

MAPLEWOOD MEMORIAL LIBRARY Maplewood, New Jersey 07040

When you get what you want in the struggle for self

And the world makes you king for a day,

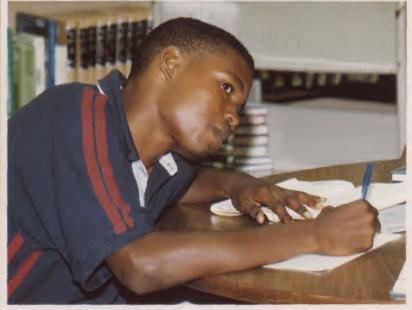

Just go to the MIRROR and look at yourself,

And see what that man has to say.

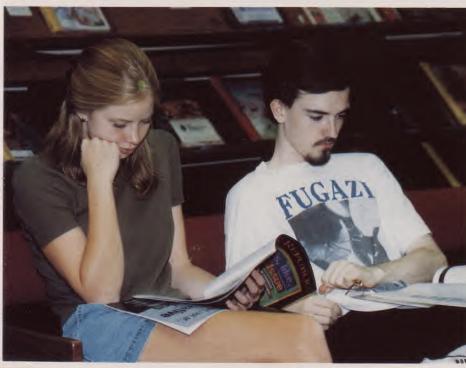

For it isn't your father or mother or wife

Whose judgment upon you must pass;

The fellow whose verdict counts the most in your life

Is the one staring you back from the glass.

Some people may think you a straightshootin' chum

And call you a wonderful guy,

But the man in the glass says you're only a bum

If you can't look him straight in the eye.

He's the fellow to please, never mind the rest

For he's with you clear up to the end,

And you've passed your most dangerous,

difficult test

If the man in the glass is your friend.

You may fool the whole world down the pathway of years

And get pats on the back as you pass,

But your final reward will be heartache and tears

If you've cheated the man in the glass.

Boys Fencing

1 995-1996 has been the best season ever for the Columbia boys' fencing team. Although, at 3 wins and 5 losses, the team did not have a winning record in dual meets, it more than made up for its losses in the District and State Championships.

The foil team, consisting of seniors Zachary Klughaupt and Gerald Fitzhugh and sophomore John LeDonne, tied for first place with Millburn at the District Championships. Millburn, however, took home the trophy because they had acquired more indicator points. All three foil fencers qualified for the district individual championships, where LeDonne placed second, Klughaupt placed fourth, and Fitzhugh placed sixth. Klughaupt and LeDonne both qualified for the State Individuals. The team went on to place sixth at the States, the best showing ever for Columbia boys' foil.

Although two varsity sabre fencers had graduated last year, the sabre team, consisting of juniors tamer Marshood, Dan Zwillenberg, and Mark Braunwarth, and sophomore Shannon Mason, was still able to make a very strong showing. The team received fourth place at the District Championships, and Marshood was able to qualify for the District and State Individual Championships. At the State Championships the sabre team placed eleventh.

Klughaupt, Fitzhugh, and epee fencer Will Lada will all be missed when they graduate this year, but other talented fencers, including LeDonne, Marshood, and sophomore Steve Dolinac will surely continue Columbia's tradition of excellence.

We are Proud of You!

It all started back in Mrs. Lechter's history class . . . Val needed the history notes, and Cheryl came to the rescue . . . and so it began. Casapulla loved Val, but she didn't like Cheryl too much. Maybe it had to do with the vocab story she wrote about Pancho. How about the Albatross . . . "water everywhere" . . . "Gee, I really do have 4th period study!" Gotta see Dan, you know? We sure had fun at thiose softball games, eh? We "worked 'em woe" a few times, even though we didn't win. The ball did go in da water, and some people couldn't throw the ball forward! And both Cheryl and Val experienced their first fencing meet (Val had the lucky Bruins hat!) . . .

Over the summer. Cheryl convinced Val to join orchestra and learn to play field hockey. "Let's see, is she asks, I played in a summer league in Florida, right?" And Val picked up lots of men in those spandex! Orchestra ws lots of fun . . . we had Myrtle Beach! 51 pics of Mikey, and a few of the red headed drummer! Cheryl's skirt ws too short, but she managed to pick up some guys anyway! Laughing on the floor of the restaurant and playing with our food. K didn't like Natasha or Cheryl! We were all late for the bus because Cheryl wanted to ride the avalanche thing again! Peebles, Belk, Wynn Dixie and stalkers, and who can forget Pedro and looking for Camden Yards? Softball again . . . we were the captains . . . we were bad! Convenient knee pains from our fave pitcher! Diesel, Tank, Cow, MOO!!! Seton Hall Library . . POTENTIAL! VI living in a box on Floods Hill . . . fighting in Mr. Weinstein's class. Like like like X34.

Then came Senior year . . . RANGERS GAME (Val's firs!). We met Peter, but no Glenn (even though he sent her a card!). "I love you, Glenn . . . I love you, Brendan!" I missed COrey, and I can't believe Ted got married! But I have the jersey! Finally! "What kind of name is Jeannine?" TROIKA! "This is a no Troika zone!" Val got a good seat in orchestra . . . KODAK MOMENT!!! Lunch was fun . . . Cheryl, do you like anyone? GOV/POL . . help me! Val has a cute nickname . . . we call her ONEI. "Hey, how about coming up to my room for a little espreso and DR?" We love you, Ron! Donato for Healy? Hmm . . . Rutgers never sounded so good! No more classifying in bio! Pit memoreis? I hope so . . . New Year's was fun . . . dinner with our favorite people! "The Candidate' stinks . . . it never ends! What we'll do for a little x-tra credit in Gov/Pol! And we have a Gov/Pol bonfire to prepare for!

Men stink (how many have we been through? Too many!). But Teddy, Glenn, Corey, and 'LeCalir' will always be our favorites (and the subject of numerous stories!). No more softball... but we'll miss P! It's been a long road, but it's gone by too quickly. To our friends and family who have been there along the way, thanks for the memories!

Cheryl: Three years ago you took the risk of being friends with "the new girl." Now I can't imagine life without you. We've had our ups and downs, but through it all, you've been real, and that's all I can ask for. Thank you for being a true friend. Love ya!

Val: The years have passed so quickly! Boston will never be the same without you! Through ups and downs, laughter and tears, you've always been there for me. I doubt I'll find another friend as true as you! Believe in yourself as I do in you, and nothing will ever go wrong! Love you, and keep in touch!

SHAYNA * PIA * GOZIE

Who says "good" girls can't have fun. We've been doin it for years. 5th grade with the new tire playgorund, the opera, Pia leavin her old friends to chil with new ones. Summer programs at CHS. Whoa middle schoo!! Double lockers and all that. Parties in A261 for no reason. PB with the tig o biddies. The long walks home stopping everywhere. 8th grade b-ball team. Do I take the shot? Graduation with my pot of gold speech. We thought it was the end, more like the beginning. Some boy in HS like Pia. Which one doesn't. Kiki a new friend. Tam Roz Van at lunch. It was all so simple. Then we went our separate ways for a while, met new friends, figured a few things out. But if things are meant to be, they'll be. So our friendship was. Summer 95 — didn't even have to go away far. But that started everything back up. Back up? I see you're still behind that wheel. Yeah so is Pia. No more soul searching for ways to get home. In the back of station wagons. Did I say you could sit there? P wishes she said that to Big Legs at the Source Awards. How was I supposed to know we weren't the talent? S's sweet 16 part I, part II. What you wanna do? Everythign! No parents. No van. No P. If we only had One More Chance. Moschino rabbit ears, Versace hoties. Butter Pecans, fried clam strips, Day's old sister. I don't believe he got loud on Shorty Amos, Shorty Polk. Do you know Mrs. Adibe? Carhoppers. Wish we were. Walkin' x-town. Twice. Nothin' to do? We can beep him. 911-911. Did you beep him 911? No. Call him please. Again? He has caller ID! PoofPrep1PoofPrep1. Did I say it was over? Taggin' up the wall. Squid's Marsha Clark faces. He really strips? Cheer him up with some cookies. Why'd you have to throw my bag in my face like that? Please don't lock it up on Isabella. Stussy like . . . G's return to the social world. Word to burger and English accents! The Caravan window's been through it all. Just like us. We've seen them all — from the neck up. We wish, like I wish P hadn't left me on Main St. sprintin' down alleys like a fool. RIP 3rd st. They were nice girls. Anybody seen Lar, Tito? What happened to Agnes? Her head's in the window. Shysty dances. My brother taught me that. Stress on Wed. nites. No need. I know Barry. Pizza Hut. No bill. We chil. 'Cause we're Seniors now. At school in body, not in mind, but the fun continues. As a matter of fact, I saw Shay walking down Valley. The butter has melted. The eagle has landed. No — it's Ja. He actually came. Grambling — 100 numbers plus and not on the football players' backs, the playettes. We know the parking lot well. Oh, did I ruin your nite? Drop me off at the afta party in the Bima. That's my sista's ride. Sick of mackin'. Am I on the parkway to P-way, Shaolin, Brooklyn? What's with you and 3 o'clock. What's goin' on here? A tropical storm? No, the Guyanese War on 117th. Lex, Legend, luxury all equal LOOPs around the park. FRIDAY, fun like you ain't had since the summertime. Wake up! I'm ot sleep. How you ladies doin'? Ehhh. I'm goin home. home! HOME! Return to 22. Did I say sick of mackin'? Musta been a typo. 'Cause you da bomb, no, you da bomb. We're the stars of this crazy movie called — our life. I've got plenty of friends for life. One more won't hurt, but paying'll kill me. I'm not tryin' to start something. Actually I am — right at the end, why not? A full tank of gas — might as well blow it. Being the youngen hasn't been that bad. I almost forgot until everyone started to drive. So now we're on this huge highway. Some of us have found ur exits. The rest of us are about to get off. Thanx Pia and Gozie for makin' the ride an unforgettable one. If I never quite grasp AP Bio at least I can drive on the parkway. This isn't good-bye. It's just 'til next time. Where did I find U2? 1987 WNGC in the bathrooms up until 1996 and beyond. Who's this girl calling me?? It's goosehead — the girl with the biggest pocketbook in the whole sixth grade. G, it really started in '91 when we had a "plan". Well, what can I say, it worked! For the both of us. From New York to Paris, G is always the last one in the van. We've traveled the world together, now we'll go our separate ways. Remember all the parties — the hosue parties, EC parties (skillz posse), it was fun while it lasted, but now we've moved on to bigger and better things. What's he 23? or 35? Sike, but 4real I never knew life was so slow until summer '95. The real bomb. It all started the Fourth of July. Somethin' told me it wuld be one crazy summer. G was getting educated while me and S were out doing God knows what. Gregory's after 22. Did I say you could sit there? Track every morning. Is it 9 a.m.? Am I up? Yep. S's Bday. S's party, G's back in full effect. You go grrl!! G meets A. S's after party. Ice Cream, need I say more? My B-day, ticket to freedom. 1 — way til four. W's five point no. I see you're still behind that steering wheel! NO VAN, NO YOU?? C actin' crazy (that's not the point!). Ooh, I forgot the Source Awards. Me sitting next to big legs all night (Uugh!) My encounter with Nas. "Are you talent?" "No." I culd have killed you S. ODB, I like it raw! Chill S. G in New York with two dollars. At one point there were so many P's to chose from, I didn't know what to do. Three P's in one weekend, IMBTB 4 real. All of those crazy times in B-field, 22, Elizabeth Ave., it goes on and on. P's til the sun comes up. Lex coupes, Beamers, and Benz's takin' no shorts. Ja, it was fun while it lasted. But I learned from experience, over 30G's equals loop. My bad save that for FRIDAY. Instead let's do donuts around West Side Park. 18th to 18th, nuthin but army pants and white tank tops. A, where are you? He answered!? Ohmigod!! Eh, y'all not from around here. eehhh yo! How do they do that? Look a Lex C — he must be phat. E, you saw, he was real fat. I think it was Biggie. M & S at Day's wildin'. Lifting weights, M dancing in cirlces and sneezin'. On some ole crazy type ish. KG's party — G's a superstar. Nas again. Is that PUffy? The infamous . . . — shhhh! don't remind me, I might earl (ha!ha!). But all that soon ended, school started. Seniors in the house — '96! Grambling Game. G going baserk. 88 after in the beamer. Oh, by the way she knows Barry. My brother taught me that. G, the Chocolate Deluxe. And, no I'm not a Butter Pecan Rican, French Vanilla 4ever. P-way no more. Am I on the parkway? No, don't think so. What is this, a tropical storm? Flood down the neck. What is it? 5 o'clock? or 3, S? Come On! But don't worry I got enuf P's to last me for a while. Plan B, C, D, E, F . . . (just kidding J). Lex on Sundays. Terri with the jokes on Sunday afternoons — America eats P. That was funknee. Welp, my time is up. So, see ya when I see ya, Gotta Go.

Senior yr: Uh-oh, think I'm catching that senior-itis a bit 2 soon. If we stay on the phone loger & just talk about it some more, maybe it will all go away. Melrose Place — the best show on TV — we never miss an episode, MLKA back again. Million Man March — Black men, we support you 100%. Affirm. Action, interracial a & d — come on, bring it on, Me & P R ready 2 battle. Debate — Me & P shut'em down — BOOM! — just like I said we would. Sorry M, keepin' it real just wasn't enough. '96! '96! Finally the new yr arrives. I decide, no more jive, ike in '95 — G-Money is ready 2 roll!!! The rest of the school yr flies by: getting N2 college, going 2 the prom, then graduation — moe special moments we will never forget.

Phrases I will never forget:

"You know what I'm sayin', homeboy I ain't playin'. don't try to play me out, 'cause you'll just get played yourself!"

These were 6 great yrs that I will always remember. Thanks 4 the good times, but this is only the beginning. Looking 4ward 2 many more. Friends 4-ever (even if P moves out of the country).

***SHOUT-OUTS*** Mommy, Daddy, Obinna, Elo, Ral — thanx 4 all the love & support. Pia (BFF), Tennille, Noelle, Shayna (we will keep chillin' & livin' it up lovely) Mark, Carla, Dana, Jamie, Robby, Erica, Ree, Kilah, Erin, Nard, Jon, Brett, Rafael, Andre - peace & love always.

Anne, you grew up easily as a sunflower. Your soul is beautiful as the daffodil that interrupts winter's siege. You are crazy and true as the stuffed animal on your shelf, a wry smile sewn forever on its mug and the porcelain eyes that never close, hard with intelligence. I feel you all the way to the frontier of my being. You are all four phases of the wild moon, each a mystery and compelling beauty. You are all four winds. You are the entire quartet of my heartbeats. Sweet berry. Deep deep root.

It seems like I've been friendw with you all my life. I can tell you anything, and know that you'll understand. My guard is always down around you, and I never fear that you'll look down upon me. Even though we'll be apart next year. I know our friendship will last. I'm here for you

It all started 7 years ago on the bean bag chairs watching hill street blues. Even though there have been some rough times, we've managed to work everything out in the end. You've supported me and given me confidence in everything I do, and that means so much to me. I will always cherish the memories and I know that good times are still to come. Love Ya, Rach

I never thought we'd become such good friends but since the summer you have become such a big part of my life. You're one of the few people who really understand me. I feel I can come to you with anything. Thanks for always being there. — Luv — Ilyssa

Half the, half the fun is getting there: being superfans at all sporting events, defending milla against Adam's insults, praying for our troubles to disappear... Your words of wisdom: "Laugh at yourself first, before anybody else can." "Let's just go, we'll regret it if we don't go." — no

You know that you can turn to me when you need advice or anything. I've never lost hope in our relationship. It's got to last, who else would I be able to talk to about the good times and the not so good times? We have an understanding that is unexplainable to others or in words. I know you know what I mean and how special it really is . . . keep smiling . . . but please stop laughing. Love, Lizzard

We have a very special friendship that has grown so much since high school began. No matter how serious the problem, we can always find a solution. You deserve the best Tan. "Sail on silvergil, sail on by! Your time has come to shine. If you need a friend I'm sailing right behind." Love ya Rachie

When did we first become friends? Well, whenever it was, since then we've gone through a lot and grown so much. You make me feel so confident about myself and you always give me such great advice. I'm always here for you. Great times at your apt, will never be forgotten.— Luv — Ilyssa

Walking home with yu at sunrise, giving you rides in the early morning, thanks for the wake-up calls at the crack of dawn — I'm sorry you always caught me at the worst part of day. Please forget my bad mods. You're a good friend and a strong person — Angelica

*RACHEL*

You know I love you! Our friendship has had its ups and downs through high school, but you've always remained a constant in my life. Laughing until we cried is something we've mastered over the years. Good luck to you in college and don't ever say good-bye to our friendship. It's lasted 7 years and who says it ever has to end. Love. Liz.

Since 10th grade and even before, I've known you as a strong and exceptional person. You've become such a great friend to me. These past three years would not have been as memorable for me had you not been there. Thank you for always listening to me and calling me (even if I wouldn't pick up the phone)! I love you and will always be there for you. Tanni

The only regret I have is that we didn't become friends sooner. You are such a great person. From bio and Govypol to partying we always have fun. I know that even after we all separate for college I will never lose touch with you. I love you — llyssa

When we finally met, I knew we'd be friends forever. Smile with me at "the smile" and our sketches, lunchtime encounters with hobbs and co., missing dear mr. grape. You understand me so well. I know who to trust — climmbing. climb away . . . here comes the sun, I can hear the gypsy music play - Angelica

*ILYSSA*

Our friendship is so special and I cherish everything we have shared. We have so much in common, especially as time passed. It's unfortunate that it took us so long to become so close. "I love my little llyssa, and I know she loves me to." Thank for always providing a good time no matter what the circumstances. Keep Smiling! - Love, Liz

I can't believe it took us so long to become so close. I know that even though we've begun our friendship, it will always last. I hope you know that I am always here for you, and no matter what you can always count on me. Never let anyone bring you down — you're always going to be beautiful. I love you. Tan

I wish that we had become friends earlier. You have always been there for me when I needed you to listen. Whether we were drooling over the salad at Roman Gournet or delirious from AP G&P, we were always laughint. Thanks for the great memories! Although this friendship has just begun, I know it will last. Love ya, Rach

The coulds never expect it when it rains. In the past four years it's rained so much with the unexpected that i know it's foolish to make predictions. Even so, I predict we will always be friends. At SOMS we were joined through other people, now I am closest to you, and even though my taste for paula has died out we still have so much in common. I wish I could wave a wand to solve our problems. "If I knew the way, then I would show you the way, but I don't know the way." I'd never let you fall Through the Cracks. This friendship is built to last — Angelica *ANGEL*

I admire you for all that you've accompished in high school. You inspire me to reach my goals and you make my dreams seem closer to reality. All your little cards, notes, and presents keep me smiling and cheer me up. You are always behind me 110%. Thanx for all your support and being the best friend that you have been to me, Love, Liz. I'm so glad that we've become such good friends, over the past two years. You've been so supportive to me, and I'll never forget you. Don't ever be afraid to come to me if you need a friend. I love you. Love, Tan

You are the most caring and sensitive person I know. I realize how much time and energy you have devoted to our friendship — the plane notes (esp. the famous smile drawings), the creative birthday cards (esp. pictures and reese's), and, of course the listening and comfort. I will always treasure our friendship and the memories we've shared. Love ya, Rach

There's no way I can fit in a few lines all that you mean to me. Who would have predicted we would be the ones who remained best friends from ALIMBO. I can honestly say you are my one true best friend. I love you for always being there for me and I'll treasure our memories forever. - Luv - Ilvssa

JESS DANIELLE

** A real friend is one who walks in when the rest of the world walks out **

It began sophomore year, Jess is the first to call her Dan . . . Dan who? — Yell. The stories begin when AL makes calls from the boardwalk and wants Jess to come down for the weekend . . . the stories never end. Junior year — our first varsity seson and a winning record. Labor Day weekend and Dan goes away. She returns to her another one of Jess' stories — not surprised it's about AL. Dan hits the party scene at MB's. Senior year arrives and the both of us are total seniors. Jess gets her liscense and we are constantly driving around in the Jeep, the stalking begins — DH. GM. DK. ES. AL. too bad we get caught eery sngle time — Reversing down the street. Since when is there a Palmer Video in Newstead? Don't you take Lenox Place in Maplewood to get to 7-11? We just wanted to say hi. Wait Jess, do you sing really well with the Indigo Girls? Yellow lights mean go — Jess goes through anything but what about the cop at the opposite light? Our field hockey season ended with the Sectional Championship title — dinners, practices, the team (wait, do we like the team?), Jess gets her tv debut getting hurt at the game . . . it's Spirit Week! Leaving the Montclair game (1st round of States) was quite an adventure — Dad, we're lost in Jersey City . . . ok Jess just stay in the middle lane . . . Jess gets her tank filled for the third time that week, Dan, there isn't a brake pedal on your side of the car. Dan always complaining about Jess' driving, but who gets in the accident? The end of our season with a sectional title brought our team closer than ever — dinner at Charlie Brown's, Dayna's decorated Blazer, wristbands, and the 95ers, team gubc — we're still trying to keep up with Dayna. Jess is in the basement, but can hear Dan laughing upstairs, but what about SS? Jess falls asleep on his lap. College applications take over but somehow we managed to have fun, even when Jess was crying at least once a week. She's a really nice girl, she tries really hard, and she has a lot of spirit, but . . . Maybe I need new brake pads or brake fluid? I only want some, not the whole bottle. DH's house becomes a frequent stop — Dan, I'll give you the colored pen. Football games leave us with possible future boyfriends WMC boys, but are they seniors? Caught way too much stalking younger men — Where are you guys going? We just have to pick up Amy, she's at Catherine's a lot. Does Amy need a ride home from CCD because Jess will pick her up. SS. BH. DA. NB. Oh David, I didn't realize you were in the car. The season's over, we have nothing to do so we eat — taylor ham + egg, salt bagels, yogurt pies, yogurt boy? Driving through the reservation was always a good time — Jess, is this your first time in the REZ? The stalking continues and Jess' obsessions become out of control, and we stop going to 7-11 for awhile. Thanksgiving comes, and AL returns. Jess does what about this when Dan and Dayna are saleep on the floor — guess who's at the front door? Once again, Jess is caught. It's ok, Jess is "friends" with both of them. OK and he's standing at his front door! I don't think I'm going to sleep much this week . . . debonk . . . Jess crying becomes out of control and Party of Five causes her to break down completely. "Are they TRYING to make me unhappy?" Where are you girls going? — Claremont — OK, you're going to have to turn around, thanks for the directions . . Jess is way too friendly to strangers — Are you Steve? We were on our way to Drug Fair but somehow ended up in Newark, is his car there? I think it might be diabetes. Dan — don't you need another application from the bakery? 7-1 chipwiches, do you have splints here? OK and we speak english in this country. The Construction Site — OK and Good. Denied jobs at A + F but continue to look anyway. After driving around for two hours and stalking Video Towne we decide to call the machine (shocker). We make our way over to RA's and chill with the boyz. The parents come home but the Jeep is in the driveway. Who are you? I'm Jess. Aren't you Danielle Schwartz — you were my favorite CCD student in fourth grade; now you're sneaking out of my house? Jess has one too many. Dan drives the Jeep for the first time — LOVE. December vacation and Jess goes to Mexico — best week of her life — meets the boy she wants to marry — still think Andy's cuter. Maybe she should go to UVM. Jess — you did what with your dad? Jess is denied but 24 hours later accepted to Wisconsin — but the both of us wait it out the rest of the year. Who knows, maybe we'll be going to college together . . .

** Remember me with smiles and laughter for that is how I'll remember you **

Dayna — You have played an important part in both of our lives. You are a loyal friend, always ready to help (even when we bribe you with slurpies!) Always remember the times we have shared. We love you.

Amy — Thanks for all of your encouragement, support, and most of all your enthusiasm and optimism. Don't worry — you'll visit Jess in Michigan next year and one day you'll join her there. Thanks for always listening to our stories and for all of your advice. You are the best. We love you!

Amy: What can I say babe, were like two peas in a pod, except your taller and have straighter hair. You mean so much to me. I love you completely and know, "We will be friends forever, because that is as long as we are going to need each other." Dana; Thanks for being my eating buddy and companion in all the interesting classes we've taken together. Your such an amazing person, never change a bit.

Sarah: Thanks so much for being my Sorrows and swimming pal. Your comments are as amazing as you are. The Foursome: You guvs are unbelievable, I will never forget you.

Katie and Steve: I don't think I could have survived Lou Brown swimming without you. Thanks a million.

Danielle: I can't think of a person I'd rather walk amongst skeevy people to buy a camera with.

Sarah: From the moment we meet I knew I had found a truly special friend. I know that whenever I am feeling blue I can always look to you for optimism and a smile. You're such an extraordinary friend and I don't know how I will survive school without you. I will always remember the times we've had together and look forward to the ones yet to come. *Wherever we are, our friendship makes our world*

Mel and Tara

We owe it all to Oheb Shalom Nursery School. Graham crackers and apple juice, walking on the yellow cups with green strings

We were friend with Jackie Pinilis, Brian Slucker, cute little Danny Hordon, Zach was there. Mel gets in vicious fights with the boys: her first encounters with flirting. What's Tara doing?

Probably reading Dr. Seuss. We learn some Jewish tunes. We dress up for the Purim carnival.
T's lake house. Swimming in green slime. Oren and Merri use us as test subjects for their diabolical experiements. We get our first driving lessons on the Teich box We were dedicated playmates. M's committed to the friendship.

Summer '85. Comparable to Sleepaway Camp II (but for us, it was only number one of too many). Our parents pack us off to spend the summer together, We go to Camp Nah-Jee-Wah (the fod lives up to it's name). T's only 6, M's 7. It isn't possible to spend too much time together... The bunk makes T their scapegoat. M laughs. The friendship goes downhill over War (the card game). T gets candy trunk. She never did get the smell, or the ants, out. M laughs, still. Our first introduction to communal showers and daddy longlegs. The job wheel; serious competition, dustpan over toilet scrubber.

Having been to fifteen of each others birthday parties, we have perfected our roller-skating, ice skating, miniature golf, and bowling skills. We expose each other to the peole from the

In a fit of rage at her parents, T slams the door to her room. The doorknob falls off. M cries, but T knows someone will come to their rescue M's always the tiny one; T towers over her. On T's measurement door of faces, M's height sticks her with "smiley" and "squintey."

Our friendship fades. M goes off to South Mountain. Physical separation compounds the damage done by the summer.

Elementary School. Once in a while, Barb drops by and bring m along. T gives periodic updates on the hotties of Marshall/Jefferson. Just the beginning of the many boy talks to follow. M gets new BFF. To does too. Too much time spent with Megan and Marlaine leaves T & M with a lot of catching up to do. T's sleepover where everyone went home, except brave M, who stayed it out, no glowing cats' eyes will send her away.

Our parents decide that we should't go to camp together anymore. But we live at the pool together. Handstands, underwater races, dives, geting the diving board sticker, FrozFruits, frozen

SOMS, still not much association thanks to our social status being defined by our lunch table seating, T is off in the boonies, while M works her way to the center of it all. In our infrequent chats, M pours out her life's problems. "Life Lesson: Seems like even the most desired spot doesn't grant you happiness. T's crazy slumber parties: slam books galore. Everyone

Our second summer together - JCC Teen Travel . . . We cover serious NJ territory w/lil Esta (our source for useful MMS boy info), Chaaad (w/cool hands; the big palm and hitchhiker's thumb), eye make-up Amy, tall Jeremy, flashlight Stacy, Soviet Stan with the Brooklyn accent, lunchbag, JG not school one, blue-eyed Dan, Greg "Yankee" Baker, Karin, the tailboys, the Jasons, and spastic long tongued Glen who abuses T as flirting of course. Hit all the hot spots — mall mania, bowling, deep sea fishing witht he bait fight, mini golf, Hudson River cruise, Flanders, South St. Seaport and the scavenger hunt with our klepto-crew, Belmar aracade madness, Seaside Heights and the slides, Delaware River rafting, New Hope, and Then there were the weekers: Canada — insane rafting with our "oat and aboat" guide and viciously fatal rapids, a compulsive liar roomie, bond with the bros and experience bus claustrophobia for 14 hrs., and Virginia — T rides every rollercoaster while M sits on every bench in Bush Gardens and Kings Dominion, too much rain but thrills on the rides.

CHS. We're Frosh'im! Lots o' new stuff and friends . . . ditch a few people, latch on to a few more. The 1st group: T, M, & Jamie. Then it's Just The 8 of Us; that's short lived. After The Dis another split occurs when T plays guitar for the Rusty Hinges while M and Katie are off bonding and expressing their musical talents in "Chicago"

Good Times: We start our homebound, begging Mom for a ride. Rarely, she condescends to make the long trek to the movie theater. Mostly homebound, we rent a lot of movies. Chilling in the Sunroom with our current group of friends and gazing upon M's big screen tv is regular fare. A few of our faves: Disney, St. Elmos's M's MTV 80s videos, Dirty Dancing, Newsies, Ethan flicks, Reality Bites, and Dazed and Confused. Quality time with friends always becomes an evening of munching. No one can resist stopping by M's candy dish, or chugging some Orchard Peach juice. To is disappointed to find that most of M's cookies have turned low-fat. We learn that you don't need a license to get into the city, where more fun awaits. Hitting the Village, esp. Urban Outfitters & the Antique Boutique, and the TKTS booth to see "Joseph." A little old lady snatches T's signed playbill. We meet Michael Damian, and he serendes us with his hit "Rock On." We watch dazzling skating tricks as performed by authentic skaters in Central Park. T & M join each others families for various theater trips. Not only do the youngest members of the Greenspan and Teich families spend time together, but the elder members are also congenial. Teichs welcome Greenspans for lakeside relaxing; Greenspans welcome Teichs for Jewish occasions. We all partake in the traditional hunt for the afikomen and the Seder, led by a script. The usual evening capper — a showing of T2 or True Lies on laser disc. Our short-lived, junior year clique contains Katte, Sma, M, & T. No weekend goes by without the four us spending hours together, Guesstures team names brought a lot of laughs — "Punks" vs. "Snoop Doggy Dogg," Natural differences cause us to drift apart. In February, Jessie becomes an integral part of our lives. Who would have known that a sophomore could be so awesome? We find that all three of us are on the same wavelength regarding friends, social activities, guys (AL = red, JS = punk rocker, OS, KH = Rapunzel, PC = cute scruffy guy, NS = Santa, AD, TM, JM = not-as-cute scruffy guy, AT, SN = Dinosaur Jr., PR, DD, TC, ZB, LE, RL = mustard guy) Finally, M turns seventeen. Shotgun! We got wheels! Now where to go? For food, of course. Joins us on all our trips to Emack's, Café Baci, Hagen Dazs, Millburn Diner, Bennigan's (after Homecoming), the Ritz, Boston Chicken (with Adam T), and the Mpwd Coffee Co. An evening of billiards at T's house usually turns into a dance party or . . . story hour beside the pool

Musicals: Chicago. Bright eyed eager freshmen join the chorus. Then, they get their lines . . . T's line "You should see what's going on out there! There's blood and guts all over the place!" T says goodbye to the musical while Katie gets her big line. M gets typecast as a silly, airheaded character. Our first exposure to upperclassmen. Danny D charms us all.

94, Mame. T's still not actually in the musical (this time she was cut), but it sure seems like she is; she lives in the auditorium with the cast everyday. M's sticking it out as a transvestite mainicurist, Babette.

95, The Pajama Game. We're all in it togther. We become sucked into long afternoons in the auditorium, monotonously watching the real actors on the stage while we hide our A & P bags in the seats. The afternoons waste away as we whisper with Amy, Kiera, Ashley, Esther, Liz, Sanaz, Aaron, Angelica, Katie, and most memorably, Kris. M's jealousy flares a bit when T hears 3rd hand that he said she could be a model, but her ire soon shifts to Katie. Psychology class was not enough to pursue the relationship, yet after school too many girls move in full speed ahead. Streep competition doesn't enable more to be possible. *Life Lesson: Get over him. The show all came together in the end, but not the relationship (he made other plans). '96, Fiddler on the Roof. We hope we can pull it off. Our annual Beacon Theater free concerts! Thanks, Rudy.

Squeeze; We almost don't make it there — a adverse encounter with a curb leaves us wobbling through the Holland Tunnel. The right rear tire just couldn't make it all the way, so we left it behind and took a cab, just making it in time for the angry Smithereens to open. Then, finally, Squeeze came on. We sang along to every song, surprising the middle-aged crowd with our knowledge of their classics. "True Colors", "Tempted", & "Pulling Mussels" were a few of our favorites. The mixer was an annoyal everyone sang Happy Birthday to the mixer man.

Indigo Girls: Again, Neil sets us behind the mixer, but we spend most of our time up at the stage, K's Choice opens with a funny song about a breakfast misconception. Extended versions of our least favorite songs don't go over too well, but they make up for it with a great prform of "Ghost" As a special treat, Joan Baez comes out during the encore.

Rusted Roof: Hot Dead — Head guys, but we had our own male company. Joan Osborne, with the bad grammar, screams through the opening. RR comes on, and we dance so hard, we drench our clothes. Intense anticipation leads up to the climatic end song, "Send Me on My Way."

STISY/JFTY: 10th grade. We try STISY after much promting from Darren and Oren. Our first event, a progressive dinner at the Katz' house. We decline the offer to Indian leg wrestle, but we tentatively accept the passed kiss.

New Member North @ Parsippany. The theme was "Heal the World." Some Valuing Diversity Day repeals. Most of the time, we wandered around cluelessly following the masses of teens from program. We learned some NFTY conventions: shared our favorite flavor ice cream, color underwear, kitchen utensil. PDA was a little too much to handle, though our co-ed encounters were few. Shelly and Clndy — we meet our identical pair. And Amy. An most especially, that too brieg glimpse of her brother, Jeff G. Darren, M & T create a unique friendship circle with optimal eye contact - rotated the Ha Ha game 90 degrees.

Though our first conclave experience isn't exactly a success, we try again at Hagigah in Aberdeen. While M is coloring a talis with markers, T is singing "Free to Be You and Me." Social scene is not happening. Being to lose hope.

But we're sucked into the planning of Spring here in SO. Attend many meetings in the Sharey Tefilo library. Nominally, we're creating services, but in truth our responsibilities are non-existent. The big event arrives. Finally, we meet some boys. M slow dances with Greg aka Jon Lovitz while he serenades her with "Jessie" and he gets turned on watching Jordan hook-up with a Jessie. Thas an abortive attempt at a hook-up with Zach B. They do not part amicably. Darren gives T a candle which he does not expect her to pass on her senior year. And neither

STISY elections: we spend more time preparing our lengthy speeches than on any STISY event. Serious competition lands M with secretary and T with Publicity VP

Junior year, now we're on board. Our rare BMs with Twizzlers and too much bickering amount to a hit shul-in and a floop of a JCC night. The Shul-In: Rufus, Self Defense and the annual STISY Bowl. We're reintroduced to Esther. Jessie comes to her first STISY event. That cute chaperone. M convinced bytan to go after their "Pulp Fiction" flasco. He never becomes an official N-F-T-Y-ite. JCC Night: volleyball with the three STISY members who show up. End of the year, back to elections again. 6 running unopposed were unanimously chosen for '95-'96 board. We welcome Jason S and Sara M into the STISY family. We're introduced to our new advisor Alan. He wastes no time and gets right down to business and sets a date for a board retreat at the start of our senior year.

We travel the long drive to Camp Hackensack (uh, Mah-Kah-Nac). We perform rounds of supersonic boops for Alan's driving pleasure. Aaron DJs te journey and exposes us to "Kiss From a Rose" and other FLY95 favorites. We play with Jordan's Pornocards. We arrive and meet the Aberdeenies. We spend the weekend trapped in a cozy log cabin, dancing to Rusted Root, spending some close time with Jordan and Josh. Four people sleep in a bed made for two. We perform "outrageous" skits: M seductively handles fruit while T accurately portrays a prudish freshman. Passing around the M&M dispenser, we pray not to get a green one, but later we unwillingly listen to green-coded tales. Take a surprise trip to Ben & Jerry's where we get awesome book covers and encounter a scary sexual harasser. A few too many people share one towel (not at the same time). The ride home: M snoozes on Jordan - not too comfy.

towet (not at the same time). The ride nome: M shoozes on Jordan — not too compt.

After all our quality time, we try to get down to business, but all too eften, our board meetings turn into just more fun and games. The boys strive to be in the spotlight, while the girls just watch it all. We listen to KPC's 64rd rendition of "Nips" and spend more time laughing than working. Delegation of reponsibilities proves effective: We travel to NYC on T's birthday and enjoy Middle Eastern cuisine and a 3-D IMAX movie about a Russian immigrant. Our lives become engulfed by yet another conclave at our temple.

North: The change of name from JFT's to NFTY-GEA hanges few things. The people are the same as usual — superficial and cliquey. M's program turns into stand-up comedy with exaggerated portrayals of a jock party, teen suicide, and marijuana use. Leadership suits us well, we have a much better time. J. and Jay complete on posse. We learn to skank and appreciate Ska and Punk — Operation by and Rancid. Jay teases M — "Holy" While roller-skating, J tries her skills at matchmaking, pulling T away to leave the cute couple to skate as a pair. Too bad the sleeping arrangements aren't as exclusive. But M still has hope for the future. We spot a cutie and he moves in on T . . . and three others. Guess she wasn't the only one who couldn't resist those eyes.

We try to have a reunion of our conclave posse without success. M continues to take JS matters into her own hands, but can't spark the fire. M gets over it after an amazing week long romance made possible by Nesiva. M finally knows what the talk is all about, while T has yet to learn. The desire to munch on Biscuit quickly subsides. Seems Nesiya's a better breeding ground for relationships than our hometown (Note: Yoni, Jed, Jon).

Shoutouts

Mutual: Devin, Katle, Sam, Ana, Lara, Beth, Sarah M., Jen S, Sarah McC, Esther, Ashley, Amy, Kiera, Dana O, Alex, Dan H, Josh G, Adam L, Aaron S — thank you everyone for making our high school days special. Thanks for making a bright spot in our otherwise dull days. Jessie: You're our third musketeer, you complete our threesome. We've enjoyed your energy, warm personality, patience, positive attitude, and attentive ear. You can be so optimistic; there's many a time you convinced us not to dwell on the bad spots. Because of you, we have never giver up hope that we will get what we desire. We've only known each other for a year and a half (thugh M briefly met you sophomore year at Terri's), yet our friendship with you is nearly as strong as it is with each other. We love you, and hope you're happy at CHS without us. Jordan We're probably two of the few people who have seen both sides of your dual personality. At board meeting or at one of our houses, you've always made us laugh. You're a unique character. STISY Board: Josh, Jord, Sonja, Aaron, Jay, Sara, & Suzie. You've made board meetings

something we look forward to instead of dreading. We've had a lot of great events this year, and we know all the work that went into them. BOOP!
Mel's: My Family: Mom, Dad, Merri, Grandma: Thanks for your love and support. You've always been there for me. Production Journalism: Devin, Jen, Sarah, Adam, Carolyn, Zach, Robby, & Dave, The Columbian rocked thanks to our amazing teamwork and ability to ignore Seldin's fits. The production crew saved me from the terror of my computer illiteracy Marley, Jessie, Bert, Assad, Schep, & Beth. Peer Counseling: Katie, Amy, Kiera, Adam, Lee, Mark Anthony, Aaron, Chris, Angelica, James & Jen. You're a great group of kids. You all made this the most fun class of my day. Now we all know everything there is to know about every drug on the planet.

Thanks: Mont, Dad, and Oren: I know I can be difficult to live with, but I'll be off to college all too soon. I love you, and I'll miss you. Lara: When we first met, we couldn't stand each other. We were always fighting. But somewhere along the way, I realized how alike we are. It goes beyond the easy things, like that we both like Sarah McLachlan ("I Will Remember You" is an awesome song!). I don't know how to explain it, so I won't try. Don't feel like you failed in Project Adventure, what you did was success for you. Where ever you are and whatever you do, I'll always be there in some way, belaying you. Anthony: I feel you should get your own little message here. You made clas a lot more bearable. You know I liked the attention, whatever else I might say. Keep trying, you might succeed someday

Last Thoughts... Mel: I have photo albums and slide carousels full of pictures of the two of us. But even more importantly, my memory is full of experiences that I've shared with you. It seems as though The always known you. I probably have. You have been my confessor, my confidante, I can share anything with you, and I have. There's hardly a detail of my life that you don't know about. If I'm upset, angry, or hurt, you've always been there to talk to, and you've always understood me, even when no one else could. Going to different schools would have ended most friendships, but not ours (though Renee and Barb get some credit for that). Whenever we got back together, it was just like it had been. In Columbia, we've become closer than we ever were before. Though many of my other friends have changed, you have remained constant. You are so stable, and I admire that, and love that quality in you. I have come battering up against you with my wild flights of emotion, and you have calmly stood, collected me in, and then pieced me back together again. I can honestly say that I don't ever recall having a serious fight with you. Yes, we've had our petty arguments, but you have held our friendship steady. I can't imagine my life withut you — past or future. I know that wherever we end up, you will remain a part of my life, and my love. I love you, and I always will.

Tara — You are my closest and dearest friend. You have been with me through everything! Who else can say they've been married to me in varied games of House, acted as my business partner in Store, seen a time when I was taller than you, explained to me what adjectives were before I could read, competed with me for longer times holding underwater handstands, got stranded on a rowboat with me in the middle of a thunderstorm, sat by me as I blew out the candles on every birthday cake, made green fortune cookies and milk carton houses with me, enjoyed all of my CD's as much as I do, sat next to me through my first driving experiences, and shared hundreds more experiences with me? Only you! Our friendship is so deeply rooted and has such a rich past. It is something I will treasure forever. You have always dedicated your time and patience to me when I needed a caring ear to listen to me vent about school, friends, family, and guys, yet you never got frustrated or annoyed with me. I thank you for being such a wonderful friend to me all these years. I don't know what I will do without you just a 4 minute drive away. There will always be a special place reserved for you in my heart and memo dial. I love you!

*** The companions of our childhood possess a certain power over our minds which hardly any later friend can obtain.***

The frendship began in 4th grade health class — S+D sit next to each other in Ms. Verbicis' room. S loved D's shirt with the buttons and the purple sweater with stars — she has nice clothes, she'll be a nice friend . . . We become friends and don't leave each othr's sides for years. The fun begins — playing school in D's playroom and garage; coming over until 5:30, but then S has to leave — she has to walk Penny; Quick Wit; preparing meals for the King and Queen; building the well with AS from D's dream; little red worms; bird bath rock, and ice skating on it; treasure hunts in D's backyard; rope swing; D cuts her knee on a nail, and still has the scar; scooters; BERRIES; D's b-day whiffle ball and Dana spits on S; chinese jump rope; 10 pounds of beads; crimped hair; braids before sleep; AS breaks her arm — we hear it from nurse in auditorium; S, D + AS have tennis shoes with hearts; S's b-day sleepover with the sprinklers; and our baking tradition begins. We knew then that we'd always be togetehr. 5th grade — Secretary D with Mags, S is jealous. Talent show with Kelly — Kokomo? Wild West? Don't Be Crue!? We practice forever, but the music is too long and the three of us stand still with blank stares. D joins the Y gymnastics, but only make Pre-team (rainbow leotards), D is jealous of S on c team. S cries at grad. ceremony, but celebrates with D at Pal's Cabin. S's b-day sleepover — water baloons down the hill. S is jealous again when D gets the best friend necklace from Mags on her b-day. School dances, S + D both dance, D however soon stops. Lunch — raw cookies, granola bars, Farley's, roast beef, pb, and pretzels. The baking tradition continues and we become Betty Crocker and Sarah Lee. D's sweaty hands — only if she thinks about it. Sheet dances in D's room, classical music, AS and S break D's bed — big trouble. Endless conversations about hot and cold showers — D convinced S has no feeling in hands. Ceramic club, S makes box, and D writes a check to Shawn. Maplewood Pet Shop Softball — 2nd place! D + S get their first jobs at the Pet Shop — D's numb lip when she touches animals, she still can't believe she stuck her hands in those cages. S comes with D and family to X-mas tree museum. Tennis lesons obamobby language. S + D have party together at Charlie Brown's, AR breaks a plate, forgets t bring S a present. S goes with D to her first hockey game — Devils tradition begins. LBI vacations together begin with relay races on shore. D fights with AR a lot. Christmas song — S and D want to go into the music business with "It's a Perfect Time for Holidays." Corn starch dough — hide it from D's mom. S and D steal more berries from the Wiz's. Cross stitching becomes an obsession. Ink Friends (plus The). Feetsie pajamas, S — It's snowing!! OW. Big fight with KR, and S + D cry. S gets out of control, and we both have to leave. KR comes back to S's to make up — what a night! D + D are closer, but hide it from KR. D finds old newspaper in gymnastics bathroom. Bunny cakes and chocolate lollipops. D meets more of S's family and goes pumpkin picking and makes donuts. Hot chocolate with cand canes at D's. Monica makes us cry at gymnastics again; Emily; Gina' S finally learns a straddle on vault; backhandsprings on our heads. AR and LA go to the village. D writes note to AR — she still hasn't seen it. Mrs Langley, coloring world maps with S's maize colored pencil. SAT's? S breaks her foot doing roundoff. S + D + Amy + Shawn walk to art classes at Val's. KH — want our food? St. — I want to teach you as much science as I possible can. Fi — I don't come in a bottle. We take the babysitting course, art clases, and swimming lessons — S can't dive and is in the lower group. SOMS gymnastics camp, french rolled jeans, flourescents, and swatches. D's b-day at Stuff Shirt, waitress drops mozzarella sticks on AR. We start off 8th grade with a name change — "Danielle no middle name Schwartz" now wants to be called Amanda. S + D think there's a robber in D's house, hide on back porch. We go through our 4squares and chalk phase. SS projects, McG. yells at D. Lab partners in Sludge, algebra — huh? D gets fish for X-mas from S; they clean out the tank; fish gets loose, D's lip is numbe again, and S has to catch the fish. Washington Trip with AR and LA. All four buy clay earrings. "Wake up! There's someone in the bathroom with a gun. Oh, it's only the towel rack." LA + RS. D gets hit by parked car movies every weekend. Babysitting club? Tree house? at LA's. Ed comes — new leotards — new warm ups — maybe now we'll beat Madison; Burger King; Mineral Ice on D's knee; D's chalk, grips, gauze; sleepover and LL throws water on S in a.m., S cries again; we hit the deer after the meet, don't tell LA; Bunny's and long conversations . . . Halloween and soup and breat at S's. Half days in village, white pizza, you put salt on your pizza? (again AR). D's b-day with Dick Tracey cars from AR. Get each other the same gifts — sleeveless denim shirts. Field hockey and lacrosse camps. S is guest at pool, SPIT, corner, 2nd platform. D + family visit S + family at LBI — flood warnings, S + D + Amy + Shawn chasing beachball down the island — win trolls and lots of pencils. Rutger's football game, rain, stolen grill, S's paper towel — she still has it. Dinner dance. Grad. celebration at Charlie Brown's. Shawn spills tea and burns stomach. Parties on the same day, don't see each other. D gets deli pickle and onion rings for the long walk home. Flowered blanket on pull-out bed. S wakes up too early, stares at the curtains and the light on the ceiling for hours, but finally gets up and eats cookies with Amy until D wakes up.

First day at CHS, D + S + LA + AR all wear same outfit — denim shirts, "We didn't plan it!" D love CHS, S can't get used to change. Walks to school. Which is shortest route? Lunch with Jaime, pb and roastbeef again. D plays FH — no wins, S only frosh on gymnastics team. Don't see each other for 2 months. Halloween D + S + AR + JS + LA — dark alley, "We're not going in there!" Return to Y, S + D on B with AS + HL, freerolls&brannies, get 7.2 on beam — share 7th place! S goes to church with D saturday nights. D does tucks, dough bunny. Christmas tradition starts at S's with LA, pixie pals, lots of cookies, playroom, decorate S's room with lights, AR comes late. Sarah — We have shared so many special memories in the 9 years that we have been friends and I have always been able to count on you. There were times when all I would do was complain, yet you listened, and your optimism and enthusiasm brightened those days. I truly admire your ability to find the best in everything and everyone. You have always been able to put a smile on my face. I don't think that I could find anyone in the world as supportive and carring as you are. You're a great friend and I will miss you greatly next year. I love you!

Although our friendship hasn't been as long, we've become closer in the least amount of time. The days may come, the days may go, but still the hands of memory weave the blissful dreams of long ago. (Jan. 94)

JESS* DANIELLE*DAYNA* CAROLYN

"Every turn became our future, there for us to make our bet that the longer I remember you're the hardest to forget."

Field hockey brought us all together. Freshman year with Patty-Pat, Carolyn goalie for a day, the ghetto park, (haunts Carolyn years later — CM), long walks to practice — I see the light, witnessing robberies at the Indian store, Mystics, field hockey camp, (Jess is too cool to join), Dayna turns Dan into a rebel — sneaking out to surprise Lainie, SANDY, Carolyn's obsession with AT fades and MB enters the picture. Dayna impresses DH with her cow pajamas, but keeps her eye on TC, jess likes PM, and the obsession with Labrew begins. 10th — Dan and Carolyn cause problems with Deluc's — JV — our first winning record, Carolyn's party, Dayna's the only rebos one, Carolyn's missing for 7 hours with guess who? the BBD. Thought she was in the clear until her parents asked what happeded to the ice cubes and paper towels. Jess gets the digits and Spanish becomes her favorite class, while Carolyn fears CM's other woman. Dayna leaves the basement and hits the soical scene — JB, MB, RK, BM, — which one does he wan? Field hockey camp once again — Jess decides she's cool enough to join — Doe — lactic action, Sophia's hat, Dayna bucks out a day early — camp. Homewrecker LaConti comes out full blast, Jess hits puberty - if she only knew then what she knows now, leaves Dan on hold for an hour — sorry he called from the boardwalk, a beginning of ar eally really healthy relationship — (2 down in abusive relationships), good advice Carolyn, maybe you should follow it yourself — the Jetta! Carolyn loses it on the first date — 1 down 3 to go. 11th grade — Dan rocks at her debut — Matty B's infamous parties — while Carolyn becomes a prisoner in her own house because of "the diary" — varsity girls finally — another winning season — but the best is yet co come. Danielle becomes a powerhouse on and off the field. Jess and AL move it a step up. Dayna hangs up, Carolyn cheers her on and Dan is missing in action. Carolyn leaves for awhile — the union boys are top priority — Jess joins Dayna at the scene. 3 down 1 to go. Too bad she can't stop crying! LaConti preys on her first victim — Sass. Thank goodness MB was there to stop her. Dayna's stalked by MB — NS helped her out — the beginning of a great relationship. She has just won HIS ND HER RED BLAZERS. (Third abusive relationship) — Why don't you ever take me out? Dayna gets her liscense and cruising is the new hobby. SENIOR YEAR — sexual tramps, I mean sectional champs! Champs we're . . . Champions — we celebrated, it's not a big deal. Jess promises rewards for the boys if we win, we hit the scene with the decorated Blazer and party hard at the '95'ers. The Sectional Champs have a team round — Dayna blows us all away. 95'ers gets old and we cruise along to DP's. Coolio at th wheel. Quick drive by LG's the whole town hears Dayna's screams. Reunited at DP's but not for long, Dayna demands to be driven home but refuses to kill the party for her friends — be home by 1:00 girls, Carolyn and mB take her and return — alone at last. Jess is missing, but can hear Daniell's laughter from the basement — we can't leave without allowing Jess to say goodbye to her younger man. (SS) On the way home the Blazer bumps into the infinti — hey isn't that Jill? Carolyn and Matt beep and wave, SC suggests driving around a bit, but it's all good, a chat with Jill brings Dan to tears, but calms everyone down. Dan and Jess help Dayna in the closet and SC takes care of the evidence in the morning. Dayna — I'm cold, I'm tired and I want to go to bed. Jess gets her license and the stalking begins — too bad she always gets caught — GM ES, DH, PL, DK, — the two Cherokee's come face to face you gotta always be driving on Lenox Place — we go to 7-11 a lot! Since when was there a Palmer Video in Newstead? Dayna Jess and Dan make frequent stops at the ck ck's, Jess is really into anvils, nails, and Hammers. Dk's is also a hot spot — we can just show up cause we are liked, really, we're wanted. Where are our other — what? Our who? Jess — it's Hammer time. (DK) Christmas lights for the construction site. Obsessions begin we're out of control. College, highschool and camp. Dayna kicks it to AL but realizes there is nothing there. Jess frequents 7-11 and GM is on her mind, doesn't last long, did someone say rape? (victum #2 — Framp steps in just in time), who is it going to be now — BH, DH, Gm, SS, KK, NB, Al.? Dayna and Jess juggle the boys while Dan take sinterest in younger men — JB continues to pursue her anyway. Dayna doesn't know who she wants — RK, GM, NS, JG — the roses at the airport are sounding pretty good — she informs us that she might be the next one to go. carolyn continues to kick it to MB — it is about time she went for white boy — but what about JL? Dayna and Danielle have a heart to heart corruption — all down. Thanksgiving — the boys are back in town, Jess gets naus and has to leave — ESP AL shows up on the door step. carolyn and Dayn are employed at the bakery, but the 6am shifts don't effect their party time, the boys are home from college and an all nighter in necessary, Carolyn disappears - (the BBD strikes again), Dayna how many boys did you say goodnight to? Why aren't you around anymore when he needs it? Next morning at the bakery still going strong. Dayna and the ck ck become best friends and can often be found snuggling in bed. I'll only go if you buy me a slurpee! Jess attempts to kill Dayna by throwing her out of the moving Cherokee, Dan and Jess abuse Dayna and force her to sit in the back by herself — not for long, 3 in the front — a little tight, Dan thinks Dayna throws up on her but Dayna insists it's slurpee, Dan and Jess are caught way too much driving around younger men, DO overhears Jess' deepest secret. Dayna and Carolyn become Kevin and George's love slaves -- always surprising Dan and Jess with treats from the bakery because they got the boot. Chicken with russian. Wait do we go to drug fair and Kicks and Sticks way too much? OK AND GOOD. FGH concert — Jess drives — but what else is new, Dayna instucts her and the blue flashing light appears, we pull over, but the cop keeps going, Jess goes 35 mph the rst of the night. Carolyn sweats the AA at the Rutgers game (shocker) Ray Lucas, spandex pants catch her eye, but binoculars are necessary. College Ap's take over. Jess' obsession for Michigan causes crying at least once a week — carolyn's positive about Richmind, but has to wait, Dan gets Michigan but Virginia is always on her mind, Dayna gets into Florida, but fearing marriage waits for Wisconsin, Car Dayna and Jess have health together — Have you ever had a friend in abusive relationship? Tension -- we control the class discussion with the use of pronouns. Driving each others cars. Hey Jess you — are — the — ba — homb!

Thanks to our moms, dad, sisters, and brother. Varsity Field Hockey team we had a great season and will miss you all.

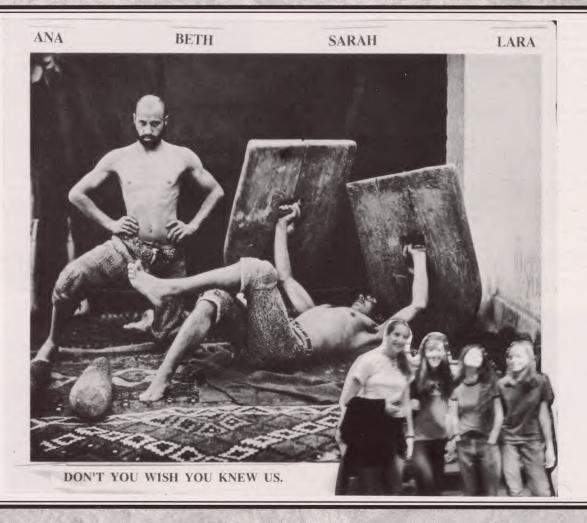

Amy P - working with you is the best take care of the baker boys next year, keep trying for the younger men — you were right the night was worth it — we'll have to do it again sometime. Thanks for the great advice.

Sarah — go cougars! We will miss your happiness and spirit. Tell your dad we love him

To all the rest — yu know who you are — thanks for all of the good times; they won't be forgotten.

"Time it was and what a time it was, it was . . . " Our High School Years

Though they all didn't know each other at first, Mel and Katie met through Jamie and Tara . . . Freshman year . . . and eventually adopted Samantha soon after. It was Ana's b-day party Jan. 93 (props to Ana's parties: see below) when Katie and Mel found each other both sitting on Ana's bed. Years of friendship blossomed from that one conversation. Boy conversations began with the first phone call from K to CV from Jamie's house, then came KH obsession (we'd love to feel your anorak), DD and the musical Chicago (S's friend later via Bjork and other strange occurances), OS (take the baloon!), LE and the rest of the senior boys — Justin and the David Letterman sticker — in the Greenspan hafased basement created the smelly corner oftan and the sniff lick table; Aladdin sountrack/Pinocchio on laser, microwave popcorn, baking, Toona, polarfleece and grunge, sports park, rollerfrice skating, grubbing rides, not wanting to go on rides at the W.O. fair but loved the cotton candy and palm readings, outlet shopping, Ga, 10,000 Maniacs, Squeeze, Sting (S grand entrance — props to him for bringing S and M together), Hey did you catch Blossom last night? Joey looked so cute, in real life he rendered Jamie unconscious, fear of bees, glow in the dark stars (S loved those), Mr. Richter . . "and I don't have to take it anymore!", guitars and living room bands led to disinvitations/no more than 5 friends at a time. What-ever! W than 5 friends at a time. What-ever! W

Summer pases quickly . . . Sophomore Year: monotonous school days began once again this time with S. Homecoming snazzies — the girls go out for a night to remember, getting psyched with Ace of Base, fun with David Allebe, then Sports Park/Pizza Hut on Sun. College boy fun Thanksgiving weekend; dinner at the Ritz, then party at Gspan — "Holay, they're sooo messed up!", closeness in the sunroom, wanted and unwanted; "You with the jeans turn around!". "What the hey did we do soph year?"; Lunch outside, astronomy fun with TC and DC smelling up the place — "What stars?"; New Years with First Night and champagne at Erika's, if only Mrs. Illyes would let us go to the frat party with Eva; 8 snow day madness, journey to Erika's in the Newark utility mobile, Terr and ice cream? plans are grounded, CF — "Do you have any other flannels?", Mame the musical — doing our best to dodge cake makeup and the director, no more cookies. Enrique Passarge and his cangrejos (props to Barkley, his bitch at home), Wisconsin and the awesome gym class, Gruchacz 2x, reliving the 80's from music, MTV pilot, and Barbies, mortal danger and first city trips, M hits college scene wMer and Zima ("What does it taste like?"). "We're going to Ft Lauderdale together!!" hello, misquote! Kierman got us through the flight, Cocontul Grove art fair (swept up in the crowds), duh! sunblock, Sting sighting at South Beach, Hollywood Beach and French comments while Rollerblading and bicycling (out of shape and over fed with crisco cookies, pineapple cream cheese, and Lucky Charms, but still sexy and desirable), Hourglass replayed, M and K having fun tanning by the pool with Steven and his sun-birned sista', while S keeps it real at home (I'm too sexy for my fencing knickers), weird fencing boyz (Alouiscios, Jim, and Dave D), Voorhees, K and S first intro to Patrick, but S finally gts him, sort of. April vacation rolls around: K is deserted while S galavants with Beth, Sar, and Jules en France, discotheque and skanky Frenc in the park and djarms under her deck, we quickly dropped that, burnt throats suck. Icing on Ana's nose turned violent (don't touch me!) Sunflowers; the gift of choice. "School's out for summer ... "S experiences Patrick (le bien, le mal) and rollerblading in crosstown traffic, and hospital visits to the elderly, he still calls ... "... School's out forever" SIKE (Shanice loves our smiles) ... Junior year ... the junior boys lost their title — now they were the seniors (NS, KH, PC, TM, RI, PR, MP, memories of Marcus and Darren were lingering in a holy place). S missed the NYC encounter with the Poughkeepsie boys from Washington Square Park (Ron, Jon, Dom, etc. MIA). K adopts new phat style through cheerleading. SAT looming in distance — time to take classes. M meets a Rose of a guy in her class (pseudo clubbing at Recycle), K and S hit Princeton Review sooo hard. Chillin wit Christophe, J. Crew, and Joe Fresh Fields (luv those glasses, can we say coolelle?) studly Ben adn Palladium. Lest we mention school: Journalism ... deez nutz and the Kaufman/communism obsession (don't dis the knee socks) ... "and I don't have to take it" Part II with K and da back ... Sabre AND Foil ... M and the undercover abstinence reporting. Ana's birthday in the 9# (1995); S and K discover the salt shaker and th straw aka Jeremy (my favorite muffin) and Eugene, with Mrs. C assaulted, a quick getaway is made in the Beemer to Oradell where we experienced some "Higher Learning", (Christian Slater died in my room!), S gets some strobe light and water bed experiences ... too bad Mount Airy Lodge didn't happen ... glow in the dark bugs. Pajama Game: KH not our cup o'tea after careful consideration, "They talked it over for hours and hours' till everything sounded the same. Katie — I never would have thought that cute, little Katalina VanHook from the back of sixth grade Spanish clas would become such an important part of my life. The random wonder of friendship makes our connection so amazing!

When I look back on the past four year sof my life, I see you in every frame. You were always there motivating me, listening to my endless stories, helping and guiding me with your optimism, encouraging me to be enthusiastic and kindhearted, and joining me in so many good times. We have both grown and matured into different people, yet we have eachplayed important, meaningful roles in each other's development. I entrusted you with a private, special part of me, which you took good care of and cherished. I will always value your commitment and passion for our floathout and passion for our me to express my deepest problems and concerns to, and to shop with too, of course. You are dark of the passion and unique ideas. You add to my life in ways that no one else can. I love you Sammine! — Mel Melanie, if it wasn't for Jamie, I hate to say it, but I doubt we ever would have been friends. I'm so glath at she introduced us because we became not only instant friends, but inseparable. We have been through a lot since freshman year. I was kind of clueless — you opened a whole new world for me. We have had such wonderful times together, but we ran into some rough spots, too. But we got through them and that's wasn't for you. When I met you freshman year, I was kind of clueless — you opened a whole new world for me. We have had such wonderful times together, but w look beyond the deceptive exterior of human nature because we both found each other after searching, rew people have eer seen the sides of me that you have, and that is because I trust you and value your irrenuship with all my heart. Thank you for teaching me what it means to be a friend. You will always be in my thoughts. Love Always...Samantha Melanie: As I sit and contemplate our friendship, I'm reminded by the phrase, "The more things change, the more they remain the same." Things have changed a great deal since we first met at the Sting concert. I'm not as quiet as I was before, my opinions are a little radical and overbearing at times, and my style and tastes have developed, but I still value our friendship for the same reasons that I did since the first time that we met. I have always been able to talk to you about everything. You have always been my logical, analytcal friend who has helped me to make important decisions, look at life differently, and provide a dissenting opinion to keep me grounded (I will always argue that J. from Jamiroquai doesn't sound like a girl!). Thank you for a million citytrips that have left me with a greater appreciation of NYC. As much as I have changed, I think that I only could have developed with the encouragement and support that our friendship provided. I am lucky to always have had someone to believe in me throughout these trying high school years. I predict that our wonderful qualities that we both share will bring us success and happiness. Love Always ...

Beth Mooney and Ana: Thank you for helping us come to the realization that the world exists far beyond CHS, in a range of different cultures, colors, values, and beliefs. Without you, we would never have known how much fun the park could be, citytrips, or dripping water on Ana. The frienship that we have built over the past four years is so meaningful to us, and will always be a constant source of support and happiness for now and always. You both, as individuals, are unique and special people, and you will grace others who you will encounter in the future with your optimism, good nature, and your simple kindness. Love always, Samantha and Katie ... and much love to TT, JS, LA, DK, SM

*FEARSOME FOURSOME*

Where did this friendship come from? Maybe it was the jungle. Freshman year the fun began. Our new thing was ice skating. Tom and Chris. SHP losers. Gee, I curse alot. "Yeah, when you get your license you can do it more." Whatever. "Do you think I can call you back I was sleeping?" Yeah, have a nice life Hildreth. The pranks began. TB. We thought you were cool. The attitude. More fun on the ice. The new car, or was it Blue Chips, I don't know, I didn't see the end of the movie. You're just going to leave like that? So, I hit him with my jacket. Flash Krasner. Weekend Basis. Winnie's on going obsession with Kevin. Give me a chance, one day he'll be mine. Julie and Brenna go to Florida and chill at D.W. eeryday. Racing to Space Mountain within seconds. "Would you like a Snickers?" The Breakfast Club, so are you two boyfriend, girlfriend, steady dates, lovers, Level with me sporto, do you slip her the hot beef injection? GREASE! But, oh! Lip action. J.R.'s mistake, we let her know in french. Don't worry Jul, he's not worth it. Chia pet was really cool while he lasted. A.A's house. I kind of regret it, maybe not. Why! He took his shoes off! Everybody's at B.F's house when the rents have flown the coop. In my room! Why did he change his shirt? Do not leave me alone in teh basement with him! Never forget our amazing summers in L.B.I. Kris & Bren are very picky. Our first picks Steve and Randy. Nanticoke, L.C.C., oh yeah bad h aircut, A.C. Next, the guys with the best base booming sound system on the Island. We are not going in their car, just a little kinged. Do you ladies want a ...? Sure, ya got the stuff? No, our friends have it. Where RU staying. We'll meet you there! O.K. Rainy days playing in the pool. ANDY watched us on his lunch break. He looks like a lephrachon. I knew that was his name. Give me a ring, I'll give you a ring. Where? Pacco takes us to his house. Ripped him out of the shower, overdose of cologne. Mini golf, 36 holes too many. Stephen followed us. Brian shows up from nowhere. Breaking curfew. Bonding with the lads sur la plage at 2 a.m. Don't turn around. Oh, my god! Buttons pop. Oh yeah! Going for a walk becoming tired after 10 steps. Tadow! The five minute hook up, I got scared. Freak out in the bathroom. Stephen with the Fro. Two weeks later scaling walls and playing pop goes the weasel at the Mariner. Can we have a picture of the guard? Being sneaky while Acing Dillion. Was it planned? No, Jenn the camp counselor, Jul a lab tech. Kris/Bren, pool junkies on the Gnutti/A.E. lookout he broke our hearts. Summer ends with 4 hours hanging ten with sand balls the size of our heads. Last trip to the beach. Sweatin' Josh. Ya know Morristown South Jersey, it's a local call. Shane calling howne, Green Jetta playing "I Swear", 2nd year at B.B.C. dancing pays off. All righty then! Everybody has their permits, but Bren. Kris is the first to get her license. Junior year is the best. Stan the man. Gold tooth. Spinach boy, yes, they have spinach. If I give you my number can you call me? Ya! Marvel's the dare. You guys are cool, real funny. We know. WAWA pints of yogurt. Stealing cars to pick up the mail! Todd and his hot friends, scrubbing driveways. That was the longest booger I've ever seen and you missed it. The joke, I can't believe she likes him! How could she? But, then he called that night. Good thing we told her. Brenna gets all the scoop from a lamb. Is this all going to start again? What's up with K? Towel incident leaves Brenna in tears. Are we going to Homecoming? Probably. What a weekend! Sage at 2:00 a.m. R we in trouble? The jackets! Geev has them. A little tipsy I think. So guys are we Ivy League material or what? Taking S.S.S. into our own hands. Stop laughing, you knocked over her soda, I am gonna start something w/somebody. KEVIN. This weekends gonna be the best, we got da boot? Pouring rain. Do we attempt next weekend? Bunnies with Tom. Let's celebrate!! Schep got her license. Mad stalking!! What is she doing in that car? That's it, she's so stupid, if she kings. The year moves on, Jul get her license. Stay off the roads. "How did you put 50 miles on your car in one night. I thought you just went to Brenna's house." Our 7-11 trips begin. Julie follow that Stang. As we drive 80 down a residential street. We all get caught down a dead end. "Hey boys, where are you going?" Off to Sports and Game. My name is JR, this is Keith. Only Jenn would get into Qualter's car after knowing him for 5 minutes. Jen, you slut, you have a boyfriend. Next night, Chia's house. "What's wrong with you?" 3 in 1 weekend. Damn. ZImZim comes into the picture. It's the 1st for everything. Thanks Jenn, it was fun while it lasted. Danm Jul, how could you let him do that to you? Kris gets froggged at stops, Eli saves the day. Summer comes, R.E.M. kicks it off. We're ready. Schep's parents are gone 5 weekends in a row. Wut up w/ that? RAR moves in. They sleepover — party all night. Sage Diner, King fests all night, Zeppelin parties, Forest Gump, Cluck U forever. Those fries were disgusting. Everyone gets their chance to drive the hooptee, Hawthrone trips, in the Regal begal, and the hoop D. Our new found friends. What a surprise. Bren falls in love w/wank tank. Straddled like dog, I swear I wasn't spying. Of course the next morning we always managed to make it to the beach, kinged or 1/ 2 asleep. We always met those random beach people. Bren's parents are gone. Jul yukes on sofa. Chris says "the trick is baking soda", so of course the only 2 withut their license take the Geo for a spin. Ash consoles Jul while her face is in the toilet. Kids leave Jul, steal her can and go to H.T. and Sage. Run, Ari, Run, he surfs on the Geo, there are dents to prove it. Again the next morning we're off to the beach. Jen gets her license, now she can drive legally, Jul scoops it up at B.R. and meets Mike who can't get enough. Livingston parties are a blast! While Jul chills with the ice-cream crowd JK&B meet the "coolest" people so we are ghasting, keinging & frogging. These people are just too cool. Hey, lets hang out with Jul tonight, so we hop into the cars and go to a Livingston party. "Where's the bus?" Thanks to Dan, we got kicked out. The night doesn't end. Ya know we did the regular things broke into The Raquets Club, made headliners and ended it at the 7-11. Who would guess? So where are we going tonight guys? The crest, crest 8, the bridge, oh the island at 9. Jen falls for those dreamy eyes, but stumbles upon SM,E, and Bry along the way. Jen, I refuse to ever play Truth or Dare again. HaHaHa. KBJ stalk MC until the cops came. Just when we were having fun. Bren goes to S.C. and K.S. goes to L.B.I. Jen and Kris Rusted Root around L.B.I. 1st night, we got hooked up w/ the locals. Mad lif guard parties, Joey's pizzeria, Astrostar, The Tide, Shane, Troy — your typical surfers. The 2nd greatest weeks of our lives. Bye guys. I'm off to be w/ the hicks in VA. Sorry Kris, Bren had to sleep at Metalica's house and get caught for doing it. Jul and Bren fight over Murano. BJK pull a three car stalk and get caught. Ugh, we were going to the mall. Schep hangs out with the locaks during week 2. While we were gone Jul rustles in the pine needles. Go Rome! The wild times are all over and we're all back from the 4 corners of the U.S. just in time for school. Hang out with those Reds a little more. Chris H's party. We're all wrecked. Jen tries to get with every guy, what's new? Maplewood Diner, Chris chokes and alarms Chris. Jen wakes up at crack of dawn. What a rough night for everyone. One last party, Stops the social butterfly while Jul disses. Eli saves the day again. School starts, 1st weekend - te Paxes go away. Jen has the Reds at her house. We limelight it, what an experience. The next morning, IHOP. I'd like a Ruddie Tuttie Fresh and Fruttie please. Next night, random people. Everyone leaves for Rashbaums. It's okay they left me w/Kevin. My chance and I blew it. Eli has a rockin party. Everclear everywhere. Let's have a drunkard drive us home. What were we thinking? Bren pukes pink chunks and gets the second Robert rubdown. Everyone's clothes are pink forever. Jul becomes the "junior b toy." Bald Ukie is her man but then he disses for dirty girl. Quinn, Jimmy, Damian, San, Dan, Adam and Sam were with us every weekend at Katie's. The Glennon shuffle. Taco Bell trips. Glennon's deck will always be remembered. We began to split apart. R.N.'s house. Jenn leads the boy on an runs when it's time to go upstairs. Gets the beatdown from the FF. Nov. 3 it happened while Kris/Bren circle the block. Jul continues to hang out w/Jrs. Kris finds new friends and Bren resumes relationship with Eli. Bren/Kris stalk reindeer and snowman in Madison. What we do to find hot guys. Everyone becomes friends. Perfect timing. Pax's are gone again. Mad parties. Oh my god, Jimmy pulled through. Jen has a —! It's still in the boat. The Reddarts came into our lives again for 1 night. Bren finally gets w/Bryant. 1st3. We all played dodge ball that weekend (JC JE BJ). New Year's Eve with Poots. Jenn, you need some more red M&M's. Well senior year is going well. #### JAMIE & CAROLYN

What up! What up Bee-otch! (Not "word up" Carolyn!) Let's see, where did it all begin? Did we even know each frosh year? I don't think so . . . so really, when did it all begin? Sophomore year. Was it J. initiating the friendship by randomly calling C. to go bowling? Did C. ever call J . back? No she didn't Did the friendship of the profit in grandomly calling the friendship that the profit is grandomly calling the profit in grandomly calling the profit is grandomly calling the profit in grandomly calling the profit is grandomly calling the profit is grandomly calling the profit in grandomly calling the profit is grandomly calling endship begin in gym class when that crazy red-head took crazy 3-pt. and half court shots? Or was it Melinda coming to the both of us for help to be set up with the "red-checked" boy. At that point of the year Melinda was with Chris, Carolyn + Mike, and Jamie + ???? . . . No wait — Melinda wanted J. with Gary, or was it Brian, or was it Marc? Well, time goes on . . . and Melinda moves to Tim C. moved on (or can we say stayed with) her other fetishes . . . Wayne B. Lucky J. had espanol with him. 2:22 pm was their minute. Does J. sense jealousy, C.? Well, besides gym class, we always had lunch at Sr. Tancredi's room . . . our little "lunch clique" which included Melinda and Katie Dalbey. Melinda, C. and Katie had to constantly bug and embarrass J. about D.B. and how that relationship would never work out — he's just too tall for J... that's all. Summer of '94... J. went off to good ol' KSA. C. tried to continue the friendship by writing J. at camp all about how she saw Wayne once over the summer. Nice of J. to write back (or at least send the letter to C.) J. came home from camp and told C. about the many stories of the summer at KSA . . . Matt and Darren. Junior year. This is where the friendship really begins . . . J. moved from being the red-head in C.'s gym class to the red-head in C.'s American Lit. class. We sat next to each other—near the windows of course — and the rest is just history, (well not US history, which we were together in too). Glatt's class: yes we can now say that we were Glatt-iators in Glatt-man's class. Remember when he listened to all of our early morning conversations before class? How 'bout opening a window, it's a sauna in h ere. Writing notes on J.'s paper (43 minutes left) ... Why is D.C. always staring at us? (37 min. left) ... We tass: now both opening a window, it is a saint in feet. withing notes on 3.5 paper (so minutes early... with is Dack. aways staring at ust (37 min. left)... We \ his back! (31 min. left)... Me gusta el sueter. (26 min left) ... Left's see who he will call on first, and who can participate more (21 min left) ... Who hasn't shave his cheek? (17 min left)... You know, Cliffs Notes really don't help (14 min left) ... Did he say Emerson? J. is obsessed with Emerson and Gatsby. "I become a transparent eyeball; I am nothing; I see all; the currents of the Universal Being circulate through me; ... (Emerson)""So we beat on, boats against the current, borne back ceaselessly into the past" (The Great Gatsby) ... 4 min left) ... Scott and his many girl problems ... Carolyn can write poetry, but we both write prose "at a 5th grade level." J. calls C. for help in English and history, and calls day after day. J. thinks C.'s parents hater her because she calls so much. C's parents deny all accusations. Renny's class: it was US History II ... need we way more? Where shall we ... yah. Our group was awesome ... Denise, Mary, Emily, and us. Of course the poster and F-Troop were the best. Now how can we forget to mention that "little" insident. Jamie? So she ends up getting an incomplete on the assignment, it goes on her record, she doesn't get into college, no job ... she is destined to live in a cardboard box for this. Thanks to Ms. Renny for giving J. another chance to move on with her life. Lunch: J., Mary, Denise, Mercella, Sahannon, Melissa, and sometimes Mahnaz. Boy — what a table. Between Mary and Marcella fighting and the rest of us trying to talk over one another — we were pretty loud. A table from across the cafeteria even began to complain of the noise we caused. But wait, does Marcell still sweat Paul and "G-man," or has she moved on? Melinda and Denise were "perfect angels" to C. — yeah right. Afterschool: Running in the halls, bothering the teachers as we went by ... who lasted longer — us or Mr. Yoresh? J. is C.'s personal trainer, and the trainer says "Run, I.5 on, I.5 off." How can we forget all of the yrbk stuff — C. wsports, J. wads. X-max at Carolyn's: J. comes over to decorate the tree. She has cool ornaments ... better than someone else's??? We listened to a marathon of X-mas music ... Kenny Rogers was the fav. Then came Boys II Men. Tamer's House: Remember all of those sexy boys ... J. was fanned & C. smashed her head on the ground in our little clique outside the basement. You know, J. is old enough to feed herself, thanks. Massages from our fav. boys (Tamar and Mark) were kinda nice C. showed off her Dance Co. routine to the crowd. Let's see, how many people were on that couch? 10? 15? Maybe it was 20. We turned on ER to watch, but we were distracted by C's kicking everyone because she lost control. Seton Hall Prep Dance: C., J., Val, and Cheryl go to pick up Seton Hall boys. C. walks in and sees her Chess King guy at the door, but thanks to Cheryl, C. didn't get to talk to him long. Inside J. and Cheryl decided to become wall flowers ... J. the "rose," Cheryl where wer his hands?! What was his name? You don't know! Poor Val got decided to become wall flowers...J. the "rose," Cheryl the "doo-doo" flower. Val and C. daned, and C. picked up a frosh., yes a little frosh. But wait, where were his hands?! What was his name? You don't know! Poor Val got dissed by this guy because he had a girlfriend. We all leave and J. and C. sleep over Cheryl's. J., how's your shoulder? C., how is your shoulder? C., how is your shoulder? C., because he had a girlfriend. We all leave and J. and C. sleep over Cheryl's. J., how's your shoulder? C., how is your shoulder? C., because he had a girlfriend. We all leave and J. and C. sleep over Cheryl's. J., how's your shoulder? C., because he had a girlfriend. We all leave and J. and C. sleep over Cheryl's. J., bow's your shoulder? C., because J. were the bettom bunk while Cheryl gets her own bed on the top bunk. St. Patty's Day; J. goes w.C.'s family to church. J. went to pick up a nice Jewish boy, C.'s Dad has a Jewish mome (so he says) and speaks Yiddish to J. Spring '95. We both got a phone call in homeroom one moming to go and meet Mrs. Pitman. She told us that we are Editors-in-Chief of the yearbook '95. '96!!! We screamed in the middle of the hall. Yeah!! C.'s birthday...J. give C. cool "Feliz Cumpleanos" and "Happy B-day" balloons. J. carried it around half the day until C. decided to come to school. She came at lunch with her wallet out in everyone's face showing off her new drivers license. C. now is J. chauffeur and we go to the mall. C. wants to go shopping with J.'s Mom. It doesn't happen. Prom time.... C. finds out that Mark has a girlfriend and cries on J.'s shoulder in history class. C's dream of going to the prom come true and ends up going with his best friend Chip. What is she going to wear? How is she going to wear her hair? She comes to J.'s Mom for advise. It's all good. Hey, who was that guy who called J. and asked her out (J. would also like to know.) Finals... no history final!!! What a miracle. But that English final h C. and J. had no classes together because J. was switched out of health class. We still spoke on the phone every night (but C.'s parents no longer hate J., but adopted her a "second daughter") about our day and complained about biology. Biology AP ... Ahhhh! We are Animals, Deuterostomia, Chordata, Vertebrata, Mammalia, Theria, Perissodactyla ... ok, we aren't odd-toed ungulates ... I guess we have to study more. What the heck is NADPH2 anyway? Who cares! At least C. has the crew in her class. J. isn't friends with many people in her class. At least J. could look at posters of Billy Joel and frogs all period. Well, we always had yearbook stuff to do together. Yearbook: Deadlines ... ahhh! What should the cover look like? Why is Greg Baker all over the colored sections? Oops. J. sort of learned how to do lay-outs, but C. still did most of the lay-outs ... J. has the ideas though. Gordo — where did our cover go?!? Did you eat it? Yearbook holiday party was a bomb. Le entertained the "crowd" by playing Lean on Me on the piano. We bonded with Mark Anthony, Okikor, and C.'s Mom. Astronomy. Of course J got C. involved with this. Liz left J ... who is she going to hang out with? Mike has his frosh and soph friends. Well, J. made her frosh friends because they all bonded about X-FILES (the best series ever invented). Remember ... "The truth is out there." & "Trust No One." J. hangs out and bonds with Mr. Levin anyway. Too bad we missed the fall camping trip ... J. had that s-ball All-Star game & C. didn't want to go. Scott met his girlfriend and was paranoid about the rumors. Homecoming: C. has two dates — Cheryl and J. We all take pictures at C's house, but C. had to take off her shoes so she doesn't look like a tower. We then visit C's Mom at work to show her how "perty" we look. At homecoming we make our rounds and say "hi" to everyone ... even the cops (men in uniform!) and the chaperones. C. drags Cheryl and J to dance. Hey, Bert, where are those pictures? Stop playing slow songs, we are sick of going to the bathroom. C, picks up a boy—who was he? Those boys obviously don't go to CHS. Mahnaz wasn't shy, "Would you dance with my friend?" referring to C. Too band he was with his girlfriend, Sorry J, they never played Saturday Night. Did they eer give J. a b-day shout-out? Nope... time is up. Time to go out to Bennigan's. How did Matt end up in C's car? C. looses her glasses... where did they go? Are they on the floor? No. Are they in the glove compartment? No. They were "on the bumper... the @#$%" bumper!!" At Bennigan's we were a part of "Shirazi, party for 30." What — in Moristown? What are they doing in Motown?? Well, at least wehad Steve as our sexy waiter. The real party was at our table, not at Bert's. We never laughed so much. Hey, they gave J. a b-day cake at 12:00 am. How sweet, Let's get a picture of the hot waiter with us. Jamie's Dr: "For the hundredth time — I do not sweat him!!! That is Patty's job. Now, J2, that is a different story." "Hey C, and I buf? Can I be a body-builder?" "You look really nice Jamie... look at those strong arms you have." So, he is just friendly, that is all! J. likes him ... just as a person. Gee, I liked the x-mas candy gram I got from "him." I am glad I will always be his criminal. Ahh. Even though we will never be roomies, I hope we can keep in touch for ever — no self-addressed, stamped

Mr. Levin — Now that I am gone, who are you going to blame for the cloudy nights? I think it was all because of your curse. Hey, just remember who watched X-Files first! JESS* *DAYNA
"Best friends should be together
— that's how it ought to be ..."

That first day of kindergarten early in September is one of those days I will always remember. I sat next to a girl with brown eyes and brown hair we instantly found we were a compatible pair. Jess show sup with the pink suitcase and minute later she knocks out Dayna's tooth, next morning Jess is a big sis and finds money from the tooth fairy under pillow. Roary becomes Dayna's side kic, hundred of stuffed animals follow us house to house. Elementary school. already after the boys — Jess loves MR him and RA call Dayna a fat zel — she still has not gotten over it. The love fades, Jess and DK become the first couple of the grade, "Will you go out with me?" click, nobody finds out for four months, Dayna and BM, heavy breathing on the phone, Kokomo and splish splash — how romantic, piano lessons with Mrs. G, and horseback riding, I rally think my mom will let us split Lily, blue halters with dapple gray. The Barn Buddies (AS, LF, GA, AC, DC, JL) control the scene in their jackets. Annual pool parties at Mimi and Morris', always a blast, fifth grade Jess has a freak accident on Mini- (again no pony), and has to wear a cast. Trips into the city to see the tree, Broadway plays and carriage rides through the park. Middle school, Jess's favorite time, Jess and DK force Dayna to go out with RA — but it's over in 5. The group is formed, Dayna, Jess, GA, LG, MG — pigem, weekends at Dayna's home movies, wise butter popcorn, cookie dough ice cream and SNL. Jess and David finally call it quits. Bat Mitzvahs — Dayna busts out of the big pink dress and can't make it through the candle lighting ceremony, Jess goes for the nice Jewish boy — a rabbi's son — Meryl is psyched. Finally big bad 8th graders Dayna and Jess fall for the same guy — PL, Jess gets the hat, Dayna gets the man. It's all good and life returns to normal — until the pattern reoccurs. Sledge test, we become distraught when Stank is stolen. Rutgers games and trips to PA take up the weekends. Skiing is anotherhobby, the LaConti's are regulars in Colorado. Holidays are spent together at one of the Hammers houses. DC falls for CK — her parents flip. Movies every weekend with JP (really cool girl), AT, MG, JI, DC, and GA. Finally high-school, Jess is more than ready. Once again the girls fall for the same man, "I can't go out with you, Jess likes you.", Jes sis mortified and skips school, Dayna goes out with DH, but Jess wins his affection in the end (96). Never allowed out of our homes, no village, no houses were parents aren't home, we bring the party to us. Dayna's basement every weekend, stalked because of the digits — wake up calls from anonymous boys, and callers at the back door at all hours of the evening. Dayna gets introduced and is hooked. Jess tries to hold the house down, opening windows and burning incense. DH ends things and the basement gets filled with the older boys — the dangerous obsessions begin. Dayna receives emergency breakthroughs every night from JB, but they are just friends, she insists that TC is straight, even if he's "Goin to college", Jess falls for AL, but PM is her number 1, hey they think her mom's hot, that's a start. Come around the rab, the fateful evening first time Dayna gets caught, the blue paint fight -Want help talking a bath? No, I'm 15, I've been doing for years. Jess has all the men — PM passed out on her lap, and AL at her feet. They both have girlfriends but that's never stopped her before. Summer comes we're off to camp. Sophomore year, MB enters the picture, Dayna likes him, but things just don't work out, Jess is best friends. Parties at his house, Dayna is allowed to go, Jess walks down for an hour — she is still confined to the house. AM has a bash the daddy graces the girls with his presence, Jess decided it's time, but not too much. Right, we trick her and before she knows it, she is the life of the party — singing I Will Survive, over and over again. MB, you promised you would watch Melrose with me. We created a monster, finally she falls asleep, but it's too late — she's hooked — LaConti. Cuckoo. Too many boys all in Jess' kitchen. camping out in Jess' backyard, Jess' gets mad at the activity behind the tent we eat the evidence. Dayna's sweet 16, just girls. Jess is hooked on AL and fears her life. 11th grade, Jess is finally allowed out. She comes in with a blast, passing out on AL befor 10, and when she is awake crying her eyes out. Dayna obsesses on her camp man Dan, and nobody wants to hear her complain anymore, the Sass man steps in just time, Jess tries to show her the light but she refuses to listen to a victim. The girls have their differences, but it works out in the very end. Peer counseling — we signed a contract, 8th grade boys — fighting for AS's affection, Dayna wins because she's in with the fam. Dayna bribes Jess into hitting the waterbed scene, but leaves her downstairs alone, too long and Jess refuses to take part any longer. Dayna gets her license and the Blazer is their new home, birthday mixes, and cofee drive by's a perfect night. Denied — for the first time, didn't matter we had a blast. Parties at D's neer a dull moment. Jess convinces herself she is over AL by being into CB. Too many baseball games for our own good. Spring break — the alst straw, crazy times at JC's, Jess gets a little wet, now she has definitely had it, (rright), Sass man hooks up with Dayna's little sister — or something like that. Even though Dayna's boyfriend won't take her to the prom the Bushman is ready and waiting. Limo bonding, driving hours to get a glimpse, Jess and CB make the most of the time inside the limo — will we ever know what really happened? Dayna has moved on to an even better guy, we're keeping it a secret until after the prom, MR's party caught by JB & PM, is that Dayna? Well it beats the golf course. Prom night Jess rolls with the Daddy and Whitey — she is so psyched. PDA — enough already. What a dedcation, Who sings I can't help falling in love with you, Andrew? Alright lets keep it that way. Stuck in the city AL has to call Dr LaConti and explain why his daughter won't be home on time. Dayna is living larg, BFF with the tender, don't worry about that cut, I'm on the rescue squad. Maybe I shouldn't have sucked his finger. Jess come sto the shore for the day, but misses the night life, Dayna and JB gof ro a long walk. It's of to camp. Jess is miserable and writes about the chocolate chip muffins — good. AL comes for avisit — but really she's over him. Dayna is loving West Virginia, the older man enters the picture. She is a bit apprehensive about coming home because Jess informs her of the lonely lifestyle. Dayna returns and is welcomed by LaConti — x10, the girl has her stash of the realest deal in her trunk. Do you ever get sick? She is single and loving it, I would too if I got roses, but really she is over him, (r-right). The Sass man makes a come back — but not for long — he's out of the tub and of to college. Jess and Dayna make a new scene. Jess gets her license and the Laredo is on the prowl. Jess — stalking is illegal in NJ. Why are you always gettin caught? Just a couple and she becomes an aggressor. Morning after are always pleasant, I did what? With who? No — I was saying goodbye to the ck ck. We have to keep our eye on her around younger men. Don't worry, no cares, no one talks about it. Sorry Jess, news travels fast and the phone calls from Wake Forest are not as fun as they used to be. Hittin' hot spots day and night — basements are always popular — n o need to call ahead of time, we're wanted. Braking and entering — it's OK — do yo think he wants this cheeseburger and fries? Notes on the bed - sorry BH — we were fully clothed — it's those younger girls who play, poker with the senior boys. It's all good though — we bought the Christmas lights. I wonder if Dayna's childhood friend Jen has seen them yet? The two Cherokees come had to head but Jess doesn't care because she knows PL has done his fair share of stalking — it's nice to k now we're part of the route — so where are we on the 20? You come in here wearing my sweater, with your new haircut, you walk your walk, you talk your talk, your stealing my man. Not for long — we fall to the floor. GM's big bash — the music is blasting and we're all dancing — chairs, tables floors. Victim #2. Thanks a lot AL. Thanksgiving rolls around and the excitment begins. He's back, Jess has to leave Sass' early because she knows. Calculus party and Jess is in tears (Shocker). Both boys in the same place at the same time — it is too much to handle — but it is inevitable. Dayna, you told them they culd come so you tell them I'm asleep. Two are gon, but one remains, What did you say I have to give him? The gym — we are strong now, stopping at the construction site before and after are cool seniors -- we party week nights. Jess avoids the nutritionist --- she'll tell me I can't eat taylor ham and egg anymore. So how are you by baby Gator? Christmas break and Dayna kicks it to the Gator man, following in Jess'f ootsteps two in one day. Jess hits Mexico and falls in love again — really Dayna, this is the one I want to marry — so apply to UVM. It's all good. I have three plans of attack and this Livingston boy is the third. Poppers from the pop who would of guessed, and Dayna's goin to the counselor. Summer sessions here we come. Too bad the shore is our first priority. Not to worry, Dayna's phone bill will triple next year when we go to school.

"And everyday is just a little more of time together to be happy for, I'm happy even when the times are rough, cause any time with you is good enough."

Devin & Tara

second grade: Tara sets up the deck in War . . . and still has to cheat. Devin's perfume sample party favors. (that's enough.)

ninth grade: reunited due to lunch mishaps with a certain witch, and of course, the one we thought you liked. Boing boing curls. Apple pies at lunch. Cheetos and the orange fingers. D only likes T because she has a pinball machine in her kitchen. what are they going to do when she gets rid of it? (she gets a pool table, and all is good.) Violent Femmes (he's engaged now.) Blondie (we all may take up photography and fencing.) Our predilection towards likeing the same guys begins with Mudhoney (but remember, T spotted him in 8th grade): T misses First Nite, and D (as well as B) try to make a claim to him. band groupies, we live in the C-wing stairwell, you mean the fimo pick wasn't his? I TOUCHED HIS BASSI D's graffiti attempts end in gold on T's shoe. Dinosaur Jr. and the green gum, T flights over whose calculator is coller. T invests in entirely too much dinosaur paraphernalia, yes, we know the number. we have several tricks, we're under pressure— to hang up. T hates KH without even meeting her, notes are left on the table in D's 2D design class, hints of love and SM's message, "a ship without a rudder." T, you're turning so red — as if you didn't know. Rusty Hinges: Screw. everyone plays guitar (even if it's only upside down as a drun set.) Daddy's Gone Now. B's underwire is still in D's living room. Guitar class: T gives up the chance of a study with Dino to take a class with D — and holds it over her head for the rest of eternity. But she never would have known the wonders of Dolph, "Satch," Steve Vai, and Closer to Fine — the automatic reaction. sex astrology — we know too much about our class. Come and jam with mel Mike G. teaches us basic guitar, Laura's idea. D doesn't think T sounds like Dave Pirner or Steve Tyler. French: Jordan's the only guy, he has to wear tights and kiss the witch in Sleeping Beauty (uh, the princess, we mean). Tien, tien, magi, magil D's big scene as a drunken king — hiccup! Mme's still showing it to her classes. Math: the witch is rubbing her thighs too enthusiastically, elephant summer 1993: THE fight, Lollapalozza... or not, we make up to go to CTY. (Since D had stayed up all night to get her to go in the first place). D's shrine of lust is still in her room — Reed sent me a four-page letter!! Sarah Zak's purple shirt Dave. Glenn and his dancing (in a toga, no less) and the pizza party (which D did not attend). Betty Boo, TMBG, smurf dancing.

tenth grade: we have no classes together, but T walks D to physics — for the view. CF's, the junior guys, cute scruffy guy, masty scruffy guy (modified to not-as-cute scruffy guy), mustared guy. PRMan says hi to D. The plane notes — epic novels or zines with PRMan in a dress, the fireplace scenario. Our first class together is prob. & stat: we're a happy family who knows all about T's dram of alien grateful dead bears dancing around trees — that aren't quite trees. And the whole class (all ten of us) witness many arguments over guys. why does it seem, looking back, that it was just never worth it? Dazed and Confused: Check ya later. Rory Corbrane's hat — stop squealing, T. Impressions at four in the morning. Reality Bites. Santa looks good all year! Kerry: XTC boy on the train coming home from Commonground. We don't understand why T doesn't want him in her house. We decide we need to take notes to remember our inside jokes. The sophomore dance: we go for ten minutes, then to Darren's, where D meets JG for the first time. (And he talks to her: "Yeah, I know him. I beat him up all the time." sigh.) April vacation: Her first fling: the church bands where we saw two Santa look alikes. SpoonMen (Humbun) phat party house (with an alarm), being in that car was life threatening. The JFTY sleepover. T stays up all night to watch the love of her life sleep — away from D. Hive Boy gets a bed to himself, while others are ... forced ... to share one. Shoelaces Part II (can you believe there is a second part to that?): this time it's bits of yarm around the neck and wris, used for string games such as Jacob's Ladder, Cat's Cradle, so on. Dying our hair — D can't go to T's anymore. T leaves for Colorado? Canada? Utaha! pink plastic — we'll stop here or people will get the wrong idea. Sehri: math class homework strikes. I'm sorry I called you a dumbor. T. Ana's party: sledding down the hill, crazy snowball fight for blood, he held D's hand! the even just write it. I wish I WERE!) Danny D, Mikey P and the BIG plans. Great Adven summer 1994: Twins at CTY, we took it a little too far at Classic Rags. "Does anybody have a steel G-string?" hackey sacking — Glenn gives T a compliment, and she refuses to melt. Sing alongs. We were actually friends this year. T meets the infamous Anya and Beth. The purity test: T's score is a bit too high (ruining her hard image). D's is getting lower and lower. That is a mattress in her front hall. It's more convenient. Not you, Danny D. — "T've never had it this good! Me and five girls on one bed!" we race to leap up. D lives at the pool — we know why, workplace romance? To orders Traitoria — we know why. The Erasure dance party that never quite made it into existence.

eleventh grade: I can't, I have a field hockey game tomorrow! D, your mom's on the phone. Steve has to break it up when he's done performing CPR in the bathroom. All the while, T's ordering 80s CDs. New York Shopping Spree — Sarah's gambling on the street, Steve's new pick up line is, "anybody wanna pet turtle?" (D gave hers to Lainie). T's birthday: she's still bitter about D's forgetting her present, an entire year later. Great Adventure II: we share our lives on line for Batman — we laughed, cried, it was better than Cats. And we know why D went. D covets Custard, and no one knows why — he's a nice guy, not at all her type. (a year later and the conclusion is different — maybe he's not as nice as we all thught, since noe of you can stand him.) Halloween: T is scary as a big field hockey player, and D as Rainbow Brite. D strategically picks our route. Evan Dando at Maxwell's: ohmigod he's sitting next to me. He borrowed A's lighter. Those are his French fries! Indigo Girls: the annoyningly sedate woman behind us, who won't let us stand up. The phat party house becomes a reality: T calls Aaron for reinforcements (Is this a bad time, guys?), he gets the blame, even though we know what was really going on. T sees more of the Heh Heh Boy than she bargained for. later, eveidence is found on the roof (maybe a bird left it there?).

The Pajama Game: If D hears one more song in chemistry, she's throwing HCl on everyone. (I still don't see why he had to use his tongue.) first day of rehearsal: Rapunzel tells Aaron T could be a model. Chem ... AP (We should get T-shirts): our lab bench (fodder for D's column) fighting over the CD player. Alex stop splashing! he is not the mack. Mr. Gheghan stops asking for our bench's results — he know we're wrong. SD, JR and the race for the seventh decimal place — the rest of the class doesn't even have to bother, so, what is a valence electron? the substitue with a wige. D fights with her over a phone call, and doesn't come back for two months, while she's gone she misses see the magical remote and, "Lab? Is ther a Lab Bench here?" but D gets her own fun — the sub turns out to be her home tutor, during lab passing time D and Jess walk to the college star board. while T makes disparaging comments on PDA. balance that baby. flicks and lollipops. The Andromeda Strain, the one woman in Fantastic Voyage with the tight clothes always unzipped, and her big first lin an hour into the movie: "I never imagined it could be like this!" T takes the final for the whole class — even though she's exempt, we go back next year to trick-or-treat— much like T's love. ... uh, date. (D had added that without T's permision.) My So-Called Life: we aspire to live it. don't call on Thursday, between 8 and 9. Rewind the Jordan/kissing scenes. We join the on-line crusade. T writes an essay about it. Water snakes — every girl should have ne. (Lara and D decide T is going to marry Smokey.) D's morn adopts T when she takes up knitting. All Day Guildscript: Siobain crochets the whole time, Lara, T and D can't read Ursula, it's too funny, whist's with the zlovy'T goes to get pizza — a big step towards his popping the question. The Prom: bouncing around the room (the five of us). we sit with the Brooklyn Zuh stalker. um. T's parents, um, said she, uh, couldn't go ... yeah. the following year T is reminded of the fact that several girls los twelfth grade: the big senior year. We decide to beat up the freshman, but the senior jocks beat us to it. Aaron's off to college, so D's back. We actually have classes together. English: Nelly, I AM Heathclifff Finally, D can help T with her homework, too. Of course, we've both taken a vow of silence. We were all right about Emmal. T, that's a very Jewish sentence structure. T decides sitting in the front of the room is worth it, so she can lok out the . . . windows. He says he still hides under the blankets when he's scared. We learn the true pleasures of sandwiches and the perfect shower, French: Mme, details the erotic scenes from L'Amant, and, apropos (not really) Tina Turner's big hair. Our sub can see right through it — but not around it. Bio: we're partners again — big mistake. At least our notebooks are dry. Unfortunately, so are some of our benchmates. T and D can not use microscopes, this year the double period lectures are even worse than lact the back, while D is drawing in colored pens like a good girl in the front. (We know why she can't handle the back), we extract DNA, as Hershey tells us: it feels sort of like . . . well, I'll let you figure it out. We see Mike G, every day in Bagel Chat . . . well, on those rare frizz free days. One night on a whim we invite Dino over so be can say no for old times sake — and he comes!!! (D's weakness is growing, Again.) we don't know what to do with him. We're too old — the original CF's are now the junior guys. (And She finally got one!) D shares the intimate details of her life (the way too intimate details) with Jessie and T while T's dad is in the next room. It's an exercise in not being prudes, guys. T's mad about the seating arrangement, so D doesn't get a date for Homecoming (wait till the prom — it's been set for three years.) And of course, there' always Andrew McCarthy in the 80s. (does it seem like D is always falling for the same people?) Jessie and T have to make sure D behaves herself at lunch. It's ok, she hates him this week (thught T still m Shoutouts: The French Lit. class (Madame Wund, SM*, MD, AJ, SC, BM, AC, SE): we'll miss Megan's hand gestures and Madame's asides. Aidan, thanks for putting up with the girls. Madame, thanks for the dancing lessons. Nous vous aimons. Steve: You broke the guitar lesson chain, yeah, we're sure you meant ot come, well, we tried... if you only knew, Mel, Lara, Ana, Jessie, Sarah M., Sam C., KVH, Beth M., Jen, Sarah McC., Dana, Christine (Harling Darling), Phil (ahem), Jordan, Siobain, Josh, Dan, Megan, Angelica, Lainie, Gaby, Dayna, Sarah S., Sarah B., Lisa, Jess, Amy S. Devin's Shoutouts: Lara (lalaLara, the Schmara, Hannah): for shouting and sharing my brain. You taught me to dance in bowling shoes. I've gotten some blisters, but it's been worth it. Sarah (Roga, Morgan): for your tips on the train, and all the other times you've been there when I needed someone. Zooey: for your e-mails (and letters to the editor), your understanding of the nemesis and all the other various associations we have. Aaron: for teaching me to be open, and to trust people. we've been through a blot together — hey, just think, we cold have ended up in Mexico, for better or for worse. Thank you for your random facts, your e-mails: (and Columbian: Editors (Jen, Mel, Sarah, Carolyn, Adam, Rob, Zach, Dave): For never having another sleepover. It's been kinda whack, but definitely fun. Production people (esp. Jessie — who went the wrong way to first) — thanks for all your help. Cash: (as I promised) you're aiming high. I'll miss you next year, stay outta the basement.

Mom, Dad, Liam & Erin, thanks.

Tara's shoutouts: Jen Snow and Dana O.: Hey, my compsci/physics buddies! We can take any abuse from those testosteron ruled guys, right? Our Data Match program should be installed in every computer in the world. Dana, get your own aspirin. Try to stay awake in college more than you have in high school. Ashley: When we are going to Open Mike Night? "Call John the Boatman." We rocked the musical, especilly with our string games. Jordan, Kiera, Amy, Mom, Dad, & Oren: I love you.

The mushy part we kept putting off

Devin: I hardly kow where to begin . . . I'll never forget freshman year, where you were constantly in tears in softball practice and me in Mr. Krasner's English class. We worke dthose problems out . . . but then The Fight. I guess you were the main target of my anger because it's the easiest to be mad at those you love the most. I don't know how you ever forgave me for some of those things I said, but I am so glad you decided you could. Truthfully, you've been a very important person in my life. You've helped me to establish who I am. If I hadn't met you, who know? I misst still be wearing tapered jeans. Freshman year, I thought you were so cool, we both know I kinda tried to be you, but in doing that I aske dmyself who I am. I think back on high school and you are the focal point of so many of my memories. I missed you a lot when you disappeared into that relationship, but I'm so happy to have you back again as one of my closest friends. — Tara

Tara: I can never get the words to work at times like this — it's that inability to express the world with words. How do I tell you what you've meant to me? We've been thrugh so much together. We survived a troubled freshman year, and went on to become even closer, which proves how strong this friendship really is. I'm not the easiest person to be friend with, and at times (specifically junior year) I've confused who and what is really important in my life. I'm just glad you never held it against me. With you I can be all sides of myself, and I never have to worry about scaring you away. In fact, you complement all my temperaments perfectly. You ground me when I'm drifing, and give me wings when I'm sinking. You're one of the few people who can understand me, and you've helped me to understand myself. You've been my most constant friend, the one person I can always count on. How can I thank you for everything you've done for me? I can only tell you, however inadequate this is, that I love you. — Devin

"Pooh, promise you won't forget about me, ever. Not even when I'm a hundred." Pooh thought for a little. "How old shall I be then?" "Ninety-nine." Pooh nodded. "I promise," he said. Still with his eyes on the world Christopher Robin put out a hand and felt for Pooh's paw. "Pooh," said Christopher Robin earnestly, "if I — if I'm not quite —" he stopped and tried again - "Pooh, whatever happens, you will understand, won't you?" "Understand what?" "Oh, nothing." He laughed and jumped to his feet. "Come on!" "Where?" said Pooh. "Anywhere," said Christopher Robin. *** So they went off together. But wherever they go, and whatever happens to them on the way, in that enchanted place on the top of the Forest, a little boy and his Bear will always be playing.
