Reflections

"...At least I know who I was when I got up this morning, but I think I must have been changed several times since then."

-Alice In Wonderland

"True recollection has characteristics by which it can be easily recognized. It produces a certain effect which I do not know how to explain, but which is well understood by those who have experienced it...It is true that recollection has several degrees, and that in the beginning these great effects are not felt, because it is not yet profound enough. But support the pain which you first feel in recollecting yourself, despite the rebellion of nature, overcome the resistance of body, which loves a liberty which is its ruin, learn self-conquest, persevere thus for a time, and you will perceive very clearly the advantages which you gain from it. As soon as you apply yourself to orison, you will at once feel your senses gather themselves together: they seem like bees which return to the hive and there shut themselves up to work at the making of honey: and this will take place without effort or care on your part. You will be given such a domination over the senses that a sign is enough when your soul desires to recollect itself, for them to obey and so gather themselves together. At last, after countless exercises of this kind, you will be disposed to a state of utter rest and of perfect contemplation."

"By three methods we may learn wisdom; First, by reflection, which is the noblest: Second, by imitation, which is easiest; and third by experience, which is the bitterest."

- Teresa of Avila

"We can't return, we can only look behind from where we came..." -Joni Mitchell

"Sometimes the light's all shining on me, Other times I can barely see Lately it occurs to me What a long, been..."

"I'm in a period of growth and expansion. I'm taking long, hard looks at the world and what's happening in it, analyzing and thinking. I'm trying to become acquainted strange trip it's with the universe and trying to settle, for myself, what my relationship with it is." -Gene Roddenberry

-Grateful Dead

"The unexamined life is not worth living." -Socrates

"Knowing others is wisdom, knowing yourself is enlightenment." -Lao Tzu

"There are three principal means of acquiring knowledge...obsevation of nature, reflection and experimentation. Observation collects facts; reflection combines them; experimentation verifies the result of that combination."

-Denis Diderot

Renee Pollack Principal

I can hardly believe that four years have passed by so quickly since the 2006 graduating class entered Columbia. Four years ago, I too entered Columbia as the principal and so this is my first full cycle of graduates. I still remember the excitement and anticipation when you arrived which translated into your strong leadership, as well as, your creative, academic, athletic and artistic contributions.

The many acceptances to prestigious colleges and universities are a testament to your commitment to education. This exemplifies the long tradition of excellence that Columbia High School works so hard to achieve and so richly deserves. The articulate and worldy manner by which you express yourselves sets you apart and makes me so proud. Will one of you change the course of history? Will your beliefs translate into good deeds for others?

There is so much left to be done and you will be our country's future. Younger generations will look to you for guidance. Lead with honesty, integrity and love.

Congratulations! Renee Pollack Principal

Student Life

SUMMERTIME, AND THE LIVING IS EASY ...

The students of Columbia High School like to work hard and play hard. So, after a strenuous year of academics the Cougars spent their summers relaxing in a variety of ways. Many traveled abroad and experienced new cultures, while others found ways to help people in their own neighborhoods. It is their overwhelming commitment to education and desire to make an imprint in the world that makes Columbia students such a potent force. Whether students held jobs or spent their summers recovering from a grueling academic year, you can be sure that they were having a good time. Colleen MacPhee, along with several Columbia High School students went to Australia to compete in an international track and cross country competition.

Vanessa Appouch

GOT HOMECOMING?

After the problems with Homecoming last year, all the necessary precautions were taken in order to make this year a success. The tickets were sold in a timely manner with no complaints, the gym looked beautiful, and everyone spent the night dancing to the wonderful D.J.

All the students were happy, as well as the people who helped plan Homecoming. "It went really well," said Matt Feldman, president of the senior class.

Below Left: Energy in the room stayed high all night as the crowd danced to the D.J.'s songs.

WHAT'S FOR LUNCH?

After a long morning of grueling academics the students of Columbia High School are rewarded with an array of options to satiate and prepare them for their postlunch activities. While most underclassmen without licenses and cars are bound to the cafeteria, restaurants around Columbia or older friends with licenses, the upperclassmen head to Maplewood Village for their lunchtime. Most students frequent shops like The Trattoria, Bagel Chateau, Roman Gourmet, the new addition, Cranes, and in the warmer months, Hershey's Ice Cream shop. Regardless of where they eat, Columbia students are sure to spend their lunch in good company.

Below: Students enjoy the fine dining offered in our two Cafeterias

Cougars enjoy the weather during their lunch period with a rousing game of hacky-sack.

Though it may seem like an oxymoron to some, the annual Calc Party was held by the calculus classes the day before winter break. This year, planning for the party, led by senior Victoria Fox, got off to a rough start, due to the extra calculus classes added this year. But, nothing could hold these math students down, and the party was a success as usual.

Food was eaten and math was celebrated as calculus students from all five classes gathered to take a break from their busy schedules and relax before their break began.

"It was the best party I've been to all year!" says senior Gabby Francesco. Beth Slutzy agrees that the party is a wonderful thing, saying that "it encourages many seniors to keep taking math, even though they don't have to."

CHS BEAUTIFICATION

Columbia High School students were greeted in September by construction workers and and new front entrance. All of these efforts were part of the CHS Beautification program, which cleaned, restored and built our facilities. In addition to the front hallway restoration, new lockers were installed, the school seal was put on the outside of the gym lobby, and new display cases now store the many awards that CHS Alumni have garnered. Avoiding the front hallway and taking a treck to the new entrance paid off when the new front lobby was revealed. Besides a small spelling error by the constrution workers, the new lobby is beautiful and cheerful way to start the school day. Through the efforts of the HSPA, faculty and students Columbia High School is looking more beautifu than ever. For many months, people who commuted in the A-wing were met with this wall and the promise that construction would soon be complete.

Despite the small spelling error, the floor of the lobby looks great, especially the large seal.

The HSPA also referbished the gym lobby, adorning the wall with the school seal and plantig flo.wers in the garden

The security guards front desk was moved to the new entrance so their smiling faces would still meet students every morning.

A new, brighter and more cheerful entrance now welcomes students, parents and faculty into Columbia.

Miss Cougar

Sophmore year, Last brought Class Council Columbia's back traditional "Mr. Cougar" competition. Abandoned in the mid-1990s, the revived competition was a huge success.

Such a big success in fact, that this year the Junior Class Council staged a sequel: the "Miss Cougar" competition.

At the Miss Cougar Competition on February 19th, nine female students competed for the coveted title of "Miss They were judged Cougar." on their school spirit, talent, knowledge of Columbia, and knowledge of women's history.

But at the end, there could be only one Miss Cougar 2006, and after a fierce competition, that title went to junior Ashley Junior Reni Calister Newbie. came in as first runner-up, and senior Jessica Schneider placed as second runner-up.

GETTING READY FOR COLLEGE

For some, it starts junior year, or maybe when you are a freshman. For others it may the be beginning of senior year, or prehaps from the minute you are born. But regardless of when it begins, most high schoolers feel college pressure at some point.

The process can be a rough one. "People get really crazy," says senior Daniel Symmonds. "You try to stay out above it at first, but eventually most people give in." As January 1st approaches, the craziness intentifies as seniors rush to finish applications.

The process is a tough one, but for most, it is well worth it. From Harvard to Rutgers to ECC and everything in between, Columbia graduates can be found all over the country, at the nation's finest institutions.

Though college is the most popular choice for CHS students after high school, it is by no means the only one. Some Cougars get a job immediately after high school, while others may join the military, and some others even take time off to travel. But regardless of what CHS students choose to do after graduation, you can be assured that they will excell in that chosen path.

Above: Juniors often begin their search at CHS's annual college fair, where they can meet representatives from colleges all over the country.

Left: The college star board may be empty now, but come the middle of April, it will be filled with senior's showcases of their college selections.

THIACA GOLLEGE

erforming Arts

Last year's all school musical, Annie, showcased the talent of our student body as well as provided entertainment to thousands of community guests.

Based on a comic strip that originally ran in the 1930's, Annie is the story of poor young orphan, Annie (played by Emily Dey) and her quest to find the family that she knows is waiting for her. This family remains only a distant hope for her until Oliver Warbucks' (Ben Jacoby) secretary Grace Farrell, (played by Liza Wenger) comes into Annie's orphanage looking for a girl to stay at the Warbucks mansion. Annie is immediately interested, because at the time Warbucks was one of the wealthiest men in the country! Yet, the evil director of the orphange, Miss Hannigan (Julianna Carlson) is determined to ruin Annie's life and tries to fool her into thinking that her brother Rooster (Azudi Onyejeckwe) and his girlfriend Lily St. Regis (Victoria Rutledge) are her true parents coming to get her!

Thankfully, Annie and Daddy Warbucks are much smarter than that, and can see right through Miss Hannigan's evil scheme. In the end, Annie is adopted by Daddy Warbucks, moving her way into his heart just the same as the entire musical moved its way into the audiences' hearts.

(Below) Miss Hannigan, Juliana Carlson, chastizes Annie yet again for attempting to run away from the orphanage.

THE EXONERATED

FALL PARNASSIAN SHOW

"The Exonerated" is a chilling tale of six Americans who were wrongfully accused of murder and were kept on death row for numerous years. The show had a cast of 12 Columbia High School students, some of whom had acted for their first time. This fact was undetected by the audience thanks to their flawless performances.

"The Exonerated" was based on a true story, so the emotions and the anecdotes were real. Director Steve Stubelt and Producer Janet Bustrin were an integral part of the twomonth process. The final result was a drama that was interesting, captivating and enthralling; several audience members were even moved to tears. This play was extremely popular; due to increased demand, the cast sold out of performances as well as performed two extra shows for the student body.

"Prison took away that-- spark for life... 'cause in my old pictures from high school, I can see my face-- I'm smilin', you know. And now that's somethin' people round here don't see me do too much, smile."

Special Dance

The Special Dance Company is a group that has prided itself on being a standout part of Columbia High School. This year the Company has changed drastically, as the majority of the members are new to the group. Even so, the dancers have exceeded expectations, setting a May date for their anticipated performance. The class is a double period, serving as gym credi for all of the dancers, yet is not just a sign-up course; all of the dancers must prepare a piece for auditions and are judged for their talent and creativity. The captains this year are Chelsie White and Iman Johnson, two talented members who have been in the company for the maximum number of three years. The Special Dance Company is directed by Candace Point Du Jour.

Concert Choir

Concert choir is the next step for singers who aren't interested in joining Chamber Choir. This choir is comprised of sophomores, juniors and seniors. Concert Choir meets during the school day, and students are expected to learn the vocal techniques necessary to improve their crafts.

Mixed Chorus

Mixed choir is a freshman only chorus, and helps to serve as a starting ground for many Columbia singers. Students learn scales and prepare various songs. This group performs at school concerts, the annual Music Marathon and other functions. This class is led by Dr. James Imhoff.

Symphonic Band

Symphonic band is a non-audition class where sophomores through seniors meet year round in order to increase their instrumental skills. This band practices during the school day under the direction of Mr. Bauer. The symphonic band plays in concerts such as the Music Marathon, and both the winter and spring concerts.

Wind Ensemble

Now in its fourth year, the Wind Ensemble is an award-winning band. Conducted by Mr. Bauer, the ensemble is made up of some of Columbia's best musicians, all of whom had to audition in order to be in the ensemble. They perform at the fall, winter, and spring concerts, as well as the Music Marathon in March, and many of the performers also participate in solo recitals or other bands outside of school. Next year's ensemble looks promising as well, with many talented performers vying to play with this honors level band.

Jazz Band

Jazz band is an audition only musician group that takes place after school, rather than during the school day like the rest of the bands. There are two separate bands, Jazz Band 1 and Jazz Band 2, and they are established by the scores that the students receive. The most dedicated students participate in Jazz Band as well as in other band classes.

Marching Band

Marching band had a very succssful year under the new direction of Mr. Bauer and drum majors Nancy Huemer and Cory Schutzer. They finished first at a competition at Randolph High School, as well as earning Best Percussion, Best Color Guard, and Best Music. This is the first time they have won first place in a competition in seven years, and have no doubt that this trend will continue.

Chamber Choir

After a competitive auditioning process, members of Chamber Choir come together as an elite group of performers. Under the direction of Dr. Imhoff, the group performs at both the Spring and Winter concerts and at the Music Marathon. Many members of this choir have been selected to perform with prestigious choirs including All State and Region Choirs. This year they are performing Mozart's Requiem.

Musicians Workshop

Musicians Workshop is a new edition to the music program that allows the musicians of Columbia to work on their individual projects in a laid-back atmosphere. It offers students the chance to improve musically even if they are not interested in becoming a member of a band at Columbia. The students help to set their own course in the class, and teacher Mr. Bauer is there to help them along the path to becoming a better musician.

Concert Band

Concert band is a freshman only band class at Columbia. Freshmen learning to play instruments as well as those with prior experience work together under the direction of Mr. Bauer to perform beautiful pieces.

Orchestra

The orchesta program at Columbia is comprised of Chamber Orchesta as well as an Orchestra class. Chamber Orchestra is a class that is designed to help the more focused students further their skills and Orchestra is a more relaxed class that helps less experienced students improve.

Gospel Choir

The Gospel Choir is a longstanding part of Columbia High School. They perform at school assemblies, and various other community events, such as the 11th Gospel Extravaganza which occured in March. This year, the chorus is led by senior Aziza Johnson and is continuing the tradition of greatness that one would only expect.

Diamontes

The Diamontes is composed of Diamontes Step and Diamontes Dance. Both are formed by students auditioning to join either, or both, of the groups. The captains of the dance team are Lisa Gimigliano and Wendy Joseph and the step team captains are Ugo Okoro and Melissa Louis, Aziza Johnson, Phoebe King. These groups perform not only at Columbia, but at the annual MLK performance, and are a huge thrill for the students.

Student Council

President: Daniel Symonds Vice-president: Reni Calister Treasurer: Iman Johnson Secretary: Lauren Miller Advisors: Ms. Dalzell, Ms. Edelman, Ms. Petrallia

Subsidiaries of Student Council: Hall of Fame

Student Council is an organization committed to expressing the voice of the students to the administration and community. They address problems, form relationships, and attempt to improve the general well-being of the school. Student Council tries to resolve issues that are brought to their attention by the students through new proposals and committees. Presidents and vice presidents of the classes, the executive board, and any interested students of CHS come together for the weekly Tuesday morning meetings. Student leaders work on and plan fund-raisers and activities as well as discuss affairs of the school.

Co-Presidents: Shanell Moorman-Matthews and Julianna Carlson

Every year a committee of students and faculty members gather to review and select a talented and committed graduate of Columbia to be inducted into the CHS Hall of Fame. Inductees are honored at an assembly which the whole student body attends.

Club Council

Co-presidents: Danielle Levine and Jessica Schneider Vice-president: Elise Rosenthal Club Council is in charge of organizing and running CHS in Action Night, a forum for clubs and teams to voice their concerns and desires about the school and its success. This gives all clubs and activities an opprotunity to present themselves and their work to the community.

Numerous after school practice sessions will be followed by the two day competition held at Princeton University with Princeton students, real judges and lawyers acting as judges.

Sports

Baseball

Columbia's baseball team has a history of excellence and this season they extended it. With most of the starters on the team being seniors, they made their last season in high school sports count. The team looks to carry on that success next year, with many promising underclassmen.

Softball

The softball team garnered alot of success this year. Lead by senior captains Adrian Manley and Rachel Brett, the team was a force to be reckoned with. The girls remained a cohesive team through the switch of head coaches and came out stronger under the direction of Ann Bodnar.

Boys Lax

Under the guidance of coach David Brothers, the boys lacrosse team had a great showing. As a young team the players expect only to improve on their record next year though they will miss the talent of seniors Alex Andrews, David Marchman, Joe Ceccacci, and Alex Friedland.

Girl's Lacrosse

The Columbia Girl's Lacrosse team had another successful season this year The team received much of its strength from seniors Nina Frankoski, Bonnie Buechel, Allie Robinson and Emma Stendig. They also molded the underclassmen poised to take their place, including, Kaja Stamnes, Kritstan Conrad and many other promising players.

Boys Track

Under the coaching staff of Jason Jackson, Felicia Blake, and Juan Bas, the boys spring Track and Field team excelled. Not only was the team a competitve force within its district, it was a state-wide threat. The team recieved a lot of support from the senior 800 meter runner, Aaron Wyche, the miler Andrew Walker and the many other competitive of Columbia High School's track and field team. They ended their season with an impressive finish.

LUNBIA

Girls Track

The girls track team looked to continue their success from indoor track and did just that. They won the county championship, the state sectional championship, and the conference championship and finished thier season with an impressive record. Although the team will be losing alot of key players this year, there are many underclassmen waiting to take their position on the track and in the field.

Boys' Tennis

Football

Football perservered through a very difficult season ending in a 0-10 record. Playing in a very competitive conference they will work hard in the off season to contend next year.

Cheerleading

Lead by senior captains Jenniliz Mendez, Chelsea White and Margaux Leone, cheerleading encouraged football in their time of need. With a new coach the girls' stunts have greatly improved.

Boys' Soccer

Varsity boys' soccer had another amazing season this year lead by coach Gene Chzowych. They were ranked number five in the state and first in the county by the Star Ledger. Columbia was one of the two teams in Group Four to achieve 18 consecutive wins. They placed second in the Essex county tournament and won the Iron Hills Conference Championship, for the first time in seven years. The boys finished out the season with a record of 19 wins 3 losses and one tie game.

Girls' Soccer

Senior captains Liz-Beth Davies, Emily Quirk and Jade Jones led the lady cougars to a very successful season. The team worked well together for a great year!

Gymnastics

Despite a few obstacles at the beginning of the season, the girls' gymnastics team finished the season strong. The team was lead by captains Danielle Levine, Sarah Friedman and Courtney Hazelwood.

Girls' Tennis

Varsity girls' tennis lead by captains Devra Reiman and Tatiana Krmpotic had a 14-5 season and placed second in the conference. Senior doubles partners Kaitlin Chin and Carolyn Whiting anchored the second doubles spot, while Devra Reiman lead the girls in first singles.

Boys' Cross Country

Varsity boys cross country was lead this year by senior captains Jackob Seigler and Daniel Symmonds to a 8-1 season. This was a highly competitive year for cross country and Columbia placed third in the section, third in the county and third in the conference.

Girls' Cross Country

Varsity girls' cross country had a 4-4 season. Lead by senior captains Sara Linarducci and Colleen MacPhee they placed fourth in the section and second in the county.

Volleyball

Varsity girls' volleyball had a 8-11 season. Lead by senior captains Iman Johnson and Cindy Udah and junior captain Victoria Rutledge they went on to have a successful season.

Field Hockey

Field hockey had a very strong team this season, lead by seniors Cece Vayda, Claudia Seixas, Alex Woog, Larissa Wohl, Bianca Calpo, Kaitlin Robinson, Kristen Conrad, Ally Shabok, Kelly Malloy and Alyssa Scudieri. Next season looks promising as well with six returning starters.

Fencing

The Boys and Girls Fencing team extended their legacy in New Jersey fencing history. The girls teams came in 1st in Epee, Sabre, Foil and overall in the Santelli Tournament. The Boys' team also had a good showing in the Cetrullo Tournament, coming in 8th in a very competitive field. The women's team swept the District tournament, securing their position in the State Championship. The Men's Epee squad came in 1st in the district, Sabre in 2nd and Foil in 3rd, with the team grabbing 2nd overall. The men's record for the 2005-2006 season is 13-2, while the girl's team extended their record to 15-0, regaining the state record for most consecutive wins.

Winter Cheerleading

Senior Captains Jenniliz Mendez, Margaux Leone and Philicia Stevens brought the team to new heights this season. After incorporating more challenging skills into their routines, the team had a strong showing at a competition at the Dunn Center in Elizabeth.

Wrestling

Under the direction of Coach David Brothers the wrestling team had another successful season. There were many important players that aided the team this season, specifically, Bradley McLaren, Bryan McLaren, Andrew Mittleman, Jerry Carless, Doug Lines, and Jeremy Inniss. With one of the hardest schedules in the county, the team worked hard for all of their success and intend to improve upon their record next season.

Boys' Indoor Track

Under the direction of an excellent coaching staff, the Boys' Indoor Track team looked to improve upon last year's showing. Captains Dorian Ellerby and Michael Holder led the team to 6th place in the Iron Hills Conference, 20th in the Group IV State Individual Competition, 10th in the Group IV State Relay, 6th in the Essex County Relay and 5th in the Essex County Individual Relay.

Girls' Indoor Track

Columbia Girls' Track team continues to be a strong force within the state. The team claimed a tie for a 1st place finish in the Essex County relay, they were 2nd in the Essex County Individual Championships, 4th in the Group IV State Relay, 4th in the Group State Individual Competition and 3rd in the Iron Hills Conference Championship. The team was led by Senior Captains Colleen MacPhee and Iman Johnson.

Swimming

The Boys and Girls' Swim Team had a strong showing this season, led by women's Captains, Nomi Greenman, Charlotte Scott and Amanda LaRose and the men's team Captain Michael Jaffe. For the Girls' team, other strong swimmers are Maggie Barber, Emily Cahn, Kim Jones and Sarah Donatelli. The men's team graduated 12 swimmers last year and used this season as a rebuilding year, with key swimmers Schneider Eliassaint, Liam Zaaijer, Ned Scott and Kern Samuel bringing the team success.

Girls' Basketball

Coach Wright, year after year, produces a competitive, intelligent and challenging team. The young team looked to gain experience from this season. Key players on the team include Janielle Moguel, Iman Nieves, Cherelle Hunter, J.J. Sullivan, Danielle Cooper, Alyssa Scudieri, Jennifer Jackson, Jasmyne Beckford, Morgan Crooks and Amanda Meehan.

Basketball

Boys'

Led by Seniors Darrell Terry, Nnamdi Ike, Romtimi Akinosho, Ryan Bacon, Eric Johnson, Mike Porter and Crandell Chestnutt, this season was the culmination of 4 years of hard work. After playing together since middle school, and working diligently in the off season the Seniors could not have asked for a better conclusion to their long run of success. They exceeded all expectations in the Essex County Tournament after being seeded 6th.

Good Job! We are proud of you.

You've accomplished so much these past years. But this isn't the end- in fact; it's really a whole new beginning. Graduation is the door that opens into adulthood. This is when you begin to make your own decisions. This is your time to try your wings and fly. In the years that come, we pray for things for you:

That you will never underestimate your self or God. Aim high! That you will be happy. God has so many ways he wants to bless you. That you won't allow discouragement or social pressures to stop you. Don't give up! And that you will always keep your focus clear. Know what you want from life and go for it! Love Mom & Dad You have made me so proud. Keep on making me proud. But most important, make yourself proud. Love Daniece Your sister

Congratulations! To Our Son Justin Gregory Franklin

The Measure of Our Success By M.W. Edelman

Remember: Always stand firm. Set goals and work quietly towards them. Be honest. Never give up. Be reliable. Be faithful. Finish what you start. Be confident that you can make a difference. Don't ever stop learning and improving your mind. Be a can-do, will-try person. Choose your friends carefully You are in charge of your own attitude. Listen for the "sound of the genuine" within yourself and others. Always remember: You are never alone. Remember your roots, your history, and the forebears' shoulders on which you stand. You are loved unconditionally.

Love Always, Mom and Dad

You have the gift of giving life to the fullest. Your spirit is unique and contagious. A toy became an action figure because you imagined it. A story was more amusing because you told it. A game was more exciting because you played in it. A party was crazier because you danced at it. Thank you for sharing your gift. You are an extraordinarty son and brother. You are beautiful in every single way, and we love you all the time. Mom, Dad, Jeff and Nick

You were walking up our street on the most perfect autumn day. Your hands were in the pockets of your new favorite dress -Proud - Saying to our neighbors "I'm going to kindergarten."

Not long before- In Arizona

You were five days old, traveling in the back seat of our car your eyes wide open, taking your first true glance at the world. At ease with nature and your new surroundings, you smiled...

Your life can only look toward a bright and successful future. you strive to take new challenges and welcome change with an open mind, a kind heart, and your unique and beautiful soul. You are becoming a beautiful woman. We love you so much and we are so proud of you Sarah. "Let your heart guide your dreams to

Beetsalina,

From the time that you were in the Womb, the church elders said That you were going to be a special Child and you are. Now Black Butterfly as you "prepare to fly" I want You to know "how proud and beautiful you are." Now and then I see or hear something that reminds me that not every daughter is as fine as you and not every parent is as fine as you and not every parent is as lucky as me. I am proud of you and all that you've accomplished. You're a strong, confident, responsible woman with a terrific outlook on life. And I will always be your biggest fan. Love you, Mom

Beets,

You are the songs of my heart... "You are the Sunshine of My Life, That's why I'll always be around." "You're Unforgettable. That's what You are."

"My Sweet Little Brown Eyed Girl." "Your Daddy Loves You." Dad

Dear Matt,

You've come a long way. I knew you could do it. I never doubted you for a moment. The road had been a difficult one, but the best things in life are often worth the struggle. I'm proud of you.

Colleen,

I honestly look at you and can't believe how you have grown into such a beautiful and talented woman. I know we are only two years apart, but I still can't believe you are going to be in college in September. Sisters have an unexplainable connection; I love you so much and that will never change. Thanks for always being there for me. Congratulations.

> Love, Megan

Colleen,

We thought we would simply list some of our favorite things: your barefoot days; your red patent leather shoes days, your only a dress would do days, violin recitals for Oreo, fights with Muffin, Bette White Dance Recitals, picking you up in the little red wagon, Little Ti Moune, softball games at Memorial and De Hart Parks, trips to the raft at Lake George, your tearful first departure to Australia, your second triumphant departure to Australia, every race you have run, and most of all, every day we have spent with you. We are so proud of the beautiful, intelligent, tender, compassionate, and remarkably strong young woman you have become. Congratulations to you and all your friends in the Class of 2006. We wish you all the best in college and beyond. Be good, have fun, and learn a lot.

We would like to thank everyone who made the production of the 2006 Mirror possible!

First, we would like to thank our dedicated yearbook staff for their hard work and input during this entire process. We would especially like to thank the section editors, whose leadership made this book such a success.

Thank you to the photographers from Normandy Studios who provided us with beautiful pictures to fill the pages of our yearbook.

A huge thank you to our advisors, Mrs. Tenenbaum and Ms. Liguori. We could not have done this book without your help, support, and encouragement.

And of course, thank you to Caren Demyen, our Herff Jones representative. Your patience, understanding, and creativity are truly what brought this yearbook together.

Best of luck Class of 2006!
