Pzena and Joe Santo and singles by Trachtman and John Santoro. Trachtman also showed heads-up base running by scoring from second on a wild pitch. Other runs were scored by Kirk Cerkanowicz and Matt Siegel.

After the Bears scored one run in the second inning, led by the single of Paul Mandell who had one of the two Bear hits of the day, the Chiefs put the game away with two runs in each of the fourth and fifth innings. Pzena added a second double and a single and Santoro added a double. Also hitting for the Chiefs were Matt Siegel and Jeff Sonnabend.

The Chiefs were aided by the heads up play of Anthony Lauro. Despite the hitting, it was the Chief defense that rose to the occasion. Outstanding efforts were turned in by Jeremy Siegel, Dave Gralnick, Steve Ludwig, Joe Mesquita, Santo and Cerkanowicz in the infield and as usual, Santoro behind the plate. For the Bears, Mark Lapides had the other Bear single, and made the play of the game with a diving backhand catch of a base hit bid. Also excelling for the Bear defense were Mitch Robinson and Larry Jay in the outfield and Mark Aronson behind home.

Royals 3, Bisons 2

Undefeated in seven straight games, the Royals came from behind in the sixth inning to score two runs and defeat the Bisons. Ricky Wilson went all the way in a pitchers' duel with Bob McAnally to post his fourth win of the season. Each pitcher had nine strikeouts.

After four scoreless innings, the Royals broke the ice on a hard smash by Steve Schoenbach to score Chip Meyers. The Bisons returned in the bottom of the fifth to take the lead 2-1 as the Royals' defense let down. The top of the sixth inning saw the Royals rise to the occasion. Richie Slater led off with a walk, followed by Steve Gross who was safe on an error. Bobby Linzer promptly belted his third single to score two runs and give the Royals the lead. Ricky Wilson set the Bisons down in order in the bottom of the sixth and struck out the last two batters to preserve the win for the Royals.

Bisons 10, Bears 6

The Wigder Chevrolet Bisons gained their first victory with a 10-6 win over the Bears, sponsored by Montclair Seafood. Jeff Kagan, who had 11 strikeouts in his previous start, pitched a no-hitter for the Bisons, yielding nine walks and four bases on errors. Jeff helped his own cause by getting two singles, a walk, and a sacrifice in four trips to the plate.

The Bisons jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first inning on a single by Mike Lanoff who had two hits, scored three times, and demonstrated nimble base running; and a single by Ray Spiaggia. They added four more runs in the third, as Jeff Bloom doubled and shortstop Jerry Freda scored his second run. The Bisons' leading batter, Robert Siegel, drove in a solo run in the fourth with a single. The winners got two insurance runs in the fifth when catcher Bob McAnally singled and scored on a single by second baseman Glen Lansky.

Maury Beck went the distance on the mound for the Bears and got six strikeouts. The Bears scattered six runs as Joe Hutter, Marc Aronson, Bob Matthews, Alan Altman, Eric Marques and Larry Jay all scored.

International League

Hawks 20, Seals 5

The Naporano Iron and Metal Hawks maintained their hold on first place with their fifth victory in a row, a 20-5 contest with the Test Rite Optician Seals. Brad Leff pitched three innings of outstanding baseball to boost his record to 5-0. Brad was supported on the mound by Leslie Cooper, who came on to pitch and was particularly effective with her change-up. In hitting, the Hawks were led by Greg Gordon, who tallied five RBI's on the day. Greg also had a strong defensive day, making several excellent throws from the outfield to cut down Seal runners and two key putouts at second base. A key single by Brian Wixon with the bases loaded in the second inning was also important in the early going for the Hawks.

Defensively, the Hawks played their usual tight game. Mike Buonapane was excellent behind the plate. Mike had been brought to the Hawks just before game time and moved up two divisions from the Jet team in the Cardinal chain in order to fill a vacancy on the Hawks. Mike was especially important in the victory as Alan "Thurman" Walkow, the Hawks' starting catcher, could not make the game.

In their losing effort, the Seals' Nancy Tarutz pitched very well in the early going before tiring; and Mark Jarman showed why, as lead-off batter, he is becoming known as the Mickie Rivers of the league. Mark always seems to make contact with the ball at the plate and is a threat whenever he gets on the bases.

Rams 8, Seals 7

The Test Rite Opticians Seals jumped off to a 7-3 lead, but the Jay's Shoe Box Rams, behind the steady pitching of Harris Goldblatt and key defensive plays by David Cooperberg, David Feldman, Keith Spitz, Steve Riback, Ron Spiaggia, Harris Goldblatt and Terry Zuckerman allowed only one runner to reach base in the final three innings.

Heads-up running by Gregg Badiskanian resulted in the winning run. Steve Riback had three hits. Other hits for the Rams were made by Terry Zuckerman (a triple), Keith Spitz, David Cooperberg, David Feldman, Matt Dermer and Harris Goldblatt.

The Seals got a good pitching effort from Bobby Belcoure and key defensive plays from Bobby Myrhe, Billy McMurry and David Arenberg. Jarmon and Peter Karpas had two hits each, including a double by Peter Karpas. Billy McMurry had a double and Bobby Myrhe and Peter Lucania also had hits for the Seals.

Colts 12, Hawks 5

In the first inning, Goldberg doubled and scored on an RBI single by Walker. The Colts took the lead, scoring three runs in their half with singles by Bernstein, Miller and Weichert. Darren Cooney then slammed the door by pitching two scoreless innings, with excellent fielding by Sheryl Bernstein providing four putouts and a heads-up play by Billy Friedman at short to cut down a runner at third.

In the bottom of the third, the Colts broke the game wide open with a five hit, seven run attack provided by doubles from LeFrancis, Nittoli and Bernstein (her third hit) and singles by Weichert (his second) and Schaeffer. The Hawks scored four runs in the fifth with singles by Goldberg (his second), Walker (his second), Leff, Turner and Eison, to put the score at Colts 10 and Hawks 5.

The Colts scored their final two runs with singles by Friedman, Pignato and Battito. Fine defensive help was also contributed throughout the game by Pace, Hebel, Tiffany, Weichert behind the plate, and Battito and Schaeffer sharing the duties at first base.

To the Editor:

Useful Meeting

Dear Mr. Klaber:

I attended the New Jersey School Boards Association's Legislative Conference on May 19, representing Livingston as well as the other nine school systems in the 25th legislative district. At that time, I had an opportunity to meet with key legislators, and I would like to share some of the knowledge I gained from them.

Student Violence: I am pleased to report that S-1455, Senator Lipman's bill mandating the expulsion of any student accused of assaulting a teacher, will probably be acceptably amended. No one, of course, wishes to dilute the strong diciplinary measure for those who deserve it. But severe punishment, based merely on an accusation of assault, can be irresponsible. Unfortunately, several school systems in this state have had a sad history of misidentifying students in violent situations.

Ted Reid, NJSBA's Deputy Executive Director said, "You would not believe the battles we have had in our attempts even to add the four words 'consistent with due process' to this bill. However, the sponsor has apparently agreed at last."

Panel Discussion: I participated in a panel discussion with four members of the Assembly Appropriations Committee. It was a candid exchange of ideas. I expressed discontent over fuzzy, inconsistent, and unreliable state budgetary information. In particular, the deficit-that-wasn't-a-deficit of late 1978, and the surplus-that-wasn't-a-surplus of today.

The legislators recounted their personal frustrations in obtaining accurate financial data. "Board members don't rubber stamp the recommendations of their staffs; why do you?" I asked. "We are not as knowledgeable as board members," one legislator admitted.

Declining Enrollment and School Staffs: John V. Johnson addressed the board members. He is the personable chairman of the state's Commission to Study Teacher Preparation. He is also the only one of its 13 members whom I would identify as being from the public at large; the group is stacked with employees' representatives.

Reverend Johnson renewed the Commission's recommendations concerning certification, licensure, and tenure which have already appeared in print. He then outlined as-yet-unpublished recommendations for employees whose positions are being eliminated because of declining enrollment: they include the requirement that the school system retrain, in another subject area, any "riffed" staff member, for a year, at local expense, before employment could be terminated.

So far the Commission has refused to hear public comment on this subject. "It's too late; we're too near completion," said Reverend Johnson. But he did make a commitment to invite testimony from local boards of education at a later date, although he considered board members a special interest group.

I thanked Reverend Johnson for the invitation. But I also commented that this was the first time I had ever been referred to as a member of a special interest group; that I regarded myself as a member and representative of the general public; that his Commission appeared to have limited perspective. "You've given me an education; I've got your message," he finally conceded.

Respect for Legislators: The give-and-take I have described was typical of the entire day's activities. I enjoyed participating, and came away from the conference with a greater respect for the many legislators who have a sincere desire to listen to and serve their constituents.

Hoppings Blot Out Sunshine Boys

Hoppings jumped to an early six run lead in the first inning on their way to a 10-4 win over Sunshine Boys in the men's A softball league sponsored by the Department of Recreation and Parks. Hoppings added four more later in the game, while holding the Sunshine Boys to a total of four funs. Leading the attack for Hoppings was Jim Durkin who had a perfect day, going four for four which included a homer. Also aiding the winning cause were Williamson who had three hits and Egidio and Scheskowsky who had two hits apiece.

In other action Hoppings took a 34-2 win over Glen Erin in a game where they could do no wrong, and Glen Erin got no breaks. Hoppings scored in five of seven innings. Their biggest inning was the third when they batted 17 men, scored 14 runs and had eight hits including four home runs. Leading Hopping's was Alfano with a perfect day six for six with two homeruns. Monghan also had a perfect day with five for five with two homeruns. John Durkin had five hits, Osborne had four hits as did Scheskowsky, which included two home runs. Jim Durkin added three hits, Egidion had two hits and Galante had two homers to round out Hopping's hitting barrage.

WALL TO WALL CHILDREN — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Wilson at 17 Orchard Lane was invaded by 30 5th grade students armed with sleeping bags and cameras Thursday evening, May 17. Wilson's son, Ronald, teaches this class at Lyme Central School, Chaumont, New York, near the Canadian border. He and several advisors brought the class 325 miles to visit the Museum of Natural History and take a sight-seeing tour of New York City. The youngsters raised the money for the bus by book sales and a contest. They arrived at 8:30 p.m. Thursday and after a snack of juice and cookies, were bedded down in every room in the house, from wall to wall. After an early breakfast Friday morning, eaten in shifts, and a soccer game on the front lawn, the bus arrived at 8:30 a.m. and off they went. This was the second time in three years that the Wilson home has been occupied by a visiting group of fifth graders from school and according to Mrs. Wilson, "We can't wait until next year."

Rec Department Reorganizes Fall Soccer League Schedule

The newly formed Livingston Soccer Club and the Department of Recreation and Parks of Livingston are attempting to reorganize the Livingston soccer program, beginning with the 1979 fall soccer program.

Livingston youngsters who wish to participate in youth soccer will have four levels of inter-town competition from which to choose. Three separate traveling teams will be formed to participate in the North Jersey Soccer League: a 3-4 grade team; a 5-6 grade team and a 7-8 grade team. Youngsters interested in this program must try out and be selected by a committee of coaches. Dates and tryout locations will be available at registration.

Those who are not selected for the North Jersey Soccer League teams will be able to also try out for the suburban soccer league, which also plays an inter-town schedule and is available for youngsters in grades 5-8.

Those children who do not want inter-town competition, or whose level of skill is not yet up to inter-town competition will be able to enter the A League or B League. B League will be made up of children in grades three and four and will play an in-town schedule of games. A League will be made up of children in grades five, six, seven, eight and will also play an in-town schedule of games. The emphasis in these two leagues will be to teach the fundamentals and concepts of soccer under properly supervised adult supervision. Each team will have an adult coach and a sponsor who will supply uniforms for the team.

To implement this program the Livingston Soccer Club is in need of adult help to coach or supervise these teams. Prior experience in not necessary as a clinic will be given for those interested in volunteering in the program.

The soccer registration for this entire program will be Saturday, June 2, and Saturday, June 9, at Monmouth Court Community Center from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. There will be a registration fee for this program.

Following is a list of the Livingston soccer program for the fall season:

North Jersey Soccer League, Grades 7-8, inter-town; North Jersey Soccer League, Grades 5-6, inter-town; North Jersey Soccer League, Grades 3-4, inter-town; Suburban League, Grades 5-8, inter-town; A League, Grades 5, 6, 7, 8, in-town; B League, Grades 3-4, in-town.

This program will replace the boys after school program which is held in Septembr. A reminder is made that all interested soccer players who anticipate playing soccer in the fall must pre-register on June 2 or June 9, at the Monmouth Court Community Center.

A Vital Program

Dear Mr. Klaber,

On Tuesday, May 29, at 7:30 p.m. a program of vital importance will be held at Livingston High School. This program, sponsored by the town-wide family living/drug abuse curriculum committee and supported by P.T. Council, is being presented as a means of educating the parents of Livingston about drug abuse in Essex County and our town.

The speakers are knowledgeable and the topic is of utmost concern to us all. The evening should prove interesting as well as informative. This is a subject that we cannot know too much about.

Other programs concerning issues involving our youth will be presented in the future if the attendance proves that parents do care enough to stand up and be counted.

We urge all concerned citizens to attend the May 29 Parent Education meeting!

A Jew for Jesus

Dear Editor:

This 'confession' is made not so much in reprisal to the article "Jews for Jesus" by Mr. Neil E. Parks (May 17), as it is for the edification of interested readers.

I am a Christian — a Jewish Christian in fact. This claim is made without either pride or shame, it is simply true. I was born to Jewish parents, raised in a Jewish home and received a Jewish Sunday and Hebrew school education as a child. It is also true that with the onset of adolescence I was overcome by a rebellious spirit which prevailed against my religious heritage (not to mention my parents, teachers and authority in general). Eventually however, a search for authentic values and a meaningful life led me to the study of philosophy which in turn led me to the New Testament. It was through Jesus (Hebrew: Yeshua) that I rediscovered my own roots, as well as the roots of the Christian faith.

It has been said that 'The New Testament is concealed in the Old Testament, the Old Testament is revealed in the New Testament.' I believe wholeheartedly that this is true — that Judaism and Christianity are mutually inclusive. God's Bible has been written but history (His-story) has yet to end. The final form of His Chosen People remains to be seen.

Now, as to the non-existence of Jewish Evangelists, please consider Matthew, Mark, Luke and John for starters.

Sisterhood Fetes Phyllis Shrenker

The Sisterhood of the Synagogue of the Suburban Torah Center will honor its retiring president, Phyllis Shrenker, on Wednesday evening, May 30, at the Synagogue. Dinner will begin at 7 p.m. and will be followed by the discharging of the current officers and the installation of the new officers for the year 1979-1980.

Mrs. Shrenker has been a member of the Sisterhood and Synagogue since shortly after its inception in 1969. She served as committee chairman and vice president before becoming president. In 1977 she was named "Woman of the Year" by the Congregation and was honored at the annual dinner of the Synagogue. Mrs. Shrenker will be installed as past president of the Sisterhood.

Musical selections, written and sung by past president, Miriam Greenberg, and piano renditions by Phyllis Weinstein, professional pianist, will be part of the program. For reservations call Miriam Adelsberg at 992-0498.

To the Editor:

Not Too Fancy

Dear Editor,

As the director of the local recreation committee for the Livingston League of Women Voters, I would like to correct a misconception created by your editorial of May 17. In the editorial, you indicated that one of the major recommendations of the recreation committee of the League was that an elaborate indoor ice skating rink be built. This is not true. Our major recommendations were as follows; 1. the development of Northland park into a multi-use park containing a creative playground and a passive recreation area, 2. the township should try to create, on an experimental basis, an artificial outdoor ice skating rink, and 3. that sanitary facilities and emergency telephones be available at developed park sites.

In the article we submitted to the paper, we had written a single sentence about an outdoor skating rink as noted above. The entire following section of the paragraph dealing with other interested parent groups and the indoor rink was inserted by your staff during their rewrite of the article. The local recreation committee of the league in its research looked into inexpensive artificially created outdoor rinks such as using a polyurethane cover over tennis courts or parking lots. We realize that there are pros and cons to this method. I have enclosed a copy of our original article so you can see the difference between our wording and those that appeared in the newspaper.

Since your editorial about the League and the ice rink occupied the entire editorial section, I hope that my letter will be placed in an equally prominent place in the paper.

* The house pictured above was charged $55 for 1 insecticide spraying. This price was based on the number of trees, their size, location and accessibility. Some houses will price out higher, some lower.

Insecticide Spray

Insecticides such as Sevin and Malathion have become essential in effectively controlling insects which attack trees and shrubs. Nature is not able to keep all destructive insects in check. These are short residual insecticides, therefore, it is recommended to have two sprayings within an eight week period. A spreader-sticker is used at all times to help our chemicals adhere.

Collins Girls Take Softball Lead

Collins started off its softball season with two wins, one against Burnet Hill and another over Mt. Pleasant in the after school girls softball league sponsored by the Department of Recreation and Parks. In their game against Burnet Hill, Cindy Theel pitched a fine game and made some fine fielding plays along with hitting a triple for Collins win. Kim Wassner at short right field, also helped the winning cause, as did Robin Shavel, Peri Zipper, Jessica Browner, Susan Welber and Karen Verderone, for a final winning score of 26-12.

Cindy Theel once again was the bright spot for Collins' 12-9 win over Mt. Pleasant with some fine pitching and also contributing three hits. Exceptional in the field for the winners were Peri Zipper and Kim Wassner. Donna and Carolyn Jeskey along with Deana Doring, Jennifer Bodin, Lesie Ditta, Liz McKay and Michelle Halperin also helped Collins in the win over Mt. Pleasant.

OPERATION DOGWOOD was conducted by Brownies of Hillside Troop 457 to raise money for a dogwood tree to be presented to the town. The project, in which the Brownies worked for the funds, was so successful that they bought two dogwoods, one for their school and another for the library. At planting ceremonies at the library are, in front row, Jane Naidoff, Stephanie Sloan, Shannon Ochs, Kim Barra, Lauren Bailyn, Ann Manicone, and Emily Whitehead. In second row: Emily Lyons, Jennifer Goodman, Joanne Kilelles, Chris Wanat, Jenny Cassese, Susan Hoffman, Tracy Howard and Janet Casey. Third row: Stacy Gann, Erica Valentine, Shannon Willis, Shannon Woodeschick, Dawn Kopinsky, Cara Heiber, Joy Motoyka and Karen Nave. Leaders at rear are Pat Nave and Dolly Hoffman.

Livingston's Municipal Tax Rate Lowest In County; Total Taxes Below Median

Comparative tax costs of the 22 municipaliites in Essex County were released this week. Livingston residents will be interested to know that the Township had the lowest local tax in the county, no matter how you figure it.

The figures issued by the Essex County Board of Taxation show that the tax for local purposes per $100 valuation in Livingston came to 21 cents. The only community even close to this figure was the Township of Fairfield, which had a rate of 25 cents. Rates went as high as $4.80 per hundred for municipal costs in the city of Orange.

Of course, in all tax computations, the rate itself means nothing. The actual tax cost is the rate times the assessment ratio. The assessment ratio is the relationship between the amount assessed by the community and the true value of the property as is determined by the Essex County Tax Board by comparing sales price to assessments. Livingston's ratio, the Tax Board says, is 94.78 per cent this year. It is on this figure that Livingston's share of the Essex County taxes is based. If this ratio is reflected on the cost for municipal operations, it works out that Livingston's true tax cost for local operations is just a minute fraction under 20 cents per hundred.

The municipal operations represent only one factor — and the smallest at that — of the local tax rate. The biggest portion of the local rate goes for school costs, which come to 1.75 per hundred dollar assessment, or just under $1.66 of actual value. The county tax rate is 1.46 of assessment or $1.38 of true value.

To figure school costs against property values, of course, is a bit misleading, since there can be little correlation between the number of students in the school system and the total property value. County figures would indicate that Millburn, with a rate of $1.27 for schools was by far the lowest in this category, with Fairfield a close second at $1.30. The highest school cost per $100 assessed value was Glen Ridge at $4.02. (Against true value, this dropped to $2.54, which was apparently still tops in the county.)

In total tax rate, composed of all factors, the lowest for assessed values was Fairfield with $3.02. Fairfield was also the lowest with rate adjusted to true value, having a figure of $2.94. Millburn was second in both ways of figuring with rates of $3.12 and $2.98. Next came Cedar Grove with $3.12 and $2.99. Because of services rendered to the Essex County Hospital in Cedar Grove, that community gets a 50 per cent reduction in its county taxes.

Essex Fells has a visible tax rate of $4.03, but because of a low assessment ratio, their rate against true value is fourth lowest with $3.15. Livingston is fifth lowest with a rate of $3.42, which adjusts to $3.24 against true value.

The honor of having the highest rate against assessments in the county goes to Orange with $9.71. This adjusts to $6.69 against true value, which is second high against true value. East Orange, with an assessed rate of $8.12 ends up with a rate of $7.24 against true value.

Montclair had the honor of having the highest point increase this year, rising 55 points to a rate against assessments of $6.26. Their rate against value is $5.00.

Orange was one of three communities to drop its rate. They dropped six points to hit the $9.71 figure. South Orange dropped four points to $5.57, and East Orange dropped two points to $8.12.

Irvington rose five points to $6.84 against assessments, and Millburn rose ten points. Caldwell, Livingston, Roseland, and West Caldwell all rose 11 points.

Film to Advise On Child Rearing

Because of its concern about the Christian home and its importance in the formative years of a child's life, West Essex Baptist Church, 222 Laurel Avenue, is going to show the Narramore Christian Foundation film, "As the Twig is Bent" on Sunday, May 27, at 7 p.m.

In this 52-minute film, Dr. Clyde M. Narramore, Christian psychologist, presents ten principles that enable a person to be well adjusted.

At the conclusion of the film, evaluation forms will be distributed on which those attending may rate themselves to determine how well they are meeting these principles.

Parents will be able to consider the extent to which they are following the principles in the training of their children. Others may score their form on the basis of their own childhood experiences.

The public is welcome to attend.

17 Livingstonites To Be Confirmed

Seventeen Livingston young people will be among the members of this year's confirmation class at Congregation B'nai Jeshurun. A special confirmation service will be held at the temple, Thursday evening, May 31, at 8 p.m. in their honor.

"Life is Sacred," an original confirmation cantata, will be presented by the class. The confirmands will conduct the entire service which was written especially for them by Rabbi Ely E. Pilchik and Rabbi Barry Hewitt Greene. Original music for this event was written by Cantor Norman Summers. Mrs. Herbert Steier and Rabbi Harry Manhoff have assisted at the rehearsals for confirmation.

The service will deal with the questions of life and living. The confirmands will present views of God as a source of life and will trace the theme from Genesis through the Talmud to current days.

The confirmands will conclude their service with an affirmation of what they have learned by presenting this study of life and its essence. The affirmation will be presented in prayer, poetry and music.

This confirmation service occurs on the Shavuot Eve holiday, one of the ancient Jewish festivals. In the spirit of Shavuot, the Confirmation Class will enter the Sanctuary carring the scroll of the Torah and bouquets of flowers.

Among the confirmands are the following Livingston residents: Lauren Sue Beck, Shari I. Berke, David Scott Bernstein, Douglas A. Burns, Denise Anne Cohen, Jeffrey H. Cohen, Dale S. Dworsky, Eric Neal Gardner, Lellie M. Hollander, Alison Jane Lasher, Richard A. Newman, Erica R. Ritzer, Bonnie Sheitelman, Douglas A. Sherman, Jodie Leigh Silverman, Karen M. Slutsker and Fern B. Solan.

A special Kiddush, sponsored by the Women's Association in honor of the graduates, will be held following the Shavuot worship.

To the Editor:

Don't Penalize

Dear Bill:

As a former resident of Livingston and still closely following its affairs, as reported in your paper, I wish to express an opinion on the letter written by Harriet Kirschner, President of the League of Women Voters of Livingston.

While I agree with her that the price of oil should be decontrolled, it does not necessarily follow that, at the same time, profits which may result should be taken away from the oil companies to aid the poor and to support development of solar and wind power.

These objectives may be desirable, but I find the implication is that the profits of the oil companies will be blown up out of all proportion. It may not be common knowledge that during the past decade both automobile and steel companies have been more profitable, based on capital invested, than oil companies. Improved profits for one quarter are hardly a basis for taking what seems to be a condemnatory attitude toward the oil companies.

If we wish to aid the poor in their transportation costs or support solar and wind power, perhaps we should all be permitted to participate through the general tax rate rather than taking it out of the hides of the oil companies.

Annual yields are effective when principal and interest are left on deposit for a full year.

FirstRate Savings Certificates
FirstRate Six Month Savings Certificates pay you an interest rate equal to the discount rate paid on U.S. Treasury Bills in effect at the time you purchase the certificate. (The effective annual yield on actual U.S. Treasury Bills is slightly higher.) With a minimum investment of $10,000 you earn a high rate of interest over a six-month period. Then you may renew your certificate (again at the prevailing six-month Treasury Bill rate) or withdraw your money without any penalty.*

Regular Passbook Savings
First National State's Regular Passbook Savings pays 5% annual interest which is compounded and credited quarterly on balances of $25 or more.

Five Star Passbook*
This hard-working savings account pays 5½% annual interest from day of deposit and is compounded quarterly. (90 day notice of withdrawal is required.) A minimum deposit of $500 is required to open the account and additional deposits of $50 or more may be made at any time.

With these eight great ways to save, First National State is sure to be the One for your money.

*Federal law and regulation prohibit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity unless three months of the interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the current passbook rate. Federal regulations prohibit compounding of interest on First Rate Certificates.

GIFTS FOR THE MUSEUM were taken by a group of students from Harrison School earlier this month to the Newark Fire Museum. Livingston Fire Chief Charles Schilling gave the children several items relating to the local Fire Department to be contributed to the museum. Among the gifts were those displayed here by John Bottorff, whose brother is a Livingston fireman, and Linda Hefter and Louis Del Tufo whose fathers are Livingston firemen.

Comments
From the State Assembly
by Assemblyman Frederic Remington

In legal proceedings, great care is exercised to insure that the rights of the accused are not abrogated and that anyone brought before the bar of justice will be guaranteed that the judicial system and society will apply the most stringent safeguards to protect constitutional and statutory rights.

While this concept is desireable and one which should be maintained as an integral part of our system of jurisprudence, it has been severely tested as a result of its colliding with another and equally desireable constitutional guarantee, the right to a free and unfettered press.

More and more, it seems, the rights of a defendant have been weighed against the right of the public to be informed of the facts and issues involving that defendant.

In one of the most celebrated such cases in many years in New Jersey, a New York City newspaper reporter was sentenced to jail, a sentence eventually upheld by the New Jersey Supreme Court, for his refusal to turn over to the defense his notes on a case involving a physician charged with homicide.

Later, the United States Supreme Court upheld the right of law enforcement agencies to obtain a warrant to search newspaper offices and files and seize potential evidence. And, in the most recent development, the U.S. Supreme Court held that a reporter or editor could be required to submit to questioning concerning his state of mind during discussions on whether or not to publish a news item.

The imprisonment of the reporter and the two court rulings were immediately attacked as undermining the constitutional guarantee of a free press and as an undersireable and potentially dangerous chipping away at a very basic, centuries-old freedom.

New Jersey has had for a number of years a so-called "shield" law for members of the news media, a protection against being forced to disclose confidential sources of information. In the case of the reporter who was jailed, the court ruled that when the shield law conflicts with a defendant's right to a fair trial, the right of the defendant takes precedence.

Legislative efforts have been launched to clear out this constitutional thicket, and a proposal is now ready for action by the Assembly to limit the circumstances under which a judge can order a reporter to disclose information. The legislation contains guidelines suggested by the Supreme Court during the controversy over the murder trial resulting in the jailing of a reporter.

A second proposal is awaiting committee action and it would ban police or law enforcement agency searches of newsrooms. This bill is being held until the state attorney general submits recommendations and suggestions for changes in it.

It is an extraordinarily difficult task to draft legislation which could be applied uniformly in all cases and to cover all possible situations.

When the freedom-indeed, life-of an individual is at stake, he must be accorded every possible opportunity to prove his innocence even if it means seeking permission from the court to obtain a reporters' notes if those documents are vital and relevant to his defense.

At the same time, great care must be taken to avoid indiscrimate rummaging through reporters' notes or undertaking a fishing expedition, with court sanction, to obtain confidential information which will have no bearing on the outcome of a court case.

Moreover, I personally find a search of newsrooms and the seizure of documents to be a very real threat to press freedom. The potential for abuse is great, indeed, and permitting files, notes, news articles, photographs and other material to be carted off at random strikes at the very heart of the constitutional guarantee.

I feel that the news media is fully capable of policing itself without the need for undue outside influence from legislative bodies.

The only area open to question is that involving the rights of a defendant when a conflict arises with the right to a free press. And, when those instances do occur, responsible actions by both parties will result in a settlement in the best interests of all concerned.

BUDDY POPPY WEEK will be observed in Livingston from May 21-28. Members of the VFW and their Auxiliary will be selling Buddy Poppies, made by disabled veterans, to help finance the VFW aid to veterans program. Mayor John Grady is pictured buying the first poppy from Tuti Phelan, Miss Buddy Poppy of 1979, as her father, Commander George Phelan of Corporal Arthur E. Smith Post 2856 looks on.

Stern Protege Coming to YMHA

Violinist Shlomo Mintz, the 21 year old protege of Isaac Stern, will be performing with violist Sasha Mishnaevski, and cellist Paul Tobias at the YM-YWHA of Metropolitan New Jersey, 760 Northfield Avenue, West Orange, on Sunday, June 3, at 3 p.m.

The Sunday afternoon performance of "Shlomo Mintz and Friends" will include "Duo 2 for Violin and Viola" (Mozart); "Passacaglia for Violin, Viola and Cello" (Handel-Halvorsen), and "Serenade 5 Opus 8" (Beethoven).

Mintz, who is a Russian-born Israeli, studied with Ilona Feher, teacher of Itzak Perlman and Pinchas Zuckerman. His radio and television performances in his native country, many heard throughout Europe, and his performances with every major musical body in Israel, have won him a huge following.

Zubin Mehta chose him as a replacement for Itzak Perlman in a performance of the Paganini D-Major Concerto with the Israel Philharmonic, on which occasion he astounded audience and critics with his amazing technique and tone.

Mintz has performed with Antal Dorati and the National Symphony Orchestra, and has appeared with the Berlin Philharmonic, the Vienna Symphony conducted by Carlo Maria Guilini, the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra and the Montreal Symphony, in addition to his recital activities in both America and Europe.

Board Approves Kitchen Addition

In a brief action on Thursday night, May 17, the Zoning Board of Adjustment approved a variance needed to allow the construction of an addition on the home of Douglas P. Jacobs at 30 Springbrook Road. The project had been described in detail at the April meeting, and consists of a 12 by 12 foot kitchen addition at the rear of the house.

The original motion of approval cited the growth of Jacobs' family as one of the reasons for needing the addition. At the suggestion of Board member Alan Davenport, this reference was removed: he said that he did not consider a growing family to be a hardship in the context of land use legislation. With that change, the approval motion was passed unanimously by the Board.

Seventh Grade Dance

On Friday evening, May 11, from 7:30 until 10 p.m. the seventh grade class at Mount Pleasant Junior High School held a grade level dance in the school cafeteria. Those attending danced to the music of "High Tide," a local rock group. Even the teachers joined in the fun as numerous students tried valiantly to teach them to dance "the rock."

The first highlight of the evening was a presentation of a birthday cake and the singing of "Happy Birthday" to the grade level counselor Raymond DeMail.

The second memorable event was Amy Rhone's rendition of "Don't Cry Out Loud."

Arrangements for this affair were made by Mrs. Carol Dailey, seventh grade advisor, and her cadre of willing workers.

Arts Festival

On Wednesday, May 16, Mount Pleasant Junior High School held its annual Arts Festival from 7:30 to 10:15 p.m. Those attending had an opportunity to view displays of student craftsmen in our Art, Home Economics and Industrial Arts Departments.

This year the Art Department provided an opportunity for all visitors to observe art in action in the school lobby. Students demonstrated the use of the potter's wheel, hand building clay pots, lettering and painting. In addition conetic movement was dramatically demonstrated by means of a light show. A taped student TV production was demonstrated on a monitor. A large variety of two and three dimensional art works was also on display. Contemporary recorded music helped create a festive mood for this display. The art exposition was under the direction of staff members Anthony Daleo and James Smith.

A major emphasis of the home economics presentation was projects completed by our seventh grade co-educational home economics students. Numerous displays depicted many facets of the home economics program. The home economics displays were arranged by teachers Barbara Goldman and Helen Whitman.

The industrial arts exhibits, which were arranged by teachers Thomas Ruegg and David Nielsen, displayed a wide variety of projects from the school's wood and metal shops.

Many comments were made about the design and fine workmanship displayed in all exhibitions.

The performing arts were represented by the schools vocal and instrumental music departments.

In the vocal portion of the program, directed by Anita C. Spyros, the seventh grade chorus performed "I Feel the Earth Move," "We've Only Just Begun" and "Sinner Man." They were accompained by Carmina Pascual on the piano. The select chorus, Notations, performed Gershwin's "Summertime," "Music," and Glen Miller's "In the Mood" accompained by Jodi Maltzman on the piano, Jack Kurtz on percussion and Daniel Zuker on bass. The Sextet, six ninth grade girls, performed "When I Meet My Man" and "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy,"

The eigth and ninth grade chorus, accompained by Mrs. Spyros on the piano, performed a 1950's Medley featuring soloists Jacqueline Veit, Ila Gura, Lisa Zimmer, LuAnn Ambrosino, Renee Kasdan, Alison Zadroga, Faith Smith, Bobbie Nusbaum, David Fabisch, Jennifer Parlin, Lauri Clare, Diana Geller and Sharyn Lerner. The school dance group, Footnotes, featuring Donna Rizzo, Tina Egnezzo, Lisa Zimmer, Donna Pecora, Bobbi Nusbaum and Stephanie Zimmer, performed several dances to a number of tunes included in the medley.

The Chorus Award for 1979 was presented to LuAnn Ambrosino, a ninth grade student.

The instrumental portion of this program was directed by George M. Kempfe. The eighth and ninth grade concert band performed "The Blue and the Grey" by Grundman, "Toccata for Band" by Erickson, "Instant Concert" by Walters and the "March for Tomorrow" by Holcombe and Nowak. The band was conducted by Kempfe's intern, Sandy Pozorski.

The Mount Pleasant Stage Band under the baton of Kempfe performed "Peaches" by Higgins, "Just the Way You Are" by Pemberton featuring soloist Larry Friedman and "Easin" by Field.

Softball

The Mount Pleasant Junior High softball team did not play one of its better games on Wednesday, May 16, but they did play well enough in pressure situations to defeat North Junior High by a score of 9-8 in nine innings. Cheryl Slotnick paced the offense with three hits, including a three run triple in the sixth and the game-winning single in the ninth.

Heads-up base running of Helene Freda and Ellie Kosson in the bottom of the seventh allowed the Mounties to tie the score and send the game into extra innings. Robin Sidoti picked up her second win with four strong innings of relief, including four strike-outs. The Mounties' record now stands at 4-3.

Baseball

Mt. Pleasant's baseball team evened its record at 4-4 Friday, May 11 by white-washing Nutley 8-0. Dave Schneider season. He struck out seven the first Mountie shutout this season. He strick out seven batters and allowed just two hits. Tom Sharkey continued his hot hitting, collecting two hits and driving in two runs. Andy Soskin's two run double and Danny Casiero's two hits and one RBI also aided the Mountie cause.

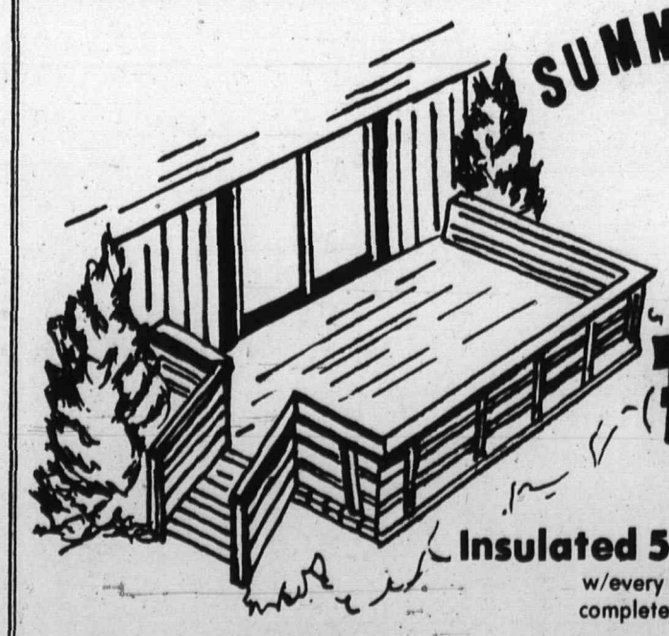

On Tuesday, May 15, the baseball team won its third straight game, edging South Junior High 3-1. The Mounties increased their record to 5-4. Skip Heymann pitched five super innings and picked up his first victory. Tom Sharkey continued his clutch hitting, driving in the Mounties first run while Marc Leen collected two hits.

On Thursday, May 17, the Mt. Pleasant baseball team won its fourth straight game, edging North Junior High 7-6. Mountie hitting stars included Skip Heymann with two doubles, Tom D'Alonzo two hits and two RBI's, Danny Casiero two hits and Andy Soskin three RBI's. Dave Schneider pitched four innings to earn his second victory with help from Dennis Prenderghast and the "Stopper" Tom D'Alonzo. The Mounties' season record stands at 6-4.

Use your phone to pay your phone bill

—and most other bills, too!

That's right. With Dial 'N Pay® at the Howard, you can pay New Jersey Bell Telephone and most of your regular bills with a toll-free phone call from anywhere in New Jersey. You save time and aggravation—even money, since each bill you pay with Dial 'N Pay costs only 10¢ instead of the 15¢ you now spend on a postage stamp to mail your check.

With Dial 'N Pay, you simply telephone your payment instructions instead of writing them out on a check. Your bills are still sent to you, of course, and you control how much you want to pay and when.

Dial 'N Pay has other advantages, too. You can keep most of your money in a 5¼% regular savings account earning interest until you decide to spend it. Then, a call to Dial 'N Pay transfers whatever you need to your Scotfree checking account so you can pay bills by phone, or even write checks, if you prefer.

There are some requirements, of course. You'll need a 5¼% regular savings account and a Scotfree checking account at the Howard—but there's no minimum balance required for either. Then, just sign up and list the merchants you'll want to pay through Dial 'N Pay. There's no cost until you use Dial 'N Pay, and then it's only 10¢ per transaction.

Sound terrific? Then stop by any Howard office for all the details!
