CRANFORD'S EDITOR RELIEVED FROM PAYING DAMAGES

The Chronicle From Does Not Impart Vibration to the Village More Than the Passage of the Blue Line Express Train.

John Alford Potter, the Cranford editor, who appealed the verdict obtained against him in the district court by the landlord, Hugo Fett, was successful in his suit in the county court, the jury rendering a verdict for him.

Fett rented Potter a store in Cranford in which he conducted his printing business. A stipulation in the lease was that Potter should pay his rent on the first business day of each

[illegible]

Potter's wife swore that she assisted her husband in writing the subscribers' names on wrappers, that she worked while the press was in operation, and the vibration did not annoy her.

Wednesday in the absence of Mr. Fett and his counsel, another case against Potter was called, and on motion of his counsel, it was dismissed.

Encouraging Service Held at the East
Third Street Mission.
One of the best meetings ever held at the East Third Street Mission was the one of last Sunday evening, when mission workers from Jersey City were present and conducted the service. The spirit of devotion that pervaded the meeting was marked, and the many earnest testimonies and prayers offered helped to make the service one of great blessing to all. As a result of the efforts of the christian workers four women and three men openly professed conversion. It was after ten o'clock when the meeting closed, and all testified that it was the most helpful that they ever attended.

MUST WAIT FOR WAGES.

WATCHING AVENUE EXTENSION LA-BORERS PUT IN A PREDICAMENT.

Their Wages Cannot be Paid Till Contractors Bowden Finishes His Contract—Other Business of Borough Council.

The February meeting of the borough council last Friday was occupied with the transaction of many matters of more or less importance. Mr. McLaughlin asked the council if there was any way for the laboring men who had performed work on watching avenue to get their money. He was informed that the borough is not indebted to these men until Contractor Bowden fulfills his contract, and that he had not done as yet. Mr. McLaughlin stated that there were men who should have their money and he thought that if there was any way that they could get it they ought to have it. The Mayor said that the council could not legally pay out the money until certain conditions had been received from Mr. Duhamel. The question was discussed at great length on both sides and finally agreed that the matter should be left to remain just where it is at present.

Clerk Arnold presented his report as follows:

THEIR DEPENDED ON SEX

A WILL WRITTEN IN ACCORDANCE WITH A STRANGE PROMISE

Dr. Young Agreed to Suggest a Person as the Child of Louis K. Service if a Girl-in-Was, and Will Now Combed.

A strange promise made fourteen years ago, to play a very important part in a wild case at the London County Orphan's court. It was made just before the birth of a child and the strange provision was based on that. If the child should be a girl, she was to receive the greater part of the fortune of the eccentric Dr. Henry Newton Young; if the offspring was a boy, then he was to receive the nothing.

The promise was made by Dr. Young a few weeks prior to the birth the child to Louis B. Servis, the father, and now the many relatives of the deceased doctor, who received nothing by the provisions of the will, are now contesting the will. Among them is Mrs. Anna B. Mulford, wife of the late L. B. Mulford, of this city.

Dr. Young was a strange character, but he lived in the vicinity of Fleming's wonder. He inherited from his father a magnificent set of diamonds, valued at many thousands of dollars, and these he collected all sorts of rare articles. His practice was a profitable one and he amassed a small fortune.

which was carefully invested in stock of the First National Bank of Flemington and in mortgages. His household goods were of unusual value and he owned horses and carriages. Altogether, his fortune is estimated to amount to about $60,000.

He retired from active practice and about six years ago he went to live with his old friend, Louis S. Service at the home of the latter in Rayville. It alleged that his mind was unimpaired and that he did all sorts of strange things there. He had questioned

He was in regard to various matters, and he said, but his alleged weakness never took any violent form. While he was living at the home of his old friend he made his will, which is the one now being contested, and the complaints in the case claim that he was unduly influenced by the family and that his mind was unsound at the time.

By the will, he left the bulk of his fortune, over half of it, to Mary Ellen Service, the daughter in regard to whom the promise was made. The promise is referred to in the will and to bequest is said to be "in fulfillment of the wish of a promise made to Louis S. Serrette by his father in July, 1873, some years previous to the birth of Mary Ellen Serrette and her sister, who were equally bleding had the anticipated and paired birth been a boy or girl or both." The will was made on February 13th 1889. Asa Jones, of Flemington, was named as the executor of the will.

The others remembered in the will were Mr. Service and his three sons, Dr. H. O. Snydman, a brother of the doctor living in Milton, and Henry Snydman in Newton Young, a nephew residing in the same town as the latter.

He was in Wilkesbarre, Pa. The same day

The necessary papers were filed and the case will come before Judge Harris in the Orphan's court of Hunterdon.

A PINK TEA.

Delightful Affair Given by Mrs. J. M. Dryden at Her Home.

A delightful tea was given by Mrs. J. M. Dryden, of West Broadway street, Thursday afternoon, at her home in honor of her daughter, Miss Amie R. Dryden, who is going to leave Plainfield for a lengthy period this month. She was assisted in receiving the guests by Miss Amie R. Dryden, Mrs. R. W. Dryden, and Miss Marie Dryden. In the dining room the tea was poured by Mrs. F. G. Moore and Mrs. C. R. Thier, who were assisted by the Misses Ethel Green, Gevise Daniel and Fannie Dryden. The prevailing colors were pink. The parlor and dining rooms were charmingly decorated with pink roses and smylax. After the tea, supper was served to the receiving party. There were about two hundred present during the afternoon.

Netherwood Boy a Winner.

The commercial law book, presented by Professor A. A. Phelps, president of the Plainfield Business College, found the best grammar examination was won by George J. Nielson, of Netherwood.

—A middle-aged woman who seemed very much bewildered came out from New York on an evening train, Saturday, intending to get off at Cranford and she was carried through to this city by mistake, and Night Baggageman Henry Hanson set her right by putting her aboard the next eastbound train.

RAID ON COAL LIFTERS.

A BUNCH OF THEM ARRANGED BEFORE JUDGE GEMEZ.

A lively Chase was led by some of the officers in the attempt to escape the Police-They were finally routed. Patrolman Flynn saw the other shadowy forms sink away in the darkness, but he confided his efforts in the direction of Parsons for the time being. After Parsons was captured and brought to the lockup, he was questioned regarding his companions on the cars. At first he did not remember anybody, but his memory was freshened up by the police, and the names of some of the other regular visitors to the coal cars were learned.

Parsons' pal was a white lad of about sixteen, by the name of James Stevens, alias "Dotey," of Paradise Alley and a sister of the famous "Mollie" Stevens, who has played such an important part in the police court records of the past. Acting Roundsmen Flynn found him wandering along Fifth street last evening, and soon the youthful offender was landed in the rookery to await trial.

Another of the train "jumpers" was John Berges, of South Second street. He was arrested without resistance by Patrolman Vandervogel at his home last Tuesday and brought to the lockup, where he spent the night.

The liveliest chase was after John Benford, son of the well known "Magpie" Benford, whose name is also interwoven with the history of Paradise Alley on the police records. The police think that John has something wrong with his mind, as he has always acted in a peculiar manner. He has been arrested a number of times for riding on coal trains, but he does not seem to mind it in the slightest, and when ever he sees a policeman he salutes him by holding his hand in the neighborhood of his nose and winking his fingers.

Acting Roundsmen Flynn and Patrolman Robinson went after John, last Tuesday at about eight o'clock. He was home but when Robinson went in the house and asked to see him, the lad fled up stairs without delay. The officer followed. There came a crash and Benford, window sash and all, sailed out of the second story window and struck the ground with a thud. Benford was up and away in a moment but he had forgotten the location of the clothes line. He ran and Flynn, who had been waiting outside, ran after him. Then Benford found the clothes line. It caught him under the chin as he was running and he swung into the air to drop in another moment on the turf. It was something of a surprise for Benford and he lay still for a moment. That moment was too long for him and he rolled in position when he recovered his mind sufficiently to get up. He was looked up for the night.

This Tuesday, all three were arraigned before Judge DeMeza and all pleaded guilty to the charge of trespassing on the property of the railroad.

Benford was sent to the county jail for forty days despite the ravings of his mother, who asked the entry was with her screams about her poor boy. Berges was given his choice between $5 fine or 30 days in jail. Stevens was sentenced to 20 days in jail, or he could pay the necessary $5 fine.

Runaway at Noon.

Frank Link's team of brown horses ran away on Second street, noon after noon-to-day. They crossed Park avenue all right but by a sudden turn the wagon was drawn on the sidewalk alongside of Marsh, Ayers & Co's store, where the team, when it reached the sidewalk and nearly overturned. It soon righted itself, however, and the team ran on to a point near Richmond street where they almost stopped of their own accord.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is too told to the good you can derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, made by Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure, be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

MINDFUL OF OLD TIMES.

ENTERTAINMENT THAT WENT BACK TO THE COLONIAL PERIOD.

Held in Crescent Avenue Church Monday Night by the King Daughters—continued. Old fashioned, indeed, were the settings for the illustrated readings from Mrs. Gaskell's, "Cranford." It was something novel in the entertainment line and was arranged by the members of the Charity Circle of King's Daughters. This new form of entertainment was given in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church, Monday evening, before a very appreciative audience and everybody enjoyed it, judging from their continued and hearty applause.

The platform in the front of the room was arranged as a stage with curtain, footlights, and all the necessary adjuncts. The scene was that of an old fashioned room, with antique furniture sitting about the walls, here and there a picture of the same style hung on the back of the chairs, with all the decorations, including the candles, which lighted the scene, were of "old times."

The costumes were antique and it was hard to recognize the familiar faces in their strange old fashioned garb. The selections from the book were read by Mrs. Robert Lowry to illustrate the different important situations in the story, the tableaux were shown. The characters in the tableaux were as follows: "Miss Jenkins," "Miss Wood," "Miss May," "Mrs. W. C. Kinney," "Miss Brown," "Mrs. D. M. VanVleet," "Miss Jessie," "Mrs. C. E. Brook," "Captain Brown," "Charles F. Abbott," "Mr. Mary Smith," "Miss Margaret Cook," "Miss Fols," "George Clay," "The little charity maid," "Miss Durand," "Martha, the maid," "Miss M. E. Tracy," "Peter. Miss Matty's long lost brother," "Fred H. Andrews," "Major Higgins," "Samuel Kimball," "Mrs. Higgins," "Gina," "The guests," "Miss Vreeland," "Hon. Mrs. Jamison," "Miss Louise K. Green."

The tableaux were twenty in number. The titles were "Making tea, bread and sponge cake," "Could help him simply," "As soon as the first knock came," "I being the unlucky fourth," "Appearing to be so," "Delle the tremble of the carpet," "How she trembled all over," "Fixed her eyes on him," "Will you call me Mattie," "As she stood open mouthed, listening to us both," "While she was bending them round," "Let out with double railing," "Ashamed to see her reading aloud from the St. J. Chronicle," "Every hour in the day," "Conviction of the attitude," "You see if I don't," final group.

They were all well given and the scenes in which the characters were hunting about the house at night for burglars called forth much laughter. In the final scene, the long lost brother stepped to the front and announced that Miss Matty would be glad to entertain all the audience on the floor below and give them a cup of tea. Everybody smiled an acceptance and the curtain was drawn.

Soon the church parties were alive with people and the rest of the evening passed very quickly. One of the attractions was a candy table and here some of the characters from "Cranford" waited on the crowd of customers, while over in another corner coffee and tea were served. An informal social was held and everybody pronounced the entertainment a great success.

The committee in charge of this delightful affair consisted of Mrs. M. E. Hunt, Mrs. W. C. Kinney, Mrs. D. M. VanVleet and Miss Tracy.

LOCAL L. A. W. COUNCIL NAMED.

Charles C. Lister Will Continue to Act in That Capacity.

Chief Consul C. Frank Kierker has begun the appointment of the local council for the League of American Wheelmen through the state. As the first meeting of the L. A. W. in this city, he has appointed Charles C. Lister, captain of the Crescent Wheelmen, to that office. Mr. Lister held that office last year. There are comparatively few of Lister's cyclists who have not identified themselves with the League, and those who have not may learn something of that great movement from Mr. Lister. Application blanks may be obtained from him or from this office.

Preparing to Build.

also Hades and Tartarus, and the other the Elysian Fields. Thales of Miletus, born 640 B. C. was the first to teach clearly the rotundity of the earth. Aristotle taught and emphasized the same doctrine. It was not generally accepted, however, and the multitude clung to the Homeric poem, ridiculing those who advocated the new theory as dreamers and fools. It must not, supposed that Columbus was the only one to hold a right notion of the earth's shape; it was only that he alone, having faith in his own ideas, had courage and perseverance to go ahead and prove himself right. Of course, the consequence of his discovery was a prodigious impulse being given to travel and adventure.

APPEAL CASES LAID OVER.

After Court had adjourned the Interest was then Appended.

The appeal cases came before Judge McCormick in the Union County Circuit Court at Elizabeth, Tuesday, but none of them were tried. Two cases were reported settled and Lawyer Fred C. Marsh appeared for one of his Elizabeth clients and as the other side did not appear, the appeal was dismissed. In the other cases on the calendar the interested parties of both sides were absent and the cases were laid over indefinitely. After the last had been read and the court declared adjourned for the day, the interested ones in the appeal case of Horatio Johnston against Mrs. Harriet Markham, both of this city, appeared. The case was originally tried in the court of Justice Nash and has been already laid over one term of court. It is probable that these cases will all be laid over until the next term of court.

Dr. Vincent's Lecture.

Those who have been able to attend the lectures which Leon H. Vincent has been delivering in the Y. M. C. A. Hall this winter have been greatly pleased with what they have heard. Mr. Vincent has always been an attractive speaker and this year he shows himself as even better advanced than in previous years. He made a special study of Charles Dickens and his lecture on that great English author has been looked upon as one of the best of his lectures. That lecture will be delivered in the Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, as the last of the series of lectures which he has delivered there under the auspices of the Daughters of the Cross.

A few months ago, Mr. Byron Every, of Woodstock, Mich., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. His right leg was swollen the full length, causing him great suffering. He was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first bottle of it helped him considerably and the second bottle effected a cure. The 25 and 50 cent sizes are for sale by T. J. Atwater, Druggist, corner Park and North avenues.

WILLOW GROVE.

The eighth anniversary of the Christian Endeavor Society was held last Sunday evening in the chapel, and it was a very pleasant event. Miss Lambert, the president of the society, was in charge and she announced the various numbers on the programme. The meeting opened with devotional exercises, after which the report of the secretary was presented. It showed that during the past year, Addresses were then made by A. N. Pierson and M. C. Swery, after which two vocal solos were given by Mr. Randolph. The attendance at the services was large and everyone agreed that the exercises were pleasant and helpful.

An entertainment will be given in the chapel next Monday evening February 18th. A very interesting programme has been arranged, and it will consist of selections by the Banjo and Mandolin Club, of Westfield, recitations by Carl Whitehead, vocal selections by Messrs. Harrison, and a dialogue of the thirteen nations. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend. A small mission fee will be charged and the proceeds will be devoted to the work of the chapel.

For Your Protection, Catarrh "cures" in liquid form to be taken internally, usually contains Mercury or Iodine of Potassa, or both, which are injurious if too long taken. Catarrh is a local, not a blood disease, caused by cold and damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages. Cold in the head, if neglected, leads to results in catarrh. Elly's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug.
