Our years at Columbia have taught us much about ourselves and the world around us.

We have discovered capabilities we never knew we had and made many friends, some of which will last a lifetime.

There were days we wanted never to end, but there also were times when we thought we would never get through the day.

But we made it through somehow, and maybe we are even better people for it.

Here we have become individuals, each attempting to find the best within himself.

The thoughts, emotions, and events that shaped these years are like pieces of colored glass that are reflected in the mirrors of our lives.

We will look back at the time we spent here, and the fragments of our memories will form a kaleidoscopic portrait of our years at Columbia.

For now, tomorrow remains a mystery. We must go forward to find the future that lies ahead for each of us.

TENNIS

The typical excuse for a losing season is that it was a building season. However, in this case, with only one senior in the starting line-up, and with five of the seven starters being freshmen or sophomores, it was indeed a year to build for the boys' varsity tennis team. Fortunately, even with this young squad, the team had a winning record anyway — and an impressive one at that. They battled Seton Hall, the conference champs, down to the wire, twice. Qualifying for the "states," they were defeated by Montclair, but only barely.

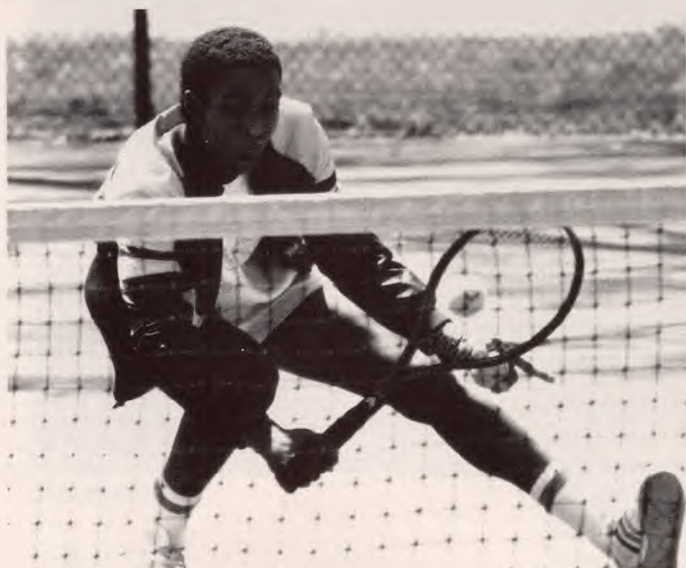

With an overall record of 11-11, led by Nelson Eubanks, Adam Titelbaum, and Craig Gibian at singles, and doubles combinations of Billy Brody and James Wilkes, and Walt Michels and Jeff Safin, they did Columbia proud. The most outstanding record (12-5) was compiled by Billy and James, who also defeated the Essex County first doubles champs, Montclair, in the states.

Unlike other team sports, Outdoor Track is made up of individuals who are catalysts for team victories as well as single portraits of excellence. The success and/or failure of the sport cannot be judged by the team's overall record. It is weighed according to the performances of the team members. Such is the case of the 1986 Boys' team. The true strength of the team was in its outstanding individuals including Rohan McFarlane, Derek Smith, Darryl Smith, Willie Williams, Herman Athias and Terence Wilson.

The boys can be proud of their accomplishments as a team which include: second in Essex County, second at the Hudson County Relays, third at the Essex County Relays, fourth in the Iron Hills Conference, and fifth at the State Sectionals.

The future remains bright for those athletes that are committed to the Columbia Code of Excellence as part of the Boys' Spring Outdoor Track Team.

Last year Columbia's baseball team proved the odds to be wrong and battled back to become the Greater Newark Tournament Champions. This battle started off slowly, for the team had to adjust to their first season working with their new head coach, Doug Alford, but they soon rediscovered themselves and finished off the season with a bang.

Senior Mike Ghegan led the team through the Greater Newark Tournament with his strong pitching and was a first team All-Essex selection along with several of his teammates.

The girls finished the 1986 season with a disappointing 4-13 record. Their record fails to show the hard work, dedication and sportsmanship displayed by all of the team members throughout each and every game of the season. Many games were close and were lost in the later innings. Illness and injury also plagued the team, which only added to the disappointing season. The team lost many senior players at the end of last season, but the 1987 team and Coach C. Thomas Taylor are optimistic about this season, especially because of the many players, most of whom are seniors, that are returning this year.

THE KING AND I

Megan Hawrylak

Columbia's all-school production of the 1985-86 school year was the Rodgers and Hammerstein extravaganza The King and I.

It was the final musical for Columbia seniors Megan Hawrylak, David Gurland, and Liza Farrell, and they left Columbia on a strong and triumphant note. Hawrylak shone as the school teacher, Anna, and Gurland, as the King, was a formidable and charismatic leading man. Farrell brought a proud and charming new interpretation to the role of Lady Thiang.

The supporting cast was also filled with gifted actors and singers, notably David Javerbaum, Michael Kahn, Jason Eisner as the Kralahome, and Jennifer Petrallia and Darrell Kaplan as the young lovers.

The chorus and dancers provided a strong background, both musically and visually. Junior Kathy Scudder was responsible for much of the choreography outside of the ballet.

The King and I was directed by Patricia Lawler and musical director Wayne Fenstermacher, aided by student directors Melissa Moore and Melissa Howard.

THE CHILDREN'S STORY

Emily Winslow, Randi Driscoll

In April, for the first time, Columbia High School put on two one-act plays, both as a successful school performance and for the Bucks County Drama festival. The first of these, "The Actor's Nightmare", is about an accountant who accidentally wanders into a theater and finds himself attempting to play the lead role in four different plays. At the drama competition, David Gurland won the Best Actor award for his performance as the accountant, Jessica Ross won Best Supporting Actress for her performance, and Lyle Millander was honored for Excellence in Acting. "The Children's Story" recounts what happens to one class of American children when the United States loses a war and their teacher is replaced by a teacher from the victorious country. Emily Winslow won Best Actress for her performance as the new teacher and Assaf Ziv received an award for Excellence in Acting, while the cast won for Best Ensemble.

There are several activities, such as the dances and fashion shows, that the MLKA sponsors to raise money for the scholarship fund. These scholarships are given to prominent and dedicated MLKA members. This association also sponsors several service activities, such as the Holiday Winter Food Drive and the Spring Clothing Drive.

The French Club at Columbia High School gives students the opportunity to become more aware of French Culture and to speak French with other students. It does these things by way of volleyball games, parties, group discussions, and a newsletter. The club hoped to take a trip to N.Y.C. funded in part by the sale of bakery fresh croissants. The President of the club was Eve Losman, the Secretary/Vice President was Erika Grossman, the Treasurer was Nancy Chandross, and the Faculty Advisor was JoAnn Wund.

ITALIAN CLUB

The Italian Club is an educational as well as cultural experience. The club drives to provide a cultural and linguistic atmosphere. Aspects of Italian life such as food, clothing, and the spoken language are all part of the Italian Club. The highlights of the year were the International Holiday Party in December, and a trip to Little Italy. The Holiday Party was a great experience, tasting foods, singing, and dancing were all part of the fun. The club officers are, Tiziana Vescio — President, Alicia Bevinetto — Vice President, Kelly Beirne — Treasurer, Ida DiLegge — Secretary.

The German Club is an activity-oriented group. Mrs. Erika Fisher, the advisor, believes in doing things and not just talking about them. Most of the meetings take place in the Spring when the club works together in planting flowers in the garden and beautifying the school. Tana Boag was the President this year with Alex Bognar as Vice President. Highlights of the activities included the International Holiday and the volleyball competitions against the other Foreign Language Clubs.

PARNASSIAN SOCIETY

This year Columbia's drama club, The Parnassian Society, was under the direction of new advisor Miss LL Morgan. We started off with a bang, electing officers and participating in a Dionysian Festival. The Fall production was "Ring Round the Moon", a French farce in which identical twin brothers wreak havoc at a society ball. Miss Morgan has spectacular plans for the future of Parnassian. This year was merely a beginning.

Mr. Miller supervises the station, which also tapes school functions such as dances and shows. It also maintains an electronic community bulletin and produces CHS bi-weekly. The year 1986-87 was the Columbian's fourth as a weekly paper, one that was distinguished by expansion, both in news coverage and circulation.

The Columbian attracted a substantial new audience in the community, and also focused on expanding the scope of their news coverage, reporting local and tri-state events in addition to the usual coverage of CHS. This was made possible through the hard work of the dedicated staff who wrote, photographed, edited, typed, pasted, and otherwise put it all together every week.

Mrs. Steffi Poss served as advisor again this year and aided by her excellent council were Editor-in-Chief Melissa Moore, Editorial Editor Ellen Pao, Production Editor Dena Wyner, Business Managers Jennifer Meyer and Mary Pao, Photography Editors Aileen Dolan and Kristy Jacobs, Sports Editors Lora Berson and Craig Gibian, and Circulation Managers Lauren Caputo and Marnie Silberman.

Notable contributions were also made by Jimmy McNulty, Larry Petracarro, Kathryn Scudder, Jennifer Petrallia, Margie Willner, the journalism class, and many students who sold papers each week.

The members of the Special Services Committee play an important role at Columbia. Their responsibilities include ushering at school functions such as Open House and Graduation.

The Foreign Exchange Committee is Columbia's link to other cultures. The Committee welcomes exchange students to the US and particularly CHS. Meetings are scheduled so that CHS students and the exchange students can ask questions of each other and share their experiences. It is an interesting and educational experience for all involved.

This year's exchange students included Hiroyuki Muchizuki — Japan, Yekta Bahadroglu — Turkey, Jose Carriera — Brazil, Martin Lucke — Germany, and Stephane Loisseau — France.

PHYSICS TEAM

Beginning in December of 1986, this year's Physics Team began preparations for the January to April competitions. The team's advisor is Mrs. Wolff. Every Thursday the team learns and practices material with the help of Mrs. Wolff and former team members: Ken Bloom, Sean Peruzzi, and Larry Shiman.

As a direct result, the team has consistently performed quite well and is presently practicing for future science league exams.

ASTRONOMY CLUB

The Astronomy Club celebrated its tenth anniversary this year. The club scheduled several observations throughout the year. A Celestron II telescope was primarily used, but restoration of the observatory telescope is hoped to be completed next year. The club's greatest concern is to overcome Al Levin's power to cause the clouds roll in for each scheduled observation!

The Science League Exams allow science students to compete against other schools. Tests are given in Biology I & II, Physics and Chemistry. The schools with the highest team score in each area receive awards. The League exams provide a showcase for science achievement and help to increase the knowledge of the participants.

This year's Senior Class Council led by Becky Friedman has been very active and productive. The Senior Class has raised over $2,000 just this year. A considerable amount of money was raised through the hard work of council members by selling flowers, candy-grams and hockey tickets, and by sponsoring the Senior Dance, bake sales, and car washes. This year the Council also arranged for a Senior Class Picture. The money raised has reduced bids for the senior prom. Joanne Fredell and Lora Berson are this year's prom chairmen.

This year's Junior Class Council, through the hard work of the Council members who are led by Josh Penick, has raised over $2,000. The Homecoming Dance and other Junior-sponsored dances, bake sales, locker mirror sales, and sweatshirt sales have brought great success to the Junior class.

This year's Sophomore Class Council, led by President Matthew DeFilippis, and with Treasurer Chris Barton, and Secretary Jennifer Dunetz, had a very successful year. Twice a week the Sophomore class sold coffee and donuts at the Adult School. The class sponsored a car wash and sold T-shirts to raise money. The Lip Sync was an enjoyable and profitable event for the Sophomore Class. The result of all these activities is a class with already over $4,000. The success is partly attributed to the dedication of Mr. John Penberthy, the Sophomore class advisor.

The FLES (Foreign Languages in the Elementary School) program was alive and well for 1986-87. Classes were given in four of the district's elementary schools. Students studied Spanish, French, Italian, and German. The elementary students were taught by high school language students who received credit for their work in the program. Classes were held one afternoon a week from the beginning of October to April vacation. Students learned some basic vocabulary words and something about the foreign country they were studying. At the conclusion of the program, students and teachers were honored at a reception at Columbia High School. Miss Ann Dale is the coordinator of the program.

The Commencement Committee was a group of seniors and three faculty advisors who met most Thursday mornings. It was the responsibility of this committee to attend to the particulars relating to Graduation. These were choosing and arranging for the Graduation speaker, and preparing the formats of the program and the ceremony. because the Class of 1987 was the 100th class to graduate from Columbia High School, it was the intent of the Committee to make the commencement exercises memorable.

The Committee on Student Relations (COR) developed in 1985 from a concern about the growing racial problems in our community. Although these tensions have somewhat subsided, the Committee continued working toward better communication and understanding among individuals.

The Committee met on a regular basis with students at the elementary schools in the district. Activities and discussions covered such topics as prejudice, interclassmate relations, and each individual's self image.

The Committee on Student Relations has been in existence for two years and has grown tremendously in size and strength. COR hopes to continue, successfully, for many years to come.

Students Serving Seniors (SSS) is a student run, 80 member organization that volunteers its time to aid senior citizens of South Orange and Maplewood. Through the recreation departments, a list of senior citizens is given to the leaders who then distribute the tasks to the members of the organization.

In addition to community service, SSS sent 7 or 8 members to the Reformed Church Home in Irvington. Students spent one hour of their time talking to the senior citizens in their home. This year, SSS became involved in an art program in which different paintings were placed in the rooms of individual seniors at the nursing home.

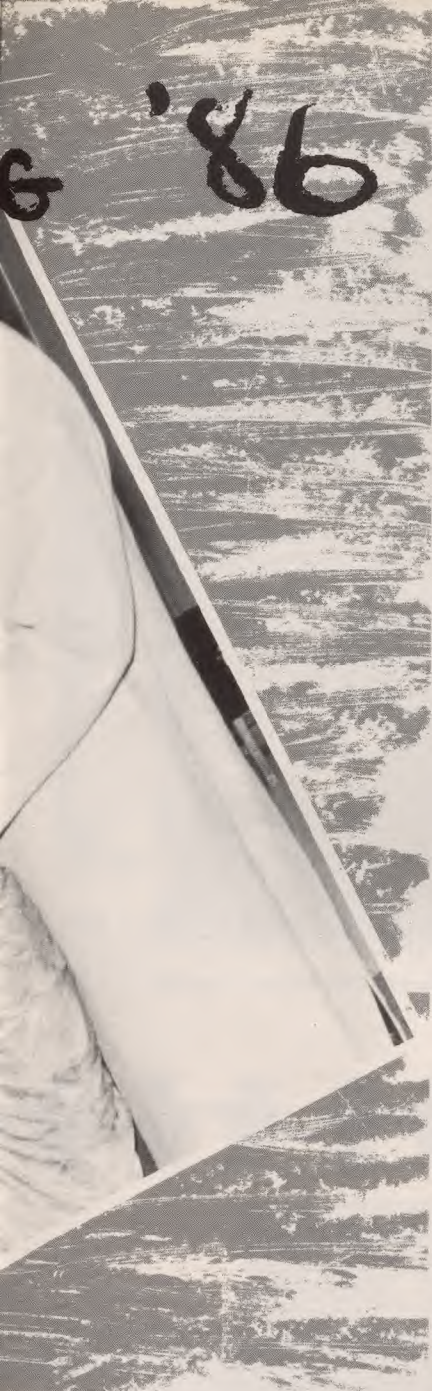

After four years of continual community service, SSS looks strong and will continue to provide South Orange and Maplewood with Conscientious young adults who have a genuine interest in the well being of our Senior Citizens.

Intramural Basketball, with coaches Mr. Ghegan and Dr. Gallo, is an example of the popular intramural activities available at Columbia High School. This year, 65 students formed six teams. Team 5 was the winner of the first half of the intramural basketball season. Team 6 took first place in the second half. In May, the two teams met in a championship game.

Girl's basketball, co-ed volleyball, boys' touch football, and co-ed softball are the other intramural activities offered at Columbia. All students who are not participating in a varsity sport at the time are welcome to participate.

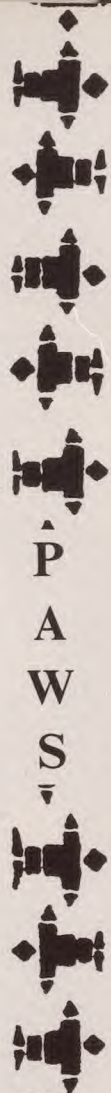

Mr. Joseph Ghegan, Dr. Anthony Gallo.

The purpose of Cougar PAWS (Pupils' Animal Welfare Society) is to focus student and community attention on the plight of animals that are abused or require special care. The club also raises money to support these animals and to help preserve a healthy environment for them.

Cougar PAWS was founded in 1976, and since then has every year launched a series of projects. At the end of each year, checks are sent to several reputable animal welfare organizations. Some of this year's activities have included maintenance of our own CHS display case, working directly with the South Orange-Maplewood Animal Shelter to publicize their activities, and distribution of informational materials on a district wide basis, to help promote "Be Kind to Animals Week" the first week in May.

The 1986 boys' Varsity soccer team had a success year but fell a little short of their own expectations. The boys totally dominated the ever improving Iron Hills conference. It marked the ninth consecutive year Columbia has been Iron Hills Division champs! In the counties, Columbia reached the finals against Milburn. In a game played under miserable field conditions, Columbia was handed their first defeat. The state tournament turned out to be a nightmare for the boys. After reaching the State Sectional final, the boys were notified they had been disqualified from the tournament due to an out-of-season coaching violation. The unfortunate thing about the incident is the boys had no control over the violation.

The team was led by the 1986 tri-captains. One was senior striker, John Mairo, who led the team in scoring with 32 goals and 14 assists. Tri-captain, Dave Donovan (10 goals, 8 assists) and John Shue (8 goals, 5 assists) controlled the tempo of all the cougar games in the mid-field. Other offensive stand-outs included seniors Paul McCormick (8 goals, 7 assists), Craig Bogart (6 goals, 3 assists) and Louis De-janne (1 goal, 5 assists).

Donavan was honored by being named National All-American and Mairo was named regional All-American, by the National Soccer Coaches Association. Donovan and Mairo were also named First-Team All-State by the New Jersey Soccer Coaches Association. Along with them on the All-State squad were fellow cougars John Shue, Honorable mention, Paul McCormick plus sophomore standouts Steve Armanti third team, and Gene Chyzowych Jr. honorable mention. The cougars also placed 14 members on the coaches All-Essex and 12 on the coaches All-Conference.

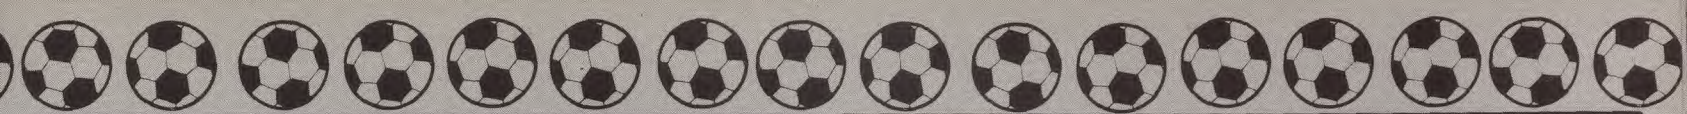

Defensive standouts included senior Scott Carew, underclassman, Chyzowych, Mark Nilsen, Mario Tribioli, and goal keepers Armenti and Mark Mury.

The cougars finished with an impressive record of 19-2. They outscored their opponents 78-10 and notched 12 shutouts. They played skillful soccer and should be commended for their efforts. The seniors of 1986 didn't have a chance of fulfilling their dreams to be state champs but next years' team, with a little luck, could bring Columbia their first state championship since 1979.

FOOTBALL

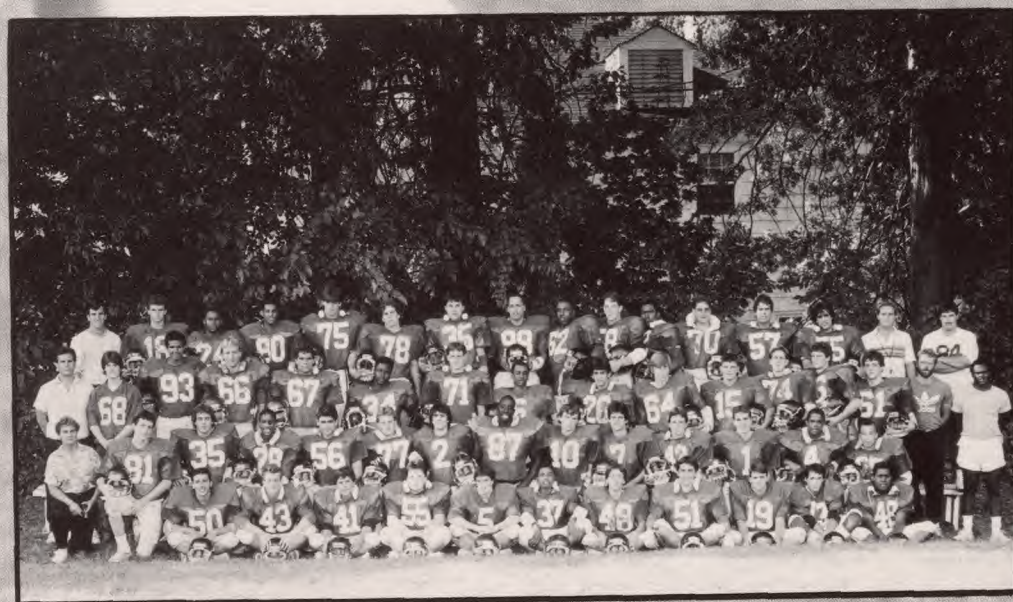

The varsity football team ended a disappointing season with a record of 2-6-1. Captain Corey Felton and Head Coach John Purcelli led the Cougars to its two wins against West Essex and Morristown.

Sophomore Quarterback, Brian McGuire passed for 972 yards with four touchdowns. Running backs, Keith Williams and Kevin Lasenberry ran for a combined total of 920 yards and eight touchdowns. The leading receivers were Corey Felton, Chris Durkin and Aron Rolley. They combined for a total of 75 receptions for 901 yards. Todd Williams had three kick-off and punt returns for the touchdowns.

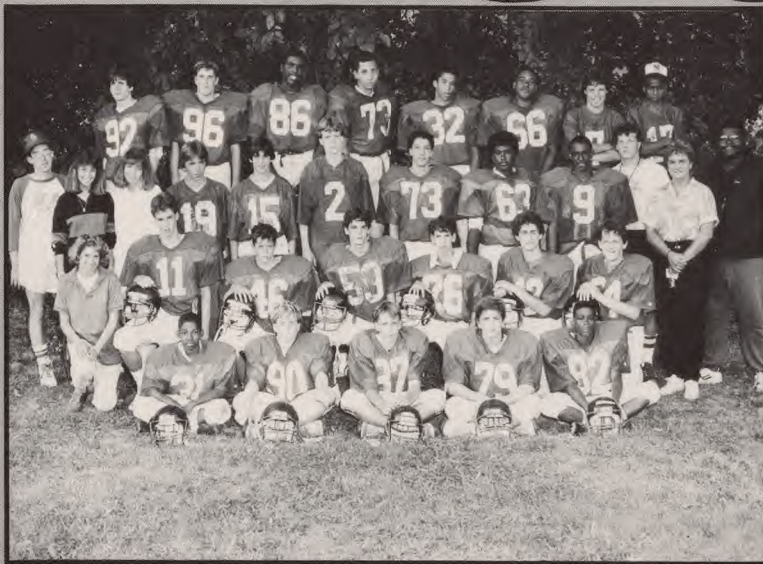

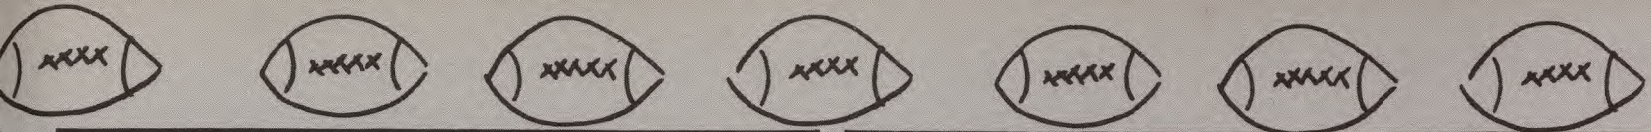

Defensively, Corey Felton, Bill Ruggerio, and Tyce Knox led the team in tackles with 88, 81 and 80 respectively. Corey and Bill also led the team with fourteen combined sacks. Todd Williams led the team in Ints with four. The Cougar defense caused 32 turnovers, but allowed an average of 23 points per game.

Newly acquired Coach Jim Hill from Clifton was an asset to the team. Unfortunately the coaching staff is losing Keith Manera and Charles Taylor. The class of '87 wishes future football teams of CHS the BEST of LUCK!!!

FIELD HOCKEY

The 1986 Varsity Field Hockey team completed its season with a 5-8 record. Led by co-captains Tina Fossella and Michele Santisiere, the lady cougars had a trying season as they started out as a young new team and faced many illnesses and injuries during the season.

The team scored a total of 26 goals and has 16 assists. Individually forward Laurie Gormley scored 10 goals, high for the team and Diana Fumara had the high in assists, numbering 8. Other high scores were left wing, Jean Berghaus with 7 goals and Stella Skinner with 4 goals. The team set a new school record scoring seven goals in a single game against Morris Knolls.

Goalies Karen Ricci and Anne McGowan, combined with the stingy Columbia defense consisting of Tina Fossella, Lauren Zucker, Heather Kay and Diane Rintzler, recorded five shut-outs.

Many players received special recognition this year. Sweeper Tina Fossella and goalie Karen Ricci made Essex County Coaches' first team, Laurie Gormely, second team and Jean Berghaus and Michele Santisiere received honorable mentions. Fossella and Gormely also made Iron Hills first team, Berghaus and Santisiere and Ricci made second team and an honorable mention was given to Diana Fumara. Fossella and Ricci were also named to the All-Essex County first team. In addition, Fossella played on the North Jersey All-Star team.

The team awarded Fossella as the Most Valuable Player and Zucker as the most improved player.

BOY'S GYMNASTICS

The 1986 Boy's Gymnastics Team was a team of rebuilding. Only six of the thirteen boys from last year's team returned, and just two new boys signed up. Despite this, the boys improved their record from last year. The boys who returned had trained well during their off-season and it showed. They again made it to team states for the sixteenth straight year, and this year three boys made it to state individuals.

The team is losing one senior, team captain Drew Griffin, but they are hoping to be able to compensate for him. Besides losing one to graduation the team is losing Mr. Spiedel. After sixteen years of coaching, Mr. Spiedel is retiring. The team wishes him well and hopes to find someone to fill his shoes. Although it won't be easy.

Early in the season they competed in the Essex County Tournament, where they defeated Glenn Ridge. Despite their disappointing loss in the second round, a month later the girls went into the second round of the State Tournament. This was the first time since 1983 the girls went to the States.

Unfortunately Willa Lee was sidelined most of the season due to a foot injury. Taking her place was Jessica Kirson. She along with Friedman provided the team with many victories. Natasha Zarrin, at third singles, was another hard hitter and fine player. Kara Gross and Kristy Jacobs formed a winning combination with Kara's net shots and Kristy's serve. Up at second doubles was Merideth Welsh and Jennifer Dunnitz. They combined their talents to hold the team through some tough matches.

A positive aspect of the season was almost all the girls were given a chance to play no matter what grade they were in. Next year only three returning starters will be back, but the team has many awaiting players to show their talents next year.

GIRLS GYMNASTICS

The Columbia Girls' Gymnastics team captured the North 11 sectional championship and placed ninth in the "states" Junior tri-captains, Amy Cohen, Amy Laskowski, and Lisa Barry and sophomore Vici Custodio, qualified for the sectional championships. Amy Cohen and Vici Custodio advanced to the individual state championships.

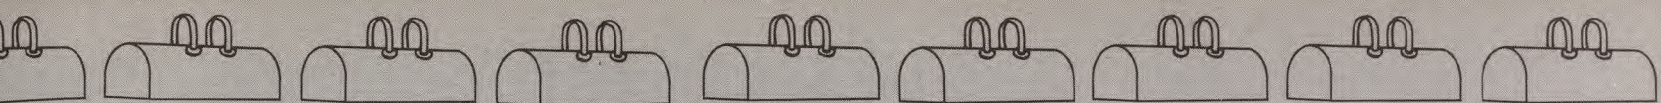

The record for the season was 100-0. Also competing for the team was sophomore, Amy Tidelbaum, Esa Davis and Regina Black; Freshman Amy Venkus, Nicole Rapp, Ann Davis, Claire Ostrovsky and Kathleen Gorden. The team owes their success to coach Beryl Roman and to managers Stacey Gray, Nicole Silverman and Sharon Funt.

Since no team members are graduating the team hopes for an undefeated season next year.

The girl's cross country team had a successful season this year winning six of its seven dual meets. It also performed admirably in championship meets placing second at the Essex Catholic Invitational, first in the County Championship, third in the conference, fourth in the state sectionals, and thirteenth in the States. The team was able to run well because of members on it. Led by junior Christine Grant, seniors, Karen Brooks, Zorada McFadden, Meg Mitchell, and Edna Neivert rounded out the scoring along with junior Eileen Trinity and Freshman Sarah Zemke. Since the nucleus of the team comprised of seniors, next year will probably be rebuilding year. Team honors this year included Brooks Grant, McFadden, Mitchell, and Neivert, being named to the All Orange Team and Zorada and Edna being named All Orange Athletes of the Year. There were many other honors received as well, but there is not enough room to print them all! It certainly was a successful season.

The boy's cross country team also had a successful season this year by improving on last year by turning in a five and three record. The boys were led by team captains Andy McFadden, Steve Kaesshaefer and Robert Neivert. The team was composed of five seniors including Gary Swanson, and Howard Shireley along with the tri-captains. There were six juniors on the team including Herman Athias, Mark Belasco, Peter Curley, Eric Halvorsen, and Jeff Jacobson, and Danny Wask. There were also four sophomores including Don Davenport, Camar Franklin, Peter Koch, and Jeff Gandel. The new freshmen on the team were Andrew Appel, Alex Balk, Steve Bryant, Jermaine Clark, Russel Curley, Craig Price, and Chris Segarra. Belasco, Curley, Franklin, Kaesshaefer, and McFadden were among the team members of the All Orange Team this year. Others received honorable mentions and the freshmen did exceptionally well, too. All and all it was a good season for both teams as coaches Mr. Klepack and JJ Clark will readily agree.

WRESTLING

The season for Columbia's varsity wrestling team came to an end with a disappointing 50-15 loss against Kearny. The final team record is 2-13 which does not reflect the potential of the cougar matmen. With only four seniors graduating this year, BJ Orsi, Matt Wheate, Rusty Pinnilis, and Sam Gross, next years team will be unstoppable. Coaches Len Capari and Bob Jennis say with intense weight training there will be nothing in the way of the cougars in next years season. The returning matmen are: Sophomores Greg Dorr, Kevin Orsi, Robert Purcell, Chris Fossella, Matt Defilipis, Kevin Sheridan, and Roy Myers. The leaders of the team will be: Paul Brothers, Andy Heckman, Chris Custodio and Seth Davis.

BOYS BASKETBALL

The 1986-1987 Basketball season was one of the most successful in C.H.S. history. The cougars won over 20 games and were ranked highly in both the state and county polls.

Early in the season, the Cougars defeated East Side, Clark, and Hillside to win the Hillside Christmas Tournament. Captains, Mark Brown and Vinnie Ryan were named to the all-tournament team. Troy Hill also had an impressive tournament, hitting many key shots and pulling down numerous rebounds.

The cougars continued to roll as they chalked up 18 consecutive victories before being upset by Orange in the ECT's 72-71, in a heartbreaker. Soon after their first loss, the cougars handed coach Tom Reilly his 200th career win in an 82-36 blow-out of Livingston.

The Hoopsters then clinched the Iron Hills Conference with an impressive 80-67 defeat of East Orange. It was the teams first conference title since the 1983-84 season. Seniors Vinnie Ryan and Mark Brown led the way with 31 and 22 points respectively. Mark Andrews scored 17 points and grabbed 17 rebounds and sophomore George Tines performed well coming off the bench.

The cougars should be good again next season, as Hill, Brown, and Ryan are the only seniors. The team will look for juniors Mark Andrews, Steve Wreidt, Jon Riviera, Malcom Crews, Dave Ricci, Josh Penick, and sophomores George Tines, Dave Durkin, and Eric Glase to continue the success!

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The Lady Cougars' season was a successful one with a record of 18-7. The Cougars made it into the semi-finals of the counties in which they haven't been in for ten years! They also made the semi-finals of the Division 1 State Tournament. Captain, Wilha Lee, had a very successful season by breaking five school records. The two other tri-captains, Cathy Evans and Sue Bishop, were the team backbone in setting up plays along with the help of Mary Alice Zavocki, who is a Freshman.

The team's manager, Julie Kinney, helped the Lady Cougars through the season by taking excellent stats and keeping records. Next years' team should be strong with the loss of only three seniors.

SWIMMING

With only 21 swimmers the C.H.S. Swim Team was at a distinct disadvantage against most teams who have at least twice that many. But the team swam well in spite of this and ended up with a 7-5 record. The record is not an accurate indicator of the teams success, however, since the last three meets of the season were cancelled and the expected 10-5 record was never achieved. The team took four of the meets down to the last relay which demonstrates how close the meets could run. For this to happen once is unusual, to have it happen four times in a single season really shows the strength and determination of the team.

Led by tri-captains Edna Neivert, Doug Melick, and Robert Neivert and seniors Jesse Arnstein, Jen Edwards, David Knecht, Peter Menner, Martha Wherle, and John Whinery, the team showed a lot of spirit and worked well together. A perfect example of this was the men's 4 x 100 medley relay (consisting of the two captains, Peter Menner, and David Knecht) which has not lost in a dual meet for two years running, and won the County Championship as well. Other high placers in the County meet include Edna Neivert with second and third in the 200 and 500 freestyle, Robert Neivert placing second and fourth in the 100 fly, and 200 I.M., Peter Menner got third in the 100 breaststroke, Dave Knecht got fifth and sixth in the 50 and 100 freestyle, John Whinery got fourth in the 500 freestyle, and Melick placed fifth in the 100 backstroke. Everyone swam well overall and Coach Dave Yoresh was very pleased with the season.

FENCING

Although this years' Fencing Team was not very Victorious with their record, they have trained hard and have shown lots of spirit. The team consists of thirty-one members: thirteen girls and eighteen boys. The overall captain was Adhadi Bugg with Karin Hagaman as captain of the girls' foil and Alvin Marcovici as captain of the boys' sabre; and Brian Gestring as captain of the boys' epee. As pointed out by Ahadi, it is a growing team and the future should bring more success.

Coach Stager summed it up by saying, "In spite of our record the team fought hard and fought well. There was constant improvement with which I was very satisfied. I am sorry so many of my seniors are leaving, but I'm sure that the underclassmen will carry out the tradition."

An abstract geometric design featuring a central point from which several lines radiate, creating a series of triangles. The triangles are filled with alternating shades of gray and white. Guidance Counselor

February 23, 1930—November 2, 1986

*Love was the guiding factor of your light
For round its strength you forged a bond with youth,
Your kindly wisdom flowed from deep insight
And touched all hearts in searching for the truth.
So many problems faded in your hands,
Your door was open wide for all to share,
Where comfort eased the frayed and twisted strands
That spin their patterns in our daily care.
Time you would always find to help and steer
With gentle warmth, (the hallmark of your skill)
Where understanding glowed, embracing fear
And healing wounds would soothe the darkest ill.
Your inspiration lives on in every tongue,
A legacy of love, for ever young.*

SCIENCE

Mr. Carroll Brooks, a former biology teacher, retired last year after thirty years of teaching. He spent twenty-seven of those years at Columbia High School. Mr. Brooks was a caring and devoted teacher. According to one of his former students, he was concerned about individuals, not just the class as a whole. During his years of teaching he accumulated a wealth of knowledge. He saved everything; carefully labeled and stored in the backroom of his office. Mr. Genzer said of him, "He is a model of the way a person should be before retirement. He had more energy than when he started. He epitomizes what a teacher should be; he was a teacher in every sense of the word."

Mr. Andrew Quiroli died Wednesday, August 27, 1986. He had taught at Columbia for 22 years, before retiring two years ago. During these two years, he accompanied students to Honduras and Costa Rica. He taught five languages here at Columbia, but spoke many more. In particular, he had a special love of Spanish culture. Mr. Quiroli was also influential in developing the foreign exchange program. According to Mrs. Oliver, an English teacher at Columbia and a close friend of Mr. Quiroli: "He was devoted to his students. In fact, he never stopped being a student himself. He loved to read, and listen to music. He had a special love for the teacher." A scholarship fund has been set up in Mr. Quiroli's memory. He will be greatly missed.

For good times and bad times, I'll be on your side forever more. That is what friends are for. Carrie and Tria, what a pair — just like day and night. Remember . . . Thanksgiving break, and no where to go. Union Center, Yuck! I would prefer not to sit in the parking lot of Foodtown with my headlights on trying to meet new people. I just don't understand Carrie I meet people when you're not around. 11:11 — make a wish, yeah, but when will it come true? Did you go with him, or did you go with him? What's the difference? A lot!! I can't believe you do that — Everybody does it Tria. I can't believe people think that that is what it means! Oh you've got to be kidding me Fandango's, — THE FISH! I need some I.D. from you. Who, me? Well all I have is my A & S I.D. . . . Get a little drunk why don't you. Well okay. Going to see a movie, that we never saw. Mr. Margulis' class — nice class — we do real well — That also goes for Personal Finance. Get a real life! Must everybody know I smell? Even people in other towns. I can't believe you asked me if I really smell. This music just doesn't cut it — 103.5 vs. 92.3 — can we be more opposite. Nice Mustang you got Tria — it breaks down the first day you get it. New Year's Eve. Bobby and Carrie in the back seat of my car while it breaks down — great! Frank — your head is too small for your shoulders. You wouldn't let me get drunk enough! Going to four parties. Remember the David Lee Roth concert! Good because I don't. Whole lot of Bobby W. for me. But I do remember you in the trunk Tria, by the way, how was it? Nice that Carrie left me there with the two Bobby's the WHOLE TIME! He tried to make me go crazy — I was so drunk. Bobby made me pee in the port-a-john. I'll give you $10 if . . . I don't think so! Thank you. No drugs — You're crazy! Stop being little Miss innocent in every perspective Tria. Sleeping on the way home from the concert. Tria, I need a tissue!! Not again Carrie. Tria hit the car in back of you. It's okay. Be careful, go ahead and hit the car in front of you now, Bang! It's Noah's. Oh no! Nice that your brakes failed and your car is totaled. I loved the map light. I'm telling you LIFE DOESN'T GET BETTER!!! No Carrie don't worry, these type things happen to me all the time, and then some — you see I'm privileged! Colonia has a great school — can't even get in or out. The people there are only three years behind. It's okay — Mr. Valente. Seth looks like Paul Simon — what about Paul, Chris, and Carl — nice hair! Marcy, you shop at Ormond's. Yeah! Get out! NO, it's okay just follow the road around. I almost peed in my pants. We couldn't stop laughing! Too funny! Let's go to a hot tub — I do it all the time — It's great. The five of us all naked? Don't worry about it nobody sees anything. Let's buy a guy, only $58 wholesale! It's not funny she sent them back. Tria let's call somebody threeway. Leave me alone! Let me listen. The home shopping club — I want my check. Where is it? Letting it ring for three hours. Coming over and sleeping, it's great! Getting phony phone calls at 3:00 am for a week and not going to school because of it. Remember that noise — Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha — missing our exams. So has John's birthday present came into use yet? Tria, I want to go horseback riding. Missing gym and going to your communications class — whole lot of communicate. I love the way we both get rejected to a college on the same day. Yeah Carrie, but that was my only one. I want to be a Nuclear Scientist — Good Luck — Advertising for me. Tonight we will go out with my friends — I'm scared — nice parties — people loving me — oh no. Getting stopped by the cops as we are walking to our car. No I.D. for Carrie. Carrie you dance like a bird. I don't do the things you do. I want to go to a club! Going to the Asbury Park boat show. I think our Dad will buy this one for us. Look at that guys pants — Click! Look, he's cute, Carrie I dare you to take a picture of him. Smile! Click! Let's go get some free coffee. Yes, we go to college. I go to Syracuse — so does your grand-daughter! Oh tihs! Another cute guy, Smile! Click! Brett, my ski trip — 78 degrees. 5:00 am — Collect call from Carrie, will you accept? Love those meaningful relationships Tria — how does it feel getting screwed over big time? — nice friend there — hctiB! Where is the jacket? Grow up. Look who is talking. My parents are going away but there is "NO PARTY!" we must inform all of Colonia. Who's prom are we going to? Bobby, take me to your prom. I love how we saw the Rocky Horror Picture Show. Nice that we ended up in New York City. Tria, can't you pump gas? OK, I will do it! Eddie, let's get some paper — don't eat it now. McDonalds. How great, it's just great. How about coming back to my room for a little Boom Boom Carrie? Thanks Tria — Thanks Carrie — I have only been good friends with you since November but it has been real! — BFF — Lean on me, when you're not strong, and I'll be your friend, I'll help you carry on. OVER THE YEARS . . . Some people change, but the original trouble makers remained the same; Regine, Ali, Tiffany, Jenifer, Karen, Leslie, Lynda, Cathy, Sara, Linda and Jen W. Ten Little troublemakers — eight turned good, and then there were two. Lynx memories: Is it possible to lose any more games? But is it our fault that our coach went to flower shows? The Kearny game, “why do we have spit on our hands?” Shoplift much, you guys are such kleptos. Bike rides to practice. “My dream machine was stolen”, Jenns flip, can we have an instant replay? The rumble at Maplecrest Park. Remember Tiffany? The white home girl. Always with a spray paint can. “No, Prince is mine”. AKA Benedict Arnold. SEE you around Tiff. Maybe at the wedding. The Livingston game; will we ever forget? All on the bus minus one. Time-out, Time-out! We’ll have a party with chips and dips. Trick or treating to practice, you think we’ll pass for soccer players? Back of the bus for three years and one bus ride, only the good ones sit in front. Yeah Joanne.

BACK TO THE FUTURE . . . ATTENTION K-MART SHOPPERS!!!! Soccer camp: what a bitch! Cutting out of lunch, we’ve got to watch our soaps. Jenn we have to stick to our diets, think thin and steal me a pear. The first night and we’re already in trouble, “but I have to help her get aspirin.” Use the concussion excuse to get out of heading, it always works. Will we ever forget that whiney voice, “Boys stop it” she said in her underwear. Limbo night and pizza party on the second floor, you’re all invited to come with a few exclusions. Eddies Wedding. Ya know, Eddie Murphy, my father? Yeah he had me when he was eight. Trips to Micky-Dees. To the beach in a shopping cart. The nose caught on and how did we pay? Midnight aerobics; “turn the other way, we forgot to put on our bras” Ali, your log rolls leave something to be desired.” Movies; how many times is she gonna touch her hair, will she beat the record? Hubie; beauty in its most perfect form. “Lauren you’re the queen of the scatter-brains . . . What about my salad?” Flufefeeeee! Roommates; The deadly clothesline. No, I can’t move! Shaving cream fight, banana in the glove. I pulled my chest muscles. “Right here, see!”

THINGS WE’LL NEVER LIVE DOWN . . . Playing off the fence “I want you here out of the shade” We were innocent on that one. Don’t play in the weeds. The powder fight at camp. The groups at practice. “Do you think that’s funny, you little sophomore!” Ali looking down at her feet. Straight ahead Talleyrand. Jenn’s mental errors. Lynda’s goal kicks. Linda’s toe balls. Our drinking reputation. Overlooking Lauren. Joanne’s misjudgements.

AND THEN THERE WAS MORE . . . Soccer-tennis; finally an interesting practice. Someone’s missing . . . Is that why we’re having so much fun? A-for-Effort, A Team forever. It’s friday night again, party at _____’s house . . . All hell breaks loose. What nights to remember . . . If only we hadn’t taken pictures. Yeah mom, let me take the car to practice. The Crescents; is it all clear? CRASH!! But I looked both ways. “Officer, we just wanted you to know that she hit us, we didn’t hit her.” We almost died and he asks, “Is Lynda ok?” Arriving at practice: first words out of her mouth — “can I have a ride home?” We have permanent seats. Loading up after practice, “Guys we need some gas” Reg, shouldn’t you be on the right side of the road? “Lauren is it all clear?” Yeah no problem. De-ja-vue?? The saga continues: will Lauren be able to stop the bus? An hour and a half later the trip from Mplwd to S.O. is now over. Joannes wild driving. “Joanne, the bus!!!” Oh my god. This isn’t a 4 laned highway! Must you change in the car, not only your clothes! “I do it all the time” Dinners at the Office and Alex Eng. Will they ever get up? Maybe those deadly stares will help. The initiation of the A-Team, will Jill be able to get him? The soup smells like a wet dog. Ali, we’re not going to the Livingston mall. Oh. “Don’t worry guys I’ll get us home, I know the way.” What the hell Ali, the highway? Curfew, let’s make caramel apples in the microwave. Wait she’s coming over? The human trash compactor. Her next move, the big apple: “Oh it’s so big,” she says with a grin. I need a Kit-Kat. Road race at Grove. Psych, I’m the leading scorer. First the knee, then the head. Who cares if I scored them against my own team! BART — Does she ever change her shorts? Why is she skipping down the field? She’s a cow and she knows it and she really wants to show it, clap your hands. F— You! Accompanied with finger motions. Look what showed up at practice today. Oh no the scary monsters are invading. Scary trademark — polo shirts; why do they wear them to practice? My aunt lives here — my aunt doesn’t live here. Linda and Jenn; you talk to bushes often? Lyp-Sinc; Summer lovin’, who’s gonna be guys? We didn’t know you were moving. Thank you for being her father. She wore it . . . to school. Team of appliances. Jenn, watch her juggle, she looks like an eagle trying to start to fly. What did you say, s—t head? No, I said Shelly. Sharon, did you like the underwear and socks? Inga, or is it Inge? She is either from the exorcist or Froggie from our gang! He’s wearing his Sears Special Chords, it’s not gonna be a hard practice. The Headball session. What, is he sick? My thumb!!! Presents — Sears credit card and K-Mart gold card. Why does she get the gold card? “Her presence on the field was able to boost their moral” What are we idiots? Nice to have faith in your team. Deer runner. Is her arm strapped to her leg or what? My toe, My toe. Having babies. Popping puss pockets. Why in our room! Wow, it’s so fascinating. Words to Going to Cal. What the hell does that mean? Regine’s brilliant interpretations of songs. Allisha tape — to be played before each game. Drinking Scarie’s water. Sorry honey, we’re seniors and we’re thirsty. Guys I have “it” again. What the hell, does it comes every day? It’s either that or her bra. To Mayfair; Joanne how many people can you fit in your car? These are all my kids. Lauren’s sicknesses. Stock up on oreos and tissues. The Party. Reg, don’t chug. Beer Bet, I won! Todd, “watch yourself” Macaroni and cheese at 3 in the morning. Ali, you want some. “Ugh” Jo, you want some shrimp fried rice for breakfast? Ugh. Mr. or Ms. D. Hubert Wong legs? Sweatshirt Dilema. Are you guys friends or what? Some things will never change. I lost my chest. Meg, we’ll never forget you. Ali, must you kick the ball like that? Would you like anything from the bar. “Would we!!!!” Were they virgins? How old are you? Only fourteen? What are you gonna say to your kids? Regine does ballet at grunnings. We’ll have three coolers please. “Why don’t you make a run? . . . Why don’t you get a life?”

FAMOUS LAST WORDS . . . You know what I mean? I’m really annoyed. But do I care? But you suck! I’m not happy. Can I drive? No you can’t have a ride! Ben-Gay Renee? Lynda, don’t look at David. You guys are so obnoxious . . . we know, we love it. She may not be the fastest, or the best defender, but with an attitude like that little red-head, you’ll play. I wore the wrong bra. Yeah Shelly way to go. Wheeeeeeee! Whooh! This is my favorite song. We know Joanne, we know.

THINGS WE MEANT TO SAY . . . Soccer camp conferences. It really seemed like we were together. Little a this, little a that, we were divided again. If they only knew we wanted to work together. Too bad there’s no next year for us seniors. So many things we forgot to say, so many songs we forgot to play . . . Stairway to heaven . . . Bill Collectors at my door . . . Stand by me. Jen, Ali, Reg — You guys made soccer so fun. I’m gonna miss you so much next year. Love, Lynda. It’s been real — it wouldn’t have been as fun without all of you guys. GLWK!!

ONE LINERS

Whether or not we make a difference in this world can be of our own choosing . . .

But Columbia has given us the opportunities to prepare ourselves for whatever may come.

Putting together the 1987 Mirror has been a difficult and time-consuming job that we have tried to complete in the best way possible. All of our friends and families have supported us during this past year's work, and we would like to thank the following people in particular for their contributions:

Kaila Simmons for her creative inspirations.

Kara Gross for the sports artwork.

The fencing team for stuffing envelopes.

Jean Berghaus and Meredith Woocher for help with the underclass section.

Sharon Fleisher and Kim Wilson for selling ads.

The sixth period lunch table for picture identification: Gina Black, Jada Moore, Daniel Eatman, Nyota David, Patrick Nwamu, and Rich Gardner.

Special thanks to the "period two crew" for all the hard work: Jenn Lynch, Shawn Oxendine, Jessica Orrego, and Candice D'Italia.

Senior quote typists: Jennifer Acklin, Karen Golding, Maria Pilone, and Sheane Shafer.

For help with underclass pictures: KEN EZROW and Suzanne Aaronson, Lainie Marcus, Jennie Mosberg, Ken Adelman, Shannon Deuschle, Seth Lincoln, Sara Conard, Harlan Hibler, Kaila Simmons, Amy Eisner, Jackie Arimenta, Paula Bloom, Jodi Boast, Jen Katz, Jessica Tarnow, Jennie Zielinski, Erica Dodge, Karen Pawlick, Sonja Grier, Vicky Sarnowski, Fred Turner, Linda Keeler, Sara Roth, Mim Arnstein, Dawn Santasiere, Tara Formica, Alice Scharf, Stacia Sobieski, and Dawn Genovese.

Dawn Santasiere, Bethany Joseph, Mrs. DeFilipis, and Mrs. Stewart for their help with the Spring section.

All the people whose names we misspelled that didn't get mad.

Mrs. Stewart for helping with sports stats.

Also:

Our apologies to the occupants of A249 for any disturbance we might have caused during seventh period.

Our hopes for the longevity of the Columbian/Mirror picture exchange.

For photography, very special thanks to: Keelan Epps, Joan Ciarocca, Allison Amsterdam, Ruth Brucato, Ed Schindler, Kristy Jacobs, Chris Schobel, Andy Epstein, Greg Astor, Noah Berenter, Jim Friedland, Fred Turner, Karen Golding, and Dodi Robbins.

Thanks also to:

Dave Adamczyk, Lora Berson, Jenny Gollin, Siobhan Oldham, Becky Friedman, Jeanne Valenza, Marcela Rakitta, Gary Berson, and Rusty Pinilis.

And, of course, many thanks to Mr. Palma, without whom all this would not have been possible.
