COLUMBIA HIGH SCHOOL
SOUTH ORANGE and MAPLE WOOD
NEW JERSEY

We, the graduating class of 1950, proudly dedicate our school yearbook, the Mirror, to our parents. We wish them to know that throughout our high school days we found our parents to be wise and willing counselors, always guiding us towards higher ideals. They realized from their own experiences that the only road to success in life is paved with an educational background, and so they gave us all the benefits of education. Parents are storehouses of information too. Whenever we desired the solution of a problem or merely a suggestion for a theme, Mother or Dad usually had the answer. On many occasions it was their keen understanding which helped us to overcome a troublesome situation. Sure, there were times when we disagreed with the views of our parents, but more often than not, we found that their good sense turned out to be the wiser policy. As we look back over our high school days, we should certainly be grateful for parents who said a firm "no" once in a while.

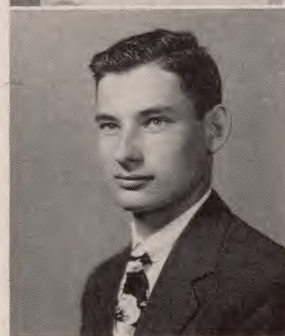

All of these acts, large and small, contributed to our success and happiness in Columbia High School. Therefore, we wish to express now to each parent our appreciation for helpful guidance in our school career. With the mental and physical attributes which they have given us, we, the seniors of 1950, are ready to step on further into life.

SENIOR HISTORY

For us, the members of the Senior class of 1950, the last three years have been eventful and exciting. No other triennium in the history of the world has been as important or vital. Like young people everywhere, we Seniors have taken an ever-increasing interest in world affairs and are assuming greater responsibilities in our community.

Because modern Columbians have become so responsive to the world about us, striking parallels can be drawn between our activities and the world in which we live.

We particularly remember the national elections of the last two years. These elections not only gave us the Democrats again; they aroused a greater interest in politics than America has ever known before. This interest was manifested in the zealous school campaigns waged by our class for Council offices. No class in Columbia's history ever equalled the heated frenzy in a school election which we showed last year. Certainly there have been no more spectacular campaigns.

Our contribution to the school political scene has not been merely an enthusiasm at election time. When the Council permitted all students to apply for membership on its committees this year, school government received an injection of vitality. This action, which was sponsored by members of our class, gave many students their first opportunity to directly participate in Council activities.

But the last three years in the history of the United States and the history of Columbia High School have not only produced progress in the field of politics and government, but also during our years here, television, bebop, and L.P. records have all come to the fore. More people are enjoying professional entertainment than ever before, through the new media of our age.

The stage still flourishes, however, and our efforts in histrionics are particularly noteworthy. We presented one of the most original Junior Nights in memory. Off the Orbit had a novel plot and all varieties of music. The songs ranged in style from "On a Star" to "The Robot Song."

Our Senior play, The Bat, was a who-dunnit which evoked chilled spines and nervous shrieks from its audiences. A melodrama which was selected by the class over The Late Christopher Bean. The Bat won deserved credit from those who saw it.

We will never forget some of the thrilling athletic contests in which our class participated. Coach Hoffman came to Columbia when we were Sophomores. He was brought us football teams which have been interesting to watch, through victories and defeats.

Perhaps the most thrilling game was the last one which our class will ever see as Columbians. The 7-6 victory over West Orange's rugged Cowboys climaxed an exciting season and was especially gratifying because of the history of our Thanksgiving Day rivalry.

The other varsity teams had better than average success. In the past three years, the basketball, tennis, swimming, and track teams have been consistently good. One of the most exciting days in Columbia's athletic history was the day of our annexation of the New Jersey Swimming Championship last year.

Last year two new clubs were founded here at school, largely through the efforts of members of our class. The Intercultural Club and the Future Teachers of America are organizations which are indicative of the spirit of our class—a spirit of tolerance and belief in the American way of life, of willingness to serve our country and our community.

We have listed thus far, the contributions of the class of 1950 to Columbia High School. But the real contributions of a class are not found in the clubs it organizes, the games it wins, or the shows it produces, for it remains to be seen what kind of world we will help to build.

We have made many accomplishments here. But we have gained far more than we have given. We will look back with pride at our high school years and the things we have done, but we shall be even prouder to have been graduated from Columbia High School.

May the School be always proud of us!

"THE BAT"

An air of gloom hangs heavily over the old house. The wind outside howls through the twisting trees and whistles through cracks in the crumbling walls. A blinding rain dashes against the darkened windows, and flashes of lightning illuminate the deathly scene. From out of nowhere a blood-curdling scream pervades the silence; a murky, skeleton-like hand hurls a rock from out of the darkness; two agonized screams, a gunshot, the faint flapping of a bat's wings against a wall, and then, "Everyone on stage, please."

Okay, folks! You can come out from under your chairs, now. This isn't another crime wave. Just an exceptionally exciting rehearsal of "The Bat" which was presented by the graduating class of 1950, the evenings of November 18 and 19.

For many weeks rehearsals had been proceeding under the direction of Mr. Reed. Not only was this "chiller" one of the most exciting ever presented on Columbia's stage, but also the entire cast has loads of fun producing the show.

Props caused a slight disturbance one day when a member of the cast collided with the sharp edge of a butcher knife. From then on such implements were "handle with care" material.

One perturbing incident during a rehearsal was the loss of a member of the cast, namely, Ronnie Richman. When the time came for the Japanese butler to appear he was nowhere to be found. After a frantic search, a breathless butler ran to the door, tray in hand, exclaiming, "Was I on?" The entire cast took time out to laugh.

Except for a few accidents, rehearsals went along smoothly, and everyone spent long, hard hours perfecting the show. It's no wonder that with such cooperation, the play was a huge success.

SENIOR PROPHECY

On my way home this morning after breakfasting on Venus, I suddenly thought of my good old school days and my classmates. Jumping into my rocketship, I dashed to the visaphone and started phoning my old friends to find out what had become of them.

Remember Earleen Feldman? Earleen and her All-Girl Orchestra have been booked for 8 weeks solid at the Astor Roof. Earleen's vocalist, golden-voiced Sue Kirberger has been named the warbler of the century.

That smash new musical, Off the Planet, is starring none other than Carol Pierson. Carol's spectacular dancing has taken Broadway by storm. Carol says that she got her first break when that famous producer-director, Bob Ostrander, who remembered her from Columbia High Days, signed her up for one of his shows. Another highlight in the show is Ronnie Richman. Ronnie's imitations have netted him a movie contract to do the coveted Danny Kaye Story.

Jean Bohannon, one of the most eminent surgeons in this stratosphere is connected with the same hospital as Terry Schwab, who is a physical therapist. In the field of medicine, Dr. Ronald Carr and nurses Kathy Barton and Nancy Rowe have been working for months on the cure for nervous indigestion. The world is waiting with bated breath and Alka-Seltzer. Also furthering the cause of humanity are Carol Rettig and Arlene Mandelbaum. Both the girls are doing a wonderful job in social work.

Switching to the International News, Fred Reidenbach has just saved the nation from possible disaster. Fred's diplomacy in the South American crisis has earned him the post of Overseer of All Ambassadors. Fred says that without the assistance of his two able interpreters, Betty Fishbein and Billie Riemer, he would be lost.

Dick Huntington, our top-flight scientist, with John Kempson and Don Smith, those colossal engineers, after months of research in the Mercurian Asphalt Mines, report that they have found—Asphalt! Todd Grant, also an engineer, says that this startling revelation will help his company to make bigger and better highways for all supercharged autos. Alfred Sheldon, professor of math at Downsala College is working on a protractor to end all protractors. Professor Sheldon claims that when he is finished, this handy little gadget will have a mental eye which will record all answers. There is only one hitch; the high schools are already putting this in the same category as the pony and you know of course, that no one uses a pony. In the field of invention, Fred Hochgraf, has finally designed a painless drill. Lois Keenan, his able assistant, who is a fine dental technician in her own right, says that dentistry has been revolutionized.

Roger Stein has just been appointed head of the Security Council of the United Planets Organization. Roger's outstanding work with the delegate from Mars has made him the most important member of this great organization. Roger's debating powers are said to be his greatest asset. Working side by side with Roger is Maria MacCabe, the ex-Secretary of Peace. Maria, who is the first woman to have this job, gave up her important post to help Roger cope with the Martian Delegate.

I hear that Donald Brief, accountant, has just been asked to take care of the business from the Flying X, Pete Walowit's million dollar cattle ranch. Pete claims that he goes on all the round-ups to keep physically fit. Privately we heard he uses an electric horse.

SENIOR PROPHECY

In literature, Carol Wiener's new book has all the critics puzzled, but the public loves it. It's all in iambic pentameter. Carol says that ever since her studies in high school, she can think in nothing but blank verse. Herb Schwartz's newspaper is the most widely read paper in this hemisphere. Herb's star reporter, Joe Josephson has been writing a series of articles which are a must for every educated person—"A Cosmopolitan Speaks." Other outstanding reporters on Herb's paper are Muriel Huckman, the up and coming feature writer whose latest articles on Judy Bard, woman politician, are being discussed everywhere; and Bob Ingham, whose coverage of the interplanetary news is the most concise and broadsweeping commentary on the Earth today.

That new exhibit of paintings in the Museum of Modern Art is the work of none other than the famous artist, Jean Lewitt. Jean's style is being taught at all the accredited art schools these days. Speaking of art, Leila Deutsch has been contracted to do the covers for Whee, and she is using Berit Brager as her model.

Oliver "Leadfoot Lee" is burning up the Eastern circuit as a stock car driver, while Susan Black, spaceship hostess, is making life a little easier for all the airsick travelers on Jim Weaver's rocketship lines.

Getting back to the stage, if you happen to be in New York some weekned, be sure to take in the Copacabana's new show. All the music lovers are going mad over Sy Grossman and Walter Farrier's band. These two just decided to collaborate last month and the result has been sensational. With Dick Whitehead on the bass and Terry Beck as vocalist, this band deserves the name "Monarchs of Music."

Another must on your list of fine entertainment is the forthcoming concert by Jean Lomax and Ruth Gross at Carnegie Hall. These two are said to be the best duo-piano team in the world.

If you happen to be home one of these nights, tune in WJZ at 8 o'clock for Bernice Latimore's hilarious program. Her guest stars this week are to be that other zany comedian, Alan Wikman, Jr., and the mellow voiced sensation of the airwaves, Don Scott. During the day you'll hear Roy Scheider on any number of soap operas. Roy's voice is so versatile that he is not only Young Doctor Malone, but also Our Gal Sunday. The reason your radios these days are 100% static proof is because Jayne Gaines and the rest of her staff of radio technicians are right on the job.

On page eleven of the new Ladies Home Journal is a display of what every woman will be wearing this summer by the nation's top dress designers, Fern Kristeller and Sandy Gold. It is said that no well-dressed woman will leave her house without taking a look at what Fern and Sandy have to say about the new fashions. In this same issue is an article by the eminent writer Everett Felder. Everett has been giving advice to hopeful journalists in a series of two hundred articles on how to be a successful writer. Speaking of articles, the one about Ann MacCallum's reducing salon is remarkable. Ann still uses some of the exercises from her high school gym classes. I can see why she is having such good results. Models Carole Saslow, Ruth Adler, and Ingrid Mellgren swear by the MacCallum Success Course.

Some of my friends have just told me that Marcia Brown is teaching history at Smith. Marcia's students report that she has developed a painless teaching method which is unbeatable. The students may even proclaim a "Marcia Brown Day" because they are so pleased with it.

Esther Nellie Stomne and Rosalind Kopstein have opened up a joint school of arts with Esther teaching music and Rosie giving out with the dramatics. They are trying to get Ann Rose to go into partnership with them after she finishes her concert tour. Ann has made quite a name for herself by touring the country with her violin under the auspices of the Music Box Foundation.

Getting back to school, Shirley Pontz and Corinne Peters are teaching at the school named most progressive by Atomic Magazine this year, Columbia High School. And at South Hill is kindergarten teacher, Barbara Bach, who is coping with the little tots.

In the field of sports, it is rumored that Johnny Reynolds has just bought the Uranian Unicorns, who, as everyone knows, are at the bottom of the Interplanetary League. Johnny, who did wonders with the Columbia Cavemen, claims that he'll have this team in the World Series before he's finished. Jerry Sazio has just been named Mr. Football for the second time and Michael Loprete is acclaimed as the number one basketball expert.

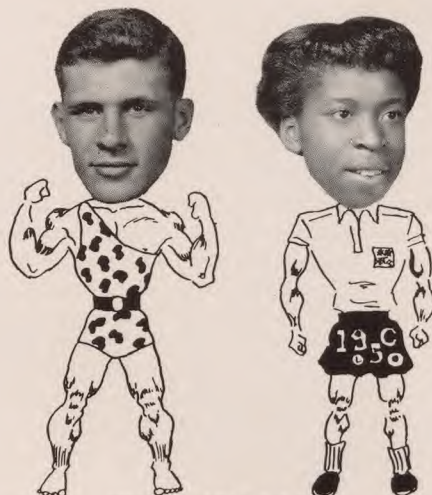

Making the headlines these days are Phil Pendleton and Dick Kelly. They have just finished swimming the Vesuvian Channel, Tandem Style. Not to be outdone by the men, Ruth Huber has been starring in the New Aquacade of 1956. People everywhere are trying to learn her new stroke, the Jupiterian Crawl.

I wish it were possible for me to tell you about all the others in the wondrous class of 1950. As time does not permit, I will only say that everyone I have spoken to remembers Columbia and the wonderful times had there. We did a lot of griping, but all in all, those were three swell years. And when I look back on all our class has done since those days I keep thinking of that line in our Alma Mater, "Oh Columbia thou hast taught us," and I get a nostalgic feeling for the "Good Old Days."

CLASS WILL

We, the graduating class of 1950, being of sound body and brilliant mind do hereby bequeath these our talents, ambition, and possessions to those we feel can best fill our places. Take good care of them, "li-ttle o-nes," because they are the last reminders of what will go down in Columbia's history as "pretty terrific" class.

The following is our last will and testament.

- Item I. I, Joan Thompson, bequeath my most engaging and winning smile to Lynn Sickley. May you always find the right times to use it.
- Item II. I, Berit Brager, leave my undying thirst for excitement and my ability for knowing everyone to Marilyn Weilert.
- Item III. I, Pete Walowit, leave my ability to liven up a Pep Assembly to Pete Dinkel. Be careful, Pete! Don't get in too much trouble.
- Item IV. We, Lois Dehls and Pat Hazeltine, the C. W.'s (College Widow) leave to any Junior, "Saturday Night Is The Loneliest Night In The Week" as their theme song.
- Item V. I, George Denardo, leave my discriminating eye for women to Chuck Van Orden.
- Item VI. I, Barbara Skiff, leave to Carol Clark, the ability to wear my "millions of clothes in just the right way."
- Item VII. We, Marcia Brown and Maria MacCabe, bequeath to Jane Hill our ability to serve efficiently on many varied clubs and committees.
- Item VIII. I, Roger Stein, leave to Bob Steiner the ability to leave the teachers without an answer as a result of my class adlibbing.
- Item IX. I, Hi Hi Plant, bequeath my petite pertness and lithe littleness to Meryl Schneider.
- Item X. We, Ronny Richman and Roy Scheider, leave Columbia knowing that we have thrilled our audiences with impersonations and our much used wigs.
- Item XI. I, Carol Pierson, bequeath by all-around popularity and graceful dancing to Penny Wood.
- Item XII. I, Oliver Lee, as president of the Student Council, leave my much envied and aspiring position to any Junior hopeful who thinks he can put on a "slam bang" campaign like mine.
- Item XIII. I, Fern Kristeller, leave my curly locks to Marty O'Dell, along with the ability to wash my hair and go out on a date an hour later.
- Item XIV. I, Jerry Sazio, leave to George Wallin that certain appeal that sweeps many vulnerable maidens off their feet.
- Item XV. We, Judy Weisman, Carol Saslow, and Nancy Greenberg, leave our oh-so lush modelish appearances to any Junior girls who know how to keep up with the latest fashions.
- Item XVI. I, Bob Ingham, leave to the editor of next year's Mirror the hope that he will have a Mirror staff that has many new ideas, especially for a theme.
- Item XVII. I, Sue Kirberger, leave to Beverly Oetjen, my weekend trips to Colgate. Don't you wish it was Co-ed?—But just for us!
- Item XVIII. We, Sy Grossman and Walt Farrier, leave Columbia with lingering Memories of the Starry Nights and their renditions of "Moonlight In Vermont." (Don't get too mad Sy and Walt when your band wants to "bop" everything.)
- Item XIX. I, Joan Sheckley, leave my vivaciousness on and off the stage to Norma Barnes. Be seeing you in lights!
- Item XX. I, Ann Rose, leave my bubbling-over enthusiasm for everything and lively peppiness to Gail Julian with the hope that you too may always laugh at everyone's jokes, whether they are funny or not.
- Item XXI. I, Jimmy Weaver, leave to Red Thornton, my angelic and innocent look. Is my appearance deceiving?
- Item XXII. I, Pat Carroll, leave my "peaches and cream" complexion and wide awake look to Carol Roworth.
- Item XXIII. I, Bob Ostrander, leave my artistic talents and creative abilities to any Junior who knows how to really make a Junior Night a success.
- Item XXIV. I, Ruth Huber, leave to any Junior the knowledge that five hour's practice every day may make you as good a swimmer as I am.
- Item XXV. I, Dick Huntington, leave my walking encyclopedia knowledge to Walt Van Dorn.
- Item XXVI. We, Gail Warden and Barbara Stober, leave our "come hither look" to Margie Holmes and Joan Walton. We wonder what it is like to sit home on a Saturday Night?
- Item XXVII. I, Allen MacWright, leave to Bob Heugle my half-wit, powerful personality, and my love for those cans of b - - r.
- Item XXVIII. We, Mary Brown and Vi Rahner, leave our loyalty and love for G.A.A. to Dolores Kilgus and Mitzi Schneider.
- Item XXIX. We, Mickey MacCoy and John Kempson, leave our peppy cheerleading and our "know how" in making the cheering section mighty spirited to Dave Mintz.
- Item XXX. We, Sue Shehadi and Doug Mansell, leave our between class rendezvous to Mary Catherine Oberrender and Bryon O'Hearn.
- Item XXXI. I, Ingrid Mellgren, bequeath the knack of leaving many males wondering how to "trap me" to Ella McDougall.
- Item XXXII. We, Johnny Reynolds and Mike Loprete, leave to Jack Bitting and Joe Burke the havoc caused to the opposing team by our devastating balls we sink on the basketball court.
- Item XXXIII. We, Earleen Feldman and Jo McLaughlin (Power's dream of tall, slender beauty) leave Columbia with those possessions which make all men look twice.
- Item XXXIV. I, Don Cooney as one confirmed bachelor to another, leave to Jack Coffin the ability to let the girls go by unnoticed as we focus our interests on higher planes.
- Item XXXV. I, Bernice Latimore, leave the walls of the gym locker room still quaking from the hilarious laughter caused by my crazy actions.
- Item XXXVI. I, Alan Wikman, leave my dramatic, deep voice, that would be a radio announcer's dream, to Danny Drees.
- Item XXXVII. I, Joan Ahlgren, leave to Ada Ball the football hero's schedule cards so that you too may get a glimpse of them when they pass in the halls.
- Item XXXVIII. I, Johnny Orsi, bequeath my ability to awe the underclassmen on the gridiron to Dave Sterling.
- Item XXXIX. We, Polly and Susan Black, leave our sisterly love and devotion to Barbara and Nancy Brandeis.
- Item XL. I, Herb Schwartz, as Editor of the Columbian, leave to next year's Editor my long hours spent trying to get bits of information to interest the students, so that they may spend a few moments trying to read it behind their Espanol and history books.
- Item XLI. I, Esther Stomne, leave to Gretchen Rommel my beautiful warbling from my nightingale voice.
- Item XLII. We, Phil Pendleton, Charlie Cox, and Dick Kelly, leave our masterful techniques at swimming the pool in two strokes to Malcolm Mackinnon and Walt Beck.
- Item XLIII. I, Frances Glass, bequeath my cuteness and sweet manner to Connie Tauck.
- Item XLIV. I, Ronny Carr, leave my knack for smooth dressing to any Junior who can fill my suits as well as I do.
- Item XLV. I, Joan Hull, (It's nothing) have decided not to leave my "Jet Gypsy" car—Sorry! It's easy to have one of your own, girls, just ask nicely for it.
- Item XLVI. I, Fred Reidenbach, leave my curly hair and dimples to Al Lauber.
- Item XLVII. I, Jean Main, appoint Lura Allen to carry my much used joke book. It's easy to slip it out of your pocketbook unnoticed.
- Item XLVIII. We, the Senior girls, leave to the Junior girls the first three rows of the Maplewood movies on Friday Night. Be sure you don't scream too loud!
- To Mr. Fleming—The girls swooning in the aisles from his crooning French songs d'amour.
- To Miss Nichols—A class that does all "Tip Top" work.
- To Mrs. Palminteri—A class in which all pupils can recite their resumen in perfect Espanol.
- To Mr. Shenton—A choir class that doesn't sit as though they were on a bench in the Gym Locker room.
- To Mr. White—A new set of cheerleaders' cards to shuffle at tryouts Monday afternoon.

Juniors' Stage "The Real McCoy"

"Flash! Straight from th' heart o' them thar mountins o' li'l ol' South Orange on March 17 and 18 came the musical extravaganza staged by the Junior Class, 'The Real McCoy.' Why, some folks your re-porter seen was so proud o' their chilluns, thet they near busted their hands with a clappin' an' applaudin'. An' land o' goshen! It ain't no wonder, cause we thet was thar, shure tipped our hats to a mighty fine cast and some right smart tunes!"

Thank you, Zeke! And I'm sure that those in the cast derived just as much pleasure from putting on the show as the audience did from watching it.

Early in the Fall, a group of "Busy Bees with Brainstorms" (alias the Pre-Junior Night Committee), gathered their ideas together, and, under the supervision of Miss Mary F. Clutton, came up with "The Real McCoy."

The budding genius' on the committee were: Nancy Mersfelder, chairman; Ann Besser, Edgar Champenois, Peter Dinkel, Sally Flagg, Lou Ann Grant, Ann Infanger, Lois Litzebauer, Barbara Mattison, David Mintz, Rheta Siegel, Don Smith, Connie Tauck, and Ann Williams.

Things started popping when Jimmy, (Edgar Champenois) an office boy in a baby sitting agency, is forced against his will to sit with the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Dennison (Don Mountford and Sandra Catalano). The maid Ingaborg, (Gretchen Rommel) disgusted with her lot, gives a beautiful rendition of Victor Herbert's "Ironing Song." Jimmy falls asleep while watching a television production of a dance from "Hansel and Gretel," sensitively performed by Ann Williams and Penny Wood.

As it happens, the "baby" is Miss Emmy Dennison, who has just won a prize on the "Bring 'em Back Alive" Television show, and whose task it is to bring back from Kentucky a "Real McCoy" of the Hatfield-McCoy feuding days. Nancy Mersfelder did a terrific job in the role of Emmy.

The next scene is set in Kentucky where the Hatfields and McCoys are busily engaged in the work they love best, "doin' nothin'." Becky McCoy presents her wish for someone "Diff'rent" in an original song by Rheta Siegel and David Mintz, while the men of the families in their own lazy way show us they've got "Lots of Time," also written by Dave and Rheta. Emmy induces Grampa McCoy (Joel Ulanet) to come with them, while Daisy Hatfield, (Winnie Keller) thrilled at the prospect of viewing the "Big City," and not a little charmed by Jimmy, makes the fourth member of the little party. A folk song, "Her Love Waits Forever," written by Ann Besser and sung by John Dorer, added to the picturesque quality of the scene.

Late that afternoon in the Valley High Hotel, we find Mr. Llewellyn Beebe (Peter Dinkel) in "quite a dither." Pete, who is quite a comedian off the stage, did a wonderful job as the suedo-sophisticated manager, with his customary comments of "simply yummy!" With a famous rajah expected any minute, his help leaves, Hildy, the maid (Sheila Schreck) singing her opinion of the management in "Valley High," music, of course, from that hit song of "South Pacific," and lyrics by David Mintz. Quite a mixup occurs when Grandpa McCoy is abducted by the envious Hatfields and Grandpa Hatfield put in his place. As entertainment for the Rajah "The Wayward Heart" written by Fred Brooks was sung by a boy's sextette, and that talented singer, June Bohannon gave the audience a real thrill by a magnificent rendition of "Maids of Cadiz" by Delibes.

Back in the television studio, T.V. announcer David Mintz does an entertaining parody on "Grand Opery," an original song by Robert Kurtz, and a group of "Flaming Youth," Sandra Hirsch, Camilla Chambers, Sonia Martin, Barbara O'Connor, Sue Simon, Joan Schwebemeyer and Barbara Matteson, wowed the audience with The Charleston.

Emmy succeeds in winning her prize when it is discovered that Jimmy is "The Real McCoy," and the entire company concludes gaily with "We're Off to Old Kentucky," "Lots of Time," "We're Goin' to Get Rich," and "The Real McCoy."

Laurels must certainly be given to Miss Mary F. Clutton and her Junior assistants who directed the show, and to all those committees that helped to put on the show.

I sincerely join with my pal Zeke, in saying, "Corn-gradulations" to "The Real McCoy."

FOOTBALL

Gems Begin '49 Season Upsetting Kards, 13-12

The initial game was a hard fought contest from beginning to end with Captain Jerry Sazio's placement proving to be the winning margin. George Wallin scored the first touchdown of the season and Johnny Orsi ploughed over for the second.

Plainfield Trips Cougars, 13-7

The Plainfield Cards, although outweighed, showed speed and aggressiveness to win a brutal contest. Vincent Nardone bowled over for our only marker in the second quarter with Sazio converting. Toward the end of the second half Columbia threatened to tie up the game but it was not successful.

Cougars Turned Back By Colonials, 15-6

Columbia held the strong Morristown aggregation to only two tallies; a feat many other Morristown opponents have failed to do. Most of the game was marked by a punting duel with the Cougars finally hitting paydirt on a Wallin to Stein pass.

Orange Triumphs Over Cougars, 30-7

The 50th engagement between the two schools turned into a romp for the visitors after fullback Wallin skirted the end for our lone tally.

Cougars Edged By Westfield, 14-13

A belated rally by the Big Red wasn't enough to win over this strong Westfield team. Both teams scored in the first quarter with fumbles setting up the touchdown. After End Dave Sterling fell on a fumble, John Orsi plunged over from the 1 yard line. George Wallin scored our second and last T.D. after a 73 yard drive.

Valiant Cougars Bow To Montclair, 39-7

In a dog and cat battle the courageous boys from Columbia lost out in the last quarter to go down to defeat at the hands of the favored Montclair boys. Our team made it a close contest for three fourths of the way with Jimmy Valestin's run accounting for the losers only marker.

Cougars Rout Zebras, 24-7

Ending a five game losing streak the Cougars finally found themselves and whipped the opponents with finesse. Jimmy Valestin roared through the line and scored from the 17 yard line. Orsi tallied the second marker and a Coffin to Sterling pass accounted for the third. Orsio wound up the scoring spree with a 26 yard dash into the end zone.

Gems Smear E. O., 13-0

An inspired Cougar team scored twice, after the half, to down their strong Panther rivals. The first score was set up on runs by Zinckgraf, Wallin, and Nardone with Quarterback Coffin finally sneaking over. After an 80 yard march, Wallin took the ball into paydirt for the final six points.

Cougars Upset W. O. In Finale, 7-6

Winding up their season with a 4 and 5 record, the Cougars showed good offense and defense against the Cowboys from West Orange. Sparked by the runs of Wallin and Zinckgraf, the Big Red scored on a handoff to Zinckgraf with Wallin throwing the key block. As in the Kearny game Captain Jerry Sazio's placement proved to be the winning margin.

SENIOR LETTERMEN

JERRY SAZIO — 1949 captain. 195 pounds, six footer. Tackle for three years. Line-backer on defense. Placed on All-Oranges, All-Essex County and third team All-State. Big, fast and aggressive. Excellent college prospect.

ANGELO IANTOSCA — Five foot-seven, 145 pound guard. Although lacking in size, his speed and defensive tackling ability earned him the varsity slot. Placed on All-Oranges team.

JOHN ORSI — Five foot-ten, 167 pound halfback. Two years on the varsity squad. Excellent punter and elusive runner. Won mention on All-Oranges eleven.

JIM STEIN — Six foot-one, 170 pound end. Very good offensive man. Showed talent as a glue-fingered pass receiver and also blocked many an enemy kick.

ANGELO TAGLIENTI — Five foot-six, 162 pound guard. This aggressive redhead was one of the best defensive men on the team. Stopped many enemy rushes through the center of the line.

JOHN ZINCKGRAF — 148 pound, six footer. First time out for the team in his senior year. Progressed rapidly, and became a fast, hard running halfback in the last two games. Scored the touchdown against West Orange.

DICK WHITEHEAD — Five foot-seven, 177 pound guard and tackle. Very dependable player possessed with great spirit and drive.

BYRON YEANNAKIS — Five foot-ten, 170 pounder. Performed at both end and guard. Good defensive line-backer and one of the strongest boys on the '49 squad.

VINCE TORTORIELLO — Five foot-nine, 150 pound half-back. Very fast and shifty runner. Displayed plenty of class in his sophomore and junior years, but fell a victim of injuries in his last year with the team.

BASKETBALL

Although there were many other close and exciting games, these three were the highlights of the season.

Cougars Lose Disputed Tilt

Kearny High nipped Columbia, 50-49, in a furiously paced game after a dying left hand shot by Johnny Reynolds was disallowed because the referee ruled the contest was over. The officials said that time had run out before John's 30 foot shot tore the mesh.

Foul Shot Upsets Belleville

Paul Groffsky's foul shot after the end of the game defeated the rugged Belleville team, 45-44. With 45 seconds to play, Dan Drees stole the ball and passed to Mike Loprete who in turn passed to Reynolds, and Johnny splashed with the tying point.

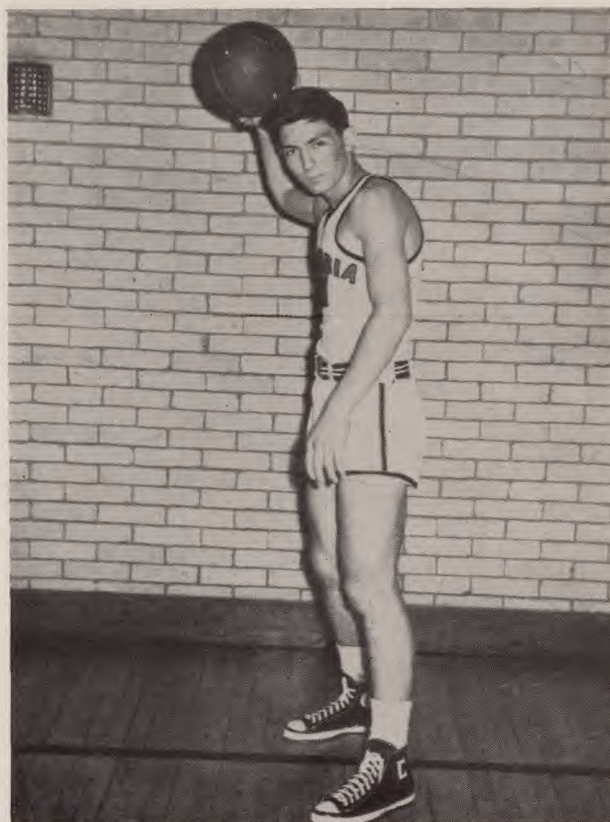

Gems Conquer Hillside, 68-55

In the opener of the 1949-50 basketball campaign the Cougars won a decisive victory over Hillside. The most noteworthy incident which occurred in the game was a new scoring record for a single game, 42, made by Johnny Reynolds, topping the old one of 27.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Well, after three years of being acquainted with G.A.A., the senior girls of Columbia have finally learned what the three letters stand for. But we have really made some outstanding progress other than this one accomplishment.

First of all, there were the ten little Indians who held a pow-wow with two newly appointed members of the tribe. The pow-wow resulted in an entirely new set of requirements for numerals and letters. Judging from the final results this year, no one has been able to decide which way was the easiest to understand.

Then came the fall, when the study of soccer was taken up, and we learned to recognize the difference between the ball and the nearest shin.

But volleyball and basketball were different—now broken fingernails were the latest fashion, and we started freezing indoors instead of outside.

And the Christmas Party with a multitude of Santa Clauses and an abundance of lollipops, cake, and cokes came along. What a celebration!

Then the weather turned warmer, and the girls who played the field in softball were once more privileged to stand and stare at the boys at the risk of being bopped on the head by some wild throw.

The swimmers once more took courage and tried out the gray suits, and the Dance Club performance was worth all its rehearsals.

With the final awards party, the seniors realized that there would be no more cloudy powder fights, no more plus points to be strived for, no more clean blouses every Monday, and no more chances to earn their numerals or letter. This year has really been the busiest and the best for all concerned, especially for the Seniors.

PARNASSIAN SOCIETY

The Christmas spirit was ushered in warmly on Columbia's stage by the Parnassian Society's production of A By-Line for Saint Luke. Through this entertaining yet meaningful play, the coincidence of fate, and more strongly, the mystery of that which guides a person's actions, tended to produce a thoughtful atmosphere in the audience.

A well-chosen cast performed admirably under the direction of Miss Mildred Memory. Barbara Iannicelli enacted the part of the romantic reporter, Carol Prescott, with flying thespian colors. John Kempson, in the role of Luke Cameron performed equally well as writer of the paper's obituary column. Others in the cast included: Norma Barnes, as the hard-boiled publisher of the paper; Sy Grossman in the role of editor; Kay Glickman as the scatter-brained office girl; and Joan Sheckley, Bob Blum, and Lonnie Fast as reporters.

Everyone did a magnificent job, and deserve hearty congratulations.

Set in a background of palms, with attractive furnishings and the usual activity found in the lounge of a fashionable hotel in the Adirondacks, the one-act comedy, Trial by Moonlight, by John Kirkpatrick, was off to a successful beginning.

Jean Salisbury as Angela Bumis and Bob Sneden as Jerry Dennison portrayed a modern young couple whose problem of summer romance was natural and real. Mrs. Beemis, Amelia Remondelli could see from her sophisticated position the problem and a possible test. Don Silberman as Phil Charters was Jerry's opposite. Madame d'Hervilly, Arlene Levine, was the pseudo-French modiste whose accent was turned off and on for her convenience.

Barbara Wadsworth as Elsi, a model, was charming, and Joseph Nataro as the bell boy moved naturally among the guests.

This play, directed by Dr. Grace Alexander, met with the immediate approval of the audience.

Greetings

TO THE 1950 GRADUATING CLASS

This is an inspiring moment in your lives. Behind you are the years that time itself will hallow. Before you lies a challenging world.

If we may draw from years of experience, if we may be guided by what we know to be basic truths, we would counsel each one of you to continue your education, if at all possible. The best opportunities in any competitive enterprise go to those who are prepared with knowledge.

But above all else, be mindful of your responsibility as honorable citizens of our country. It is to you young Americans that we look for the continued prosperity of our nation, for the preservation of its ideals and heritage. Wear this sober mantle with dignity.
