SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1922.

New Jersey's Building will be modest but it will tell a most interesting story.

Among the gorgeous structures and swelling temples of the Columbian Exposition will be one building that will not get a second glance from visitors of grandiose views. That will be the New Jersey State Headquarters.

Picturesque enough it will be, and vastly more attractive and worthy of reverence to the patriotic mind than the fantastic architectural creations about for its design will be that of Washington's Headquarters at Morrisstown during the brilliant Trenton campaign.

In such an abode did the Father of his country pass several dark and dreary months. The work will be of a character to suggest the rigors of the Revolutionary army's wintry home, and the hardships they endured. This is the design of Charles Alling Gifford, of Newark, which was picked from a pile of designs submitted in competition by leading architects of the State to the commission having charge of the selection of a design.

Paul Tate Hopper on the Back.

One of the largest and most brilliant audiences ever assembled at the spacious Broadway Theatre, New York city, was present on last Saturday evening to witness the thirty-fifth performance of "Wang," and on no former occasion has Mr. Hopper and his talented associates ever appeared to better advantage.

Miss Adeline Patti, with her husband, Signor Niccolini, and members of her suite, occupied a stage box. The entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by the comedian's distinguished guests, for at the close of the performance, the charming diva went on the stage, and personally complimented the star.

The Little Fig Went to Market. "Wang" remains at the Broadway but two weeks longer, and on Saturday evening, June 4, his final performance and final performance will occur.

Swift and Beautiful.

The splendid screw steamer New Hampshire, the very last addition to the fleet of the Providence and Stonington Steamship Company's fleet, the advent of which, with that of her sister ship, the recently completed Maine, marks the beginning of a new era in sound navigation, made a most successful trial trip recently, first to Riverdale, then to Coney Island Point and finally back to pier 29, North River. At times she did better than twenty-one miles an hour, her screw making 103 revolutions a minute. This is about what is expected of her.

A Plainfield Injured at Rahway.

While going from Laing's stable to ship a boxed carriage, Friday morning, John Horner, of Plainfield, who was sitting on the rear of the load steady in the box of wheels while Mr. Laing drove, was badly hurt at the corner of the Exchange Building, the wagon striking in a gully there, throwing Mr. Horner and the wheels out, and the wheels falling on him knocked him senseless.—Union Democrat.

Thoughts of Home.

[Contributed.]

I have a home, my childhood's home

Across the deep blue sea,

And sometimes Mother's mirror

Brings love across back to be.

In lonely, pensive, thoughtful hours,

Or quietude of night,

I love to think of bygone days,

Of childhood's time so bright.

Of years as they're going by,

Of what I've said and done;

Of friends I once had and now,

I've missed them one by one.

O Life! chequered path is thine,

Of sunshine and of shade,

How often shadows are on mine,

And pleasures tend to fade.

Sad melancholy casts a gloom

Where bright scenes ought to be,

In past, forgetting present, which

Is all the world to me.

But who can blame a stray thought if

In that past should roam,

And bring back scenes, bright scenes of youth,

And dear old home, sweet home.

SHIP SERIES.

The Contest Closes July 1 and Each will be Numbered as it is Received—You Can Guess as Many Times as You Please—No Guesses unless on Blank Printed Below.

The first base ball games for the championship of the C. N. J. L., would have been played today had the weather been clear. The contestants were scheduled to play the C. Y. M. I. at Elizabeth and the Westfield were to play here. The contest this summer was to be unusually exciting, each club being made up of excellent players, and the interest in the forthcoming struggle for the lead is great. The season will close on September 27, when each club will have played eighteen games.

The Courier offers a prize of a five-dollar gold piece to the first person who guesses correctly the order in which the League clubs will stand at the end of the series, also the percentage of games secured by the winning club. If no correct guess is received the prize will be awarded to the person first giving the guess which is nearest right. The ball listed given below must be cut out and sent to the Sporting editor of the Courier.

The correct name and address must be given. Each person is entitled to guess as many times as he or she may wish.

The contest will close on the first day of July, and no guesses received after that date will be noticed. The name and address of the winner will be published in the first issue of the Courier, succeeding the close of the series.

APHORISMS.

Contentment is natural wealth; luxury is artificial poverty.—Boettcher.

Sin has many tools, but a lie is the handle that fits them all.—O. W. Holmes.

It is right to be contented with what we have; never with what we are.—Sir James Mackintosh.

Circumstances form the character, but the persisting values harden while they foam.—L. E. London.

I never hear the rattling of dice that it does not sound to me like the funeral bell of the whole party.—Douglas Jerrold.

Men of courage, men of sense and men of letters are frequent; but a true gentleman is what is seldom seen.—Steele.

True contentment depends not on what we have. A tub was large enough for Diogenes, but a tub was too small for Alexander.—Colton.

I hate ingratitude in man more than lying, valence, babbling, drunkenness or any kind of vice whose corruption lies and habits our frail blood.—Shakespeare.

The prudent man only the diffident, the bold only the advantage, of a new enterprise; the hero sees both, disdains show, makes these predominant, and conquers.—Lewster.

Good breeding is the result of much good sense, some good nature and a little self-denial for the sake of others, and with a view to obtain the same indulgence from others.—Cheslerfield.

Fools measure nations after they are done by the event; wise men beforehand, by the rules of reason and right. The former looks to the end and to judge of the act. Let me look at the act and leave the end to God.—Bishop Hall.

The essence of our fellow man, which we are so prone to esteem a proof of our superior wisdom, is too often only the evidence of the conceit that would magnify self, and of the integrity or honesty that would detract from others.—Edwards.

The wise man has his follies no less than the fool; but heretofore the difference—the follies of the fool are known to the world, but are hidden from him; the follies of the wise are known to himself, but are hidden from the world.—Colton.

The Duke of Plainfield and the Duchess of Westfield were enjoying a pleasant dinner. Duke, said the Duchess, I hear that in certain wild areas of the West people feel corn to play in the ear. How ridiculous! said the Duke, I should think it would make sense if they didn't hear the call to the bell. Duchess, I mean to eat with my mouth. But you know you can't account for the dearest new limitations that will come up. Mr. Friend Jack was that low with consumption that the doctors all gave him up. He took a course of Dr. Howard's Arabian Gum. The blood came back, the liver cleared blood, the milk curd stopped the Europe. He is going to be married and sail for Europe in June.

The unequalled success of ALLOCOCK'S PLEASANT PLASTER, an external remedy as induced unscrupulous parties to offer imitations, which they endeavor to sell on the reputation of ALLOCOCK'S. It is an absurdity to speak of them in the same category as the genuine product is a plaster. Their pretensions are unfounded, their vaunted merit unsupported by facts, their alleged superiority to or equality with ALLOCOCK'S a false pretense.

The skilled medical practitioners and chemists and thousands of grateful patients unite in declaring ALLOCOCK'S PLEASANT PLASTER the best external remedy ever produced.

The butler who from the pantry was promoted to the vestry and then got into a better coterie, ought to have been well suited. Not any more so, however, than the public are with the first-class goods and low rates at which Collier is selling jewelry and silversware.

Dr. S. H. Talcott, Supt. of the Middletown asylum, has discovered in base ball "a homoeopathic cure for lunacy." He says that "it is a kind of a craze in itself, and it gives the lunatic a new kind of craziness to relieve them of the mania which afflicts their minds."

The new game of "Editor's Delight" is played in this way. Take a sheet of ordinary writing paper and fold it up carefully, enclosing $2.50 to pay for six months in advance, and mail to the editor. REV. C. L. GOODRICH AT BOWED BROOK.

The Bowd Brook Chronicle has this to say of Rev. C. L. Goodrich's lecture on "Piercing" in the Congregational Chapel at that place a week ago last night.

"Those present were given a treat. Rev. Mr. Goodrich has travelled extensively in Europe and tells in an interesting manner of what he has seen. The lecture began by saying that the church was founded in the first century B. C. In its early days it was subject to many revolutions. It soon grew, however, to be a great commerciality, and a patron of art. Magnificent public buildings and cathedrals were erected. It was a city of painters and sculptors and to-day it is a city of paintings and sculptures. Mr. Goodrich closed by describing his wonderful art gallery and exhibited photographs of some of the famous paintings and buildings."

Plainfield News in the Evening States.

This is the way the Norwich, (Ct.) Bulletin told its readers of Officer Frederickson's escapade with the Crescent avenue burglar a week ago. It is interesting as evidencing how far from the facts a writer can go, if he feels that way. "Officer Gregory of Plainfield, N. J., was shot and seriously injured by a burglar caught robbing the house of Mr. Coddington in Crescent avenue, Plainfield, early Saturday morning. The officer caught the burglar."

HOWARD KERRICK STILL SICK.

His Friends Fear He is Ill With Nervous Prostration Caused by Overwork.

Many friends of Howard Kerrick fear that his absence from home is caused by sickness. No news was received from him yesterday and his family do not know when to expect him. The last word his family have received from him came from Honesville.

Lawyer Charles Reed, who acted as Kerrick's attorney in the suit brought by the Seventh-Day Baptist Churches of New York and New Jersey, and the Seventh-Day Baptist Missionary Society of Plainfield, to gain possession of $5,000 left them in Mrs. Stillman's will, spoke very freely this morning in regard to Howard Kerrick's health. He said: "Mr. Kerrick's reputation in business was not the best. He was never known to plunge in anything. The only odd part of the affair is his unaccountable absence from his home, which I fear is due to his physical condition. During March last he had a severe attack of the grip and he has not been himself since that time. I am afraid he has been broken down, and the fact that he has been reported to have been seen in Buffalo, Honesville and Baltimore quite recently, strengthens me in this belief."

Mr. Carrington, the law partner of the missing lawyer, had heard nothing yesterday from Kerrick, but said that he had no doubt from the reports, that his partner had fled. "Mrs. Kerrick is almost prostrated with anxiety over her son's continued absence."

Benjamin Hand Wheelwright of an Embankment Seven Feet High.

The experiences of local bicycle riders are sometimes dangerous as well as amusing. Benjamin Hand, who rides a New Mail, tells one which he had last week, which partook more of the former character than of the latter. He was riding in North Plainfield over one of the back roads at night and in the darkness lost his way. He kept to his wheel, however, but soon discovered that he was not riding in the roadway.

Suddenly and without warning Mr. Hand found himself wheeling off into space. He had run off an embankment about seven feet high. It seemed as if he had been struck by a train. In reality it was less than a second. Mr. Hand was quite badly bruised, but his wheel was unimpaired. He thinks that speaks wonders for the strength and durability of the New Mail, and the Courier thinks so, too.

Think Not, Stranger.

Plainfield hasn't got a pitcher to suit them, and the chances are they never will, although they may search East and West, North and South. No corner mind, Crescents, bear it bravely, you can beat the Bicycle Club boys, and that is glory enough.—Somerset Democrat.

A. D. Thompson advertises his closing out sale of horses in the Courier to-day. Ex-Councilman D. S. Roberts will take possession of the Metropolitan stables on June 1.

On Tuesday for the first time in a long while a writer can go, if he feels that way. "Officer Gregory of Plainfield, N. J., was shot and seriously injured by a burglar caught robbing the house of Mr. Coddington in Crescent avenue, Plainfield, early Saturday morning. The officer caught the burglar."

William Cochran, of Westfield, was arrested by Borough Marshal Pangborn on Westerville avenue yesterday afternoon for being drunk and disorderly. This morning he was committed to the borough lockup for five days.

The house at No. 39 Craig place, in which Contractor Passmore is quarantined as a small-pox patient, will be fumigated by the North Plainfield Health authorities, on Monday Mr. Passmore escaped with only five scars on his face but his body is considerably marked.

It is said that the Manager of the Westfield team would have won the Westfield game, in case the Crescents and Westfields had played this afternoon, on the ground that one of the Plainfield team had not yet been released from another league. Of course had the Westfields won the game he would not be clamorous on the point raised.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMAVER.

Delegates Elected to the State Convention at Trenton on Wednesday Next.

The Democratic electors of this city met in the several wards last evening and elected delegates to the Democratic State Convention, which meets at Trenton on Wednesday, May 25. The primaries were poorly attended. The results of the meetings follow:

FIRST WARD.

Seven Democrats were sufficiently interested in the political affairs of the First Ward to be present at the primary held at No. 39 North avenue, last evening, to elect a delegate to the State Democratic Convention at Trenton next week. Judge Wadsworth was elected Chairman and Walter Hatfield, Secretary. Edward P. Thorne was made Judge of Election. William I. Force was nominated as a delegate to the State Convention, and there being no opposition he was elected unanimously. Walter Hatfield was then elected as alternate.

SECOND WARD.

The Second Ward primary was held in the Bryant school building. James E. Martin called the meeting to order. William K. McGuire was elected Chairman and L. M. Stover, Secretary. Dr. S. Marsh was elected a delegate, and Edward Cookin, alternate. Resolutions were adopted with reference to securing headquarters for the City Democratic Association and also endorsing the tariff reform.

THIRD WARD.

The Third Ward primary was held in Stiel's library hall, and there were less than a dozen present. James Clark was selected as Chairman and Frank M. Bacon, Secretary. The ward is entitled to one delegate and James Clark was chosen as such. No alternate was elected.

FOURTH WARD.

The Fourth Ward primary was held in St. Mary's Hall. Vincent L. Frazee was Chairman and F. Flynn, Secretary. The delegates elected were V. L. Frazee and D. McCarthy. Alternates.—J. Kliney and M. R. Flynn.

NORTH PLAINFIELD DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY.

The Democratic voters of North Plainfield met in the basement of the school house to elect two delegates to the State Convention. John Bodine was made Chairman of the meeting and Councilman George Neal, Secretary. Mayor William M. Sanders and ex-Councilman Fred M. Stater, were chosen as the delegates to represent North Plainfield.

Eighty Bell Opera Co.'s Great Success in "Jupiter."

"Jupiter" has made a success is best proven by the fact that Palmer's Theatre, New York, is crowded from the orchestra to the gallery at every performance. No opera produced in years has been so favorably received as "Jupiter." While the book is exceedingly funny it possesses a very genuine plot. Julian Edwards' music is bright, original and catchy and contains some ensembles and concerted numbers more meritorious and original than have been seen in any American written comic opera and the musical numbers are nightly encores from eighteen to twenty times.

The Day Nursery.

As the day nursery has not been open long enough to get into running order, it is thought best to close it for the Summer months, and open again in September, when the schools open. In the meantime will our friends keep in mind that there was a cooking class, a bedstead and bedding in dishes, plates, dishes, chairs, kitchen furniture and utensils, and all requisites for keeping house. If these things can be sent during the Summer, they may be left at the rooms of the W. C. T. U. corner Broadway and Fourth street, on Thursday afternoon.

Bicycle Notes.

Captain F. G. Berry, of the Elizabeth Wheelmen, has been appointed to ride in the great relay now being run from Chicago to New York. He will receive the message at Peekskill and carry it to Hartford, this being next to the last relay. George S. Smith, of the Riverdale Wheelmen, will ride with him. A large delegation of the E. W. will accompany Captain Gilbert to Peekskill on Sunday morning.

William McMahon, of Rahway, has invented a bicycle on which the rider will ride inside, instead of on or over it. Mr. McMahon asserts and confidently believes that on his bicycle opposing elements will so far overcome that the rider with very little exertion will be able to cover ground at the speed of a railroad train.

Hotel Arrivals.

At Hotel Albion: Robert Lonsbury, New York; Edward M. Taylor and wife, New York; E. J. Page, Brooklyn.

15,000 REPORTED KILLED.

The Maritime Disaster Said to be Much Greater Than at First Reported.

LONDON, May 21.—A dispatch from the special correspondent of the Times at Mauritius says that the loss of life in the recent cyclone was not less than 15,000.

No confirmation of the statement has been received.

Manager "Tom" Keller is negotiating with Dr. Shaw, the well-known weather pilot, and expects to sign him for the Crescents reserve list before the next game. Tom says these rain storms which the local prophet steers over Plainfield on base ball days must be stopped in some way.

What About?

The niece of a certain senator was visiting in Alabaster, and was assisting her aunt in receiving one of her Thursdays, when a handsome young diplomat called.

The niece appeared to be mutual, and for the next two days the household were entertained by a song of praise for the agreeable foreigner.

The senator gave a dinner in honor of his niece, and requested her to choose whom he should invite as his escort to the table. She selected the diplomat and the Congressional Directory was consulted in order to get his rank and the proper spelling of his name, when it was found that his name was preceded by the fatal asterisk, which disclosed the appalling information that his wife accompanied him.

Another man was invited to take his place, who proved to be a bore and made himself entirely hateful in the eyes of the fair young charmer, by disclosing the fact in conversation that it was all a mistake, and the fascinating diplomat was not married at all. But this information came too late; the niece's visit was up, the opportunity gone, and two hearts of different nationalities that might have beaten as one are separated forever, all because of a misplaced asterisk.—Chicago Tribune.
