LOCAL ITEMS

We welcome again to the town our young friend, Martin T. Wood, who is arranging to enter into the Furniture business with his father. All who know him, will predict a large increase in the business, before.

Capt. Astor Hornor's home, next above A. H. Harris' store, is progressing nicely, and adds very much to the appearance of that part of town.

Mr. Conover's home, the residence of Mr. J. O. Barrows has been renovated, and very much improved, by a coat of paint.

Mealie & Sicksle have leased the old Hotel property for five years, and will remove their Grocery and Provision store to that place, about the first of April. It is expected that two or three other mercantile changes will be made, but the arrangements have not yet been positively consummated.

Mr. Martin Smith has commenced building the large addition to his Furniture Warehouse, and will have it ready for the addition of a large stock for the spring trade. Don't go to the City to buy good furniture, but wait and select from the new styles that he will shortly lay in.

See Shepard & Conover's advertisement.

The Monument Improver-Office has been removed to the building formerly occupied by E. B. Bode, on High street, 600 feet from the Court House. We congratulate friend Applegate on his removal to a place where he will have more room than formerly.

An effort is being made to form a new county from parts of Mercer, Manlius and Middleburg, to be called Center county, and the county seat to be located at Hightstown. The probability of success is slight, as not enough advantage can be gained to the country surrounding it. The main effort seems to be located at Hightstown, among some enterprising gentlemen, who hope to become merchants, clerks, carriage-makers, etc. A meeting for the above purpose was held at Hightstown, on the afternoon of January 21st, but was very thinly attended, and no definite result was arrived at.

N. Y. & L. S. R. R.

When are we to have it? Can it be that there is not sufficient enterprise from Red Bank to South Amboy to raise the amount required by the contractors? A meeting of the Directors was held a few days since, to receive the statement of the contractors, which was as follows. If the citizens will raise $300,000, they (the contractors) will enter into bonds to build the road from Red Bank to Hightstownport, and the bridge over the Maritan river, and supply it with the necessary rolling stock. Of this $300,000, there has been raised $175,000, leaving a balance of $125,000 to be subscribed. Is the road to be longer delayed, and we compelled to risk ten and forty, or lay around on hoar or two at Keyport, because this small deficiency cannot be made up? How much longer are we to remain twenty or thirty years looking the times! It is a matter of other estimation to many that we can cope with such poor means of communication with the Metropolis. "What," say they, "twenty-five miles from New York, and no railroad!" Enterprise is throwing her hands into the thick fastnesses of the Southern pines, and men are making money, as if by magic. Yet Matawan, and the line from Red Bank to Amboy, boasting its wealth and spiritedness, has not enterprise enough to raise the additional amount required, before the contractors will guarantee the balance. What we need is a little more push, Who'll begin the pushing?

Died, on Thursday, Jan. 15th, Mr. Samuel Poling, aged 84 years. Mr. Poling was one of the pioneers of Methodism in this section, and was well known to the community. Although an eccentric gentleman, none ever doubted his piety. He was a sort of an Andrew Jackson man, never flinching from the discharge of duty, regardless of consequences. An incident is related of him, illustrating this point. At one time, a gentleman called to see him on business, just as he was about engaging in family devotions. The gentleman was one of the most wealthy in the county, and not a professor of religion. Father Poling had opened and intended to read the chapter, containing the words, "Go to, now, ye rich men, weep and howl for the miseries that shall come upon you," &c., but when Mr. ——— entered he thought perhaps I had better read elsewhere this morning. But no, he said within himself, "this is where I intended to read and no man shall change me from reading any part of God's Word," and so he read it, determined if the coat fit, Mr. ——— must wear it.

The funeral, on Sabbath afternoon, in the Keyport M. E. Church, was a very large one, proving though the good old man was eccentric and "pious," none doubted his piety, and were anxious to see the last of one who had always stood "like the best on anvil to the stroke."

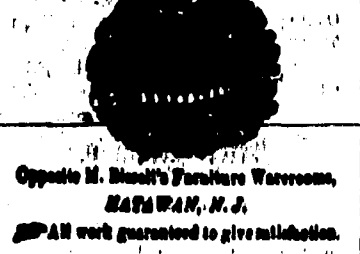

The annual donation visit to Rev. H. Barnes, of the Freehold M. E. Church, will take place at the parsonage, on Tuesday evening next, Jan. 22.

From the Red Bank Standard.

BURNED TO DEATH.—The infant son of Mr. Wm. Parker, Red Bank, was burned to death on Monday evening, 9th. The particulars are as follows:—

At the usual time for the family to assemble at the supper table, the parents of the child left it in a cradling chair in their room, and went down stairs to purchase of that work, and while absent, it happened the child commenced crawling, thereby coming to the stove, until it came in contact with the stove, when the bed-clothes took fire, and were completely consumed with the bed, and the greater part of the cradle, and the child burned to death almost instantaneously.

The first knowledge the family had of the sad occurrence was the return of one of them to the room to find the wood-work around the door on fire, and the child dead in the ruins of the cradle, so strange to say, not a cry had been heard from the child during the misfortune.

Mr. Nathan Baran runs Downwards.—While a party of young men including Charles Throckmorton, Richard Athins, and Harry Wood, of this town, were enjoying themselves on the beach with an ice boat, on Monday afternoon, the wind ran up an abutment of the beach, and the boat was blown over the side of the boat, and the crew which had fallen the day previous, had caused to be run over the side strong enough to help support them, when they were thrown out by the sudden change of the boat.

Mr. Isaac Hathaway, of Edinstown, and his twin brother, Benjamin, have a singular history. Although twin-born they were not born on the same day, nor in the same week, month, year, or century. One was born in the last hour of the year 1800, on Saturday night, and the other was born in the first hour of the year 1901, on Sunday morning.—L. B. News.

The following officers were installed in

The Legislature.
 The Legislature of New Jersey assembled, according to law, in Trenton on Tuesday last, 10th. inst.

The Senate was called to order and Hon.
 H. S. Little made temporary President.
 After the new members had been sworn in,
 Mr. Terry, of Ocean, nominated Edward Bettle, of Camden, for President of the Senate, and he was elected.

John F. Babcock, editor of the New Brunswick Freeman, was chosen Secretary of the Senate, J. W. Hewlin, of Camden, was made Assistant Secretary.

The remaining officers of the Senate are as follows:

Engrossing Clerk—James Moore, of Cumberland.

Sergeant at Arms—Marion Beasley, of Cape May.

Keeper of the Ladies' Gallery—John Wood, of Essex.

The Governor's message was received, and the usual members of copies ordered to be printed.

In the House, Hon. Albert P. Condit, of Essex, was chosen Speaker. Hon. Austin H. Patterson, was the nominee of the Democrats for the same position.

The House was completely organized by the election of the following officers:

Clerk—Alexander M. Cumming, of Mirceer.

Assistant Clerk—Evan A. Carman, of Essex.

Engrossing Clerk—Jeremiah Laylor, of Cumberland.

Door Keeper—George W. Smith, of Cape May.

Keeper of the Ladies' Gallery—Marcus L.
 Woodhall, of Passaic.

Among the acts probably to be acted for the following have been noticed:

To make attendance upon either a public, private, or denominational school, of every child between the ages of 5 and 16, compulsory; permitting township, wards, or cities, to control the licensing and sale of liquors; a charter for a rail road from Keyport to either Highland or Middletown Station of the New Jersey Southern Railroad; and giving a charter for a railroad from Squaw Village to Long Branch.

From the Freehold Democrat.
 Prof. John O. Smuck, of Rutgers College, who has been over a year at Berlin, prosecuting certain studies, returned last week. He has been spending a few days at his home at Holsidel, in this county.

Rev. F. M. Bras, rector of the Episcopal Church at Spotwood, has fourteen hundred volumes of hymn books, of all denominations of Christians—said to be the largest collection of the kind in the world.

For the Matawan Journal.
 That the uninitiated may know that the meetings of Anchor Lodge, No. 85, of Good Templars, are not altogether proxy, solemn, solemn attempts to push forward the car of Temperance, (though I trust we do badge it a little occasionally) I propose to give the readers of the Journal and Advertiser a little insight into the mystic and secrets of that society; in short, to let the cat out of the bag, so far as relates to a portion of the meeting of last Tuesday evening, known as "Good of the Order," which I do at the risk of having my ears pulled by the fair sisters, who participated in the interesting exercises.

At the usual time and after the business had been promptly attended to, our Worthy Chief, J. W. Howell, declared the Lodge open under "Good of the Order"; and called upon the Sec. to announce the appointments for the evening.

Sister A. J. S., first took the floor and read an essay on "The depravity of Man." Sister E. G., came next in order with an appropriate Essay.
 A number of visitors, sisters and brothers from a neighboring Lodge then came in and the exercises were continued by a witty selection from Fanny Fern read by sister N. C., and one of Caudle's lectures, by J. S. H. Bro. V. W., being called upon, read an original Poem of a high order, and then a Dialogue was announced, entitled "Money marks the mark go," in which Bro. W. B. G., W. H. S., and J. P. R., performed their parts creditably. Bro. W. H. read a laughable selection and sister O. L., a witty one, and the exercises closed with one more selection from Caudle, on umbrellas lending, read with much spirit and vivac-ity by Miss S. S. After some further debate concerning the interests of the Lodge—the meeting adjourned and each took their homeward way feeling that they had spent a pleasant and profitable evening, and that it "was good for brethren to dwell together in unity."
