

THAT ASTOUNDING SUSAN

Hermit Miller Christmas Hunt on Indian Run.

He Got Some Venison and Then Two Wolves Interfered—Susan a Widow If She Had Not Been a Remarkable Woman

OLVES was with twenty-five dollars and she had a rifle... I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple...

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

"I was so hot foot to get a couple... I was so hot foot to get a couple..."

THEY ARE THERE, AN' THEY'RE APPLIC' JOE

an' Sally Ann's den't, an' they'm worth twenty-five dollars apiece! I says, 'I've got to hev 'em, apiece or no apiece!'

"I took my buckhorn-handled 'hunting' knife in one hand an' started 'em by wiggin' an' wiggin' an' wiggin' an' twistin' an' turbin' like an' ee! gin on a dam, I got half through the narrow gully, an' I was a terrible objection to my gully first, then Susan, an' then a snappin' of jaws, an' then the wolf that made 'em spring for me an' socked its teeth in my left shoulder."

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

"Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!... 'Susan says, 'I'll afeard yer as good as a widder!'

SHE WAS A LIVING TORCH

AN OLD LADY SERIOUSLY BURNED THIS NOON.

Mr. Aldrich, Was Building a Fire in a Store When Her Clothes Caught Fire—Slightly Burned Before Put Out.

Mrs. Charlotte Aldrich, a widow aged 74 years, and mother of Alonzo Aldrich, of Sherman avenue, met with an accident Saturday at noon which will probably result in her death.

Mrs. Aldrich lives in a small house on Sherman avenue, about 500 feet to the east of her son's home. The fire in her kitchen stove was nearly burned out and she was rebuilding it when her clothes caught fire from the flames.

In a second they were all aflame and temporarily deranged, she ran outdoors and began to scream. There was no one in the house at the time, and she was alone when the attention of Alex Jeffers and another man who were working in the fields nearby.

They rushed at once to where Mrs. Aldrich was standing, and taking off the coats, wrapped them around her and soothed her with the flames.

Word was sent to Mrs. John F. Weickers, corner of Grant avenue and West Eighth street and she telephoned for Dr. Endicot.

Dr. Endicot and upon examination learned that about two-thirds of Mrs. Aldrich's body was burned to almost a crisp and that she was suffering the most agonizing pain.

She was carried into the hospital in the ambulance where everything possible is being done for her.

The chances are that owing to her advanced age and the extent of her injuries she will not recover from the accident.

NO OBSCURE THERAPY. James E. Martine Talks About the Democratic Convention.

J. E. Martine was asked by a reporter of The Press Friday as to whether he feared that the strife at the State Convention would in any degree be carried into the campaign.

"No," said he with emphasis. "Our contest ended with the convention. The delegates-at-large are all men of high social and intellectual standing and they will not be so easily misled as some people seem to think."

THE SHOW OF RAG DOLLS

A UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN AT THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Young People Displayed in Rag and Maids Made Pans for a Large Number of People—Some of the Rag Dolls Who Took Part in the Show of Rag Dolls.

A unique entertainment given at the First Presbyterian church last Friday, and the audience was kept in a continual roar by the funny actions and sayings of its remarkable rag dolls. The programme opened with a pleasing piano duet by Miss Josephine Petrie and Miss Olive Newell.

Then came a grand march of the novel entertainers, the rag dolls. They consisted of, of course, of a number of the young people of the church dressed in some simple summer gowns, while their faces were concealed by large masks of cheesecloth with suitable faces painted on them in the style of the rag doll.

And the faces! They were certainly a wonderful lot; for black faces, white faces, snowing faces, smiling faces, and other kinds of faces were to be seen in a mixture of expressions, very all in evidence. Then followed a rag doll school with Miss Mary Kellogg as teacher and Miss Nora Williams and Edward Petrie as the capped and hooded attendants.

The children, dolls, or whatever they were, were represented by the following: The Misses Agnes Blair, Grace E. Overton, Eleanor T. Van Der Horst, Helen C. Pruden, Caryl Pevy, Herring, Edith L. Pruden, and Mary A. Luckey, and Percy Dayton, Frank Plannery, Herbert Martin, John Petrie and Fred J. Bettman.

The school was divided into a morning and afternoon session. In the morning the children showed how little they knew about the different studies. Many of the answers to the questions of the teacher were very funny and were duly appreciated by the audience.

In the afternoon session, exercises were held in honor of Josephine Muesel and the life of this noble girl was read by Miss Mary A. Luckey. The exercises were read by Miss Mary A. Luckey and another on rabbits was read by Miss Mary A. Luckey.

The entertainment was under the charge of the social committee of the Christian Endeavor Society of which Mrs. J. M. Bettman, Mrs. Robert Kane, Mrs. J. H. Stewart, Mrs. Henry Lounsbury and Mrs. J. M. Dayton.

A delightful event. Mr. and Mrs. E. McCarthy Entertained at Their Home on West Street.

A very delightful evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. McCarthy, of Race street, by a number of their friends, last evening. There was music during the evening by John and Mrs. E. McCarthy.

The refreshments that followed the entertainment were provided by a committee of ladies consisting of Mrs. J. M. Bettman, Mrs. Robert Kane, Mrs. J. H. Stewart, Mrs. Henry Lounsbury and Mrs. J. M. Dayton.

The refreshments that followed the entertainment were provided by a committee of ladies consisting of Mrs. J. M. Bettman, Mrs. Robert Kane, Mrs. J. H. Stewart, Mrs. Henry Lounsbury and Mrs. J. M. Dayton.

CASTORIA for Infants and Children. Mothers, Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that it is as palatable to the infant as to the adult? Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that it is as palatable to the infant as to the adult? Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that it is as palatable to the infant as to the adult?

HOW TO FIGHT BEETLES. ENTOMOLOGIST SOUTHWICK GIVES MANY PRACTICAL METHODS. The Spray Nozzle With Soap Petroleum Solvent... Dr. Southwick, Entomologist of New York, addressed the Town Improvement Society last Friday. In the Y. M. C. A. hall. The attendance was very good, completely filling the meeting room of the hall.

BEFORE THE GRAND JURY. Theodore Kurzhals Takes Formal Action Against the Substitutes. Unless some steps toward a settlement are taken at once, the county authorities will be called upon to assist in forcing the Salvation Army to suppress that essential element of their service... The movement against the army was started by Theodore Kurzhals, Jr., who keeps a barber shop next to the barracks, as was exclusively stated in yesterday's Press. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Kurzhals complained to Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh that the noise in the marching of the army had become unbearable, and that his wife's health had been injured by the strain on her nerves.

A RED-HOT CONVENTION.

THE DEMOCRATS HAVE A LIVELY TIME AT TRENTON.

A Strong Attempt Made to Elect F. C. Marsh as a Delegate-at-Large—Quinn to break the State Committee's Nominations.

The Democratic State Convention Thursday elected U. S. Senator James Smith, Allan L. McDermott, ex-Senator Blodgett, and ex-Judge Taylor as delegates at large to the National Convention, and adopted a strong sound money platform. Assemblyman John K. Queen, Hudson county, was made permanent chairman of the convention. Ex-Assemblyman Bergen, who was designated as temporary chairman by the State Committee, declined to permit his name to be used as a candidate for permanent chairman. This was in pursuance of an understanding reached yesterday morning by which there was a change in the arrangement for delegates, and ex-Senator Blodgett and ex-Judge Taylor were agreed upon for delegates at large. This arrangement was made between the Hudson and Essex leaders, and under it Queen was given his opposition to Queen for chairman.

The old deal angered the friends of ex-Senator Fred C. Marsh, of Union county, who were candidates, and led to an uproar in the Convention that surpassed anything of the kind ever seen at Trenton. After the roll had been called for delegates, ex-Senator Marsh and Carrow made a raid on the Hudson and Essex delegations with a demand that Blodgett and Taylor be dropped and their votes given to Marsh. Blodgett and Carrow refused to recognize any union roll order had been restored, and finally to assist in getting a delegate to stand in the same name in the balcony. The music dropped the noise, and order was at last restored.

In the mean time Allan L. McDermott went on working vigorously with the Hudson delegation, convincing them to disregard the agreement by which Queen had been made chairman and to give their votes to Senator Blodgett, or to elect the vote, dispatched messages to the Essex delegation, urging them to stand firm. The result was a great victory for Senator Blodgett. The Chairman of the State Committee, Hudson and Essex both stood to the agreement and the delegations voted to give their votes to Marsh and Carrow, two of the most popular and able young leaders of the State, and in the office of ex-Senator Blodgett, whose name was vigorously hissed and who was denounced as a traitor to the party. They also voted in favor of Judge Taylor, who is uniformly accepted by few persons in Camden and Gloucester counties. The first and only ballot resulted: Smith, 94; McDermott, 91; Taylor, 89; Blodgett, 67; Carrow, 59.

Delegate Lane, of Union, had a resolution adopted endorsing Senator Smith's course in Congress, but there was no large vote in opposition to it.

As Chairman Hays read the resolutions, the financial declaration was vigorously applauded, but the references to the tariff question were received in silence. It was decided to postpone in contrast with the precedent that followed the reading of the sections favoring coast defenses and a strengthened navy, the endorsement of President Administration, and sympathy for the struggling Cuban patriots.

The Convention voted to elect no alternates at large, as there were no resolutions of a contest, and the delegates from remote districts wanted to catch their trains. The State Committee, on ex-Senator Edwards' motion was authorized to appoint alternates if they shall deem it necessary. The following delegates were announced and ratified: First District—Henry M. Harley, of Camden; George M. Betschner, Cumberland county. Second—James W. Lansing, Mercer; J. Frank Buid, Burlington; J. W. Third—George A. Helme, Middlesex; James J. Bergen, Somerset. Fourth—Lewis J. Martin, Sussex; J. H. Henry, Morris; J. F. Van Hook, Essex; G. M. Betschner, Gloucester. Sixth—Gotfried Krueger and Edward P. Meaney, Essex. Seventh—William D. Daly and William D. Eighth—Fred. C. Marsh, Union; Thomas F. Noonan, Hudson.

The Union county delegation chose ex-Senator Marsh for a district delegate when it was found that he was to be elected a delegate at large, and the delegation joined the Hudson county end of the district and elected Blodgett, Thomas F. Noonan, of Orange, and other members of the delegation had stated for the place. This was in

MAKE TOO MUCH NOISE

THEODORE KURZHALS SAYS THE SALVATIONISTS ARE A NUISANCE.

His Wife Has Been Prosecuted By the Nominations of the Army—He Will Make a Complaint to City Judge This Afternoon.

Theodore Kurzhals, Sr., who conducts the barber shop on Second street, just off Park avenue, declares that the Salvation Army is a nuisance in the neighborhood and this afternoon he will appear before City Judge Blodgett and make a formal complaint against them as such. Mr. Kurzhals says they are an annoyance because of their demonstrative manner of conducting warfare against Satan. Their object and endeavor is to get the approbation of Mr. Kurzhals, but the accompanying clamor attendant thereto is vehemently contended by him, and it is because of this condition that he makes the complaint.

Mr. Kurzhals' family lives over the barber shop and right next door are the barracks of the Army. Mrs. Kurzhals is a short address of Senator Smith in calling the Convention to order and the remarks of Temporary Chairman Queen and Permanent Chairman Bergen, the only speech was made by Charles T. Atkinson, of Burlington county, in nominating Judge Carrow. He denounced the state that had been rejected upon, referred to ex-Senator Blodgett as "the traitor" who had returned to the Democratic fold, and criticized the leaders for crowding out the young men. He said it seemed impossible to get Judge Carrow's name before the convention.

"You're a liar!" shouted a Camden delegate.

"No, I'm not a liar," replied Atkinson.

"No, it's not the truth," they all agreed to do so. However, since the Volunteers were started in this city, the Salvationists have left no stone unturned to maintain an active interference with the Army. They considered one of the essential elements in this direction, Mr. Kurzhals did not get the relief that he expected. Mr. Kurzhals thinks the officers did not understand the situation, and his family, but when they became enraged they simply forgot and did just what they were requested not to do.

The climax came last night when the Army brass band was brought to town. They tooted vociferously at the barracks during the evening and about nine o'clock Mr. Kurzhals found himself confined in the hall in a hysterical condition.

Dr. Probasco, the family physician, had treated Mrs. Kurzhals several times for this same trouble. He told Mr. Kurzhals that his complaint was undoubtedly caused by the ceaseless noise of the Army, and suggested that the next time she was affected to call Dr. Tomlinson in order that his opinion of the noise could be secured. If it was the same as Dr. Probasco's he would have corroborative testimony to present to the City Judge in making a complaint. Called in by Dr. Tomlinson, he called and prescribed remedies which finally relieved her high nervous condition. He coincided with Dr. Probasco as to the cause of her prostration.

This was the straw that broke the camel's back, metaphorically speaking, and Mr. Kurzhals' patience gave out. He declared war against the Salvationists in a meeting held at a Press representative that he was either going to make the organization leave his neighborhood or else conduct their meetings in a more quiet manner.

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS MEET.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held at the building last Friday. The following officers and directors were present: Wm. D. Murray, E. L. Bonny, A. B. Beers, E. H. Badford, H. O. Newhall, Jr., A. R. Nicholson, E. B. Boos, G. R. Coonrad, John J. V. Gavett, A. C. LeBoeuf, and John Vallant. Written reports were received from the committees on religious work, educational work, physical work, and the general secretary, assistant secretary, acting physical director, and treasurer. The social committee tendered a verbal report. On motion the secretary was instructed to send the general secretary, assistant secretary, and acting physical director, and treasurer, Miss Lucy H. Everett; treasurer, Miss Ella Servey.

AFTERMATH OF THE GREAT SHOW.

Incidents That Made a Small Circus For Those Interested.

Even after the "greatest show on earth" had departed, there was plenty of work for the busy gleaning-Beek was the first to discover anything of value, as he claims to have found a lady's gold watch on the sideboard in the dressing room.

The fee, bay and bedding that remained on the field, caused no end of trouble. A number of men appeared to get a start of it every day. Each claimed to have purchased it and was second lieutenant. Nobody was able to produce a receipt for it and, at last, an officer of part of the land appeared to get a start of it every day.

Station Agent Erickson, at Newburgh, was a loser by the show, as he was obliged to give up a large stock of yesterday morning's papers from the Union News Company. The wrapper was found in the park minus its contents.

FIRE IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

Factories Quickly Wiped out, the Losses—Appraging.

William Kurzhals's foundry and blacksmith shop, at No. 11 Water street, New Brunswick, was found on fire early Thursday. The fire gained great headway, owing to a confusion of pipes and gas valves. The fire alarm was rung in and the whole fire department responded. The fire quickly spread to the new works of the Empire Machine firm, W. E. and the adjacent building, the New Brunswick building is three stories, and besides the Burns plant contained that of the Crawford Manufacturing Company, makers of the "Stop Block" and "Trunk" machines, and Joseph Tice's telephone manufactory.

The firemen, after two hours of hard fighting, succeeded in extinguishing the fire. Sparks flew in profusion, and the fire department, and neighboring buildings took fire, but these flames were soon put out.

The factories were practically ruined, and much machinery was damaged.

Charles Greenwald, ex-chief engineer of the fire department, Mr. Wagner and Mr. Meyers were injured.

P. DR. JEKVIL-MR. HYDE AFFAIR.

A Police Arrests a Woman Who Thinks is Mrs. McGrath, But Not True.

The visit of Mary McGrath to this city last Wednesday afternoon, and a decision on the police force, and when Patrolman Conroy arrested a drunken woman on Park avenue last night, whose face greatly resembled that of Mrs. McGrath, he supposed; of course, she had tried it again. The name she gave, Maria McGrath, led the same impression.

The woman was arraigned before Judge DeLoe this morning and said he had never been arrested before in this city. Her gown was different from that of Mary McGrath, but there was a decided resemblance between the two women. The police thought they were the same person, but Maria said, no, Judge DeLoe suspended sentence.

Married Quietly at Philadelphia.

A quiet marriage took place at Philadelphia, Wednesday, June 25, between Stephen Highman of this city, who was united in wedlock to Miss Emma Clara Lee, of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride and was only attended by the relatives and intimate friends. Mr. Highman has lived in this city for some time, and is employed by a New York banking firm. The lady-to-be is a native of Philadelphia.

Post Office Examination.

The regular semi-annual civil service examination of employees of the post department will be held in this city at the postoffice building on June 6th, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Applications must be made on or before Thursday last, and the examination held here was a special one, necessitated by the need of more substitutes.

Freight House Stealing Competition.

The New freight house is nearly completed and when it is ready it will be used in no far distant. The ground between Richmond and Berkmann streets next to the railroad will be used for trucks of which City Park freight cars. Although Plainfield will have one of the best equipped freight houses and yards along the Central railroad.

Thieves Notorious Here.

The Mountainside farmers are suffering from the pestiferous raids of thieves who steal chickens, eggs, grain and other articles. One farmer had a pig stolen, but the animal set upon a squawking as the thieves drove toward Newark and they dropped it.

AN IVORY SCREEN.

He looked keenly up at Frederick, as if he had said some good thing.

Frederick nodded to him, and made a quick inquiry in Italian.

"Yes, your honor, what you mean is the importer succeeded in procuring English. This is ivory screen, most delicate, most beautiful, I have seen nowhere else." Street New York, Oh, yes, the name on it was, as you say, 'Marie, Roma,' and he looked over his hand, as if he were cutting short the intervention.

"Will you kindly give me the full name of the importer, and then, with a little assistance of command."

"You wish to obtain more of her work," said the agent.

"You can assure me that you are no dealer or importer in this line, like myself."

"I think I said so once," Frederick responded, making a note of the importer's name.

"Ah, well, it can do no harm, though the importer is indisposed from work in the city."

"I have no intention of purchasing directly from the screen; but wish, no longer as I am so near, to see the author of this rare work."

The importer smiled awkwardly.

"I regret me much that I have not one thing of hers to offer you."

"What?" "Herr?" Frederick asked as the pronoun with a gasp of satisfaction as he repeated the name.

"I have no intention of purchasing directly from the screen; but wish, no longer as I am so near, to see the author of this rare work."

"I think I said so once," Frederick responded, making a note of the importer's name.

"Ah, well, it can do no harm, though the importer is indisposed from work in the city."

The importer smiled awkwardly.

"I regret me much that I have not one thing of hers to offer you."

"What?" "Herr?" Frederick asked as the pronoun with a gasp of satisfaction as he repeated the name.

"I have no intention of purchasing directly from the screen; but wish, no longer as I am so near, to see the author of this rare work."

"I think I said so once," Frederick responded, making a note of the importer's name.

"Ah, well, it can do no harm, though the importer is indisposed from work in the city."

The importer smiled awkwardly.

"I regret me much that I have not one thing of hers to offer you."

"What?" "Herr?" Frederick asked as the pronoun with a gasp of satisfaction as he repeated the name.

"I have no intention of purchasing directly from the screen; but wish, no longer as I am so near, to see the author of this rare work."

"I think I said so once," Frederick responded, making a note of the importer's name.

"Ah, well, it can do no harm, though the importer is indisposed from work in the city."

The importer smiled awkwardly.

"I regret me much that I have not one thing of hers to offer you."

"What?" "Herr?" Frederick asked as the pronoun with a gasp of satisfaction as he repeated the name.

He looked keenly up at Frederick, as if he had said some good thing.

Frederick nodded to him, and made a quick inquiry in Italian.

"Yes, your honor, what you mean is the importer succeeded in procuring English. This is ivory screen, most delicate, most beautiful, I have seen nowhere else." Street New York, Oh, yes, the name on it was, as you say, 'Marie, Roma,' and he looked over his hand, as if he were cutting short the intervention.

"Will you kindly give me the full name of the importer, and then, with a little assistance of command."

"You wish to obtain more of her work," said the agent.

"You can assure me that you are no dealer or importer in this line, like myself."

"I think I said so once," Frederick responded, making a note of the importer's name.

"Ah, well, it can do no harm, though the importer is indisposed from work in the city."

The importer smiled awkwardly.

"I regret me much that I have not one thing of hers to offer you."

"What?" "Herr?" Frederick asked as the pronoun with a gasp of satisfaction as he repeated the name.

"I have no intention of purchasing directly from the screen; but wish, no longer as I am so near, to see the author of this rare work."

"I think I said so once," Frederick responded, making a note of the importer's name.

"Ah, well, it can do no harm, though the importer is indisposed from work in the city."

The importer smiled awkwardly.

"I regret me much that I have not one thing of hers to offer you."

"What?" "Herr?" Frederick asked as the pronoun with a gasp of satisfaction as he repeated the name.

"I have no intention of purchasing directly from the screen; but wish, no longer as I am so near, to see the author of this rare work."

"I think I said so once," Frederick responded, making a note of the importer's name.

"Ah, well, it can do no harm, though the importer is indisposed from work in the city."

The importer smiled awkwardly.

"I regret me much that I have not one thing of hers to offer you."

"What?" "Herr?" Frederick asked as the pronoun with a gasp of satisfaction as he repeated the name.

"I have no intention of purchasing directly from the screen; but wish, no longer as I am so near, to see the author of this rare work."

"I think I said so once," Frederick responded, making a note of the importer's name.

"Ah, well, it can do no harm, though the importer is indisposed from work in the city."

The importer smiled awkwardly.

"I regret me much that I have not one thing of hers to offer you."

"What?" "Herr?" Frederick asked as the pronoun with a gasp of satisfaction as he repeated the name.

"I have no intention of purchasing directly from the screen; but wish, no longer as I am so near, to see the author of this rare work."

"I think I said so once," Frederick responded, making a note of the importer's name.

The Constitutional.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms—$2.00 per year.

A. L. Force, Editor and Proprietor

The great mystifying game of making a President with figures still goes on with McKinley's managers.

William E. Russell has many supporters in this city as a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Ex-Speaker James J. Morgan won hosts of friends by his reply with denial from the contest for permanent chairman of the convention.

On the tariff question the Hon. William McKinley is known, but on that other equally important matter, sound money, he is the great unknown.

The Camden Independents, which carry a lion's foot, went "wag" has gone the way of many a one before it. After next Saturday it will cease as a daily paper.

William B. Moore, keeper of the State prison, is generally referred to throughout the State as "Lucky Moore," because of the favorable and quick turn in his affairs.

The New York Evening Post, Saturday, contained an extended notice of the various managers of Plainfield, and said that Plainfield is enjoying a steady and substantial growth.

Benjamin Urner, whose death occurred at Fanwood Sunday morning, was a candidate for Senator on the Greenback ticket in this county in 1881. He polled 820 votes.

The exports of bread-stuff during the last ten months show an increase of over $22,000,000 in value over those of the same period a year ago.

A Nebraska man who was ill and knew he must die, insisted upon having his funeral sermon delivered while he was yet alive, so that he might know just what was in of him.

Richard A. Storms, for thirty-nine years connected with the finance department of New York city, and whose death occurred yesterday, was a brother of Justice Storms, of Kingston avenue, this city.

Congress compelled the use of the old Ford theatre building in Washington, for nearly a department for this clerical work, because they refused, as a matter of economy, to provide better quarters.

The original charges of insubordination preferred against Patrolman Vandervoer are not as serious as that of where insobriety is alleged when he was brought before the Mayor.

L. A. Thompson, the new Clerk in Chancery, has just submitted his first monthly report, in compliance with the new law.

The contract made to elect Frederick C. Marsh a delegate at large over Rufus Blodgett was gallantly fought.

The following transfers of property have been recorded in the Union County Clerk's office from April 30th to May 10th, as published in the New Jersey Contractor.

a million killed

would make no impression on the number of the germs of consumption that exist in one affected lung. All germs are little enough, but those which cause consumption are very minute.

It is remarkable, but nevertheless true, that Plainfield has not given its hearty support to an athletic or cycling meet.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The bicycle meet appeared to be a cinch for the visitors as the High School team was to be defeated.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

Just as Good is not Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, restes and maintains the weight, heals inflamed membranes and prevents serious lung trouble.

Just as Good is not Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, restes and maintains the weight, heals inflamed membranes and prevents serious lung trouble.

Just as Good is not Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, restes and maintains the weight, heals inflamed membranes and prevents serious lung trouble.

Just as Good is not Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, restes and maintains the weight, heals inflamed membranes and prevents serious lung trouble.

Just as Good is not Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, restes and maintains the weight, heals inflamed membranes and prevents serious lung trouble.

Just as Good is not Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, restes and maintains the weight, heals inflamed membranes and prevents serious lung trouble.

Just as Good is not Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, restes and maintains the weight, heals inflamed membranes and prevents serious lung trouble.

Just as Good is not Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, restes and maintains the weight, heals inflamed membranes and prevents serious lung trouble.

THE HIGH SCHOOL GAMES

ATHLETIC EVENTS ON THE CRESCENT OVAL ON SATURDAY.

The crowd was not large, but the contests were all exciting—several in detail.

It is remarkable, but nevertheless true, that Plainfield has not given its hearty support to an athletic or cycling meet.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The bicycle meet appeared to be a cinch for the visitors as the High School team was to be defeated.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

Checkering, Stevens Prep, third, Time, 39 seconds.

Beating the hammer. Won by T. A. Beall, Montclair High School, Carroll Runyon, Plainfield High School, second; George P. Smith, Plainfield High School, third. Distance, 38 feet, 9 inches.

Two mile bicycle race. Won by Dr. Johnston's School; W. O. C. Quimby, Newark Academy, second; Carl Alexander, Pingry's School, third. Time, 13-1-5 seconds.

One mile bicycle race. Won by A. R. Allen, Montclair High School; Lindley Hillman, Plainfield High School, second; J. Schaeffer, Stevens Prep, third. Time, 2:26-1-3.

Running high jump. Won by Raymond Carroll, Plainfield High School; P. A. Moore, Pingry's School, second; W. E. Corwell, Plainfield High School, third. Height, 5 feet, 1 inch.

Two mile bicycle race. Won by Wm. M. McCutcheon, Leal's School; A. R. Allen, Montclair High School, second; A. R. Allen, Montclair High School, third. Time, 6:37-4-5.

A MAY DAY PARTY.

Designated children's party given in Evans Saturday afternoon.

A May Day party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hill, 1312 West Front street. The party was given in honor of Francis Hill and was arranged by Mrs. M. Nellie Arthur, of New York.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

BENJAMIN URNER DEAD.

Founder of the Free Church died.

Benjamin Urner, sixty-four years old, died while asleep at his home, Fanwood, at an early hour Thursday morning.

Mr. Urner was born in Cincinnati in 1832, and early in life moved to the Bank where he married Miss Abigail Wright. He emigrated to business in New York and was president of the Mercantile Exchange after which he began publishing the Free Church Review, with his son, Frank G., as secretary.

A few years ago Mr. Urner was elected by Republicans to the Union County and was an active member of the Elizabeth Hospital. He moved to Fanwood five or six years ago and took an interest in local politics.

He was a very pleasant progressive citizen and was given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon, at his home on West Fifth street, in honor of his son, Benjamin Urner.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

The first event was the one hundred and eighty-eight foot race of the boy, G. P. Smith, who finished the event was run over owing to a misunderstanding at the start.

Advertisement for Scott's Emulsion, featuring an illustration of a man carrying a large fish on his back. The text describes the benefits of the emulsion for various ailments, particularly those related to the respiratory system and general weakness.

Advertisement for Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills, featuring an illustration of a bottle of the pills. The text describes the symptoms of dyspepsia and how the pills provide relief.

A collection of advertisements including: 'Children Cry for Fitch's Catarrh', 'Ely's Cream Balm', 'Brazier's Axle Grease', 'Seed Potatoes', 'Worried, tired, over-worked', 'Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup', and 'Albert Hedden Livery & Boarding Stables'.

WATER WAS THE THEME.

A LIVELY DISCUSSION IN THE BOROUGH COUNCIL LAST NIGHT. An Attempt Made to Compel the Street Railway to Sprinkle Somerset Street for the Privilege of Carrying Water... was present at the recent conference of the street committee and the officials of the street railway. The council had talked over the subject and...

G. Adams; secretary, J. J. Stahk; financial secretary, W. T. Newham; first assistant, Louis Fiering; second assistant, W. V. Krowen; stoker, F. M. Longue...

TO HIM WHO WAITS. To him who waits, and the world's applause. In his state of quietude, sitting day by day...

each other, smoking and waiting for "the fan to begin." Presently there was a sound of bells...

QUEEN OF DRUNKARDS. The Remarkable Criminal Record of Jane Cakelbred. London's Most Notorious Woman...

A WESTERN WEDDING.

Colorado Charlie and Sophie Blossom Made Man and Wife. A Social Event in a New Mexican Town...

THE BRIDE AND GROOM AT THE ALTAR.

WENT INTO the little New Mexican town where he had been for a long time...

THE GROOM AND ATTENDANT PILED THEM SIX-APART.

As remarkable as anything in her whole career was the court case. Age has had its effect on her, and she is now a quiet, sensible woman...

HER WORST DRUNKARD ON EARTH.

What's up? I ventured to ask the driver, who had not spoken a word for the last twenty or thirty minutes...

AT THIS MOMENT THERE WAS A PLASH. "For God's sake, gentlemen, put up your umbrellas," said the minister...

She began to drink at five years of age. Her father was a heavy drinker...

NOT ENCOURAGING.

The Netherwood extension of the street railway system has been opened last Monday evening about 6 o'clock by a trial trip of car No. 6 over all the road...

PROF. CONDE'S CONCERT.

P. Ludwig Conde will give his concert and recital of the Y. G. A. hall on May 28th. He will be assisted by all his pupils and the concert will be the best Mr. Conde has yet given...

NATURE'S WARNING.

"Nature," it is known, "abhors a vacuum," and they will find who her laws have dealt, if to this state they let their coal-bins come, that will be the end of their business...

Every two hours a homicide is committed in this city...

AROUND THE BASES.

The Smith and Ed Dalry, two ex-players on the Newark...

A number of the candidates for the Y. M. C. A. baseball team...

The Cranford baseball grounds are being put in condition for use...

George Leidy, formerly of Plainfield, is playing left field for the Reading...

It is hoped that a good crowd will turn out at the opening Y. M. C. A. game next Saturday...

Erinceton College is represented more strongly on the diamond this year...

Billy Koeler is playing a snappy game for the Baltimore Orioles...

The Plainfield Athletic Club baseball team has been organized for the season...

The Phillies are playing pennant ball just now, and if they do not commence...

The new summer scale of prices at Proctor's Pleasure Palace, New York...

These duties are imposed, not because it is necessary to import all this material...

Our farmers and planters who furnish the majority of the exports get very little for their grain and cotton...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

THE MERCANTILE MARINE.

Mahlon Vail Makes a Few Interesting Observations Thereon.

Forty years ago our mercantile marine was the pride of the nation.

It is not surprising that the American flag is flying over the masts of our ships...

Within a few days I have seen a report of the shipments of wheat at Portland, Oregon, from September, 1880 to March, 1890...

The aggregate freight amounted to over $1,300,000, or an average of nearly $23,000.

It is easy to account for the decline of the old vessels, they are worn out or lost, and it is also all unwise...

These duties are imposed, not because it is necessary to import all this material...

Our farmers and planters who furnish the majority of the exports get very little for their grain and cotton...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

than it imports. If that be true we should not have complained of bad times in 1894...

When will our law makers learn and acknowledge that to protect any particular industry means the direct or indirect taxation of every other.

There is one aspect of the sale of substituted goods which the public certainly should know about.

The drug dealer who buys the goods at the lowest price and sells them at the highest price...

When you ask in a drug store for any particular article that you want, and are put off with the answer that the druggist has another made by himself...

Our farmers and planters who furnish the majority of the exports get very little for their grain and cotton...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

Frank O. Nelson has been appointed census enumerators.

The next meeting of the Borough Council will take place on Tuesday, May 18th.

Mr. Cheshire, of Ogden Bay, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. John Huff, of North avenue.

Mr. Wedemeyer, who has been visiting among relatives in Newark has returned home.

Mr. Correll is teaching in the place of Mrs. Fannie Smith, who is confined to the house by illness.

Mr. L. Wooster, a prominent citizen of Onego, Mich., after suffering excruciatingly from illness for twenty years, was cured in a short time by using Dr. Williams' Hired Haze Salve...

When you ask in a drug store for any particular article that you want, and are put off with the answer that the druggist has another made by himself...

Our farmers and planters who furnish the majority of the exports get very little for their grain and cotton...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

The funeral of Mrs. William J. Eames will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence...

Portland Banges sell quick - They're bubbling over with merit.

AMOS H. VAN HORN, Ltd. Parlor Suit Popularity

Is the kind we've attained - we've quantities of patterns - prices are so low they've made a name for us!

Central Railroad of New Jersey. Anthracite Coal Used Exclusively, Insuring Cleanliness and Comfort.

Refrigerators. In an assortment that's well nigh perfect - all makes - some at $3.50.

CARPETS - All Spring patterns now in. Every known weave, and all sizes.

Amos H. Van Horn, Ltd. 73 Market St. Near Pleasant St., Newark, N. J.

TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT.

Mountain Park, at low prices, easy terms, until June 1, when we will advance our present price 20 PER CENT.

ALL PLOTS SOLD UNDER RESTRICTIONS. If desired, titles are guaranteed by the Fidelity Title and Deposit Co. of Newark.

J. H. French, Silas D. Drake, 24 Somerset st., Mountain Park from 1 to 1 1/2 m.

THE HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

Have stood the test of over fifty-five (55) years, and are not surpassed by any in the world.

The Tway Piano Co., 88 FIFTH AVE., near 14th st., New York.

BOICE, RUNYON & CO., Dealers in Lumber, Coal, Masons' Material, &c.

DIED.

SCOTT - In North Plainfield, Tuesday, May 22nd, 1894, P. H. Scott, aged 72 years...

336 336 336

Advertisement for a business or service, featuring the number 336.