

SOME FAVOR PEACE, OTHERS FOR FIGHT

State Troops Change the Situation Greatly at Homestead.

ANXIETY PLAINLY WRITTEN ON THE FACES OF THE PEOPLE.

TROOPS WILL NOT BE MOLESTED.

The Danger Now Lies in the Desire for Retaliation on the Carnegie Company for Attempting to Bring in Pinkerton Men.

Chief Byrne of the Fire Department, who is also a member of the borough council, said to a press representative to-day that the troops are not wanted in the borough, and that while there will be no retaliation on the part of the residents the officers have been informed that the town is in the hands of its civil authorities, and that interference by State troops is neither desired nor necessary.

Mr. Byrne declined to say what action would be taken if the troops continued to remain in the town.

Men stand about the streets of Homestead, looking now and then to expect the white winged dove of peace, but many predict, as he folded his wings and hopped.

Anxiety is written on the face of the town's people. Relief stands prominently on the faces of the men who are under their authority.

There is no thought that the troops will be molested, but the desire for retaliation, or whatever it may be called, on the Carnegie Company for attempting to bring in Pinkerton men.

Those who have gone openly about with loaded revolvers, and who have been in a mood to have this privilege restricted, men who have witnessed scenes of bloodshed, who have seen the blood of their brethren in their blood and who have waged warfare against a form of well equipped and disciplined men, will not be slow to stoutr a taste for warfare to give it up under compulsion.

A State bordering on anarchy cannot be changed to one of recognized law and order without great danger.

The thoughtless and blind of every workman that the assumption of authority by the State, backed by 9,000 armed men, will be the prelude to the introduction of non-union laborers in the Carnegie works.

"Non-union is second only to Pinkerton" is the feeling that arises in the minds of the workmen, and they are not the result of the present trouble. The growth of this feeling may give birth to a feeling of revenge which may place thousands of excited men in a frenzy and lead to the work, and to the blood would be synonymous.

The local authorities are powerless to restrain men, they were they so disposed. As a matter of fact they are with the men.

The troops, composed of a chief and two patrolmen, are with them, and they are not only with them, but many of them are with them, and they are not only with them, but many of them are with them.

Some members of the Town Council are leaders of the strikers, men who have served on important committees in the trouble distributed ammunition when the strikers were well armed and ready for action.

WARLIKE SCENES

Great Unrest at the Philadelphia Armories as the Soldiers Left.

Philadelphia, July 12.—At around the armories of the National Guard this morning the scenes were warlike. Officers and men in full uniform were bustling around, and on every side the active preparation to go to the front was to be seen.

From 5 o'clock on, the boys in blue were constantly reporting at the armories in response to the summons they had received in the early morning hours.

By 7 o'clock the armories of the First, Second and Third regiments and the State Penitentiary were surrounded by a crowd of the friends and relatives of the guardsmen and the usual throng of people curious and anxious to see the boys in blue for the scene of the trouble at Homestead.

Although the officers and men of the National Guard expected to be called out in the order, when it came, it was at an unexpected time and fell upon many like a thunder clod.

Col. Wendell P. Bowman's regiment, the First, had the post of honor. It was the first to march, followed by the Second and Third regiments, and the State Penitentiary.

Relief Measures for the Stricken People of St. Johns.

VESSEL LOADS OF PROVISIONS SENT.

Civil, Military and Naval Authorities All Active in Collecting and Forwarding Tents, Clothing and Food to the Stricken.

HALIFAX, July 12.—The Citizens' Committee forwarded seven hundred barrels of food supplies on the steamer Uluksuk last night, about 35,000 feet of lumber.

While the Citizens' Provisional Committee were hard at work getting off supplies to the stricken, the naval authorities were not inactive. Gen. Sir John Ross, as well as a quantity of blankets, the general also started a garrison subscription.

Admiral Hopkins, although out of the city, gave telegraphic orders for the Blakes to the harbor, the line were sent off forward such stores of provisions and canvas for tents as could be spared.

The Evening, now on the coast of Newfoundland, having on board six months, half a ton of provisions, and a quantity of blankets, the general also started a garrison subscription.

PINKERTON'S ARRESTING

They Are Clinging in on Homestead—The Workmen on the Alert.

HOMESTEAD, July 12.—One of the leaders of the strikers was asked what the outlook is for the advance of the Pinkerton force which is supposed to be assembling over the bank of the hills south of the Carnegie mills.

He replied: "There is no doubt about the presence of armed men just south of the Carnegie hills. Their scouts have located them in a down place."

"They are in groups and are moving about. They are greatly getting together and will in all probability make a faint upon some point in our line which they believe weak."

"I do not believe their first attack will be a serious one. They are back from two to three miles from the river and are evidently waiting for reinforcements. They are arriving in small detachments so that they will not attract notice."

"Not one of us doubts the presence of these men and that they intend to make an attempt to reach the mill under the protection of the State troops."

Endorsed by Chicago Compositors.

Chicago, July 12.—Typographical Union No. 13 has adopted resolutions endorsing the course of the strikers at Homestead and tendering them the moral, financial and physical assistance. The resolutions also denounce the Pinkerton guards as an unlawful organization.

Advisory Committee Reorganized.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 12.—The Advisory Committee of the Amalgamated Association, which went out of existence last Wednesday when the battle between the Pinkertons began, met here last night and reorganized.

Miners Up in Arms.

HOMESTEAD, July 12.—The following has been belittled in Pittsburgh: "Miners in arms at St. Mike Ferry, Pa., Sunday, and other points. Two thousand men armed with Springfield rifles are ready for any signal to lead the strikers."

LETAL LINGERING IN NEW YORK.

Many of the Christian Endeavor Delegates Will Remain Until August 1.

New York, July 12.—Proprietors of hotels and restaurants and places of amusement, who had calculated that the Christian Endeavor delegates would leave town at once on account of the close of the convention, have been greatly surprised.

On Saturday more than 10,000 tickets were exchanged at the office in the Madison Square Garden, and to-day word was received by the managers of the convention that the authorities at the Albany Hotel had been obliged to establish a branch office on Broadway in order to accommodate the great number of Endeavorers who were desirous of remaining in town.

Ravachol's Bravado Deserted Him At the Last Moment.

DRAINED UNDER THE KNIFE.

Fought the Executives and Died Cursing and Struggling—When Given Poison to Die He Cursed the Great He Sang An Indecent Song and Danced.

PARIS, July 12.—Ravachol, the anarchist and murderer, was guillotined at Monthlignon at 4.07 a. m.

He was popularly and, facetiously known as "M. de Baris," the public executioner, arrived here from Paris at 6 o'clock Sunday evening, and at once began preparations for the execution of Ravachol.

The scaffold was erected in a public place, about sixty metres from the prison. There were men and that they were to make an attempt to reach the mill under the protection of the State troops."

About 4 a. m. Ravachol, who had fallen asleep in spite of his knowledge that his death was imminent, was aroused, and notified that his time had come.

He assumed an air of bravado, and made a mocking reply. He rudely refused the religious offices tendered by the priest.

He was dressed in the same clothes that he wore when arrested, and when his toilet was completed, he commented laughingly upon his dandified appearance as being something out of place on such an occasion.

Mr. Berger, assistant to "M. de Baris," cut away the prisoner's collar, and shaved off his black hair.

Ravachol joked with those around him, and indulged in profane and indecent comments, but instead of creating the desired impression of indifference, he showed a morbidly morose and defiant attitude, and hardly knew what he was saying.

These preparations completed, the prisoner was led forth from the prison, surrounded by a strong guard. It was dawn, and when Ravachol emerged from the gates his eyes fell upon a crowd of people who had gathered to see him die.

He was placed in the prison van and hurried to the place of execution, where a cordon of troops had been drawn. He was taken to guard against disorder among the curious, and no sign of sympathy with the condemned was visible.

The executioner's assistants at once seized Ravachol, whereupon the latter's face became livid, and he uttered a few words of defiance, but instead of speaking he began to sing an indecent song, and danced to the refrain as he would with his arms cramped.

The officers in charge soon tired of this burlesque, and gave the signal to M. Diehl.

OUR CANDIDATES.

FOR PRESIDENT,

BENJAMIN HARRISON,

of Indiana.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

WHITELAW REID,

of New York.

It is quite worth while, I think, for those who are charged with great public affairs now and then to turn

aside from the routine of official duties and look into the faces of the people.—Benjamin Harrison.

DAVID HILL may feel disappointed and sore, but he tells a truth when he says of the Democratic free trade plank that it "has turned every factory in the United States into a Republican Headquarters."

The Constitution of the United States

guarantees a vote to every citizen without distinction, but the Democratic party says a law to make that guarantee good in a federal election is unconstitutional.

"We denounce Republican protection as a fraud, a robbery." So says the Democratic platform. Then why doesn't your Democratic Congress introduce a measure to repeal the Mc-

Kinley law?

WATKINSON led the Democracy right into the slaughter house when he devised the adoption of the platform

that recognized the necessity of even incidental protection.

The proposition to restore wild-cat

banking in this country by removing the tax on such concerns is not the least of the evils of the Democratic platform.

Our platform is a nutshell: "American labor protected. American commerce extended. American votes counted. American dollars at par."

Is New York alone there are more workingmen who own homes than in all Great Britain. Do you want free trade here?

GOVERNOR ABBOTT and Dave Hill will not again be drums by the sea-side,

as they were a year ago.

It is not tariff reform that Cleveland and his mugwump followers want, but tariff destruction.

The Democratic platform: Free

trade, Southern outrages and fraudulent money.

As usual, the Sun is making a ridiculous-burlesque of Cleveland.

The Democratic rallying cry—

"Death to American industries."

What a force the Democratic party has got to be, anyhow.

How to Improve the Voice.

Lung power and capacity may be wonderfully increased and strengthened

by a constant repetition of the syllable

"ah," on the three or four notes in the middle register of the voice; that is,

the three or four notes which one sings most naturally and with the least effort. Let the pupil get one note clear, round, full and musical,

then from that note, as a starting point, let him go up and down

gradually working out the huskiness

from the adjacent notes, and sounding them until they become pure and resonant and can be delivered without strain or effort. Let him work systematically, and, above all, avoid the pernicious trick of learning "pieces"

by rote or by ear. His first effort should be to increase the purity and range of his voice, and to that end he should, as suggested above, use the broad syllable "ah" only, for a time;

and on no account should he try to sing an air until he can do so understandingly, with a full knowledge of musical notation, and a perfect command of his vocal resources.—From

"How to Sing Without a Master," in the Demorest's Family Magazine for August.

What the Telephone Companies Make.

The Census Department of the United States has issued a bulletin

giving statistics of the manufacture, operating and earning capacity of the telephone companies in the United States, which shows how necessary the telephone service has become in commercial and social affairs. The circular gives the number of companies

reporting as fifty-three, with a total investment of $72,341,736, an increase in ten years of $57,735,949. The gross earnings are reported at $16,- 404,883; gross expenses, $11,143,917;

net earnings, $5,260,966; number of switches, 1,241; number of telephone and transmitters, 458,356; miles of wire, 248,413; number of employees,

8,645; number of subscribers, 227,357;

number of conversations, 453,200,000.

The total interest-bearing and profit-sharing investments of the companies amount to $72,341,736. The net earnings on the total investment amount to 7.27 per cent, while the per cent of aggregate dividends on share investments is 4.70.

The Prices of Bicycles Too High.

There is scarcely a wheelman or even

he who is thinking of purchasing a wheel, but will echo the sentiment expressed in the following article from the Engineer:

"About the most expensive piece of machinery in use to-day is the bicycle.

One of thirty pounds weight costs $150,

or $1 per pound for ordinary machine

work of a low class. They do not compare with the watches, for instance,

which cost about $2 per pound, case

and all. A good time-keeper can be had for $4."

The figures clearly show that the prices at which wheels are sold are outrage. When cycling was a mere pastime it was, perhaps, well enough to ask big prices for them, but now that they are used for so almost universal

it is time the price were cut down to the proportion of other similar products.

Nothing but the collusion of manufacturers keeps the prices where they now are.

Things Worth Remembering.

When you feel a kind of queasiness

about the stomach it is a sign that your food does not sit well and that you are about to have a fit of indigestion.

When you begin to feel nervous and are unable to sit still comfortably; when your clothes suddenly seem to weigh too

heavy and become too tight in places the fit of indigestion is surely upon you.

When this fit of indigestion is repeated from day to day it finally resolves itself into dyspepsia.

Remember that three in ten of

BRANDRETT'S PILLS will cure the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia, or both, and that a regular course of them, say two every night for a week or ten days, will act as a preventive of either complaint.

A DEPOT IN HARLEM.

The New Haven and Hartford Road

abandons its New York Station.

New Haven, Conn., July 12.—It is reported that the New York, New Haven &amp;

Hartford Railroad has decided to abandon their terminal station in New York, the Grand Central depot, and propose building a handsome new station in Harlem as soon as the trading of the road between this city and New York is completed.

President Clark, before leaving for Europe, declared that the street on the remaining sections would be pushed with all possible speed.

This work will be finished in about a year, when the new terminal station will be built.

The passengers will then be transported
