Dedication

*There was a time of famine, of blood, of arms and vast human destruction. The world was in a war which even our generation must not forget.
This was also a time of bravery and human kindness. And this we must not forget either.
We dedicate the 1965 Mirror to the man who has led the world through the darkness of its greatest threat into the light of its freedom.*

SEniors!

History: Class of 1965

1962-63

The year of awe. O Columbia, thou shalt teach us, finally we're in high school, "Hail Sophomores" and the frantic search begins: the new wing, yes, you're in it, a swimming pool, yea! ugh! and told from the beginning that we're the class of '65. The cougar roars and the football team is good, very good, top in the state, only to bow to Montclair after being demoralized by the Cuban missile crisis. The cougar bloody, but unbowed; and basketball even brings a crack in the solid wall of school policy, and now the new cry, "Let's go, Cougars."

The year of biology. Scrounging through mountains of earth worms living or dead, the deep freeze of the winter, books, books, winter softens and the Hub brings his new administration wheeling in on a jeep. John Ciardi comes to Columbia and with him Spring, the bright green salvation of weary students. Columbia ceases to hang bulkily about us now, it fits, and we fit, and the nearing summer gives tell-tale signs of the year's end. End it does, seniors outward, juniors onward, and we sophomores, up one rung, vacating the bottom of the ladder.

The year of planning. Juniors, juniors, ecstasy and PSAT's, a fresh new outlook, looking down as well as up, spirit boils, and The Crucible explodes, a Junior Play with meaning and impact. The Junior Class wears black, Mr. Woudenberg tells his story about rabbits, and the day ends in disbelief and agony. JFK snatched from our sight and placed on an eternal pedestal so near and yet so far. The painful murmur of drums, John-John salutes, and we the class of '65 move forward, knowing only too well that something irrevocable has been left behind.

The year of the license. Jim Beatty runs and speaks, college time stalks slowly around us, and the Joff ends the second winter with "Let them come to Columbia." And come they do: SAT's, Achievements, Merits, and college interviewers. A message from the Peace Corps and from New Jersey's Senators. The beginnings of the Presidential campaign and the Republican primaries in New Hampshire and California. Barry'll never make it. Our two days of Spring vacation given back and added on to the end of the year. The warmth of summer and another graduation, close, but still not ours.

The year of anxiety. It's our turn, and we don't seem so big or so terribly wonderful. The year starts with a suntan, but is soon paled by the humiliating realization that IBM efficiency has given each of us a number. Almost the year of numbers, 00035, 310-750, and for some, even Avogadro's number. Seniors now, the reward for spending two years down under: yearbook pictures, college applications, interviews, Boards again and again. Hectic days, but still the routine of tempered normalcy: a good football team, and the Student Talent Assembly reveals to us what we have in our own school. Election tempo catches us up in its fury, (we'll vote next election), cries of immorality and who is William E. Miller?

The half-year. January and it's over except for minor details: classes and exams. Rest, relax. April, yag, and our residences for the next few years are decided. May, June, and swirls of memory.

The year of reflection. O Columbia, hast thou taught us? We and no one can judge, not now, but later, next year, the year after. All of us on different roads, all the roads endless, but all starting at Columbia. Can we do it, can we be what is expected and more? The three years swarm before us in a frenzy of melancholy and bliss, the class, the game, the bell, a teacher's face, peering from the onrushing waters of memory. Here then the pride, the joy, the distinction, and the firmest knowledge: If we can't do it, nobody can.

O Columbia

Thou Hast Taught Us

Last Will ((and)) Testament

We, the class of nineteen hundred and sixty-five, being of sound mind and body, leave this, our last will and testament.

I

We, Mr. Monticiollo, Miss della Sala, and Mr. Fleming, leave to find an ACCEptable senior class.

I, Mr. Mellinger, leave my sense of humor to anyone with a strong stomach.

I, Mr. Kline, leave for Pawnee, Oklahoma, to help maw and paw at the general store.

II

I, Mel McDavit, leave 457 unpublished songs, and an unbiased college recommendation from daddy.

I, Peggy Smolen, leave for Atlanta, without Shelley Balaban.

We, Jerry Wichtel, Ellen Polkowitz, and Dusty Forler, leave our shabby tenements in view of the impending urban renewal program.

I, Sally Rich, leave for England with an American accent.

We, Cheryl and Hope Cantor, leave as kissin' cousins.

We, Tom Weisman and Audrey Schottenfeld, leave Mrs. Palminteri to next year's Editors.

I, Ellis Gesten, leave my knees to the track team.

I, Jon Genser, leave an extra seat belt to Richard Fain.

We, Harold Richardson and Ray Graham, leave.

We, Nancy Beam, Bill Thomas, and Pete Schweikhardt, leave to seek whatever is right—extremely right.

I, Eleanor Levitt, leave the sophomore boys still looking.

I, Glenn Carey, leave three Vettes, five Impalas, and four Corvairs—all slightly used.

I, Alan Dubrow, leave the wrestling team.

We, John Dios, Alan Soschin, John Rotrosen, Jack Heinowitz, and Phil Kupperman, leave 68 broken-hearted sophomore girls.

We, Iris Adler and Phyllis Yaseen, leave our total days absent to be made into an additional school year.

I, Pete Sudler, leave half of my lunch to Mr. Ghegan.

I, Lee Keating, leave looking wide-awake at 8:25 a.m.

We, Peter Lobman, Gerry Cohen, Nardi Levine, Claude Zahn, and Mickey Kananack, leave all of our CARDinal sins to a BETTOR next year.

I, Jimmy Peck, leave a box of "Graham" crackers to Nanci Lieberman.

I, Ellen Sarasohn, leave my plenteous store of college information to the guidance department.

We, Miriam Frank, Carol Bernau, Jackie Friedrich, and Kathy Ruby, leave our quack to Hooker University's other ducks.

I, Ceil Desimone, leave to attend every sport event in the state.

We, Bob Keybida and Bob Jamieson, leave our bottle of peroxide to Mimi Straayer.

I, Ellen Lefkowitz, leave to get my drivers license.

I, Sue Ubbaus, leave my favorite utensil to the cafeteria—a spoon.

I, Greg Frost, with my great sense of humor, leave a certain member of the sophomore class in stitches.

We, Anne and Jane Jennings, leave our mistaken identities to the McDonough twins.

I, Stephanie Hoagland, leave with my hair windblown.

I, Jean Waldron, leave a lengthy list of dates for every weekend.

I, Richard Fusco, leave my fastidiousness to the junior boys.

I, Fred Daum, leave my erudite mannerisms to Wally Cox.

III

We, the soccer team of 1964, don't leave anything. We need everything we have.

We, the swimming team of 1965, leave our achievement of having been the only team to drink the liquids faster than we can swim in them.

We, the football team of 1964, leave our schedule to the New York Giants, who couldn't do as well.

We, the wrestling team of 1965, leave to find a cure for impetigo.

We, all of the CHS sports teams, leave the Board of Education PAID coaches to guide us in all of those post-season tournaments.

We, the Executive Committee, leave Ginny Duenkel Day. We're not perfect.

IV

We, the entire class of 1965:

Leave an $8,699.46 investment in SAT's, ACT's, Merits, applications, transcripts, and stamps.

Leave oxygen masks for the bathrooms.

Leave a profound silence for the library.

Leave a civilized, student-supervised cafeteria.

Leave our notorious college class number.

In conclusion: We the class of '65 leave CHS with the hope that she will soon recover from her great loss.

Senior Class

There seems to be quite a turn-out of 1965 Columbia graduates here at the Board meeting, February 31, 1985. The meeting was declared open to the public by the magnanimous president of the board, Ed Leff, whose first proposal was to set up a slot machine in the boiler room. The trustees were all in agreement, especially Brian Connelly, Walter Fletcher, David Sobol, Mario Gabrielli, and Greg McIntyre, but Columbia's principal, Ray Graham, seemed to feel that the boiler room could be put to better use as a classroom for students attending the school four years or more. At this point a bitter argument arose between Sue Ubbaus and Georgette Bork, the two outstanding candidates for Dean of Girls, over which girls' room the loser would have the job of supervising. Janet Baime, present Dean of Girls, was the referee. The Dean of Boys, Harry Weinerman, solved the problem by proposing the abolishment of girls' and boys' rooms and the return of outhouses, through which we could "eliminate this awful tendency toward a quick smoke between classes that seems to be prevalent in spite of the latest denunciatory reports from Dr. Richard Fain, head of the Cancer Society." Dr. Fain wasn't available for the meeting, but he sent his nurse Tina Friedman, late because of an emergency case—Patti Gordon's daughter's thumb seemed to be caught in between her two front teeth, and it required immediate surgery. Suddenly the door of the conference room swung open and a baton walked in, followed closely by something known as a Gelman strut. No one was very surprised when Diane proposed, for the seventy-eighth time, to make Columbia's Alma Mater "The Birth of the Blues." There was some opposition to this, from Jr. Ercolano and Little Ruthie Levinson, whose parents seemed to have convinced them that folk music was the ultimate. Everyone's attention was momentarily diverted by the entrance of the track coach, "Big Red" Chase. He came to request permission to take over as football coach because, "If," he said, "we combine my athletic experience and the sons of such pros as Harvey Cohen, Greg Frost, Bob Novotny, Steve Price, and Mark "the toe" Winick, we can beat Montclair by the year 2025." At this point Bev Hamilton and Mimi Shurkin sent in their daughters to give a cheer on Big Red's behalf. Unfortunately they were a bit too ambitious and their uniforms split during the final "aero." Luckily the new sewing department, under the direction of Ruth Ann Lally and Joan Davis, solved the problem in no time.

We decided to take a break while they were working, so we adjourned temporarily to "Zing's, the latest "hangout." Peter Sudler, lawyer extraordinaire, was standing on a chair, pleading his son's case for the right to congregate in the West Orange Reservation after football games. It was hard to hear him with all the noise, and poor Jonny Genser couldn't hear too well anyway with his head in bandages—he kept muttering unintelligible phrases like "the wall" and "seat belts" in between the sips he siphoned through the hole in his bandage. He was being consoled by Frank Curnow, who emphasized his points by waving a crutch in the air. This was unwise, since eventually the crutch became entangled in Terre Williams' hair, and it took two experts in the field, Carol Bernau and Suzi Klein, two hours to disentangle it. When we returned to our table, we found our sandwiches had disappeared—we wondered, at the time, what Marlene Statfeld had been doing hiding under the table. A theft like this definitely called for police investigation, so we sent out for officers Frank Lawrence and Tony Picciuto.

Prophesy

While waiting for them to show up, Jean Revelle, in her appropriate position as Messenger of the Board, came barrelling in to tell us that the meeting was about to reconvene. To save time we hopped on a bus labeled "The Mover," driven by Paul Joffe, and reached the Board office in four seconds, at which Paul rubbed his hands gleefully and said, "It's so gratifying to find people that go for action." We hurried back to the meeting in time to hear the click of the typewriters and the ballpoint-pen action of court stenographers Laura Marsillo and Lorraine Krzyzewski.

Next on the Board's agenda was a brilliant new idea brought up by Jim Wulach and submitted to the cafeteria staff under the leadership of Annette Verdi. Jim proposed that chocolate flavor-straws be given away free with every carton of milk. Fred Daum and Rick Kardonne objected, saying that this was obviously a planned waste of time to keep the major topic, Nuclear Physics for Sophs, off the floor. A name-calling contest ensued and in the general chaos that followed, all the CHSILFY members, led by Miriam Frank, marched on the tables waving Ronnie Flagg and singing "We Shall Overcome" in Moslem. Most people took this as the signal for a free-for-all, so they rushed on the trustees and babbled incoherently about their varied proposals. The representative from Simmons mattresses, Ellen Sarasohn, was having a hard time drowning out gym teachers Snyder and Erlor with her arguments that mattresses are essential for "use during the five-minute period following the running of the six-hundred." Pam and Cathie seemed to be holding out for muscular relaxation the slow, segment-by-segment way.

Diane Wender and Lynn Halpern had arranged for pictures to be taken of tonight's meeting, so naturally a discussion ensued, led by Jane Baron and Ellen Penn, concerning the excellent way their yearbook pictures turned out the first time they were taken twenty years ago. This led to reflections about the "good old days"—Ted Wagner recalled fondly that his father graduated from Columbia a year before he did; Linda Ilkowitz remembered with pleasure her many happy days in French; Bob Wolfe thought back to the glorious day when the Gleem company finally signed him up for a twenty-year contract; and Miriam Ziegellaub stirred many a heart with her moving renditions of the Star-Spangled Banner and "Columbia Memories." Of course, everything wasn't rosy for the class of '65—Barbara Cooper said she remembered some pretty terrible food being served, Chris Bello made a few disparaging remarks about the assemblies, and Gary Yourkoski criticized the caliber of several library books.

The meeting drew to a close because Ronnie and Jayne Murphy wanted to get home and pay the babysitter. The meeting was adjourned by the Superintendent of Schools, Mel McDavit, who closed with the following remarks:

"Before we start with the farewell baccios, friends, I want to thank you all for this remarkable turnout tonight—I especially want to thank Kathy Silver, Linda Kandell, Jane Jennings, Audrey Schottenfeld, Jeff Saffer, Marcia Medwin, Susie Saslow, John Kindre, Donna Swidler, Janet Hirsch, John Meola, and Valerie Meyer, for their excellent achievements which we unfortunately have no time to go into at this meeting, but whose names are now a part of our permanent record. It's obvious that the class of '65 is leaving as impressive a mark on the world as the one I recall leaving on my garage. Until forty years from now, then, when I expect to see you at our triumphant performance at Woodman Field, I reluctantly adjourn the meeting."

1964 Football

The key word of the Columbia football team was "upset." The Cougars started slowly in an opening game less to Plainfield. They rebounded with three straight victories over Morristown, Orange, and a heavily favored Nutley team. Defense was the instrumental factor in all these victories. However, for the thirteenth straight time Montclair defeated the Cougars 49-20. Columbia pulled another upset over Kearny and was in turn upset by East Orange. The Cougars ended the season with a 14-6 victory over West Orange. Individual standouts were all-stater and Co-Captain Bob Novotny, Steve Schambach, Marc Small, Bob Masin, Greg Morock, Eric Perlmutter, Mark Winick, Greg Frost, and Co-Captain Steve Price.

1964 Cross County

The 1964 cross-country team continued its winning tradition by posting an 8-3 meet record under coaches Tom Weiner and Al Hector. The harriers started with five straight victories including one over South Side before East Orange defeated them. In the Big Ten the Cougars placed third and followed that with a fourth in the Essex County Meet. Outstanding runners were Chris Huston, who set a record of 13:10 at Branch Brook Park, and Captain Steve Lake, who subsequently set a 13:07 record at Branch Brook. Other good runners were Chuck Barelli, Ralph Iantosca, Craig Smith, Mike Abramson, and John Slackman.

The 1964 soccer team under Coach Eugene Chysowich compiled a 3-9-1 record. The three victories ended a two-year drought of wins. The Cougars beat teams from Woodbridge, Scotch Plains, and East Paterson. Strong individual efforts were given by Captain Phil Kupperman, Carl Segal, Dale Everswick, and Bob Crockett. The future looks brighter for the soccer team with the 1964 squad giving a big boost towards success.

1965

Swimming

History repeated itself as the 1965 swimming team posted a 8-2 regular season record. As in the past the powerful Westfield squad stood in the way of an undefeated season and the state championship for Coach Steve Frampton's mermen. Co-Captain Cliff Tichenor and sophomore Dave Pearl led the team as they partially rewrote the CHS record book. Co-Captain Jon Genzer, Robert Nadelberg, Jeff Wheeler, Stu Schwartz, and Eric Perlmutter also had a major part in the team's success.

Basketball

The basketball team had trouble reaching the .500 mark this year, handicapped by inexperience and a prolonged mid-season slump. Coach Fred Booth's cagers were led by Captain Roger Granet in scoring and aggressive defense play. Steady performance were delivered by Bob Masin and Andrew Lesnik. The big men of the team, Rick West and Jim Novick, got off to a shaky start but improved greatly at the end of the season. The most gratifying victory for the team was its upset victory of Kearny, avenging an early season loss and spoiling the Big Ten Championship hopes of the Cardinals.

1965 Wrestling

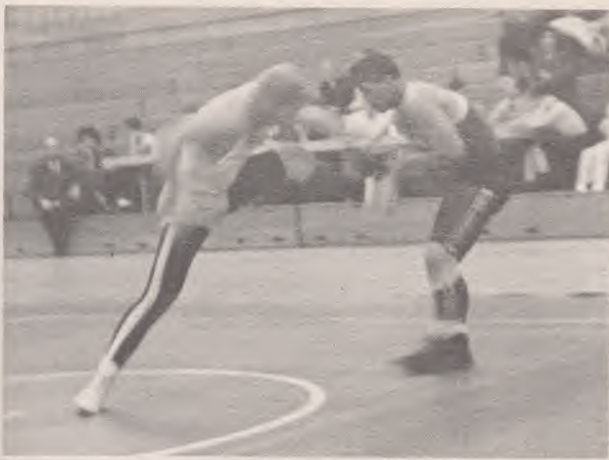

Under first-year coach Al Hector the wrestling team continued its winning ways posting an 8-2 record. The Grapplers losses were suffered at the hands of Union and Montclair. Big victories were scored over strong teams from Springfield and Cranford. Captain Harold Garwin started well but was hampered by an arm injury later in the season. Seniors Phil Kupperman and Jim Fiske were both consistent winners. The most excitement was generated by Tim Howard and Marc Small as was evidenced by their back-to-back victories in a come-from-behind victory over Cranford.

1964 Golf

The 1964 golf team was one of the finest in the sport's history at Columbia. The team compiled an 11-1 record in matches, losing only to West Orange, whom they had beaten earlier in the season. Among the victories was one over Bloomfield, who placed third in the state tournament which Columbia was not allowed to enter. Led by Captain John Cunningham and juniors Richard Lowenstein, Mike Fisher, and Robert Firtel, the Cougars won the Big Ten Championship for the second consecutive year. Unfortunately the golf team was dropped from the varsity program in 1965 because of lack of a faculty sponsor.

1964 Baseball

The 1964 baseball team showed itself to be one of the best teams in Columbia history. The season started with the Cougars winning six of the first eight. The team defeated strong teams from Union, Thomas Jefferson, Livingston, and Nutley, who was undefeated and regarded as the best team in the state. Fine performances were given by Captain Alan Gemsa, Mike Petroziello, Don Poper, Bob Masin, and Captain-elect for 1965 Peter Leiwant. Bob Wilson gave the most noteworthy performance when he pitched a no-hitter against Bloomfield. Coach Jack Fletcher can look forward to a good season in 1965 with Leiwant, Masin, Wilson, Tom Sweeney, Greg Frost, Gerald Cohen, and Bob Katz returning.

1964 Track

The 1964 track team had a disappointing season. The team posted a 1-4 dual meet record and won one of two triangular contests. Against strong competition in the Big Ten the Cougars placed fifth. Coach Phil Seitzer, however, was not without individual stars. Senior Andy Stone broke the school record in the pole vault with a 12-6 effort and placed fourth in the state championship. John Warfield won the state championship in the half mile and also set a new record of 1:57.3 in that event. Other standouts were runners Warren Schabbes, Chuck Barelli, Steve Lake, and Chris Huston and weightmen Len Bierstein and Harold Richardson.

1964 Tennis

The 1964 tennis team once more posted an exceptional season record of 13-1, the best of the Cougar teams. Under the leadership of Captain Alex Keyssar the team won the Big Ten Championship and reached the quarterfinals of the state tournament before being beaten by Mountain Lakes. The only other loss was to Millburn, whom the Cougars has previously bested. The outstanding players were the three junior singles players, Andrew Lesnik, Captain Keyssar, and David Sandler. Strong performances were given by Jack Heinowitz, Dick Cohen, John Lehman, Neil and Kenny Kramer.

G.A.A.

With its dependable and able faculty, the Girls' Athletic Association moved quickly into its year's activities. They shaped up with physical fitness tests, and it was not long before everyone could reach her toes!

This Fall the girls participated in field hockey and volleyball. They competed in school games and the G.A.A. offered an after-school tennis tournament.

During the winter season they participated in modern dance, apparatus, volleyball, and swimming. Following the in-school instruction, the G.A.A. participated in a new and unusual program of synchronized swimming, form swimming, and speed swimming. For the non-swimmers the G.A.A. offered basketball and apparatus practice. The G.A.A. also sponsored its annual Christmas party.

The spring season started with the 600 yard run. This prepared the girls for softball in and out of class.

At the final G.A.A. party, keys were awarded and next year's officers were elected. The G.A.A. had a very successful year.

The tale of the enchanted village of Brigadoon is a beautiful one told with song and dance. One day every one hundred years this village, somewhere in the highlands of Scotland, awakens. During this time the villagers might pass the day down on MacConnachy Square or gathering the heather on the hill. The cast included Mary Cross and Jackie Friedrich.

Comedy was the spirit found in Charley's Aunt, the junior play of the class of 1966, and in The Farce of the Worby Pierre Patalin, a Parnassian assembly production. The Farce was entirely a student production with a student director and student committees.
