MINNEAPOLIS, June 8.—The second day of the Convention opened quite as gloomy as the first. Heavy rain which fell almost all night left the streets sloppy and unpleasant. The weather is having an effect on the voters, and there was unusual quiet during the morning. At 8 o'clock not a shout had been heard on the horse and foot of the delegates.

Over the bank of the West Hotel yesterday morning was a colossal portrait of James G. Blaine hanging in the hall. The followers of the Maine man are not to be outdoors in any particular by the Harrison boomers.

Mr. Walker then took the platform and made a little speech presenting the gavel in the name of the Young Republicans of Nebraska. The chairman announced that the gavel was made of wood of which the gavel was made of silver and that there were two silver ovals in the end of it.

Mr. Fessett, as Temporary Chairman, returned the thanks of the Convention to the gavel.

Mr. Cogswell, Chairman of the Credentials Committee, took the floor and said that the committee was not ready to report.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1892.

There were a good many of the delegates. But the band kept things lively. The speaker was a familiar form was looked out and found in the same place as on the first day. Fred Douglas was invited to look on the platform.

The Convention called to order. It was 11:45 when Chairman Fessett rapped the convention to order.

He Right Hon. H. H. Wallace, Episcopal Bishop of Minnesota, who had been sitting to the left of the chair, stepped forward, and a little purple cap, removed that covering and opened the proceedings with prayer, the delegates sat on the audience standing the while.

One of the Ohio delegates says that if Harrison is not nominated on the first ballot they will go solid to McKinley.

Other political organization in the United States. Gentlemen of the Convention, we are here to elect a President and a Vice-President. We will command themselves to the convention and the intelligence and the judgment of the American people, and we will do it. (Loud cheer.)

Whatever is done by this Convention will be the approval of the American people in November of this year. (Loud cheer.)

We have already heard some of the words of victory. This year, the Republican Party has spoken. (Applause.) Only yesterday Oregon spoke, electing three Republican Representatives to Congress and the United States. (Cheers.)

When we get through with this Convention its conclusion will be the will of the American people. (Applause.)

We propose to take no backward step upon either of these great Republican principles. (Applause.)

SICKNESS MAY FOLLOW

Danger of Pestilence in the Stricken Old Creek Valley.

THE WEATHER EXTREMELY WARM.

Search for the Dead Continued—Many Bodies Exposed. But Not in the Reach of the Workmen—Bodies Found Pushing Along Knowledgeably—Many Families Homeless and Destitute.

Thursday, June 9.—Old Creek Valley is hourly becoming more of a hellhole. The latest reports from the devastated districts give estimates of the loss and damage which, prove conclusively that the full extent of the disaster cannot yet be determined with any degree of accuracy.

One hundred and fifty-six bodies have already been found. The odor of burned flesh along the flats and by the banks of the creek shows unmistakably that there are many more yet to be exposed. In addition to the dead there are about 1,500 homeless and destitute persons in the vicinity of Old Creek. Nearly all of these whose homes were destroyed by the fire and flood were of the poorer class, and they are now in a state of abject poverty.

The Relief Committee are working hard to relieve the suffering. They are distributing food and clothing to the homeless and destitute. They are also trying to get the bodies of the dead buried.

Contributions from the outside world are now coming in rapidly. The Standard Oil Company has volunteered to donate $50,000 to the Relief Committee. The Standard Oil Company has also volunteered to donate $50,000 to the Relief Committee.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS.

—Rain has again stopped the work on the street railway.

—Castro Coddington, otherwise known as the Somerville jail, only has two prisoners at the present time.

—The minimum temperature yesterday was 50.5, and the maximum 75, as recorded by Weather Observer Neagle of this district.

—George A. Lewis has been appointed dog-catcher for North Plainfield. The dog-pound is at present located at No. 88 Manning avenue.

—The twenty-third anniversary of Holy Cross Church, will take place on Sunday. Choir Master W. H. Minor has arranged a programme of special music.

—Eugene A. Laine, the barber, is negotiating for the erection of a Queen Anne dwelling on the lot he recently purchased at Third street and Erona avenue.

—A lawn party is to be held in the Park Place Chapel, in North Plainfield, beginning to-day and continuing throughout to-morrow afternoon and evening.

—The strawberry season is now at its height and prices are low enough to enable all, no matter how moderate their means, to indulge in the luxury of this delicious fruit.

—The Central Railroad Company is expending $15,000 in repairing the Somerville repair shops. It is reported that the company's general store will soon be located there also.

—Mrs. Carl Kaerth has purchased two lots at the corner of South Second and Third streets. Mrs. Kaerth's mother has also purchased of Runyon and Haad five lots on Clinton avenue.

—Urich, the market man, evidently believes in cooling his customers as well as his meat. He has placed revolving fans in his establishment. They succeed nicely in raising the wind and cooling the atmosphere.

—One of the women of the Salvation Army Corps stationed here, fell on the sidewalk on Park avenue, near Front street, while going home from the barracks, last evening. She was pretty badly bruised by the fall.

—One young woman in Plainfield consulted Onia last night regarding the nominee of the Republican National Convention now in session at Minneapolis. "Harrison," was the verdict of the three-legged automaton.

—The three-hundred and fifty mile Federation Pigeon race of the Pigeon Fanciers of America, which was to be flown on Saturday, has been postponed until the middle of next week. Harvey Doane will enter his birds for the race.

—A large number of people were disappointed yesterday on account of the rain. The Staten Island team came to town all ready to "do up" the Crescenta, but "Old Pro" interrupted, and they went home without gaining any laurels.

—Saturday afternoon next, the Crescenta goes to Elizabeth to play the Y. M. C. A. As this is a league game and as good ball playing is assured, it is hoped many Plainfielders will be present to encourage the home team on to victory.

—Two of the Pond Tool Works employees were arrested by Borough Marshal Pangborn early Tuesday morning for running a disorderly house in a Somerset street store. Justice Crossley fined them each five dollars and costs.

—The rain, yesterday, was the cause of postponing the game between the Crescenta and the Staten Island Athletics. The Crescenta were all in good shape and ready for the fray. The rain, however, but a dampener on all outdoor sports, and the game has been put off until Wednesday next.

—According to the statement of some of the Staten Islanders who came here yesterday to play with the Crescenta, the latter team was under-rated when it beat the Staten Island Athletic Club. The visitors felt sure of winning yesterday's game but not the rain interfered, but of course there is nothing certain in a ball game until after it has been played.

—An old restaurant bill, printed in Richmond, Va., in January, 1864, gives the wartime prices in Confederate money: Soup, $1.50; chicken, $3.50; roast beef, $3; ham and eggs, $3; rawysters, $2; coffee, $2; bread and butter, $1.50; a bottle of champagne, $50; a drink of rye whiskey, $2; a bottle of ale, $12, and a cigar, $2.

—A fox hound at Woodglen did the proper thing one day last week. He deliberately jumped over the dooryard wall and hung himself with the chain with which he was tied. If more of his kind did this would vanish even as have the Democratic hopes of electing the next President, by gum!

—An exchange says: "On June 1 the coal dealers of Newark advanced the price of coal from 25 to 40 cents per ton. More of the combine work? Newarkers must want the earth for nothing when they kick at this low price. Here, consumers pay $5.25 a ton and think the price very reasonable. But 40 cents a ton. Heavens!

BUT THE DARK HORSE IS THERE NEVERTHELESS, AND HIS NAME IS MO KINLEY.

The Convention Meets and Adjourns Until This Evening and the Delay Seems to mean a New Candidate Altogether—No Prospect of a Ballot Before To-morrow—Significant Conference of the Blaine Leaders.

(BY WIRE TO THE COURIER.)
MINNEAPOLIS, June 9.—The dilatory tactics of the Blaine men have been followed to-day by the Harrison men. Shortly after the convention was called to order, General Sewell, of New Jersey, moved for a recess until eight o'clock this evening, and at a quarter to twelve the convention so ordered. This is looked upon generally as an acknowledgment on the part of the Harrison men that the President's renomination is well nigh impossible. The dark horse idea is growing and the opinion is freely expressed that the fine work of the anti-Administration men is soon to be seen. The opposition which crystallized about the name of the Planned Knight will then be turned over to a third man. McKinley is looked upon as the coming man and Tom Reed may be made second on the ticket.

MATTHEWS.

BY WIRE TO THE COURIER.
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., June 9.—The sentiment this morning in both the Harrison and Blaine ranks is decidedly in favor of getting down to the nomination with as little delay as possible. The fact is that a good many delegates, and visitors as well, who came here several days earlier than is customary in advance of the convention are beginning to get very tired of the eternal rush and crush and brass bands, drum corps, whooping and howling attachments of the contest, and they do not relish the idea that the proceedings may be protracted over Sunday.

Hence strong hints have been given to some of the Blaine majority of the Committee on Credentials that it might not be policy to test too strongly the temper of the Harrison end of the convention by prolonging the remaining contests solely in the interest of the Blaine managers, who claim that every day's delay improves the chances of their candidate.

Away up the road which leads to the nomination there is a cloud of dust. But few can see it all because of the heavy clouds of it that have been kicked up by the running of Blaine and Harrison. The cloud, no bigger than your hand, is there, however, and is slowly drawing near.

With a sharper vision than others, there are a few here who say they can almost distinguish the animal. They are certain its gait is not lumbering enough for Reed.

The gait they think at the present distance is not that of Sherman. They say that when the light is strong they catch now and again a fleeting glimpse which shows to them the clear cut features of William McKinley of Ohio.

Arrested for Bathing in Green Brook.
Captain Grant arrested two young men, yesterday, for bathing in the brook near the Clinton avenue bridge. Judge Coddington suspended sentence. During the past ten days complaints have been frequent about bathers at this point, and Captain Grant is determined to put a stop to the obnoxious practice.

—A young son of Walter Runyon was bitten on the right arm by a dog, on North avenue, yesterday afternoon. Dr. Jenkin's canterized the wound.

HE HAS NOT SO MUCH AS A LEG TO STAND ON.

The Supreme Court Declares the Sewer and Water Ordinances Illegal—This Fearful Bit of Legislation on the Part of the Last Council Ses. A—A Grand Violation of Corporation Council March's Stand in This Matter by the Most Learned Lawyers in the State.

(Special despatch to the Courier.)

TRENTON, June 9.—Decision was handed down in the Supreme Court to-day in the case of Mason W. Tyler and others, against the City of Plainfield, wherein the city was required on a writ of certiorari to prove the legality of the ordinances adopted by the "Big Six" granting sewer and water franchises to Joseph M. Low. The court set aside the ordinances as illegal and put the costs on Low.

The Corporation Counsel predicted this result and advised that the Low ordinances might safely be repealed. The Common Council directed him to draft two repealing ordinances (which was done) and to make known to the court that in the opinion of the Common Council, the Low ordinances were never legally adopted.

Of course Low brought two more suits to set aside the repealing ordinances, but now he is not left a leg to stand on.

PERSONAL.

The Misses Eskerson, of Mount Bethel, are visiting friends on South avenue.

Mr. William Lock, of West Front street, is confined to the house with typhoid fever.

At the last meeting of the Camera Club H. S. Thomas, of the COURIER staff, was elected a member.

C. S. Klesman will address the men's meeting at the Young Men's Christian Association at Rahway next Sunday afternoon.

James E. Totten and Miss Kate Smith, both of this city, were married at St. Mary's church at 5:30 o'clock, by Rev. Father Smith yesterday.

Mrs. James M. Bingham and two daughters of Orange, New Jersey, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Palmer and Mr. Bingham, of this city, yesterday.

James Hopkins of this city and Miss Mary Boyne, of New York, were united in marriage at St. Mary's Church, by Rev. Father Smyth, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Asa Collier, the jeweler of Plainfield, has been elected to represent the eastern branch of the National Retail Jewelers Association at their Convention at Pittsburgh in July.

It will interest Plainfield people to know that F. L. C. Martin, the well-known wheelman, was one of the originators of the now famous annual century run from Newark to Philadelphia.

At Assembly hall, on Saturday evening, at eight o'clock, Dr. Thomas Morgan will deliver a lecture on the "Extent and Variety of the Vegetable Kingdom." The lecture will be illustrated with stereoscopic views.

Beginning on Saturday, the Union County Country Club will give the initiation fee of a series which is to be given on the second and fourth Saturdays in June, July, and the two following months. Tea will be served from four until six o'clock.

Scotch Plain Notes.
Park avenue is being top-dressed with crushed stone.
L. J. Ellis, of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, and his family, took possession of the Cottrell cottage on the ridge, yesterday.
The Ladies Circle of the First Baptist Church, of which Mrs. Parks is president and Mrs. Fane, Vice President, held a social at the West Front street on the paragonage ground Tuesday and Wednesday, and satisfied the members of over five hundred hungry mortals.

Arrested on a Charge for Theft.

Upon complaint of Joseph Dunham Mrs. Minnie Williams was arrested by Captain Grant this morning charged with stealing a watch. The accused satisfied Justice Nash that she found the watch embedded in the earth in front of her door on West Fourth street. The woman took the watch to a West Front street jeweler for repairs, to which place it was traced, and the arrest followed. Mrs. Williams' husband is now serving out a three years' sentence in State Prison for stealing about twenty dollars' worth of wearing apparel from Spencer Conway. Justice Nash, before whom the prisoner was arraigned, released her.

FOR AND AGAINST THE TRACKS.

Many West Front Street Merchants Fear that the Laying of Two Tracks Will Overcrowd the Street and Drive Away the Country Trade—Others Say "Fill the Streets With Tracks if it Only Makes Business."

A reporter of the Courier visited a number of the prominent merchants on West Front street last evening to obtain their views regarding the proposed laying of two tracks on the street by the Street Railway Company. Opinions pro and con were freely expressed. The majority did not care to have their names published.

Many who opposed the track-laying thought that there was no earthly good in having tracks at all. They argued that a company property organized could run stages over the proposed route of the new railway to much better advantage, both to the general public and to travelers. Stages, they said, would be run there more steadily, would make better time and there would be no danger of their ever getting off the track and thereby blocking the road. Having no track to run upon they would not be any nuisance to the rest of the traveling public. They would not take up so much room on the street and what was far better would not have to be run by electricity or other dangerous motive power.

Other objects could not see how there was going to be room on West Front street for the two tracks of the railway. They said the street now was entirely too narrow and if the tracks were put down there would not be room left for the wagons of their customers to stand in front of the stores. They are afraid that their out-of-town customers would, on account of the liability of their horses being frightened by the cars, take their trade to some other town. They did not want the tracks at any cost, but if they must have them, they thought that but one track should be put down on West Front street and the other carried around by the way of Second or some other street.

On the other hand, there were several merchants who thought that the tracks would be of great benefit to them and their customers. They could not understand how anybody could object to such an improvement. The only thing that the city would be benefited by more people would be brought to the stores to do their trading. Some even expressed themselves as perfectly willing that the railway company should lay three tracks on the thoroughfare, if it would be the means of increasing trade.

Many of these merchants have wagons which they are compelled to load in front of their stores, but they thought that when the time came they would be able to find some other place to load and unload them without any special trouble. They were glad the needed improvement was so near being an accomplished fact.

A FINE EXHIBITION OF ART.

The Pupils of Mr. W. H. Griffin, the Artist, Make a Most Commensurate Display of Their Work.

An exhibition of art work such as is seldom seen in this city, has been displayed at Mrs. W. H. Griffin's art studio on West Front street for the past two days. The exhibition was the work of Mrs. Griffin and her pupils, numbering about thirty-five. It was the third of the kind ever given here. Some of the exhibits were in oil, others in crayon, and a large number were of hand painted china. Among the most notable, and those deserving special credit, was a hand painted punch bowl by Mrs. Griffin, and a large and handsomely decorated jardiniere, also the work of her hand.

Miss Alice Rushmore, daughter of Dr. Edward Rushmore, has an excellent crayon portrait of her father. A portrait of Mrs. Francis E. Willard, National President of the W. C. T. U., above the walls of the studio and the work of Mrs. Griffin. Master Willie Stahl has on exhibition an excellent portrait in crayon of the late Isaac W. Brokaw, of North Plainfield, and Miss Nellie Shreve has another of her father, B. J. Shreve.

Among the others who contributed exhibits were Miss Nellie Dunn, Miss Belle Patterson, Miss Margaret Rand, Miss Florence Wilder, Miss Mabel Wilder, Mrs. S. P. Dann, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. August Kleenecke, Miss Nellie O'Connell, Miss Lottie Clavson, Mrs. D. Davis, Mrs. John McLaughlin, Miss Hattie Briggs, Miss Anna Wood, Miss Nellie Thorne, Miss Lillie Fritz, Miss Lou Sneekker, Miss Grace Brown and Miss Nellie G. Day.

THE CEMENTS LOOK A GOOD MAN.

Kaiser Goes to Birmingham Where He Will Get More Money.—He Sends a Letter of Appreciation to Manager Keller, in Which He Says He Hopes to Return to the "Best Town in Jersey."

William H. Keeler, the dandy short-stop of the Crescenta, has sent in his resignation, and has gone to play with the Birmingham, N. Y., team. Keeler has proved a brilliant player and his loss is much regretted by the members of the Crescent League. Manager Keller, however, says he can easily fill his place, and he will see that Keeler is barred out of the Central New Jersey League. The following letter from Keeler will explain itself:

BROOKLYN, June 5, 1892.
T. H. Keller, Mgr. Crescent League: Friend Tom.—I had an offer Sunday from the Birmingham Club, and for a long time was in doubt whether to accept it or not, but I thought I might not get another chance as good, so I have accepted the advance money and will go and stay a few days. I know you will feel hard of me, for you know you would like to see your players advance themselves, and of course there was such a great difference in the money I did not accept the other offer on your account and an almost sorry I had this one for no one could get better treatment from a manager than I have had from you. If I do not come back in a few days I hope you will win the pennant without me. I thank you for your kindness and almost hope I may not prove a success, and again be in the best town in Jersey.

Yours truly,
W. H. KEELER.

Boys, Keep Quiet.

The New York papers during the past few days have published stories regarding a proposed demonstration to be held to-morrow night by the local wheelmen in disapproval of the bicycle ordinance. This morning's World contained further reference to it. It is extremely doubtful whether any such action will be taken. If it is to be stupid and not at all funny. Westfield had the humorous opportunity last week and all we laughed at the funny way in which the wheelmen manifested their displeasure. But we have heard so much lately about this fun and have had such hearty laughs over it that our appreciation is dulled. It is safe to predict that in any unusual manifestation to-morrow evening Captain Grant and his force of special constables will have the fun. No one else will.

More Trouble in the Schneider Family.

Jacob Schneider of Harmony street, North Plainfield, had another set-to with his wife this afternoon, and as a result Jacob broke a china bowl on his wife's face. Mrs. Schneider was badly cut up that Dr. Carnon was called in to dress the wounds. Besides being cut on the head, Mrs. Schneider was also badly cut on the right hand. Schneider was locked up and will give a hearing before Judge Crossley this evening.

Death of Martin M. Thorne.

A dispatch was received in this city, this morning, announcing the death, at Santa Barbara, Southern California, yesterday, of Martin M. Thorne, for many years a resident here. Mr. Thorne went on to Santa Barbara, several months ago to visit his daughter, Ella V. Thorne, and while there his health was on the decline. He was well-known in this city and for many years conducted a real estate and brokerage office on North avenue.

Councillman Weber's Horse Run Away.

A horse belonging to Councillman H. A. Weber, the Liberty street grocer, while tied in front of a house on West Eighth street, this morning, became frightened, and, breaking the bridle, ran away. The horse ran from the corner of Spruce avenue and Eighth street to Weber's store, and there, turning into Liberty street, the wagon was overturned and the horse thrown down and caught.

“‘Maybe you’re right,’ said Lute. ‘At any rate, I’m free to say that your cooking beats the world.’”

“You’re right,” said Lute triumphantly. “My true story ends. But first, an explanation to vindicate my narrative.”

I should never have known this true story if Lute himself hadn’t told it to me at the last dinner of the Sons of New England—to tell it to me right before Em, that dear, patient little martyred wife of mine, who’d been the twilight in Em’s eyes that she was glad that she had endured that martyrdom for Lute’s sake.
