The origin of our school seal has an extremely unusual background. In 1950, the school held a student competition to make a design for the school ring. After an extremely difficult decision, a design created by Viola Stenger, a freshman at the time, was selected because of its simple, yet classy, style.

At the time, all school rings were oval in shape. Being a school of new trends, we opted for a round ring. Many companies were contacted, all but one said it could not be done. The one enterprising company was the Balfour Company, which processed the rings at a high price because the stones had to be specially made in Belgium. Since the ring was so unique, the administration decided the design should also be used as the school seal.

In the beginning of the 1984-85 school year, Matawan Regional High School faced new challenges. Many changes had taken place during the summer in the administration, in the staff, and even in our "school house." With the evaluation by the Middle States Committee, both the staff and the student body strived to achieve a more productive and harmonious environment for learning.

Upon our return, we were greeted by freshly painted hallways and lockers. The enthusiasm we put into our endeavors for the improvement of our school was returned to us in our many accomplishments throughout the year. We started with a new look and a new school spirit.

The seniors were filled with enthusiasm for the potential which was felt by all. The class of '85 became a great push for the entire school and they contributed greatly toward the improvement of the school and the building of our spirit. The seniors will always feel this spirit in years to come when they think about "the Reg."

This school spirit definitely spread into the ranks of the underclassmen. For the first time in the school's history the Sophomore Class float won first place in the Homecoming Parade. The school spirit was praised highly by the Middle States Evaluating Committee as part of their very positive commendation. From the football team and other talented athletic squads to the highly spirited clubs and organizations in which hundreds of students actively participated to the classes and all the staff, spirit, enthusiasm, and accomplishment lasted throughout the year. We all look forward to next year's Senior Class, underclassmen, and opportunities.

New and Old Faces

The beginning of a new school year gives us the opportunity to see old familiar faces and renew acquaintances. It also presents us with the opportunity to see many new faces for the first time and form new friendships. Catch our spirit!

Halloween

On Halloween, October 31, Matawan Regional High School was visited by ghosts, goblins and other things that go bump in the night. The Yearbook photography staff had to move quickly to capture these apparitions on film. Many students and staff had been caught up in the Halloween spirit and dressed in a variety of costumes and disguises.

Hall Decorating

One night during Spirit Week of fall 1984, representatives of the Cheerleaders, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes worked long after the school day ended, transforming our hallways into a beautiful display of school spirited decorations.

The following morning when we entered the building, we were greeted by maroon and gray streamers, football decorations, posters, signs and balloons.

Each hallway was decorated in a different motif and color scheme. The student's hard work paid off, since our hallways had never looked better.

The Senior hallway won first place and deservedly so! The Seniors did an outstanding job of decorating. As a result of the creative imagination of the Seniors, their hallway was by far a gorgeous school spirited display.

Wow! Look at the Sophomore's float.

Hey,

This year's Homecoming Parade began early in the morning on October 27th, a cold and cloudy Saturday. The parade route commenced at the school district's Central Administration Building on Broad Street, progressed down Main Street through the business district, crossed the lake over the Little Street bridge, and ended at the Regional High School field. It was evident to all onlookers that the many outstanding floats were the result of much effort and hard work by the various school organizations that had constructed them the day or two before. This year the Sophomores Class float won first place honors for the first time in the school's history. The Junior Class float placed second followed by the Senior Class float which took third place.

Trends

During the school year of 1984-85, the hallways of Matawan Regional High School were brought to life with a wild variety of fashions, neon colors, new hair styles and a burst of individual creativity in dress.

Old favorites such as Izod, Ocean Pacific, high top sneakers, Capezios, Levis' denims and cords were still very much in evidence. While other traditional fashion favorites were updated by adding wide leather belts to sweaters, Forenza and Gasoline Jeans, oversized shirts, layered look socks, cut off gloves and head scarves.

Hair styles took on a new dimension with popular cuts such as the shaved look, the bleached tail, the bob and shorter versions of older hair styles.

Colors became more vibrant, with day-glo shades in every color imaginable. The mood in fashion was fun and Matawan's students were definitely in the trends.

Years

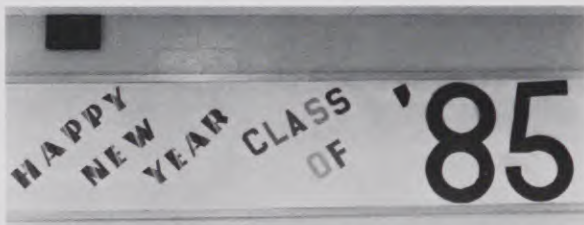

Over these past fifty golden years several generations of players, coaches, and fans have helped establish the respected reputation of Matawan Regional High School athletics.

Greetings from the office!

A message from the Senior class.

Happiness is Christmas vacation!

Christmas

The last day of school before the holiday break was marked by a distinctive air of festivity. Everyone was looking forward to the approaching vacation and to the celebration of Christmas and Hanukkah with family and friends.

Santa Claus (a.k.a Mr. Lukach) made a surprise visit to our school and descended the chimneys of several classrooms. Scores of students resembled Santa's helpers wearing bright red stocking caps on their heads and some with bells on their toes.

It was a time of spirit directed less toward last minute tests and work that had to be handed in and more toward classroom parties and more than a few games of Trivial Pursuit.

I know what I want for Christmas!

Just a small tree

Poof!

Smiles are wide when the holiday season is just around the corner.

Election 1984

1984 — Election Year. And what a year it was! It was a year of much controversy. The first woman candidate for the Vice Presidency and the many questions which plagued her campaign. John Glenn, former astronaut, tried his hand in the presidential arena. He withdrew in March after spending $13 million yet not winning a single primary.

Ronald Reagan was successful in winning the office of the presidency for a second term. The actor turned governor turned president seemed more popular with the American people than had originally been estimated. Both praise and criticism followed Mr. Reagan throughout the year. A memorable incident occurred when he was warming up for a radio broadcast while reporters were present. Reagan tested the microphone with the statement, "my fellow Americans, I'm pleased to tell you today that I've signed legislation that will outlaw Russia forever. We begin bombing in five minutes."

Walter Mondale made big headlines when he decided to have Geraldine Ferraro as his Vice-Presidenttial running mate. The Democratic presidential candidate made his own news although not nearly as much as his running mate. Even though Mondale, while in New York during the campaign, stated, "I can smell victory in the air. We're gonna win!" He undoubtedly smelled something but not victory — maybe a nearby hot dog stand. Nevertheless it was an interesting election year.

"Discovery" Takes Off to Make History

The space shuttle has been making headlines ever since the Columbia first was launched in 1983. Now the shuttle is off making more astronomical history. The crew of "Discovery" became the first to use the ship's mechanical arm to retrieve satellites which are not functioning properly or which have moved off their course. They hauled in the Westar VI and the Palapa — B2 along with about $70 million of reusable "space junk." Astronauts Dale Gradi, 36 and Joseph Allen, 47, were some of the crew which took part in this mission. It is hoped that they can continue to use the arm and hopes are high for the future of the shuttle.

"Lemme Tell Ya"

In 1984 America saw many firsts. One of the most outstanding was the rise of Geraldine Ferraro. At 49, she was chosen as the first woman to run for national office on a major party ticket.

When Walter Mondale first announced that Ms. Ferraro would be his running mate they began to make headlines everyday. The nation was overcome with the excitement of the first woman Vice-President possibility.

Shortly after her nomination Ferraro was attacked relentlessly by the media. They questioned her husband, John Zaccaro, regarding his tax returns and real estate deals; her experience qualifications for national office; and she was opposed by the Catholic Church and several right-to-life groups because of her position on abortion.

Ms. Ferraro did not win the Vice Presidency but she did win a battle for women. Although the war is not won, we will see more of Geraldine Ferraro.

John Delorean

John Delorean was once known for his cars but he surfaced in the national headlines with some big news. Delorean was allegedly caught dealing cocaine in an effort to bail out his failing automobile company. Mr. Delorean plead innocent, stood trial and was acquitted as the government's case against him did not hold up in the courtroom. After the results of the trial subsided, his wife, Christina, sued him for divorce and for custody of their adopted son and their daughter. Delorean was back into the courtroom and back into the headlines of 1984.

Baby Fae

At two weeks of age a tiny baby made medical history this year. Little Baby Fae was given a baboon's heart to replace her own. The heart kept Baby Fae alive for twenty days, longer than any other human recipient of a heart transplant from another species.

Doctors are speculating that similar transplants will be made. The future is uncertain but the world watched her as she fought for her life. And the world mourned her death and will never forget her struggle.

Medical Breakthrough

Another medical breakthrough this year was that of William Schroeder, who, at 52, was the second human to receive an artificial heart. The retired munitions inspector from Jasper, Indiana was doing well as 1985 began.

India's Tragic Loss

1984 witnessed many tragedies. One of the saddest was the assassination of India's prime minister Indira Gandhi. She was 66 years old when she was struck down by an assassin. Her son Rajiv Gandhi, 40, has been named her successor.

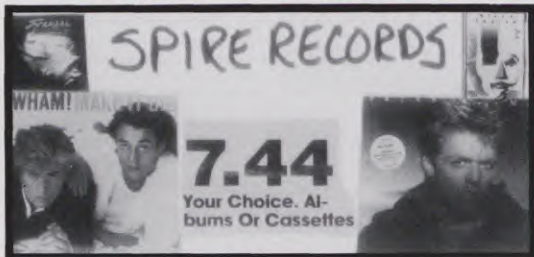

The Olympics

Going for the Gold

The United States collected 83 gold medals at the Los Angeles Olympics. The person behind the Olympics was 47 year old Peter Ueberroth, President of the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee. He devoted five years to the task and turned a potential disaster into a $150 million success.

Man of the Year

It was a commercial "head-hunting" firm that suggested Peter Ueberroth's name to the Los Angeles committee that was searching for a person to run the Games. Ueberroth nearly declined but after being approached a second time he accepted. He subsequently organized one of the most spectacular events ever, and he has received a roaring ovation from the millions who attended or viewed the spectacle.

Statue of Liberty Gets Renovated

At 98 years old the lady has witnessed many thousands come and go. This nation was not about to let her fall into ruin. This year, coordinated by Chrysler head Lee Iacocca, donations were sought for the restoration of the Statue of Liberty. At a cost of $30 million the lady will not appear from her shrouds until July 4, 1986, when all the scaffolding will be taken away presenting a newly refurbished Lady.

Miss America Can Just Resign

At the 1984 Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City Vanessa Williams became the first black Miss America in its history. Her reign was short-lived however when Ms. Williams past decided to catch up with her. Penthouse Magazine published photographs that turned her life around. She was forced to relinquish her title. The former Miss America claims that it will be a difficult future for her and she realizes she will have to live with the situation. She looks forward to better things for her future.

McDonald's Tragedy

At 4 p.m. on July 18, 1984 in San Ysidra, California all seemed well until an unemployed security guard named James Huberty entered the local McDonald's restaurant. One hour and a half later nineteen people lay wounded and twenty-one would die. Huberty did not live through the insane event for he was killed by a SWAT sharpshooter. The oldest killed was 74 and the youngest was eight months old. This was the worst one-man massacre in U.S. history and America sadly mourned for the victims of the tragedy.

"Where's the Beef?"

Clara Peller has started one of the most popular phrase crazes. She has ridden the wave of success created by a single line. Her "Where's the Beef?" Wendy's commercials started what became a nationwide obsession. It prompted many similar commercials and much, much media overplay. For the aging Clara, she couldn't enjoy it more when someone asks her, "Please say it, at least once!"

Summer Gold Winners

Carl Lewis won four Olympic gold medals, rivaling Jesse Owen's similar record from years back. Steven Lundquist, 23, won a gold medal for breaststroke swimming while making it into the record books. Synchronized swimming became very popular with viewers of the Summer Olympics. Candy Costie and Tracie Ruiz won the gold in this event. The partners for over twelve years have subsequently retired.

Other Olympic newsmakers were acrobatic competitor Michael Jordan, Valerie Brisco-Hooks, slalom medalist Debbie Armstrong, 100 meter medalist Evelyn Ashford, and Gymnastic medalists Mitch Gaylord, Tim Daggett, Scott Johnson, and Bart Connor.

A New Dance Hits the Streets

Breaking, a cross between jazz, tap, gymnastics, and the martial arts was the top craze of this year. Nearly everyone was spinning, popping, and moon walking everywhere. It started on the streets and grew in popularity. It prompted many movies and has become a quiet a hobby. Where would Michael Jackson be without the moon walk? Breaking definitely set America's youth onto a new beat.

She's Got the Spirit

Mary Lou captures the Olympic spirit like no other. At 16 and only 4'9" tall her personality beamed throughout the many interviews as the Gold Medal winner fascinated millions. She became the golden girl of 1984 having scored a perfect "10" twice during her competition — a feat rarely ever equaled. Her ear-to-ear smile even graced the cover of breakfast Wheaties but she claimed she is the same Mary Lou despite all the fuss.

A Collision into Controversy

Mary Decker lay there, her face contorted from pain and rage. She was leading in the 3000 meters when South African Zola Budd, running for Great Britain, passed very closely on the outside. Mary tripped and fell with an agony that was more than physical. Mary recuperated whilst Zola suffered abuse from fans and media. Mary asserts she has no hard feelings but many of her fans have unfortunately been less understanding.

Crisis in Ethiopia

One of the most unfortunate items of news for 1984 and 1985 was the crisis in Ethiopia. Many have tried to help but it hasn't been enough. Famine has spread throughout Ethiopia. One quite significant attempt to provide relief was the formation of Band-Aid, the brainchild of Bob Geldof (of Boomtown Rats). He organized about 37 rock artists for a one time only recording session to record a song written especially about the Ethiopia crisis; "Let Them Know its Christmas." All profits from the recording will go to the Feed the World Fund to help the people of Ethiopia. The effort helped to break down some stereotypes associated with rock artists.

Androgyny in the '80's

After more than a year wondering whether real men eat quiche along comes those confusing gender benders who leave everyone wondering whose eating the quiche in their family.

Boy George, Marilyn, Annie Lennox, Grace Jones, and Prince are just a few who can be cited in this "is it a boy or a girl" mystery game that rock 'n' roll seems to be playing

Prince's Purple Reign

Along with a hit tour, Prince started his takeover in 1984 with his movie "Purple Rain". The movie was said to be an autobiography of his life. It brought many fans and nonfans into the movie theaters, despite the critical attack. The movie also launched the careers of Apollonia, Jerome Benton, and the Time. An elaborate show filled with

The Women Who Rocked '84

Many women musical performers were truly outstanding in 1984. Pat Benatar came out with "Tropico" and single hits "We Belong" and the "Oo Oo Song". Bananarama hit it big in the U.S. with "Cruel Summer". Cindy Lauper was the loveable misfit of the year with her outlandish clothes and makeup and hair, and of course her Betty Boop voice. She had several hits such as "Girls Just Want to Have Fun", "Time After Time", and "She-bop" from her

The Queen of Soul

Tina Turner has got to be one of the Rock 'n' Roll survivors. At 46 she is one of the most lively singers ever seen. "Private Dancer" was her first solo attempt in eight years. In 1976 she left her husband Ike Turner to try her luck and life on a solo basis. It took awhile, but finally in '84 her Album produced many hits such as "What's Love Got to Do with It" and "Better Be Good to Me". The queen of soul in the sixties has come to reclaim her title.

these days. It wasn't always as obvious as with Boy George or Annie Lennox. Many in Rock used make-up on and off stage. While some were extreme such as Motley Crue and Twisted Sister others were more subtle like Nick Rhodes of Duran Duran.

Milton Berle never guessed that what he was doing years ago in comedy would become a large part of the Rock scene in the '80's. When David Bowie first stepped on stage as Ziggy Stardust a new trend was just beginning.

The Boy

George Alan O'Dowd, a.k.a. Boy George made his lifestyle part of his career. Boy George had always for many years lived a life of changing from one outrageous style to another. He cashed in on his androgynous look along with his band, Culture Club.

The group's album, "Waking Up With the House on Fire" produced the politically-oriented hit "The War Song." In 1984 George has gone from bleached blonde, to curly red, to straight black hair all in the matter of a few weeks. We're sure to see more of the Boy in the future.

sounds and motions had thousands of Prince fans flocking to the stadiums and arenas. Guitarist Wendy replaced Del Dickinson who went on to pursue a solo career. At 25 Prince, born Prince Rogers Nelson, has become the star to watch in the '80's and critics predict that his reign will last for a long time to come.

"She's So Unusual" album. Chaka Khan came out with "Feel for You", and she has been popular since her early days with Rufus. Annie Lennox became popular in the Eurhythms with David Aileen-Stuart and their album "1984". Madonna became our lady of dance in '84 with her sexy voice and her hit songs "Like a Virgin" and "Borderline". She became the goddess of the '80's with the fabulous videos and the most famous bellybutton.

The Big Name Tours

There were many blockbuster rock tours this year. The Jacksons, Springsteen, Prince, Talking Heads, Cindy Lauper, Duran Duran, Van Halen, and many more. 1984 was definitely the year of the big name tours.

"The Boss"

New Jersey's own Bruce Springsteen hit the scene with an overwhelming grand scale tour. "The Boss" challenged even Prince and the Jacksons in the setting of attendance records at his concerts as well as in the critical acclaim. The usually over four hour show was chocked full of dancing and hand clapping as Bruce and his audience responded to each other.

Bruce has become the symbol of American youth and was sought after by both presidential nominees during the election but he refused to take sides in the campaign. His "Born in the U.S.A." album has sold over five million copies. His seventh album (two of which have gone platinum) "Dancing in the Dark" became enormously popular. Springsteen has already become a true American legend.

The "Tiger Tour"

Duran Duran held one of the most talked about concerts of the year with nearly every date sold out and with two Madison Square Garden dates (both selling out). Duran made headlines. They also suffered under critical reaction which could not explain Duran's popularity. While everyone tries to assert that Duran's fans are teenyboppers, the many fans 18 and over wonder how they are not noticed or confused with 13 years olds. Let's hope the group continues to build its widespread following.

Talking Heads "Stop Making Sense"

The Talking Heads have been around for quite some time now. They have recorded such favorites as "Life during Wartime" and "Take Me to the River". Their most recent album "Speaking in Tongues" produced single hits such as "Burning Down the House". They decided to make a movie illustrating the high points of their tour. "Stop Making Sense" was the most critically acclaimed rock movie in history.

The concert was a feast for the senses. David Byrne's movements, dress, and the lighting design kept all eyes and ears very busy. The group performed songs old and new with a flair exclusive to the Talking Heads.

The Thrill of Victory

Michael Jackson has become the frenzy of the year. He has also become one of the most commercialized artists of our time. Since the success of the "Thriller" album and his videos, the world, young and old alike, has fallen in love with Michael and his sequins. Jackets, gloves, socks, and even a doll have become very popular Michael Jackson merchandise of the year.

Michael got together with his brothers Tito, Marlon, Gernaine, Randy, and Jackie to go on tour. "Victory" the Jackson reunion album was also very popular with hits like "Torture" and "Body". The tour has set world records and it has been said that it was the most expensive tour every put together. It will definitely be the talk of the town for years to come.

Jump in and Dance in '84

With the overwhelming success of breakdancing, dance music became very popular again in 1984. Ollie and Jerry even had a hit with the title song to the movie "Breakin'", "No Stopping Us". Madonna hit with her slightly less than subtle sexual appeal. Michael Jackson, Stevie Wonder, Billy Ocean, New Edition, Chaka Khan, and the Pointer Sisters were all attuned to the dance fever.

Van Halen in "1984"

Van Halen was and has been one of the most popular bands. They hit it big with their album "1984". "Jump", "Panama", and "Hot for Teacher" were some of the hits off this album. David Lee Roth has come out with a solo album and he has released a single "California Girls" an old Beach Boy hit.

"Metal" Mania

This year many heavy metal bands gained popularity. Twisted Sister, Ratt, Hanoi Rock, Bonjovi, Night Ranger, Y and T, Quiet Riot, Motley Crue and many others. And of course there were the old favorites like Van Halen, Judas Priest, Iron Maiden, and Ozzy Osborne.

The top songs from this group were "We're Not Gonna Take It" and "I Want to Rock" by Twisted Sister, "Round and Round" by Ratt, "Party All Night" by Quiet Riot and "To Young to Fall in Love" by Motley Crue.

Pep Rally

Our pep rallies during the fall football season of 1984 were sparked by a renewal of school spirit. The Huskies were having a winning season and along with the cheerleaders, band and color guard the entire student body and staff proudly showed their enthusiasm and support. A feeling of unity and pride was obvious as the students and team "pepped" up for each game. Memories of this year's spirit included attempts by the student body and rally participants to cheer on the team via a continuous "wave" circling the gymnasium bleachers.

I thought you started? No, I thought you started ...?

Friends so fine.

Where did everybody go?

Crimes of the Heart

This year's excellent fall drama presentation was "Crimes of the Heart" which was performed on three consecutive evenings in November. Presented by the Drama Department the play consisted of a series of flashbacks used to illustrate the problems in the lives of three sisters who, after many years, are brought together by the illness of their grandfather.

Ms. Margo Crupi, Drama teacher, directed, and the cast included:

Stacy Nadell	as	Meg McGrath
Eileen McCoy	as	Lennie Mc Grath
Phyllis Rossi	as	Babe Botrell
MaryAnn Grena	as	Chick Boyle
John Doby	as	Doc
Steven Stanger	as	Barnett Lloyd

Ski Trip

Ski much, Steve?

Rich, a little pigeon-toed?

Gary and Jon enjoy the ski lift.

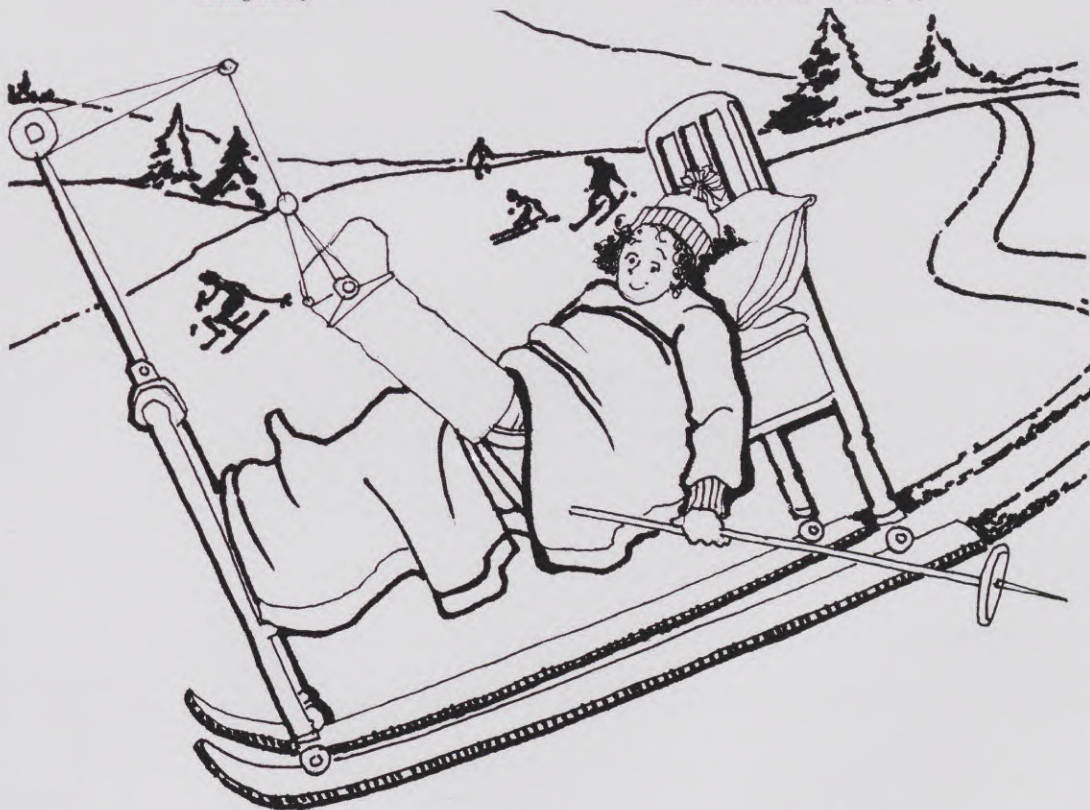

A confused Jon Knapp.

The school ski trip to Killington, Vermont in January was an unparalleled success. All who ventured to ski country had a terrific time even though the conditions were less than ideal due to icy slopes. The lodging was cozy and comfortable with appetizing food and enjoyable recreational activities such as indoor swimming, ping pong and video games. The last day of the trip proved to be the best because skiers were able to explore a greater number of trails thanks to snowmaking. A large contingent of sophomores along with some freshmen, juniors, and a few seniors attended the trip with chaperones Mr. Nesnay, Mrs. Guadadiello, and Mrs. Jacolow.

Taking it easy.

Hang in there, Donna.

The brass section's dazzling horn pop during "Rhapsody In Blue".

The Matawan Marching Huskies completed a very successful and busy season this year, performing at football games, parades and competitions. They spent countless hours, beginning in August, learning and perfecting their show. The band's repertoire included "Rhapsody in Blue", "All Night Long", "Malaguena" and "We Are The Reason", featuring trumpet solos by Gordon Hecht and mellophone solos by Chris Reilly and Janet DiBlasi. The Marching Huskies participated in several different competitions this year, winning various awards. Accomplishments in 1984 included Second Place at Lakewood, Edison, and Governor Livingston High Schools, and a performance at Princeton University. The Marching Huskies also placed second in Chapter X Championships, with a score of 77.10, and within the top twenty bands in their division in the 1984 Tournament of Bands Atlantic Coast Championships, bringing the year to a spectacular close.

Coach Martucci's predictions before the football season began were for the team to win the A North Championship and make the State Playoffs. The Huskies did both with explosive fashion. Ranked eighth in the Shore at the start of the year, the Huskies made their move quickly. The 49-14 win over TR South was the beginning of something big in Huskietown, U.S.A. Over the next two weeks Matawan rolled over Freehold Township and beat a tough team at Neptune. These wins enabled Matawan to move up to #2 in the Shore and set up the big showdown against Middletown North. The Huskies defeated Middletown North with strong passing and running attacks and with a swarming defense. This win broke North's 34 game winning streak against Shore teams and catapulted the Huskies to #1 in the Shore.

Matawan easily held on to their #1 ranking with subsequent victories over Brick Memorial, Marlboro, and Middletown South. Another big game in Matawan's season was the game against Manalapan on one chilly Friday evening which was to determine sole possession of the A North Championship. Matawan was down 16-14 in the fourth quarter and deep in their own territory but with clutch running by Geoff Sasso, Terry Underwood, and Rich Gluck and great blocking by the offensive line, Matawan drove down for the game-winning touchdown and the A North Championship. In the annual Thanksgiving Day game, Matawan embarrassed archrival Raritan High 40-14.

In the playoffs, the Huskies broke Wall Township's 33 game winning streak by defeating them 20-14. The running game and defense made the difference in this game. Across the state attention was given to the team's final game of the year in which Matawan faced high-powered Franklin in one of the best games in high school football in recent years. Matawan's season was looking perfect after three quarters with the 28-19 lead, but Franklin shattered the perfect record with three touchdowns in the final minutes. This loss could not diminish the superb season for the Huskies however. Coach Martucci's goals were accomplished with the great efforts from the entire team and coaching staff. The Huskies ended the 1984 season as #4 in New Jersey and #1 in the Shore.

Terry Underwood made All-State honors, Bruno Ciaglia made All Group 3, Geoff Sasso and Fedel Underwood made Second Team Group 3, Terry Underwood, Sasso, and Bruno Ciaglia made All Shore, Joe Ciaglia, Fedel Underwood and Steve Russell made Third Team All Shore. Mike Jones, Sean Mullaney, Dean Burlew, Kevin Knight, and Rich Gluck were also cited as All Conference selections. Congratulations to all for the thrilling season.

Soccer

The 1984-85 Varsity Soccer team finished the season at 3-14-2 in the very competitive "A" North Division of the Shore Conference. The team showed great improvement, losing six games by a goal and another three games by two goals. The squad was led by seniors Kyoung Pak, Bill Sherman, Adam Weinstock and juniors Barry Axelrad and Greg Hoover.

Wrestling

The wrestling team faced this year's season with very young and inexperienced participants, with Joe Wright and Dave DeWitt as the only seniors. But in spite of hardships, they kept on fighting. They are looking forward to next year and the return of this year's wrestlers, hoping to establish a strong and solid team. They finished this year's season with a great emotional victory over the tough team of Ocean Township. Under the experienced leadership of Dan Mooney, Brian Long, Mario Barakat, and Andy Malinconico, they hope to come alive next year in the 1985-1986 season.

Winter Track

The winter track program had its second consecutive successful season this year. Greg Rice consistently won medals in the 400 meter and 55 meter dashes. Other outstanding performances included Monica Holtzhauer in the high jump and the relay team of Greg Rice, Charles Anderson, Rusty Neal, and William Neal. Everyone who participated in the winter track program improved their times from last season.

Remembering . . . Mr. Patrick Maggio

The students, faculty, and administration were saddened this past December by the sudden death of Mr. Patrick Maggio. Mr. Maggio was employed by the Matawan Regional School District for twenty-three years as a history teacher, supervisor of vocational education, Assistant Vice Principal, and Vice Principal.

Mr. Maggio's influence helped to shape the lives and careers of many at M.R.H.S. His guidance, leadership, and genuine concern for all earned him the respect and admiration of both the staff and all the students. As a result, the graduating class of 1968 dedicated their yearbook to him. In the dedication they wrote, "We appreciate your unselfishness and in an attempt to show our gratitude will continue to strive for excellence no matter what the job."

Mr. Maggio's enthusiasm for life was passed on to us. His love of life, family, country, and learning were important qualities of his character. He was dedicated and devoted to his job and set an example for us to follow. Mr. Pat Maggio will be deeply missed by us all.
