

MIRROR

DEDICATION

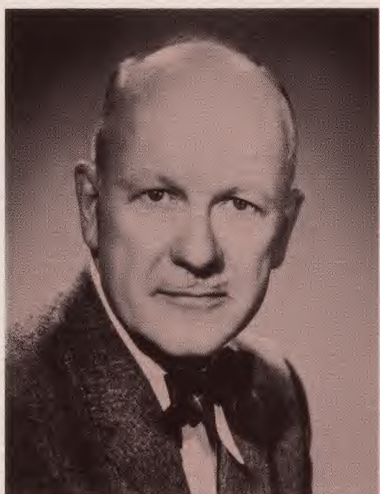

We, the class of 1961, dedicate our yearbook to the people of America. They have given us a gift which we can never repay to the American Heritage. Heroes and poets, idealists and pragmatists have been our companions. From the snow-capped mountains of the Rockies to the pine forests of the Appalachians, from the steel mills of the East to the cattle ranches of the West, we have been given a nation rich in possibilities. In dedicating the 1961 Mirror, we fervently hope that we shall not shirk the responsibility which has been placed on our shoulders. We realize that we have not inherited a finished, but rather a growing country. We can never stop — we can never falter — in our progress to achieve a more perfect nation. We are ever thankful for the priceless heritage of yesterday and the driving urge of today.

*Oh! Columbia, thou hast taught us
The path that we should tread
By thy rules of pride and honor
In our work and play we're led.
In the years of life's hard struggle
We care not what's in store,
For thy motto is our motto
And our cry, "Excelsior!"*

Class History

1958-59

"If you miss period 1, 2, 3, or 4, then go to early lunch and if you miss 5, 6, or 7, then go to late lunch . . ." greeted our ears that first day in September when they were trying to explain to us those phenomena of Columbia High School, the rotating period schedule and the split lunch. For several days, as sophomores uninitiated to the life of C.H.S. and the horrors of the halls, we had great difficulty finding the correct corridor and classroom, in spite of the help of many seniors—eager to send us off to the boiler room. Just when we were becoming oriented, the new addition was completed; and we were again confused. We were impressed by the American Academy of Dramatic Arts presentation of "The Crucible;" warmed by the visits of Pham Thi Ngoc of Vietnam and Nadia Domian of Lebanon; and fascinated by the talk given by Nobel Prize winner Pearl Buck.

As our sophomore year drew to a close, we were firmly convinced that this had been not only our busiest but also our toughest year. We were sure that we would never again work so hard—little did we know!

1959-60

This was the year of examinations, elections, and new experiences. On October 24, we gained the acquaintance of the College Entrance Examination Board via the PSAT's, a foreboding of yet untold horrors. The School Council initiated the Senior Opportunities for Service project, which was to become an important part of our senior year's activities. This program, in which there was heavy participation, extended to all welfare agencies in the locality. The face and smile of Pedro Ephraim, visitor from Argentina, became familiar in the halls and classrooms during his three-week stay. The weekend of March 18 and 19 was a busy one for our junior class. On March 18 we trooped off to Gruning's for our junior breakfast. (I don't think we've ever recovered.) After that boisterous session, a caravan of cars (for by that time drivers' licenses were not unusual) made its way through the towns of Maplewood and South Orange. On the bill for that evening was our hit production of "Carousel." The next day there were Merits for those more bold, and also the second presentation of the class play.

During March, Langston Hughes, a prominent poet, and Willy Ley, an authority on space and rockets, were featured in our assembly programs. Then in late spring, came the furor of electing school, class, and yearbook officers. All was leading to our final and most important year at C.H.S.

Ever feel as if you were stretched in a million directions at once? This was how our senior year began in September 1961. The college catalogs were diligently scoured, and the applications were filed—all so that THE letter of acceptance to a certain college might be received. On November 18 and 19, we presented the dynamic and moving "Diary of Anne Frank." In November, our interests were directed toward the presidential campaign, the results of which would greatly determine our future. On the heels of the election came the end of our football season, attended by a sensational 41-0 victory. We were also pleased to learn that our cross country team had captured the state cross country championship. The strains and tensions of mid-year examinations were increased by eliminating them! Forty-five minute classes were used for three hour tests. We learned with regret that not only was this our last year at Columbia but Miss Henderson's as well. Miss Henderson had been for many years Dean of Girls and Director of Extra-Curricular Activities and in these capacities had always had for us words of guidance and understanding. This was also Mr. Gnagey's last year at Columbia as a teacher of English. We shall always be grateful for his genuine support as Business Advisor of the Mirror and fortunate to have him continue at Columbia as Director of the Adult School.

These have been three busy and wonderful years at Columbia; we are leaving its hallowed halls; but we shall always remember our teachers who strove to awaken our sensitivities to life and prepare us for its challenge. The many experiences we have shared as a class, the many friendships we have made and strengthened—these will never be forgotten.

Class Prophecy

July 4, 1981—What kind of day is it? A day like all days and we are there. Yea, verily! It's the gala reunion of the Columbia High School '61 graduates. The town is Las Vegas; the time is 4 a.m. and the scene is the fabulous night club, "The Punch."

At the roulette wheel, two boys are betting wildly. One has a crystal ball in front of him and is predicting every gain. His companion, following the advice of the former has lost $2,000. Why, it's "Soothsayer" Roger Flax and Wall Street millionaire Ronnie Wiss! Rog and Bob Rosenhaus were recently kicked off of Jack Kramer's tennis troupe for not obeying training rules, as you know. We see another figure at the roulette wheel. It's Playboy editor Don Bernstein accompanied by the entire retinue of playmates, Beth Rosengarten, Jane Silverman, Abby Markowitz, and Fran Tessler. Aha! Here comes the owner of the club, Dave Nathan. He's walking with Danny Kohn, who was arrested in Greenwich Village as an imposter. At the soda fountain we see Mike Wilner, who is singing "I Wanna Go 'Home' To Old Virginny." Look who's standing next to him. It's the athletes! Yes, running through a few jumping jacks are Jerry Deener, 20 game winner for the Nome Huskies, and Lou Gelman, star of the Wakiki Pineapples! Bruce Moore (8'3") looks dejected and with good reason. He has just been kicked off the Celtics in the N.B.A.'s effort to stabilize the league. Taunting customers at the pool table in an attempt to start a fracas are Skull Gartenlaub, Fantom Nozza, Haystacks Shack, and Two Ton Fishman. Harvey Grossman calms them down by sitting on them all. "Bouncing Harvey" has yet to lose a wrestling match. No one has been able to get near enough to him. Ray Neher, owner of a fashionable New York blood bank, has just arrived with free samples. Attention is now focused on the stage, where a fabulous array of stars has been lined up by Nathan. Greeting the audience is the famed elocutionist, Chick Weiss. He introduces the acts for the evening. First, Peter Mansbach is here on tour with three I.B.M. machines. The act consists of the four of them amazing the audience with their mental acuity. The next act is the first female baritone ever to sing at the Met, Sue Tymeson. And now, the mainstays of the Baltimore Colts, the Queenston Trio, Ken Gross, Pete Orsi, and Dick Fenton, singing "Green Bay Blues." The rousing climax of the show has arrived. Diana Osterweil sends the audience into a frenzy as she tells humorous monologues. Thoroughly aroused, the audience clearly shows its disapproval of Bob Joffe and his trained seal, Irving, by pelting both with raw fruit. Irving gladly eats up the gesture, but Joffe is by no means pleased.

As memories drift on in Vegas, a surprising number of graduates are noticed about. Quite a few of them are working in the 53rd state, Africa. Bob Argand is busy teaching native folksongs to primitive native folksingers. Barry Lerner has toured Africa on a revival mission. At last count, Barry had converted 50,000 tribesmen to "Beaverism." Bob Dickler and Joe Nichols are making fortunes selling rubber bands to the Congo Missile Boosting Department. Pete Hennis and Bart Satsky are teaching English in a Somaliland University. Gail Granet is not faring very well trying to sell raccoon coats to the nomads of the Sahara.

Completing the international picture we venture to the Continent. Many students have found themselves living among the happy-go-lucky Europeans. Alice Ruby is known as the girl who livens up the Bolshoi Ballet. Rich Gelband has found his vocation. He lives in a cheese factory. Mike Balis, editor of "Punch," has recently opened up the first all-sneaker shoe store in England. Harry Sobol lives in Portugal, where he works as an interpreter for the American Embassy. Steve Badanes operates a dancing school in Inner Mongolia. Pat Giardina is the Queen of England. Interesting, no?

But at Vegas, the memories grow dim as the sun comes up over the horizon. The assembled classmates sing the alma mater once more as they focus their eyes on the beautiful sight of an atomic explosion at Yucca Flats. Goodbye, class of '61, you are now history.

Class Will

I, Sue Tymeson, leave my reputation as a thespian to Kathie Perri.
I, Ray Neher, leave my ad-lib ability to the Parnassian Society.
I, Sue Paper, leave a bottle of Milltown to our pepped-up school.
I, Martha Amsden, leave "Big Daddy."
I, Danny Kohn, leave T.D.A. to Hubert Humphrey.
I, the secretary of the school council, leave my position to the Hatfields.
I, Everett Simmons, leave the perfect solution to the stairway problem . . . escalators!
I, George Haywood, leave my Ivy League Appearance to Alberto Ibarguen.
I, Bill Wolfe, am taking all of it with me.
I, Roger Flax, leave my prophetic ability to Isiah, but I'm taking my tennis ability with me.
I, Larry Berkowitz, leave my 23" waist to Gina Lollobrigida.
I, Barry Lerner, leave this dam site to any other eager beaver.
I, Les Franz, leave you with this message: "I fooled you all—I'm ineligible!"
I, Peter Mansbach, leave by mental ability to "Univac."
I, Stan Allen, leave my laissez-faire attitude to Fidel Castro.
I, Harry Sobol, leave my wrestling ability to Marilyn Dinnerman.
I, Jane Silverman, chairman of the Social Committee, leave a copy of "I Could Have Danced All Night."
I, Lucy Wilson, leave the League of Nations.
We, Jiouxdi Gelfond and Ava Bry, have left!
We, Robert Joffe and Patty Giardina, leave "The Mirror" with fond reflections.
We, the editors of the Columbian, leave . . . CENSORED.
We, Lewis Bateman, Frank Baraff, Bob Sachs, and Lennie Flamm, leave "Little Tammany" to Carmen De Sapio.
We, the Seniors of the Pan American Club, leave our Latin-American relations policy to General Franco.
We, the Seniors of Le Cercle Français, leave the Algerian problem to our capable associate in France, Brigitte Bardot.
We, the Seniors in the band, leave a multitude of crooked lines to Mr. Jones.
We, the members of Mr. Darlington's classes, leave covalent bonding to bury ionic bonding.
We, the Seniors of the Elections Committee, laugh!
We, the senior members of the Cross Country Team, leave a Spiked Shoe for next year.
We, the senior members of SANE leave the world stockpile to Mr. Stark.
We, the seniors of the Lunchroom Committee, leave the answer to the cafeteria problem—a Café Columbia around the pool.

To our teachers, whom we leave happily:

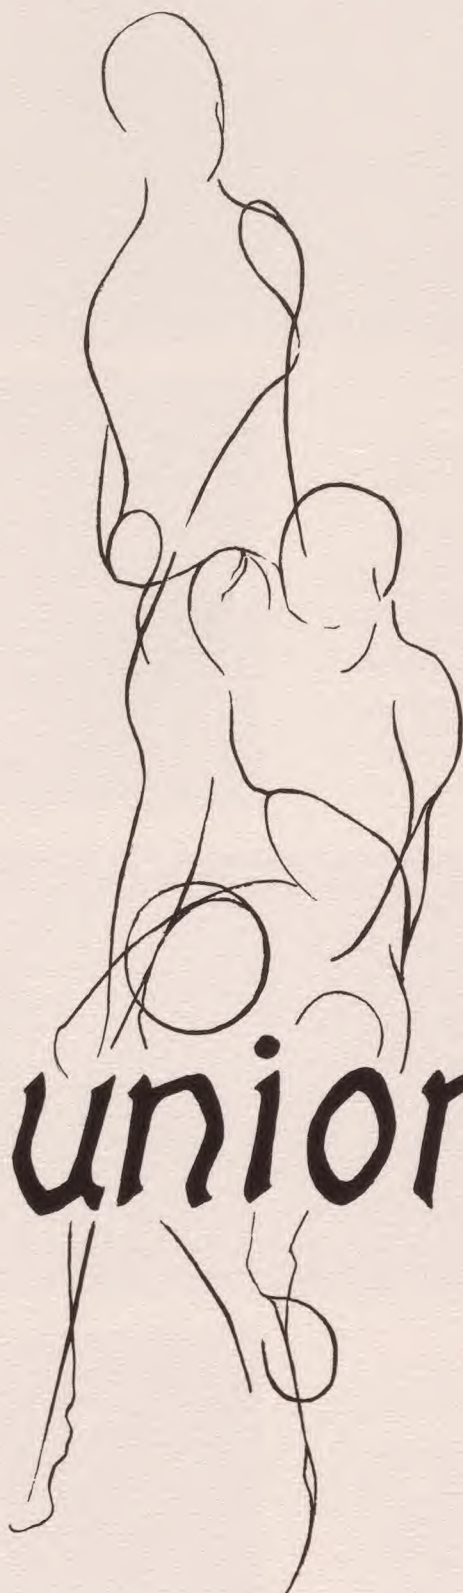

A black leather jacket and a pair of goggles to Mr. Darlington.
A "slight discrepancy" stamp to Mr. Talbot.
A life subscription of Playboy to Mr. Hatton.
An assistant to help Mrs. Mathias run the school.
An honorary membership in the Foreign Legion to Miss Goodman.
The greatest discovery of all time, Genzer's Law, to Mr. Genzer.
A copy of Lady Chlorate's Lover to Mr. Hickman.
A little Cal . . . Coolidge, to Mr. Griesel.
Ladybird, to Mr. Johnson.

We also leave:

To the student council: a speaker system at Underhill Field.
To the Board of Education: a bottle of Geritol.
To the West Orange football team: a touchdown.
To the guides: 600 Merit finalists applying to college next year.
To Mr. Sheeley: a dean's list.

We, the graduating class of 1961, leave TRUTH, JUSTICE, AND THE AMERICAN WAY.

"Oklahoma!"

Directed by J. Lloyd Browning

From the opening "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" to the romantic "People Will Say We're in Love" "Oklahoma!" the Junior Night of the Class of '62 was a smash performance. With color and sensitivity the Juniors recreated the high quality of Rodgers' and Hammerstein's masterpiece concerning the farmers and cattlemen of America's midwest. In this musical comedy the chorus, directed by Mr. Warren G. Schmoll, was brilliant in their rendition of the difficult eight part harmony.

Heading the large and talented cast were: Lois Kapelsohn as Aunt Ellen; Gary Arpin as Curley; Kathie Perri as Laurey; Noel Parks, Will Parker; Dave Dubrow, Jud Fry; Jan O'Handley, Ado Annie; Mike Hershkowitz, Ali Hakum; Carol Feder, Gertie Cummings; and John Nagel as Ike Skidmore.

The Class of '61 congratulates the Class of '62 on a job well done—a great show.

"Carousel"

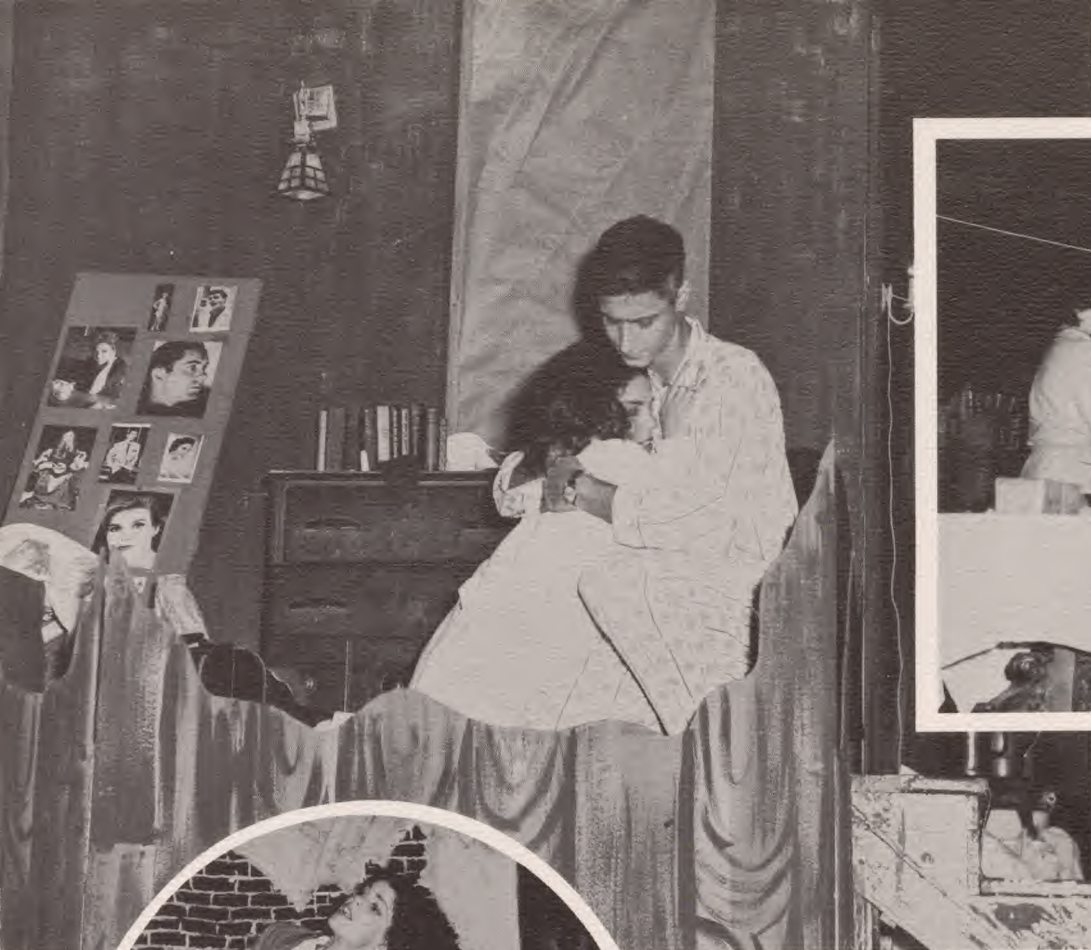

DIRECTED BY J. LLOYD BROWNING

Without "Carousel" the 1961 Mirror would not be complete. It was this show on which over two hundred of us worked. These enjoyable efforts paid off with great acclaim.

Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical takes place in a small New England town on the coast of Maine. The barker for the local amusement park, Billy Bigelow (Bob Argand) falls in love with Julie Jordan (Lois Lange). They are faced with financial difficulties since Mrs. Mullin (Nancy Kossak) will not take Billy back at the "Carousel" because of his marriage. Jigger (Don Bernstein) persuades the penniless Billy to help him in a robbery and Billy falls on his own knife, killing himself. He returns to earth for a day, fifteen years later, to find that his daughter, Louise (Alice Ruby) born after his death, is leading a very unhappy life. By a gift of love he brings joy and assurance to her. Showing this goodness enables Billy to enter heaven at peace with himself and the people he loves. Other members of the cast included Sue Tymeson as Carrie Pepperidge, Beth Lowenstein as Nettie Fowler, and Bill Wolfe as Mr. Snow.

Every member of the class of '61 can look back on our Junior Night with pride and pleasure at the fine achievement of our very own "Carousel."

"The Diary of Anne Frank"

DIRECTED BY F. FREDERICK TRENT

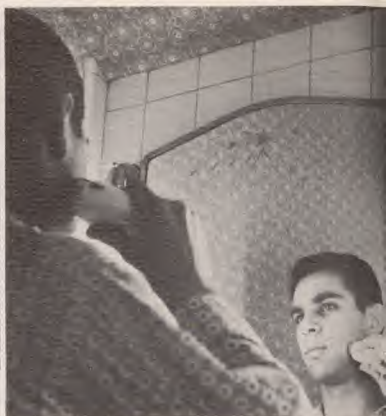

The tragic and sensitive story of Anne Frank, a young Jewish girl, who was forced to go into hiding in order to escape Nazi persecution during World War II, was presented by the Senior Class as their Senior Play.

Based upon the book Anne Frank: Diary of a Young Girl, the play illustrated the crippling terrors, strong beliefs, and gentle tenderness brought about by the embittered life in the Secret Annex. Mr. Frank (brilliantly played by Bob Argand), the sole survivor of the tragedy, returns to the Annex to find the diary from which the story evolves. Through it he again pictures the "Slobs," Mr. Van Daan (Ray Neher) and Mrs. Van Daan (Lois Gerber); Mr. Dussel (interpreted cleverly by Norman Price) with his nagging ways; his daughter Margot (radiantly shown by Shirley Campbell) who retains her gentle composure throughout; Miep (touchingly characterized by Sue Elberty) and Mr. Kraler (strongly acted by Roger Flax), their protectors; Peter Van Daan (sensitive depicted by Tom Nozza) who found strength in Anne (passionately enacted by Alice Ruby).

Breaking the precedent of a comedy for Senior Night, "The Diary of Anne Frank" was a huge success. The audience sat stunned, with tears in their eyes, at the beauty of this very tragic story so well summarized by Anne's simple philosophy: "In spite of everything, I still believe that people are really good at heart."

G.A.A.

Girl's sports started this year with the whoosh of the mighty seniors either sprinting the 50 yard dash or huffing and puffing along the 600 yard run. They also jumped, did pull ups, sit ups, and some looked as if they were getting ready for the World Series while setting new records in the softball throw. We soon got back to the annual grind of bruised shins, split nails, and the other misfortunes that come with the hockey season. On nasty days we were never without something exciting to do for we were always kept busy doing musical exercises. The introduction of gymnastics into the gym classes once a week was tried. It was received with much enthusiasm by all participants. When the long-awaited spring finally arrived, the juniors and sophomores vainly tried to beat the fine records which the seniors had set in the physical fitness tests.

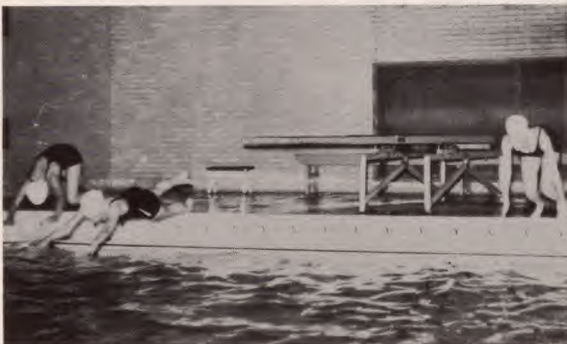

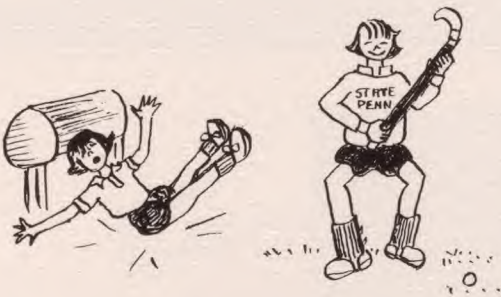

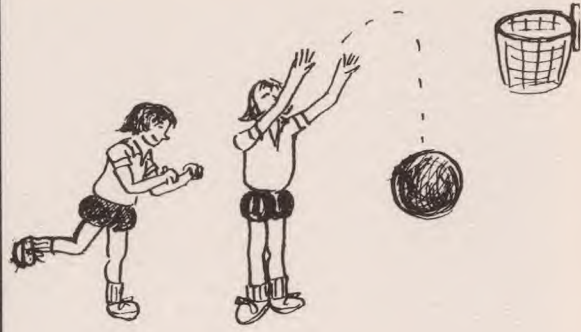

The Girl's Athletic Association began its year with an Open House to acquaint its new members with the G.A.A. Other parties were held at Halloween, and a final party in May. At this last party girls who earned awards received them and the new council announced.

Toward the end of the hockey season, we held an inter-class tournament with the seniors coming out on top by beating both the junior and sophomore teams. Our basketball tournament turned out to be very successful.

A gymnastics club was initiated as part of the G.A.A. program for the first time this year and was greeted with much enthusiasm. During the course of the year, the girls were taught some basic tumbling stunts, learned to work on the rings, flying rings, and the buck.

Members of the Synchronized Swimming Club, who worked on their show for three months, were very gratified with the wonderful turnout for their show. For the first time in our history this show was held in the evening and the S.R.O. sign was out.

With the help of G.A.A. Council President Pam Rigas, Vice-President Linnea Weis, Secretary Joanna Froelich, Treasurer Sue Vail, and the guidance of the Physical Education teachers, the girl's sports program received excellent support from both students and spectators.

Pride of Possession

- ... Turning back the years is a dream that the miracle of printing has made possible.*
- ... Only the printed page can vividly perpetuate in the memory these golden school days.*
- ... Fleeting years will scatter your friends and classmates; but the treasured memories of the good companions, classroom romances, and campus gayeties are preserved in these pages.*
- ... That is why your yearbook is a rich possession to you. That is why we are proud to have supervised its printing.*
