Contrasts:

A kaleidoscope of faces
shifting, moving,
ever changing

in it we have found fragments that have colored our years

laughing,
worrying,
smiling, working

Days when it should have been July waiting,
    just waiting . . .
then — a glance,
    a smile,
    a nod
and the kaleidoscope has shifted

Striving to learn,
to win,
to become

A kind of sameness for us all yet different perceptions

We are learning
but find our ending holds a beginning

Turn around —
see the days, weeks and months become our tapestry of time

During the course of our three years at Columbia probably the one universal experience we've all shared is that of being taught. We've found ourselves in classrooms as often as in our living rooms. As a result our teachers have played very important roles in our lives. They have alternately inspired us to heights of creativity and bored us to depths of despair. Some of us have only seen them as chalk wielding enemies but many of us have seen otherwise. We have found advisors, coaches, conspirators and friends among them. Teachers have built us up, torn us down and then helped us to build ourselves up again. They have laughed with us, prodded, changed, chided, encouraged, and helped us. Teachers have helped to make our memories of our high school years but more importantly have helped us prepare for our future years ahead.

ART

Through the teachers and their knowledge, and the equipment at hand, I have not only learned of art and its uses, but of life and how beauty surrounds us.

HOME ECONOMICS

In the Home Economics department I took the course Child Development. We learned about the various stages of childhood, starting with pregnancy and working our way through the age of six. The course gave me a better understanding of the problems and hardships involved in being a parent. Each pair of students had to work on a project, ranging from making toys to a report on diapers. One of my most memorable experiences was having to bring a hard-boiled egg to all of my classes for one week, pretending that it was my baby.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

When I first came to Columbia, I decided after graduation there wasn't going to be any more school for me. I knew, too, that I wasn't going to sit around and waste my time after my senior year either.

In talking to someone about my feelings, they pointed me in the direction of the business department in Columbia. That department taught me to type, to take shorthand, along with bookkeeping, business law, business management, business math, general business, office practice, and much more. These courses teach you all you need to know to go into the business world.

The teachers in this department are an outstanding group of people. Not only do they take such a strong interest in the courses they are teaching, but they take interest in their students. These teachers train you for the business world in the best way they possibly can. They help you get through bad times both in class and at work. These teachers aren't just teachers, but friends, which makes learning a little more easier, and a better atmosphere in which to learn. These teachers deserve a lot of thanks and appreciation for all the students they have sent out of Columbia into the business world.

I would like to take this opportunity to say thanks to every teacher in that department for every thing about business and the world, that I know today. Thanks!!!

ENGLISH

Each January, when it has come time to make up schedules for the following year, I have always requested the same two English electives. Unfortunately, the computer has never seemed to envision Russian Novel or Creative Writing as my destiny. I'm sure that these are excellent classes but I don't totally regret not having had them. I have loved too many other things about my other English courses.

There are a lot of special things about Columbia's English program. The one thing which sticks out most in my mind is the variety that has been offered to us. After covering basics as sophomores we have been offered an incredible selection of courses as juniors and seniors. I guess that I have been very lucky with what I've ended up with. Because of the specialization of the classes, I've learned about a lot more than just literature. I've read Henry James and Chaucer and Shakespeare but I've also dined at medieval feasts, played Rosalind from "As You Like It" in a strange version of the "Newlywed Game" and studied Gothic architecture. Besides the fine teaching and well planned course of study, what I've enjoyed most is that there has never been a dull moment, because of the variety. And you certainly can't beat that.

LANGUAGE

When it comes to languages, many Columbia students have mixed emotions, but I am one of those who has only positive feelings. I really enjoyed taking French at Columbia and I was lucky enough to get some of the best teachers in the department.

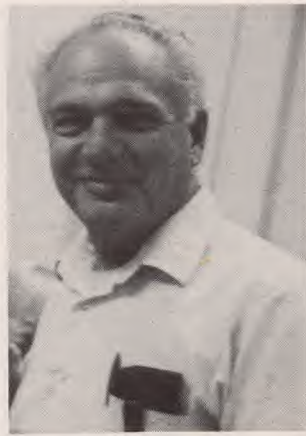

I can reminisce over many hours spent memorizing verbs in twenty tenses and learning grammar terms that I didn't even know in English. I remember having to read "Les Miserables" in French and instead getting the English version out of the library or having to present an oral report and being so nervous that I would forget the entire thing once I stood in front of the class. But I also have many fond memories, having parties with croissants and pastries, singing Christmas songs in French, laughing at "Tout la Bande" and Julia Child, putting on a play about coneheads and having to make elaborate projects. I'll never forget when I had to "express my creativity" and spent four hours gluing three bags of gumdrops to a cookie dough body of the "Little Prince" only to have them all fall off as soon as I got to school.

I've often been asked why I chose to take four years of math during my three years at Columbia. Perhaps somewhere deep inside me I enjoy the thrill of a new ulcer developing in my stomach just before a test. Maybe the comfortable fog which forms around my skull and prevents any form of comprehension from entering gives me a strange sense of pleasure.

Actually I think it was those satisfying moments after grasping a meaningless new concept in calculus, or successfully writing a program which, given their shoe size, calculates the average height of an aborigine, or discovering in Math 589 that my Porsche 924 will cost $10.00 a day to run and I'd be better off with a Chevette that kept me interested in the wide range of math classes offered here in Columbia.

I really don't regret my choice of math classes or the teachers I've had, in fact, in between all the grief, confusion, and frustration, I really learned a lot about mathematics.

In the beginning there was sophomore biology. And that was fun. We all fulfilled our dreams of becoming surgeons, dissecting little animals that we wouldn't have dreamed of touching otherwise. We bred fruitflies with no wings and red eyes, white eyes and curly wings, straight wings and black eyes, etc., etc. . . . So much for brilliant research. But along with all important discoveries there is much tedious work. Like memorizing hundreds of latin names of genus, species, phyla, classes, families, and knowing you'll never remember the names never mind the order they go in. Yes, science can be frustrating!

Junior year proved no less frustrating as we writhed through physics and never-ending double-labs pulling ticker-tapes, dropping bricks, or plotting the trajectory path of a monkey falling out of a tree. And then there were the movies. To qualify for a part in one you had to be over 60, wear narrow ties or in the rare case of a woman, low brown oxfords, and have black-rimmed glasses with elastic straps in the back. Their narrative skills enchanted us as they vigorously derived formulas and explained the mysteries of kinetic and potential energy. However there was a lot to be learned in physics and at the end of the year only one question remained unanswered. Coincidentally it was the same one they asked on the very first day: How does Physics relate to everyday life?

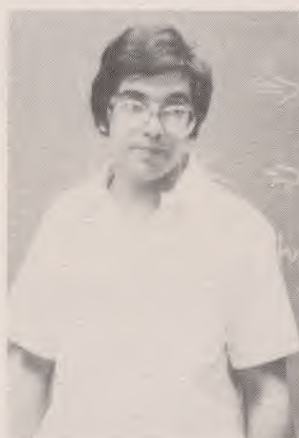

By the time senior year arrived and the school psychologist had deemed us emotionally stable and mature enough, it was time for Chemistry . . . Advanced Placement. Or as we affectionately nicknamed it; Chem A.P. Seven periods a week hardly seemed enough to learn all there was to know. But we struggled courageously with subatomic particles and colligative properties putting all our faith in our teacher and the bible of chemists: that big blue Periodic Table on the wall. The labs offered a break from this constant brain-racking. It was fun pouring things together and seeing what it makes. But it was only after you poured it on your hand and watched the flesh dissolve that you found out what the product was. It was a comfort to know where the eye-wash was.

But what ultimately makes the science program what it is, is the teachers. It must be their field that brings on their characteristic eccentricities. It is not uncommon to see a science teacher sliding down the hall on freshly waxed floors, or popping out the door periodically and wheeling around in a chair with wheels. It must also be their profession that builds up frustration to the point where they'll throw chalk full force at the board, or pour water all over students.

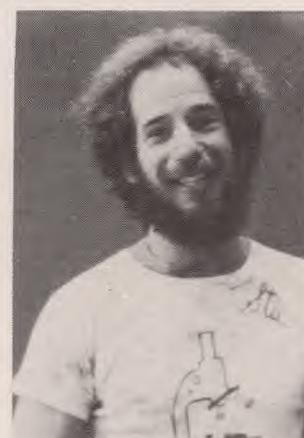

So you see in the end, there are a lot of stories and memories about the science department at Columbia. But those are only about one tenth of a percent of what there is to be gained from it.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Graphic Arts is a great course. Unlike most academic courses, the benefits from taking it are immediately visible and very tangible. It encompasses photography and all facets of printing technology.

The knowledge I've gained has given me the opportunity to participate in the work behind almost any school function which I want to. For example, due to my Graphic Arts experience, I'm a member of this year's Production Staff of The Columbian. I've also designed a T-shirt for PAWS.

Publicity posters and flyers for events such as sports competition, concerts, dances, and shows can be, and frequently are printed in the Graphic Arts shop. The Graphic Arts Department also prints official stationary and innumerable other materials.

In brief, Graphic Arts has benefitted me in two ways. In the long run, should I choose a career in Graphics, I've got a good basis for it. In the short run, it has made my years at Columbia more constructive and infinitely more enjoyable than they would have been without it.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The Social Studies department has played an important role in my education at Columbia. I have had some of my most exhilarating and depressing experiences in the three history classes that I have taken. Although sometimes I have found myself wondering why I spend so much time studying the past, I also find myself telling people that History is my favorite class. On the whole, my classes have been stimulating, time consuming and very worthwhile. I have only rarely found myself memorizing dates and such. Instead class discussions have been emphasized. I've gained a lot of very useful knowledge as a result. Because of my history classes, I've broken a typewriter, paid innumerable library fines and occasionally found myself locked in my room with nothing more than a notebook, books and the knowledge that by the next day I must have fifteen pages dealing with an obscure topic ready to hand in. My friends who have not taken as much History as I have often labeled me as crazy. I, on the other hand cannot understand how they possibly get along without the important insight which the Social Studies department has helped me to develop.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The year before I entered Columbia High School I was forced to choose my physical education schedule for my sophomore year. My guidance counselor gave me a mind-boggling list and I began the process of elimination. I can't do gymnastics and I'm small for wrestling . . . Alas! The choices to be made! I finally decided upon Health, Golf and Tennis, and Volleyball but was torn between beginning Square Dance and Tap and Social. After tossing a coin, calling my mother, and crying in the office, I opted for the latter.

September of my sophomore year came, and on my schedule was printed: Tackle Football, Field Hockey, Body Conditioning and Volleyball. I rejoiced; I had gotten one of my choices!

Actually, I've enjoyed the physical education program in the school immensely. There are classes geared to those with great physical prowess as well as to the slighter, more uncoordinated ones. I found the teachers helpful and friendly, even though I was forced to do thirty-one push-ups on occasion.

So with newly developed biceps and flushed cheeks, I encourage you to look back on your "locker room" days with fondness and appreciation!

CHAOS (Columbia High Alternative Opportunities School), now in its fifth year at Columbia High School, is a program for those junior and senior students who are interested in practical education with an emphasis on basic skills and knowledge acquired through a variety of disciplines and learning experiences. The program generates a personal group atmosphere that is achieved through close student-teacher relationships.

In addition to their regular classroom activities, CHAOS students and staff explore community facilities, sponsor speakers, conduct fund-raisers, and participate in recreational excursions. Not only does this diversity make the school day more interesting for the student, but it also offers him a broader scope of knowledge.

The Karate Club is a growing organization in C.H.S. under the instruction of Ms. J. Neide. Unlike other clubs in Columbia, the Karate Club meets two days a week. In February, the club consisted of approximately 14 people, and new members were joining at almost every meeting.

One member of the Karate Club, Debbie Sie, was very enthusiastic when speaking about Karate. "Karate is great exercise," she said. Although it is very vigorous, she commented, it is also very self-fulfilling. Karate, she believed, helps one concentrate on different areas of the body, and build up strength without contact; Karate uses "inner strength" and is "mind stimulating."

The students in the club learn self-defense tactics, and learn specific skills and forms associated with Karate. The members learn how to discipline their bodies and build up strength through certain exercises.

"The club is not only good for learning Karate," commented Miss Sie, "Karate is great for your body. Also, the self-defense that we learn may come in handy!"

Being in Special Dance was a worthwhile experience. It was good having the opportunity to dance in school, as it was very beneficial to many of us. Even though we had to sacrifice our lunch periods and give up a lot of free time, all in all, we still enjoyed it. We were given the chance to perform not only here, but at other schools as well as at shopping malls and on Suburban Cablevision. Gaining this experience was extremely important in acquiring confidence and receiving exposure to continue dancing in the future for pleasure as well as for professional advancement. Many of us will miss Special Dance next year.

We love to act and to explore all aspects of theatre. Through Parnassian we've been able to combine our various talents to provide entertainment and satisfaction to our fellow students as well as ourselves.

The hours spent on our productions have been some of the most rewarding hours of our high school experience. Besides — we couldn't make the lacrosse team!

The C.H.S. Stage Crew, under Captain Tony Barletta and co-captains George Sigal and Mark Pennock, run all productions in the auditorium. The crew is responsible for construction of sets, and control of lights and sound systems. When not working on a production, the crew is responsible for maintenance and care of the auditorium and stage equipment. The crew also sets up lights and sound for many functions held in the cafeteria and gym.

PAWS

PAWS, the Pupils Animal Welfare Society, meets every week. The group tries to make people aware of the poor animal conditions, and the inhumane things that are done to animals.

There is a PAWS shop that sells posters and other items to raise money for the animals. PAWS also has a bulletin board that advertises animals that are up for adoption. Films and programs are presented at the meetings. Members of PAWS write letters to our representatives concerning the destructive and painful animal traps that are set, along with other legislation that deals with the cruelty to animals.

The Math Team is a very active organization in C.H.S. The team is designed for those students who are strong in math, and also enjoy math. The captain of this year's team is Judy Wheat.

The team is part of three leagues, so far. The Math team competes in twenty-five to thirty contests a year. There are individual contests and team contests.

Last year, the Math Team came in first in the Stockton State competition. They were also first in the Iron Hills conference.

This year, the team is hoping to do well in the Stockton State competition, once again. They also want people on the team to participate in the Atlantic Region Math contest. The team also wishes to be represented in the M.A.A. (Mathematics Association of America).

The prom committee is an extension of the student government which functions to provide the senior class with the opportunity to make their last year at Columbia a memorable one. Besides planning and raising money for the Prom, the committee also plans and runs such activities as the Junior-senior Girl's football game, the Baseball All-Stars vs. CHS faculty basketball game, and the senior class camping trip. They sponsor bake sales, car washes, candy sales, and other fund raisers during the year to be able to provide the money for these activities and to be able to leave a sizeable cash gift to next year's senior class. The tentative theme for this year's prom is "Do you know where you're going?" and the chosen song is the theme from the movie "Mahogany."

'The Columbian' demonstrates wide coverage in '79

We wanted people to read The Columbian. Now they are. We wanted to produce a paper at least once a month. We had five issues in the fall!

All this was accomplished by a small group of faithful workers. There were moments of extreme frustration and moments of terror that we wouldn't meet our deadlines, but we survived our frustrations and met our deadlines, at least most of the time. We all remember that sense of pressure that goes along with Newspaper work.

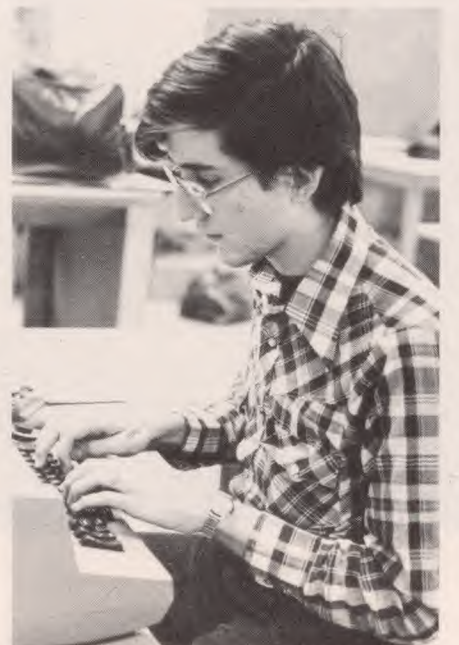

Things started looking up when 18 wonderful people worked frantically during the Teacher's strike to get out a Special Strike Issue in one day. There were two more issues in October and November culminating in an eight page December issue.

We began work on our first issue in August, concentrating on the Teacher's contract negotiations. We followed through with our coverage during and after the strike. We covered student interests ranging from county politics to in-school dramas to beer drinking. We asserted our opinions every issue on topics such as the Teacher's strike, class rank and the raising of the drinking age, students rights, and nuclear energy. We polled the students again on drug use, and we initiated a student spotlight feature each issue.

Communication is the name of the game. The purpose of a newspaper is to communicate ideas and happenings to its readers. As a staff we've had our difficulties, largely because of problems in communicating with each other, but we've also had our fun. The staff is largely a senior staff, including many senior reporters. We thank everyone who was involved.

The eyes see the dreams.

This year, C.H.S. was fortunate to have six exchange students; Chris Rooke from Australia, Claudia Bustos from Argentina, Karen Nagel from Costa Rica, Gloria Loyola from Chile, Vivian Artega from Bolivia, and Ariel Cohen from Israel. The students came through the Open Door Exchange with Latin America, and the Rotary program. Each student stayed with the family of a Columbia student.

Claudia, Gloria, and Karen came through the Open Door Exchange with Latin America. The Open Door program provides for a Latin American student to live with a host family during his summer vacation. The C.H.S. student who acts as a host, is then invited to the home of the exchange student in Latin America for a summer.

Two receptions were held this year for the exchange students. These receptions provided good opportunities for the foreign students to meet many teachers and students. Many of the exchange students made good friends here, with whom they will keep in close contact. There is a growing interest in foreign exchange as it is as rewarding to the exchange student as it is to the host family.

Our school musical has always been one of the most popular events of our school year. This year was no exception. The Pajama Game presented on Friday and Saturday, April sixth and seventh gave Columbia High School its annual touch of Broadway, as only Columbia can present it.

The leading roles were played by Keith Slobodien, Teri Rizman, Liz Eber, Marc Feil, Fran Sama and Tim Smith with supporting roles by Sam Younger, Troy Lowell, Robin Spielberg, Amy Hershberg, Jennifer Commings and David Savin. All were stupendous in their performances including the chorus members and dancers.

The school musical provides students with an opportunity to experience working on a show first hand as well as working together to form a complete and well organized production. The Pajama Game holds a spot in the hearts of all those involved with the production and will be remembered by Columbia High School as a truly remarkable event.

Despite several key injuries, the 1978 football team had its best season in fourteen years, this being the first time since then that a team won more than three games. The gridders finished 5-4, competing in the tough Iron Hills conference. The four losses were tough ones, even though the Cougars led at halftime in each game. The loss to a tough Morristown team, by a single point, was a Thanksgiving Day heartbreaker.

Guided by head coach Dom Deo, the Cougars sported an explosive offense that was strong in the first halves of their games and who outscored their opponents 42-7 in the first quarter. Led by quarterback Jack Sherwood, who averaged 8.2 yards per carry, they outscored opponents 155-113. This was the best scoring record since 1962. Sherwood led the team with 49 points. He had various options: giving the ball to his backs Jack Francis (20 points) and Rich Glancy (38 points), or going to his receivers Bob Bianchi, Steve Santillo, or Joe Stecher. Senior lineman Joe Borowski, Craig Godfrey, and Purvis McEachern opened the holes for the offense.

The defense was equally tough. Up front on defense were tackles Pete Ciampi, Steve Flach, and John Strong. Ciampi led the team with 46 tackles, followed by Jim Sheridan with 40 and Ed Lewis with 39. The ends were Jeff Byars and Mike Stagers. Senior linebackers Tim Dawson, Jay Harkey, and Jack Francis limited the opposition to low yardage. A quick secondary recorded eleven interceptions, with Bianchi, Bill Hendricks, and Mario Molinaro each getting two. The defense allowed only one touchdown pass to be thrown against them all season. Glancy led the team with eleven quarterback sacks.

The team was made up of outstanding senior and junior members. The senior class had good teamwork, unity, and spirit all through their years of football. The senior tri-captains Francis, McEachern, and Sherwood gave excellent leadership and the entire team cooperated with them, which contributed largely to the team's success. Bianchi and Chris Sloan, along with Francis, were injured and weren't able to play the full season, but they gave their best when they played, and were three of the most outstanding team members.

John Boykin did an excellent job as the football team's student manager. Also deserving recognition were statisticians Dale Golberg, Hillary Gold, Karen Goldberg, Jackie Roth and Denise Vitanzo.

FIELD HOCKEY

The girls field hockey team had an outstanding season, compiling a 17-1-3 record in only their second season of competition, under Coach Melinda Gardner.

In capturing the Essex County Championship, the team nipped Montclair, 2-1, in the semi-finals on a last minute goal and then edged previously unbeaten Millburn, 1-0, in the finals.

The Cougars also tied West Essex for the Iron Hills Conference Championship, going undefeated with three ties. The highlight of the season was a come-from-behind victory over arch-rival Wessex. Columbia scored two goals in the last five minutes of the game to remain unbeaten.

The only loss was suffered against Westfield in the state sectional finals. After tying the score at 1-1 in the final four minutes of regulation time, the girls could not sustain their momentum, and lost 2-1 in overtime.

New records were set by the team for the most goals in a game with eight, most victories with seventeen, and total goals with fifty-seven.

Jessie Brubaker led the team in scoring with eighteen goals and eight assists. In addition, the speedy center forward broke the school record for most goals in a game by an individual, by scoring four against Roxbury.

Eva Polcaro, a fullback, missed three weeks during the season because of a fractured foot, but came back to add more stability to the defense.

Center halfback Regina Sullivan, along with Sue Rechner, was named to the North Jersey All-Star squad. Brubaker and Sullivan were also voted most valuable players of the team on offense and defense, respectively.

Columbia, at one point, was ranked as high as third in the state, but finished with a respectable eighth ranking. Tri-captains Brubaker, Polcaro, and Sullivan were the only graduating players on the team.

The 1978 Girls' Tennis Team had a highly successful season. They ended with a record of 17-6 (12-3 in the conference). The win-loss record was about the same as in previous years, but the team had never made it to the sectional finals before this year, where they lost to Westfield. They also made it through the Essex County Tournament to the semi-finals, where they lost to West Essex. The team finished second in the conference, behind West Essex, and fourteenth in the state.

In a strong starting line-up, seniors Beth Kromer and Tricia Sinoway played first and second singles with records of 14-6 and 15-5 respectively. Sally Bailin and Sally Gruenberg were the first doubles pair and had a 20-2 record. Their only losses were to West Essex (which was twice avenged) and to Millburn in the Essex County doubles championship. These two were mainly responsible for the success of the team.

Lynn Sharkey at third singles, with a record of 16-4, was one of three juniors in the starting line-up. The other two were the second doubles pair, Nancy Sharkey and Sue Tolan, who had a record of 19-3.

"Do it for Mr. C" was the battle cry as the Cougar booters took the field against Brick, at Giants Stadium, for the Group 4 State Championship. A victorious 3-1 effort and the first state title in Columbia soccer history culminated a record breaking year. It was the first time, officially, in ten years that a Columbia team won a state championship and they were the first Columbia team since the 1951 football team to be ranked No. 1 in the state.

The team, under Mr. Gene Chyzowych's coaching, ended their season with an overall record of 22-1-1. This was their best record and the twenty-two victories were the most ever. Being the first year in this conference, their record was 13-0-1 and they were Iron Hills Conference, Iron Division Champions.

Skilled ball control and a stingy defense characterised the season. Led by sweeper Chip Confalone, stopper Jack Weber, and the sharp play of goalkeepers Eric Brief, Chris Coles, and Graeme Macrae, the Columbia defense recorded a school record 14 shutouts, allowing just 13 goals all season, which was in itself a new team defensive record. The attack was led by Dave Brienza (16 goals, 19 assists), Will Shue (11 goals, 9 assists), Brian Kerrigan (10 goals, 12 assists), and center forwards Steve Goldenring, who netted a team high 19 goals, and Dave Tunney, who came off the bench to score 11 goals. Rounding out the attack were Jim Madden with 11 assists and Dave Masur with 12 assists. Kerrigan tied a previous record by scoring four goals in state tournament games and Brienza set a new record with his 19 assists.

The tri-captains Brienza, Confalone, and Shue were just three of the seniors to which the success of the team was due. The seniors who had played soccer for at least ten years and during the past two years have had winning seasons can take credit for the successful outcome of this year's season.

Managers this year were seniors Diane Defino, Suzanne Lepple, and Lexi Welker, and juniors Colleen Shea, Lori Vaccarella, and Heidi Volk.

The Columbia Cross-Country team completed their most successful season in ten years during the fall of 1978. The boys compiled a 5-1 dual meet record, while placing no worse than fifth in any major invitational. They came on strong toward the end of the season to take third place in the Manhattan Invitational and the State Sectionals, second place in the Iron Hills Conference, and first place in the Essex County meet and the Passaic Invitational. The boys varsity was led by tri-captains Andy Myers, Dave Swatland, and Greg Wolf, who all went under the magic 17:00 mark on the Cougar home course. J.J. Clark, Dom Digoia, Eric Himley, Dave Hirsch, and Steve Mitchell filled out the most consistent cross-country team in Columbia history.

The girls team, despite seeing several of its key runners sidelined by injuries, turned in fine performances all season, including a third place in the state sectionals and first place in the Essex County meet. The team was led by co-captains, senior, Teresa Riordan and junior, Joetta Clark.

Swatland and Clark finished with eight invitational victories between them. Swatland was the first Columbian to win the state group individuals. He also was the conference and county champion, he won the Manhattan Invitational, and he set a cross country record for both the school and the section. Clark won the county, the conference, and the Group 4 titles. She was the first girl in Columbia history to do all three. Each had a phenomenal season and both received All-State, First Team honors.

Manager for the '78 season was senior Cathy Joost, who did an excellent job.

This was one of the closest bunch of runners in Columbia history — it was also one of the best . . . and it was teamwork that made it happen.

The varsity girls' gymnastics team, ("Spanky's gang"), ended an excellent season with a record of seven wins and five losses.

All-around competitors, freshman Mitzi Nolan and sophomore Carolyn Whinery, were the most valuable team members. Nolan set a new balance beam record of 8.2 and Whinery set a new floor exercise record of 9.15.

The team is young — since the only seniors were co-captains Maryellen Fleming and Kathy Willis — and small, consisting of only fourteen girls. All members did a good job, which made the 1978 team the strongest Columbia team ever, and which placed them eleventh in the state. The team was pleased with their performance and felt that they had an exceptional season. This especially made Coach Marg Spangler happy, since this was her last year as coach.

Managers were senior Kathy Holmes and sophomore Ann Swan.

BOYS' GYMNASTICS

The 1978 Boys' Gymnastics Team ended their season with a record of 10-3, but their league record was 8-0. The team was North Jersey Sectional Champions. The season didn't start off very well, but with a lot of desire and hard work, they improved greatly. The team's first meet total was 74.2 and their highest total was 112.1. They came within 1.7 points of breaking their all-time high of 113.8. This was the largest improvement in history.*

The senior co-captains, Frank Knowles and Don Wilderotter, were excellent. They worked well with the team members and hold a great deal of the responsibility for the team's improvement.

*The team went into the state tournament seeded fifth, but instead finished fourth.

Managers this year were Karen Chiger, Helen Kesler, Jenny Commings, Heidi Micchielli, and Nancy Silverman. Head manager was senior Ronnie Katz.

Once again the Columbia wrestlers appear on the verge of completing another successful season, posting a 4-3 record at press time. Moving to the Iron Hills Conference proved to be tough, with the team dropping matches to both Parsippany Hills and Roxbury, but the grapplers did succeed in handling most of their new opponents. The high point of the season was winning their Christmas Tournament. The experienced squad featured seven seniors, all of whom had previous varsity experience: Co-captains Frank Knowles and Joe Borowski, John Bogan, Jeff Ringle, Pierre Rodrick, Brian Jacobs, and Tim Dawson. Coaches Al Hector and Vic Lomakin can look forward to next year, with Fred Knowles, Kevin Bianchi, Rich Deutsch, John Alves, Pete Duchesneau, Paul Blizzard, Jamie Palazzo and Greg Beatrice all returning.

The 1978-1979 Bowling Season has been one of rebuilding, and shows much promise for the future. Although beginning this season with only four victories in their first 18 matches, the team mended their ways by taking two games from 2nd place Belleville, and then sweeping past Essex Catholic. In the victories over Belleville, co-captain Doug Berman led the team with a league-high 266 game, on the way to a league-second-high 656 series. Doug, a junior, leads the team with a 171 average, followed by Junior Glenn Thomas and Senior Gordon Wasserman. Also involved in these victories were co-captain Wendy Bierman, a junior, Senior Ira Summer, Junior Ed Schneider, and Sophomores Lynn Verde and Chris O'Brien. Other team members include Sophomore Andrew Greenberg and Freshman Jeff Wasserman. With only 2 seniors graduating next season, the Bowling team has the promise of fine seasons ahead.

The 1978-1979 Girls Swim team had a very fine season, posting a record of 11-5. Finishing fourth overall in the tough Iron Hills conference, the girls placed second in the Essex County Tournament. The young squad (only three graduating seniors) was led by Captains Bonnie Sheil, a junior, and Senior Andrea Zavesky. There were numerous team records set this season. Bonnie Sheil accounted for four of them, setting records in the 50, 100, 200 and 500 yard Free Styles. Bonnie teamed with her sister, Marianne Sheil, a senior, Debbie Karnaugh, a junior, and Freshman Susan Zavesky, to set a school record in the 400 yard Relay in a time of 4:03.6.

On a squad of 16, the team had but three seniors; Captain Andrea Zavesky, Marianne Sheil, and Margaret Kniffen. Along with Debbie Karnaugh and co-captain Bonnie Sheil, the juniors on the team were Ronnie Vilardo and Barbara Breen. Sophomores on the team were Aline Kolankowski (set a school record in the 100 yard Breast Stroke), Keir Himley, and Amy Houle. Six Freshmen, Dianne Kolankowski, Susan Zavesky, Laura Potters, Virginia Whinnery, Jackie Ledden, and Toby Hilbert complete a very young and talented squad. This should make Coach Kobylarz very optimistic about the future. An interesting addition to the team this year was Chris Hibbets, an exchange student from South America.

First row: J. Ledden, L. Potter, T. Hilbert, G. Whinery, B. Breen. Second row: B. Sheil, C. Hibbets, K. Himely, A. Zavesky, M. Sheil, P. Kniffen. Third row: D. Karnaugh, A. Kolankowski, S. Zavesky, D. Kolankowski, A. Houle, Coach J. Kobylarz.

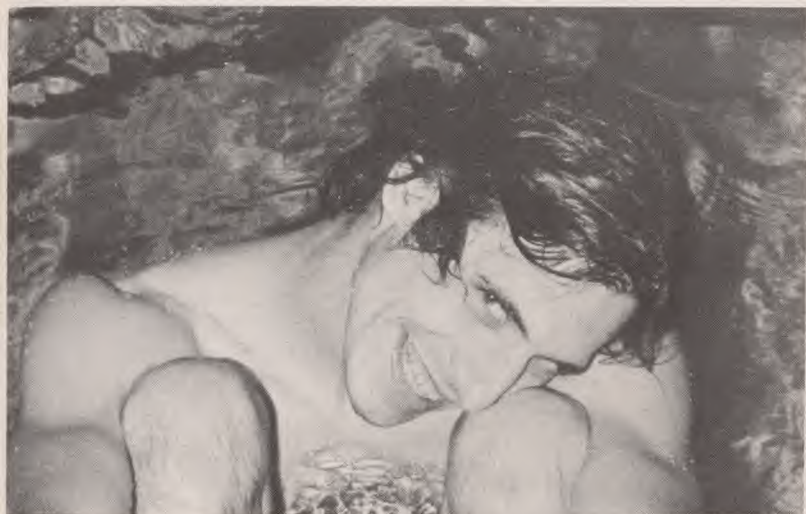

This year's swim team, under the leadership of captains Paul Gallene, and Michael Schechner, got off to a fine start, winning 6 of 8 meets. Labeled the "Cardiac Cougars" after two amazing come from behind victories, the team came back from 12 and 14 point deficits to win each meet by 6 points. Seniors John Hillman, Mike Walsh, Bob Spillane, and Ray Nolte, along with Gallene were very instrumental in this year's successful season. Juniors Tom Holleran, Doug Backlund, Mike Whelan and Schechner, Sophomores Tim Edward and Dan Doyle, and Freshman Jim Sheil were also involved in the victories.

The team has come off one of its best seasons ever, and with all of the up and coming swimmers the team should continue its winning ways for years to come.

Other swimmers on the team include Juniors Gary Potters, Greg Forde and Mike Trinker, Sophomores Bruce Spillane and Mark Gestring, and Freshmen Jim Cosgrove and Peter Karnaugh.

First row: J. Cosgrove, P. Karnaugh, G. Forde, J. Sheil, M. Gestring. Second row: D. Doyle, G. Potters, M. Whelan, T. Edwards, B. Spillane, T. Holleran. Third row: M. Schechner, M. Walsh, R. Nolte, D. Backlund, J. B. Hillman, B. Spillane, P. Gallene.

Columbia's varsity basketball team began this season with a new coaching staff under second-year coach Dave Knecht and a new conference.

Greg Tynes, former Seton Hall University star, and Bill Kehoe, a former Valley High School standout, aided Knecht as assistant coaches.

Columbia entered the Iron Hills Conference this year after a long tenure in the Big Ten. Using a pressing defense and a timely offense, the Cougars got off to an 8-1 record, the best start in 15 years. Highlights included an upset romp over previously undefeated and highly regarded Morris Knolls and the championship in the Berkeley Heights Christmas Tournament.

At press time, Columbia boasts a 12-2 overall record and a 7-1 slate in the conference. They are tied for the division lead in the Iron Hills and have virtually assured berths in both the Essex County Tournament and the State Tournament. It's been a long hard road but the Cougars have made the "dream" come true.

Senior captain Dan Sansone has led the Cougar bid for statewide recognition. The 5-9 guard is averaging close to 20 points a game. In addition, Sansone shattered the Columbia career assist record early in the season.

The unexpected hero for Columbia has been Senior forward Chris Collins. In his first varsity season, the 6-3 Collins has teamed with returning letterman Jack Sherwood to control the boards against taller opponents. The 6-0 Sherwood, with unusual leaping ability, has consistently battled the opposing teams' "big man", with great success.

Jeff Craugh, a 5-11 sharpshooter, has provided the Cougars with much-needed scoring punch. The "Pistol" has shown exceptional range on his jump shot, which has helped open the way for the Cougar offense.

Senior forward Chris Sloan, who missed the first half of the season with a neck injury, has given the Cougars much-needed depth and no doubt will regain last year's form. Sloan's ability will surely have proved essential to the Cougars by season's end with the tournaments still to come.

Bobby Bianchi, a letterman last year, has not yet recovered from a football injury, and the Cougars sorely miss his experience.

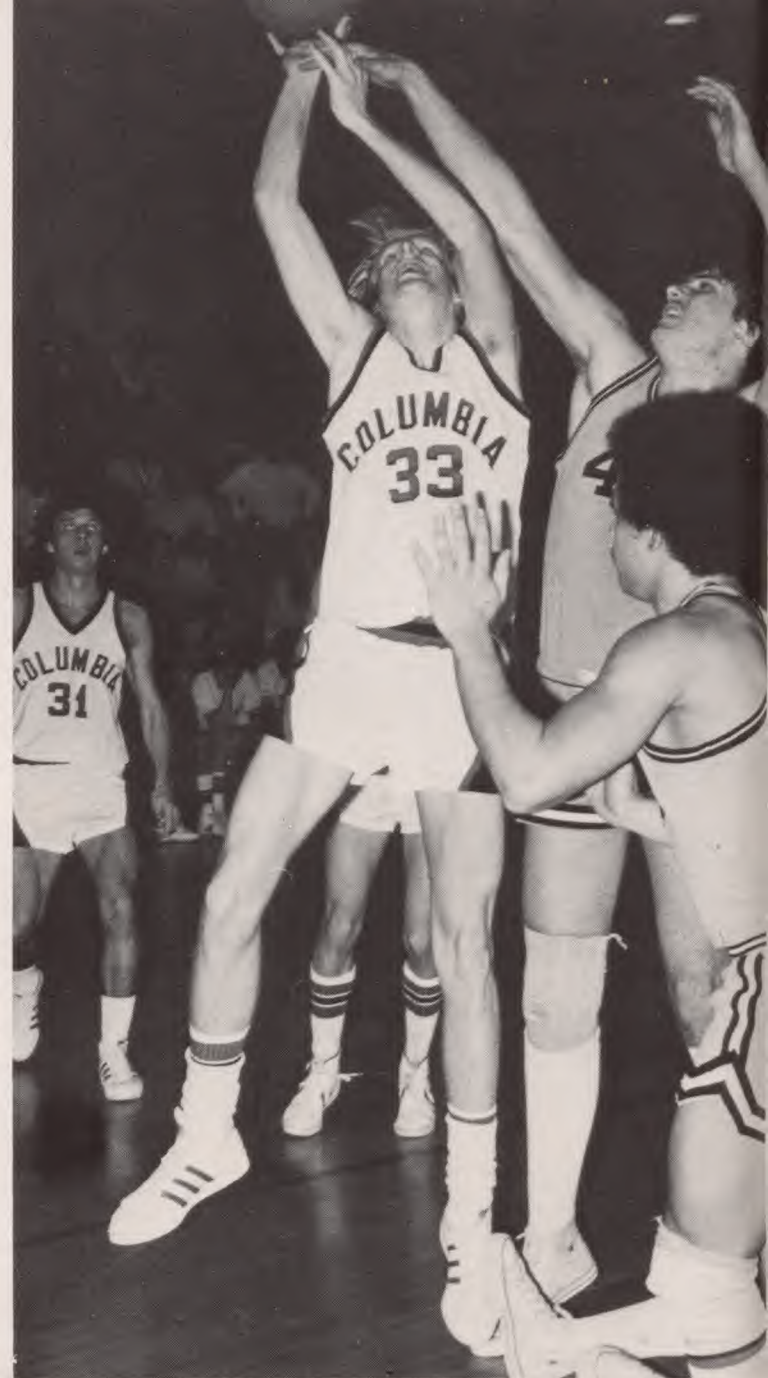

Junior Andy Wozniak, a member of the starting five, has had many big games and will be back to lead Columbia next year.

Senior Guards John Boykin and Joe Trinity, and Forwards Kirk Roberts and Mike Stagers have also contributed, filling in ably when called upon.

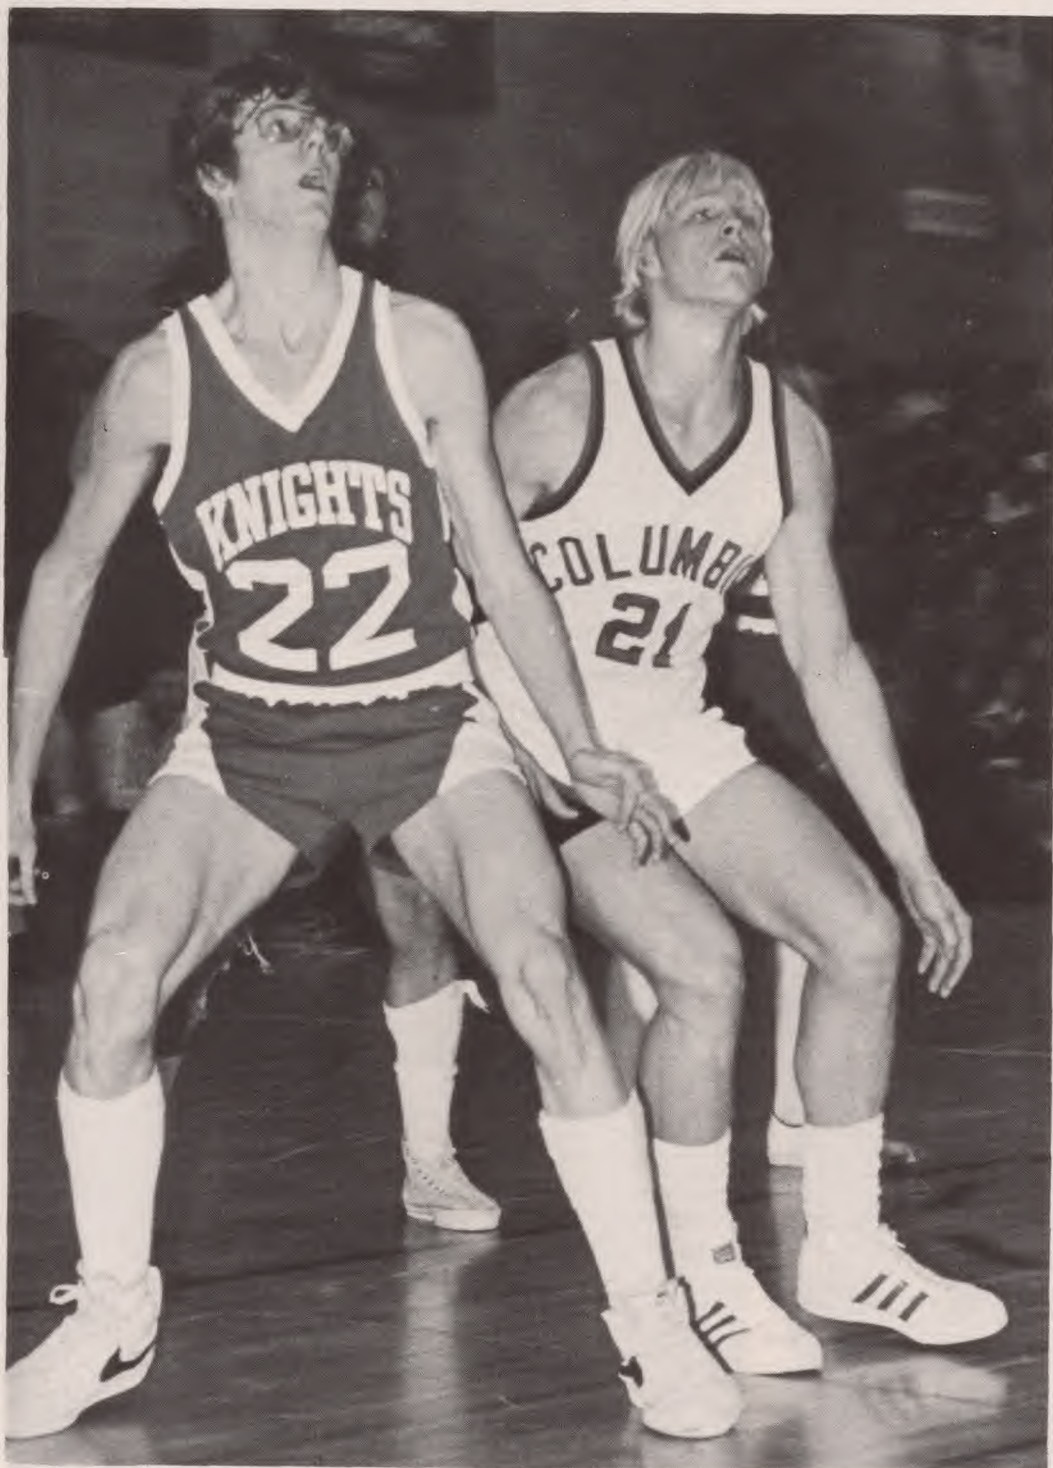

Juniors Matt Regan, Dave Masur, and Bobby Keller round out the squad and will all return next year.

First row: M. Waddell, J. Boykin, J. Trinity, D. Sansone, D. Masur, J. Craugh, B. Keller. Second row: Coach G. Tynes, A. Wozniak, M. Regan, J. Sherwood, M. Stagers, C. Collins, K. Roberts, C. Sloan, Coach Knecht.

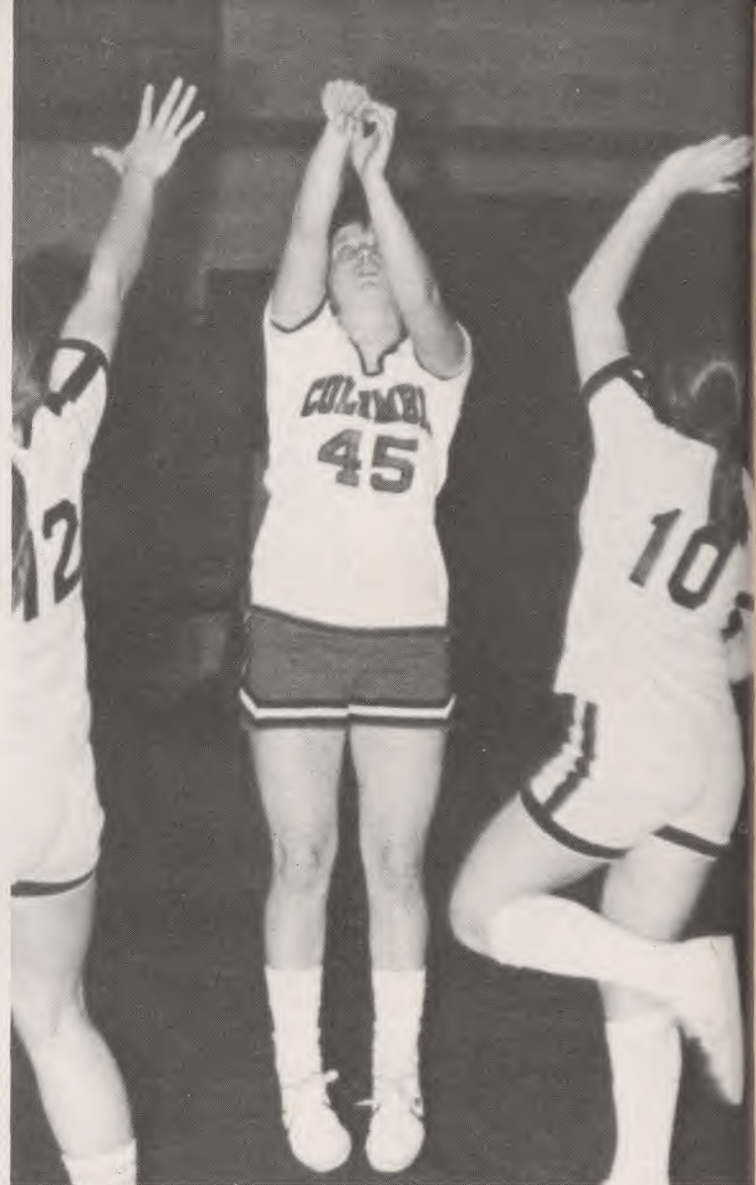

Girl's sports at Columbia have always been a part of the school's winning tradition. The 1978-1979 Girl's Basketball team carried on the success of past seasons holding down first place in the Iron Hills Conference while being ranked first in Essex County.

Ranked third in the state, the squad had the benefit of six experienced seniors. Tri-captains Regina Sullivan, Loretta Goerke and Marguerite Dempsey formed the nucleus of a well balanced team. Leading the team in assists, Sullivan was a superb playmaker for the team running the offense successfully all season. Teamed with Sullivan in the backcourt, Goerke's fine shooting touch provided Coach Tom Ruggiero with sharp outside shooting. Dempsey, while contributing to the offense, was the Cougar's defensive standout. Positioned at center, Dempsey led the team in rebounds and blocked shots. Anne Donlon, Eva Polcaro, Maura Guthrie, and Jessie Brubaker come off the bench to provide excellent support.

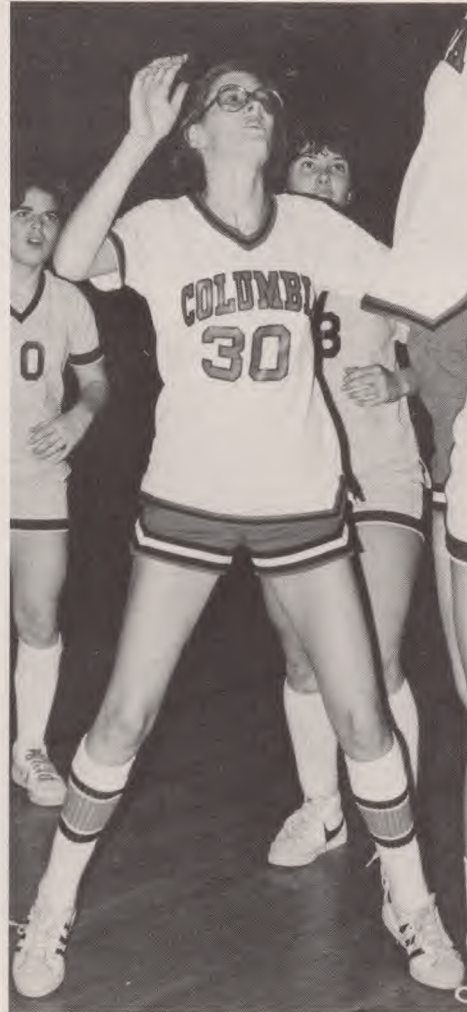

The defending Group 4 Section II champions had the benefit of having a talented group of underclassmen on the team. Juniors Lisa Rott, Mary Pat Sherwood, Susanne Rechner, and Doris Cohen, along with Sophomore Donna McTernan rounded out a team that has compiled a record of 47-1 over the past two seasons.

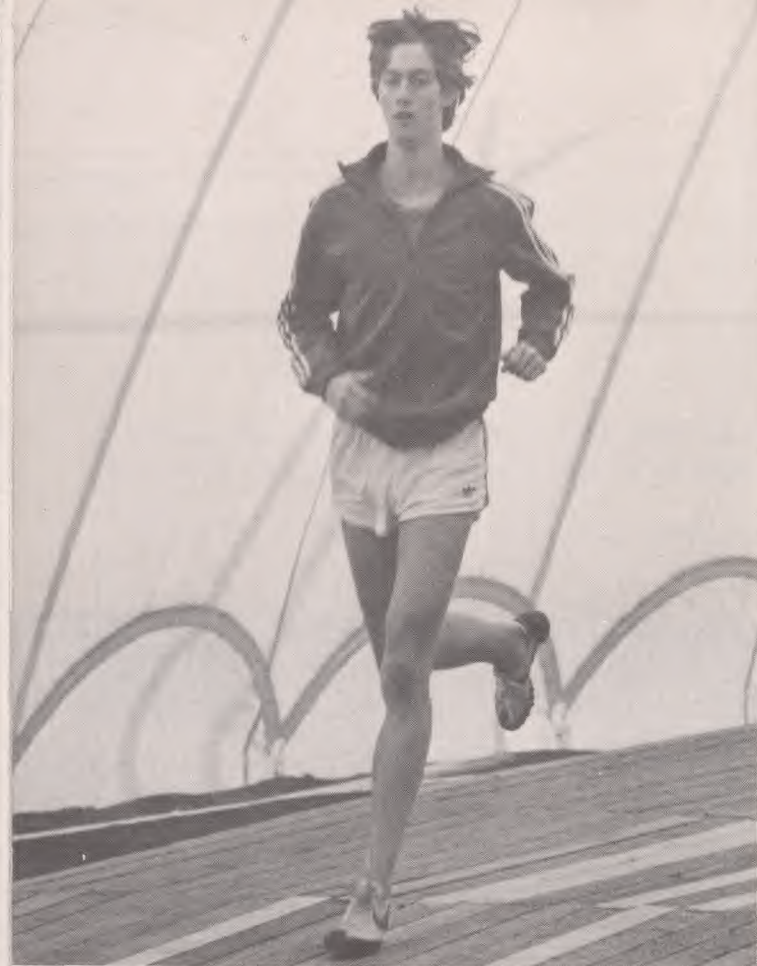

First row: A. Donlon, J. Brubaker, R. Sullivan, M. Dempsey, L. Goerke, E. Polcaro. Second row: S. Rechner, M. Sherwood, D. Cohen, M. Guthrie, L. Rott, D. McTernan, Coach T. Ruggiero.

This year's spring Track team will carry over 100 members, and Coach Klepeck intends to use all of them in the various Dual Meets. Last year, the team finished at 7-1 and won the Essex County Tournament. Seeded First in Essex County, the team placed second in the state sectionals. Senior Dave Swatland recently led Columbia to their first Group IV title in 35 years. He holds the school record in the mile and state record in the 1500 meter run. Joetta Clark, a junior, is rated one of the top five indoor milests in the nation. She recently won the Olympic Invitational and holds school records in the 1000 and 1500 meter runs. Columbia has the finest girls' weight team in the state in Seniors Susan Hollyfield and Yolanda Troublefield. For the boys, Phil Hartung is one of the best shotputters in the state. He holds the state record with a throw of 57'3". Other seniors playing important roles are sprinter Adam Goldberg, hurdler Eric Himley, distance runners Greg Wolf (2 mile) and Andrew Myers, Theresa Riorden, Cheryl Turner, and Doc Ellis.

The Columbia Girls' Volleyball team hasn't lost a regular season game in two years. Their record over the two years stands at 26-0.

Last year the girls won the N.J.A.A. Girls Championship, the Essex County Tournament, the Tournament of Champions, and the New Jersey Junior Olympic AAU Championship. Last summer the girls went to California where they participated in the Eighth National High School Tournament. They were the only team representing the East, and placed 15th in the nation. Late in the season they played in an exhibition match against the stars of the New York Cosmos.

The team of Kathy Weiss, Beth Caskey, Keire Himley, Michele Arancio, and Beth May, under the leadership of tri-captains Katie Drubel, Lynn Heckman, Regina Sullivan and Coach Chyzowych, hopes to defend their standing as one of the premier teams in the nation.

Front: K. Himley, K. Drubell, Lynn Heckman, J. Gainsberg. Rear: M. Young, B. Casky, K. Sheriden, M. Orancio, B. May, K. Weiss.

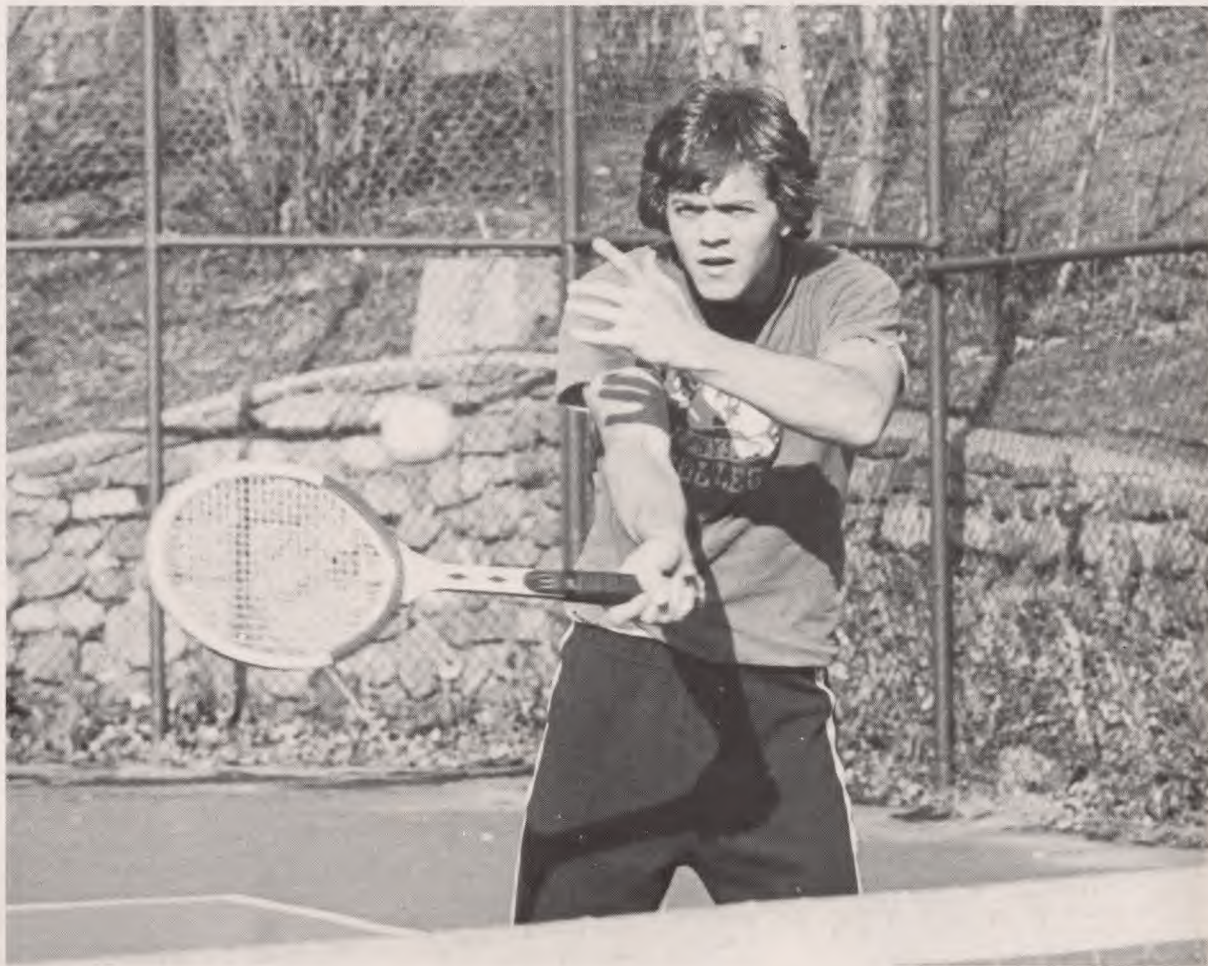

The Columbia H.S. Frisbee Team was the New Jersey state champions of 1978. With most of the squad back for the 1979 season, the team is looking to win a spot in the Mid-Atlantic College Frisbee tournament. This year's starters include Co-captains Dave Rountree and Mike Tiersten, Tim Bespris, J. B. Hillman, Larry Sklaw, Joel Price, and George Sigal.

Front: M. Becker, N. Rauch, C. Kemp, J. Ringel, M. Penok, J. Summer, A. Becker. Standing: J. Epstein, D. Silverman, B. Hoffman, J. Price, B. Stern, S. Garvin.

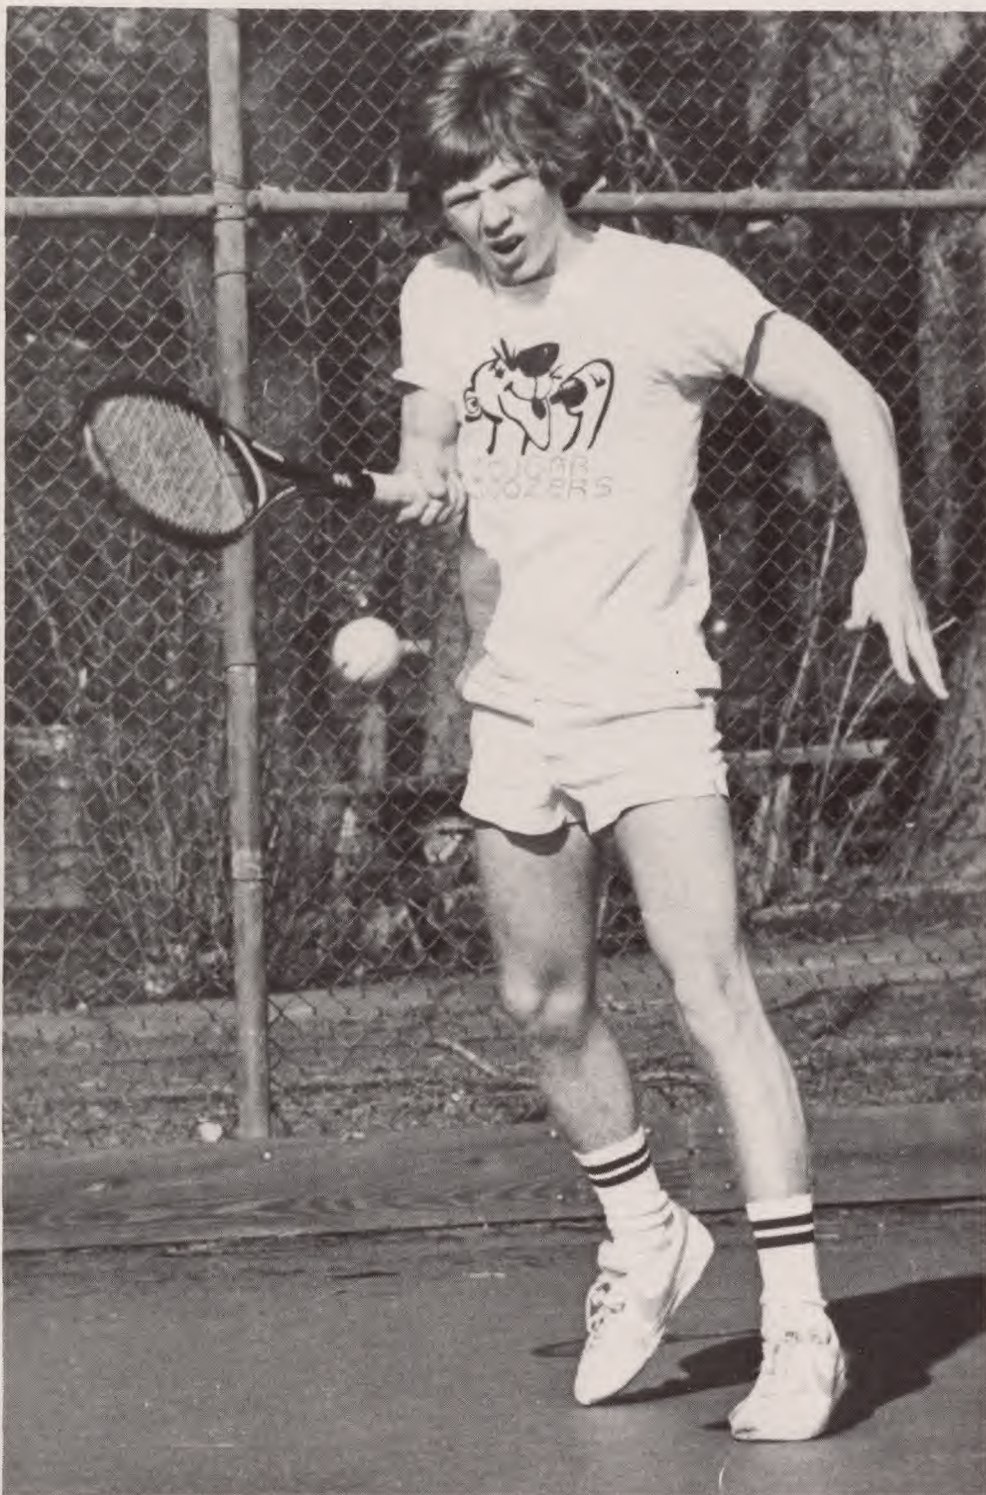

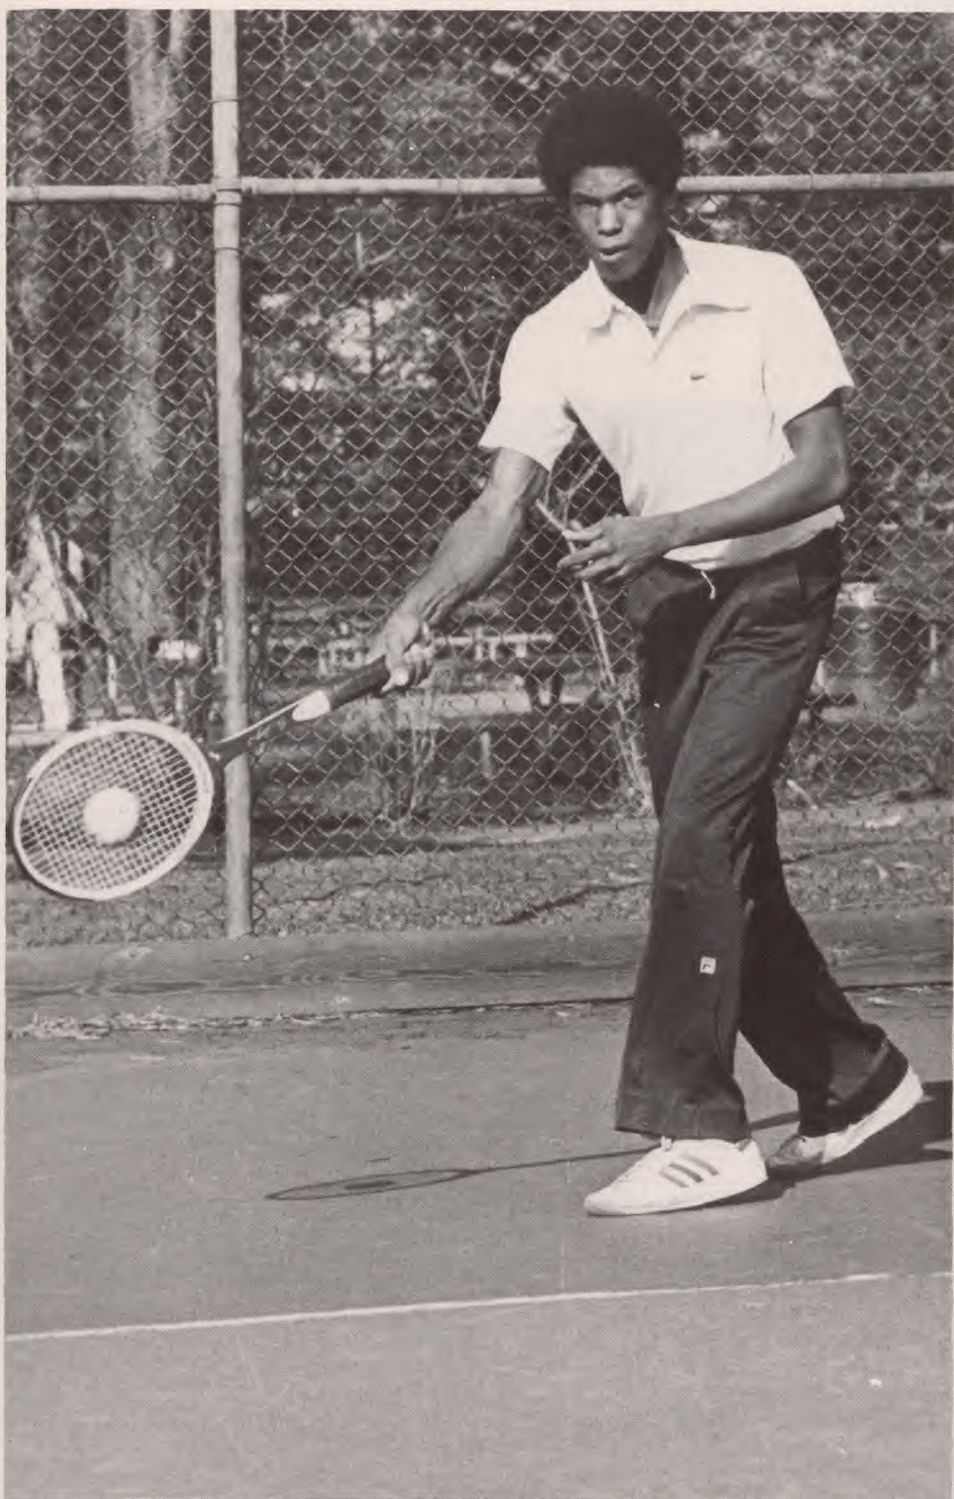

The Columbia Golf team is in the process of rebuilding under the direction of Coach Paul Wagner. They began competition in the tough Iron Hills Conference last season and are hoping to improve upon their record of 3-13. This year's team is very young, in fact, there will be no seniors on the squad. One encouraging sign for the future was a late season victory over the Conference champion team of West Essex last year.

Kneeling: A. Jacobs, L. Fallick, R. Hennefeld, G. Forde, S. Grodofsky, M. Hindeman. Standing: Coach Wagner, M. Daniels, E. Brief, P. Waeschle, K. Kirkman.

The Columbia Boys Tennis team has always had a reputation for winning and this season should be no exception. Coach Genzer has some outstanding seniors returning to the squad. Two of the most determined players on the team are Chris Carter and Larry Jellnick. One of whom will play First singles this year. This year's captains are Kenny Strauss, and Greg Powell, both of whom are fine doubles players. Another outstanding doubles man is Dave Alpert. Other returning seniors include David Goldsmith, Doug Bean, and Howard Pincus.

Under the direction of Coach Curcio, the Columbia Lacrosse team finished second in the state last season. Their record was 15-4, and three of the losses were to the No 1 team from Montclair. Senior Bob Bianchi should break the school scoring record this season. It is currently held by Paul Hooper, who graduated last year. Bob recorded a team high 47 goals last year and was second to Hooper in assists with 30. He has been selected to two all-state teams and the High School All-America team. Senior Mickey Bufo will be the goalie. Last season he recorded a save-percentage of better than 64%. Other seniors on the squad include Steve Santillo, John Marino, Jay Harkey, Kevin Graessle, Steve Flach, Jack Francis (12 goals, 20 assists), Tom Cassidy, Mark Boehme, Cris Sloan, and Tom Gaykowski. The J.V. squad is coached by Mr. Lasko.

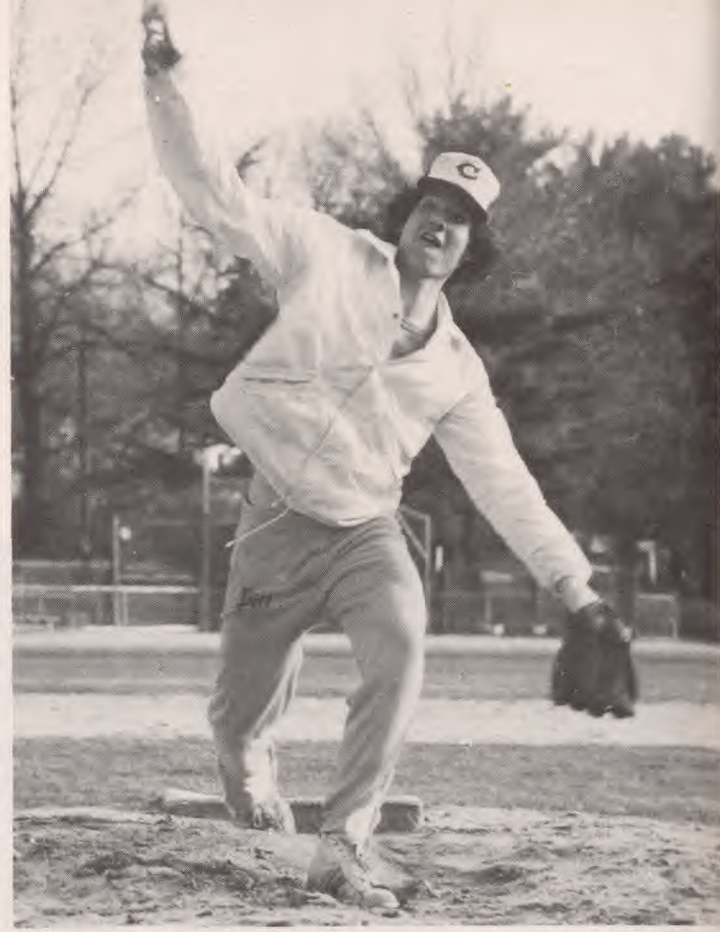

1st Row: M. Boehme, T. Gaykowski, S. Santillo, J. Marino, S. Flach, C. Sloan, M. Bufo (Capt.), B. Bianchi (Capt.), T. Cassidy, J. Harkey, J. Guarante, K. Graessle. 2nd Row: D. Furbish, M. Greenberg, D. Ward, P. Amerman, D. Richardson, E. Lewis, S. Darwin, D. Cosimano, S. Loftus, R. Glancy, J. Sheriden, J. Perez, P. Strauss, A. Shine, V. Cuzzo. 3rd Row: Q. Tuck, D. Woldman, A. Arancio, D. Bufo, M. Fiorini, W. Walnak, H. Hoffman, E. Salzano, K. Bianchi, W. Rehling, M. Field, H. Desai, Coach Lasko. 4th Row: K. Shine, Coach Schwartz, R. Giordano, R. Trespasz, J. Crandal, V. Schiau, Coach Curcio, J. Ruddy, M. Meehan, C. Zipf, K. Walker, D. Tepper, P. Ronnie, Q. Demarco, R. Imbert, Coach Manara, J. Santillo.

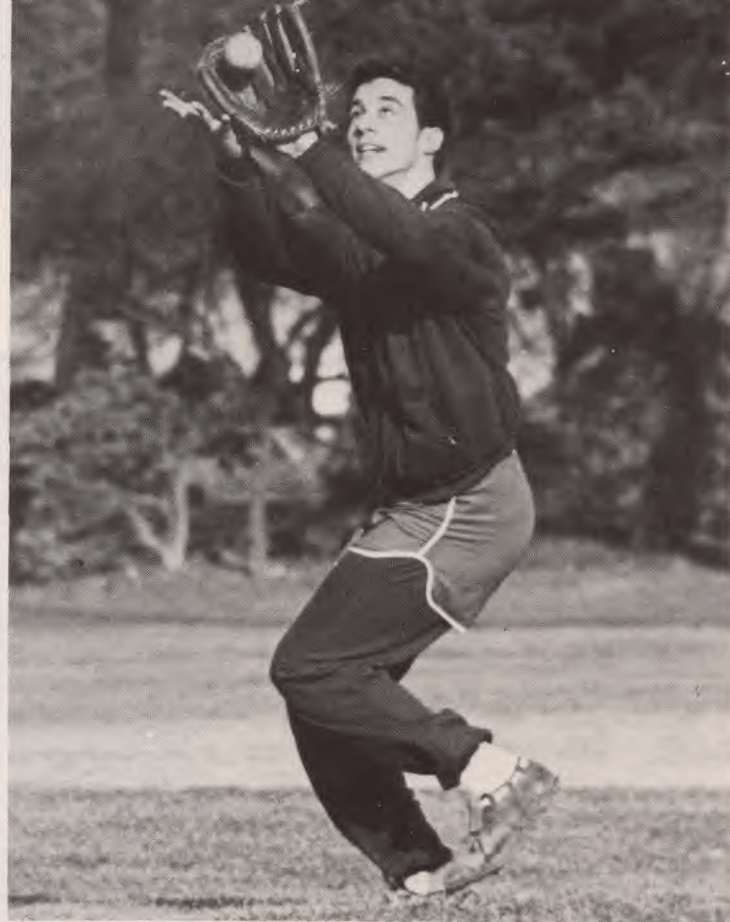

Under the coaching of Jack Fletcher, last year's varsity boys baseball team ended the season with a record of 14-8-1. This, however, does not tell the true story of the season that brought Columbia its first Greater Newark Tournament Championship. Columbia recovered from a 6-7-1 record by winning eight out of its last nine games, including a victory over Valley High School, the top ranked team in the state, in the GNT finals. This season Mr. Fletcher has returning pitchers Jeff Craugh and Bobby Keller. Outfield will be covered by seniors Mike Vitiello and Ron Romano and junior Andy Wozniak. Returning to the infield are seniors Jack Sherwood and Dan Sansone and junior Fred Knowles. Since the team lost only three starters from last year's squad, Columbia should have a very strong team.

The Columbia Girls' Softball team is rapidly becoming one of the best teams in the state. Coach Tom Ruggiero, 72-14 in his four years with the team, has lost only one starter from his 20-5 squad of last season. The team will be anchored by Senior All-state third baseman Jessie Brubaker. Jessie was also the team leader in RBI's. Sue Rechner, a junior, was right behind Jessie in RBI's and should provide added punch to the team. First baseman Margurite Dempsey, second baseman Eva Polcaro, and outfielder Lauren Piccinini, all seniors, will add further experience to the team. The pitching is regarded as quite strong with the return of Junior righthander Lisa Rott, and Sophomore Donna McTernan.

Front: D. McTernan, M. Metro, L. Piccinini, J. Brubaker. Standing: M. Dempsey, S. Rechner, C. Sette, B. Breen, Mary P. Sherwood, E. Polcaro.

It is nearly impossible to describe Columbia.
We have spent the same three years within the same buildings, yet each of us has our own unique perception.

Many faceted Columbia is a place of contradictions. Amazingly enough, it has the ability to remain too large and too small at the same time. It can be a confusing and computerized place, yet one where we have made close and lasting friendships. Columbia is the din of the cafeteria at noon and at the same time, solitude in a corner of the courtyard or library.

Ever changing, ever growing, there is no one description of what it has meant to us. It has sometimes seemed to imprison us, but the prison has more often than not been a haven. We have learned and grown here, found ourselves changing. We came to Columbia with questions, about ourselves and the world around us. At Columbia, we have found many of the answers. But more importantly, we find ourselves leaving Columbia, ready to begin another kind of life, with more questions in need of new answers.
