Dr. Steven K. Fox, Jr., Rutgers University geologist, records the results of uranium probe being unreel down drilling hole by Richard K. Olsson (rear), Rutgers graduate student from Union, as M.S. Kemmerer looks on. Dr. Fox and Olsson spent six weeks last summer prospecting for uranium on the desolate Colorado Plateau, a section of which is shown in background. BOYS CLUB OF CLIFFWOOD BEACH ATTENDS GAME

The Boy's Club of Cliffwood Beach attended the football game between Rutgers and Lafayette Colleges at Rutgers on Saturday. Some eighteen were in the party, arranged by George A. Witzel, club supervisor, and assisted by Joseph Deerin, Sr., and Arthur E. Gibb.

The boys witnessed a tight football game, with the home college winning by a score of 7-0, and enjoyed half-time ceremonies when football players from Rutgers Hall of Fame were presented to the thousands on hand, and they and the spectators were addressed by Gov. Meyner.

The club will hold an election of officers at the home of Mr. Witzel on Saturday, and plans will then be made for the Winter season, as well as a long range program for club expansion.

Correction

The results of the election contest in Matawan Township last week were erroneously reported as Mayor John Marz, Jr., defeating Edwin F. Malcolm 978-266. Malcolm lost by 266 votes, 978-712.

FIRST '55 CAR

DETROIT—A new car was born here this week as the assembly lines at the Plymouth Motor Corp. plant produced the first of the 1955 line of cars. Millions of dollars were spent to re-tool the plant for production of the Plymouth which is all new in design and power. President John P. Mansfield called it one of the most extensive industrial changeovers in recent years. Shown inspecting the first car off the line, are, from left: William J. Bird, general sales manager; Robert Anderson, chief engineer; Mansfield; and Carl J. Demrick, vice-president in charge of manufacturing.

YOUR GARDEN THIS WEEK

The other day I saw a truck go by on the highway, loaded with plants of chrysanthemums. They were almost in full bloom and probably had the roots balled and burlapped.

They were undoubtedly consigned to some plant market where they would catch the eye of buyers. Maybe those who purchase them and set them out in the garden may have better luck than I anticipate. If the winter is as mild as last year's, the chrysanthemums may live over.

We do it the other way around. As soon as a killing frost comes, we expect to dig our stock plants of chrysanthemums and plant them close together in a cold frame. By doing this, we are reasonably sure of having cuttings to produce our plants for next year.

The general experience has been that better results in bloom are obtained when fresh plants are set out each year.

The greatest danger to plants left in the garden is alternating spells of freezing and thawing. This condition may result in the death of the new young sprouts. Or the wind may whip the plants about creating a hollow in the soil. When the soil freezes, water collects in this hollow and in changing to ice, kills the crown and young sprouts.

If you do not have a cold frame, at least mound over the crown with coal ashes or soil. Some gardeners make a trench in the garden, then dig their chrysanthemum plants and put them close together in the trench, with the crowns higher than they stood originally. They pack soil well around them.

I believe this is a safer method than leaving the plants in the garden.

ORGANIST GUILD MEETS RECENTLY AT REFORMED CHURCH

The Monmouth County Chapter of the American Guild of Organists held its November meeting at the Keyport Reformed Church on Monday evening, Nov. 8, guests of Mrs. John E. Sagurten, organist and Harold Weber, director of music.

Mrs. Helen Antonides and Arthur Reines, both of whom are colleagues in the Monmouth Chapter, played a short service-music recital on the Reformed Church organ without ever having seen or heard this particular instrument before. This will be done by other members at the next several meetings in the various churches in Monmouth County. It is always interesting to see the vast difference between the voicing of stops on different organs that have identical names.

The above-mentioned people, along with Mrs. Lilyan Connelly, attended the A. G. O. Convention at Minneapolis, Minnesota. They led a discussion on the highlights of the Convention and passed along many new ideas and helpful hints toward improving the music and cultural standards in the churches.

Paul Thomas, A. G. O., who studied in Paris this past summer, told of his unforgettable experiences hearing and playing French and German organs. He was presented with a Past-Dean pin by the present Dean, James Robinson Scull.

The program was both enlightening and instructive to those interested in church music.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served in the Church House under the direction of Mrs. C. Kenneth Gehlhaus, assisted by Mrs. Charlotte Holmes and Mrs. William G. Schanck.

MONMOUTH CIVIC CHORUS REVEALS ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM

The second event will be the presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's Operetta "Pirates of Penzance" on Tuesday, May 24, 1955 at the Carleton Theatre, Red Bank, with a cast of 60 and an orchestra of 20 musicians.

CHANGES IN YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

by Ralph W. Jones

(Manager of the Perth Amboy Social Security Office)

I spent an enjoyable hour with a 68-year-old yesterday. He told me that the increase in his monthly benefit checks was going to mean a lot to him and his wife. I agreed with him when he observed that the increase brought about by the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act would help the men and women already getting their monthly payments as well as those who would be getting them in the future.

But I knew that there was something else on his mind, and I was right. He had heard that the test for earning without loss of benefits had been changed. Of course, he realized that the test has a purpose. Without it, the cost of the social security program would be greatly increased. And people who weren't able to work at all wouldn't be able to get the higher benefits which help them to meet today's living costs.

"Still, for some of the beneficiaries who do have part-time jobs during the holiday seasons, it is important to know what that test is and how it will affect them," my visitor remarked. Then he illustrated his comment by telling me this story:

"I work part-time for the company by which I was regularly employed before I was 65. They call me in when they are rushed on an order. Last winter they were behind on their Christmas orders, and I worked for them for about three months.

"In those three months I made more than the $75 a month which a retired person can earn without losing a check. This caused me to lose the rights to my checks for three whole months.

"I didn't think that this earning test was quite fair when I learned that my brother could have net income up to $900 in a year when he works for himself and not lose any of his retirement benefits. In addition, he could have earnings of as much as $900 a year in covered employment. Tell me, does the new law change that in any way?"

I was quick to assure my elderly friend that under the new law, his brother would total his net self-employment and employment income over the year. And the 68-year-old gentleman would have the same yearly earning test as his brother. The test has been made the same for both the employed and the self-employed beneficiary. Under the new test no one will lose a month's benefits for each month in which he earns above a specified amount. Beneficiaries who are wage earners are now permitted to add their wages over the year in the same way that the self-employed people did before the change.

And the earning test is now $1,200 a year instead of $900. Under the new law, this means that all self-employed and employed beneficiaries may work throughout the year at $105 a month and lose only one month's check. The old law would have caused the employed workers to lose all 12 checks for that year. Or they may earn $400 in each of three months and lose nothing, whereas before, the employed workers would have lost three months' payments.

I explained to my friend that when he does make over $1,200 in a year, he will lose his right to one month's check for each $80 or fraction of $80. For example, he will lose two checks when he makes as much as $1,281 in a year. But under the new law, he will lose no check for any month in which he neither earned more than $80 as an employed person nor rendered substantial services as a self-employed person.

My 68-year-old friend asked me if the new earnings test applied only to jobs covered by social security as it had under the old law. I told him that the law has been changed on that point. The $1,200 limitation on earnings for beneficiaries applies to all earnings from employment or self-employment whether from work covered by social security or not.

But I thought that it was a good time to tell him that the law had changed the age when the earnings test was no longer effective. The new amendment has a provision which places no test on the amount of a person's earnings when he is 72 or over, no matter what job he has. Under the old law, this age was 75.

There are other advantages for partially retired people under the new law. I'm going to explain them in one of my later articles. The gentleman promised to read about the other provisions which might affect him. He had one other question for me before he hurried home to tell his wife about the new law and how it would affect them. "When does this earnings test become effective?"

"It will be applied to your earnings beginning January 1, 1955," I answered.

"We're going to circle those dates on our calendar . . . October, when I get my first increased benefit check, and January 1, 1955, when the new earnings test will apply to me." He was smiling when he walked out of the office, and that smile is one of the gratifying parts of my job as your social security representative.

MATAWAN ENLISTEE IN WORLD WAR I REPORTED "FOUND"

A man who had been "missing" since old Company B, 311th Infantry, 78th (Lightning) Division, returned to the U. S. from Europe, in May, 1919, has been "found."

This was disclosed by Alexander M. Hayden, Wayside, sergeant in the company who was a prisoner of war during World War I.

The "missing" man was Dayton Osterweis, who enlisted in the company from Matawan in 1919. Mr. Osterweis was traced to New Haven, Conn., recently by Edward N. Welsh, Freehold, former Monmouth County American Legion commander and an ex-member of Company B.

Mr. Osterweis told Mr. Welsh in a recent letter that he left for New Haven after the boat docked in New York in 1919 because of the death of his sister's husband.

He had intended to stay in New Haven for only five or six weeks, Mr. Osterweis related, but "I have stayed on for these past nearly 35 years, becoming a staid New England Yankee. My sister has passed on, but I did help her to raise three children.

"I, too, am married, I have one son, my only child. He just turned 20. Is in the senior year at Yale University. . ."

FRENCHTOWN NIPS RAIDER ELEVEN 19-13 IN GRID GO

Orville Shoemaker, sparkling fullback for Frenchtown High School scored three touchdowns Saturday to lead his team to a 19-13 victory over Keyport High School's Red Raiders.

Bobby Mirro of the Raiders almost duplicated the feat by scoring the Raider touchdowns.

Bob Balliet set up the first Frenchtown score in the first period by intercepting a Raider forward. On the next play, Bill Risley threw a 16 yarder to Clyde Hampton who was downed on the Keyport two yard line. Shoemaker then scored the first of his trio on a line plunge. Later in the same period, Frenchtown moved to the Raider two only to have an offside penalty stamp out the scoring threat.

In the second period, a Raider fumble on the 23 yard line was recovered by Frenchtown to set up the second tally of the day. Shoemaker, on the first play, ripped through the line on a quick opener to the Raider 10. Joe Cooper moved the pigskin to the one and Shoemaker dove over for the second Frenchtown TD of the afternoon.

The Keyport squad came back to score in the third period after left guard Dave Anderson recovered a Frenchtown fumble on the home team's 20-yard line. The first three plays from scrimmage only netted the Raiders three yards, but on fourth down, Mirro bucked his way to the 10. Mirro carried twice more, scoring on the second attempt.

The Frenchtown team set up a TD of its own in the same quarter, by giving Shoemaker a little running room. Shoemaker went around end from his own 29 yard line and sped 71 yards for a score.

Keyport took over the ball on its own 23 yard line in the last period and drove down field for the last touchdown of the day. The sustained drive was started with a 20-yard pass from Charles Walling to Mirro. After several running plays, Walling again tossed a pass, this time to Ruth on the Frenchtown five. Mirro then slid off center for the touchdown.

After this score, both team's offenses bogged down and Frenchtown ended the game by running out the clock with line bucks.

HUSKIES CRUNCH HIGHLANDS 27-0; FEDELE HURT

Matawan clinched the B division Shore Conference crown Saturday by downing Atlantic Highlands 27-0 but paid a high price for the win with the injury suffered by hard running back Steve Fedele who suffered a broken collarbone in the closing minutes of the game.

Fedele had re-entered the fray after Matawan's goal line stand in the last period halted the Tiger aggregation on the Huskie two-yard marker.

Matawan took possession of the ball and after Marvin Hauser carried for nine-yards, Steve broke away on a 20-yard run. He was dropped on the Matawan 33 by the Tiger secondary. He didn't get up and had to be helped to the sidelines.

As he was examined, the game ended. He was taken to Monmouth Memorial Hospital where he was admitted with what hospital officials described as a broken collarbone.

Matawan had locked up the game in the first half when it scored three times. In fact, Matawan's domination was so complete that it wasn't forced to punt until well into the third quarter. And by that time Coach Judd Evans had cleared the bench of sophs and freshmen.

In the first quarter, Matawan Tackle Louis Armour and Guard Johnny Pointkowski drove a wedge in the Tiger forward wall that sprung loose Fedele on a 41-yard touchdown run.

The Huskies, in the second quarter, started from their 39 and, behind a powerful running attack, drove to the three. There Marvin Hauser took the ball and cut inside right end for the touchdown.

Later that quarter, Hal Dodson intercepted a pass by Don Loftus, Tiger fullback, on the Atlantic Highlands 34 yard line.

Fedele passed to Jack Kuntz who snared the ball on the 20 and ran it over for the score. Jack then kicked the second of his three extra points.

The final Huskie touchdown came in the third quarter with freshmen and sophomores forming most of the team.

Matawan's Art Abrazia recovered Johnny Kellaher's fumble on the Tiger 23. Hal Dodson carried for seven yards and Dave Smith, a freshman back, swept right end from the 16 for the touchdown.

All Heating Oils Are Not Alike

15 Years of Shell Research
Overcomes A Major Cause of Oil Burner Service Calls

Clogged filter screens have been recognized for years as a major cause of oil burner service calls.

Shell Research spent 15 years developing a way to combat screen clogging. The result was FOA-5X, an additive that is now in every gallon of Shell Furnace Oil.

During three years of exhaustive testing of FOA-5X in thousands of homes not a single case of burner failure due to a clogged filter screen was reported.

For carefree heat all season, switch to Shell Furnace Oil with FOA-5X. It costs no more than ordinary heating oils. Call us today. We'll make all the arrangements.

PORTRAITS IN OIL!

BYRON D. BENSON
 WAS PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY THAT BUILT THE FIRST LONG-DISTANCE PIPE LINE, THE TIDEWATER, FROM THE BRADFORD FIELD TO WILLIAMSPORT, PA., IN 1879!

BIGGEST PIPE LINE TILL THEN HAD BEEN 3 INCHES, 30 MILES LONG. THE TIDEWATER WAS TO BE 6 INCHES, 109 MILES LONG, AND TO PASS OVER A MOUNTAIN NEARLY 2,600 FEET HIGH! SKEPTICS CALLED THE PROJECT "BENSON'S FOLLY," "WAGERED IT WOULD FAIL..."

PIPE HAD TO BE HAULED UP TO 30 MILES OVER ROADLESS MOUNTAINS. THE PART ACROSS THE ALLEGHENIES WAS Laid IN THE DEEP OF WINTER—ONE OF THE GREAT FEATS IN THE HISTORY OF OIL!

IN 1887, THE LINE WAS EXTENDED TO BAYONNE, N. J. — TODAY, THANKS TO SUCH PIONEERING AMERICAN INGENUITY, THERE ARE MORE THAN 168,000 MILES OF PIPE LINE IN THE NATION, HELPING TO BRING THE COMFORTS AND CONVENIENCES OF PETROLEUM PRODUCTS TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

ARREST TWO IN CONNECTION WITH AREA BURGLARIES

The Monmouth County Prosecutor's office disclosed that two men allegedly involved in a series of thefts in the Bayshore area last August were apprehended over the weekend.

Carl G. Sparks, 23, of 6 Orchard street, Matawan, was picked up by Matawan Borough police at home Sunday night, and Monday morning he admitted two robberies, according to Detective Capt. William S. Mustoe.

He admitted his part in the $150 robbery of Moore's Tavern, West Freehold, and the $200 theft from the Millhurst Tavern, Freehold-Hightstown Road.

Arrested Saturday by Perth Amboy police was Jordan A. Dillard, 30, indicted by the grand jury in connection with the Millhurst and West Freehold thefts, and a robbery of Charles Slattery's gasoline station, Throckmorton street, Freehold in which $400 was stolen last summer.

Being held for action by the grand jury in connection with the three crimes is Fred (Buster) Williams, 22, Cliffwood, who was shot by Matawan police before being apprehended for the Freehold robbery.

James Baldwin, 17, of Newark, was captured at the same time while trying to escape from Matawan police.

Captain Mustoe said all four have admitted their parts in the robberies.

Captain Mustoe explained that Dillard was indicted because he was a fugitive from New York authorities.

Authorities from Freehold, Matawan Borough, and Howell State Police and the prosecutor's office cooperated in making the arrests.

MATAWAN POLICE ISSUE PAMPHLET FOR CHILD SAFETY

A three-page safety pamphlet drawn up by Chief of Police John J. Flood and entitled "A message to school children and their parents in the Borough of Matawan, from your Police Department" is being distributed in the elementary school.

The pamphlet contains a picture of Chief Flood, talking to a group of nine elementary school children on the grounds of the high school and also contains a part addressed to parents as well as instructions to children.

Among other things, the pamphlet stresses the danger of accepting automobile rides from strangers and urges the student to take the license number of the car in which the stranger is riding and his description and report these to the police immediately. Parents are instructed to constantly remind their children never to accept rides from strangers, never accept candy from strangers, always report any stranger seen loitering on foot or in a car near schools, playgrounds or other places where children assemble.

Some 500 sets of lines tell drivers not to encroach on paths designated for pedestrians. Where traffic is heavy it is necessary to renew the paint twice yearly.

stick in the road or on the sidewalk with a stone.

The pamphlet also urged the parents to impress upon their children that the police officer is their friend and for them to go to the police officer at any time that they are in trouble.

BUCCO INSTALLED AS CWV COMMANDER

Anthony W. Bucco, Matawan, was installed as commander of St. Joseph's Post 1023, Catholic War Veterans of Keyport at a recent meeting held in St. Joseph's auditorium.

Other officers for the coming year are James Mizell, first vice commander; John Trabachino, second vice commander; Anthony Garito, third vice commander; Theodore Phelan, treasurer; Joseph Bucco, adjutant; Frank Bucco, officer of the day; James C. Day, welfare officer; Stanley M. Sakowski, historian; Dr. Victor Thompson, medical officer and Russell Bucco, Raymond Andrejewski and Robert Bucco, trustees.

MATAWAN PTA UNIT HEARS TALK BY TEACHER

Miss Esther Blau, sixth grade teacher in the Matawan elementary school, was the speaker at a meeting of the Matawan Parent-Teacher Association held in Matawan High School. Her topic was: "Home Work and Parental Co-operation."

The members of the association voted to sponsor a Cub Pack.

Refreshments were served by the sixth grade mothers.

The annual Christmas party will feature the December meeting.

SAFETY LINES ON STATE HIGHWAYS NEED ATTENTION

White lines are being painted along the edge of black-top pavements by the New Jersey State Highway Department as an additional safety guide for both pedestrians and motorists.

After the application is completed on the black tops, the same type of design will be extended to concrete surfaces adjacent to the shoulders.

By using mechanical equipment for rapid progress two crews have completed more than 200 miles and their work is being continued on routes in all parts of the State.

To define the pavement border with increased visibility by reflected light they add to the paint small, round glass beads or spheres. This modern application is of material aid in night driving and in foggy weather.

New Jersey was first among the states to adopt the lane stripe plan for its roadways. Now, the Highway Department Maintenance Bureau marks more than 2,000 miles annually.

Special attention is given to crosswalks at schools and traffic signals.

Some 500 sets of lines tell drivers not to encroach on paths designated for pedestrians.

Where traffic is heavy it is necessary to renew the paint twice yearly.

BUSINESS HEADS PLAN MEETING OF ORGANIZATION

One hundred business executives and an equal number of Rutgers students are expected to attend the dinner meeting of the Raritan Valley Chapter, Society for Advancement of Management, at the Roger Smith Hotel on Wednesday, November 17, for the monthly meeting. The meeting has been designated as Rutgers Student Chapter night by President Michael V. Cosentino, Chief Engineer at E. R. Squibb and Sons, Division of Mathieson Chemical Company.

Dr. F. F. Bradshaw, President of Richardson, Bellows, Henry and Company, management consultants and consulting psychologists of New York will be the feature speaker at the dinner. His subject will be "A Future in Modern Management."

Mr. Vincent J. Cavanaugh, Engineer of the Ethicon Corporation, will preside at the dinner meeting.

More than 4½ million Americans, age 65 or over, are now receiving old-age payments under social security. They make up more than a third of all elderly people in the United States.
