Tariff Pictures.

The world wants our live stock and buys what it wants where it can get it regardless of higher duties on our imports. Our exports of live animals for seven months of 1892 were worth $23,572,000, as against $17,797,262 in the first seven months of 1891.

MR. CLEVELAND has broken silence at last. His letter of acceptance is not long. He hurries over the great issue of the campaign, the tariff, as if the less said upon the subject at this stage of the proceedings the better for the Democratic party. The plank in the Chicago platform which denounced protection as a fraud and as unconstitutional has wrought much mischief to the Democracy, and the problem which Mr. Cleveland has had to work out has been to accept the platform as adopted and at the same time to soften down the rough edges. He makes no argument. He contents himself with a deliberate which plants him squarely upon the free trade plank. He contends that protection, a principle recognized by the founders of the government and indorsed by the first Congress of the United States, has no place in legislation. The tariff duties are "not justifiable," according to Mr.

Cleveland, "when laid and collected for the purpose of maintaining our government." In other words, he accepts the doctrine enunciated at Chicago that tariff for revenue only should be levied.

It is not a high protective tariff especially that is opposed by the Democrats. Their platform declares that the Federal Government has no constitutional power to levy a tariff for revenue only. This would make a tariff on an article made in this country as unconstitutional as a high tariff.

The Democratic declaration is for removal of all tariffs on articles the like of which are made or can be made in this country.

WHEN the McKinley law was passed in 1890, and the duty on linseed oil advanced from 25 to 32 cents a gallon, the oil was selling for from 57 to 59 cents a gallon. During the past year the price ranged from 34 to 39 cents.

Will the able Democratic free trade editor please explain where the tax is in this?

THE sounds from the Republican camp are all of musical harmony, while from the Democratic side is heard discordant, wild caterwauling and unintelligent ebullience between Hill men, anti-slavery, Tammany braves and mugwumps.

GENERAL Stickers is a Democrat, but he is not so much of a partisan that he does not appreciate the sterling character of President Harrison as a soldier and statesman.

candidate Weaver will never die from congestion of modesty on the brain.

It might well have extended its list beyond Weaver.

LATE NEWS!

THE SINGER FACTORY ON FIRE.

The Cabinet and Carpenter Shops, the Storage House and Engine House Burned Early This Morning—Three Locomotives Lost and a Number of Coal Cars Consumed.—Loss About $150,000.—The Fire Under Control.

(SPECIAL TO THE COURIER BY WIRE.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., September 28, 1892.

At half past one o'clock this morning the cabinet shop at the Singer Sewing Machine Factory, at Elizabethport, caught fire from some unknown cause.

A general alarm was sent out and five engines responded to the call.

The flames spread rapidly, and the carpenter shop, twenty-five feet from the end of the cabinet shop, soon caught fire. The engine house, in which the engines and boilers which furnished power to the cabinet and carpenter shops, and the storage house, in which were three locomotives, were also soon ablaze. Four box cars and a box of coal cars were burned, as it was with difficulty that the stock ready for delivery was saved. The windows in the main building, seventy-five feet from the cabinet shop, were traced by the heat, but the good work of the firemen prevented the building from catching fire.

The firemen worked nearly four hours before the flames were under control, and the engines continued playing on the fire all the morning.

There were many narrow escapes from falling walls, but no one was hurt.

The total loss is about $150,000, on which there is no outside insurance, as the Singer Company does its own insurance. About 250 men were employed in the burned shops. The employees in the other departments went to work as usual this morning.

The company has enough completed machines on hand to fill all orders until the burned portion of the works can be rebuilt.

The cause of the fire is a mystery.

The night watchman had passed through the floor of the cabinet shop in which the fire started about five minutes before the fire was discovered.

BICYCLE NOTES.

Nowak has a Republican Wheel-men's Club as well as Plainfield. The club will parade this evening at that city at the reception to the Honorable

John Keen, Jr., and the general orders issued say that all the members "are requested to carry head lanterns and decorations as they please, barring Chinese and Japanese lanterns."

Wheelmen all over the country are inclined to be sceptical about Johnson's recent wonderful mile record. They claim that if he is such a wonderful rider, he should come East and compete with well known racers in a public manner. While the records have been cut down rapidly of late with the introduction of the high-gear safety machine and the pneumatic tire, a drop of more than eight seconds under the recently established record made by Zimmerman is a little more than the Eastern wheelmen can swallow.

There are still a few wheelmen in this city who persist in riding on the sidewalks, although against the law.

Captain Grant has been cognizant of their doings for some time, but he has found it impossible to catch them until recently. One of these smart steeds was met by the Captain on Monday, who after a lecture let him go with a warning. Soon after the Captain saw another one of them riding on the sidewalk as usual. He motioned for him to stop but the rider paid no attention. As he passed the Captain suddenly grabbed the wheel, and the rider took a header. Picking himself up, he was warned not to ride on the sidewalk again and also to stop when ordered.

He was allowed to go but will be watched in the future.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Keefer, the former popular short stop for the Crescents, signed with the New York's, yesterday. He will play with his old team.

Theodore Scheffer, who pitched for the Crescents a year or more ago, and who is now the star pitcher for the Troy team, is in town to-day, visiting his brother on Somerset street.

Captain "Chic" Hofford telegraphed to Patterson this morning to have the Petersons come here and play the ben-efact game on Saturday, but up to the hour of going to press no response has been received. It may not be generally known, that it costs over a hundred dollars to get the Patterson team here, if they come. In case they don't, the Murray Hill's is the next team on the list.

AMUSEMENT EVENING.
Music Hall, this evening, will be given over to an elaborate production of Scott Marbo's dramatic picture of police life called "The Police Patrol." In one act the interior of a police station is shown with the horses standing in their stalls, the wagon in place, and everything in readiness for the alarm. When the bell sounds the horses dash under the swinging harness, are hitched and off the stage in less than five seconds. In the following act, Haymarket Square, Chicago, is shown with the policemen's monument, marking the spot where on the fatal May day the Anarchists shot the brave officers.

—On account of a holiday, the store of Sewell Brothers will be closed from Friday night of this week from six o'clock until the following evening at six o'clock.

The Blood. The Blood.

If you have good, rich blood you enjoy good health. Dr. S. D. Howe made blood disease a specialty for years, and cured thousands of people afflicted with scurvy, erythema, skin eruptions, rheumatism, catarrh, acid rheum and eczema. He prescribed a remedy invented by himself, called Howe's Blood Tonic. It acts as a tonic to the blood, purifies and builds up the system to vigor and good health. Howe's Blood Tonic has cured thousands of cases of consumption that had been given up by the physicians.
