A MIDWINTER ONE.

Oh for a lodge in a garden of cucumbers!
Oh for an iceberg or two at control!
Oh for a vale which at midday the dew cumbered!
Oh for a pleasure trip up to the Pole!
Oh for a little one-story thermometer,
With nothing but Zeroes all ranged in a row!
Oh for a big, double-barreled hygrometer,
To measure this moisture that rolls from my brow!
Oh that this cold world were twenty times colder!
(That's irony red hot it seems to me.)
Oh for a turn of its dreaded cold shoulder!
Oh what a comfort an ague would be!
Oh for a grotto to typify heaven,
Scoped in a rock, under catarract vast!
Oh for a winter of discontent event!
Oh for wet blankets judiciously cast!
Oh for a soda-fountain spouting up boldly
From every hot lamp-post against the hot sky!
Oh for proud maiden to look on me coldly,
Freezing my soul with a glance of her eye!
Then oh for a draught from a cup of 'cold pleasur'
And oh for a resting place in the cold grave!
With a bath in the Styx, where the thick shadow lies on,
And does pour the chill of its dark running wave!

Exciting Encounter with a Horse.

One of the most exciting scenes and terrific encounters that it has ever been our privilege to record, occurred at the ford near Loutra Lick last week. The facts we received from an eye witness are these. On last Saturday evening Mr. Thomas Moore and a gentleman by the name of Thompson, residing in lower Loutra township, were returning home from Dunville, and stopped there to water their horses. Mr. Moore was riding a very fractious mustang pony. He then started into the water with her, and when he had ridden in to where the water was deep enough to swim her, the pony commenced rearing and plunging, and finally succeeded in throwing Mr. Moore. In the fall Mr. Moore received an ugly wound on his right ankle and foot from a stroke of the forefoot of the pony, which somewhat disabled him for awhile. The pony reared up with her fore-feet entirely out of water, made a dart at Moore which would have ended the fight then and there had not Moore, quick as thought, darted under her body, come out in his rear and made for the shore as fast as his arms and legs could carry him. The pony saw him, and with the blood running from her nostrils, in her fury and excitement, and the devil in her eyes, she wheeled and made another plunge at him, which was avoided by Moore diving under the water, swimming some distance under water. This time Moore reached the bank in safety, but had no time to allow the grass grow under his feet. The pony was after him immediately, and an exciting race took place on the bank for the distance of about fifty yards, when Moore was compelled to take to the water again to save his bacon. He seized a stout club and jumped off the bank into the deep water, the pony following. He swam rapidly to a log lying about midway in the creek, and mounting it he gave the pony a severe blow as she came up in hot pursuit. This seemed to cool her excited feelings, and she started for the shore. Now the parson became the pursuer, and Moore, soon overtaking the pony, mounted, and after administering several severe blows on the head of the pony with his club, succeeded in conquering her. Moore says his pony may go dirty hereafter, he does not intend to wash her again by a swimming.—Montgomery (Mo.) Standard.

A story has been told of a graceless scamp who gained access of the Clarendon printing office, Oxford, when the forms of the Episcopal Prayer Book had just been made up and were ready for the press. In that part of the form containing the marriage service he substituted the letter k for the letter v in the word live; and thus the vow "to love, honor comfort, &c. so long as ye both live, was made to read "so long as ye both shall like!" The change was not discovered until the whole of the edition was printed off. If the sheets thus rendered useless in England be still preserved, it would be a good speculation to have them neatly bound and forwarded to Ludlow and Connecticut.—World.

A countryman in a Detroit factory let the engineer a dollar that he could seize the fly-wheel and hold it. He seized it, and was picked up on a pile of bricks outside the building, with a window sash for a neck-tie.

A teacher, wishing to explain to a little girl the manner in which a lobster casts its shell when it has outgrown it, said, "What do you do when you have outgrown your clothes? You throw them aside, don't you?" "Oh no," replied the little one, "we let out the tanks."

"Well, my young gentleman, and how would you like your hair cut?" "Oh like papa's, please—with a little round hole at the top."

A boy's idea of having a tooth drawn may be summed up as follows: "The doctor hitched fast on me, pulled his boat, and just before it killed me the tooth came out."

A Richmond wag sent an extract from the Song of Solomon to a city paper, as original. The editor published it as a "fair specimen of the trash daily consigned to the waste basket."

Literal Answers.

A lady noticed a boy spruikling salt on the sidewalk to take off the ice, and remarked to a friend, pointing to the salt:

"Now that's benevolence."

"No it ain't," said the boy somewhat indignant, "it's salt."

So when a lady asked her servant girl if the hired man cleaned off the snow with a scurity, she replied:

"No ma'am, he used the shovel."

The same literal turn of mind which we have been illustrating is sometimes used intentionally and perhaps a little malleously, and thus becomes the property of wit instead of blunder. Thus we hear of a very polite and impressive gentleman who said to a youth in the street:

"Boy, may I inquire where Robinson's drug store is?"

"Certainly sir," replied the boy, very respectfully.

"Well, sir," said the gentleman, after waiting awhile, "where is it?"

"I have not the least idea, yer honor," said the urchin.

There was another boy who was accosted by an ascetic middle-aged lady with:

"Well, ma'am," said the boy, "why don't you go, then?"

One day, at lake George, a party of gentlemen strolling among the beautiful islands on the lake, with bad luck, caught a little fellow with a red shirt and a straw hat, dangling a line over the side of a boat.

"Holloo, boy," said one of them, "what are you doing?"

"Fishing," came the answer.

"Well, of course," said the gentleman, "but what do you catch?"

"Fish, you fool; what do you expect?"

"Did any of you ever see an elephant's skin?" inquired the teacher of an infant class.

"I have," exclaimed one.

"Where?" asked the teacher.

"On the elephant," said the boy, laughing. Sometimes this sort of wit degenerates or rises, as when Flora pointed pensively to the heavy masses of clouds in the sky, saying:

"I wonder where those clouds are going?" and her brother replied,

"I think they are going to thunder."

Also the following dialogue.

"Halloo, there! how do you sell your wool?"

"By the cord."

"How long has it been out?"

"Four feet."

"I mean how long has it been since you cut it?"

"No longer than it is now."

And also when Patrick O'Flynn was seen with his collar and bosom sadly begrimed, and indignantly asked by his officer: "Patrick O'Flynn! how long do you wear a shirt?"

"Twenty-eight inches sir."

This reminds one of an instance which is said to have occurred recently in Chatham street, New York, where a countryman was clamorously besieged by a sheep-dog.

"Have you any faoolirts?" said the countryman.

"A splendid assortment. Stop in, sir. Every price and every style. The cheapest in the market, sir."

"Are they clean?"

"To be sure, sir."

"Then," said the countryman, with gravity, "you had better put an oar, for you need it."

Obituary.—There is a woman in the town of Harmony, Chautauque County, who has not spoken to her husband in twenty-one years. In the year 1849, her husband contradicted her harshly in the presence of company, and she threatened that if he didn't behave better toward her she never would speak to him again. He retorted that he wished she wouldn't; and she has not since then spoken to him. They have continued to live together peacefully, and during the long absence have had several children. Everything goes on at their house as usual with farmers. The husband is attentive, and does his conversing with his wife through one of his children. For instance, "Will your mother have some meat?" Or, at another time, "Is your mother going to town with me to-day?" The family is wealthy, and belong to the better class of Chautauque farmers and respectable citizens.—Janestown Journal.

At a printers' festival, the following toast was given:

"The Editor and the lawyer—the 'devil' is satisfied with the copy of the former, but requires the original of the latter."

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mr. P. L. Cortlyon has commenced his new house, at the upper part of Malawan, near Mount Pleasant. We expect to see something good. The cost is to be between seven and eight thousand dollars. Mr. Chas. Lick is the builder.

Mr. Wm. S. Conover, brother to ex-sheriff Sam'l. Conover, residing near West Freehold, died very suddenly on Wednesday, 20th. inst., from eating cucumbers and then drinking somewhat of milk.

The potato worm is ravaging and laying waste our potato and tomato fields. We rode out in the country yesterday for miles and each a devastating work we have never before seen.

A single vine, from the farm of Mr. John Bohanon, near Marlboro, had on it over thirty of these agents of destruction, and this was but a sample of the thousands that were at work in the same fields and the fields of the farmers all around. The late crops of potatoes within a circuit of ten or twelve miles around Marlboro, will be a complete failure. At Malawan, the worms were so thick in the road, crossing from field to field, that the wheels of the carriage would become fairly greened in crushing them.

The size of this destroyer is about three inches long and three-eighths of an inch through the body and its color is green. Now many thousands of dollars has been lost to our county during the past week it is impossible to estimate.

It is with sincere regret that we are compelled to record the death of one of our most prominent citizens. Dr. A. B. Dayton has lived in our town for a long term of years, and during the practice of his profession has gained the confidence and esteem of a large circle of families.

On Monday evening he complained of not feeling very well, and during the night, was taken with cramps. He grew rapidly worse, and by six o'clock Monday evening, did not recognize any of his family.

From this time he gradually sank away, until, at four o'clock, Tuesday morning, about thirty hours from the time he was taken, he was a corpse.

Doctor D. was held in very high esteem by the community, and, personally during two years of intimacy with him as a student, we ever found him the same agreeable and gentlemanly teacher and friend.

His loss will be deeply felt in this section, as he was the oldest physician within a compass of over seven miles, and was of especial value when consultations were deemed necessary, in consequence of the experience obtained from long and extensive practice.

We would ask the town committee if the sides of the hill, on the road leading from opposite the M. E. Church to Morristown, this side the bridge, are not rather dangerous, and if any damage were done to horses or wagons, from an upset, if the parties so damaged could not recover from the township?

The Camp Meeting at Ocean Grove, six miles below Long Branch, will commence on the 26th. inst. Tents are provided for rent and furniture may be bought or rented.

A Meth. E. State Convention, for the entire State of New Jersey, will be held at Trenton sometime between the 20th. of September and the last of October. Each church in the state is expected to send one delegate.

Two ladies narrowly escaped drowning in the North Branch of Tom's River, a few days since.

The store of Mr. Barilla Hendrickson, at Red Bank, came very near being consumed by fire on the evening of Saturday, 20th. inst. The Clerk was drawing kerosene Oil and the candle, which he had in his hand, fell from the holder, igniting it, and for a while causing great fears for the destruction of the store. It was extinguished, however, before much damage was done.

Long Branch is quite full, and very lively.

The editor of the Long Branch News has gone to rusticate and luxuriate among the Adirondack mountains for his health.

We have received the Tolland Co Journal, of Rockville, Conn., from our friend, Martin T. Bissell, and extract from it the following local:

"Of the hundreds who went from Rockville to Vernon Depot on the Fourth, to see Gen. Grant, but a single individual had the pleasure of a formal introduction, and he one of the staunchest Democrats in town! We allude to Lathrop Bissell, Esq."

Mr. Bissell is a brother to our townsman, M. Bissell, esq.

RAILROAD MEETING.
ELECTION OF DIRECTORS FOR THE MON. CO. R. R. CO.

Pursuant to the call, the commissioners and stockholders of the above road met at Griggs Hotel, Marlboro, on Wednesday afternoon, 20th. inst. At 3, o'clock the commissioners organized and announced that they were prepared to receive the ten per cent installment on the shares, as required by the charter. The names of stockholders were called by Hon. Chas. Haight, of Freehold, and prompt responses were given in the tangible form of checks.

After the entire list was called, it was found that, in consequence of an absence of some of ten share-holders the required amount of $150,000 fell short $17,000.

A short discussion followed as to what should be done in consideration of this deficiency. It was impossible to elect directors until this amount was raised, and things appeared to be at a stand still. It was stated that if the commissioners were confident the balance would be paid in by the absent stockholders, and if they were willing to assume that balance, they might proceed with the election. Mr. Alfred Walling, replied that he, as one of that body, was willing to accept this proposition, and the board concurred. A check was then drawn by Capt. C. D. Emson, one of the board, and endorsed by the other members.

Everything was now ready, and a motion was made by Amal McLean esq; of Freehold that Baritan have three directors, Freehold, three; Marlboro, one; Malawan, one; and New York one; and that each section form themselves in a group outside and make their nominations, carried. It was then moved that after a recess of fifteen minutes the meeting be re-organized as a STOCKHOLDERS MEETING, at the School Room nearly opposite, it being a more commodious place.

The nominations by the sections being made, the Stockholder's meeting was called to order by nominating T. H. Arrowsmith esq; of Freehold, chairman and Judge C. H. Conover, Secretary. The chair appointed Amzi McLean, esq; of Freehold; Alfred Walling esq; of Baritan, and T. V. Dabols, of Marlboro, as Tellers, to receive the vote. The nominations were then called for, and the sections reported as follows: Baritan.—T. S. R. Brown, J. Hoff, C. D. Emson; Malawan.—D. H. Wyckoff; New York.—Edward Ellsworth; Marlboro could not agree, and presented three names, D. P. Van Horn, L. F. Conover and D. H. Hubals.

Freehold could not agree and presented seven names, J. B. Rue, Horatio, Ely, J. H. Bessell, Wm. H. Conover, Saml Conover, T. V. Arrowsmith and J. S. Denice. Mr. Denice withdrew leaving six in Freehold.

A number of proxies were presented and accepted by the meeting, from gentlemen who could not be present.

A considerable bustle now occurred in the preparation and distributing of tickets which lasted but a few minutes, and it was then moved that each name be called in rotation and the proxies be presented when the name be called instead of all together.

Mr. McLean announced that the tellers were ready to receive votes and commenced calling.

We give the result as follows: Baritan.—C. D. Emson, T. S. R. Brown, J. Hoff; New York.—Edward Ellsworth; Malawan.—David H. Wyckoff; Marlboro.—Dan'l. P. Van Dora; Freehold.—Thos. V. Arrowsmith, Wm. H. Conover, Horatio Ely.

The directors appointed to meet at Kibbee's Hotel, Keyport, 2 p. m. to organize and select officers.

The Meeting was a very unanimous and enthusiastic one, and the prospects for this road now amount to a certainty.

We heard on Thursday, through a letter received by a gentleman in our town from Red Bank, that $60,000 has now been subscribed in that place, for the N. Y. & Long Branch R. R., with good prospect for more.

Dear editor. I take it you had to inform you glowing ones. The South of July has his own, an unparalelled heat has his eyes cast up to a blue sky. Two intervals about you to hand in...

Well, enough about Scrabbletown, for faith of July can bear to eat his trans—and—send—send—there, too dark on that ward, and last finish...

AMERIKAY UP HED! INGLAND NO WHAM! SHOE FLY DOANT HODDER NEE. GRATE GRAYSHUN In Front of the Meeting house, by JERMS SCHABHEL, ESQ.

Hereditary baldness is supposed to be incurable. All that can be done where it begins to show itself is to put off the evil day by the judicious use of some stimulating or cooling preparation that shall create new follicles in the glands or follicles, usually called roots, and thus tighten the hair that would otherwise become loose and fall off.

Yours till necked time. JERMS.

Surgens have been trying their hand at Long Branch; but have not as yet met with much success. The store of Messrs Hulse & Clayton, Freehold, was robbed on Sunday night, 2d. inst., about midnight, of a lot of jewelry. Loss about $150.

In the course of nature we are born. We live through our allotted years, and death, as a third act, closes the drama. Concerning the first stage of vitality, we are impulsive actors; as regards the second, or probationary, we live, move and have our being, under the guidance and overruling of an all-potent and dominant fate.

On Monday, July 17th, at the residence of the bride's father, in Middlesex Co., by Rev. R. B. Sutcliffe, Mr. GEORGE W. HOPKINS to Mrs. MARY C. BROWN, both of Middlesex Co.

At his residence in Matawan, on the morning of the 19th. inst., after a short illness, Dr. A. B. Dayton, aged 57 years.

lance of mortal man to pry into the hidden mysteries of futurity, and attempt to see the secret working of the great Creator, which was never vouchsafed to finite understanding; but it behooves us, on the contrary, to "as live that when our summons comes to join the innumerable caravan,..... we go not like the quarry slave, accoraged to his dangers, but retained and method by an unflinching trust." This can be done, in a great measure, by emulating the example of good men, who have lived before us and have now passed away, but the memory of whose unimpeachable life and the glory of whose noble and self-sacrificing deeds, will never fade so long as reason holds her sway in the minds of those who cherish it.

The recent loss in our community of such a character as this, it becomes our solemn duty to notice. Among the innumerable stars of heaven, thousands of the lesser lights go out forever, unnoticed by the world, or annotated by the astronomer; but when a more important constellation ceases to exist, and illumines no more, the world is made cognizant of the fact. So with life; the lesser lights ceasing to burn unnoted; the greater going out in the night of death, leaving a path of regret and sorrow. The recent death of Dr. A. B. Dayton, to which we refer, sudden from its suddenness—comes upon us with a most depressing effect. Not only does his immediate neighborhood share this sentiment of deep sorrow, but the community at large; while a large circle of distant friends and relatives are left to mourn his unexpected death. It seems almost superfluous to touch upon his character, known so well as it is, to be upright and blameless. As the head of his family he was honored; as a man he was respected, and as a physician, loved. In the study of his profession were devoted a superior intellect and unflagging zeal, while, in the pursuit of his practice, true sympathy with the patient and unremitting attention were brought to bear. As a ripe scholar and finished gentleman, no one was his superior. With his profession the law proves incalculable. They are forced to see the disappearance of their able leader; one of their first rank fall by the favorable hand; one on whose aid they had so often successfully depended, in desperate fights against death; but whose body, wrecked and worn by years of hard toll in the alleviation of human suffering, surrendered at last to the fell destroyer.

REMIAR.

OBITUARY.

At his residence in Matawan on the morning of the 19th. inst., after a short illness, Dr. Alfred B. Dayton, aged 57 years.

Dr. Dayton was a brother of the late lamented Wm. L. Dayton, and of Jas. B. Dayton, esq. of Camden. He was born at Bushbridge, Somerset Co. N. J. on Dec. 25, 1819. He entered Princeton College at an early age with the expectation of graduating at that time-honored institution, but but whilst in the sophomore class his health failed him and he was compelled to relinquish this cherished object. He was, however, a fine scholar and very proficient in the ancient languages.

Soon after leaving the College of New Jersey, he commenced the study of Medicine and graduated at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City, in the Spring of 1835. After practicing at Chester, Morris Co. N. J. a few months, he removed to Matawan—then known as Middletown Point—in July 1835, where he has since devoted his entire life to the active practice of his profession.

And now that he has left us, many hearts other than those of a loving wife and affectionate children, will be wounded by the premature death of this useful man. A sincere friend, a courteous high-toned gentleman, an attentive, humane and skillful Physician, he possessed all those excellent attributes of character so well adapted to endear him to the hearts of his patients and friends.

Few men in the Medical profession have done more real hard work than did Dr. Dayton. During a residence of 43 years in this community he was hardly ever absent from his post of duty, but labored with untiring zeal in the cause of suffering humanity. Day and night, in fair weather and in foul, he was ever ready to do his duty. To "relieve the distressed" seemed the chiefest object of his life. Even when declining health compelled him to take a partner to assist him in the duty of his extensive practice, he could not be persuaded to rest, but would remain that he never felt so well as when in his wagon visiting his patients. He visited patients as late as Sunday evening and attended church twice on that day. His death has cast a gloom over our whole community and sorrow is depicted on every countenance.

May his distressed family take in heart the words of Divine Scriptures "whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth" and remember that he is too wise to err too good to be unkind.

WISTAR'S BALSAM. READ THE FOLLOWING!! This is to certify that I had a very severe cough, accompanied with night-sweats, which so reduced my bodily strength that I could not walk from my house to the barn, (a distance of about 200 yards) without resting. Having tried several remedies with but little benefit, I was at length induced to try "Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry," and in a short time my health was restored, so that I am now enabled to attend to all the duties required on my farm as well as ever. My night-sweats have entirely ceased, and my cough very seldom troubles me. I consider it the best cough remedy ever offered to the public. ISAIAH HOFF. Near Keyport, N. J. For sale by Geo. W. JOURNAL AND ADVERTISER.

The following is an outline of a sermon on Temperance, preached by Rev. Albert Matthews, by request, in the Meth. E. Church, Matawan, Sunday morning, June 19th. 1870.

"We unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them."

Isiah V, 11.

[The former part of this sermon is in the last number of the Journal.]

Upon the intellectual powers of man, the influence of strong drink is marked and decisive. The understanding, judgment, memory and will, are all seriously impaired by the use of alcoholic stimulants. The mind is unfitted for those high intellectual pursuits and employments, for which by nature it is so well qualified.

The evil which intemperance inflicts upon the moral, is ever more to be dreaded, than that which it inflicts upon the physical nature of man. It is a fearful school of vice. There is no crime which it will not fit its victim to commit. Strong drink keeps our prisons full; furnishes plenty of work for our civil courts; supplies the gallows with subjects; desecrates what would be otherwise happy homes; crushes the heart, and blights the hope of the wife and mother and makes children beggars.

If such be the evil of intemperance what can effect its cure? This question has been asked a thousand times. As the question has not yet been fully answered I have a few suggestions to offer.

I would counsel all to abstain, even from the moderate use of all that can intoxicate. No law is better than the law of total abstinence. If it can be made general. It is the moderate use of strong drink by the masses, rather than its immoderate use, by drunkards, that creates the demand, which makes its manufactory and sale profitable. Let us lessen this demand, and correspondingly lessen the profits of the traffic.

Let the Ladies in every Temperance organization; whatever be its form. The gentle influence and graceful promulgation of virtuous females, cannot fail to be a powerful auxiliary to the temperance army, which is marshalling and drilling its legions for the final conflict, which is to decide the fate of millions of habitues, who, with uplifted hands are looking to it for rescue and deliverance. Let the Ladies enlist under the banner of temperance; they are surely deeply interested in the cause.

Secure as far as possible the influence of the clergy. Let them preach temperance, as well as righteousness and judgment.

"I say the pulpit, in the sober use, Of its legitimate, peculiar power, Must stand acknowledged while the world shall stand."

The clergy as a class are influential. They to some extent mould and guide public sentiment. They are the educators of the people; the living models, which they follow. Baffle the clergy heartily as a body on the side of temperance, and you have safely enlisted the people. If I could address the clergy of America, I would urge that against the evil of intemperance they unite and, "Stand as an iron pillar strong, And steadfast as a wall of brass."

Let the influence of the press be employed, to aid the friends of temperance in their efforts to reform the inebriate, and to throw safeguards around the young, who are exposed to the fangs of the serpent Alcohol, whose sting is poison and whose embrace is death. Let the temperance organizations of the country supply every family with a temperance paper, something on the plan by which the American Bible Society supplies every family with a copy of the word of God.

I would suggest the duty of organization and Let the Sons of Temperance, the Daughters of Temperance, the Capets of Temperance, Good Templars, and the open temperance associations, form an alliance something on the plan of the evangelical alliance. While these several organizations maintain a separate existence and fight the common foe in their own way and in the employment of their own peculiar weapons, let them also become so united by fraternal Bonds, that whenever occasions may require, the entire rank and file of the temperance army, throughout the length and breadth of the land, can be moved simultaneously as though impelled by a single will.

BELL'S MAGNETIC LINIMENT

Has proved itself to be most valuable For the Relief and Cure of RHEUMATISM, FROSTED FEET, CHILBLAINS, NEURALGIA, PAIN & SORENESS IN THE MUSCLES, SPRAINS AND BRUISES, and the other purposes for which Liniments are used externally.

This Remedy has been before the public for over Nine Years, and has won for itself a merited reputation. Scores have been benefited by it, and not only buy it again, but recommend it to their friends.

PREPARED BY

Geo. W. Bell & Son, MATAWAN, N. J.

We are pleased to be able to refer to many who have used it, and who have been benefited by it. Read these names, and you ask the gentlemen what benefit they received from the use of the Magnetic Liniment.

Peter Lambertson, Daniel Mack, Aaron Pittman, L. E. Battin, Daniel Mergan, W. M. Pittman, George Hussinger, D. T. Manning, Daniel Schanck, Hens. E. Griggs, and very many others.

Mr. James M. Van Brakle says, "I think it is the best liniment I have ever used."

It is put up in bottles, holding more than most liniments that retail for fifty cents, and the price of it is only 15 cents per bottle.

We ask from you a careful trial of the Liniment, according to the directions found on the label, and we do not fear the result

FOR SALE AT

GEO. W. BELL'S DRUG STORE, MATAWAN.

Will be found to be an excellent remedy for Burns, Scalds, Sores, Sore Mouth & Lips, Chapped Hands, Wounds, Cuts, Bites of Insects, Nervous Sore, Salt Rheum, and Other CUTANEOUS Diseases.

CEROMA is not a preparation that has been compounded merely for speculative purposes, but is the result of careful experiment and repeated effort. It was originally prepared for our own private use, several years ago, and we were so pleased with its effects as a healing agent that we recommended to others. A lady called at the store and asked for a remedy for and we advised her to try a box of the CEROMA. She returned shortly after for another box, and said she had received more benefit from it than from any other remedy. We recommended it to MRS. JOHN DOLAN, for a similar complaint, and her hands were soon healed. Some time after, Mr. Peter W. Hyer came to us with an eruption that covered a great part of his Hand and Wrist, and returned for another box, saying it was the BEST THING he had tried.

SALT RHEUM.

MR. JOEL COLLINS

had used a number of remedies to cure an IRRITATION OF THE MOUTH, and inflammation and Swelling of the lower Lip, but all had failed. He took a box of Ceroma and applied it freely to the lip, and soon the disease was removed.

THE ATTENTION OF BOATMEN, CHAPPED OR CRACKED HANDS, is particularly called to Ceroma, as a CURE for this affection, and, as proof thereof, we would refer to and to the following certificate.

CAPT. PETER LAMBERTSON, and CAPT. PETER U. DISBROW,

I consider Ceroma the best thing for Chapped Hands that I have ever used in my family.

TERRA COTTA!

have just received a stock of TERRA COTTA GARDEN VASES, Pipe, Chimney Tops & Flues, to which they call the attention of the public. These Vases are now very generally used, both for city and country houses. They give a style and finish to the Cottage or Villa, that cannot be produced in brick. Besides adding to the beauty of a house, they secure a good draft to the fire; are indestructible by Coal Gas or Wood Gas; are cheaper than anything else in the market, a three-foot top costing only $3.75, while a brick or stone chimney will cost more at first, but a five dollar bill every few years to repair the ravages of coal gas. They are easily put up, and can be placed on any chimney, old or new.

Vitrified Terra Cotta Pipe, for underground draining or sewerage. Those living in the country should see that their houses have proper drainage, to carry away the house refuse; the rain water, or the water from well ceilings. A proper attention to this matter will make your home cleaner, more healthy and more pleasant.

Call and examine these goods, and get a circular describing them more fully.

Atkinson's Unrivalled Blood Purifier will cure all diseases arising from the use of Mercury, or any impure state of the Blood. This valuable medicine possesses qualities peculiar to itself. As it does not deplete and removes all morbid accumulations. As an Alterative it has a most happy influence in producing a salutary change throughout the whole system; and as a Diuretic and Abductor it imparts purity to the Blood and other fluids of the Human System. Dr. ATKINSON employed this remedy in his private practice for over thirty years with astonishing success on cases which had been giving up by some of our best physicians as incurable. The following are some of the diseases which this medicine never fails to cure: Scrofula; White Swelling, Chronic and Mercurial Rheumatism; Pencil Ulcers, Old Sores, Scoury, Salt Rheum, Eruptions of the Skin, Itches or Pimples on the Face, Scald Head, &c., &c.
