

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Elizabeth Waldron Pleasant
Entertains a Party of Friends.
An enjoyable birthday party was held at the residence of Mrs. Elliott Waldron, of Greenbrook road, last Monday. It was Mrs. Waldron's thirty-sixth birthday, and the party was arranged by a few of her friends. The affair was a very pleasant one and will be remembered with much pleasure by all who attended. During the evening some excellent music was rendered by Oscar Vaughan on the harmonica and guitar; Herman Smith on the accordion; Will Murray on the violin, and George Brown on the violin.

It was not until long after midnight that the merry party thought of dispersing, having in the meantime partaken of a generous repast, which had been prepared by the young women.

Among those present were: The Misses Teansi McInnes, Beta Mu Chapter, Ypsilon, Delta, Sigma, Phi, Psi, Chi, Omega, and Gamma.

Ides, Lezzie Walford, Minnie Richards, Fannie Overland, and Mrs. Annie Overland and the Messrs. Walldorf and the Messrs. Herman Smith, Gustave Seizer, George Pickens, George Wilson, Al Springs, Oscar Vaughn, Will Murray and George Perry.

IS IT A GANG WORKING?

Looks as Though the Borough Was Afflicted With Speck Thieves.

Another bold attempt at robbery was committed in the borough Tuesday about 7 o'clock, at the home of Assemblyman Charles A. Reed. The family were at dinner when a servant in the employ of Mrs. Bloom was sent to the home of the former on an errand.

The burglars had placed a notice reach the side of the house, hoping to and secure whatever they could while the family were downstairs. Their approach of the servant frightened them, while they were getting ready to make an entrance, and they escaped before she could get an opportunity of recognizing them.

Mr. Reed was informed at once of the attempted robbery, but it was too late to make a capture.

The police have no clue as to where the robbers are and it is not likely that they will be caught.

A Theatre Party.
A number of the members of the Plainfield Lady Cyclers enjoyed a theatre party to New York Saturday afternoon where they witnessed the performance of "Countess Guerci," at Daly's Theatre. The party consisted of Mrs. John M. Crane, Miss Arline Crane, Mrs. A. S. Fritts, Mrs. E. P. Williams, Mrs. Corres Pond, Miss Grace Langdon, Miss Ethel Green, the Misses

Green, Mrs. Kate Green, Mrs. Alice Green, Mrs. Mary Green, Mrs. Lillian French, Mrs. Fritz, Mrs. Margaret York, Mrs. W. Stevens, Miss Ida Cooke, Miss Phillips, Miss K. Mann, Mrs. Mary Brown, and Mrs. A. Wilcox.

Funeral's Conspicuous.

The old residence of the late William B. T. Lane, now occupied by Percy C. Dahl, was in danger of being consumed by fire on Sunday last. The fireman's whistles caught fire but were extinguished by the aid of a fire engine and the neighbors who rushed to the rescue.

An Honor of Washington's Birthday.

An invitation of social and dancing will be held at the Olympia on Friday evening, Washington's Birthday. The committee in charge consists of A. B. Johnson, I. Pearson Agreeably surprised. Miss Minnie Nitschewitz, of Maining avenue, was most agreeably surprised Saturday evening, when more than thirty of her young friends unexpectedly called upon her at her home. The party was led by the Misses Agnes Morse and Carrie Kister. A general good time, was enjoyed by all present.

The reversal of a judgment against the Hotel Gazette, in an action by a hotel employee for libel. The jury allowed the plaintiff $300 damages. The decision setting aside the verdict was rendered by the Appellate Division on Saturday, in the case of Donohue vs. Hutterford.

A Concert by the Choral Ladies. The ladies of the Choral Society will give a concert in Vincent, chapel on Tuesday evening, February 25th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Alliance Society of the First M. E. church. Mr. Fitzgibbon will lead the singers. The concert is for the benefit of the carpet fund.

second regiments and the brigade, can be obtained upon entering the election of officers will be held. gallery. Tea will be served.

Undoubtedly the Best Club Offers
 Send to Frank Leslie's Publishing House, N. Y., for New Illustrated Premium List, Free.

of TIGER IN THE DAIRY.

The King of the Jungle Disdains
Stall-Fed Beef

Surprise of a Thirsty Bull When the B Cat "Woughed" in His Frightened Face—Locked Up After a Two

[illegible]

and held the wretched animal down and removed the net. Hardy was the first to cover when a splendid bull gator, with a part of the net which had fallen down and after scenting about the yard just as the cow had done, rushed right up to the fountain and dipped his nose in the water. Evidently he had to find out if a tiger was there or he would never have gone up in the styde he did. However after drinking, he looked up, when the tiger, who could not have been more than a few feet away, "wounded" in his face, and the way that bull went away after that did one's heart good to see.

THE TIGER CALMLY STRODDED AROUND

These were two grand opportunities for witnessing "how the tiger slices his prey," particularly as there were several sportsmen about, but unfortunately it was not to be.

After worrying the poor brute for two days and two nights, during which time he got into the net once, he quietly walked into his cage and was shut up. The cool and indifferent way in which Basanapall's fossilized hunters, with their fearfully and wonderfully made handlooms, walk up and down next

"I have read accounts of fights between turtles, between snakes and between turtles and snakes," said a hunter, "but the hardest fight I ever saw was between a rattlesnake and a muskrat. The muskrat was the victor, and he was a full-grown muskrat, such as they in deadly conflict. The snake kept up a constant rattle and would strike at the mammoth insect, which, realizing the danger, would with an angry buzz get out of the way and strike for the reptile's eyes. I watched the fight for over an hour, when the mosquito got so firm hold in an eye of the snake and in a few minutes the rattler stretched out straight and the mosquito made a beeline for me, evidently not having had fighting enough. I shot the insect and had both it and the rattler stuffed."

Two tramps in a neighboring town hit upon a novel plan to get some whisky. They went into a saloon with a gallon jug and had it filled with liquor and offered a dollar in payment. Of course, the bartender refused to accept the money and emptied the liquor back into the barrel and the tramps took the jug and departed. Later they were seen to break the earthen vessels over a stone and squeeze out over a pile of liquor from the sponges which had been placed inside.

