Not because you knew how to teach,

when it was time to teach,

Or because you knew how to march

when marching had become important.

Not because you were able to lead us,

when we needed a leader,

Or to follow us,

when we needed support.

But because when it came time to choose between fear and courage

between integrity and equivocation,

When you had to choose between your needs, your fears and those of others, you always chose away from yourself.

For these reasons more than any other that you gave us,

We, the Graduating Class of 1971 would like to dedicate our yearbook to you, Mr. Meddaugh.

You can look for beginnings if you want to.
There have been a-lot of beginnings here.

Struggling, pushing sometimes failing for the first time;

Success to look back . . .

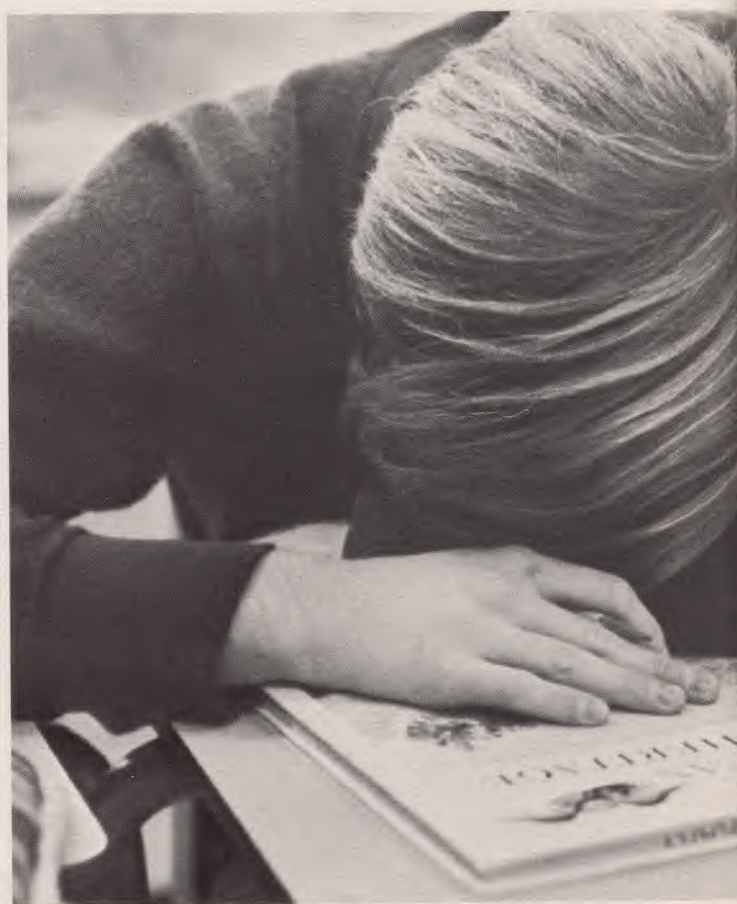

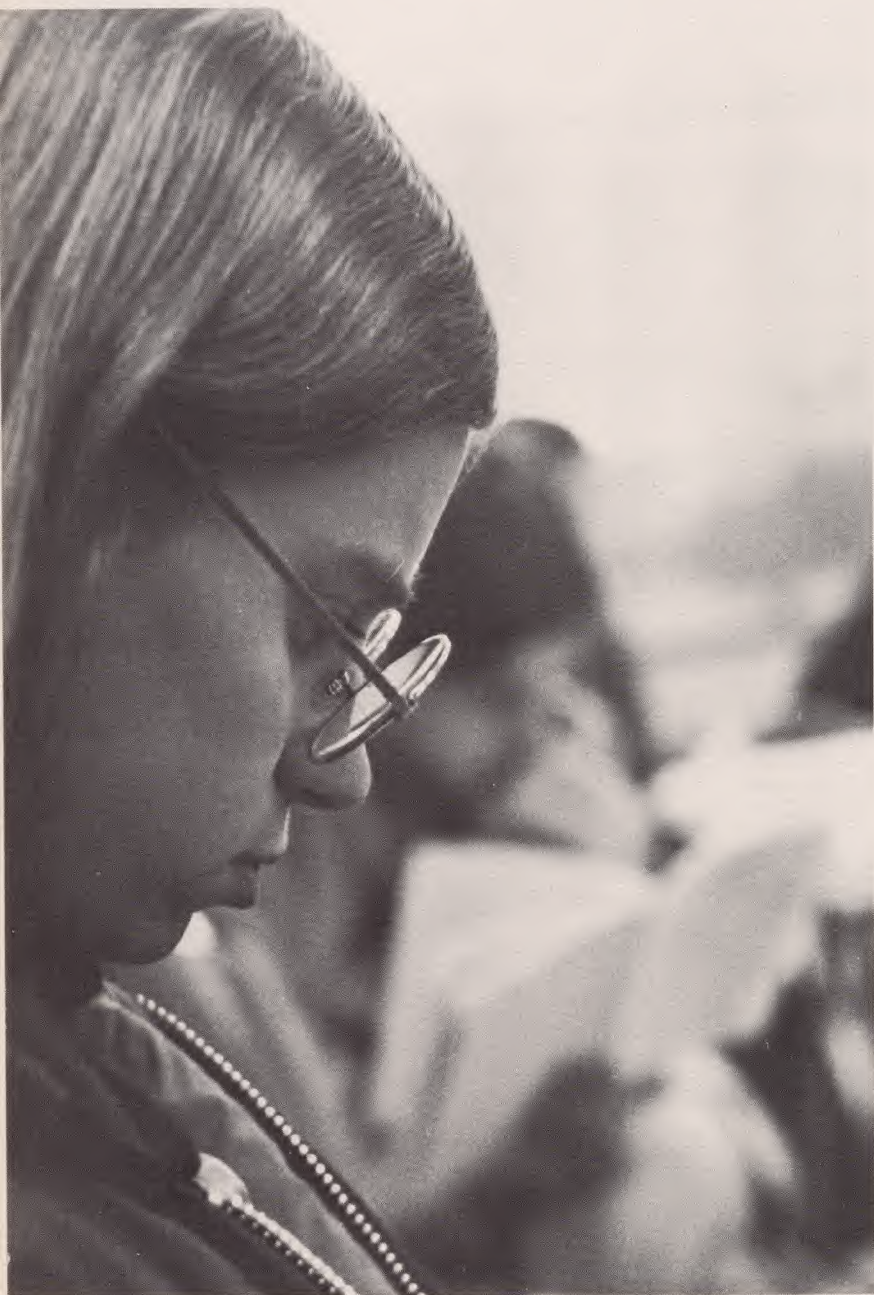

but only for seconds
and then on again, on.

For some of us there was neither of these —

For some there was nothing more than a six hour dream.
Each day.

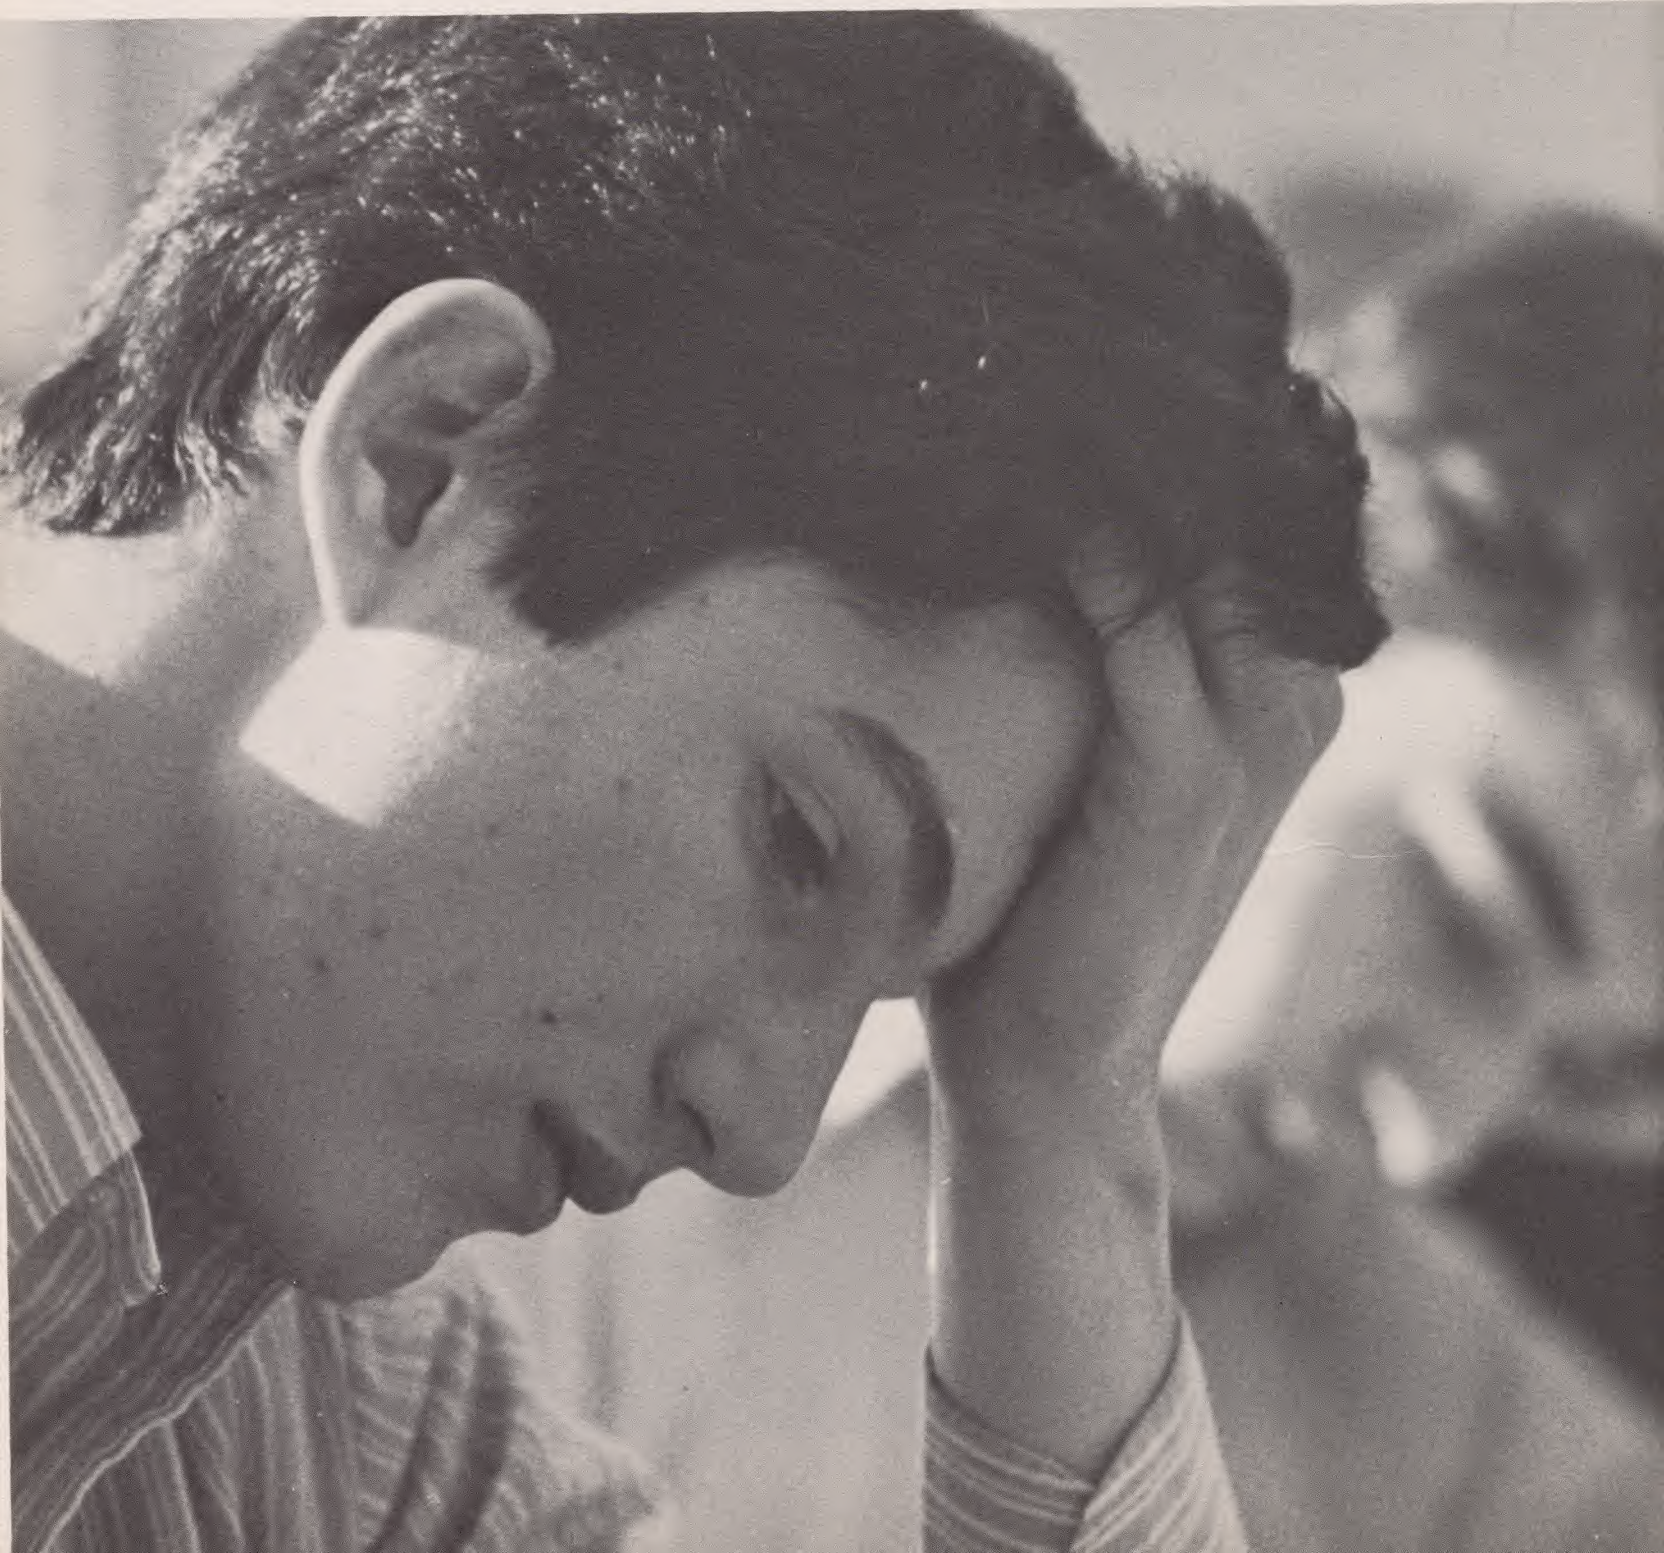

But somewhere we had all started thinking.

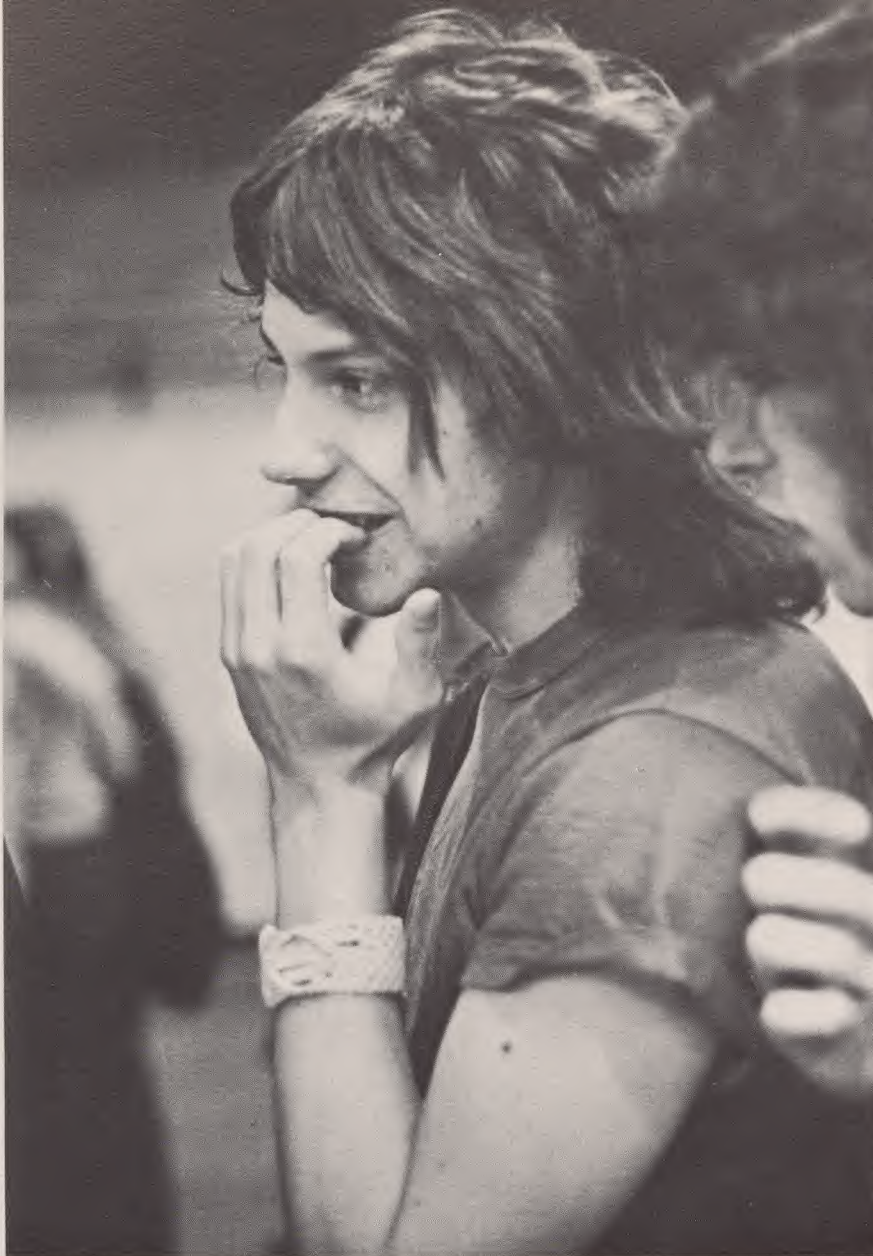

A beginning – bound in thought, hidden in fear,
stretched by dreams.

You can look for it
if you want to.

Something . . .

Lives beginning, ending, beginning again.

Something more than activities and athletics,
pressure and people.

Tempered, crowded, attacked by the realities of others . . .

you had to have something of your own —
something to make it worthwhile
for you.

Yet somehow, after crying and laughing and sweating, Living.

Nothing really seems to matter as much as Now.

Assemblies

The gain of eight free Friday afternoons last fall, due to the teachers' workshop on drugs, meant the loss of eight assembly programs. Having this to contend with, the Assembly Committee did its best to create memorable assemblies for the remaining openings. One way in which they did this was having various student — organized presentations including bands, a variety show and a folk assembly.

At election time last fall the students witnessed a political knockdown session between Congressman Minish and his rival Jim Shue. Later Columbia was visited by Dr. Donald Lyle Halsted, now a professor at the Rutgers Graduate School of Education, who presented first-hand information on the conditions in South Africa. One of the best assemblies was put on by "The Proposition", an acting group who made up skits impromptu on the basis of audience suggestions.

The New Building: A,B,C,D . . .

Over population in the community and a need for better equipped facilities has brought about the expansion of the old school building. Two new wings were added and are now in use. They include classrooms, a cafeteria, laboratories for science and the languages plus a new library. The House Plan system, which will divide the main school into four sub-schools, will not begin until next fall, thus the senior class which suffered through the construction of the new wings will not be here to experience the system they were created for.

Columbian Editor-in-chief Stuart Weinberg with the Editorial Staff

The Columbian has reflected the new introspective mood of the student body by switching emphasis from events of national significance to events and personalities within the school. The Columbian has become a more personal paper, featuring more columns and reviews, and including more features about the "ordinary" student, instead of only the more prominent personalities.

The expanded eight page editions are issued biweekly and generate much interest.

Publications

Guildscript Co-editors Sharai Freedman and Nancy Savel

Contentions Editor-in-chief Andy Warmflash and crew

Guildscript again attempted to compile the finest of student art, photography and creative writing. This is a hard task for one can not really judge the merit of a personal piece of writing or artwork. Started two years ago, Contentions meant to depart from Guildscript in taking a more political path, but the problem of censorship curtailed its political expression to a certain degree.

Many students were disappointed this year that these publications came out so infrequently.

Foreign Affairs

Toru Tsujimoto from Tokyo, Japan tells why he came to Columbia: "I wanted to study English, especially conversation. I felt that the exchange student system would be a good experience for me in my life although, regrettably, I will receive no credits for my schooling here back in Japan. I wanted to make many friends in the U.S.A. I also wanted to see Japan politically from the point of view of America or some other country."

C.H.S. was visited for three weeks by two students from the World Youth Forum program: Cecelia Gomez from the Philippines and Hudson Liyai from Africa. We were also the host for Marisol Susaeta from Chile who came under the Open Door Program with South America.

Council Strives For Constructive Change

This year President Roger Greenbaum and Vice-President Tim Lee have had perhaps the most important responsibilities ever assigned to school officers. They have had the task of creating a new constitution to be used under the House Plan system next year and have also been given the opportunity to bring about change.

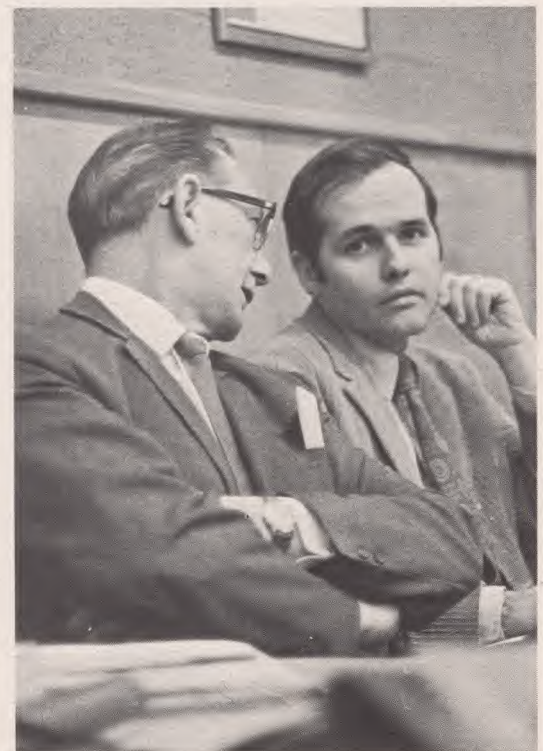

Late last year Council began forming a series of ad hoc committees to discuss or act upon certain issues. Committees like Liaison, which deals with the eleven student proposals from 1969-70; FSPAC, which provides a tie between students, faculty and administration; and Curriculum Committee, which makes recommendations for course additions — all have given the present student government the means with which to make some of the much needed changes here.

The first half of the season was a complete disaster for the Cougars as they lost to Morristown 28-6, Millburn 38-8, Livingston 20-8, Orange 20-12, and Nutley 27-0. The Cougars then began to play more to their true potential and lost three tough, consecutive games to Montclair 14-0, Kearny 13-7, and East Orange 11-8. In the final game, Columbia put it together and defeated rival West Orange 8-0.

Despite a successful season, the 1970 soccer team ended its playing schedule on a disappointing note. On October 16, the Columbia soccer team lost to Bloomfield High in the first round of the state tournament.

Although the team was defeated, there were several bright spots for the 1970 soccer team. Early in the season Columbia upset Chatham 1-0. Later in the season Columbia tied Kearny 1-1. Columbia's final record was 10-3-3, the finest in the history of the school.

Several seniors were instrumental in the success of the soccer team this year. Co-Captain Warren Eick and Albert Magliaro made the All-State team, and Ken Pogash was an All-Big 10 halfback. Other senior standouts were: halfback, Jim Ullman and co-captain Mike Kogan; forwards, Art Feld and Skippy Miller and Marty Kromer, Marty Barkan, and Lou Popiel.

THIRD ROW: Manager Byron Chiger, Ken Pogash, Co-Captain Mike Kogan, Marty Kromer, Walter Jones, Rich Schoenberg, Orest Lebed, Rick Guber, Coach Gene Chyzowych. SECOND ROW: John Menza, Mark Spingarn, Co-Captain Warren Eick, Art Feld, Craig Smith, Ken Dreshel, Elson Seale,

The highlight of the 1970 Cross Country team's season was the squad's upset of a heavily favored Nutley team in their last dual meet of the season. Running on their new home course, Cameron Field, the Cougars were led by Walt Wygera who won the race in 12:27. Following him were Paul Gibbons who was fourth in 12:41, Jack Snedeker, fifth in 12:45, Peter Davis, sixth in 12:46, Mike Schuler, eighth in 12:50, and Charlie Smith, tenth in 13:14.

The Harriers, coached by Leonard Klepack, and captained by Jeff Dee and Jack Snedeker, finished with a fine 9-3 dual meet record, a disappointing fifth in the Big 10, a surprising third in the Essex County Meet, and a discouraging eighth in the Sectionals.

Coach Klepack summed up this year's team, which was hampered by injuries all season, this way: "Key injuries prevented us from becoming a championship team, which we almost were in spite of them."

It was a disappointing year for the wrestling team. Coach Al Hector's grapplers managed to win only three out of twelve dual meets, and just barely finished third in the district wrestling meet.

Alan Edson wrestling in the 130 pound weight class was the most successful Columbia wrestler. Edson tallied a 13-2-1 record, and he was just narrowly beaten in the district finals, 4-3. Matt Kenny, wrestling in the 178 pound division compiled an 11-3 mark this season. He too, lost in the district finals.

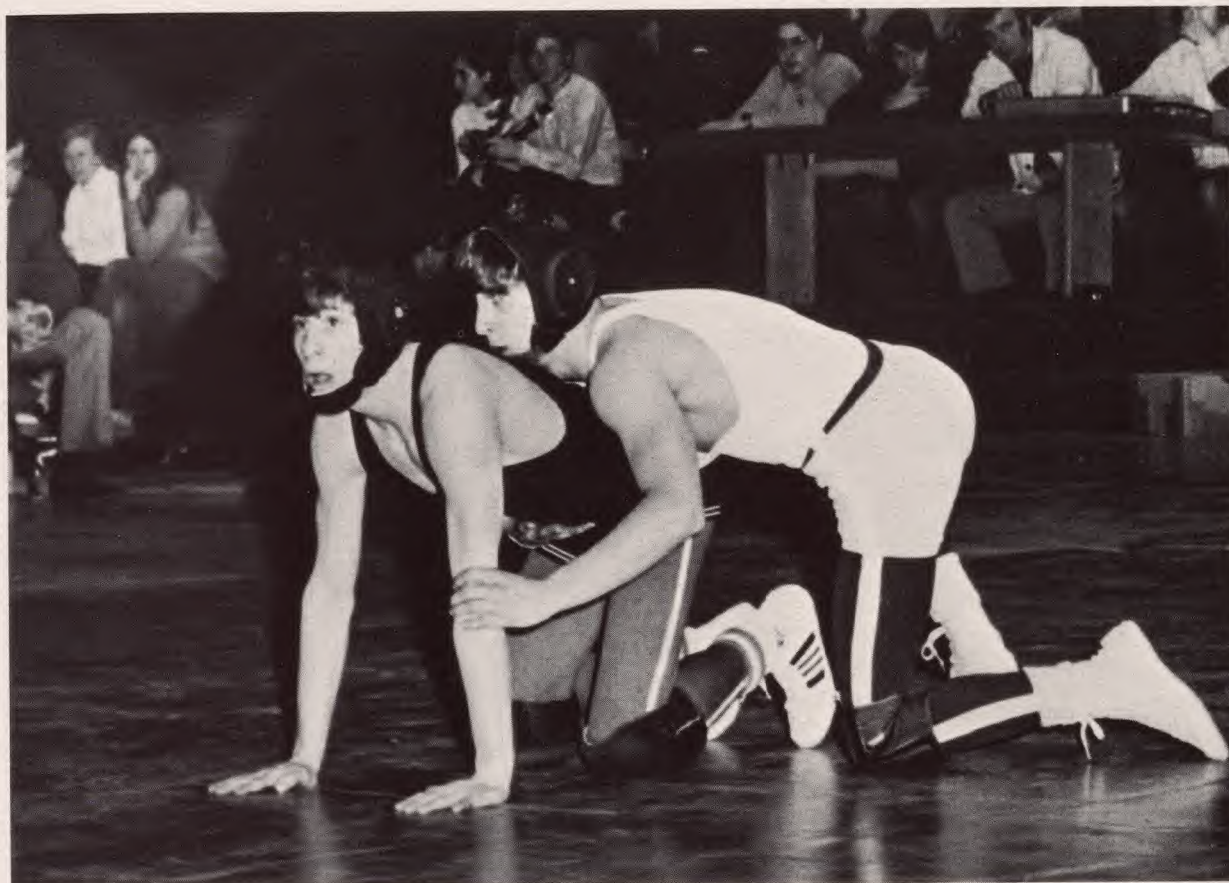

The most exciting Columbia grappler was Gerald Auriemma. Auriemma in his first year of wrestling was the varsity heavyweight throughout the season. Auriemma compiled a 9-7 record and despite his lack of experience, pinned his opponents nine times. Auriemma lost in the semi-finals of the districts in a highly disputed match that extended for fifteen minutes.

Other standouts on the wrestling team were Bob Machiverna, Jeff Metzger, and Larry Young.

The Columbian swim team began its season this year as usual; with an opening meet loss to Westfield. Then, under the leadership of co-captains Ben Mack and Eric Pearl, the Mermen proceeded to win the next six meets before dropping their second dual meet to the Blue Devils. Despite victories by senior star Dan Goble, and strong efforts by seniors Korner, Cooney, and Welt, the Mermen were able to win only two of the remaining five meets, bring the dual meet mark to eight and five.

Turning to the championship meets, the Mermen swam to an easy victory in the first annual Big Ten Meet. The team took a third in the Essex County Championship, finishing behind Newark Academy and a strong Seton Hall team. Goble demonstrated the old form in this meet taking a first in both the fifty and one-hundred yard freestyle events, and anchoring the second place freestyle relay team. The final meet of the season was the State Championships, held at Princeton University. The Mermen did not fair as well in this meet, placing only sixth in overall competition. Goble took a third in the 50 yard freestyle, Pearl took a fifth in the 100 yard backstroke, and the relay team of Mack, Hetherington, Pearl, and Goble placed third.

Plagued by injuries and lack of height, the CHS basketball squad posted a disappointing 2-16 season record. Senior Neil Hoffman began the season suffering with an ankle injury, while Rich Cimirro, at the request of his doctor, was forced to retire from the team late in the season. Because of the shortage of big men, varsity coach Pete Cross relied on quickness and a tenacious defense to compensate. The pressure defense used by the Cougars accounted for numerous substitutions, and a starting five was never seen. Seniors Bill Poutsiaka and Hoffman were used as both forwards and back-court men, while Phil Westreich, at an even 6', played at the forward position.

However, there were several encouraging spots where the Cougars played both a strong "D" and a very effective offense. This was apparent in the first Columbia victory over Belleville. In this contest Hoffman hit for 20 points, and Westreich popped in an additional 14. Two 2-point losses at the hands of Irvington and Nutley added unnecessary frustration to the players.

It all ended so suddenly.

There were many days when we never saw the sun.

Endless months of days which seemed to have lost their names.

Days of gray.

But in all of us something was happening that the color of the day couldn't prevent.

Something in the explosion of understanding.

Something in a shattering of an idol.

In a smile fired across a room.

Thursday's up and Friday's fall.

A three-year-old journey into ourselves. New directions. New faces. New people.

And it all ended so suddenly, that maybe nothing has really ended at all.

*They do me wrong, who say I come no more
When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door
And bid you wake, and rise to fight and win.*

*Weep not for precious chances passed away!
Weep not for golden ages on the wane!
Each night I burn the records of the day —
At sunrise every soul is born again!*

Whatever the future holds for you, you need a good bank behind you.

As you move from the halls of Columbia High to college — or career — or marriage, you assume the burden of financial responsibility. What better time than now to establish a relationship with your local hometown bank? We have served the community for fifty years and we welcome the opportunity to offer you the same complete and personal banking service that we have offered graduates in the past.

Stop in soon and let's get acquainted.

The people who made this yearbook possible are too numerous to mention individually. We thank them all for helping with the almost unending tasks of identifying pictures, collecting and collating material, typing, proofreading and still more proofreading.

Special thanks and appreciation go to the following: Miss Patricia O'Hanlon, Editorial Advisor, for help and advice. Mr. Edwin Faust, Business Advisor, for help in planning our financial affairs.

Mr. Wynne Murchison, our American Yearbook Company representative, who was always available, either by phone or in person, whenever we needed his advice, and was always ready with fresh ideas.

Mr. Marvin Gershenfeld, Mr. Richard Gross, and the rest of the staff at Richard's Studio for exceedingly fast service, and for coming to take pictures at a moment's notice.

Mr. Virgil Spencer, of the American Yearbook Company, for help in solving some of our trickier problems and the ability to interpret some of our more garbled layout instructions.

Mrs. Doris McKee, Miss O'Hanlon's substitute, for her devotion and long hours after school.

Mrs. Charlotte Mathias, Mrs. Jacquelin DeVinny and Mrs. Doris Fitzsimmons for their help with announcements, names and addresses, identification of names and pictures, and the mail.

Mr. Chic Gleischer for his services as a pilot, which made possible the photograph on the endsheets, and to Paul Solomon, for actually taking the picture.

Mrs. Mordina Fisher, editor of the News-Record, for her help in providing photographs of our World Youth Forum students, and the members of all-state musical organizations.

Hal Halpern Studios for the photograph of Laurie Holder.

Stanford University 1970 Bulletin for the use of the photograph on page 23.

Supplemental photographers Mat Sicignano, Richard Schonberg, Larry Denburg, Tommy

London, Sally Bergwerk and Howard Sobel for help in supplying the staff with hundreds of pictures whenever needed.

Assistant Business Manager Marc Hanfling for help on the business staff, Jamie Samson for help on the statistics staff, and Mary Ann Pizzolatto for help on the layout staff.

We hope this yearbook is truly a "mirror" of Columbia High School in 1971.
