COMMISSIONERS OF FIRE DISTRICT EXPLAIN FINANCES

To the Taxpayers of Fire District, No. 1. Laurence Harbor, Morgan Beach and Cliffwood Beach.

A Letter to explain the special Fire Election to be held in District. On December 11, 1954 a special election will be held for the purpose of asking your permission to spend $14,000 for the purchase of a new Fire truck, but altogether the sum of $14,750 must be raised and this is how the Board of Fire Commissioners propose they be allowed to bring about such an expenditure.

1. To issue bonds of the Fire District No. 1, in the sum of $7,750, to be retired over a period of 20 years. $750 of this amount will be used towards printing, selling and paying the legal fees involved in a bond issue.
2. To use $7,000 from surplus funds, which are now in the treasury of the Fire District No. 1.

As every one knows the Board of Fire Commissioners provides through the able and volunteered services of the men of the Laurence Harbor Fire Co. 1, fast and efficient protection of the highest quality.

At the present time this Fire District has two pieces of apparatus and of the two only one is recognized by the Insurance Underwriters. The Ford being a 1935 model not adaptable to modern facilities. Fire hydrants are being installed where water mains are adequate and at points where everyone will benefit in case of emergency.

With the release of $7,000 from surplus and the Bond issue of $7,750 the cost to the taxpayer will amount to pennies a year to finance this sorely needed Fire Truck.

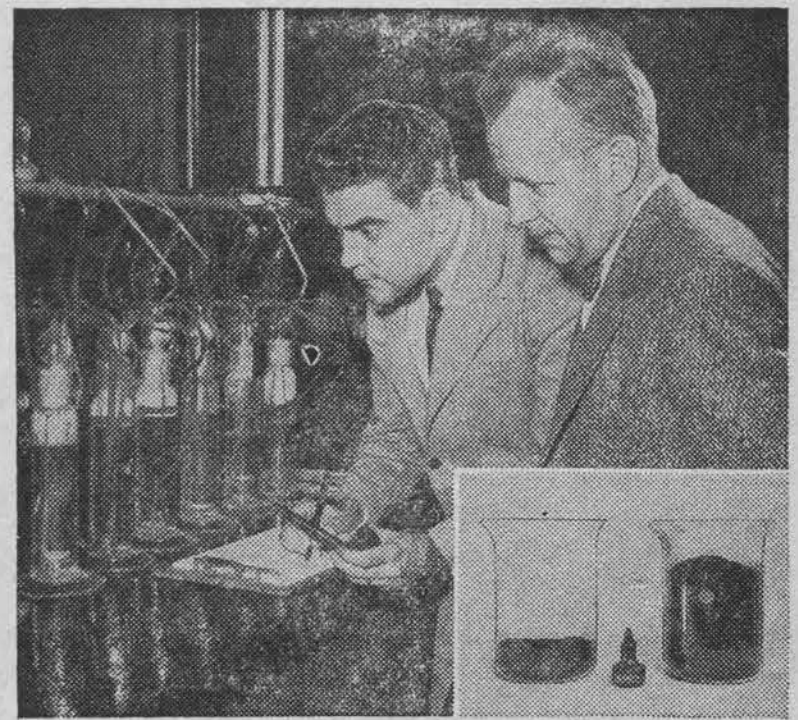

The Fire Commissioners, strongly urge the Citizens of the Fire District to vote yes on this proposal for more efficient and adequate fire protection.

AREA MAN IS HURT IN CRASH

George Kemble, 47, of Perth Amboy, was reported in fair condition at Riverview hospital, Red Bank, after he was injured in an auto accident on Route 35 in Raritan Township early Sunday morning.

Mr. Kemble suffered body bruises and cuts when his car failed to negotiate a curve in the road, rammed a utility pole—splitting it in two—jumped a ravine, and struck a billboard.

DEODORIZING NEW JERSEY

Checking a gas-scrubber which removes gas contaminants from air samples, are Dr. Harold E. Orford (right), chairman of the Rutgers University Department of Sanitation, and his associate, Dr. Raymond M. Manganelli, lecturer in a new inter-departmental course in the control of air pollution. This course is being offered by Rutgers in cooperation with the State Department of Health for industrial engineers and health officials. The beakers (inset), shown for comparison with a bottle of printers ink, contain the average daily amount of soot that falls on a 50-by 100-foot New Jersey lot in (right) heavily-industrial area, a pound; and (left) in suburban areas, .17 pound.

DRIVER KILLED IN CLIFFWOOD GRADE CROSSING CRASH

James R. Hawkes, 21 of 1000 Cook avenue, Laurence Harbor, was killed apparently instantly early Sunday morning when his car went out of control on Cliffwood avenue, Cliffwood at the Central Railroad grade crossing, struck a concrete abutment and rammed into a tree.

Hawkes was dead at the wheel when State Police of the Keyport barracks arrived. He was alone in the car.

State police at Keyport said Hawkes apparently fell asleep at the wheel of the car which was owned by Joseph Casa of 473 Harding Rd., Laurence Harbor. Hawkes was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Francis Holman of Keyport.

Born in Maine, Mr. Hawkes had been employed at General Motors Corp., Linden.

He leaves his mother, Helen Hand Hawkes; his father, Almon D.; a sister, Janice Rae, and a brother, Almon Royce, all living at the Laurence Harbor address.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Bedle Funeral Home, Matawan.

Music should strike fire from the heart of man, and bring tears from the eyes of woman.

POSTMASTER HERE ANTICIPATES YULE MAILING RUSH

In anticipation of the heavy Christmas mailings, Postmaster William F. Ohnsman, of the Laurence Harbor Post Office, is urging the patrons of his office to deposit mail for distant states well in advance of December 11th and to mail greeting cards for local delivery not later than December 14th in order to assure delivery before Christmas Day.

Patrons are requested to separate their mailings and tie them into packages marked "Local" and "Out of Town". If a large amount of cards are for a certain city it would be helpful if they were tied separately. "Local" and "Out of Town" collection boxes will be placed in the lobby of the post office.

To avoid disappointment, mail parcels as early as possible. Parcels may be marked "Do not open until Christmas".

The post office window will be open on Saturday afternoon, December 18th, for the handling of outgoing mail and sale of stamps. No money order business will be transacted Saturday afternoon.

It pays to advertise in this newspaper.

POSTMASTER HERE ANNOUNCES NEW POSTAL LAWS

Postmaster H. T. Hopkins of Keyport today called to the attention of mail users major new postal regulations being issued effective Dec. 1 which will provide important changes and simplifications in the use of the mails.

The Post Office Department is issuing a final edition of a history-making new Postal Manual which contains these changes in simple form. The new manual will bring together in less than 300 pages public-interest postal regulations formerly scattered through 4,000 pages of dense print, Postmaster Hopkins explained.

This publication may be obtained at 65 cents a copy from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. And mail users anxious to keep abreast of all changes in this material that may be made from time to time, may get both the pamphlet in loose-leaf format and a year's subscription to all sheets making changes for a total of $2, also from the Superintendent of Documents, the postmaster noted.

The revision of the Postal Manual, Postmaster Hopkins said, represents what Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has described as the most complete revision of regulations in the history of the U. S. Post Office Department.

The Department on Oct. 21 issued the first preliminary edition, and Postmaster General Summerfield invited the general public, as well as large mailers and postal employees, to suggest constructive revisions for incorporation into the final edition. At that time, the final edition was set for Nov. 20, but, because of the volume of the many worthwhile suggestions offered, its publication date was moved up to the present Dec. 1.

The final regulations have been filed with the Division of the Federal Register in Washington, and will become legally effective on Dec. 1.

Postmaster Hopkins noted that the new pamphlet and the new $2 package deal give the businessmen and other large mail users the easiest, most complete method of keeping completely up to date on postal information that they have ever had.

"The new publication is remarkable for its simplicity," he said. "Not only is it printed in easy-to-understand English, but it contains simple black and white illustrations on how to prepare material for mailing. The print is easy to understand, and is arranged in logical sections under bold-face headings.

"Not only are the regulations issued in new simplified form, but the rules themselves have been changed. A great deal of obsolete and conflicting material has been eliminated in the process."

The new booklet is so simple that if the shipping clerk, for example, in a small business is ill or absent, other employees can get a ready understanding of the postal rules from the publication, Mr. Hopkins said.

The booklet is also an invaluable guide for the average householder. It shows, for example, how to package fragile materials for mailing; how to attach first-class letters to packages; how stamps of unwanted denominations that are unused may be exchanged for others of different values if desired. It also tells about many other matters of special interest to all mail users he added.

Mail users who have inquiries about any special points in connection with the new publication may direct them to the Keyport Post Office. It should be emphasized, Postmaster Hopkins said, that the booklet represents the "final word" on all postal rules.

JUVENILE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE WORK OUTLINED HERE

The juvenile conference committees of Monmouth County have handled 1,581 cases in the past six years, it was reported by Wayne D. McMurray.

Mr. McMurray made this statement before a gathering of county probation department officials at the Ye Cottage Inn, recently.

McMurray cited the impressive record of the juvenile committees since their inception in Asbury Park in 1945. He pointed out that this method of handling the wayward youth has spread throughout New Jersey and to surrounding states. Mr. McMurray paid tribute to John L. Montgomery, chief probation officer, under whose direction the juvenile committee plan developed.

The buffet supper and meeting was held to enable members of the committees to become acquainted with probation department officials and the county judges.

Henry E. Ackerson, former New Jersey Supreme Court justice, suggested that an investigation be undertaken to determine why only 16 percent of New Jersey's college-age youths seek additional schooling after high school. Mr. Ackerson pointed out that the national average is 27 percent. He added that it is "becoming more and more apparent that business is demanding applicants with college educations."

County Judge John C. Giordano praised the work of the juvenile committees. He said the committee idea was a chief compensation in a post that saw many disappointments.

Monmouth County's courts would be "far deeper in the mire" were it not for the conference committees, according to County Judge Elvin R. Simmill.

BINGO LAWS NOW CHANGED BY GAMES COMMISSION

The Bingo-Raffles Commission today announced that it had amended certain Rules and Regulations and that it had adopted additional Rules and Regulations.

Veterans organizations in the past have complained that they have not been allowed to use the proceeds from games of chance for the maintenance of post homes. One of the rules adopted allows veterans organizations and fraternal organizations to use proceeds from games of chance for their homes providing the organizations do not derive any money profit from the use of their homes.

Another rule that has been adopted allows a person to engage in the conduct of bingo for more than one organization in a calendar year providing that one organization is auxiliary to the other.

Copies of the new Rules and Regulations are being sent to all of the organizations registered with the Control Commission.

CHRISTMAS ART DISPLAY READIED AT WOMEN'S COLLEGE

"Art in the Christmas Spirit" will be the theme of an exhibition to be held in the New Jersey College for Women art gallery Dec. 6-18.

Planned for the general public and children of the community as well as for the college community, the exhibit is appropriately centered around the birth and childhood of Christ.

Selected reproductions of masterpieces, such as Duccio's "Madonna in Majesty," Corregio's "Holy Night," madonnas by Raphael, Bellini, and other Renaissance masters as well as Michelangelo's sculptured madonna will be combined with other reproductions of famous works to emphasize the historical importance of the Christmas story.

Students in the State University women's college art classes have designed a festive decorative scheme in a more contemporary vein, and windows in the N.J.C. gallery will be transformed into "stain glass" by transparencies created by the students.

MATAWAN BLANKS RED RAIDERS 6-0 FOR LEAGUE CROWN

Matawan High School retained the Class B Shore Conference crown at Matawan Thanksgiving Day, downing a fighting Keyport eleven 6-0 before 3,000 fans.

The Turkey Day Classic of the Bayshore was a real thriller all the way with the Huskies scoring in the first period then holding off repeated thrusts by the Keyport grid squad which rolled into scoring distance of the Huskie goal-line a half dozen times in the second half of play.

The victory marked Matawan's 11th straight conquest over a three-year period and was achieved on a nine-yard pass play from Pete Vena to Stanley Parrish in the first quarter. Jack Kuhns' attempt for the extra point was blocked by Pat Lamano, Keyport end.

Ken Bruder, Matawan's outstanding and hard-charging guard, blocked a Keyport punt with Marv Hauser recovering the loose ball for the Huskies on the Keyport 25.

Hauser lost two yards on an end sweep and then came the 15-yard penalty that really set the stage for the game's only score. The officials stepped off the yardage to the Raider nine and then Vena faded back and hit Parrish with a bullseye heave in the end zone for the precious six points.

The Huskies outplayed Keyport in the first half but the underdog Red Raiders took the play away from the home team in a second half comeback that went for naught.

Keyport's most serious threat came with approximately four minutes remaining in the ball game.

Coach Tuffy Baker's boys drove all the way to the Huskie six, but lost the ball on downs as Bobby Mirro, on a wide sweep, was tossed out of bounds for no gain.

The Raiders started their drive from their own 34 and a big break kept it going.

On a fourth down punt situation with the ball on the Raider 41, Charlie Walling floated an aerial into the right flat, where a Matawan defender accidentally deflected the ball to Stu Hyman, who was tackled on the Huskie 35 for a first down at that point.

Mirro, on a delayed buck and then full spinner play, raced to the 30 and George Ruth's off-tackle maneuver positioned the pigskin at the Matawan 24. Walling then passed to Norman Rose on the Matawan 12.

Walling tried another pass and this one fell incomplete, short of the straining receiver's frantic grasp. Ruth bucked to the seven and on third down Mirro sped to the six.

On last down, Walling started running in what appeared to be a keeper play. Trapped, he decided to lateral to Mirro, but the latter was hemmed in by Matawan defenders and Keyport's big chance evaporated into thin air.

Following an exchange of kicks, Hank Cleary's fumble was recovered by Dan Vanderbilt, Matawan's mammoth center, on the 43-yard line but the Huskies were forced to punt out of bounds on the Keyport 30.

Walling, on a first down desperation aerial, had it intercepted by Kuhns, who grabbed the ball on his own 45 and streaked for the right sidelines with his downfield blocking forming ahead of him. their punts blocked, but, fortunately, the first of these they were able to recover themselves.

Matawan threatened to score in the second period as it penetrated to the Keyport 25 on Vena's line buck. Joe Sheeran lost a yard on the next play from scrimmage and then Matawan drew a five-yard penalty back to the 30. Vena completed a pass to Sheeran for no gain and a fourth down flip went incomplete.

Harold Dodson proved to be Matawan's most agile runner, straight occasions the Raiders had

Joan Beverly Heuser Is Recent Church Bride

Miss Joan Beverly Heuser, Trenton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl F. Heuser, Ravine Dr., Matawan, became the bride of Robert N. Brundage, son of Mrs. Matthew Brundage, Trenton, and the late Mr. Brundage, Saturday afternoon in the First Methodist Church, Matawan.

The Rev. Andrew C. Braun of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Trenton, performed the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by the Rev. Albert Curry, pastor of the Matawan church. Mrs. Harry Kahn, Uxbridge, Mass., formerly of Matawan, was soloist. Mrs. Koert C. Wyckoff played the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of antique ivory Skinner satin with pleated princess skirt ending in a chapel train. The neckline of Alencon lace was decorated with sequins and seed pearls. A beaded appliqued lace cap was attached to a finger-length illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of fleur d'amour centered with lilies.

Miss Lois M. Noren, Ocean Grove, served as maid of honor. She was dressed in a gown of blue-stone crystalet with a headband of pink pompons and white rosebuds, with matching bouquet. Other attendants were Miss Ruth Breen, Schroon Lake, N. Y., and Mrs. Perry Bailey, Keansburg. Their gowns of tulip pink crystalet were styled similarly to that worn by the maid of honor.

Arthur Lehmann, of Jackson Heights, N. Y., was best man. Ushers included E. Nicholas Hirth, Trenton, and Richard K. Heuser, the bride's brother. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Heuser selected a gown of mauve pink peau de soie with hat of lilac and deep pink velvet, and violet corsage. The mother of the bridegroom chose a lace gown of Dior blu with navy blue hat. She had a pale lavender orchid corsage.

For a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., the bride selected a beige wool dress with matching coat and black accessories. After Dec. 5 the couple will reside in Trenton.

A graduate of Matawan High School, Mrs. Brundage received an associate in arts degree from Rider College. She is a member of Sigma Iota Chi sorority and is secretary to the registrar and provost of Rider College.

Mr. Brundage was graduated from Asbury Park High School and Rider College. He is an accountant for the Trenton Transit Company. He served for three and a half years in the navy.

YOUR GARDEN THIS WEEK

Will it hurt my holly tree to cut off some of the berried branches for Christmas? This question came in the mail a few days ago.

No, it will not harm the holly tree to cut off some of the twigs. Of course, the tree must be large enough to stand the removal.

While a good holly tree in fruit is an asset in the garden, it may be growing irregularly. Pruning it will help to make it more shapely. Even though the plant now has a shapely form, removal of some of its twigs and branches may be done in such a way as to make it become more dense.

Pruning any plant is a matter of judgment combined with some knowledge of how the plant grows. The fellow who "trims" a holly may be removing potential flower buds. When holly is at an age to bloom, it forms a bud that will produce a flowering twig at the tip of each shoot.

Then in the angles of the two, three and four leaves directly below the tip, buds are larger and plumper than those that form lower down. These large, plump axil buds will also produce flowering shoots. Trimming the plant like a hedge removes potential flower buds.

In selecting material to use for holiday decorations, first cut back any branches that spoil the plant's pleasing form. Usually it is better to cut such branches back rather severely—that is, farther in than the plant outline.

Always cut just above or to a twig or small branch to avoid leaving unsightly stubs. If you want what is left to grow in a certain direction, cut to a twig or branch that is growing in that general direction. Sometimes you will need to take out rather large pieces to get the shaping effect you want.

By using holly prunings in your home at holiday time, you extend the period for enjoying the beauty of the leaves and fruit.

LIQUOR LICENSE OF GROCER SUSPENDED IN TOWNSHIP

Francesco Bacicchi, proprietor of a grocery and package liquor store on County road was given a 10-day suspension of his liquor license following a hearing before the Matawan Township Committee.

Mr. Bacicchi pleaded no defense to charges of selling beer on Sunday. Charges were made by the State Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control and cited a previous violation against the licensee of selling to a minor.

The committee imposed a 15-day sentence, remitting five days for the licensee's plea, as recommended by the ABC. The suspension started Monday.

An ordinance increasing the salaries of township committeemen from $600 to $1,000 was adopted after a public hearing in which no comment was offered.

The committee sold at public auction nine lots in Cliffwood Park area, purchased by the St. Anthony's Society of Cliffwood for $550. There were no other offers for the land.

Freeholder Director Joseph C. Irwin said in a letter that the county will make a survey of the condition at Girard Ave. and Lower Main St., where the township has asked that a traffic signal be installed.

Mayor John Marz, Jr., announced he would name a recreation commission for the township after Jan. 1. Ezra W. Karkus, township attorney, who had been asked whether an ordinance was needed to establish such a commission, said the mayor may name a commission of three to five members.

MOTHER OF FOUR SENTENCED ON BOGUS CHECK COUNT

An expectant mother of four children has been sentenced to the Women's Reformatory at Clinton for issuing a total of $318 in worthless checks and for obtaining narcotics unlawfully.

The woman, Mrs. Margaret Conrad, Elizabeth, pleaded no defense to an 11-count charge of obtaining narcotics unlawfully on May 19 he said, "but for her two small and other dates and also to a 16-count charge of issuing worthless checks mostly during last May in Long Branch, Red Bank, Keansburg, Middletown Township, Matawan and Freehold.

County Judge Elvin R. Simmill sentenced the woman to serve an indeterminate term at the Women's reformatory.

Harry Mopsick, of Linden, attorney for Mrs. Conrad, pleaded for mercy.

"I plead for mercy not for her,"

he said, "but for her two small children and another that is on the way." He said she also is the mother of two older children.

"She served a short time in Clinton Reformatory," Mr. Mopsick said. "She also spent a short time at the Marlboro Hospital, but that didn't cure her desire for narcotics.

It is difficult to say which may be most mischievous to the human heart, the praise or the dispraise of men.—Mary Baker Eddy.

"CABINETS OF STEEL FOR LASTING APPEAL"

CHANGES IN YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

by Ralph W. Jones

(Manager of the Perth Amboy Social Security Office)

There is a provision in the new social security law which resembles, in some ways, the drop-out of low or no earning years which I explained in a recent article in this series. This is the provision known as the "disability freeze". However, it should not be confused with the drop-out. But it does act to discount no-earning years in the worker's average monthly wages. Like the drop-out, it is something entirely new to social security. So I'd like to explain the disability freeze in this article.

The social security disability "freeze" may be roughly compared to the "waiver of premium" which is offered to individuals who purchase ordinary life insurance. A waiver of premium is used to maintain the protection of the private insurance policy for the duration of the policy holder's disability. The social security disability provision will freeze the years during which a disability has kept the worker from earning so that those years of disability will not affect the disabled worker's social security account.

I should like to mention one fact about the disability provision which may be misunderstood at first. The disability "freeze" is not disability insurance. A person must be disabled to apply for the "freeze", but he can not receive social security benefits until he retires at age 65 or later. Then he will find that he will not receive reduced benefit amounts because his wage record has been frozen during the years in which he was unable to perform any gainful work.

Before the 1954 disability provision in the social security law, the worker, who became disabled after a long record of contribution to the labor force of the nation, may have lost his insured status. This would have been possible under the old law because the entire period of his disability was included in the time which was the basis for determining his insured status. Or if the disabled individual didn't lose his insured status, the period of his total disability during which he was earning no wages would greatly reduce his average monthly wage. And it is upon the average monthly wage that the benefit amount is computed.

The 1954 amendment with the special disability freeze was designed to correct the cut in benefits and the loss of insured status. It is a provision for those who have a long and recent record of attachment to the nation's labor force. For this reason there is a requirement that the disabled person must have worked under social security for at least five years. These five years must have been during the ten years just before the disability began. And one and a half of the five years must have been during the three just before the disability began.

Any worker who, after meeting the qualifications just described, becomes totally disabled by illness, injury, or other physical or mental impairment which is expected to be of long and indefinite duration, which is medically determined, and which has lasted for at least six months is eligible for the disability freeze. This means that his wage record for the period of his disability will be frozen and will not be counted in figuring his insured status, and the amount of his future benefits.

The provision goes into effect on January 1, 1955, and that is the first day that a disabled worker may apply for the "freeze." The disability freeze cannot be applied in cases where the worker has died or is no longer disabled at the time of application. Because of this, it is to the worker's advantage to apply for the freeze as soon as his disability begins. After a disability has been in effect for at least six months, it may be medically determined for purposes of the "freeze".

The disability freeze will not be applied in figuring benefits which are paid to survivors of disabled workers who die before July 1, 1955. If a worker is declared disabled, July 1955 is the first month in which he can be paid a retirement benefit computed with the exclusion of the period of disability. And when a worker reaches age 65, his period of disability will be considered ended. If the disabled person applies for the disability freeze before July, 1957, his wages may be frozen for a disability as far back as September, 1941, if he is still disabled at the time of application and if he meets the work requirements. After July 1957, the disability freeze will apply to wages going back only as far as a year but lasting for the entire duration of the disability.

After a period of disability has been excluded from the computation of benefits, the disabled person may take the advantage of the five-year drop-out of low earnings. I described how the drop-out works in a recent article and the same procedure will apply to the disabled individual. Along with protecting the disabled worker's insured status and benefit amount, the freeze will protect the benefit amount of the survivors and dependents of a qualified disabled person.

Your district social security office, 313 State street, Perth Amboy will be glad to furnish additional information on this part of the social security law.
