

APPEAL FOR A LIFE

Arguments Before Gov. Flower in Fanning's Case.

A NUMBER OF WOMEN PRESENT.

A Decision Favorable to the Condemned Man Quickly Expected.

If the Governor Had Not Interfered Fanning would have been executed long since.

At the Governor's Office, the entire Executive of the Proceedings Before Him by a Former School Teacher of Plainfield.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 14.—Gov. Flower shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday gave a hearing in the case of Henry G. Fanning, convicted of murder and sentenced to be executed at Sing Sing, Monday next.

The array of people present was quite numerous, many women being among those who occupied seats.

Fanning's mother, his father and wife were present, and the pretty little child of the prisoner sat on the lap of his mother.

Among the others present were Mrs. Hattie Rice of Utica, who kept a school to which the murderer came to school.

EXECUTION OF A CHINESE REBEL

The Victim Nearly Slain to Death, Being Cut to Thousands of Pieces.

Lowell, Mass. From Shanghai describes the execution of one of the chiefs of the recent rebellion in Mongolia.

The man was brought in on a stretcher and after a short examination for several hours by the Victoria, Li Hung Chang, was executed by the Chinese.

The wretch was fastened to a wooden cross and the executioner proceeded to cut slices from him here and there, beginning with the end of the nose, and cutting off pieces of the arms and legs, but carefully avoiding a vital part.

It is usual, in the case of this punishment, for the friends of the condemned to bring the executioner to give the victim a fatal stab at an early stage in the proceedings.

It was feared, however, that the wretched victim presented a most hideous spectacle, being denuded of the skin on his face and neck, and his hair cut off.

At last the officer in charge ordered the wretch to be cut to thousands of pieces.

YOUNG MARRIAGE

His Father Surprised and Displeased at the Act.

New York, May 14.—The announcement of the marriage of Hayward Hall McAllister, son of Ward McAllister, to Jane Chapman Garmany, daughter of the late George Garmany, of Savannah, in this city on August 29, 1887, has created quite a ripple of surprise among the Fourth Avenue.

The secret has been absolutely kept. The bride's father died in 1888 without having any suspicion his daughter was married.

The young people became engaged in 1890. This fact was known to the families. The young man's father opposed the marriage on the ground that his son ought not to enter into such a condition of life until he should have an established himself in a profession as to be able properly to support a wife.

The reason now given by the husband and wife for marrying was that they wished to make sure of each other before the force of separating accident, and the reason of keeping this secrecy was the opposition of the husband's father to the match.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS.

Dog-catcher Frisby captured a valuable h. and dog on Thursday. Five more dogs paid the death penalty at the pound on Thursday. Flowers have lately been missed from doorways on Seventh street. The Plainfield Gas Company has six hundred feet of new pipe on West Front street. New Jersey added seventeen new lodges of Knights of Pythias to its roll last year. The official oculist of the National Retail Jeweler's Association will be at Collier's next Wednesday afternoon. H. P. Talmadge is under-draining the new plot of ground on Woodland avenue which he purchased from Chas. Hyde. A law has recently gone into effect requiring that all whiskey manufactured must be weighed instead of being gaged. The bad game between the Crescents and the Harlem Athletic Club, announced for today, has been postponed on account of the rain. The small-pox patient on Craig place is doing as well as can be expected. The house is still closely guarded by a thorough militia. It will pay anybody to visit Isaac Van Arden's shoe establishment. The assortment is larger, the goods are first-class and the prices are low. The case of Mary Seaman against Mrs. Hoyt, of Bay Street, for wages alleged to be due, was this morning adjudged by Justice Heald to May 31. The members of the Rutgers College Class of '91 are arranging for their annual dinner which is to be held in this city, on a date not yet announced. Workmen are busy laying pipes for the automatic signals from Bound Brook east. The circuit between Bound Brook and Plainfield is now almost completed. A well-known young man of North Plainfield was detained by New York yesterday on a bogus telegram signed "Alice." Today his friends are smiling all over. The police were summoned to arrest a drunken man, who was asleep in back of the Baptist Church sheds yesterday afternoon. The fellow was put on his feet and started for home. Crescent Division, No. 13, Uninformed Rank K. of P., are making extensive arrangements for their grand ball which is to be held at the Crescent rink on the evening of Decoration Day. On Thursday evening next, at "Gloria Hall," Ben Sutton and his concert company will appear in a great programme. The proceeds are for the benefit of Mulhensberg Hospital. Two free stages leave the railroad station on North avenue for the Church of our Saviour, Netherwood, every Sunday morning at 10.30. They return to Plainfield at the conclusion of the services. A meeting of Branch No. 29, Order of Iron Hall, met in regular session on Thursday evening, and initiated three new members. Arrangements were also made for an anniversary on May 23. "The Hands Across the Sea" Company close the season at Easton tonight. The company's baggage will be brought back to Plainfield and stored until the season opens again in August. Evangelist Murphy, of New Bedford, Massachusetts, will conduct a series of camp meetings in Hyde Park, beginning the latter part of July. The meetings will continue for about two weeks. A blacksmith named Charley, of this city, had a lively experience at North Plainfield on Thursday afternoon. The horse he was driving ran away and the buggy which belonged to A. Hoff, of North Plainfield, was badly wrecked. A young woman, who refused to divulge her name, wandered about the streets of the city yesterday afternoon looking for her husband. The woman said her "man" was making a tour of the saloons and she was anxious to take him home. Four boys, all of respectable parentage, were arrested in North Plainfield, yesterday, charged with destroying flowers in the yard of S. Wenger, of No. 5 Westwaterl avenue. The company's effects will be brought back to Plainfield and the scenery repainted preparatory to starting out in the Fall. Some objection is made by certain residents in North Plainfield against the manner in which the borough scavengers perform their work. Marshal Pangborn has been spoken to about the matter, and he referred the complainants to the North Plainfield Board of Health.

CLASHED WITH EMBROIDERY.

A Couple of Young Men from Philadelphia Arrived in this City Early This Morning by Constable Cappel, of Trenton. Constable Joseph T. Cappel, of Trenton, arrived in this city last night and about five o'clock this morning went to the City Hotel, where he found Mr. A. Hoyt, of Philadelphia, and Edward Reynolds, of Philadelphia, had registered. The two men were wanted in Trenton and Philadelphia for an alleged embezzlement. In the latter place the amount of the alleged embezzlement is placed at $136, and Cappel said that $161 had been confiscated from a boarding house in Philadelphia. The men are young, dress well, and have been peddling pictures and frames in this city since last Thursday. Before Justice Nash, the two gave their names as W. T. Duane and P. J. Nolan. They waived examination and asked to be taken back to Trenton where they claim they can fully establish their innocence. Constable Cappel took the two men to Trenton today, and from there they will be taken to Philadelphia where it is said they were known as agents for Garety and Fitzgerald.

Plainfield's New Hotel.

The new hotel Grenada, on North avenue, which is to be conducted hereafter under the management of George and Wallace V. Miller, was opened for business today. The interior of the hotel building has been entirely renovated and is changed in many respects. The old billiard room and bar in the rear of the office has been thrown into one large room which will hereafter be used as the dining-hall, the bar now being in the store on the right-hand side of the entrance, while the old dining room on the second floor has been converted into several spacious bed-rooms. The building has been painted inside and the rooms repaired, while every room has been furnished throughout in the best possible manner. Marble wash stands with hot and cold running water, in every room, toilet and bath rooms on every floor, the rooms heated by steam and well-lighted, all go to make up the requirements of a first-class hotel. That it will be kept as such is certain and the proprietors have already booked sufficient guests to fill half their rooms.

Reward of Patience.

"All things come about to him who waits" is a saying whose aptness is emphasized at Collier's, where nearly twenty-five years waiting for the development of the new jewelry has resulted in presenting there all things in this line that modern genius and skill have wrought.

SHOT BY THE BURGLAR.

OFFICER FREDERICKSON RECEIVES A SLIGHT WOUND OF HIS LEFT HAND WHILE TAKING THE MURDERER OF CRESCENT AVENUE LAST NIGHT. The Robber Had Made a Great Deal at the Residence of C. C. Coker at 821 West Waterl Street. An Alarm Watchman Detected Him in His Work of Plunder—Two Hundred Dollars' Worth of Silverware Packed in His Grip.—Is It the Man Who Called Upon the Van Derwater's Last Week. Last night while private watchman Phillip Giese was making his rounds on Crescent avenue he again caught a light in Charles C. Coker's residence, No. 9 Crescent avenue. He thought it strange for a light to be seen in the house at that time of night. Walking cautiously to the house he peered underneath the curtain, which was raised a few inches, and saw within the room a man holding an overcoat up to the light and leisurely examining it. Quickly returning to the avenue, Giese hunted up Officers Frederickson and Sanderson, who he found on Broadway and with them returned to the house. Officer Sanderson remained in the front yard while Giese and Frederickson ran around to the rear. The burglar was found on the back stoop, having just come out of the house. As soon as he saw the officers he turned and ran into the house. Officer Frederickson, however, was after him immediately and without caring for possible danger, grappled with the burglar in the little room which runs from the kitchen to the front hall. The officer grabbed the burglar by the back of the neck with his right hand, while with the left he caught his left wrist. This gave the thief an opportunity which he was quick to grasp. With his right and still free hand he reached for his revolver which he carried in his hip pocket. He shot the officer in the right shoulder over his left shoulder. The bullet did not go where he wished, however. In the darkness the burglar could not see in which direction he pointed his weapon. The bullet, however, took effect in his own left hand and passing through, inflicted a severe wound. The burglar, seeing that Officer Frederickson, before he could do further damage, the officer threw him to the floor and placed his hands on the burglar's head until assistance arrived. The noise of the firing in the meantime, had aroused Mr. Coker and his family. Hurrying down stairs they made a hurried examination of the premises and found that the intruder had effected his entrance through one of the lower windows. He had used a thin bladed knife for the purpose, pushing it in between the upper and lower sashes, and on moving the sashes he had succeeded in raising the window, and crawling into the room. The burglar had confined his operations to the rear part of the house. Going to the sideboard, he had emptied its drawers of all the silverware and packed it in a trunk and satchel. Then he began to feel hungry. Realizing that he had made a good haul, he went to the refrigerator and snatched up himself plentifully to the good things which he found therein. Among other things, the burglar had arranged to take a dozen fresh eggs with him. Those he carried out to the stoop where he intended to have his lunch. The officers took their prisoner to the station house where his wounds were dressed by City Physician Allis, and after being searched he was locked up to await the trial. He was dressed in a blue and silver, several keys and a clasp knife, a two-bladed screw driver and some articles of wearing apparel were found in the burglar's pockets. Prior to leaving the house, the officers searched the premises to see if the burglar had any accomplices, but none were found. If there were any, they had taken the alarm and left. During the search the bullet was found on the floor in the neighborhood of the struggle where it had dropped after inflicting the fatal wound in Officer Frederickson's hand. Mr. Coker appeared before Justice Nash this morning at his office on Park avenue and identified the stolen property as being his. In addition to the umbrellas and overcoats, one of which was a blue and silver, which it is supposed the burglar had over his arm when he unintentionally shot himself while trying to escape from his captor. The bag was also picked up and found to be filled with silverware. There were solid and plated silver spoons and tea spoons, knives, forks, and many ladles, and a few tin dessert knives and forks, napkin rings, several linen napkins—all all about one hundred pieces, which Mr. Coker valued at $200. After swearing out a complaint against the prisoner, Mr. Coker was allowed to take the stolen property back to his house, and a detective of the police had been taken for future identification. The prisoner was arraigned before Justice Nash later in the morning. He gave his name as Charles C. Coker, but refused to tell where he came from. The complaint was read to him, and he said he had nothing to say regarding it. He said that he had done wrong, but expected to suffer the consequences of his act. He therefore pleaded guilty and was remanded to await sentence at Elizabeth.

MRS. ISABELLA F. RANDOLPH. Mrs. Isabella F. Randolph, widow of Isaac F. Randolph, died yesterday afternoon at her home, corner of Madison avenue and West Sixth street. She had been ill but a few days of pneumonia. Mrs. Randolph leaves three children, a daughter, the wife of Mayor Gilbert, Clinton F., and an unmarried daughter. Her husband died October 6, 1888. Mrs. Randolph was born in Pleasantway 78 years ago. Miss Beattie at the Congregational Church. There will be a special evening service, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society, in the Congregational Church tomorrow at 7.30. Miss M. M. in addition to the other articles found in the possession of the prisoner was a return ticket to New York, which the burglar had intended to use for his return to New York the preceding day. His revolver was also found. It was of the "bell-dog" pattern, forty-two caliber and had one chamber loaded. It looked as though it had considerable usage, being covered with rust.

MARY PRIZES IN THE RACE.

Bicyclists to Race from Philadelphia to Newark Against Time.—Plainfield one of the Starting Stations. The great one hundred mile hand-pedal road race under the direction of the Business Men's Cycle League, takes place next Monday. On that day a number of clubs will draw conclusions in a race from Philadelphia to Newark. The start will be made at six a. m., at the corner of Broad street and Lehigh avenue, Philadelphia, and the course will be designated by signboards. The route of the course will include Frankfort, Holmesburg, Bristol, Trenton, Pennington, Hopewell, Blaenwern, Plainville, Somerville, Bound Brook, New Market, Plainfield, Westfield and Elizabeth. The entries closed with J. S. Holmes, 150 Broadway, New York, Wednesday. Forty prizes have been donated for the race. Of these, three are to be given for the first, second and third best net time made and three which are designated as grand club specials, are for the first and second clubs having the largest number of men to finish, and the club winning the most individual prizes. The balance of the prizes will be given to the individual riders who make the best time at the finish. The riders are expected to pass through this city about one o'clock. They will not stop, but will be checked off man by man as they pass the Wheelman's Headquarters on Park avenue, and again at Netherwood.

THE "HEYWOOD"

C. A. Correll has donated a fifty-six foot pole to the Republicans and on Saturday night last it was erected. The pole stands fifty feet high. A dead cow has laid in a lot near McDaniel's crossing for three days past. The health authorities should look up the matter and have the carcass removed. William H. Taylor is putting on an addition to his hotel. He is also erecting a bowling alley, which will be ready for practice in about ten days. John and James Huff, brothers, were driving a spirited horse along Front street, on Wednesday afternoon, when the bridle broke and the horse ran away. The two men were thrown out from their seats and sustained injury. The horse ran nearly to Bound Brook. Two wheels on the wagon were dished.

DEADLY INJURY.

On the grounds of the Danellen Bowling Club, Thursday afternoon, at the conclusion of the opening game between the Danellen and Middlesex Clubs, officers were elected as follows: PRESIDENTS: C. Schefflin, President; William Ellis, Vice President; James Smyth, Secretary and Treasurer. MIDDLESEX CLUB: J. B. Willis, President; John Adams, Vice President; P. W. Frick, Treasurer; W. E. Lindstedt, Secretary.

Five Men on the City's Books.

Two more of Mr. A. S. Patterson's staff have been put to work on the city's books, namely, William A. Bice, and W. P. Platin. The work is progressing finely and a complete reorganization of the city's accounts will be effected in a few days.

The Father of May Day.

Constipation leads to a multitude of physical troubles. It is generally the result of carelessness or indifference to the simplest rule of health. Eugene McKay, of Brantford, Ont., writes: "I had for several years been a sufferer from constipation, had taken a great many different remedies, some of which did me good for a time but only for a time, then my trouble came back worse than ever. I was induced by a friend, whom BRANDRETH'S PILLS had benefited, to try them. Took two each night for a week, then one every night for about six weeks. Since that time I have not experienced the slightest difficulty whatever, and my bowels move regularly every day. I believe greatly that for sluggishness of the bowels and biliousness BRANDRETH'S PILLS are far superior to any other."
