MISTAKES.

The present attitude of Editor Runyon in referring frequently, prominently and sarcastically to the unimportant grammatical mistakes that creep into the columns of The Press—something that no daily paper, unless it is the News, pretends to be free from—suggests that his animus in sneering at the like of the sneakerlike he is playing his occupation, is detected and then runs wildly, crying "stop this!" in the vain endeavor to attract attention to someone other than himself. If we cared to be so boyish in conduct, we could every day print a long list of errors to be found in the columns provided over by the man who prides himself on being a college graduate; but we are not printing a newspaper for that purpose. As a matter of fact, people are constantly showing us mistakes in grammar and spelling in the News with the admonition that "there is a chance to get even with Runyon." Their interest is a kindly one, we know, but it is never taken advantage of.

NEW JERSEY'S HEALTH STATISTICS.

According to the twentieth annual report of the State Board of Health, which has lately been submitted to the Governor, New Jersey has a low death rate than has been recorded during the last eight years. The total number of deaths exceeds that of any previous year, yet the rate of the population has advanced and the death rate diminished. The report shows that 21 per cent of the children under school age are unvaccinated. This should be looked after, as a child should be vaccinated at an early age without showing a vaccination certificate. Another point strongly emphasized is the cremation of garbage as the only sanitary method for its disposal, especially in thickly settled portions of the State. The report is an excellent one, and calls attention to existing wrongs and suggests remedies for most of the cases.—Hackensack Record.

A SOCIALISTIC COLLAPSE.

The collapse of the Socialistic experiment on the Ward farm near Campgus, in Bergen county, surprised no one who had any idea of the scheme. About the only definite plan that the projectors had ready to announce when they disclosed their ambitious design, was that of publishing papers in four or five different languages. A colony of Socialistic workers with competent farmers and gardeners at its head might make a success of a New Jersey farm. But a colony of Socialistic workers, without talent and oratory first and farm labor last in the list of its ambitions, was not likely to prosper in the service of exothermic, though beautiful, Mother Earth.—Newark News.

POLICE PENSIONS.

Gov. Griggs at a hearing Tuesday on the police-pension bill passed by the last Legislature informed the police-representative that he was disappointed of the bill because it provides for the retirement on half pay of policemen to years old who have done twenty years service, even if such officers are not incapacitated for police duty. The Governor said that he informed a committee of the policemen last summer that a bill to meet his approval must have a proviso that policemen could only be retired where they were incapacitated.

THE GOUT HIS TROUBLE.

Of the sixty-two men who have served as mayors of New York since 1865, William L. Strong is the only one to celebrate his seventieth birthday in office. He looks ten years younger, but for his gout would be one of the most active men in the city.

MARITAL WOE.

Down in Kentucky a woman had a man arrested on Monday last for kissing her. On Wednesday an Ohio woman sued for a divorce because her husband never kissed her. As that's how about one-half the world keeps the other half guessing.

Past Chief Baden took the trail for Port Lantry last Thursday evening and attended a preliminary meeting there for the purpose of forming a new council of Degree of Pocomobas. As a result thirty-six names were added to the charter.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING.

MR. AND MRS. EUGENE A. GROS MARIED TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

The Silver Celebration at their Home on West Seventh Street, Which Was Attended With Floral Decorations, Etc. A charming event of last Monday was the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Gros, of West Seventh street. The decorations were superb and the prevailing color was pink. A profusion of roses and potted plants were arranged about the rooms in a pleasing manner. Especially attractive was the table in the dining room which was a feast of loveliness.

Mr. and Mrs. Gros received in the parlor and they were assisted by Miss Annie Sleven, Miss Grace Langdon, Miss Edith Ahrens, this city, Miss Florence Bennett, of Brooklyn, and Miss Ada Smook, of New York. The host and hostess were showered with congratulations and the many beautiful and costly gifts bestowed from friends was evidence of the highest respect and personal esteem.

After congratulations several vocal selections were given by Miss Mira Marston, a talented opera singer of New York. This was followed by progressive euchre which was one of the pleasant features of the evening. Silver prizes were presented to the winners who were Mrs. James Sullivan and James Sleven. The booby prize, Li Hung Chang in miniature, was presented to Charles Langdon, Jr.

Dancing by the younger set was indulged in after supper and the evening was interspersed with vocal selections by Miss Marston, and thus a happy event closed.

Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brady, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gros, Mrs. William Conway, John Conway, David Mahny, Miss Ella Mahny, Mr. Cullinan, Mr. Rosch, David Mahny, Jr., of New York; Dr. and Mrs. E. W. McGowan, Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ahrens, Mr. and Mrs. James Sleven, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langdon, Jr., of New York; Dr. and Mrs. E. W. McGowan, Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ahrens, Mr. and Mrs. James Sleven, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langdon, Jr., of New York; Dr. and Mrs. E. W. McGowan, Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ahrens, Mr. and Mrs. James Sleven, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langdon, Jr., of New York.

AN HISTORICAL PROPERTY.

Wallace House to be Formally Opened on June 17th.

The Board of Trustees of the Revolutionary Memorial Society have decided to formally open the Wallace House, on Thursday, June 17, that date being the anniversary of the battles of Bunker Hill and Monmouth.

The exercises will be attended by the presence of a large assemblage of the J. R. O. U. A. M. A. and William H. Weeks, of Newark, on the History of the Wallace House, an address by Rev. Dr. Mott, formerly of Flemington, on the History of the American Revolution.

An elegant luncheon will be provided and served on the grounds by the ladies of Somerville, under the direction of a committee consisting of John W. Mott, Mrs. Charles Mott, Mrs. M. Batesman, Mrs. Hardwick, Mrs. Annie Reed, Mrs. Griggs, Mrs. J. Fred Voorhees, Miss Mesander, Miss Chambers, Miss Anderson and Miss Ketch.

Any old residents who happen to have any information about the Wallace House given to them by their parents or in any form, will confer a favor by bringing it to Mr. Taylor, James J. Borg, or F. J. Sutphen.

THE BROTHER OF TWO FORTUNES.

Thomas Markway and his brother, Frank, well-known characters in Metuchen, went to the saloon kept by John W. Mott, at Menlo Park, about o'clock Sunday evening. Welsh had trouble with the men once, and when he saw them coming he bolted the door. The Markways were angry at being shut out, and began to clamor for admittance. The doorkeeper, Welsh expected that they would smash in the door, so he drew his pistol and shot twice through the door at the men. One bullet struck in the forehead of the door, and the other through the panel and was deflected in its course, so that it struck Thomas Markway's foot. No arrests were made.

Mrs. A. Inven, residing at 730 Henry street, Alton, Ill., suffered with edema of the feet for eight months, she doctor for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but she would not rest. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know that she was cured. The 35 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. Park and North avenues.

THE WHEELS OF JUSTICE.

JUDGE MAGIE'S CHARGE TO THE SOMERSET GRAND JURY.

Addressed the People to be Patient and All Violations of Law Would Secure Their Just Deserts—Lives Graded.

The spring term of the Supreme Court for Somerset county convened in the court house in Somerville, Tuesday, with Judge Magie presiding. The grand jury was called together and taken into court where the Judge made his charge to them, referring principally to the matter of the several murders in the county. He said the grand jury was called together and taken into court where the Judge made his charge to them, referring principally to the matter of the several murders in the county.

The judge referred particularly to the murders—Jo Chabbi, of Bound Brook, who killed his wife, and Francesco Diluco, who ended the life of a countryman at Bernardsville. He said the grand jury was called together and taken into court where the Judge made his charge to them, referring principally to the matter of the several murders in the county.

He instructed them as to the point of the law in dealing with the murders. He said the grand jury was called together and taken into court where the Judge made his charge to them, referring principally to the matter of the several murders in the county.

Beside the cases of the two murderers the jury has also to consider the crime of Antonio Manno, who attempted to kill Ralph Bruno, and that of Fivortio, who came near hacking his wife to death in Baritan.

Jacob Voehl and William E. Brook are the North Plainfield members of the Grand Jury.

THE NEW COLUMBIAN.

A regular meeting of the Mitanomoth Tribe, Red Men, was held on Friday evening. It was the four hundredth meeting of the Tribe. The presence of Florence McGowan, a junior songmaster, was accepted with regret, and Joseph Johnson was elected to fill the vacancy. The entertainment committee made its report, and the dance of the Tribe was postponed from Thursday until Friday evening. The dance is to be held in Red Men's Hall. The brethren then sat down to the collation which had been prepared in honor of the occasion by the good and willing committee, after which they were entertained by a programme arranged by the same committee. The entertainment consisted of humorous stories by Joseph Newman, a baritone solo by Chief of Records Holdstein, singing by Messrs. Stigitta, Magnus, Drier and Siorah, short talks by Messrs. K. W. Smith and Allen, and jokes by Prophet Leahy.

Dr. J. A. Coleman, who has been cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional medicine. The medicine is sold by the name of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness results. A Fine Concert Planned. Lovers of beautiful music will be glad to know that a fine concert of the finest concert pianists of the country, Wm. H. Barber, who will give a concert at the Casino on the evening of Saturday, May 1st. Mr. Barber has spent many years abroad studying and there met Miss Anna March, this city, while she was studying there. Last Saturday evening Mr. Barber gave an informal recital at the home of Mrs. Marshall on Franklin place, and those who were privileged to hear him on that occasion urged him to give a concert in this city. Mr. Barber is a thoroughly American artist and was born in Orange.

TRAINMEN'S VIGILANCE.

PROBABLY PREVENTED TWO FAMILIES FROM BEING CREMATED.

Crew of a Lehigh Valley Coal Train Saw a House on Fire at the Tanks and Stopped and Aroused the Sleeping Trainmen.

Had it not been for the vigilance of a coal train crew on the Lehigh Valley Railroad Tuesday at 10 p. m., it is probable that two families would have perished or had a very narrow escape from death by burning up in a house owned by the Jersey Central Coalbrook tank, four miles from this city. The house is situated between the two railroads at that point, and is occupied by the families of Michael Reedy and John Weber, who are employed by the Central Railroad to look after the sand-house at the tanks.

At four o'clock in the morning a Lehigh Valley coal train was moving along at a slow rate of speed near that point when the fireman noticed a flickering flame coming from the top of the house occupied by the two families. The engineer brought the train to a stop as soon as possible and the train crew hurried to the point of the coal train where they saw a fire. It was not until the train had stopped that the house was afire and the trainmen pounded on the doors and aroused them. By that time the whole roof was a mass of flames and the occupants dressed hurriedly and rushed out.

Word was sent to the Dunellen Fire Department and they responded but by the time they arrived at the house it was already saved. The saving part of his household goods, but all of Reedy's furniture was destroyed. Weber did not. It is thought that the house was set fire by a spark from a passing locomotive.

A GIFT TO HARVARD.

Dr. J. Ackerman Cole Presents a Bronze Bust of Soetens to the University.

Dr. J. Ackerman Cole, of Newark, who gives a valuable art object to educational and public bodies have been generous and who lately gave to the Chicago University a heroic bronze bust of Homer, has just presented to Harvard University a life-size bronze bust of Soetens, which President Eliot, of Harvard, has accepted in an appreciative letter. The bronze is part of the estate of the late Dr. Abraham Cole, of Newark, father of Dr. J. Ackerman Cole, and a well-known classical scholar and author. It was made by Barbedienne in France, for Tiffany & Co. The donor, in giving the bust to Harvard, said that he desired it to be a reminder of the friendly relations existing between his father and the officers, professors and graduates of Harvard, especially President Thomas Hill, Henry Woodbridge, Charles Johnson, Russell Lowell, Oliver Wendell Holmes and Phillips Brooks.

The Newark Free Library, which is soon to occupy a new and handsome building, to be erected this year on a site selected facing Washington Park in Newark, has begun to receive gifts from citizens of wealth and culture. Monday the Library trustees received and placed in the Library two fine copies of the "Medallions in Carrara marble by Richard Hamilton Park, the gift of Dr. J. Ackerman Cole, of Scotch Plains.

Americans are the most inventive people on earth. To them have been issued nearly 60,000 patents, or more than one-third of all the patents of modern years. But the greatest benefit to mankind than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or has done more to relieve pain and suffering. J. W. Vaughn, of Oakland, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in my family for several years, and find it to be the best medicine I ever used for cramps and colic. For instance, my daughter, by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Two Ex-Marion Work Together. The special committee of the Park County is arranging for the entertainment of the two ex-Mayors on May 1st, consisting of two Ex-Mayors of North Plainfield who are of opposite political faith but are for once of the same opinion, viz. that it is entertaining to hear by Eugene Field's "The Two Ex-Mayors." The daughter will be a very attractive Mary French is not only a servant of a cordial welcome on her father's account but her individual merit and sure to be appreciated by Mr. E. T. Douglas and Elston W. French are also members of the committee which hopes to give Plainfield a literary and musical entertainment that will be a great appreciation.

A Beautiful Christmas. A beautiful Christmas ceremony took place in St. Joseph's church in North Plainfield on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the twelve-days' vigil of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chubb, of Newark, was celebrated by Christened Marguerite Windham, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Herold, of Brooklyn, stood as godparents for the child.

The Difference

"I see no difference between H-O and any other oatmeal!" We know it. The difference is not to be seen. You taste, and smell, and feel the difference, though!

H-O

is different from all others, in that it is more sweet, smooth, delicate, digestible. Its preparation begins where the others leave off. It is twice cooked, once by steam, once by super-heated air. Thus half the work of digestion is done, and the system is never over-taxed or over-heated.

Be sure to get the package with the big H-O on the end.

THE PASSING OF THOMAS

MOVIE ENTERTAINMENT IN THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Thomas and Tribulation. This second of the series of pictures shown at the First Presbyterian Church, these days it is rather difficult to find something novel in the way of entertainment, but the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian Church, gave their audience a wonderfully novel one last Sunday, and the large number of people present were thoroughly pleased with the affair. The programme consisted of a contralto solo by Miss Helen McManis, accompanied by Miss Reman. Following this, the feature of the evening was presented. It was a series of tableaux entitled "The Passing of Thomas." The story is rather simple, but the story of a poor cat, not unlike the one which came back. It was owned by a kind and loving man and wife, and the cat had lived as long as the world allowed, and was about to die. At this time there was a great earthquake as to where the feline should be buried. Any number of places were selected but one seemed to please the most interested in the burial. The cat was finally taken from one place to another, but it always happened that the cat reached the point of starting. After much trouble, accompanied with many amusing incidents, the cat was buried and the story ended. Those who took the several parts in the story were: Mrs. Har-vey, Mrs. Grace Overton; Mr. Harvey, Mrs. Hinchinson; Fort, Harry Williams; the collector, Mr. Hinchinson; Mr. Reman; passengers, Mrs. Williams, Miss Agnes Blair, Miss Hinchinson, William Correll, Percy Overton, Edward Peirce, Fred Overton, and Roy Bedford.

The story was well taken and the story was made especially interesting from the fact that it was read by Miss Mary Taylor. As she read the story was interspersed with the most interesting and amusing sketches, making this part of the programme an audience was kept in a continual state of laughter and it was not until the last tableau was shown that the audience ceased to laugh. The programme was a piano solo by Miss Taylor.

A feature was the novel programme which was distributed to those present. It was a cover which was a sketch of "Tabby" in many different styles, while on the inside the picture the characters and the names of those who took the parts. The picture of the cat was a Christian Endeavor Society and had not full charge of the affair, for the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the church also considered to do with it. Those who took the parts were: Mrs. Har-vey, Mrs. Grace Overton; Mr. Harvey, Mrs. Hinchinson; Fort, Harry Williams; the collector, Mr. Hinchinson; Mr. Reman; passengers, Mrs. Williams, Miss Agnes Blair, Miss Hinchinson, William Correll, Percy Overton, Edward Peirce, Fred Overton, and Roy Bedford.

After the rendition of the programme those in charge served all refreshments and this part of the programme was interspersed with the usual socialability.

MOON'S TERRIFYING CRY!

THE "H. K. V." FRIGHTENED LOTS OF WESTFIELD PEOPLE.

On Saturday morning the H. K. V. held a few Westfield shots and there was a scattering of Misses Westfield. About midnight Friday the residents along Broad street, Westfield, were startled by several pistol shots. They were frightened to examine the cause of the shots. The first shot was a small one, but a few moments later there was a rattle of boxes, a slamming of doors, the sound of retreating feet and a yell, which sounded like "Hi Ki Yi," and a few more shots rang out. The noise was quiet. The brave citizens in the vicinity covered up their heads, stuck their fingers in their ears and lay in bed and trembling until dawn. Then they discovered that some small boys were responsible for the nocturnal disturbance. They had picked up a pile of cracker boxes, which had been left in front of a hardware grocery store. They then went to the front of the store, where the Chinese landlady's maid, Charlie, rushed out and shot a revolver to scatter the boys away and then retired. Before he had gotten into sweet slumber the boys returned to the hardware store, hurling boxes against the laundry. Then it was: Charlie W. W., rushed out crying "Hi Ki Yi," and the boys again. This boys were frightened more than the landlady, but the revolver. The latter was harmless. The language struck home to their hearts. Charlie could not tell it, but he laughed when he heard the boys say that he had said, not at what he did. He said it meant something terrible. "Well, boys make me mad tired," said Charlie, "Me about to scare boys: next time come here!"

Thomas D. Blair, of East Second street, was home from Princeton University for over a year.

FINAL REVIVAL MEETING. NEW BANK APARTMENTS

FRED H. ANDREWS MADE AN IMPRESSIVE LEADER.

Told of the struggle in the Garden of Gethsemane and how Christ Triumphed Over All the Terrors of the Night.

Very impressive was the last service of the series of evangelistic meetings which have been held in the Trinity Reformed church for the last two weeks under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Endeavor Union. The last of the meetings was held last Thursday under the leadership of Fred H. Andrews. It was in remembrance of the hour in the Garden of Gethsemane, and the thought of that solemn hour with the earnestness that pervaded the meeting served to make it doubly impressive. The preliminary meeting was held in the basement, before the regular service opened, with an enthusiastic song service led by L. H. Bigelow, Jr. Mr. Andrews then took charge of the meeting, and after a hymn, an earnest prayer was made by Mrs. W. Taylor. Counselman William N. Bunyon then sang a solo, "In the Hour of Trial." The Scripture reading was by Mr. Andrews and was from the twenty-third chapter of Matthew, telling of the scene in the garden. After the reading, the collection was sung by Miss Harbison in a very impressive manner.

Mr. Andrews began his short address by telling how many like him to read the Bible, but with some other one, how passed away, and words of admonition and advice that were given by them. The nature of this meeting, he said, is something like the collection "The Midnight Hour," how good about and we like to look over the circumstances of his last night on earth and his sayings on that night.

He then went on to relate briefly the story of the last week that Christ spent on earth, how the upper room was selected and how Christ and the twelve disciples gathered there. He told how Christ tried to draw Judas from the collection "The Midnight Hour," how Judas finally withdrew from the room. Mr. Andrews described the first Lord's Supper and then read the beautiful words of consolation and advice that Christ gave to his disciples as they gathered round him. Mr. Andrews spoke very tellingly of that last meeting and explained to his hearers that they should take heed to the message. He repeated the message tenderly and drew many thoughts from them. From a prayer offered by Jesus, Mr. Andrews showed how it was that the angels began to work on earth as soon as Christ was taken fully into the heart.

He told of the terrible struggles in the Garden and how Christ finally triumphed over all the terrors of the night and how the same God that helped him in that hour of need is willing to help us all at our Gethsemane.

A number of brief but earnest testimonies were given, and another hymn.

FOLLOWED THE DRINK.

CONSTABLE MARSH'S SCHEME TO IMPRISON A DRUNKEN WOMAN.

Kate O'Connor Refused to Buget 'Till the Officer Borrowed Her Bottle of Whiskey and Then the West Along.

Kate O'Connor, a Westfield woman, about fifty years of age, was arrested Saturday afternoon and landed in the "parrot cage" till she sobered up. She started on the way path on Lawrence avenue. Now this is a grievous thing for Kate, to be in it written in the township minutes that thou shalt not celebrate nor on the warpath so openly, lest the constables get thee and the Squire condemn thee. Kate was a lady, but Kate was full of joy and Jerry's single-foot and remembered not these things. She abused the Thins children and others on Lawrence avenue, until John Marsh sent for her. She returned to the constable, and John was about to get a carriage and take her home, when a happy thought struck him. "Have you got any whiskey, Kate? I want a drink." John asked. John walked toward the lookout and Kate followed him. When searched, another pint of whiskey and $1.21 were found on her person. Mr. Marsh then said to her, "You are a drunkard, but when she had sobered up she was let go, so she could attend Easter services. Kate said she got a man to take to a drugstore and buy the whiskey for her. She returned to the constable and tried to get it in the various saloons and failed to do so. Who the man was, or which drugstore Kate refused to disclose. An effort was made to find the guilty party, and it failed to produce results.

G. A. Bowman, of this city, has returned from a trip to the coast.

Mrs. H. W. Marshall, has kindly thrown open her home on East Fifth street to the Ladies' Christian Union Society of Trinity Reformed church for a meeting on Thursday, April 22.

An offering of 35 cents will be realized at the door and the amount realized will go toward purchasing a new carpet for the church.

CITY NATIONAL BANK OPENS ITS DOORS FOR INSPECTION.

Complete in Every Detail and a Most Attractive Appearance.

It speaks well for the substantial standing of the business men of Plainfield that there are two banking houses in their midst such as these. Further than that it is the city's good fortune that they are offered by men who are so thoroughly progressive and up-to-date that they have provided their respective institutions with banking apartments that in point of convenience and safety are not excelled in any city in this vast country.

A year ago the City National Bank officials decided to provide more commodious and handsome quarters for their patrons and in looking about for a desirable site the building at the corner of Park avenue and East Front street was selected. The location was a particularly precious one for the bank, as it was situated in the heart of the city, and the building was a fine one, and, to say the least, the structure has been remodelled in the most advantageous way to suit the elaborate ideas followed out in the remodeling from the old location a few doors east on the same thoroughfare.

The whole interior of the building from cellar to roof has been rebuilt and finished in a most effective manner. The upper part of the building is devoted to business offices, but what interests people most is the equipment of the banking house itself.

From the time the plans were first submitted for the improvements till the time the work was completed a few days ago the personal interest of each officer of the institution was engaged in the changes, but to Cashier William E. Arnold it was especially credit for many valuable suggestions and a constant supervision over the work while it was in progress.

The entire first floor of the building, which is 40 feet wide, 100 feet long, and a depth of 40 feet on Park avenue, is occupied by the banking room, while the second and third floors are devoted to the business offices.

The entrance to the bank is at the corner of the building, making it equally accessible from either Frost street or Park avenue.

As you enter the room, the first door on the right leads to the cashier's office, and immediately adjoining it is the ladies' banking department, a small room complete in every detail, where ladies may communicate directly with the cashier, thus avoiding the annoyance and fatigue of standing in line at the teller's window. Continuing past the ladies' department, you come to the paying department, where the cashier's assistant, and finally the discount clerk.

The desks are arranged on the Park avenue side of the room where, even in the busiest days, there is no lack of light; a feature which will be appreciated by the customers as well as the employees of the bank.

The different departments are completely equipped with the latest improvements, permitting instant communication.

Opposite the banking department, at the front, is the directors' room, which is a roomy and comfortable place, furnished for the use of directors, where conferences may be held and letters written in comparative quiet and privacy. Just beyond, we find an extensive receiving department, where the bank is fitted with every convenience for the use of the lady customers of the bank. In looking over the arrangement of this unique banking room, it is apparent that except for the use of the ladies, the bank has a larger share than has heretofore been allotted them.

Perhaps the most interesting object in the room is the vault which is located in the rear wall, where it may be plainly seen from the street at all hours of the night, the bank officers evidently appreciating the fact that a vault is not likely to be molested when it is in plain view of every passer-by. This vault was built by the Herring Safe Works in the same manner as those of the New York Clearing House Association, so justly celebrated, and it is safe to say that it is as secure as any similar structure in this country.

The floor in front of the vault is arranged so lower before the door is opened, and then raise so that one may walk into the vault without a level and without the use of steps.

About sixty tons of metal were used in the construction of the vault, the outer door alone weighs 10 tons, but hinge on ball bearing hinges and so nicely balanced that it can be raised or lowered with the greatest ease. On the right as you enter the vault are the safe deposit boxes in various sizes, conveniently arranged and distinctly modern. These little safes can only be opened by the use of the key, and the key is always in possession of the Bank officials; so that if the owner of a box loses his key, it will be impossible for the finder to profit by it. The boxes will be found to be of very convenient size for the reception of bonds, stocks and papers of value. At the rear of the vault, behind a steel grille, may be seen the safes containing the funds and securities of the bank.

An examination of the doors shows remarkably fine bolt and lock work, with modern time locks, making it impossible to open the doors during the night and holding the doors tightly, until the time appointed for commencing business the next day. A new system of electrical protection is in use here, so that any tampering with the vault would result in an immediate alarm being given. We are informed that the bank, in connection with its safe deposit system, has arranged for the deposit of wills, and hereafter any person who wishes to leave their will in a safe place, can deposit it here, and for a nominal charge, make sure that it will be guarded and finally delivered strictly in accordance with his or her instructions.

Persons leaving town for the summer, or for a trip abroad, may send their silver here in a trunk or chest, and rest assured that no spoon or fork will be missing when they return.

The vault has been constructed under the supervision of Mr. J. M. Moorman, the well known safe expert of New York, and the builder, Mr. F. O. Herring, being a resident of Plainfield, has given his personal attention to the work and is justly proud of the result. In describing the features of the bank, we may say that the wood work is all of mahogany, with screens of oxidized copper and clipped glass, making a very handsome interior.

It is well known in this community that this bank does a strictly conservative business, and it has also recently arranged for the issue of drafts and letters of credit available for travelers in all parts of the world.

Mr. A. I. C. Marsh was the architect of the building. The interior fittings were furnished by the Andrew Manufacturing Company of New York, the mechanical work by J. F. Emmert, carpenter work by John Abbott, electric wiring by H. W. Tomlinson, painting by Wootton & Beckie, iron work by T. Kirk, plumbing by the H. K. V. and heating by A. M. Griggs.

Thursday is general inspection day, and Friday afternoon from three to five o'clock the rooms will be thrown open to the inspection of the ladies. The bank will commence business in its new quarters on Monday morning, April 19th, 1897.

The officers and directors of the bank are: Charles H. Ryrie, president; W. F. Hubbard, vice president; W. F. Arnold, cashier; F. B. Bunick, J. K. Myers, J. F. MacDonald, Walter Scott, J. T. Gleson and J. B. Coward directors.

HOME NUPTIAL EVENING.

ONE IS IN PLAINFIELD AND ONE IN WESTFIELD.

Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, of Plainfield, were married last Wednesday evening, at a very pretty wedding which was celebrated Wednesday night, Miss Laura Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, of West Front street, and George W. Taylor, of Dunellen, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren street church.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Minnie Smith, as maid of honor, while A. D. Hoeyman acted as best man. The bridal party stood in the front of the house, the bride in a white gown which was a profusion of flowers.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, of Plainfield. The bride was richly gowned in white, with a profusion of flowers, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom was in a dark suit, and he carried a bouquet of white roses.
