

HOW ICE IS HARVESTED.

EVERY MAN TO HIS TASK, AND THEN IT IS DONE EASILY.

All the standing in Done by Machinery and to the Ice at the Proper Time.

It is rather odd work to stand and watch the operation of ice-cutting but it is a very interesting one, none the less.

While every body knows that it is cut somehow, the way in which it is done and the ice transferred to the ice-houses is known to but comparatively few.

Plainfield has only one ice company that cuts its own ice in the city limits and that is the one of which John H. Tier is the proprietor.

For a week he has been planning to start the work as the ice was of the required thickness, but warm weather, rain and snow have all taken their turn in preventing the operations from going forward until Tuesday when a large force of men were sent to work on the pond.

The pond is a body of water fed by Green brook, running from Front street in Elm street, parallel to Front street. It is somewhat over an acre in extent. The ice houses are at the end of the bank place and are two in number.

A line is drawn on the ice at the start and along this line the ice is cut. The ice is cut by a sharp blade which is pulled by a horse and guided by one of the men. Attached to one side is the marker, a rather dull blade that leaves a line on the ice to guide the puller.

The work will be continued for several days if the cold weather keeps up and it will be a short while before the operations of ice cutting and storing in the icehouses.

TOWN IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION SUGGEST VARIOUS METHODS.

Littering Streets With Ashes, Store Sweepings and Papers is Complained Of—One Member Would Act Aggressive.

There was a good attendance of members at the meeting of the Town Improvement Association held Tuesday afternoon in the Y. M. C. building. The president, Mrs. Pierre Mall, occupied the chair. The first business of importance considered was the ordering of 500 postal cards for the various committees of the association.

A member spoke of the objectionable features about the present ash carts in use in the city, and she wanted to recommend to the Council that they adopt some ordinance which would abate the nuisance. She was informed that the Council has under consideration at present an ordinance which will abolish the trouble.

She did not think, however, that if such an ordinance was adopted it would be enforced unless the association attended to the matter, and she thought that an ash-carter should be brought to justice by the association when he was found to be violating the ordinance.

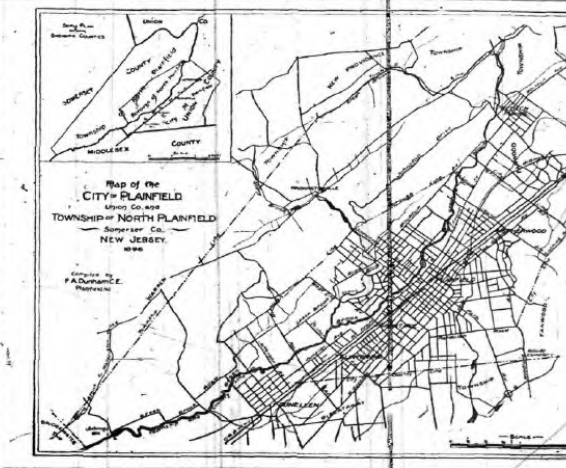

She also spoke about the practice of people about town who persisted in sweeping the refuse from their store into the street. She was informed by Chief Grant that if a person was detected doing that sort of thing they could be punished for it. She was still not satisfied with this, but wanted the association to stand behind her. She cited a case where one person had violated the rule three times, and if the association would stand by her and insist on the violation, she would bring it to justice.

Another place spoken of as being bad in this respect was at the postoffice, where the janitor persisted in sweeping all the papers into the street, and she wanted to know if the association was expected to furnish the government with a basket in which they could place these papers, etc. In regard to the latter it was decided that the street committee should send a card to the Postmaster Hensfield asking him to see that the nuisance is stopped.

She also reported to the matter of street signs. She said that there were no signs at the intersection of the streets. She recommended that signs made of copper and aluminum be suggested to the City Council. They were asked to put the proper number of signs on the street. It was thought the cost would be about $100, and one woman thought the association might do the work. The members were of the opinion that the city should do it, but the suggestion was ordered sent from the committee to the Council.

At this time the members considered the changes recently made to the constitution of the Board of Health. It was thought that the important changes made was one creating an advisory board to be composed of men who are to consult with the advisory board of women. The speaker of the matter at present, so the meetings shall be held monthly unless otherwise agreed, and that the annual meeting shall be held in April.

Mrs. Kinn had a strong plea against the members of the Board of Health. She thought that many would join at 50 cents where only a few would come in at $1. The members decided to leave the dues as they are at present.

AGITATION TO BLOT OUT THE LOCAL CANADA.

AN ORGANIZED MOVEMENT TO ACCOMPLISH THE CONSOLIDATION OF CITY AND BOROUGH.

Meeting of Prominent Citizens Held in the Borough Last Night at Which the Preliminary Steps Were Taken for the Consummation of the Movement—Ex-Mayor Saunders Makes an Elaborate Argument in Favor of the Consolidation—The Names of Those Who Sanction the Consolidation.

A good deal of quiet work has been going on among borough citizens looking to a consolidation with the city. The movement is being carried on by a committee of citizens who are working for the consolidation of the city and borough into one government. It is understood that a society is to be formed to effect this result and that questions of ways and means are to be decided by the united action of that society.

The undersigned citizens of North Plainfield favor the consolidation of city and borough and its union under one government. It is understood that a society is to be formed to effect this result and that questions of ways and means are to be decided by the united action of that society.

The meeting was organized by the election of L. B. Woolston as chairman and A. E. Kenney as secretary. The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of three to draw up a plan of permanent organization and call the next meeting.

After a preliminary discussion of the general plan of action, Mayor Saunders addressed the meeting as follows: "We have been taught by Jefferson that government is perhaps a necessary evil, of which the more we have the worse we are off. It is not true that in national, State and municipal affairs there is a tendency to expand the functions of government; to increase the offices and to make the government more and more costly. We are suffering just now from an overdose of government at Washington. We of New Jersey, have been patient and long suffering under legislative abuses at Trenton. In a speech recently delivered in Plainfield, Mr. Richard V. Lindsbury declared that so many and conflicting laws had been passed by our legislature that nobody knows just where we stand."

"So, too, in our municipal affairs, we see the same inclination to too much government. Who is there who thinks that the peace, order and prosperity of the people of New York would suffer by the abolition of her Board of Aldermen? And to come down to things in our midst, who is there about us whose property would be less secure, whose person would be less free or less safe or whose happiness need be less complete with one government over the two Plainfields?"

"A municipal government is necessary for the protection of property, for the maintenance of law and order for the preservation of the rights of individuals and to promote the welfare of the community. In order to best effect these ends it is wise to adopt home rule, even though it necessitates keeping up the machinery of government in each settlement. It would be obviously be unwise to say that one set of officers is sufficient to manage every town in the state. It would not be wise to say that one set of officers could manage Plainfield and Camden because the interests of the two communities are not identical."

HONORED THE PAST MASTER

ANCHOR LODGE PRESENTED A JEWEL

C. C. Howard Receives a Token of Appreciation for His Services to the Anchor Lodge.

A pleasant surprise was in store for those who attended the communication of Anchor Lodge, No. 119, F. & A. M., last Tuesday, and the large attendance was most gratifying to those who had the affair in charge. The surprise was the presentation of an elegant Past Master's Jewel to C. C. Howard, the last worthy president of this lodge. The presentation speech was made by Rev. E. M. Rodman, the chaplain of the lodge, and it was a masterly effort. On behalf of the lodge he complimented Mr. Howard for the excellent service he had given the lodge, and hoped that he would not allow his interests to decrease. Mr. Howard responded in his usual happy manner, and he thanked the members for the honor bestowed, after this bit of pleasantry, the fellow craft degree was worked on one candidate, and a banquet was served under the very able management of Stewards, H. C. VanBuren and Clifford Pearson. While the latter was in progress several excellent speeches were made by the members.

There is a Philadelphia Hospital. Mr. William Smalley, wife of the active member of the firm of L. D. Cook and Company, the leading lumber dealer in Bound Brook, died at the hospital in Philadelphia Tuesday as the result of an operation performed on her a short time before. Mr. Smalley was well-known in Bound Brook and it was not known that her condition was serious, the news of her death was a great shock to the community. Mrs. Smalley was the daughter of L. D. Cook. She was well-known in this city also.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. Church was held Tuesday afternoon in Vincent chapel to make arrangements for a social entertainment which will be given by the society. The first will be held in the chapel on the evening of Friday, February 27. The other entertainments will be held later in the season, one of which will be the bazaar, which were given in Vincent Chapel last fall by the young ladies of the church.

An Appealing Event. There is nothing more appealing than a good turkey supper. It is cooked and served right, and you will make no mistake if you attend the turkey supper to be given Thursday and Friday evenings in the parlors of Trinity Reformed church under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Work Society. The proceeds will go toward purchasing a new carpet for the church. Excellent music will be furnished each evening, one of 35 cents.

Peary is Coming. Lieutenant Peary, whose tale of adventure and explanations in his search for the North Pole have interested every American, had been secured to the path of consolidation in an inequality of taxation between city and borough. No such inequality exists. The hominal rates for the year 1896 are, Plainfield 2.35, North Plainfield 1.45. A tax rate is decreed unless due consideration is given to valuation. We know that corporate bodies have at times juggled with tax rates, for political effect. In order to

PAID IN SPURIOUS COIN.

THEN JOHN PEDRO GAVE NINETY-FIVE CENTS IN GOOD MONEY.

In Looking Over Their Change Several Merchants Find That the Counterfeit Dollars Have Been Passed on Them. The passing of counterfeit coin in this city, as has already been mentioned in the Daily Press, still continues and the coin and there, completing the spurious coins remains undetected.

John Pedro, the colored bootblack in Brown and Hill's barber shop on North avenue, possessed a man's shoes Tuesday afternoon and received a silver dollar, giving back ninety-five cents in change. After the man had gone John learned that the coin was valueless. It was the same as the one that have already been put into circulation. It was an excellent imitation of silver dollar in appearance but it was entirely too light.

Pedro did not remember the man that gave him the coin and there was no other clue. It was possible that the man was not the real offender but had received the coin without any knowledge of the fact. Spurious dollars in the city have found the spurious dollars among their change but there is no clue so far to the identity of the one who is passing them.

VETERANS ARE NOT AT ODDS.

NO TRUTH IN THE NEWS' STORY.

Everything is Harmonious and the Post Office is in Good Luck.

At a meeting of the Post Office, No. 73, G. A. R., held last Tuesday terms for consolidation with the other Post were agreed upon, and they will be submitted to the latter for consideration. Regarding the recent article published in another paper, the comrades are very indignant, and they are fully convinced as to who the author is. The person who is supposed to have something to do with them is opposed to a consolidation and will not doubt fight the scheme to the end. Such obstacles as were mentioned in the articles have not been considered by the comrades at all and will not be. The comrades feel sure that the matter is published to injure the scheme, and the majority of them do not countenance such attacks.

NOT KNOWN IN PLAINFIELD.

A Man Who in New York Who Was Thought to Live in This City.

A well-dressed, elderly man started at noon, Tuesday, to go up the steps of the Farmley Building, No. 165 Broadway, New York. He had nearly reached the top of the main staircase when he fell backward. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the Hudson street Hospital. There were few people in the postoffice at the time. On some was the name Charles Adams, Plainfield, N. J., and on the other the name C. F. Adams.

The man revived long enough to say his name was Adams, and that he was a member of the postoffice. He was 60 years old, married, and lived at Plainfield, N. J. Then he relapsed into unconsciousness, and at 7 o'clock he died.

The hospital authorities sent a telegram to "Mrs. Charles Adams, Plainfield, N. J." There is a Charles R. Adams, manager, living at 124 Duane street, but no man has come to him. The telegraph company has not been able to find a person in this city. The postoffice does not deliver mail to any other Charles Adams besides the one living on Duane street and from no source could any trace be obtained. It is believed that the man did not live in this city.

A Pleasant Socialable. A dime social was held at the residence of V. W. Nash, of Prospect avenue, last Tuesday by the members of the Nash family. There were two recitations and a mock trial. Dancing closed the evening's pleasure. Naylor furnished the music. The committee consisted of Mrs. George Nash, Mrs. M. Smalley, Mrs. Terry and Mrs. Divine.

Lost a Finger. An employee of the Scott Press Works, named Newmiller, had a finger on his right hand cut off while working in the press rooms of the New York Times. His name is Newmiller. He was brought to his home in this city where he is staying at present until the wound is healed somewhat.

Justice Newcomer's Court. In Justice Newcomer's court the case of the State vs. Sullivan was tried, and the same against Sullivan have been tried, and judgment has been given the plaintiff in each case.

Reveling meetings are being held every night this week, except Saturday. The reveling is being held at the church. They are conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. C. O'Donnell.

THE TREASURER RESIGNS

ALEX TITSWORTH RETIRES AFTER SEVERAL YEARS SERVICE.

The Public Health Induces Him to Resign the Duties of Public Officer. Alex. Titsworth, one of the oldest and most reliable of Plainfield, in acknowledgment of his long and continuous service, resigned from the office of City Treasurer in the following letter to Mayor Plank Monday afternoon:

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 29, 1910.
To the Honorable J. J. Plank, Mayor of the City of Plainfield:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 27th inst. and in reply to inform you that I have accepted of the same and therefore have resigned of the office of City Treasurer.

Very respectfully,
Alex. Titsworth.

Mr. Titsworth succeeded the late Jeremiah Van Winkle as City Treasurer, and has been filling the office in a satisfactory manner for twelve years, having elected frequently without opposition and always by large ma-

Majority. Last December he was elected by the largest majority on the Republican ticket, having only one opponent in the Socialist-Labor party candidate.

Mr. Titsworth is in the vigor and health of middle age, and has been in ill health for some time.

In consequence of the above it was necessary that a special meeting of the Common Council be held here to take action on the resignation of Mr. Titsworth, and it is possible that the meeting will be held on Thursday or Friday evening of this week.

FUNERAL OF MRS. LINE

Her Obedience Over the Remains of the Marquess's Wife.

The funeral of Mrs. Line was held from the house, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and was a very large attendance of relatives and friends. Rev. Cornelius Schenck, P. H. D., officiated, and made remarks appropriate to the occasion from the text "Obedience Unto the Lord." He offered words of comfort and consolation to the bereaved ones and told them to trust in the Lord who does all things for the best. At the close of the remarks Mr. Schenck offered a beautiful prayer, in which he invoked the Divine blessing on all present and on the departed soul.

The floral tributes were many and very beautiful, and consisted chiefly of cut flowers. There was also a mass bearing the word "Peace."

Interment was in the Plainfield mausoleum.

PROMISED TO DO BETTER

Tracy Was Then Suspended on Barney

Barney Tracy, who was arrested some time ago for purchasing liquor for small boys to take to the fair, was assigned before Judge DeLoe last Monday. The two boys, one 14 years and the other 11 years old, were present and one said that he had deceived his money and took the whiskey which the boys had drunk with very disastrous results.

Tracy did not remember anything about the case and the Judge finally suspended him on his promise to do better in the future and make such matters alone.

SLEPPED AND STRUCK HIS HEAD

He Was Then Injured as He Was

Dr. N. G. Grady, of Morris Avenue, Plainfield, was quite severely injured while returning from the morning service in the Crescent Ave. church, Sunday morning. He had descended the steps leading from the edifice and was about to enter his carriage, when he slipped and fell on the pavement, striking on the side of his head. He was rendered unconscious by the fall, and was rapidly taken to Dr. E. W. Hoelge's office on the opposite side of the town. Upon examination it was found that no bones had been broken, but the patient was suffering from the shock.

The coroner's jury, who were called to view the body, decided to lay the body in front of the First Church of Christ, on Grove street. As yet the cause has not been put down and the people are wondering whether it will be.

A surprise birthday party was given by Mrs. E. F. Spaulding in honor of her daughter, Miss Florence L. Spaulding, who was born at her home in Bound Brook. There were a number present from this city. Some of the guests were from the city and some were from Plainfield in a wagonette to attend the party.

TWO LEAGUES TALKED OF

PLAINFIELD LIKELY TO HAVE RATTING GOOD BALL TEAMS.

Ted Sullivan, at the Head of the State League, Visited This City Saturday to Interest the Cranks in His Scheme. The project of a State League in Plainfield will see more of a reality in the coming season than it has for several years. There are two leagues being arranged, in both of which it is hoped that Plainfield will enter a team. One of these is the State League, which is organized under the National agreement, an association of professional clubs which will give the people in the cities in the league several exhibitions of baseball a week. The other is a league represented in the professional ranks, to play only on Saturdays and holidays.

The movement to organize a New Jersey State League has been already noticed in these columns, and it is the fact that a team was to go into the league from this city if possible. The principal promoters of the proposed league are Ted D. Sullivan and Pat Powers. Mr. Sullivan came to Plainfield Saturday afternoon and on the following day he had a conference with the sporting editor of The Press relative to the league and the chances of Plainfield being represented in the professional ranks.

Mr. Sullivan explained some of the plans of the proposed organization and the steps already taken to place it on a firm foundation. The league is expected to consist of six clubs, probably Trenton, Plainfield, Elizabeth, Millville, New Brunswick and Bridgeton. The teams are to be composed of professional players and they are to play almost every day. Each club will play two games a week at other city at a time and, in case the city is some distance from the home city, the schedule will be so arranged that the visiting team will stop at the city in the morning and leave for it before returning home. The schedule will be so arranged as to give each team at least two games a week in their own town, or perhaps more. By making the distance to be traveled by the teams as small as possible, the expenses will be materially reduced.

Each home club will give a guarantee to the visiting club, or in case the visiting club is not ready to play that amount, then the third will be turned over to the visiting team. On holidays the clubs will divide the gate receipts. The umpires are to be appointed by the league and the officers of the clubs are to be a president, a secretary and treasurer. The first two will have most of the work of the league, looking after the teams, the umpires, protested games, and the like and will receive salaries.

It is expected that the clubs in the various cities will be supported by local companies, and it is believed that Mr. Sullivan came to Plainfield Saturday. While B. A. Mumford, Jr., has been talking of going into the league, he has taken no action in the matter as he knew that a little of the plans of the proposed league, outside of the fact that it was a State League. Accompanied by the sporting editor, Mr. Sullivan went to see Mr. Mumford and conferred with him. It was decided that a meeting of the league is to be held in Trenton this week. Mr. Sullivan would like to have Plainfield represented. After talking the matter over with Mr. Mumford, Mr. Sullivan decided that it would be impossible for the team which he is organizing to go into the league as most of the players can only play on Saturday afternoons and holidays.

Mr. Sullivan said the promoters of the league were very anxious for Plainfield to have a team in the league as the reputation of the people of this city as baseball cranks is well and known. The fact that the city has a team rightly managed would be a financial success, as well as a success from the baseball point of view, and he hoped that the citizens would take hold of the matter and make a team, and push the scheme through with their old-time vigor. Mr. Sullivan has several well-known baseball enthusiasts in mind, one of whom he will select to try and push the matter through. He is of the opinion that he believes that the Plainfield people have not lost all their love for the game and will turn out and give generous support to a good team. Should it be formed.

The sporting editor to which Mr. Mumford's team will probably enter, is being formed of semi-professional players and will play only on Saturdays and holidays. The teams that are likely to go into the league are Trenton, Newark, Orange, Bergen Point, Elizabeth, Munchen and Dunellen. The details of the league will be published in the course of a month.

SHOWING QUEER MONEY

THOMAS CALLAHAN RECEIVED A COIN THAT WAS NO GOOD.

Reported to the Police Two Late and Late Were Unable to Capture the Crook. Notable Defect Was Light Weight. Though the police were unable to capture the crook who was shown a coin that was no good, it is believed that considerable counterfeit money was passed in this city Saturday afternoon.

It was about 3:30 o'clock when a man came into Thomas Callahan's grocery store on Richmond street and asked for a coin of condensed milk. At first he drew out a roll of bills to pay for it, and then, as if suddenly struck by the thought that he had some silver, he delved into his pocket and brought up a handful of coins. He picked out a shiny silver dollar and received ninety cents in change. Then he walked out, crossed the street and went to the bank. The two walked off towards Front street.

They had not yet disappeared from sight when the thought commenced to dawn on Mr. Callahan that the silver dollar was a counterfeit. He dropped it in the palm of his hand again and raised his hand up and down in a slow, methodical way as a man will do when guessing at weight. The dollar seemed to be unusually light and he compared it with a genuine coin and quickly the contrast between the two could be seen. Outside of the weight it was a very good counterfeit. Mr. Callahan did not notify the police for a couple of hours.

After he did, however, Sergeant Kiehl notified nearly all the merchants in the city to be on the lookout for the "holders of the queer." The fellow who had passed the counterfeit money was of medium height and weight and wearing a moustache. He was attired in a blue overcoat, derby hat and his shoes were covered with mud. He was seen looking for the culprits, but they were not seen. Roundman Frederickson visited the Clinton avenue station at 5:30 o'clock, and there was informed that a man answering the description of the above, about the station a half hour before, but had gone in the direction of Dunellen sometime before the officer arrived.

Further trace was secured. F. H. Hebard, the Watching Avenue drugist, on investigating his cash, also found a counterfeit dollar, but when it was passed on him or by whom he has not the slightest idea.

TOOK HENS AND CABBAGES

A MIDSNIGHT RAID AT SCOTCH PLAINS.

Peaceable Citizens Wake up to Find Their

Saturday night was cold and stormy, but it did not deter the evil disposed from making their rounds at Scotch Plains in the absence of any authority. They took a little of the good people's property peacefully "in the arms of Morpheus." Some rascal raided John Cook's hen roost that night and carried away a big, black Spanish rooster, and a couple of hens. A lot of well preserved cabbage was reduced to the extent of some 300 heads. It is evident that the thief or thieves had a way to carry away their goods without being detected. They went with the roots up and they were torn bodily from the ground. The snow yesterday morning covered up the wagon tracks, so nothing was left by which the thieves could be traced.

In connection with the above, it may be stated that John F. Miller, Superintendent for John Cook, had some valuable yellow pine timber carried away the same night, and Billy Lee's cow was stolen. He was not disturbed, but a well-trained bull-dog frightened away the marauders before accomplishing their design.

SEPTEMBER WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Marriage of Jennie Shepherd and R. C. Terry, Jr., Solemnized Long Ago.

The many friends of Miss Jennie Shepherd, of Warren street, and Samuel R. Terry, Jr., of this city, are now congratulating them, for they were married Sept. 27th, 1896, by Rev. Mr. Kerr, at the home of the latter in Elizabeth. A few days ago the facts became known and caused quite a stir among the friends of both of the parties as well-known in this city and have a large circle of friends. For the present they will live at the home of the groom on East Third street, and the spring they will go to house keeping.

A leader's course was organized at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Thursday evening by a number of the members. John Lewis was elected president and C. E. A. Haywood secretary. Two colors selected were blue and white.

R. A. McCullough, of North Plainfield, who is residing in the interior of the old Catholic church in Trenton, expects to complete the work for the next few days. Adolph Lewold and Leopold Kuntz, of this city, are superintending the work. The material is all gotten out at McCullough's mill in North Plainfield, and is all ready for joining together when it arrives at the church.

CAN'T PAY PARSON WELLS

LATE CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE'S SALARY IS OVERDUE $300

Some of His Flock at Liberty Corner Were Offended When He Went Into Politics—Now They Want Him Paid. There is one remark often heard in this district, and that is, "Liberty Corner is a bad place to live in these days than any other, and that is that 'preaching and politics won't mix.'" Liberty Corner consists of some sixty buildings, many of them small, and a few large stores, two blacksmith shops and a little haberdashery representing its business interests.

It is in Somerset county, about five miles from the railroad, and first and foremost it is a part of the outside world last fall, when the Rev. John A. Wells, the pastor of the Presbyterian church there, accepted the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Third district, and turned up the district against his successful rival, Benjamin F. Howell, of New Brunswick. There is only one church in the village, but ever since election the settlement has been the scene of the decline, and last Sunday there was hardly a score of parishioners in their pews, and what more, the income is falling off all the time, until the pastor $300 salary, and the other officers called upon him and confessed their inability to see their way to paying it.

There are those who say that all this trouble is due to the fact that the Rev. Mr. Wells is a minister of having their minister in politics, but Mr. Wells says this has nothing at all to do with it, and points out a vindication of his conduct that he would not allow the Rev. Mr. Wells to be a minister of the Liberty Corner district and several Republican votes besides. He attributes it all to the poverty of the community, owing to the demand for the removal of many of the more prosperous members. He says there is no one in the church who is worth $10,000.

When he received the nomination he applied for a four weeks vacation and was granted without objection, and he was careful never to speak in Liberty Corner nor attend any meetings there during the campaign, as he thought that would be improper. After the election he was called to his township by a report that after a meeting at New Brunswick he had spent the evening as the guest of R. H. Becker, a saloon keeper who had been in the same name home he explained that when Mr. Becker sold liquor he did it by the wholesale and was a highly respected business man. He was the president of the local board of health, and Mr. Wells said he did not know the nature of his business until he was within his doors, where former Governor Abbott and General Francis Skipton, he declared, had also been guests.

Mr. Wells' salary is $600 and the debt has been accumulating for about three years. He told the elders that he was willing to forgive it, if they would be granted without objection, and he would come up at the parish meeting on February 16th, when it is expected that there will be a general expression of opinion on the subject. The elders of the church are: John Ferdinand Boyce, John A. Hayes, William A. Compton and H. H. Apper. All are farmers except Mr. Apper. He is a commercial traveler.

Mr. Boyle lives near the church and he said, Sunday, there had been considerable dissatisfaction expressed by the minister's activity in politics. He said that he had wanted another pastor. He said that when Mr. Wells started on his tour he tried to get another to take his place, and when he told the elders that he was willing to forgive it, he said the circumstances he was in the ill plight while the dominion was abroad in such work, and the result was that they had no minister at all until after the votes were counted.

FINED FOR HIS SON'S INDISCRETION

A Rabbit Fanned Up on the Premises

Henry Myers at Mount Laurel. A few days ago a young son of Henry Myers, a poor farmer of Mount Laurel, Pa., from his city, captured a wild rabbit and penned it in the barn, the little fellow intending to tame it as a pet. He did not know that he was violating a game law by doing so, and he was fined $50 and Fish Warden Brown learned that the rabbit was being held on the premises. He made an investigation and threatened arrest Myers for violating the game law. Myers was fined $50 and the rabbit was released. Myers field where he claimed that he did not know that the rabbit was a prisoner on his property. Under the law, however, Justice Collins fined him $50, Saturday.

Justice Collins fined him $50, Saturday.

The police men of the police department have again been through an examination. It took place last Friday evening and the pedigree of every man was obtained. This was done to secure additional information in connection with the late for the domestic year.
