A Note From Dr. Christine Robbins

Your years at Columbia High School will mean more to you as you experience many other educational opportunities. As you look back on a year that will live in infamy due to the destruction of the World Trade Center and America's first war of the 21st century, reflect upon how you can make a positive difference in the lives of others through caring, commitment, and dedication to the principles and values of our democracy. Remember the many service men and women who willingly gave their lives to help others as you think about what is really important in making decisions that impact others.

Columbia as an educational institution has enjoyed a legacy of leadership because of its graduates. Put this book in a place where it can be cherished as time marches on and your life continues to progress into mature adulthood. Never forget Columbia and its motto, "Excelsior!"

Calculus

The Calculus Party

A table of hungry calculus students.

Sophomore Eric Mansfield,

Will Stallsmith and Andrew Warner

Calculus teachers Jen Bucklad, Chandar Gulati and Bob Palma

Matt James, Mike Stallsmith, Serge and Ian Davall

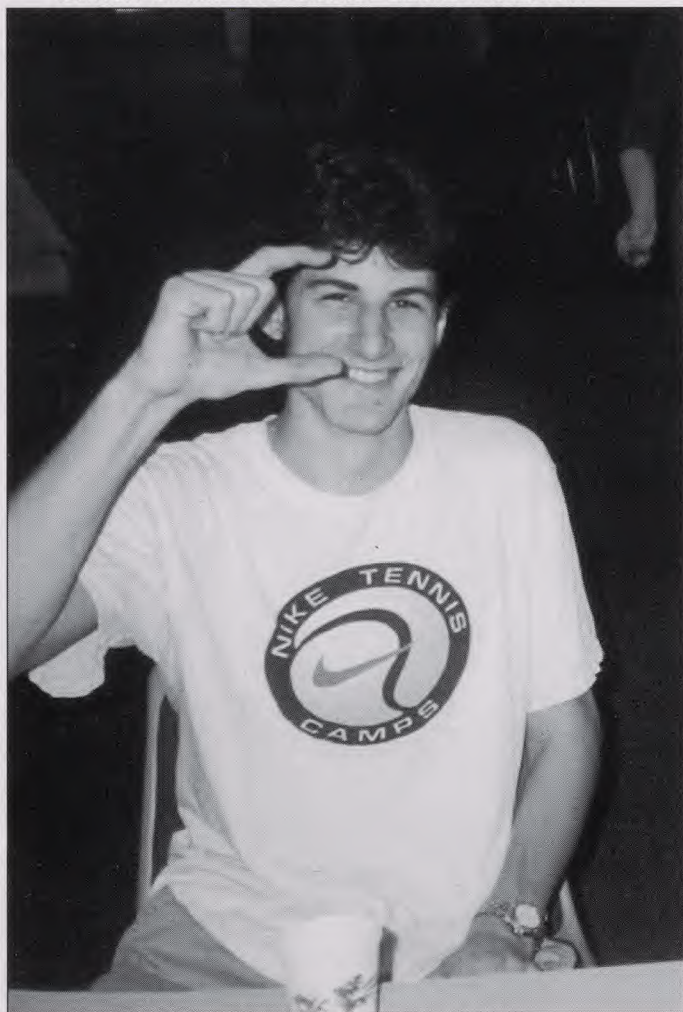

Katie Thompson and Rachel Steinberg

Grinch Gulati and Senior Laura Holzman

The annual holiday routine would hardly be complete without the calculus party, hosted and attended by members of the AB, BC, and non-AP calculus classes. At the party, overworked students rapidly approaching their limits gain a chance to kick back, relax, and welcome the coming vacation. An optimal escape, the party usually revolves around holiday cookies and Indian food (Mr. Gulati is an excellent curry chef, and can whip up tasty dishes. Americans say "Haste makes waste" but Gulati says, "Hurry makes Curry"), which the students consume at an astonishing rate. Additionally, the calculus students are serenaded by a concert from the school's brass ensemble. An integral part of the gathering is the "invitation", a kooky off-beat surprise planned by the BC class to formally invite the others to the party. Annually the classes differentiate themselves by the complexity of what they plan. This year Mr. Gulati became The Grinch, stealing calculus from the AB class and forcing them to solve a problem before inviting them to the party. In years past he has wrapped himself inside a giant Christmas present, dressed up as Santa Claus, and entered through the window wearing an Intel space suit. There have traditionally been two calculus parties - one held by the BC class just before Christmas and one by the AB class before Thanksgiving - but changes in scheduling this year have reduced the celebration to one gathering.

That just says it all.

The truck that got to know Columbia all too well.

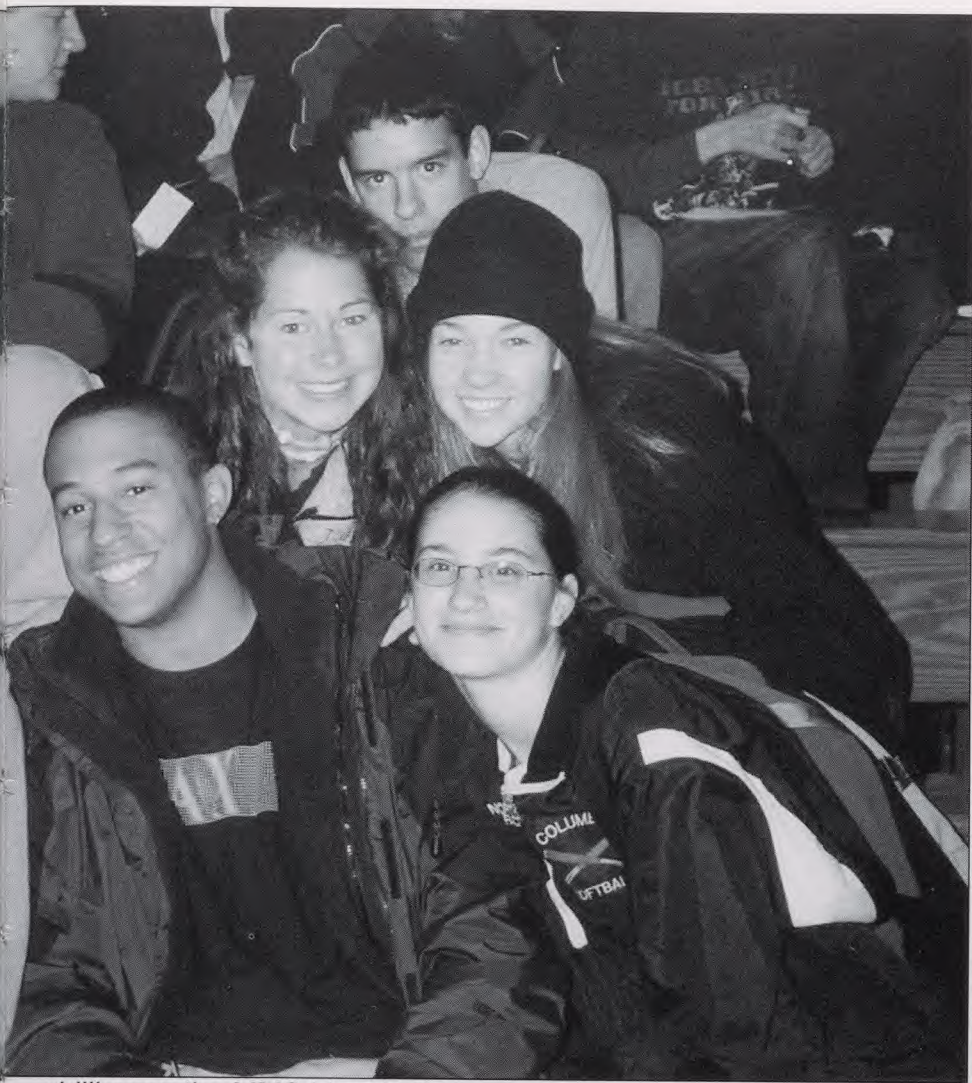

A class of poor freshmen swimmers, Nov. 14th.

Teacher huddle!

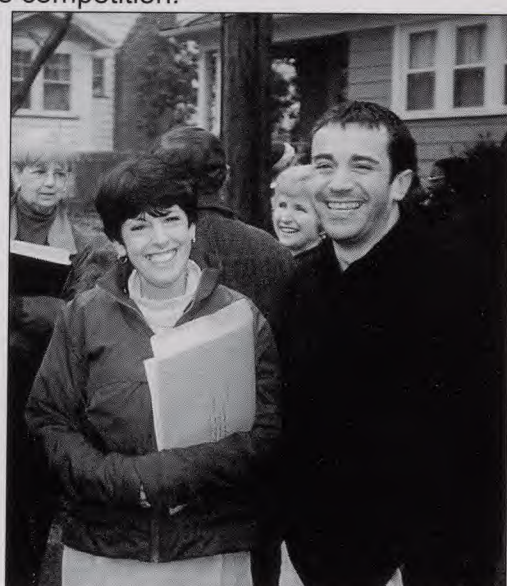

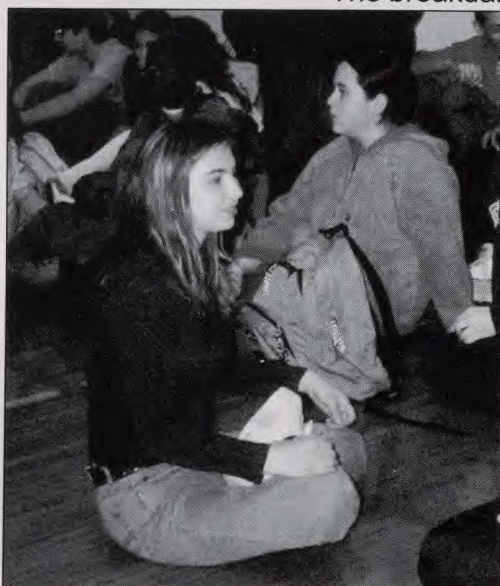

chilling on the MMS bleachers

With the shrill cry of the fire alarm and that frantic voice on the PA screaming "Get out of the building!" it all began. From the middle of September on, Columbia students were subjected to an unprecedented rash of Bomb Scares, missed classes, impromptu hikes to Maplewood Middle, and frozen freshman pulled from the swimming pool prancing across the back field in nothing but a wet bathing suit and (in some cases) a towel. The threats (7 of them as of this writing) come to the school via the town police, by telephones of unknown origins, and each and every time one is received, the students are forced to wait outside the building while the fire department, the police, and the county bomb squad search the school with trained dogs for any trace of dangerous explosives.

Needless to say such explosives have never been found, and the extensive searches are merely a very necessary safety precaution. A manhunt for the elusive source of the phone calls has been even more thorough than the search for explosives, and rumors have been floating through the halls as to "whodunit." Either way, response to the events among the student body has been decidedly mixed: while an editorial published in the paper neatly declared that the bomb scares were a horrible annoyance and a waste of time, there is certainly a significant group that is quite grateful for the time off, time to spend with friends, time to do homework, or time to rejoice that you've just missed the quiz that you elected not to study for.

Come Homecoming Home

"Smile!"

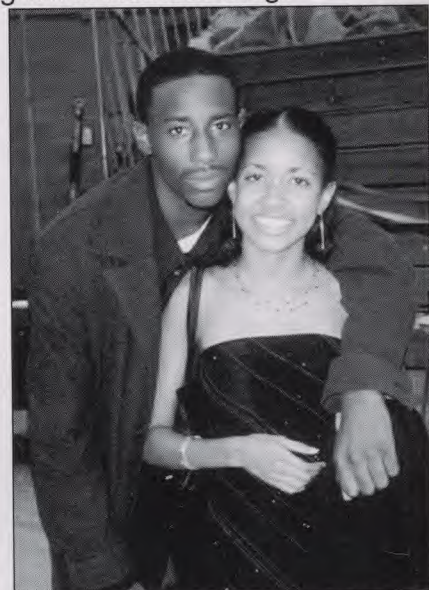

"Having fun at Homecoming."

Homecoming Queen Ciara Bernier and Khaleah White.

Smile!

Courtney Epps and her date.

At the table.

This year's homecoming dance was a smashing success, and a good time was had by all. As a fundraiser, the event raised a substantial sum for the Junior and Senior classes, money that went into much needed coffers to fund the senior prom in June. Students enjoyed themselves no matter what their passion - dancing, eating, or just hanging out with friends. There was something to please everyone - the music selection encompassed a variety of styles, and the food, donated by local supermarkets and caterers, was plentiful. The night was made possible through the hard work and effort of students and faculty and was clearly appreciated by those who attended. Much anticipation and excitement surrounded this year's extraordinarily close race for Homecoming King and Queen, including a surprisingly successful active campaign by Harry Tanielyan, but ultimately the choice was clear: Matt Meade and Ciara Bernier took their places with the crown. Everyone who attended looked wonderful and everyone seemed to have had a fantastic evening.

Clubs & Activities

The Student Council meets weekly to discuss issues involving Columbia and the community. This effort involves a great deal of interaction with the administration, the faculty, and the Board of Education. They organize the Pep Rallies, Elections, and the annual Hall of Fame Awards. They also fundraise for school functions and charities. The council is composed of both elected and appointed members, and meetings are open for all who are interested.

Student Council

Members: Mitchell Burgess, Russell Choudhury, Danielle Demming, Jordan Filko, Daniel Kaiman, Daniel Lange, Francois Melville, Joanna Perez-Fox, Ashley Rutledge, Duncan Sahner, Christian Sahner, Carly Scher, Sam Schneider, Anne Sciaino, Christopher Toia, Will Watts, Brandon West. Advisors: Mrs. Petrallia and Ms. Edelman.

The club council meets weekly on Thursday mornings to discuss issues related to running an organization in Columbia. Among other things, they are responsible for running School in Action Night each spring, a very large undertaking.

Members: Jacob Bartholomew, Rachel Bellamy, Joie Brooks, Daniel Kaiman, Daniel Lange, Duncan Sahner, Carly Scher, Brandon West, Nathan Winkler.

Club Council

Achieve

Achievetutors meet throughout the week with other students at the High School, Middle School, and Elementary School levels. They are trained to help their pupils in whatever subject areas they need it most. Many of the tutors also work with students outside of school, and Achieveserves to facilitate those arrangements as well.

The Achievetutors with advisor Mrs. Prinz.

The ACLU is in its first year at CHS. Students are in the process of coordinating with the local chapter of the national ACLU to host some project activities aiming at educating the student body about the rights of citizens and the ramifications and responsibilities which go with those rights.

The Columbia High School ACLU Chapter, with advisor Mr. Campbell.

Amnesty International

Amnesty International is a national organization of socially conscious citizens looking to make sure that people across the world receive fair and equal treatment. The CHS chapter watches the news and participates in demonstrations to voice their opinions on national policy, and works to fundraise for the causes they support.

Members: Jake Sommer, Danny Alexander, Zachary Klein, Ryan Sciano, Sam Zurofsky, Emily Penn, Anne Sciano, Alexander Yablon, Josh Steinberg, Stephanie Jones, Tasha Mell-Taylor, Suzanne Wasik, Carly Druck, Nikki Jaffe, Julia Penn, Rebecca Aranoff, Laura Tillman

The CHS Animation Club meets every Tuesday to study animation. They watch examples of animation from around the world, and work to create their own animations using a variety of techniques. Some of their members have gone on to win awards for their work.

Members: Arvin Bautista, Rebecca Feest, Alexander Frankel, Emma Gold, Victoria Goldenberg, Gabriel Kolodny, Amanda Krieger, Shawn MacArthur, Christopher Mancuso, Halli Melnitsky, Helena Mohit-Tabatabai, Daniel Moulthrop, Joshua Symonds. Advisor: Mr. 'G'

Animation Club

Astronomy

The CHS Astronomy Club is devoted to studying and observing the heavens. They have monthly observations, making use of the school's clock tower and a fantastic 8 inch Brashear telescope to get up-close and personal with the stars. The club allows students in the Astronomy class to see what they are learning about.

Members: Siddharth Bhattacharyya, Molly Brooks, Joie Brooks, Alex Frankel, Matthew Gline, Emma Gold, Charles Harding, Jason Kohn, Eric Mansfield, Danny Moulthrop, Joshua Symonds, Harry Tanielyan. Advisor Mr. Levin.

Branches of Faith is a religious study organization that explores modern religion. They study religious texts and discuss their meaning as they apply to modern life.

Members: Naomi Barrowclough, Jacob Bartholomew, Kiesha LaMothe, Anna McAvoy, Rachel Bellamy, Advisor: Mrs. Martin.

CCN AM

CCN (Columbia Cable Network) AM is a 2nd period class, new to the school this year, that produces the morning announcements. The televised program "Good Morning CHS" highlights different anchors each week and informs students of what activities are going on around the school. They have become an indispensable part of the morning routine.

CCN PM is a 9th period class responsible for producing, among other programs, CHS News, a fairly regular program airing on the school's television station that discusses various issues in the school community. The class produces other programming for the station as well, including discussions and student forums.

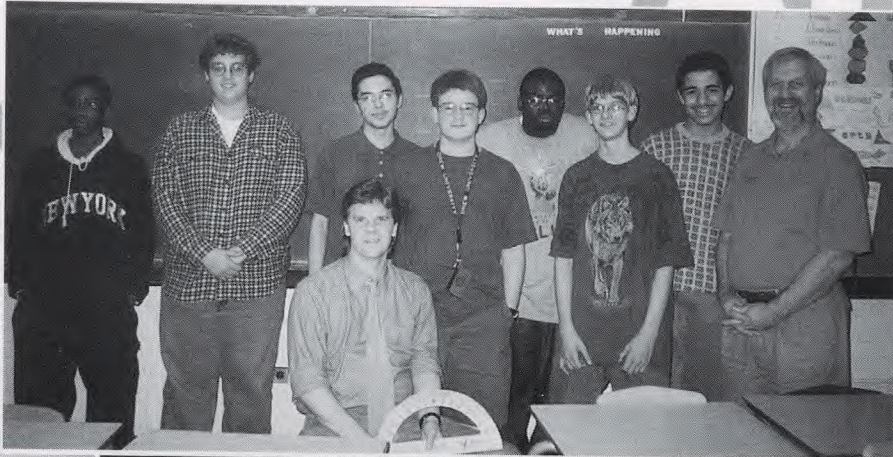

Members: Matthew James, Darrin Bann, Lauren Delance, Daniel Lange, Zachary Levine, Rian Shandler, Steve Harris, Meghan Zichelli, Mike Bisberg, Yianni Savoulidis, Brian Dreschel, Sharona Mallach, Kristin Shiller, Clarence DiGambler, Jenn Volz, Elizabeth Wenger, Megan Grotrian, Harry Tanielian, Molly Walls, Zoe Katz, Carrie Pomerantz, Mariah May, Ian McLaughlin, Ryan Plunkett, Meghan Levine, Jean Crawford, Lizzie Singler, Daniel Gurry, Matthew Adelson, Edward Starzinski, Ezie Cottler

Chess Club

Chess Club members meet Wednesdays and Fridays year long to play each other in chess. They compete in the Essex County High School chess league and have weekly meets with other schools. Last year they were the Essex County Champions, and both the Varsity and JV teams made a strong showing at States.

The Columbian is the student run newspaper. Both the Production Journalism and Journalism classes, in conjunction with out-of-class writers who operate as outside reporters, work diligently to publish about eight issues per year. In order to participate as an editor, students must take the Journalism class during their Junior year. The Columbian is rated "The Best Overall Newspaper" and "Best Design" on the high school level, and it is annually critiqued at the Columbia University Scholastic Press competition. It often receives awards of the Gold level.

FBLA

FBLA, the Future Business Leaders of America, seeks to prepare America's youth for the business world of tomorrow. The students study different fields of business in preparation for competitions, at which the Columbia chapter has succeeded quite well. They also organize fundraisers to try out their business management skills.

Members: Joanna Brooks, Murshed Choudhury, Kai Cole, Kevin Davie, William Flanagan, Tasanya Gordon, Zach Gruber, Edwin Gwaro, Tavonna Harper, Jonathan Hausner, Akiri Hilliard, Jermaine Johnson, Dwayne Jones, Anna McAvoy, Teryn A. Muller, Beri Okuezue, Christine Panuyas, Diana Plaza, Tamara Rainford, Paula-Kaye Richards, Duncan Sahner, Austin Terzian, Kyle Walker, Chris Warzocha, Sean Wright, Perry Xie.

FLES is offered to 3rd, 4th, and 5th graders districtwide. Those who enroll choose French, Latin, or Italian (they're already learning Spanish). Classes meet every Wednesday from October to April, a total of 22 meetings. The High School students who teach receive 2.5 independent study credits. They are advanced students of the language and are responsible, with a partner, for 5 to 7 younger pupils. Lesson topics are initiated by the coordinators Ms. Manchero and Mrs. Politi, but the students plan and present the lessons.

GAIA

GAIA (Green Activists in Action) is a national organization seeking to educate students about the environment. The Columbia chapter has organized local cleanups, lobbied for improved waste-management programs in the school, participated in workshops with elementary school students, and raised money for environmental charities.

Members: Maryanne Stark, Eric Lindberg, Zachary Klein, Erin Kuhn, Christina Conner, Mike Rublin, Gabe Kolodny, Hannah Zurofsky, Jack Reilly. Advisors: Mrs. Daur and Mr. Hall.

The Guildscript is Columbia High School's annual literary and art journal. Students meet weekly during the year to read through submissions and determine which works go into the final product. They are also responsible for the layout and design of the book, and sales and marketing of the finished product.

Members: Jessica Andrews, David Barnett, Niki Devonish, Duncan Enista, Naomi Fair, Victoria Goldenberg, David Johnson, Adam Johnston, Miles Klee, Erin Kuhn, Halli Melnitsky, Jackie Pollack, Leslie Prentice, Laurie Rabinowitz, Jack Reilly, Anne Sciaino, Laura Tillman, Rebecca Wener, Kate Wenger. # Mock Trial

The Mock Trial club competes in faux-court cases. The Mock Trial's competition against other high school teams of lawyers and witnesses at the Essex County Courthouse this year will enlist the wit, skill, and determination of Columbia students in simulating actual trials.

Members: Matthew Baer, Andrea Edwards, Kim Feldman, Charles Harding, Jon Hausner, David Johnston, Miles Klee, Jason Kohn, Campbell Morissy, Mark Mucci, Josh Steinberg, Madeline Walter, Brandon West. Advisor: Mr. Campbell

The Moot Court team has had a very strong season. They competed in two major tournaments at Princeton University. The Fall program entails two-member teams trying to solve an on-campus crime by finding evidence. In the Spring, the student lawyers argue US Supreme Court Cases to panels of Princeton University student judges.

Stage Crew

The Stage Crew at Columbia are active behind-the-scenes at almost every performance put on at the school. They work hard making sure that sound, lighting, and scenery all work the way they are supposed to, and while many people might not notice them, if they didn't do their job, there would be no show.

The "Joseph" Cast

Last year, Columbia's musical production, "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat", was a smashing hit! The musical retells the Biblical story, with a few modern twists. Joseph (Ben Tannen) is a handsome young man who is Jacob's (Uchenna Anonyuo) favorite child, able to interpret dreams, and the bearer of an amazing Technicolor coat. These facts lead Joseph's eleven brothers to become insatiably jealous. They sell Joseph into slavery to some passing Ishmaelites, who then sell him to Potiphar (Eric Lindberg). After refusing the advances of his owner's wife (Vanessa Evens), Joseph is sent to jail. He quickly becomes popular among the prisoners due to his ability to interpret dreams. The Pharaoh (Zach Klein) soon hears of Joseph's talent and appoints him to the post of Number Two man in Egypt. Years later, Joseph's now starving brothers arrive in Egypt and ask Joseph, whom they don't recognize, for assistance. Joseph, in turn, gives his brothers a scare, but eventually grants them all they desire, reveals his identity, and reunites the family. The story of Joseph was explained by narrators, Molly Gilman & Carla Kellner. Columbia made the preliminary nominations for Best Actor (Ben Tannen), Best Actress (Molly Gilman), Best Actress (Carla Kellner), Best Ensemble Group (the Brothers), Best Ensemble (the whole chorus), Best Scenery, and Best Pit Orchestra, in the Paper Mill Playhouse Rising Star Award program.

This year, director Stacey Lawrence selected Stand and Deliver for the Parnassian Society's November production. The play, inspired by actual events, tells the story of students at an inner city Los Angeles high school who champion prejudice and are led to academic excellence under the guidance of their math teacher. Parnassian's continuing success was demonstrated by three sold-out performances and superb results at the STANJ Governor's Awards drama competition in January. Contributing to Parnassian's ranking of 5th in the state, Megan McRobert, Laura Holzman, Laura Tillman, and Shamira Levy placed third in the overall scene category. Deidre DaSilva won third place for her dramatic monologue, and Laura Tillman and David Jiminez as well as Shamira Levy and Alea Pierro received awards for dramatic pair work.

Special Dance

The Special Dance Troupe

Senior Jessica Cohen

The Special Dance troupe, a near-professional level selective ensemble of Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, worked hard this year to put forth a fantastic program. Their show, entitled "Beyond Reflections," consisted of a number of modern dances, across many different styles, composed jointly by the performers and their new dance instructor, Kandice Williams. Williams, a recent Rutgers graduate, has taken her place next to senior captains Jessica Andrews, Jessica Geiger, and Lyndsey Vader and held the group to its own long-established high standards. This years show included a number performed with a live student choir, directed by Joey Misale, a feat that demonstrated the diversity of talent at Columbia.

The Marching Band

Drum Major Catherine Rotondi conducts...

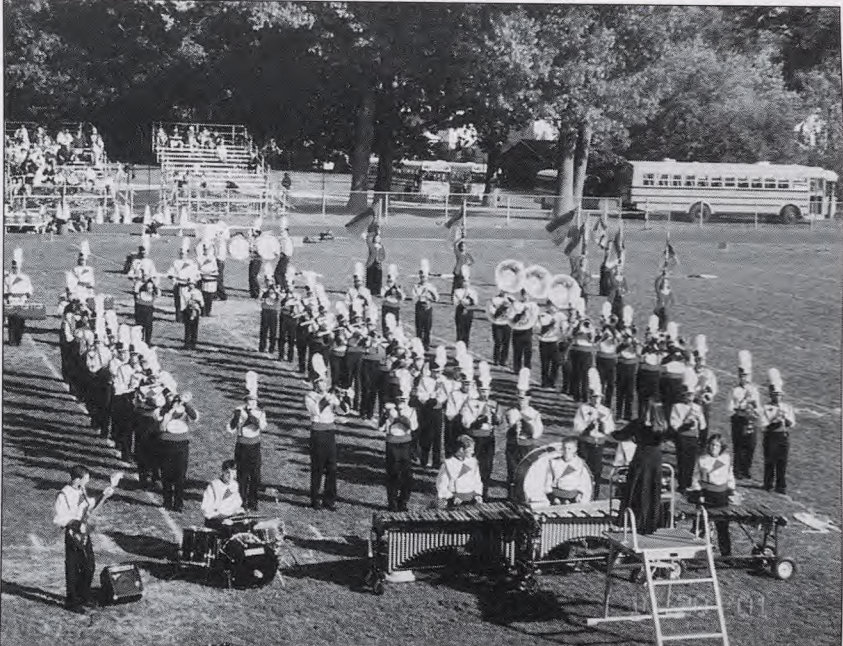

The Columbia High School marching band, in its second year with director Bryan Jenner, underwent another rebuilding season. The ensemble performed a show entitled 'Music From New York Voices,' ironic given the unfortunate incidents of September 11th. In attempting to cope with that coincidence, Mr. Jenner made a few changes to the drill that he felt were a fitting memorial. The modifications didn't hold. Still, with a strong freshman class filling the ranks and solos by John Brown on the Trombone, Caitlin Long on the Mellophone, and Ryan Sciaino and Ross Diamond on the Trumpet, the ensemble did an admirable job with its three tunes, "Baroque Samba," the jazz standard "Round Midnight," and "Now or Never." The band came in 5th in its group at championships in Scranton, Pennsylvania.

The Colorguard

Concentrate!

The Colorguard works to provide visual accompaniment to the Marching Band. This year, outfitted in new bright red uniforms and with a new guard staff including Debbie Yaniga and Caroline Paino, they made a very strong statement. Lead by captains Kathryn Orem and Lauren Leonardis, they worked with a variety of equipment (several different flags and rifles), and they even performed a dance solo to the "smoky New York jazz club theme" of Round Midnight. The hours of work they put in after the normal band rehearsals ended helped them reach a high level of aptitude by the end of the season, and the large number of underclassmen ensures that the group will only continue to improve. Keep smiling!

Spirit fingers!

The CHS Concert Band meets daily to rehearse and prepare a varied repertoire for performance in the winter and spring concerts, the music marathon, and the spring music-department trip, this year to Boston. Over 120 members strong, the ensemble includes musicians from 10th, 11th, and 12th grades, some of whom have been playing since elementary school. The Band Director, Bryan Jenner, in his second year at Columbia, has tried hard to maintain a high level of excellence for the group by presenting it with challenging literature. Some band members study privately outside of school, and each year a few of the most talented are selected for regional or even all-state music programs.

Freshmen Band

The Freshmen Band

Alex Friedland and friend.

The Freshman Band at Columbia is an opportunity for incoming freshman to make a smooth transition between their middle school programs and the higher standards of excellence demanded by the High School ensembles. Band Director Bryan Jenner tries to focus on improving technical accuracy and stylistic interpretation by presenting a variety of literature that will be challenging but still approachable for the developing musicians. The 60 person band performs in both the winter and the spring concerts, at the music marathon (playing at least some pieces in conjunction with the larger Symphonic Band) and on the spring trip (to Boston, this year). The comfort the Freshman Band affords the entering class allows the members to develop at their own pace and sets them up for a successful musical career.

The Orchestra

Over the shoulder of a violinist.

The CHS Orchestra has had a year of much change. Under the new directorship of Bryan Jenner, and with a significantly different group of musicians after the graduation of several very talented individuals last year, the ensemble is striving to rebuild. Mr. Jenner brings a much different image and focus, and it has taken some time to make the adjustment. Still, the orchestra strives for excellence as it prepares pieces for its annual holiday concert, the spring concert, the music marathon, and the spring trip. Additionally, the ensemble performs in a festival at Millburn High School, a chance to share their hard work and achievements with the members of other area orchestras.

The Columbia High School Jazz Ensembles have historically performed at a high level of excellence. Both ensembles rehearse weekly preparing for their performance schedule: JE1 performs with special dance, at the music marathon, yearly at the Cartaret Jazz Festival, on the spring music trip, and at the spring Jazz concert. JE2, the feeder band, gets a chance to perform at the marathon, on the trip, and at the Jazz concert. This is the first year in recent history that both ensembles have been filled, a testament to the strength and number of underclass musicians. Although the band will suffer the loss of several talented seniors, hopefully this strength will help it in the coming years.

The Concert Choir

Laaaaa....!

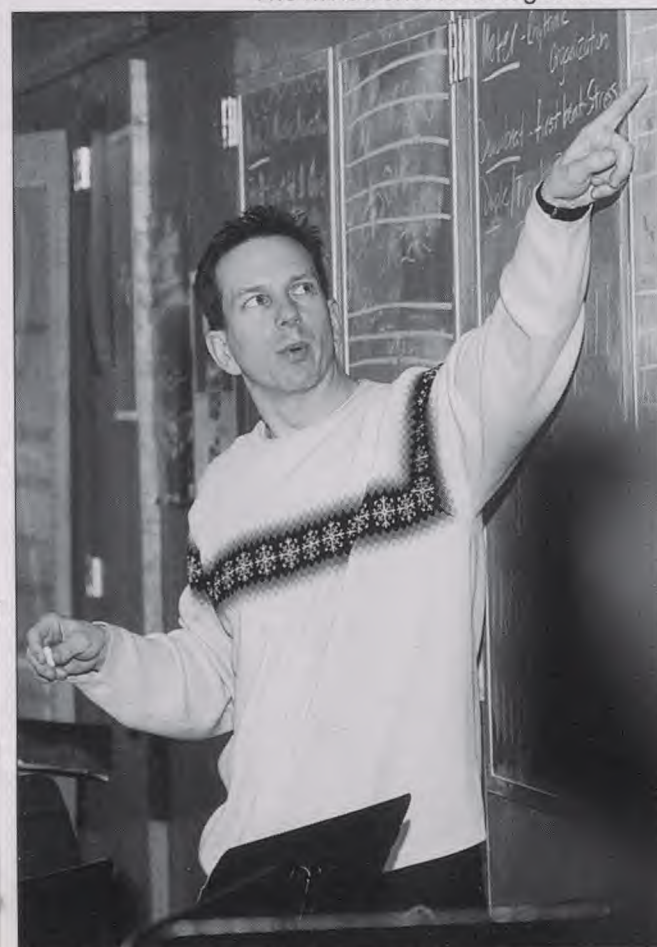

This 2001-2002 school year brought about two huge changes in the music department: a new choir director, Dale Duncan, and a large increase in choir members. Last year both the Concert Choir and Mixed Chorus had around 80-90 members each. The Concert Choir's enrollment jumped to 158 members and the Mixed Chorus grew to 119 members. This year also brought the initiation of a schedule change. Both the Concert Choir and Mixed Chorus were split into two separate class periods—because of the large number of members—making a total of four choir classes. Each class meets four times a week. Dale Duncan came to Columbia from South Orange Middle School and enjoys the switch. He loves being able to pick harder pieces to teach to both choirs. The songs he's selected to perform this year vary in genre from the beautiful "Prayer of the Children" with a very slow tempo to a very rhythmically dynamic piece, "Clap Your Hands." The choirs' performances included the winter concert, the Music Marathon, the music department trip to Boston, graduation, and various festivals and competitions throughout the state.

The School's MLKA gospel choir, under the student direction of Senior Tia Teabout, and the faculty supervision of Mr. DeVita, upholds a long-standing tradition of excellence in our school. A subset of the Martin Luther King Association, the group performs a combination of traditional gospel and more modern styles. They rehearse twice weekly after school in preparation for a number of performances yearly, including the winter concert, the Martin Luther King assembly and the Black History Month assembly. They have in the past also made several out-of-school appearances, in community churches and other such venues. They are proud to bring history and background together with culture, a combination that educates and entertains.

Baseball

Co-captains Brian Drechel, Sean Bodner, and Alex Reyes led the baseball team through a successful season this year. The team achieved a record of 13-5 under the superb coaching of Coaches Battaglini and McCluskey. The team anticipates another successful season, as Alex Reyes returns this year as a junior along with a number of strong senior players to back him up. Good luck, boys!

Boys Lacrosse

The boys lacrosse team had a successful season led by captains Jason Handrinos and Chris Cariello. The boys finished with a 9-9 record and made it to the state tournament. Senior Jason Handrinos was one of the top players in the state and led the team in assist. Handrinos, along with senior Joe Frankoski, was selected for First Team All State. Frankoski and his younger brother Greg proved to be valuable assets to the team. This year, Brian Delaney and Yianni Savoulidis will be the captains of the team, and will hopefully have yet another successful season.

Girls Outdoor Track and Field

The girls track and field team had yet another amazing year. Captains Nicole Santiago Rolon, Anella Pappalardo, and Michelle Nelson were not only leaders but strong athletes. Returning member Courtney Epps, freshman Raven Lea, and others helped the team win the county relays for the 14th year in a row, and take second in the individual event this season. Lou Castelli, the team's new coach, helped them achieve a record of 25-4. Unfortunately the three graduated, and the team is now undergoing a season of rebuilding. However, first singles player Jeremy Steglitz will luckily be returning this year to aid the team during this difficult process.

Football

Under the direction of new head coach Jeffrey Boni, this year's football season ended with three impressive wins. Not only was this a successful year for the team, it was also a year of firsts. This year's team saw the addition of three female player - Keena Driver, Andrea Osei, and Amanda Reyes - that had tried out, made the cut, and stuck through the whole season. Several four-year players that contributed this year include stars Kevin Dees, Hanri Glemaud, Qareeb Muhammed, Emeka Nwani, Robert Patterson, and Andre Reid.

Fencing

Both the girls' and boys' fencing teams had successful seasons this year. The girls' team, led by senior captains Laura Holzman (sabre), Christina Kaneshige (foil) and Anna Schall and Mika Tomczak (épée) finished first in their district, while the boys, led by Captains Devin Rogerino and Matt Bowers (sabre) and Jeremy Falgiani (foil) captured second. Unfortunately, the girls' team, ranked second behind Oak Knoll throughout the season, failed to qualify its sabre squad for the state tournament and was unable to win. Nonetheless, the boys' squad showed their depth this year by qualifying all three teams for states. Rogerino, Kaneshige, Schall, Tomczak, and Junior Ibtihaj Muhammad all qualified for the state individual tournament.

Boys Basketball

In his own words, Coach James Bailey described this year's Boys Basketball season as, "A good year [with] a very good team." The team, which finished the year with a record of 14-9, made it to the state tournament, in which they lost to the number one seeded team, Plainfield. Omar Springfield and Harold Stevens carried the team through an impressive seven-game winning streak, and Seniors Roberto Alexandre and Matt Meade also aided the team in their success. The team has a strong underclass component and is looking forward to another successful season next year.

Girls Basketball

The Girls Basketball Team made it to the state tournament again this year. Although the season began with a shaky start, Senior Captains Lauren Burnett and Ingrid Goslin pulled the team together to create a successful unit. The team also received invaluable help from Chi Clark and Joanne Nwafili. Senior Danielle Demming began the season strong, but unfortunately had to spend the majority of it out of the game because of injury. Luckily, the team is comprised mostly of underclassmen, so they look forward to yet another strong season next year.

Boys Indoor Track

The Boys Indoor Track team had an exciting season this year. Under the coaching instruction of Jason Jackson, Felicia Blake and Steve Ellis, the team placed fifth in the county championship. Senior Captain Daryl Washington led the team in sprints, Sophomore Julien Cherrington was strong in the 800 meter event, Christian Sahner in the 400 m, and Andrew Tuttle in the distance. In addition, Sophomore Jacob Nettleton added to the team's strength by winning the county 2-mile title.

Girls Indoor Track

The Girls Indoor track team had yet another triumphant season this year. In January, the team won their eleventh consecutive county title, led by Senior Courtney Epps and Sophomore Raven Lea. Epps won the state 2-mile title and Lea took third at the state championship later in the season. Freshman Elana Cooper led the team with her powerful sprinting abilities, and Senior Andrea Osei jumped to new heights with her expertise in hurdles. Jessica Sanders was the stand-out athlete in the 400 and 800 m events, and Joslyn Sanders threw the team forward with her success in the shot put. Jason Jackson, the team's coach, was extremely pleased with the team's success this year.

Your dreams are your doors to tomorrow.
They are secret reflections of you.
Your dreams are thresholds that lead to your wonderful future
Where nothing is too good to be true ...
Your dreams are beautiful visions, that look beyond what you can see.
They lift and guide you and grow deep inside you and with God's help you can be all you can be.
Your dreams are daring adventures,
they are journeys that carry you far,
As long as you hold your dream in your heart,
you can and will reach any star!!!

Love always,

CONGRATULATIONS AMY MARIA and THE CLASS of '02

Amy,
How can you possibly be 18 and graduating from high school, when just yesterday you were our little girl? Wow, how fast time flies! We can't begin to tell you how proud of you we are. We knew you were special when you were born, smiling so hard at us, and we have enjoyed your dimples and laughter ever since. You bring such joy to our hearts. You have always managed to amaze us, from your incredible sense of humor (like your mom's), to your sensitivity and maturity. You've managed to keep us on our toes, trust your judgment and decisions and see the world through your eyes. We've watched you develop from being a child to becoming a warm, intelligent and caring adult. What a transformation!

We love you tons, especially those dimples, and know you will accomplish great things in life. Always follow your dreams and strive for your goals. Remember, a good plan, combined with a sense of humor, will take you many great places. But most of all, when you go out into the world, no matter where your dreams may take you, always remember, There's No Place Like Home! You'll always be special to us as our first born and our very favorite daughter! We love you.

Love and Kisses,
Mom and Dad

Amy,
We love you. You are a great sister and we can't believe you are going away to college. We will miss you a lot!

Love,

Sarah Dyson: Congratulations! You've graduated!

Had there been a J. Crew catalog of baby daughters in April, 1984, we would have selected you! Description in the catalog: This baby girl will grow into a beautiful young woman with a quick sense of humor and a passion for helping others. Not only will she be a super daughter, she'll become a great friend and a wonderful person. And unique to this baby, her poop won't smell!

Sarah, all of the above is true. Well, almost. And we love you so much.

Inspiration

"I've learned that no matter what happens, or how bad it seems today, life goes on, and it will be better tomorrow.

I've learned that you can tell a lot about a person by the way he/she handles these three things:

a rainy day, lost luggage, and tangled Christmas tree lights.

"I've learned that regardless of your relationship with your parents, you'll miss them when they're gone from your life.

I've learned that making a "living" is not the same thing as making a "life."

"I've learned that life sometimes gives you a second chance.

I've learned that you shouldn't go through life with a catcher's mitt on both hands. You need to be able to throw something back.

"I've learned that if you pursue happiness it will elude you. But if you focus on your family, your friends, the needs of others, your work, and doing the very best you can, happiness will find you.

"I've learned that whenever I decide something with an open heart, I usually make the right decision.

"I've learned that even when I have pains, I don't have to be one.

"I've learned that everyday you should reach out and touch someone.

People love human touches — holding hands, a warm hug, or just a friendly pat on the back.

"I've learned that I still have a lot to learn.

Katie —

I can't believe my second sister is actually leaving! I am going to miss you and our fights over the computer, clothes, and everything! You are such an awesome person, and I know you are going to make plenty of friends and have an amazing experience at college. Thank you for being such a wonderful sister!

I love you tons!

Love always,
your baby sister,
Melissa

Katie,
Orem sister #2 is preparing to graduate CHS. I cannot believe how fast time goes by. It seems like only yesterday I brought you home from the hospital. You have filled my life with such joy and wonder. It is very unusual for such a young child to be so caring, compassionate and thoughtful of others. These are qualities you have possessed before you could even talk. You are very special to me Katie, and I will love you always. Whenever I watch my favorite video of you singing "little, little, little star" I will hold that baby face in my heart. As you leave for college, I know you will face each challenge with courage, and you will continue to strive for what you believe in. You have always been unique, and I admire that in you. Being a mom to you and your sisters has always been my favorite thing to do. You have always made that an easy task for me. Just remember how much I love and respect you for the person you have come to be. I will always be here for you Katie. My love for you has always been, and will always be unconditional. You are a wonderful, unselfish, caring, bright young lady. These qualities will take you wherever you want to go. I love you, you will always be my baby, my second born.

Love Mom

Katie —

You've been my little sister for your whole life, 18 years. I know at times you might have felt as though you were in my shadow, with teachers calling you Amanda and such. Even your freshman year when you were in colorguard, I was the captain. But over the years you have become an incredible, independent, and amazing person ... and have surpassed me in your colorguard skills! I feel blessed and honored to have had you there with me through my life, and look forward to all the times we'll have as sisters in the future. I know that no matter what happens, good or bad, I can always rely on you; you've become one of my best friends. Always be true to yourself and continue to let your creativity shine through — I know you'll be successful in whatever you choose to do — even if you have to change your mind a couple of times! From fights over who's brain is smaller, stupid games I'd make up and make you play, new piercings, talks about boys, concerned calls about college applications and beyond — I'm always here for you if you need me!

Love Always,
Amanda

"Distance never separates two hearts that really care, for memory spans the miles and, in seconds, we are there. We hear the voice, we see the smile, and deep inside we know, that friends remain apart of us wherever we may go. So we can visit anytime, no matter when or where, for distance never separates two hearts that really care."

Dear Pol aka Indian Girl, I can't believe the time has really come. It seems like only yesterday you said to me, "Hi my name is Asha." Do you remember that? Sophomore year. Now we are going our separate ways, but you know I can't go without saying: thanks for all those times I would call you at some ungodly hour and ask you "what should I do?" and you tried your best to help, for all those times I would say "Pol, I need you to do me a favor" and even though it annoyed you, you would still do it anyway, for making me take those 10 hour bus rides with you every time you wanted to go somewhere when we could have just asked someone for a ride, oh yeah for all of those times I said, "trust me this time, I know where we are" but I got us lost and you always stayed calm, for all those times I would make you call somebody for me long distance cause I said I didn't have long distance on my phone and you always fell for it, for staying on the phone with me that night I had a really bad stomachache and we had to run home cause we were out too late and we didn't have a ride as usual, for coming with me to see my boy D'angelo when you didn't even know who he was, for all those times we would go BIG P and come home with no numbers, for all those times the fam gave me a ride home, for all that money that I still owe you, for that time we were at Penn Station and you got in trouble big time (that had me dyin I still can't stop laughin). Pol I could go on forever and thank you for all the wonderful memories, but most of all I want to thank you for always lookin out, keeping me up when times were rough, and always being there when I needed a friend. Thanks for just being you.
Your NFL Ciara

Dear Ciara, Wow, can u believe it, our senior year is over! Man, we've been through so much together. We were like partners in crime :) ... Getting busted on the train ... LOL If I just stayed in one place we would have never gotten caught ... That bootleg comedy club LOL ... We were so dumb running home, up the hills, in the dark with those stupid posters! ... That special day when we met D'Angelo! ... Our TV debuts on MTV and BET ... That time we were on our bikes, and I crashed into this gate looking at some guy LOL what an idiot ... Ur neck :) ... Doing ur English project the day it was due (stop procrastinating!) ... Me screaming in the movie theaters like a fool cuz I got all scared! And then I scared u too! Hahaha ... Ur hair always taking up space, especially when we're taking pictures, like at Old Navy ... U walking around with slippers, and no coat in 40 degree weather ... Ur broke down cell working only when ur hanging out of ur window ... S.O.Jing LOL ... "Who dis be?" ... Hey, lets go to Staples, "Yea, I don't care I'll go." NO LIFE :) ... What is it now, Part 100? ... Frog boy and his rash, "Tru, tru, tru" haha ... It was fun watching u go crazy over a new boy each week, especially when u always tried to plan out something and it never went right! Like how u planned to give someone a candy cane and it got stuck in your pocket. HAHA ... (only dirty ones allowed) "Pick me up behind the dumpster" LOL. Ciara, we shared a whole lot of memories. In the time I've known u, we have grown close together and I was lucky to have found a friend in u. U helped me in so many ways I don't think u even know. Thank YOU for always being there and listening to me whenever I needed someone to talk to. Always stay the sweet, caring, clueless person u are and don't ever change the way u are for anyone. Even though I may not always have the time to listen to u, I'll always have a heart that cares. Lots of Luck to u in the future in everything u do. NFL
Love always, Polmyster

Congratulations Katie!

As the star in all of our fashion shows and dance routines, I know you will shine in college! Remember, I will always be by your side no matter where you are! From the Crescent-Oakview neighborhood to Quincy and Shamokin, we will always be friends. Thanks for being the best friend anyone could ever hope for!
Love always, Christina
PS: Never forget: karaoke @ Liv. mall, Amer. girls, The Club, Nintendo, Jake's cupcakes, Knoebles, hermit crabs, LBI, Jettas!

We've shared so much laughter, shared so many tears. We've a spiritual bond that grows stronger each year. We're not sisters by birth, but we knew from the start - something put us together, to be sisters by heart.

OLIVIA – JESSIE – MEGHAN – LYNDSY

I don't know what I used to do. Who I trusted. Until you came into my life. You've taught me everything I know. I can't imagine needing someone so.

Friends are like stars. You might not be able to see them, but you know they're always there.

How rare and wonderful is that moment when we realize we have discovered a friend.

8TH: Pinky & Suga-free are created. Suga-free has to control sugar intake or she's going to die. Kiwi hates V. Judge Countess at E's house. K&V eat tropical skittles & love pineapples & flamingos. Carla chases after them w/gardening shears. K is obsessed w/ND, V loves French class boys. KT why isn't your hair red? Bc I didn't want it to be. Ohh ok. 9TH: K&V have bio & math together — tri-angle of love between 4 people in math, K&V are destined for the reject class. V has big feet & gorilla hands, K is a hamster. They venture to Toronto to reinact Ms R devouring doritos. V gets a bf! Jay the hornet ... K is TICKED bc he takes her place. V gives K pro hair style. ST listens to their whole convo on the bus. V invites K to Little Mermaid On Ice once she finally turns 15. V gets her infamous "abs of steel" but never wears them, K becomes mother & yells. V is prima ballerina & tells K about Dancing Monica. V retires at age 16. K loves MB & V stalks RES but cries when he's deported back to Russia after being convicted of murder in the reservation. K&V create dog family, V loves chow chows.

K introduces AOL to V & she becomes an AOL junkie. V meets Chris from NC: "tis bc I like you." K meets Anthony who sings Sweet Lady to her. V is jealous, she wants a song too! V says AOL is great, but James is dumbest of all. He calls K baby & V gets mad & yells at him. V makes it her goal to get AOL asap. 10th: V gets AOL. She's obsessed w/SD, aka Billy. K has 1 day of RS but decides that KT-time is needed & dumps him. She moves on to AR who thought she graduated last year. MF is hot. V loves AN, DP, & Pat. Pat calls her, V's mom gets mad, yelling "boys, what boys?". V finally has a song w/Pat but she never tells him what it is. K calls her from J's sweet 16 when SG is playing & V gets to talk to Pat again. But she never meets him, so she moves on to Jeff. They talk on AOL but he moves to Maryland & dies. V tells K about Jeff's surfer friend, Scott. But he doesn't have a comp so K isn't interested. V is evil Mouse King, K goes to watch. K&V go to Disney. V plays truth or dare while K sleeps & gets her mack on — boys w/HP. V gets dreaded HR & asks Brandon to take a pic w/her but gets mad when boy comes up & asks to take a pic w/her. Mad face. V does poorly in C++ & has to rethink playing vball. We discover the Gilby CD. He dumped her twice, she came back for more, the 3rd time, he slammed the door. 11TH: V&K have sweet 16 but V still isn't 16. They're best friends since 3RD GRADE & have matching dresses w/out straps. K's obsessed w/"that boy," V's obsessed w/"the kid." K tells V about the duck & V quacks at her during lunch where they talk about Scott, the history buff. K loves younger men, so V decides to join the club & loves ER. Her stalking cont when she goes to LR's house so she can see ER. V wants to use the HUB in K's room, but K gets the action 1st w/A who called her a homewrecker. V talks to MikeF. K talks to Millburn boy who invites her to go sledding. School ends, K gets license, V overjoices. Trips to beach, getting lost going to Avon, having boys in car honk at them on highway, ghetto blasting begins. K needs to face sun, V's obesity takes off. 12TH: K isn't precious anymore ... V loves food, her fav is the GREAT BIGGIE. K goes out w/JG but breaks up w/him, she wants Nick from UofM-V loves CF (for 13 hrs), AR (6 pack), & GF (#1 fan). She works at the Hilton & meets Bubba. V is chased by 7th graders who want her, but she loves Bubba. V begs to drive K's car every day, but K yells & says no. V is forced to ride her scooter everywhere she goes. They drive to 711 (where V makes her slurpie combos), Wendy's (to make V obese), Rag Shop (for V's peach rings), Kmart (in search of K's Harry Potter t-shirt), & hockey games to meet the MKA boys (where V shouts in her manly voice). They go to bagel & see RB who's hot but V hates his shoes. She's jealous of the woman wearing the spandex pants. K&V drive past hotel, valet parker whips out binoculars to watch them speed away — he must have wanted to see the stars in their eyes! K is late & when they go to walk V's pitbull named Patti, everyone is gone, so they go & get more food. OBESITY! K picks V up to go to the mall but V's mom yells at her bc Mikey's in her prof & V's mom thinks they're going out. V assures her mom they're just friends & beats up Eric in the corner. They go see J's dance & the cavalier wears a thong — V can't see the lines! But her feet are still big, she's still obese, & K's sending her to the convent to become a nun. Twenty seven! New Years Eve — wow, will K ever stop smiling??

V&K will become little old ladies together — they'll stay up late looking at old pics, telling "remember when I ate that GREAT BIGGIE" stories & laughing till their sides ache. K&V will become eccentric together — they will be the kind of old ladies who take long walks in spandex, wear sombreros, & get away with acting outrageous in public places. And if anybody should ask how long they've been friends they'll say, "Oh, forever — since before you were even born." K&V will become little old ladies together — because a friendship that's as special as theirs can only grow (as V did) better through the years.

"I will be walking one day down a street far away and see a face in the crowd: Smile. Knowing you made me laugh, hearing sweet echoes of you from the past, I will remember you."

Amy — Sometimes it's hard to believe that we are cousins, because we get along more like friends. From pre-school on, anything I've done, you've been right there with me. Taking dance classes, our first communion, graduating elementary school and then middle school, and now high school. From playing dress up and house, to staying up Saturday nights to watch SNL, to applying for colleges things have changed a lot, but we still have the memories to look back on. When we were two and you shoved the bead in my nose playing doctor, when we were four and "Freed" the gerbils in my basement, Thanksgiving day awards, our family football games (the turkey bowl), Uncle Larry's House of Horror, haunted hayrides, color guard. It's been a fun eighteen years and having you there has made it better. It's going to be weird without you across town next year, but at least I know you're only a phone call away. I know you'll be fine in wherever you go and whatever you do in the future. I love you. — Katie Katie — we're finally seniors. Somehow we've made it through Columbia while still being cousins and friends, maybe because we never had any classes together. Despite our differences we definitely are friends. We've bonded through both Colorguard and Winterguard, the long hours and hard work paid off. We've made friends through each other, in fact you introduced me to most of my good friends (Michelle, Jerry, Suz). Although at times it was frustrating, I'm glad we went to the same high school. It was nice to know that no matter what happened that day I always had a built in friend ready to comfort me. We've both changed a lot these four years — and I'm not just talking about hair color, yet we've managed to get along. For the first time in four years we'll be separated at school next year and I'll miss you so much! But, I know we'll meet back in time for next year's Turkey Bowl, hehe. Good luck at college. You've worked hard and you deserve the best. I love you!

"Every now and then, we find a special friend who never lets us down — who understands it all, reaches out each time we fall. You're the best I've found. I know that you can't stay, but a part of you will never go away. I will make a wish for you and hope it will come true. That life will be kind to such a gentle mind. And if you lose your way, think back on yesterday and remember me that way."

Katie —

You are the best friend I could ever ask for. I don't know what I did to deserve someone as incredible as you but I am so grateful to have you in my life. Whenever I see you I am immediately happy, your face always has a smile on it that brightens my heart and warms my soul. You are talented, beautiful, kind and loving and never listen to anyone that says otherwise. Everyday I realize something new about you and I wish that I could be at least half the person you are; my admiration for you is unending. You have an unsurpassable energy and courage that makes everyone you meet love you. You are there for me all the time and I hope you know that I am always here for you. You are always there to laugh, cry, smile, listen, explain or simply stand by me, even when I don't even know what I stand for. I know our friendship grows stronger with every experience we have and it will only continue to grow. You support me in every way and I don't know what I would do without you. You have helped me through some of my hardest times that I truly don't think I would have gotten through if you weren't by my side. We have spent so much time together I feel there is nothing we don't know about each other. We have shared secrets, dreams, hopes, and ideas and you can understand what I'm thinking without me even having to say it. Even though we will be miles apart in the years to come our friendship will never end. I love you more than words can say and I hope you realize how much you mean to me.

Love, Jess

Jess,

Wow, where do I even begin? You have been the absolute best friend to me for such a long time. It seems like forever, but we only became really close during sophomore year. Having almost all of my classes with you was so great — your sense of humor got us through so many physics and English classes! We have countless memories that I am sure neither of us will ever forget. New Years Eve 2000 when we went to Vinny's house and saw the hot drummer without a shirt and I became obsessed with Kevin? Or my love/hate (or just hate) relationship with Mark? And let's not even think about my two-day relationship with that boy ... But you are definitely the backbone of all of my relationships — my summer hook-up, my Millburn boyfriend!

You have always been there to listen to me complain about absolutely nothing and have always come up with the answer to our problems: boys are dumb. I can always count on you to find some hot men for me — even if they always are from out of town! And you always know just what to say to me when I'm upset or just when to send me one of your famous cards to make me smile. I remember times where we've sat and laughed for hours on end over the craziest things. Our trips to Papa Razzi and Applebees have always been quite interesting — we are always cold! And I'll never forget our scandalous car rides last year! You are one of the few people I know who I can call up at any hour and you never cease to have a related experience to my seemingly traumatic situation. I will always be the superglue for you and Joe and you will always be there to guide me in my guy choices. I don't know what I'm going to do without you next year, Jess — you are my best friend and I love you forever!

Love, Katie

PHYLLIS & JESSICA

"Filler",

I want to take this time to thank you, Phil. It is amazing how much I have grown because of what you have brought to my life. There was something, maybe the sincerity of your smile or the liveliness of your laugh, that connected me to you from the first day I met you. You didn't know this but that day, I had decided to give up on the ups and downs of friendship, I thought I'd get along much better without the drama in my life. I remember asking reluctantly if you'd be my lab partner and you giving me a reassuring laugh like that already was a given. At that very moment, you had accepted me and in turn, I accepted you, on that afternoon in school and for the rest of our time at Columbia. And from that, a friendship emerged ... you bringing your "always happy, let's have fun" philosophy and me with my "bitter ... the cup is always half-empty" mentality. I told you of the pain I believed I endured as an eighth-grader and my fear of the pain that high school would bring, and you showed me a brighter outlook on life. Now, with high school behind me, I see the fun we had above the sorrow ... and it's not that my trials were any easier to handle, it's that you were there, beside me holding my hand through it all. As I've grown, I see that it was your laughter that was always there to encourage me, your compassion was always there to comfort me. I have not shed one tear without you sitting on the side of my bed talking me through it, no matter what other things you had to do or how silly you thought I was acting. You took the time out to make sure I was happy because that was what was important to you, my happiness. You have no idea how much that has meant to me. I have never met someone as sweet and considerate as you. I remember I mentioned that I bought some silly book and lost it or something and you rode all the way up to the mall to buy it for me and brought it to me that night. I remember the way you came to every recital I had, sat through an entire week of Vacation Bible School with me at my church and the day that I was so sad about choosing between Journalism and Special Dance that I walked home crying and you followed me in your car and stayed at my house until you were sure that I felt better. Everybody says that their best friend embodies what they thought a real friend should be but in all honesty, I had no idea that friendship could be as special, as valuable and as precious as what we have, Phyllis. Even during our disagreements, you took time to work it out with me. No matter how stubborn or immature I was being, you thought I was important enough for you to look past your frustration and try and understand me. You believed our friendship was worth it. That means more to me than any gift you could have given me or any fun event we took part in together. That is how I know you truly care, Phil, and I cherish you for that. From the day we became friends, you have fit right in, in my family and in my life, like you have always been there. You are the older sister I never had and the best friend I will always love. Now, as we approach our graduation and the end of our time at Columbia, I can truly say that I believe in friendship again, Phyllis, Thank you.

<3 Jessi

Jess —

Freshman year biology you sat right next to me, with the test I did not study for I asked you can I cheat. With a smile and a tap of your pen you nodded your head, because you were going to get the answers from your neighbor Ed. And from that day a friendship secretly began to bloom, we hung out everyday in school and then school let out in June. With summer there and time to spare I saw you even more, with your house around the corner I was always at your door. Those summer days we filled with fun even when we had nothing to do, Days when we hung out at each other's jobs was better than going to school. So many things happened that summer that made our friendship grow, From white cars, to Nick's guitar to rocks at my window. We both like to meet new people and try different things, Extending our circles of friends to see what others can bring. And thus we befriended, Ciara, Asha, Reeb and Chais, And as we hang with them quite often I realize that no one will take your place. We've grown so much from when we first met, the laughs we shared the places we've been are things I'll never forget. No one can top all the fun we've had since we've first been friends. Parties, jokes, movies and all it seems the fun will never end. And even when the good times suddenly turned bad, When Jess is near bad is gone and who has time for sad. And through the years we've changed a lot through style, attitude and taste, the Fubu shirts are out the closet and Express have taken its place. With knee high boots and designer bags you're a lot more dressier than me, with different tastes in clothes you complement my Tims and Jeans. And now it seems that everyone associates Phyllis and Jess together, we've made a friendship for all to see and that will surely last forever. And now we're off to college and we're going our separate ways, the fun we've shared is memorable and I wonder why things can't stay the same. I wonder what will I do without my best friend Jess, who will I get advice from and more importantly how'll I pass my tests.

Phyllis

The Zohny Family

We'd like to thank everyone who made the production of the 2002 Mirror possible:

Thank you to our wonderful yearbook staff, and especially the hard-working section editors, whose extra weekend and late-night hours were what got the book done.

Thanks to Truc Le for helping with odds and ends, and Kate Wenger for the use of her wonderful photography.

Thank you to the photographers from Normandy Studios for their cooperation in taking another year's worth of photos.

A special thank you to everyone who helped us identify photographs—you made our job so much easier—and to all the parents who helped us with bake sales and photo developing, and gave encouragement as we began the all-nighters.

An extra special thanks to Jeff Cafiero, our Herff Jones representative, for all of his time, but especially his patience, and of course to Mrs. Coe and Ms. Yikon'a for their suggestions, support, and tireless effort throughout the year; it was they who brought this book together.

And finally, thanks to Matt Gline for not only stepping up and doing more than was ever expected of him, but for digitizing the yearbook process—a revolution in itself.

Best of luck to the class of 2002, and even more to Doug, Bari and Dan next year!
