Dedication

*... that we shall be able to sense
beauty in our surroundings and be able to share this feeling with others*

... that we shall be persistent in our efforts at self-expression

... that we shall find some measure of goodness and truth in the increasingly complex world about us

To the hope that these youthful goals will be attained, we dedicate the 1960 Mirror.

Class History

1957-1958

Teachers looked with some misgiving out of their third-story windows while upperclassmen helpfully sold us elevator passes. Soon the doors were flung open; and we, the incoming sophomores, entered the auditorium. There we learned little gems of wisdom; for example, one never talks (nor for that matter does he shoot paper airplanes) during study. After a factual session of wisdom-orientation we were bodily removed from our friends and thrust into one of twenty homerooms, where we were overwhelmed with the first of hundreds of schedule cards which had to be filled out. This task generated our first qualms—maybe we shouldn't have taken all those subjects. Then, we learned that there were two lunch periods. When we pathetically queried how would we know which lunch to go to, we received the unenlightening answer that "there is no way of knowing," "Just listen to the bells." That first day, there seemed to be thousands of bells. Soon we became adjusted; we could talk knowingly about assembly day schedules, cafeteria food, and the book pound. Tragedy struck; the Asian Flu arrived, and classes shrank to six or seven. Another visitor came to us from the Orient—the Princess of Siam who spoke at our assembly. At the same time a blizzard struck, and the only ones who were brave enough to plow their way to school were dismissed at 12:30 by a solicitous Superintendent of Schools. So ended our first year at Columbia.

1958-1959

As another September rolled around, we were veterans with the patina of a year of experience. With horror we learned of the addition of a third lunch period. This lunch was called "lost lunch" or sometimes, "A third lunch." Football games were marked by two new additions, male cheerleaders . . . and a plucked chicken; the latter was introduced at the Thanksgiving Game.

Soon The Tests came; the S.A.T.'s; the Achievements; and for some adventurous souls, the Merits. To keep us from studying too hard for those tests, and to prevent dry-rot of the corticle area, our Junior Night show, Finian's Rainbow went into rehearsal. For weeks little leprechauns and elves danced through the halls. At last THE DAY arrived . . . at six o'clock in the morning myriads of green-clad creatures were swarming around Grunings. While sleepy Villagers poked their heads out of windows to gaze unbelievably at the crawling things on South Orange Avenue, we gathered six hundred strong, and at eight o'clock made our "triumphal" entry into Columbia. Naturally, our Junior Night was the best there ever was or will be. And so, in a flurry of exams, we ended our Junior Year.

1959-1960

We were Seniors, mature Seniors, finally. Then we went to our homerooms we found that they weren't where we had left them in June; the new addition had been completed and all the rooms were renumbered. For a humiliating few weeks we were indistinguishable from the Sophomores. We attended the annual football assembly, the last we would see as C.H.S. students. Our Senior Play, Time Out for Ginger, was a smash hit. Our Senior Play? . . . why it seemed just yesterday that we entered Columbia for the first time! College acceptances began to trickle in for a lucky few. For the rest, there were more tests, hurried conferences with harried guides, trips to colleges which were given hasty once-overs. Christmas vacation came and went. Hundreds of C.H.S. graduates wandered in with some nostalgia to review memories and tell of their dreams that had come true. As we gazed with admiration and envy, we realized that our hopes and ambitions, too, would soon be realized. For we also, can look ahead to the future with hope and confidence, knowing that whatever may happen and wherever we may go, we will have the poignant memories of our treasure-crammed days at Columbia High.

Class Will

We, the Class of nineteen hundred and sixty, being of sound mind and body, do hereby leave this, our last will and testament to the faculty and students of our Alma Mater, with the hope that Columbia will grow in the coming years in achievement and honor.

We, the senior boys, leave the junior girls to pine away in our absence.

We, the senior girls, leave with the hope that next's year's senior girls will have something to do on Saturday nights.

I, Bob Amsden, leave another year with Dad to Martha.

I, Andy Fiddler, leave my amazing sense of balance to Steve Badanes.

I, Ellen Feinberg, leave my outspoken interest in politics to Lewis Bateman.

We, Peter Meyer, Bill Davis, and Bucky Fader leave our outstanding athletic abilities and good looks to Ronny Wiss and Alan Thiele.

I, Linda Schneck, leave an angel-like face and model-like figure to Barbara Segal.

We, the cast of Junior Night, leave a faded rainbow, used pot of gold and wonderful memories of "Finian's Rainbow" to next year's Junior Night cast.

I, Alan Kaplus, leave so many girls . . . isn't it a shame?

We, the members of the Friday Night Togetherness Group leave David Litwin on his head, trips to "Versailles" and Russian dancing to all intelligent and imaginative juniors.

I, Richard Postweilder, leave my fatherly look to Barry Lerner.

We, Bob Blau, Mike Citron, Jim Mersfelder and Dave Reisen leave our all-state honors and torpedo-like speed in the water to Alan Grossman.

I, Sue Dailey, leave my stage presence and the ability to adapt to any situation to Ellen Sickles.

We, Julian Levy and Ronald Capling, leave our enviable intellectual capacities and a million requests for help to Peter Mansbach.

I, Barry Rosenberg leave nothing—I need everything I got.

We, Carol Brown and Kitty Eppston, leave all our unpublished songs to posterity.

We, Judy Earle, Michael Ormond, Gerry Pitman, Bryn Roberts, Marilee McClintock, Ellen Sweet and Alix Yelen leave all our censored Columbian articles and pictures to be added to the large pile already accumulated.

I, Barbara Emmer, leave my Fiskian logic to all English IV Honors candidates.

I, Lewis Engel, leave my ability to say a lot in a few words to Ronnie Wiss.

We, Marilyn Aberbach and Neal Denby, leave our "togetherness," which we appreciate, to Tina Velden and Dick Fenton.

I, Lou Richmond, leave my broad shoulders and the ability to make the floor shake at every step to Dick Bishop.

We, Judy Selig and Ruth Kosh, leave all our uneaten lunches to next year's Mirror editor and Parnassian president.

We, Joan Meskin and Anne Orwin, don't leave our lunches. "How unthinkable!"

I, Peter Sausville, leave my great hockey ability to John Oswald.

I, John Ragusa, leave my excellent sense of direction to any incoming sophomore who eats his lunch in the bell-tower.

I, Kenny Shapiro, leave fairyland.

I, Jonah Flink, leave some dysentery pills and maps of India to the Indians.

I, Benjy Friedland, leave my "shocked" expression to Peter Nussbaum.

I, Marty Wiener, leave my role as Tiny Tim to Nancy Lewis.

I, Michael Gross, leave my A+ in Honors Chemistry to Bob Joffe.

We, Chris Gruning and Sue Hewlett leave our "scoops" to Maplewood and South Orange.

I, Judy Posner, leave my gym blouses to a prodigal hamster.

I, Diane Knox, leave my varied characterizations to Beth Lowenstein.

I, Judy Roff, leave my file of conference blanks to Mrs. Mathias.

I, Eric Chase, leave remnants of my car all over the village.

I, Pat Ward, leave my pioneering spirit to Jouixdii Gelfond.

To the Teachers:

Mr. Hickman—a successful plastic bag experiment.

Mr. MacDonough—a future historian, politician and labor leader.

Mr. Mendelson—a tenth issue of the Columbian—he got his ninth.

Mr. Sweetman—a starring role in "The Old Man and the Sea."

Mr. Fiske—the untapped intellectual resources of his English IV Honors class.

Mr. Pontz—a gavel and a speaker's platform.

Mrs. Howell and Mr. Gray—600 sophomores to guide.

Mr. Paolella—another French IV Honors class.

Mrs. Johnson—a job as a permanent delegate to the U.N. from Columbia.

Mr. Jones—another Senior homeroom bearing gifts.

Miss Goodman—a folder of free papers from her ex-students.

Mrs. Palminteri—the prospect of a capable, charming, industrious Mirror staff.

We, the Class of nineteen hundred and sixty, leave our accomplishments in life, feats of excellence, gifts of genius, and above all, our modesty to next year's senior class.

Carousel

In a gay whirl of color, the class of '61 treated us to a ride on the "Carousel." Undertaking a difficult task, the Junior Class succeeded in presenting both a lively and sensitive performance, with Bob Argand as Billy Bigelow, Lois Lange as Julie Jordan, Sue Tymeson as Carrie Pipperidge, Don Bernstein as Jigger, Beth Lowenstein as Nettie Fowler, Bill Wolfe as Mr. Snow, Nancy Kossak as Mrs. Mullin, and Alice Ruby as Louise.

It was a rewarding experience to see the Juniors set the pace in portraying the carefree life in a small New England coastal town; and then, with quick ability, change the tempo and tone of the play as the story ends, and the carousel comes to a halt, on a tragic note. The class of 1961's Junior Night is now a memory, but certainly one that it can be proud of possessing.

J. Lloyd Browning

"Finian's Rainbow"

This year's Mirror would be incomplete without the inclusion of our own Junior Night, "Finian's Rainbow", under the expert direction of Mr. Vincent Seguin. The memories of the happiness many of us shared in the mythical land of Missitucky will always be vivid and satisfying. Among the fine performers were Andy Fiddler as Finian, Vicki Ulanet as Sharon, Lane Sarasohn as Woody, Kenny Shapiro as Og, the Leprechaun, Mimi Lenkowsky as Susan, Eric Taylor as Senator Rawkins, and Bill Soskin as Buzz—all of whom joined talented singers and dancers in a colorful legend combining charming melodies and dances, mirthful comedy, and satire, on controversial society. We who were fortunate to have witnessed this production will be able to look at these pictures as a wonderful remembrance of the class of 1960's success in obtaining its "Pot of Gold".

"Time Out For Ginger"

Fitting itself completely into the swing of the fall football season, "Time Out For Ginger", the hilarious comedy by Ronald Alexander, was presented by the Senior Class.

The problem presented was the right of a spirited, young girl to play on the high school football team. The part of this tom-boy, Ginger Carol, was capably portrayed by Hedy Nordheimer, who at the end of the rugged rehearsals for the play could have ably shown up at Underhill Field.

Ginger tries to persuade her father (Richard Postweiler) that she has a right to personal freedom. She wins him over, but her two sisters (Dee Wolkestein, Merle Boriskin) do all they can to prevent Ginger's participation on the team. While Ginger's mother (Mimi Lenkowsky) tries to keep the family from quarreling, Liz, the maid (Diane Knox), the real manager of the household, defends and accompanies Ginger through every battle.

Among the citizens affected by the capers of the Carol family are Mr. Wilson (Mike Westreich), the high school principal, Mr. Hoffman (Steve Harrison), president of the bank, Eddie Davis (Eric Chase), captain of the football team, and Ginger's boyfriend, Tommy Green (Marty Wiener).

The climax of the play comes when Ginger is sent in to play for the team and the play ends with Ginger's happy realization: "Ya' know Pop, being a girl is so much fun, I've decided to give up football."
