"Our life is made up of little things," said attention to them is the index to our character, and often the balance by which we are weighed.

"How do you like the character of St. Paul?" asked a person of his landlady one day, during a conversation about the old saints and the apostles.

"Ah! he was a good, clever old soul, I know, for he once said, you know, that what eat what is set before us, and ask no questions for conscience sake. I always thought I should like him for a boarder."

A colored firm in Newark, having secured some pecuniary embarrasments, recently closed business, and the senior member gave to the public the following notice:

Be dissolution of copartners heretofore constituted twixt me and Moses Jones in the Barber profession, heretofore resolved. Inasmuch as we must pay to the scriber: Dentist, that the firm one must null on Jones, as the firm is insolvent."

The Columbia S. C. "Phoenix" advises us as follows: "Wanted, at this office, a note-booker, have fastened, last-Supper, and not to be put off and not to be backed up. One, foolishly faced young man to collect for this paper; must furnish his own horse, saddle-bags, pistols, whisky, bowie knife, and cow-hide. We will furnish the accounts. To such we promise constant and laborious employment."

A sheriff officer was once asked to execute a writ against a Quaker. On arriving at his house he saw the Quaker's wife, who, in reply to the inquiry whether her husband was at home, said he was, at the same time requesting him to be seated; and her husband nodded speedily see him.

The officer waited patiently for some time when the Quakeress coming into the room she reminded her of her promise that he might see her husband.

"Nay, friend! I promised that he would see thee. He has seen thee. He did not like thy looks; therefore, he avoided thee and hath departed from the house by another path."

ed in the said city, if so many there be, at least fifteen entire days before the day of holding any election hereinafter mentioned, and by printed bills put up in five of the most public places of said city, for a like period of time, to be held at the time and place therein mentioned, the said time and place to be designated by the said Common Council, to vote such a sum of money to be raised by the said city, as the said Common Council may think necessary to be raised for the uses of the said city, and which sum of money shall be stated in the said bill, at which said election only such persons shall be entitled to vote as shall be entitled to vote at any regular annual election of said city; the voting to be by ballot, written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, for or against the sum of money proposed by the said Common Council, and by their said notice; which said ballot shall contain the word "money," or the words "no money;" the time of opening and closing the poll at such elections, and the manner of conducting the same, shall be as is prescribed by this act for annual elections; and every sum of money so voted by any resolution of the said Common Council, to be raised by the said city, and approved of by a majority of the whole number of lawful ballots cast in any such election, shall be assessed, collected, and regulated, according to the twenty-eighth section of this act.

NO PERMANENT DEBT. Sec. 20. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for the said Common Council to borrow money on the faith and in the name of said city, except when necessary to anticipate the collection of taxes, and then, for an amount never to exceed in the aggregate the sum of five thousand dollars, or for a period later than sixty days after the taxes for the current year are actually due; and every such temporary loan or loans shall be fully paid and redeemed out of the taxes so collected.

THE PEOPLE TO KNOW HOW THE MONEY IS SPENT. Sec. 14. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the Treasurer of said city, to receive and pay out all moneys belonging to the said city, under the direction and by authority of the said Common Council; to make out annually, on the second Tuesday in April, or officer, should the said Common Council so require, and publish in two newspapers published in said city, if so many there be, a detailed and true statement of all moneys received into the treasury, and of all moneys disbursed therefrom, from the commencement of his official year to the date aforesaid.

EQUAL RIGHTS. Some of the Republican Senators from the Pacific States appear to hesitate about swallowing the pending no color suffrage amendment to the Constitution of the United States, because it will likely enfranchise the hordes of Chinamen and Japanese, now domiciled and to be domiciled within those distant "star spangled" provinces of the great Congressional Mogul. Why should such hesitancy exist? Are not the straight-haired, pig-tailed, copper colored sons of the ancient Flowery Kingdom, quite as intelligent as the woolly headed, thick lipped sons of barbaric Africa? Cannot Chinese Johnny vote an engraved leaf of "Costa's Rat Extirminator" with as much dignity and effect as African Sambo? Certainly he can, and to deprive him of the opportunity to be elected to the offices for which he shall be voted for respectively, and shall hold their offices for the terms specified in this act, provided that when the members of the Common Council, not more than six names shall be printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, on any one ballot, or be voted for by any one voter, and the eleven persons voted for as members of the Common Council receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected; and if it be found to exist between names receiving the lowest number of votes, and the necessity therefor arises, in order to designate the chosen eleven members of Common Council, to drop one or more names, the persons whose names are so dropped, shall be dropped from the list of names so voted for; and provided also, that in voting for Judges of Election, for members of the Appeal, respectively, not more than two names shall be printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, on any one ballot, or be voted for by any one voter, and the three persons receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected Judges of Election and Commissioners of Appeal respectively, and in the event of a tie between names, the person receiving the highest number of votes, the same formality shall be observed as this section prescribes in the case of members of Common Council.

TAXATION LIMITED. Sec. 18. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Common Council of said city to order and caused to be assessed and raised by tax in any one year, such sum of money, not exceeding ten thousand dollars, as they shall deem expedient for the current expenses of said city, and for all other objects and purposes authorized by this act, to be assessed and collected in the same manner as the assessors and collectors of townships are or may be by law required to assess and collect the State and County taxes; which taxes, when assessed, shall be paid by the lands of the Treasurer of said city, and be subject to the order of the said Common Council.

RETRA TAXATION TO BE VOTED UPON AND SANCTIONED BY THE PEOPLE. Sec. 10. And be it enacted, That whenever hereafter a greater sum of money than the said sum of ten thousand dollars shall, in the opinion of the said Common Council, be necessary to be raised in any one year for the uses of the said city, then, and in such case, the said Common Council are hereby authorized to give notice to the inhabitants of said city, by advertisement published in two newspapers printed in the said city, if so many there be, at least fifteen entire days before the day of holding any election hereinafter mentioned, and by printed bills put up in five of the most public places of said city, for a like period of time, to be held at the time and place therein mentioned, the said time and place to be designated by the said Common Council, to vote such a sum of money to be raised by the said city, as the said Common Council may think necessary to be raised for the uses of the said city, and which sum of money shall be stated in the said bill, at which said election only such persons shall be entitled to vote as shall be entitled to vote at any regular annual election of said city; the voting to be by ballot, written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, for or against the sum of money proposed by the said Common Council, and by their said notice; which said ballot shall contain the word "money," or the words "no money;" the time of opening and closing the poll at such elections, and the manner of conducting the same, shall be as is prescribed by this act for annual elections; and every sum of money so voted by any resolution of the said Common Council, to be raised by the said city, and approved of by a majority of the whole number of lawful ballots cast in any such election, shall be assessed, collected, and regulated, according to the twenty-eighth section of this act.

NO PERMANENT DEBT. Sec. 20. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for the said Common Council to borrow money on the faith and in the name of said city, except when necessary to anticipate the collection of taxes, and then, for an amount never to exceed in the aggregate the sum of five thousand dollars, or for a period later than sixty days after the taxes for the current year are actually due; and every such temporary loan or loans shall be fully paid and redeemed out of the taxes so collected.

THE PEOPLE TO KNOW HOW THE MONEY IS SPENT. Sec. 14. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the Treasurer of said city, to receive and pay out all moneys belonging to the said city, under the direction and by authority of the said Common Council; to make out annually, on the second Tuesday in April, or officer, should the said Common Council so require, and publish in two newspapers published in said city, if so many there be, a detailed and true statement of all moneys received into the treasury, and of all moneys disbursed therefrom, from the commencement of his official year to the date aforesaid.

MILLIONS ON MILLIONS. The public debt of the United States INCREASED during January $15,498,436.53! Nearly fifteen million of dollars. Does the people ponder such a trifling statement? Are they bereft of reason? It is the result of Congressional profligacy and corruption, which even a Republican journal, the Evening Post, is forced to condemn in the following pointed language: "What is Congress doing?"

Making grants to the railways of regions of country large enough for principalities, and sure to yield revenues ample enough to corrupt in future years every legislator who is capable of being bribed. Planning to build other railways under the authority of Congress. Brooding over schemes to bridge our rivers, our straits and narrows at the expense of the government. Maturing a plan to take possession of the telegraph lines of the country, in order to administer them by officers and agents of the United States. Getting ready to propose the purchase of San Domingo, to add it, with its colored population, to the territory of the United States. Considering forty-one new railroad schemes presented in the Senate, and thirty-seven in the House of Representatives, all claiming aid in lands and bonds of the Treasury—claims which, it is estimated, will require not less than two hundred and fifty millions of acres and four hundred millions of dollars, and which involve the construction of eight thousand miles of railway track.

So utterly inattentive Congress to what the people expect of it so blind is it to the real disintegration of the times, or if not blind, yet either so ignorant of the remedy or so unwilling to incur the resentment and opposition of those who thrive by the public evils.

Radical Chickens Come Home to Roost. The Republicans of Whitehall, Washington County, N. Y., wanted to carry the town by forty majority. It went Democratic by one hundred and eighty-six majority, whereas the Republicans said bribery must have been in operation, and proceedings were instituted by attorney George the charge. The testimony appears to have been mainly of the following nature, which we copy from the Whitehall Times:

John Rieatt, sworn: Q. Do you know Mr. E. E. Davis? A. Yes, sir. Q. Did he give you any money on election day? A. No, sir. Q. Did any one give you money for voting? A. Yes, sir. Q. Who? A. James Dorn agreed to pay me five dollars if I would vote the Republican ticket. I voted his five dollars, and he told me "I'll give you five dollars, and he paid me."

Norman Kilburn, sworn: Q. Did any one promise you anything for voting on election day? A. Yes, sir. Q. Who? A. Mr. W. W. Cook said he would let me have a house to live in if I would vote the Republican ticket. I voted his five dollars, and he told me "I'll give you five dollars, and he paid me."

Q. Did you see any one pay money for voting? A. I saw Judge Potter pay five dollars for a vote; he offered five dollars if I would vote the Republican ticket. Q. Did E. E. Davis pay you any money on election day? A. No, sir. Q. Did he agree to pay you anything for voting? A. No, sir.

The Times adds: "Thus ended the first lesson in which all the 'Radical chickens' went home to roost. Justice beareth like a star upon the brow of virtue and truth, but its shadowy last fallow over the countenances of those who will 'sell themselves as others see them.' End of chapter I. Our second chapter is yet to be written."

Democracy. The following are the resolves adopted by the Connecticut Democracy in State Convention at Hartford. Resolved, That we shall continue to adhere to constitutional principles heretofore avowed by the Democracy of this State, under which party the country has prospered and taken the front rank among the nations of the earth. Resolved, That while we opposed with our best efforts the selection of General Grant to the Presidency, we nevertheless have no desire or design to embarrass his administration by any capacious opposition to his recommendations, and are disposed to sustain him in every just and constitutional measure which he may propose.

Resolved, That the attempt of the leaders of the radical party in Congress to deprive the State of the Union of their right to prescribe the terms and conditions of the suffrage of their own citizens is designed as a fatal blow at the most essential reserved right of the States; that it is an assault upon the sovereignty of the States, and over the creator—an undignified usurpation by our servants in Congress over their masters, the people; and we will resist, by all lawful means, this contemplated outrage upon the rights of the people.

delit, so persistently made against us by our political opponents, is a slender, without excuse or provocation, as our purpose of economy in the public expenditures is the best and most commendable of all, and the public debt, and leading to a general and safe resumption of specie payments; and to this end we demand of our representatives in Congress and in the Legislature the sternest opposition to all such propositions (and not absolutely required for the support of the government until every creditor of the same is paid his honest debt to the uttermost farthing.

California. 'Tew people have any idea of the extent of California. The State is 700 miles long, about 200 wide. San Francisco and Sacramento together have a population of about 170,000, leaving about 300,000 population for this vast area of country—as large as all New England and New York and Pennsylvania together. It would sustain a population of 10,000,000. It would make a large and happy Kingdom. The State has 13,000,000 bushels of wheat to spare, which will bring in from $18,000,000 to $30,000,000. The wool clip is larger than ever before. The vintage produces to be the best ever gathered. Twenty-five million grape vines are in bearing, and new vine yards are the order of the day. The State has just begun its network of railroads, soon to be connected by the long spider-thread across the continent.

The product of gold in California, which formerly was sixty-five millions per annum, has fallen to about twenty-five, but the State is not going backward; on the contrary, the development never was so great as at the present time. There is more wealth in the fertile soil of the plains yet to be transmitted into golden grain, purple grapes and fabrics of silk than has been taken from the mountain gulches.

The following freely written extract from a letter in reference to the State of California, is one of the most finished personations language ever wrought: "The place which is not at the wish of the Aladdin of fiction, is not to be compared in glory, in beauty, with this. Forty years was Henry VIII. in building; workmen have been hammering and tinkering St. Peter's for centuries; the great cathedral of Cologne, though its foundations were laid five hundred years or more ago, is not half finished. Yet in California, all the structures of earth, among all the developments of time, is there anything which approaches in completeness, beauty and grandeur the State which American society, enterprise and genius has reared in nineteen years on the western slope of the continent? Think of the desolate and hills—the earth only looking out upon the lonely waters of the bay, wild horses entering over the hills—the silence of ages upon the hills—contrast it with the present and find a parallel if you can."
