

BRIGGS WINS HIS CASE.

The Celebrated Heresy Trial Ends in His Favor.

THE ANTI-BRIGGS APPEAL.

The Presbytery by a Close Vote Refuses to Sustain the Charges Made Against Professor Briggs - The Anti-Briggs Appeal.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The famous heresy trial of Professor Charles Briggs is at an end. The result will be a great surprise, for on all of the six counts the vote was adverse to sustaining the charge.

On the first charge, accusing Professor Briggs with teaching that the reason is a source of divine authority, the vote was as follows: To sustain the charge, 89; against sustaining the charge, 69.

On the second charge, which accuses Professor Briggs with teaching that the church is a source of divine authority, the vote was as follows: To sustain the charge, 81; against sustaining the charge, 71.

The closest vote was on the third charge, which accuses Briggs with teaching that the scriptures contain errors of fact. On this charge, the vote was as follows: To sustain the charge, 61; against sustaining the charge, 61.

After this vote had been taken two or three of the anti-Briggs men left the court and others refrained from voting on the last three charges.

On the fourth charge, accusing Professor Briggs with teaching that Moses did not write the Pentateuch, the result was as follows: To sustain the charge, 83; against sustaining the charge, 72.

The vote on the fifth charge, accusing Briggs with teaching that Isaiah did not write many of the chapters in the book bearing his name, was as follows: To sustain the charge, 49; against sustaining the charge, 49.

On the sixth charge, accusing Professor Briggs with teaching that sanctification is progressive after death, was as follows: To sustain the charge, 57; against sustaining the charge, 57.

The case will be appealed to the general assembly which will meet in Washington early in the spring. The assembly will appoint a commission consisting of fourteen unprejudiced members to act on the appeal.

The friends of Dr. Briggs were greatly pleased with the result. They had calculated on a majority ranging from four to six.

THE PEAK MURDER CASE.

The Defense Admits Warner's Guilt, Alleging Temporary Insanity.

Mr. HOLLY, N. J., Dec. 31.—The opening argument for the defense in the trial of Wesley Warner yesterday was made by Charles K. Chambers, who stated that no effort would be made to deny that the defendant had committed the crime in question, but that he was not in his senses at the time he committed the crime.

Chambers, the aged mother of the defendant, was sworn as a witness, and testified that her son had acted strangely in her presence all during the week. He was drinking heavily at the time, and his mental condition was very disordered.

Other members of the Warner family were sworn to the stand, and all testified that the defendant was mentally unbalanced, presumably from over-indulgence in drinking, and was very nervous, unable to sleep and very marked when he feared he was going to be caught.

Chambers, who was called by the defense, testified that she had been with her son at the time he committed the crime, and that she had seen him shoot the victim.

Some of the witnesses called by the defense, however, were quite positive that the defendant was not deranged, and that he knew what he was doing over the crime.

The trial will be concluded on Tuesday next, until which time the court adjourned.

Indian Troubles Brewing.

LOAN, Wyo., Dec. 31.—Congress last year appointed a commission to investigate a part of the Shoshone reservation. An agreement with the Shoshone and Arapaho tribes was reached by which one-half of the land was to be relinquished. This was approved by Washington, and a second commission was sent out. This has caused the trouble.

The Shoshone now say that they need no land. The Shoshone say that the Arapaho have no land to cede.

The latter were placed on the Shoshone reservation, to be removed as soon as a reservation could be secured for them.

The secretary of the interior has proposed to recognize the Arapaho as joint owners, and the Arapaho seem determined to push their claims. Warlike claims that he will not admit that the Arapaho be recognized in the treaty.

NEWS OF THE VATICAN.

The Pope Displeased at the Opposition to Mgr. Satolli.

ROME AND THE PANAMA SCANDAL.

A Movement Afoot Looking to the Reunion of the Russian and Roman Churches—Diplomatic Advantages to be Gained by It.

ROME, Dec. 31.—The holy father is greatly increased at the opposition displayed against Mgr. Satolli and a peaceful and moderate solution of the school question in the United States.

In the document which is now being prepared at the Vatican, the prudence and wisdom which Monsignor Satolli displayed in his proposition for a solution of the school question are spoken of with much praise.

The fact that the holy see has addressed an encyclical to the Italian people in the popular tongue has caused much uneasiness among the clergy.

It is the first time that the pope, departing from ancient usage, has addressed himself directly to the people. This step is regarded by close observers as a fresh testimony of the more and more democratic character of the pontificate.

Some of the witnesses called by the defense, however, were quite positive that the defendant was not deranged, and that he knew what he was doing over the crime.

AMERICAN PANAMA BACKERS.

Captain Appleton's Views—The United States Should Control the Canal.

BOSTON, Dec. 31.—Appropriation of the charges made against Captain Nathan Appleton, of this city, which stated that a fund of $50,000 was scattered throughout the United States by the Panama Canal, promoters, that Mr. Appleton was Dr. Loewe's right hand man here, and was given a place on the American committee with a compensation of $10,000. Mr. Appleton is reported to have said that at the time he was very enthusiastic in the matter, believing that, as he does at present, that the Panama route is the best.

Asked if he thought Dr. Loewe had knowledge of and sanctioned the use of money in buying the approval of newspapers and legislators Mr. Appleton replied: "I do not know. I do not believe that any member of the board of directors voted a dollar for such purpose."

He then went on to say that many wheels developed within wheels that finally it got beyond them, and intricate wrongdoings the colonel, Mr. Appleton had no recollection of any disbursements made by him or by Dr. Loewe.

He received $4,000 per year for eight years. "What really happened," he said, "was that Mr. Appleton, 'was the tremendous interest it was paying and the sums demanded by the blackboarders."

"I believe that the thing for the United States to do is to take this work out of the hands of France. The canal could easily pay the hole for about $100,000. The work is in a condition to be easily pushed to a finish. It is not so the French will probably finish and that will hurry up our government at Nicaragua, and the result may be that we will have two competing canals instead of a monopoly."

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1892.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU.

This will be the Simple Greeting of Courier

Carriers.

This year the Courier will depart from a custom that has been long in vogue among newspapers, of long carriers' addresses or calendars. The reason for it is that the list of newsmen in that list has been exhausted and in the matter of newsmen alone are the addresses interesting. Another point is the annoyance which some people feel at being rung up on New Year's morning by the carrier boys soliciting purchasers for their addresses, and often making persistent appeals much to the inconvenience of the subscribers who, though willing enough to reward their faithful service in the delivery of papers during the preceding year, yet are not willing to look at a piece of fancy colored paper and be expected to buy it.

The newspaper office is often charged with being benefited through the carriers, by people who do not understand that the addresses are gotten up for the benefit of the carriers alone and are a kind of New Year's favor to them on which they expect to realize from the benevolence of subscribers. The office does turn out the address list and permits the boys to present them with a view to interesting the kindness of the readers, but assumes no responsibility nor is it benefited thereby. All that the boys realize on them is extra over what they are paid for carrying the paper and for the generosity or willingness of the patrons at the paper is invoked to make an offering. While the boys are praiseworthy in their efforts to do so, it is not their business to deliver their papers, it is the proper thing to remember them as a kind of inducement for future effort in training patrons their daily reading.

We would heartily commend for them the appreciation of all our readers.

So this year the boys will have visiting cards containing simply their names and in the corner the words of New Year's greeting. There will be nothing clerical about this style of advertising, and in fact it will be a real novelty. We can certainly claim some originality in this idea and hope our departure from the old custom will be appreciated.

"The Greatest of These is Charity."

The editor of the Press entirely forgot the motive of the dramatic entertainment which a number of the critical people of the city gave in the Casino Thursday night. The criticism which he printed yesterday was as later as music, and one might expect from him (if he had no personal interest to conserve) of an ambitious production in Music Hall. These young people, actuated by the Christian motive of charity, strove to do a kind act for a poor crippled boy. They did not set themselves up even as tolerated announcers. Their motive was their execution for appearing in public. That they acted well and acceptably was a matter of satisfaction to themselves, and congratulation for their friends. The Press editor, forgetful of the object of the entertainment, ranked various members of the cast over his shoulder and in other

THAT SEWER SYSTEM.

A Correspondent of the Courier at the of the City Council in the Submitting a Report to the Council—Some

Further Information Regarding the Sewer System of the City of Plainfield, N. J.

To the Editor of the Courier:

Nearly a year ago a committee of our Common Council and of prominent citizens was appointed to co-operate with our Mayor in making an investigation and report on the matter of providing a sewer system for the city. The result of the committee's investigation is as yet unknown; no plan has been reported, and no progress appears to have been made. Are the people to infer from this that the committee consider action unnecessary, or do they find difficulties which they shrink from stating? What is the matter?

We all agree that a good sewer system is a pressing necessity, and should be provided before the City's future is blighted by an epidemic. We must not have a defective system at a price. Many of us understand that on account of our location the subject is one with peculiar difficulties for us.

We are, however, anxious to realize and admit that a large expenditure of money is necessary in order to provide an efficient system. The talk about running cheap pipes through some of our streets, and sprinkling the sewage of a city over a few neighboring buildings has ceased to be a topic for amusement and demand for earnest and prompt action. To put with this subject, or to keep our eyes closed against the fact, means that we will make a great mistake if we act, or that we will do nothing at all.

Who has got the nerve to tell the truth about this matter, so that the people may understand and discuss it intelligently? It is much better to understand distinctly that an estimate for an efficient sewer system for Plainfield would be at least $350,000, and the actual cost of such a system would be more than half a million dollars, and that the large sum of money can only be obtained by bonding the City. This is no doubt an unpopular statement; but it is a fact, nevertheless, from which we will make no possible escape. This unpleasant experience of other cities more favorably situated for disposing of sewage than Plainfield, is there any reason to suppose that we can cope with this problem on better terms than what Plainfield is one of the great cities of the United States, and no sound and alarming fact that we sit quietly in the midst of our sewage year after year rather than employ liberally possible means of escape.

TAX-PAYER.

[For the information of Taxpayer, the editor would state that the committee of citizens who were organized to whom was intrusted investigation in the sewer matter, has made a long and careful study of the subject. Services have been made, the advice of many practical engineers has been sought, and the financial part of the project has been considered by experienced financiers (of whom there are many in Plainfield). The result of all this will be developed in the report which will be made early next year.

The committee have chosen that in this matter it is wise to make haste very slowly, hence their deliberation.

The members are thoroughly representative citizens who will be very apt to know how the subject will appeal to every class of taxpayers. When their report is made, there is little doubt that the main features of it, if not all of it, will be adopted speedily, and that this crying need of the city will receive the prompt attention. There may be place at Emory's Hall, last night. It was the last dance of the term, and was well attended by friends of the

During an intermission, Professor Boole, of this city, a little jig, danced the Baller's Hornpipe, and was asked to repeat it and Clara Lanning, the Span-proficient for the short time they have spent on these different dances. On Monday night a reception will be given by Professor Davis and a new class will

"Held in Slavery" was presented at Music Hall last night, before a fair-sized audience. Master Hayden in the role of Julian played too heavy for his part, and showed up by contrast Vincent, the wealthy planter and villain, acted well at the auction sale of slaves, and Teddy, the smuggler, handled the Irish brogue with good effect. Skinner, the curiously seer, was good as also was Corky, the black girl, Clara, the petite blonde, and the rest of the cast.

A number of new brick buildings are being put up in various parts of the city. Some of them are very close to the sidewalk. The suggestion is made, on account of the danger which comes from falling bricks and mortar, that "danger" signs be placed on each side of these buildings, in order that pedestrians may be prepared for such accidents.

Instead of having a Christmas tree, the adult members of the Trinity Episcopal Church, of this city, spent their friends last evening to a lantern slide entertainment. Electrician Fred Dunn had intended to use the lantern slides to the effect of the Camera Club, but at the last meeting it was found to be too small, so a New York apparatus and lecturer were secured. The slides shown were of a miscellaneous character and over an hour was spent looking at them. After the slides boxes were distributed and the speakers were dismissed.

Old "Probabilities" was quite mercurial yesterday giving us a temperature of 32, highest and 22, lowest. Perhaps this month will go out with a school of weather.

Think it a Bad Idea.

Appropos of an article in the Courier of recent date the Bound Brook Chronicle has the following to say: "It is reported that the people of North Plainfield are about to make application to the authorities to secure a post office separate and distinct from the Plainfield office, through which they now get their mail. If they are wise they will not do such thing. Any act which tends to lessen the business of the post office would be a bad idea. Aside from this a great amount of confusion will arise as many North Plainfield people, even with a post office in their town would continue to have their mail addressed to the Plainfield office, and correspondents would never be sure of sending letters to the proper place. Such a state of affairs has existed to a certain extent in the Bound Brook office, since the Bound Brook office, or South Bound Brook office, was established."

Why He Left So Suddenly.

A prominent music store on Front street was the scene of a set-to this morning between a customer and an employee in which the former came off first but somewhat dispirited.

The scene was a rather comical one over some neglect of duties on the part of the employee which being the second offense was reprimanded quite severely. The employer summoned the young man to the desk to get his discharge but he refused to be discharged or to leave the store. The employer says the young man struck at him first and then he clinched in such a way that the boy went out on the walk before realizing where he was. He left his mark on the employer's coat in a long tear. The young man has not told why he assumed a belligerent attitude, but he threatened arrest though as yet no arrest has been made.
