Dedication

"And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, And their spears into pruning hooks; Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, Neither shall they learn war any more . . ."

Believing that man's only hope for peace lies in the establishment of good-will among nations, and convinced that the UN is the only means to that end, we dedicate the 1967 MIRROR to the United Nations.

HISTORY: CLASS OF 1967

Sophomore 1964-1965

Onward sophomore scholars-into the valley of death rode the six hundred . . . and so we entered Columbia. We can all remember our first dip in the Columbia pool, the sight of disemboweled frogs jumping from dissection pans in a biology course no one could pass, and not to mention the end of the first marking period. "The end of the first marking period." I TOLD YOU NOT TO MENTION IT !!! Yuk Yuk This was the year that the girl next door went out with senior boys and the year sophomore boys learned to play cards. It was the year L.B.J. swamped AuH₂ O and the student supervised cafeteria actually worked. Spring came suddenly and socks went suddenly, ceasing to be part of the "in" attire for teenagers. Finally, the first of three came to an end-everyone left singing Beatle songs, flashing MacClean smiles and waiting breathlessly for the junior year.

Junior 1965-1966

As juniors we were immediately hit with the PSAT's, CEEB's preview for worse to come. A few months later it was the SAT's, a three-hour marathon, and even the Merits, for those more bold. Testing did not occupy all of our time, only most of it. We juniors still had time to be thrilled by a film on surfing, hear the news of Mr. Amsden's one year sabbatical, and groan as our license appointments stretched into months of waiting. That year we were also fortunate to have a "Snow Day" due to near blizzard conditions the day before. We appeared back in school from our three-day weekend only to find that a pipe leakage had ruined several ceilings and damaged several classrooms—that's life! There were also the school elections, with a vociferous minority crying foul play and constitutional illegality. The year passed as we all settled into the Columbian routine and anticipated the day when we would be the big seniors.

Senior 1966-1967

Here we are! After twelve years of public education, finally Columbia seniors. The year of the cougar became the year of college pressure. We all scurried to our guides with catalogues, problems, and hopes. Soon, after final testing, deciding, accepting and rejecting, echoing through the hallowed Columbia halls were cries of What's His Name getting into What'cha Ma Callit University and other such related garble. By April, the college furor had settled and with all the results in we dedicated ourselves to the most consistent of all academic happenings, the senior slump. This was the year the boy next door went out and senior girls learned to play cards. It was the year we were responsible for the fragrant ammonium odors from the chem labs, the year the Columbian didn't seem to be published, and also the year of enthusiastic and victorious applause from athletic opponents. We spent three busy years at Columbia, and that's what happened, baby!!!

In Memoriam

to Carol Farino

To a Distant Friend

Tears of remembrance Not of dismissal A time to live Not to die

A Class brought together by darkness of death A Shadow is cast And the grave is filled with Fear in our hearts

We live today-We died yesterday

In Memoriam

to Ruth Geller

Since then whence came my grief, All else but the scar of her death Is gone. Gone now beyond belief, Beyond reason are her voice's breath Which then I never heard and Her face's shape that often near I never knew. For I could not transcend My own aloneness to bear That of another. Now she is lost Forever and, in part, I am to blame; To my own cares alone I was host, And never knew more than her name, Now I lose twice for never having known— Thinking myself complete, Unwhole, I saw her stand alone.

LAST WILL and TESTAMENT

- We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-Seven, being of sound body and of various stages of command of our mental facilities, do hereby bequeath to the faculty and members of the student body our many diversified talents and adolescent preoccupations.
- I, Margaret Wilson, leave Mr. Woodbury, Miss Logan, and the first floor janitors more paint on the floor than on the posters.
- I, John Bayer, leave my charge account at Home Liquors to Bobby Hume.
- I, Paul Feldman, leave to next year's homeroom 346 the official flag, archives, crank, motto, traditions, Mr. Pantazes and his munificent mercy.
- I, Steve Marks, leave nothing. I need everything I've got.
- I. Bob Scofield, leave Andrew Pogany, Bret Sendler, Craig Herold, Terry O'Brian, and Allan Rotberg a bar to replace the V.W. bus.
- I, Debbie Zucker, leave to teach drivers' ed.
- We, Paul and David Feinsilver of P+D Auto Sales, leave 32 unused cars.
- I, Scott Ashley, leave my pass-catching ability and my impeccable hands to the Korbas.
- I, Ellen Davis, leave so many boys . . . isn't it a shame?
- I, Angelo Iantosca, leave my ability to get kicked out of basketball games to Steve Burrell.
- I, Harvey Penn, leave to C.H.S. my school record of cutting and suspensions.
- I, Sue Lehrhoff, leave my knowledge of the best things in life to all underclassmen.

- I, Warren Krug, left.
- I, Andy Cooling, leave the cafeteria food to the Salvation Army.
- I, Marc Bussin, leave my van and its memories.
- I, Gwen Rose, leave my phone number to Miss Beach.
- I, Bob Waldron, leave my gridiron abilities along with my overall coolness and modesty to Marty Gross.
- I, Don Greeley, leave to take a trip.
- I, Bob Kisch, take my extemporaneous wisecracks with me.
- I, Karen Cariddi, leave to next year's basketball team my height-squared.
- We, the Furnace Men, leave to the faculty our song-"I Can't Stand to Look at Your Ugly Face."
- I, Angela Cali, leave pity for the man who comes between me and my sister.
- I, Joanne Cali, leave pity for the sister who comes between me and my man.
- We, Ed Pedota and Charlie Duerr, leave C.H.S. to join A.A.
- I, Bill Singer, leave Columbia richer.
- I, Marcia Pletter, leave the Cougars still shouting, "C'mon, Robbie!"
- I, Joel Chusid, leave the earphones in the language rooms with a bottle of dandruff remover.
- I, Ed Viola, leave girls forever . . . from now on it's women.
- We David Gittlin and Danny Metzger, leave the tearstained torn halves of a pari-mutuel ticket to all up and coming Columbia horse racing fans.
- We, Craig Baum, Don Brody, Roy Chvat, Jed Lowy, Dave Richardson and Charlie Ross leave the name of our jug band, The New Old Even 4+2 Unreal Jug Stompers, to anyone who can remember it.

- I, Richard Charles, leave my two first names to all my teachers to remember me by.
- I, Richard Farmer, leave an ashtray to the Anti-Smoking Committee.
- We, Tracy Houser and Kathy Lucy, leave our wild Friday nites to those who dare the same.
- I, Larry Lesnik, would like to return to Mr. Iosso the 4,033 n'est-ce pas's which he lent me during the 1965-66 school year.
- We, Ellyn Shapiro and Marilyn Larkin, leave Columbia sober.
- We, John Reeve, R. Daniel Schein, Von Eisenhardt, Jeff Williams, and Ralph Doyle leave: 1) the cherry trees to Mr. D., 2) our clubhouse to Mrs. Dharni, 3) a terrific view of the girls' locker room to Senor Quiroli.
- I, Cliff Kalb, leave the whirlpool in the football fieldhouse overflowing.
- We, Cynthia and Claudia Waldman, leave all our illegal parking spaces.
- I, Jane Jacobsen, leave C.H.S. to search for new territory where I can build, buy, rent, or steal (?) a Student Parking Lot.
- We, Sue Neidenberg, Andi Litt, Nancy McCloskey, and Louise Ogust, leave our weekend get-togethers to Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston.
- We, Bill Garfall and Barry Walsky, leave our brows to any bald teacher.

- I, David Blagden, leave my one remaining emergency in study hall to a lucky deserving sophomore with a weak bladder.
- We, the members of the ICC, leave a complete seven course ethnic dinner, a goldfish swimming in the centerpiece, and the Mamma's worn out Twister game to next year's members.
- I, laurie edson, leave my quest for original ideas in writing this class will to e. e. cummings.
- We, the senior cheerleaders, leave Mrs. Hightower to next year's squad.
- We, the swimming team of 1967, leave next year's team in deep water.
- We, homeroom 206, leave Miss vom Eigen the hopes of having a one-door homeroom.
- We, the girls of the C.H.S. girls' rooms, leave smoke.
- We, this year's select few seniors, leave to next year's select few seniors our parking permits.
- We, the students of the combined English IV–U.S. History II class, leave Mr. Hamingson and Mr. Kline with the ability to build up and break down everything.
- We, the senior football players, leave a bowl of mashed potatoes to the football team.
- We, the senior boys, leave the sophomore girls to pine away in our absence.
- We, the outgoing class of '67, leave Columbia for the wide, wide world, the bright tomorrow, the glorious future, and other assorted trivia.

PRO

The Columbia High School Class of 1967 chose Jeff Schiller's gas station as the site of its tenth year reunion. Among the first notables to arrive were Eric Millman, head of the Boy Scouts of America, and Richard Ziegler, Chairman of the President's Council on Physical Fitness. It was announced that Karen Raab could not be present, since her duties as high ranking official in the Salvation Army required her undivided efforts. Attention was momentarily directed toward one corner of the room, where Steve Lerner, notorious international playboy, and Fern Menkes, free lance nightclub bouncer, were found trading punches. In the wild struggle that ultimately ensued, Steve, to the amazement of everyone, took Fern in two out of three falls. Underworld mouthpiece Richard Schottenfeld was speechless for the first time in his life. During the confusion, Bob Kinsky, recently chosen among the best five dressed men in America, attempted to distribute John Birch Society literature, but was stopped short by Teamster President Dick Berger.

Truck driver Nancy Shapiro provided one of the evening's high points by lifting ballet dancer Bob Waldron over her head with one hand. Background music was provided by Jon Lass, playing the baritone kazoo, Hilarie Ring and Linda Sperling on the tuba, John Yurkutat on the harp, Louis van Schaik, John Reeve, and Laura Lippman teaming up on the triangle, and world renowned Charles Ross (who strangely turned prematurely grey ten years ago), giving his usual virtuoso performance on the jug.

Master of ceremonies Bob Chasnow, who broke out of Sing Sing Prison to attend our reunion, was preparing to introduce the first speaker of the evening when Bob Solmonoff, Ronald Kohn, and Richard Singer appeared, carrying Peter Glynn. This caused quite a disturbance, since Peter was still in his Volkswagen. Sedate Donna Weissman and Rachel Flink objected to such unorthodox behavior, and threatened to leave. Fortunately the affable, ever-smiling, public relations men Romeo Lerro and Al Cocozziello, were able to dissuade them.

The opening remarks were delivered by pocket-watch magnate Ralph Gabriner, who spoke on the importance of self-control. Upon returning to his seat, Ralph's basket shooting compulsion momentarily overcame him, as he lofted belly dancer Caroline Heck into a trash can from twenty feet out. Janitor Peter Geller immediately rushed to the scene and, to the relief of all present, announced that the can was undamaged. Incidentally, Caroline is recovering nicely under the able care of Dr. Byron Graham.

PHECY

Our second speaker, conservative neck-tie distributor Howard Coren, reviewed the class' personal triumphs during the past decade. Beloved Bob Wiggins, Howard reported, is currently a leading figure in the crack Weehawken garbage disposal team. It was noted that "Big Ralph" Leardo, whose revolutionary math formula for calculating 66 won him Nobel Prize honors, has taken up employment with ex-classmate Bob Rothberg in the manufacture of two-button shirts. Another successful combo has been Larry Auster and Corinne Lax. It seems that Larry is working as an assistant apprentice copy boy for the Poughkeepsie Times-Herald, of which Corinne has been named editor-in-chief. We are still waiting to hear from Sue Yecies, who left for the Faroe Islands as an exchange student shortly before graduation, and has yet to return. More encouraging reports are flowing in from Ellen Klosk, who has made it as a secretary for the Kenny Jay Speed Reading Institute in Staten Island. Absolutely no one was surprised to learn that Lynn Rubenstein had recently been chosen Miss Congeniality of 1977, just in time to appear at Richard Schein's Rambler Pavilion in the Philadelphia Bicentennial, celebrating the crushing American victory over the British in the immortal siege of Hoboken (see Christy Schmidt's Ten Battles that Shook Paramus). History major Sue Kandell, who graduated from Slippery Rock State with the aid of some judicious tutoring, was on hand to refresh our memories of the historic occasion. Additional successes were registered by Tony Galletta, currently president of General Motors, and Sue Lehrhoff, owner of a thriving risque button store.

At this point, Howard's speech came to an abrupt end, as refreshments arrived from the Farley-Dios Pizza Emporium. Festivities were temporarily dampened, when "Dashing Dan" Metzger and "Mashing Mike" Kempner were picked up by the police on charges of making book. To relieve the gloom, Dan Reinhardt gave a book report, and Jim Runcie told of his exploits as vice-president in his father's bank. Further entertainment was furnished by Sharon Klaif, star of Trent's follies, and Barry Leiwant, of late taking the part of Nils, in a re-run of "I Remember Mama." The show was rounded out by Ben Chirls doing a stand-up comedy routine, Jeni Isaac cavorting, and Sherry Shapiro just being friendly.

Needless to say, Don Brody attempted to photograph every morbid detail of the reunion. There will be a brief ceremony next Thursday, at which time the negatives will be burned in memory of our dear departed friend.

ACTIVITIES

The 1966-67 Italian Club went to New York to see the colorful "La Festa Italiana." In December we presented a puppet show. "I Bwoni Re Magi", with all preparations done by Italian Club members. There was a big spaghetti party in the spring, despite opposition from the macaroni and spumoni factions of the club

ITALIAN

The purpose of the German Club is to teach the members a phony German accent that will allow them to become official ski instructors. The club holds an annual trip which includes dining at a German restaurant and seeing a German movie. At the monthly meetings, activities ranging from music to lectures are conducted. The German Club is referred to by the "in" as the Deutscher Verein.

Club members keep up with news back in the old country.

CERCLE FRANÇAIS

The French Club, sponsored by Miss Jones and Miss Baxman, conducts its monthly meetings in French and tries to create an atmosphere of French Culture with discussions, plays, "la cuisine francais," music, singing, and visitors. The annual trip to New York included a meal at a French restaurant and a performance at a theatre. This year the Cercle Français invited the French Club from Union High School to a program of music and classical and original drama performed by the members. The aim of the P a n - American Club is to offer interested students the opportunity to learn about the customs and tradition of Spanish speaking countries. By gaining an appreciation of cultures different than our own, the members increase their understanding of the current problems facing Spain and our neighbors to the South. The club's activities vary from lectures to singing typical Spanish songs to the traditional "Fiesta de Navidad."

The time has come to expose the workings of the club, activities which even the CHS Highlights is ignorant of. The club is composed of the most select girls, its objective being to prepare them for life in our keenly competitive world, and to become young women of tomorrow.

ELECTRONICS

According to the F.C.C., the Electronics Club is known as Whiskey Alpha Iwo Ida Zebra Nancy, and for those not in the world of QSO, WA2IZN. These are the call letters of our amateur radio station. Under the trusteeship of Mr. M. Mathewson, we're "Hams." The maintenance and use of this station is not our only activity. Our once-ayear trips give members a chance to see the electronics industry, Bell Labs, RCA Institutes and Fort Monmouth. However, our main effort is —to give those interested a chance to investigate the world of electronics.

PERSONALITY

Preparing Columbia girls to survive in the keenly competitive jungle of life.

The Forum Romanum presents the opportunity for eager young Romans to learn more about Roman culture and literature. A major activity of the Forum is publication of the magazine, "Et Cetera." This serves as an outlet for the creative energies of bright Ciceronian scholars and Virgilian masters. In these and other areas of club participation, the aid and magnanimity of ubiquitous Magister Maximus Murtha is always appreciated.

FORUM ROMANUM

The purpose of Guildscript is to present to the school a representation of the creativity classmates. of To achieve this the members must read and comment on all the material submitted. In addition to the traditional poems, stories and artwork, photographs and music were included in this year's issues. Guildscript has evolved from a literary magazine to one that is concerned with all aspects of creative ability.

GUILDSCRIPT

Under the able supervision of the loquacious Mr. C. H. Mellinger, the Chemistry Club seeks to educate its members through the preparation of various explosive and evil smelling experiments that demonstrate theories of the science. All seriousness aside, the club supports informative lectures and interesting field trips. For example, we had an informative lecture on the Mechanics of Ester Hydrolysis and an interesting field trip to the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia.

CHEMISTRY

The Biology Club started a new phase of activity this year. It consisted of having each member work on a project dealing with any phase of biology in which he was interested and then delivering a lecture on his project. Richard Berger, James Gelvin and Steven Schwartz were the first speakers under this new plan. We hope that the idea will be carried on next year, giving all interested members a chance to run a meeting.

The quizzical expressions of these Chem Club members indicate undying curiosity and hunger for knowledge.

BIOLOGY

What is that sitting under Ann's hand on top of the displaced chest?

The embezzler on the right is being stalked through the smoke-shrouded mountains of Boisrume by bounty hunter Jim Runcie.

The Physics Club, under the energetic leadership of Tom Peff, reached new heights in the past school year. Featuring guest speakers and first run movies from far and wide, the club scheduled a variety of educational, yet entertaining monthly meetings. In addition to the highlight of the year which was a trip to the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia, favorite programs included the Bell Lab Laser demonstration, an "original" PSSC film, and the Scientific American paper-airplane contest.

MATH

Membership in the Mathematics Club of Columbia High School is open to all those who have had one year of junior high school math or have failed Miss Morrison's plane geometry course. Many worthwhile goals were accomplished during 1966-67. Our now ex-president, Mike Weiss, was deposed in an exciting coup d' état at the November meeting and replaced by a junta headed by Generalissimo Walter Talbot. Treasurer Dennis Farley absconded with the club's funds and is now believed to be prime minister of Ecuador. In a lighter vein, the club presented lectures on math, a film on digital computers, and a problemsolving contest for prizes.

A mis-(sile)-guided group of Physics club members at loose in the cafeteria.

MUSIC BOX

This year Music Box went through a great change. Until now it had been devoted solely to classical music. However, due to the liquidation of the Jazz Club and to pressure from our members, Music Box has become a club devoted to all forms of music. The highlight of the year for Music Box members was the trip to the Metropolitan Opera. This year we went to the new opera house at Lincoln Center where we saw Mozart's The Magic Flute.

Literary The Roundtable discusses works of all periods and all authors. The members pick the selections to be discussed. This past year, about half of the discussions were moderated by the chairman, and the rest by the other members of the club. A meeting averages twenty participants, including the always welcome nonmember. This past year the sponsor was Mr. Mendelson, the chairman, Robert Sternberg, and the secretary, Barbara Levy.

LITERARY ROUNDTABLE

Hey Ed, what happened to Baby Huey in last month's issue? Ed . . . oh Ed . . .

The Debating Club is an organization which people may join to argue. Because we are a relatively small club, our members have been given frequent opportunities to display their skills and techniques in reasoned argument. This past year, some very controversial and challenging topics have been subject for debate including Vietnam, foreign aid, and the Unitel Nations. Besides the actual delivery of debates, we have tried to improve each member's skills in public speaking.

DEBATING

"The crux of the debate lies in how successfully the antagonists assimilate, manipulate and judiciously regurgitate information, [related or otherwise.]"

The political government club is concerned with the political issues of our times as well as the functioning of a democracy in such situations as School Council. In order to inform its members on these matters, the club holds debates, discussions, lectures, and seminars. We hope many Columbians continue to take an interest in political science and continue to attend council.

The programs of the Pre-Med Club vary greatly. They range from a serious lecture by a famous surgeon, all the way to a far-out demonstration by a WAC hypnotist. We take trips to mental homes and dissect cats (only on odd Thursdays). A secret project known only to club members is the "Ha-Ha Box", a program designed for enjoyment and also to help a worthy cause. Most club activities are good experiences for those interested in a medical career and give the members a chance to get their feet wet in one of the greatest and most rapidly expanding fields of interest-medicine.

PRE-MED

The Future Nurses of America Club is open to all junior and senior girls. Its goal is to broaden their understanding of nursing. In addition to sponsoring a trip to the Bellevue Hospital School of Nursing, the club has had several speakers this year, including a practical nurse, a public health nurse, and a Navy nurse. In this way the girls of the FNA become better acquainted with various opportunities that nursing offers.

FUTURE NURSES

What did you say normal temperature was?

DISPLAY CASE

The Display Case Committee's purpose is to decorate the cases which are located throughout the halls. Much time, work, and effort are put into these cases, since it takes an average of four hours to complete one case. This year we have had many interesting displays. In December, for the Christmas season, we displayed an Italian Puppet Show, a display on Truman Capote's "Christmas Memory" and also on Edna Millay's "Ballad of the Harpweaver." In January we devoted all the cases to the foreign exchange students and their countries. Showcase is an activity for those students interested in creative effort. Meetings and workshops are planned to meet the interests of the members. The club produces skits and organizes other forms of entertainment which it presents to children at local hospitals.

SHOWCASE

The newly formed Ski Club started off its existence this year with films about Great Gorge and Haystack, and demonstrations of proper ski technique. As the year progressed, we continued to wait impatiently for Crelin's to send us some free samples of Head skis. Unfortunately, that great expectation met the same dismal fate as our project to launch a council-financed Ski Club expedition to Stowe, Vermont.

AUDIO-VISUAL AIDS

Room 244 is headquarters of the fastest group of projector pushers that ever roamed the halls of C.H.S. The cramped audio-visual office, cleverly disguised in utter chaos, is actually the control center of an omnipotent C.I.A. financed organization that spies on all school activities. At first light each morning, the members joyfully greet the exciting tasks that lie ahead. They are guided by the "dynamic duo" Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Stefany.

The Parnassian Society is the school dramatic club. It concerns itself with every phase of play production: acting, writing, directing, scenery making, and costume designing. Members are taught to "Suit the action to the word, the word to the action . . . that you o'erstep not the modesty of nature . . . The purpose of playing is to hold the mirror up to nature; to show virtue her own feature, scorn her own image, and the very age and body of the time his form and impression." -Hamlet

The purpose of the Business Club is to further an interest in business and to develop a knowledge about the varied opportunities for careers in the modern business world. At meetings which are usually held during the third Thursday of each month, discussions, demonstrations, contests, films, games, and guest speakers make up the programs. These club activities give each member a chance to explore the many professions.

The Art Service Club serves the school through art projects such as traffic signs posters for teachers, and holiday decorations. In addition, when time permits, we work on projects that appeal to us personally, such as paper sculpture. The Special Service Group assists at all school evening events. The members act as ushers, take charge of tickets and programs and assist the audience whenever possible. This year's twentyseven club members were under the tutelage of Mr. Buchholz. CHORUS

"CARNIVAL"

All the color and spectacle of the circus hit the C.H.S. stage in the 1966 All-School Musical, "Carnival". Headlining in Schlegel's Imperial Cirque de Paris were John Kragen and Geoffrey Pope as Paul, Mark Lapman as Marco, Robin Charin as Rosalie, Carol Moore, Barbara Bressman and Carol Ockman as Lili, Larry Movshin and Howard Weiner as Jacquot, and Steve Lerner and Chuck Fantl as Schlegel. The circus was never more fun.

"THE GLASS MENAGERIE"

Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" was the 1967 All-School Drama. Consisting of only four characters, the play tells of the problems of the Wingfield family in the early 1900's. Giving strong performances in their roles were Mark Lapman as Tom, Caroline Heck as Amanda, Ellen Weissberg as Laura, and Bob Tomara as the Gentleman Caller.

Here, pausing in the midst of their gala Christmas festival, are the jolly fellows of the Stage and Light Crews.

"SOUTH PACIFIC"

The magic of the South Sea Isles floated onto the CHS stage for this year's All-School Musical, "South Pacific". A flowing love story with music by Rodgers and Hammerstein, the plot is concerned with two romances, one between a French planter and a navy nurse, the other between a young marine lieutenant and a beautiful native girl. Featured in the show were Harold Green as Emile de Becque, Carol Ockman as Nellie Forbush, Bill Grodnick as Joe Cable, and Kathy Di Giovine as Liat. Providing the comedy were Julie Weinberg as Bloody Mary and Dave Richardson as Luther Billis.

Co-Captains Pedota and Duerr with Coach Frampton

As we have all been hearing, this was to have been "the year of the Cougar." However, Columbia's football team posted a 2–6 record.

With the largest number of Seniors in his career, Coach Frampton's prospects looked bright, especially after the first game. In this game, the Cougar's rolled by Morristown 13-0, Quarterback John Hanson was very impressive, and the touchdowns were scored on short runs by Senior Frank Barnes and Junior Bob Korba.

Brian Zappi breaks into the clear.

Scott Ashley (No. 53) tackled after a pass reception.

The Cougar's next opponent was a tough Orange squad. Columbia was able to pick up only 3 first downs, and lost to the Tornados 12–0.

The following week the Cougars were up against a Nutley team which had just suffered a last second defeat to strong Montclair. The backfield of the Maroon proved to be the difference, as Columbia lost 26–0. Richard Charles and Ed Pedota were outstanding on defense, but the Cougar's offense was stifled.

The story of the Montclair game is summed up in one sentence-Montclair didn't have to punt once! Montclair scored every time they had the ball in the first half, and scored 42 points. In the next half, the Cougars marched 88 yards for their only score. Rod Korba scored on a 12 yard pass from John Hanson. The Cougars played without Co-Captain Charlie Duerr, who was out with a sinus condition. The Mounties ended up on top by a score of 56–6.

The following Saturday brought a see-saw battle to Underhill Field. The Cardinals from Kearny outpointed the Cougars 25–20 in one of the year's most exciting games.

FOOTBALL

John Hanson (No. 10) getting off a pass.

Angelo Iantosca (No. 50) waiting for a pass.

With the return of Charlie Duerr, the Columbia offense came to life. Angelo Iantosca scored the first touchdown on a 21 yard pass from Ken Nichols. Frank Barnes' 50 yard gallop was the second Cougar score. In the fourth quarter, Brian Zappi scored from 20 yards out. Kearny, unfortunately, scored late in the game and emerged victorious.

The next week the Cougars, having their troubles on offense, lost to East Orange 28–0. The next week, Plainfield routed Columbia 33–8. Ken Nichols scored the touchdown on a two-yard plunge. Now all eyes were on the West Orange game.

Brian Zappi (No. 20) eluding tacklers.

The Seniors on the 1966 Cougars.

In the final game of the year, against arch rival West Orange, the Cougars unleashed their killer instincts and scored four touchdowns for a 26–14 victory. Barnes and Zappi each scored twice, and the Cougar's season ended on a happy note. This was Columbia's ninth victory in a row over West Orange. A fitting end to the season.

The final victory ended the football careers for many of the Cougars. Some of the twenty-two Seniors will play ball in college. Most will not. These boys have gained much from playing football. The class of '67 sends its best wishes to new coach Harry Johnston and all future Cougar elevens.

SOCCER

Under Coach Eugene Chyzowych, the 1966 Cougar soccer team compiled the best record in the school's history, a 5-7-2 record. Led by Co-Captain Bard Shollenberger on defense, and Co-Captain Ralph Gabriner on offense, the Cougars continued the precedent of improving on last year's record. The Cougar goalie, Roger Brauchli, had a terrific season, and his five shutouts broke the existing record held by the immortal Elliot Satsky. In the past, soccer may not have been Columbia's most popular sport, but the continued success of the team may change this attitude.

LAST ROW: Maybaum, Al Dietz, Martini, Streietferdt, Pogany, J. Kessler, Smith, Friedlander, Halmo. MIDDLE ROW: Schwartz, J. Schroeder, Ziobro, Guarduci, Trupo, Varady, C. Schroeder, Larkin.

FRONT ROW: Coach Parish, Silvestri, Duleba, Geller, Norako, Mc-Garry, Spies, D. Kessler, Evertz, Gruning. Missing: Andy Dietz, West, Bayley.

The 1966 edition of Columbia's Harriers posted an 8-4 record in dual meets under the leadership of Coach Jack Parish. The Harriers were led by Captain Vince Norako and Sophomore sensation Marty Halmo. During the course of the year, Halmo broke the existing school records at Branch Brook Park, South Mountain Park, and Warinanco Park. The Cougars finished third in the Big 10 meet, fourth in the Essex County meet, and twelfth in the State meet. Halmo led Columbia in each race. With Halmo, Jeff Larkin, and many returning lettermen, the prospects for next year are great.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Look out! Here come the Cougars!

After a quick start, this year's Cougar Five was plagued by injuries and finished with a 7-11 mark in Big 10 play. The team was led by the scoring of All Big 10 Robby West, and the scoring and rebounding of Angelo Iantosca.

In the season's opener against a weak team from Kearny, West was brilliant and scored 36 points. Ron Beal pulled down 20 rebounds, and the Cougars looked very good. Led by West's 19 the Cougars next beat Montclair. West was aided by Mark Levin's 8 points.

The Cougars were disappointing in their next outing as they were not able to handle a West Orange press. Bad ball handling resulted in the loss of an early lead. West was high with 11 points. The Cougars lost again as they traveled to Orange. The Cougars played well, but couldn't handle Orange's height. The game was highlighted by Steve Burrell's 10 point outburst in the fourth quarter.

The Cougars had no trouble beating a poor Belleville five in the next game. West had 21 points and eight Cougars played in the game. The Cougars played one of their best games of the year against defending Big 10 champs, East Orange, and won handily. West had 29 points and Fred Singer had 14 for his year's high. Twelve points in a row in the third quarter broke open the game against Nutley, as Columbia upped its record to 5–2.

Disaster struck in the next game. Not only did Bloomfield rout the Cougars, but Fred Singer was lost for the season as he suffered an injury. The Cougars lost again, to Montclair, and Ron Beal was lost for the year. The loss of these two top rebounders was never overcome. Coach Booth was forced to bring up several players from the J.V. squad, and to rely quite heavily on sophomores.

With West making all eight of his shots in the first half, Columbia led Irvington by six. However, Paul Longinotti's 33 points led the Campers to a victory. This was the third in a string of eight consecutive losses for Columbia. During this time, West continued to lead the Cougars in scoring, while receiving help from Steve Schecter, Blair Zwillman, and Norm Schaeffer. Columbia put up one of its best efforts in losing at home to West Orange. The game was close all the way, due to Robby West's 28 points, and Steve Schecter's 10. The Cougars lost by three points.

Columbia broke out of its slump by beating Belleville 52–40. Angelo Iantosca led all scorers with his first 20point performance. The highlight of the season was the last game victory over Nutley by a score of 92–54. Robby West led the Cougar scoring with a fantastic 44 point performance. This outburst set a new school scoring record. It was a fitting finish to West's fine junior year. With West and the experienced juniors and sophomores, prospects for next year are extremely good.

This year's Columbia swimming team posted a fine 8–3 record in dual meets, with two of the losses to perennial state-champs Westfield. The team was led by Co-Captains Dave Pearl and Steve Stetson.

The Penguins finished second in the Essex County meet. The Co-Captains were aided by fine performances from Bob Skarzynske and Lance Tichenor. Columbia also finished third in the State meet. Pearl set the meet record in the 100 yard butterfly. Steve Stetson and Ken Heyman also placed well in their respective races.

The season was highlighted by Dave Pearl's victory in the 100 yard butterfly at the Eastern U.S. Interscholastic meet.

During the season, the Penguins also relied on Seniors Ken Jay, and Mark Black, as well as Juniors Bob Goldblatt, John Scranton, Larry Freundlich, Bruce Rafel, and Richard Steinwurtzel.

The 1966-67 Cougar grapplers rolled to another winning season, posting a final record of 6-3 in dual meets. Under the coaching of Mr. Hector, and his assistant, Mr. Lomakin, the wrestlers fought their way to a fourth place finish in the district championships.

Most of the graduating matmen were in the upper weight classes, aside from Brad Reaves, a deft lightweight wrestler. The big men included Co-Captains Steve Sacher and Paul Paulos, Charlie Duerr, Rich Manna, and Bob Kisch. Sacher retained the honor of being the only team member to win a district championship. Bob Kisch will be remembered most for his unusual method of staring down his opponents.

The Seniors were aided by some excellent sophomore and junior performers. Junior Jon Cossman and sophomore Bob Hume were both very valuable assets to the team—Jon not only for his skill but for his leadership, and Bob for his unexpected contribution to the team's success.

Wrestling is probably the most punishing of all high school sports. Deserved credit goes to all who participated on this year's team, for an outstanding effort.
