CHALK

Dr. Lovie Lilly

To the Class of 2011, it has been my pleasure having you as members of the student body Columbia High School for the past four years. As we close out the 2010-2011 school year, may I commend you for the tremendous responsibility you have demonstrated in earning your high school diplomas. This was no simple feat. You worked diligently and the accolade is graduation from this prestigious institution. Your ability to work in leadership roles in a well-organized manner, and your concern for making Columbia High School a better place were obvious to all who worked with you. Do not abandon your dreams, desires, and aspirations. Keep them close to you at all times, and if necessary renew them from time to time. I want to thank you for your invaluable assistance and contributions to the school. The administration would also like to congratulate your parents, guardians, and families, who have contributed so much to who you are and what you have accomplished. I wish you prosperity and happiness during the years to come, and always remember that you are welcome at Columbia High School, your Alma Mater. Congratulations Class of 2011!

LIFE AT CHS

THE LOFT

"The loft is what they call a "stress free zone". It's the equivalent to a after school program for high school... Only better. It has truly become my home away from home."

- Alyse Royal
Class of 2011

A School Based Youth Program, the Loft is provided through Family Connections, Inc. The Loft provides recreation, field trips, employment services, as well as volunteer opportunities. Located on the ground floor of CHS, it is open to any and all students.

A TON OF FUN

This winter, buried cars and sledding kids were not rare sights. Two storms dropped over a foot of snow each. It was the snowiest January on record, with an average of 38.1 inches. Our area also broke the daily snow record when 11 inches fell in a single day. All this meant several snow days and beautiful winter-wonderland scenes.

Other than Our Town I've done many stage plays such as "One Hour to Live" and "Armed and Dangerous." They don't really differ from Our Town because it's a beginning for some people and it's just practice for others. I love them all the same.

MARCHING BAND

A colorguard is traditionally the visual representation of the music. Modern colorguards use flags, sabres, rifles, batons, swing flags, airblades, and a few other pieces of equipment, as well as a mix of ballet, jazz, modern, and contemporary modern dance. The purpose of the colorguard is to interpret the music that the marching band is playing via the synchronized spinning of flags, sabres, rifles, or through dance. It's really hard to get both the music, flagwork and marching to fit together, but we just make it look easy.

WINTER COLOR GUARD

"With every chord, every note, every rhythm, every beat, every vocal the choir touches my soul."

They perform in two major performances, once in the winter and once in the spring against other fine arts groups, as well as going on an end of the year trip to perform one last time as a group.

The boys' basketball team jumped out to a great start this season defeating both East Orange and Seton Hall Prep on the road. High pressure defense and a strong half-court offense led the Cougars to numerous victories. With thirteen seniors, a deep bench, and tough, aggressive play, the team dominated Essex County. The boys ended with an impressive 21-6 record.

To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded.

Ebony,

It really doesn't seem all that long ago that I held you in my arms with happiness when you were first born, looking at your cute little face. During the years I've watched with greatness as you've grown from a child into a woman. It's a journey that I'm honored to have been a part of, a journey that showed me as much about myself as it did about you.

Ebony, it was a Journey!!! You and I have had some fun times together. There has been laughter and tears, joy and sadness, hope and pain, but through it all you have kept moving forward with a smile on your face.

It doesn't seem that long ago that I walked you into the first day of pre-kindergarten, holding your hand, crying not wanting to let you go. Then dashing to work, anxious to get off, to head back to school and pick you up, worrying needlessly about you.

Well, now marks the close of another part of that journey, as you graduate from high school and get ready to start college in the fall, and like all endings it leaves me with mixed emotions. Just as you are both happy and sad that high school is ending, I find myself feeling both happy and sad that my little princess is growing up.

I wish my princess all the success in life and may you reach the highest expectations in all your endeavors. Make learning your highest priority in life, never give up on yourself!!!

I will always love you,
