FIGHT LOOMS AS SCHOOL PROPOSAL ELECTION NEARS

The Madison Township Home and Property Owners Association is planning a vigorous fight to defeat the proposed building of a 26-room school building in the Browntown area. The association has gone on record as saying the proposed new school will not eliminate the present congested conditions nor will it eliminate half-day school sessions.

A special school election on the proposed 26-room school has been called by the township board of education for December 14.

In order to effect the full-day sessions, the association pointed out, the board of education should abandon the Browntown School plan and then attempt to construct two schools of smaller size, one in Laurence Harbor and the other in Old Bridge.

These two schools would "best serve" the highly concentrated population areas and would place "most" township children on the full-day program, the association asserted.

Two spokesmen, Thomas Wilson and Andrew Honchar, said that the addition of from 10 to 12 classrooms to the Memorial School in Laurence Harbor would enable all children of that community as well as of the Cliffwood section to be educated on a full-time basis.

Two others, Michael Agolia and J. R. Mackey, organizational directors for Old Bridge, added that because of the proposed building of about 1,000 homes in Old Bridge by December of next year the present school facilities there will be inadequate.

They suggested that the construction of an elementary school in Old Bridge would eliminate all present part-time classes. They recommended that a survey be made to eliminate the present multiple grade classes in the Browntown School.

The association said its position was firm and logical that the building of a single elementary school in Browntown would require the transportation of from 500 to 700 pupils from Cliffwood, Laurence Harbor and Old Bridge. The transportation of less than 200 pupils from Browntown would be involved if two schools were built elsewhere, the association maintained.

The fight is being continued under the leadership of Wilson as chairman, Honchar as executive director, David E. Watson and director of tax equalization, Charles Shimak as treasurer, Mrs. Charles Shimak as director for Cliffwood Beach and Agolia and Mackey as the Old Bridge representatives.

THE PASSING OF AN ERA

All of us who knew George Walker, all of us who worked or had contact with him through almost an entire century were deeply shocked and sorrowed at word of his passing at his home in Waycross, Georgia.

Mr. Walker, president of The Madison American Publishing Company was a leader, a warrior, a man of the same stock and timber with which our great American ancestors were endowed.

He had the pioneer spirit, the fierce, God-fearing determined spirit that made America strong.

His great deeds are already written on this page and other pages throughout the nation. His will to win, his pioneer determination will be carried on by all those who knew and respected him. His spirit will continue to live as will the spirit of true Americans and a strong America. They were, in reality, one and the same.

A man who fought in the majority of his nation's wars, its victorious battles, has found his long-sought peace at last. May the Lord rest this true and noble patriot, George Walker, who knew, as few do, and exemplified the meaning of the word, American.

GEORGE S. WALKER, PUBLISHER, VETERAN OF FIVE WARS, DIES

George S. Walker, formerly of Laurence Harbor and Perth Amboy, a veteran of several wars and a member of the nation's first tank corps, died Saturday in Waycross, Ga., after a long illness. He was 92.

He fought in the Spanish-American War, the Boxer Rebellion in China, the Philippine Insurrection and World War I, and participated in the U. S. punitive expedition to Mexico in 1914.

He belonged to President Eisenhower's tank corps of which he was the oldest living member. He was reported to be the second oldest Legionnaire.

When World War II broke out he volunteered at the age of 80 but, although commended by the Secretary of War, he had to be content with replacing a drafted linotype operator on the Bound Brook Chronicle. Gov. Harold Hoffman at that time wrote saying it was hard to conceive of a war without him.

He was president of the Madison American Publishing Co., which publishes The Madison American, weekly newspaper in Laurence Harbor.

Publisher of two newspapers in Perth Amboy, shortly before the United States entered World War I, he disposed of his holdings to help organize Battery E of the 2nd New Jersey Field Artillery. He served as first sergeant of the outfit.

He falsified his age to become a member of the tank corps in World War I. Taking 18 men to Ft. Slocum to enlist, Mr. Walker told the recruiter he was 38, and "he took me." Officers checking his record in Washington found he was a veteran of San Juan Hill in Cuba. A court martial was ordered and he was convicted of falsifying his age.

Before the proceedings could be reviewed his outfit was ordered to Europe and the 52-year-old Mr. Walker went along. Another conviction followed when he arrived in France but Col. George S. Patton, later a general famous in World War II, interceded in his behalf.

Patton was quoted as saying, "I admire this man. Millions have lied to stay out but here's one who lied to get in."

One of Mr. Walker's prized possessions was the distinguished Service Medal of Valor awarded him in 1932 at the New Jersey State convention of the American Legion in Camden. The medal was for his heroism in rescuing a child from drowning in Laurence Harbor.

The citation which accompanied the medal read, he plunged fully clothed into the bay and swam to the assistance of the child who was struggling in the water and about to drown. He was almost 70 at that time.

CHARGE WATER COMPANY WITH FRANCHISE BREACH

Charging the Madison Water Company, by its failure to install water mains on Marlboro Rd., had failed to abide by the terms of its franchise, the Madison Township Committee, at its meeting directed Henry Spitzer, township attorney, to bring the matter before the Public Utility Commission.

Only one partial bid was received on the 1955 garbage contract and it was rejected since it did not include garbage collection for the entire township.

The bid was received from Earl W. Emmons of Matawan who offered to collect and dispose of garbage in the Laurence Harbor-Cliffwood Beach area for $11,995 per year.

The bid will be readvertised with a one or three year option clause.

Committeeman James Robbins gave a warning to all individuals in the habit of chasing fire trucks and thereby hindering the progress of the volunteer firemen during a blaze.

COMPLAINTS OF POOR DRAINAGE HEARD BY BODY

John Mackay, appearing before the Madison Township Committee for the Township Homeowners and Property Owners Association, presented several complaints to the committee.

Mackay first asked the committee to build a temporary retaining wall between South Wood and Circle Manor to prevent the overflow of storm water from the former into the latter.

Mackay was told by Jurman that William Baker, township engineer, had inspected the South Wood grounds and had sent in a report at the last meeting. Baker pointed out the South Wood property adjacent to Circle Manor is presently ungraded. When it is graded the storm water will cease to flow over into the Circle Manor land, flooding cellars and cesspools there.

The committee agreed, however, to take Mackay's request under consideration.

Another complaint presented by Mackay had to do with the condition of the roads in Circle

LAURENCE HARBOR DRIVER KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Edward Stephenson, 44, of 220 Hillcrest Ave., Laurence Harbor, was fatally injured Monday night when he apparently lost control of his car while driving south on Morristown Rd., and it crashed into a concrete abutment at the intersection of Laurence Parkway, Cheesequake.

He was pronounced dead at 9 p.m., an hour after his car crashed the abutment at Perth Amboy General Hospital where he was taken by the Laurence Harbor First Aid Squad. Police said death was caused when Stephenson's chest was crushed in the accident, puncturing both lungs.

Police said there were skid marks on the road from a point 45 feet away from the concrete pillar as Stephenson apparently attempted to halt his car before the impact.

ACKERSON REPORTS ON PROGRESS OF LAW CENTER FUND

Pledges to the New Jersey Law Center Development program now total $556,364 from all sources. Henry E. Ackerson, Jr., of Keyport, retired New Jersey Supreme Court Justice and general chairman of the development committee has reported.

In his report, made to the board of trustees and Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of the State University, Justice Ackerson noted that the development committee now needs $43,636 to meet the $600,000 goal set for members of the bar, professional firms and business corporations.

In its proposed budget for 1955-56, Rutgers has asked the state for a $600,000 appropriation to match the private contributions toward the law center. It is estimated that the proposed legal building will cost approximately $1,200,000.

Mr. Ackerson referred to the wide participation by members of the bar in the development program and pointed out that the fund drive will close very soon.

"Now is the time for all lawyers to come to the aid of their chosen profession," the drive chairman declared. "The demands of modern legal education, research and related activities are expanding to the point where we are desperately in need of the facilities of a modern law center in our state to function effectively as a citadel of legal culture and services for the benefit of all our citizens."

Justice Ackerson said the names of subscribers of $150 or more will be inscribed on the memorial plaque which will have a permanent place in the proposed law building.

COLONEL SNOOK RETIRES AS STATE POLICE HEAD

Colonel Russell A. Snook, Superintendent of State Police, today announced his retirement on January 1, 1955 after completion of more than 31 years of service. Colonel Snook was appointed Superintendent on April 1, 1952 and his term expired with the Governor in January of this year. He was held over by Governor Meyner.

Colonel Snook will be 55 in August and the present law makes retirement from the State Police compulsory at that age with 25 years of service.

Colonel Snook entered the State Police in 1922 with the second training class. He completed the first two years of service in 1924 with the grade of Sergeant and after a lapse of one year returned to the organization in 1925. Progressively, he served in various ranks and grades, including Captain. In 1930 he organized the State Bureau of Identification and remained in command of that agency until 1940 when he entered active duty with the rank of Major in the assignment G-2 Intelligence Officer with the 44th Division, New Jersey National Guard.

During six years military leave he served as a member of the Military Police Board. In 1940 he completed a special course in the Army Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth. In January 1941 he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel. In 1942 he was assigned to the School of Military Government at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville where he completed a four-month course followed by four months of special studies in preparation for overseas assignment.

In July 1943 Colonel Snook participated in the occupation of Italy and remained in assignments as Superintendent of Civil Police and Public Safety Officer of the Sicily region. He was promoted to Colonel in January 1945 and assigned to planning for the organization of the police services in the occupation of Austria. During the period April to December 1943 he commanded the Military Government Detachment responsible for the organization of the civil government in Upper Austria.

After his separation from the service in 1946 he returned to the State Police and was shortly thereafter promoted to Major and Executive Officer in which position he remained until the retirement of his predecessor, Colonel Chas. H. Schoeffel on April 1, 1952 when he was appointed Superintendent.

MARLBORO BOARD MEMBER SCORES BODY FOR "DEALS"

A Marlboro Township Board of Education member has charged the board with "making too many deals in the past" and with stalling and playing politics with the proposed elementary school project.

The board member, Ulrich Eisenmann, told the board that "someone was stalling on this school project." He said "politics evidently is coming into the Board of Education."

"People ask about the location of the new school and we can't tell them," Mr. Eisenmann said. "We have no building committee and for that reason I don't think I should go around inquiring about property on which to build the school."

He declared he was not going to keep quiet and that he opposed all "deals."

"There have been so many deals around here the past few years it's not funny," he said. "I've had the wool pulled over my eyes. I woke up to find I was blind."

When questioned after the meeting, Mr. Eisenmann would not elaborate on his remarks.

During the meeting, other board members did not comment on his statements. One member, however, suggested a committee be formed and action taken with regard to the proposed elementary school. The board took no action on the committee proposal.

The board then decided to meet with several property owners to discuss the cost of lands as possible school sites. The board, however, fixed no definite date for the meetings.

Dan Brewer, chairman of the building and grounds committee, said when the board selects a ten to 15-acre tract for the school, the next step will be obtaining an option on the property.

"After we get an option on the property," he explained, "we'll turn the matter over to the board attorney for preparation of the necessary bond ordinances and legal work involved."

Mr. Brewer said the proposed elementary school would house about 240 pupils. He said the school would cost about $14,000 a classroom and added that no target date for construction has yet been set by the board. He said discussion on the proposed school was begun last spring.

The board, in other business, granted permission for parents to insure their children against injuries suffered in connection with school activities.

Several parents present said an insurance firm would provide coverage for each child at a cost to the parents of $1 a year. Permission of the board was required by the firm before it would insure the pupils, the board was told.

On a related matter, Mrs. Charles Holmes, Englishtown Rd., Morganville, submitted a bill of $27 to the board for medical expenses she said were incurred as the result of an injury to the hand of her six-year-old boy.

She said the boy, a pupil at the Morganville School suffered the injury as the result of an accident in which his hand smashed a pane of glass in a school door.

The board referred Mrs. Holmes' bill to its attorney, Clinton T. Barkalow, for study and recommendations.

SUBJECT TO REVIEW

This newspaper wholeheartedly acknowledges the need for additional school facilities to cope with overcrowded conditions apparent in the Madison Township School district.

Certainly there is the need, certainly there is the problem and a solution. We question however, if the solution as proposed by the township board of education is correct.

The construction of a large central school to house all 5th to 8th graders is a step in the right direction. However, we feel the matter should be subject to review.

Undoubtedly, our sprawling community, which has one of the largest square areas in the state, is going to grow in population. Two largest population centers destined to grow even further from all building reports are those of the Laurence Harbor-Cliffwood Beach and Old Bridge areas where large building developments are already underway.

The need for two large schools to cope with the increased enrollment in these areas will grow more apparent as time passes. Additions to the present Laurence Harbor and Old Bridge schools should be further considered.

We appreciate the fact the board has given considerable study to the proposed 26-room centralized school but we maintain our school problem will continue to grow as a regional and sectional one, not as a centralized condition.

Tremendous sums are involved in this step forward. Let us all be certain the step is the correct one. Let us subject the school problem to further scrutiny through a thorough review of all the facts and suppositions available to us at this time.

MATAWAN VOTERS APPROVE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

Matawan school district voters Thursday night voted 796-219 in favor of the construction of a 12-room $239,500 grammar school building at Broad and Church Sts., adjacent to present school facilities there.

A landslide vote in Matawan proper favoring the proposal of the board of education carried the measure although it was rejected in the Cliffwood voting district. The school district comprises both Matawan borough and township.

Matawan voted 765-44 in favor of the construction proposal while voters in general election district 2 and 3 of the township rejected the question 175-31. The total vote was recorded at 1,016 with one ballot rejected.

Approval of the construction program carried with it endorsement of a bond issue of $224,500 and approval of a board proposal to transfer $15,000 from current expenses to the capital outlay account to finance the new building.

Work on the new one-story school building, the first addition to Matawan grammar school since 1924, will begin as soon as contracts can be awarded, Edward W. Currie, board president, announced.

RARITAN POST OF AMERICAN LEGION PLANS ACTIVITIES

A regular business meeting of Raritan Post No. 23, American Legion was held on Thursday night with 27 members present. County delegates reported they had attended a meeting at Farmingdale on Dec. 6, where the speaker of the evening was Edward Clyons, Past Department Commander and presently a member of the National Americanism Committee.

Clyons detailed the work of the Americanism Committee, stating that the National Executive Committee assigns a budget of $150,000 for his work and the Committee spent over $800,000 with funds from private enterprise. Ford Motor Co., for instance, contributes $50,000 while the National Baseball Commission is this year donating $60,000. The baseball commission's contribution is devoted to support of the Legion's Junior B.B. program which engages the activities of thousands of boys Jurman, however, agreed for the sake of expediency to have a township grader work on the roads this week. Jurman pointed out until the roads are put into proper condition by Sadowski, the contractor will receive no building permits.

AIR FORCE MAN KILLED ON HIGHWAY WAS INTOXICATED

Airman 3/c Arlin Howard, 27, stationed at McGuire Air Force Base near Fort Dix, was killed instantly early Sunday morning when he was struck by a car while crossing Highway 35 about 300 feet northwest of Clark St., Keyport.

Howard was pronounced D.O.A., when brought to the offices of Dr. Francis W. Holman, Broad St., by the First Aid Squad.

An autopsy performed on the victim showed he died of brain injuries as the result of a fractured skull and that blood specimens showed "marked intoxication," at the time of the accident.

Keyport police reported the car was operated by Catherine Stillwaggon, 40, of 27 Weldon Rd., Matawan, who was returning from Rumson shortly after 2 a.m. The

OPEN HOUSE HELD HONORING HAZLET RESIDENT NOW 94

Friends and relatives Friday paid special tribute to Mrs. Mary Hertle at an open house celebration in honor of her 94th birthday. Open house was held at the home of Mrs. Hertle's daughter, Mrs. W. Pierson Dean of Bethany Rd., Hazlet.

Born in Germany in 1860, Mrs. Hertle came to America with her parents at the age of 8. The family settled in Brooklyn, where Mrs. Hertle later married the late John Hertle in 1881. The couple then moved to Long Island, accompanied by Mrs. Hertle's father, the late Emil Swihlender. The Hertles came to Keyport in 1905 and three years later moved to Hazlet.

Here, they purchased the George Hardy property on the Hazlet-Holmdel Road and Bethany Road where they made their home. Mrs. Hertle gave a piece of property to each of her children to build themselves a home, which they did on Bethany Rd.

The Hertles had 12 children, six girls and six boys, eight of whom are now living. There are 21 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hertle's children include Mrs. Bina Storzinger and John Hertle, Long Island; Mrs. Mamie Bryne and Charles Hertle, Keyport; Frank Hertle, Matawan; Mrs. Rose Reya, Mrs. Adeline Dean, and Mrs. Anna Dean, Hazlet.

NEW SCHOOL ARSHIPS PROVIDED BY FOOD STORE CHAIN

Six new four-year scholarships worth $1,000 each have been made available by the Food Fair Stores Foundation for freshmen entering the State University next fall, it was announced today by Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of Rutgers.

These scholarships are in addition to the six the food store chain foundation established at Rutgers last year. Like the earlier ones, they will be awarded to outstanding public and parochial high school graduates chosen by the University's scholarship committee from among residents of the counties in which Food Fair maintains stores.

These counties now include Atlantic, Essex, Burlington, Camden, Passaic, Union, Bergen, Mercer, Middlesex, Hudson, Morris, Ocean and Cumberland.

The first six recipients of Food Fair Scholarships entered various divisions of the State University last fall as members of their respective freshman classes.

MINERAL CLUB IS FORMED IN COUNTY RECENTLY

A group of Monmouth County residents with a common interest in minerals, gems and fossils have organized a club where they can meet and help each other increase their knowledge of mineralogy. A "Rock Hound" is one of the most enthusiastic of collectors. Some of the members have been on field trips through the Fall and a date for a field trip finds them away early in the morning, with pick, bag and lunch. New Jersey and nearby Pennsylvania are filled with many interesting minerals.

One of the most interesting trips was to Franklin, N. J., where beautiful fluorescent minerals were collected. More than 140 different minerals have been found in the Franklin area.

Closer to home at Sayreville, N. J. beautiful Pyrite balls were found. 70 million year old fossils were found in Marl turned up during the excavation for the Garden State Parkway. On trips to other locations some of the minerals found were Tourmaline, Beryl, Garnet, Carnelian, Jasper and Uranium minerals.

The club meets at the Youth Center, Fisk street, Fair Haven.

CORN-GROWING CHAMP REPEATS IN 1954 CONTEST

Still New Jersey's corn growing champion is Robert J. Lecher of Morris County.

The Berkshire Valley poultry farmer won the statewide title in 1953 by producing 164.3 bushels an acre. This year he again entered the 100-Bushel Corn Club sponsored by the Extension Service of Rutgers University and added 20 bushels to his average yield, for a total of 184.3 bushels an acre.

Amazed crops specialists at the State University rubbed their eyes and looked again when Lecher's records came in. A double-check showed that Lecher's nine acres of corn in a rather low part of his farm thrived in spite of the summer drought.

His yield is astonishing in view of the fact that an average 10-year yield of corn in New Jersey is 44.3 bushels an acre, which in turn is better than the national average of about 34 bushels.

UNION BEACH LIONS PLANS CHRISTMAS PARTY SOON

The month of January has been designated as Melvin Jones birthday month in honor of the founder of Lionism. A membership drive will be conducted during that period.

More than 4½ million Americans, age 65 or over, are now receiving old-age payments under social security. They make up more than a third of all elderly people in the United States.

All Heating Oils Are Not Alike

15 Years of Shell Research
Overcomes A Major Cause of Oil Burner Service Calls

Clogged filter screens have been recognized for years as a major cause of oil burner service calls.

Shell Research spent 15 years developing a way to combat screen clogging. The result was FOA-5X, an additive that is now in every gallon of Shell Furnace Oil.

During three years of exhaustive testing of FOA-5X in thousands of homes not a single case of burner failure due to a clogged filter screen was reported.

For carefree heat all season, switch to Shell Furnace Oil with FOA-5X. It costs no more than ordinary heating oils. Call us today. We'll make all the arrangements.

CHANGES IN YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

by Ralph W. Jones
(Manager of the Perth Amboy Social Security Office)

In the first article of this series, I mentioned the fact that one of the main objectives of social security is to bring more members of the nation's labor force under its insurance program. When President Roosevelt signed the original Social Security Act in 1935, he called it "a cornerstone in a structure which is being built, but which is by no means complete." Since the social security system began in 1937, five amendments have built upon this original "cornerstone" a building which will protect many more people from the storms of financial worries in the later years. This same strong building will protect whole families from economic distress if their breadwinner dies. With the 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act, President Eisenhower and Congress have made the edifice of social protection even larger to include over ten million more working people. About seven million employed and self-employed men and women are coming into the program on January 1, 1955 on a compulsory basis and about three and a quarter million more working people are eligible on a voluntary basis or at the option of their employers. Over three and a half million farm operators will be covered social security for the first time after 1954. This is the largest single group to be brought under the program. The new amendment also provides an easy way for newly covered farm operators report their earnings for social security purposes if these earnings are low. I'll explain this specific method of income reporting in a later article. A second large group is comprised of over two million more farm employees. The new amendment covers all farm employees who earn $100 or more in cash from the same farm employer in a year, and abolishes the regularity of work provision of the old law. Eligible to earn their future protection for the first time, about three and a half million State and local government employees. These are workers who are already under a State or local retirement system, but they must now be brought under the social security program without losing the protection of their other retirement plan if their State makes an agreement with the Federal government. Also, 150 thousand Federal government employees will be under the program for the first time after 1954. About 100 thousand professional people who work for themselves may begin to earn their social

1, thousand American citizens who are employed abroad by foreign subsidiaries of American corporations eligible for coverage at the option of the parent American firm. And Americans who work on ships or aircraft of foreign registry for American employers are covered for the first time. About 40 thousand more fishermen who are employed workers will begin earning their future insurance. They will be covered by social security regardless of the tonnage of the fishing vessel or the nature of the catch. If this article has answered the fundamental question of who is covered by the new amendment, it has probably raised many more questions. For, as you see, there is no general rule for all of these newly covered men and women to follow. (One exception to this is that all of these newly covered people should get their social security cards right away.) Because the new law affects each group just a little differently, I will devote several articles in this series to discussions of separate groups. Advertise in this paper.

NJSIAA PICKS THREE TEAMS FROM SHORE AS SECTIONAL CHAMPS

The Shore area, for the second year in a row, has turned out three sectional high school state football champions. Two of the newly named champs will be wearing their crowns for the second consecutive year but this time on a sharing basis.

Asbury Park and Freehold were again named by the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association (NJSIAA) as Group 4 and Group 2 champions of Central Jersey respectively. But this season both schools share their honors. Thomas Jefferson tied with Asbury Park's Blue Bishops and Highland Park tied with Freehold.

The one Shore team that was not rivaled for its hold on a title was Red Bank Catholic, which took the South Jersey Class B Parochial School crown after an undefeated season, marred by one tie.

Red Bank Catholic replaces Matawan as the third Shore champion. Matawan captured the Group 1 Central Jersey crown last season, but was beaten out this year by Frenchtown, which also boasted a spotless record.

The point totals, which are worked out on a complex basis, stressing quality of opposition, did not necessarily stipulate the champions in most sections of the state. Asbury Park, with a 8-1-0 record this year, received 542 points while New Brunswick, listed second to the champions, turned up with 564 points. The Jefferson team finished the season with a 7-2-0 record and compiled 560 points.

In the Group two division, Carteret finished up with 409 points, but gave way to Freehold with 301 points and Highland Park with 338.

Red Bank Catholic, by virtue of its undefeated season, was the unanimous choice in the South Jersey Class B Parochial with 250 points, as compared to its second place St. Joseph's of Camden's 244 points.

The Group III title in North Jersey section I went to Tenafly, even tho it finished with a lower point total than Hackensack and Englewood.

for huge chunks of yardage.

Don Anderson, Keyport guard, was named to the Record's second team along with Fede. Daniel Vanderbilt, Matawan's mammoth center was named on the third All-County team.
