THE NEWS
A HOUSEHOLD BASKET
LIVERPOOL, Feb. 12.—The Capital National Bank of Liverpool failed today. It had deposits of about $525,000 of which nearly half were State funds, so the bonds of the State Treasurer will be liable for about $250,000. There is doubt if the depositors can be protected.

SINOPHROES DEAD
[BY WIRE TO THE COURIER]
BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 23.—Bishop Phillips Brooks died at 4.30 o'clock this morning suddenly of pneumonia. He was born December 13, 1835.

NOTHING NABBY-PAMBY ABOUT HER
Mrs. Albert, who formerly lived in Plainfield, New Jersey, is visiting her mother in Newark.

THE DELMAR SCHOOL OF EXPRESSION
No. 537 Fifth Avenue is one of the most advanced institutions of culture for women in the metropolis. Mme. Alberti is at the head of it, and she feels upon introduction to her that she is the person for the place. Madame is not tall and fair; she is short and dark, inclined to be plump, dimpled and ray. She immediately attracts the attention of the students by her graceful and charming manner.

THE SWEDISH MOVEMENT
The Swedish movement, too, Mme. Alberti says, in a great many ways are too hard for women—the stretching movements, the running and the horse back exercises.

A MOST BEAUTIFUL CALENDAR
The Columbia cycling calendar for 1893 is the most exquisite and truly artistic of practical calendars for the year. It begins with February, 19, and ends with February, 19, 1904.

PERITENT PARAGRAPHS.

Mr. Henry Voehl, of Somerset street, was enjoying a sleigh ride on Front street Saturday afternoon, when he became frightened at a pale-colored carriage coming around a bend near the sleigh, and three Mrs. W. out. She failed to let go of the reins and so was dragged about fifty feet before the horse could be stopped. Beyond a slight bruise and a thorough shaking up she was unhurt.

Excursion parties to attend the carnival are coming from New York, Jersey City, Newark, Elizabeth and Westfield, and several sleighing parties are organizing to come from several of the surrounding towns.

About 11:30 Saturday night officers Kiley and Gleason held a show in the direction of Silver's alley and at once followed up the sound. As they entered the alley they heard a loud whining through the trees under them they proceeded to the last house in the alley and as they neared the door, heard a loud cry, "If any one comes out, let them in." The officers entered quietly and saw some colored women gathered around, and with them two white men. But all disclaimed any knowledge of the shots.

The minimum temperature of Saturday and Sunday seemed quite high warm weather compared with the extreme weather of last week and yesterday, thermometer on both days reached a low point. On Saturday it was but three degrees above zero and yesterday 2.5 degrees above. The highest temperature on both days was 29 and 28.9 respectively.

Yesterday was quite a day for sleighing horses on Front and Fifth streets. Several local tournaments improved the opportunity for a race and some of them were driven by women.

The second of the series of concerts by the New York Philharmonic Club will be given at the Casino on Thursday evening. The soloists for the occasion will be Miss Maria S. Weid, mezzo soprano and Xavier Scharwenka, the renowned pianist. Tickets for the two remaining concerts of the series may be procured at Reynolds's Pharmacy. Price $2.50.

Two men, 170 women and a dog formed an excited group in front of Ulrich's market Saturday night. The dog was the bone of contention between the two parties. Both claimed it and the services of an officer were required to quell the disturbance. He finally turned the animal over to the man and woman who had been its original owners, while the dog's claimant to own the dog were advised to seek relief in the courts.

The North Avenue newsdealer who suffered from a somewhat distressing accident yesterday is able to be put again. It is to be hoped he may not suffer a repetition of the mishap.

This morning a slight fire occurred in Blinn's hotel on Somerset street, which was put out before any serious damage was done. Mr. Blinn was awakened shortly before six o'clock by the smell of smoke. Investigating he found that the fire played in the chimney room, and the flooring surrounding it was all ablaze. A few pails full of water put out the blaze. The money was found a large quantity of smoking coal, and it is thought that this was the cause of the incontinent conflagration.

Quite a number of bicycle riders were seen on the streets of the city yesterday. The hard, well-packed snow made excellent wheeling and many of the riders were seen to take pleasure in the sport. They were surprised to find how enjoyable it was.

The committee in charge of getting up a "scrapping" party, really a print of the work of New Jersey for women writers, assert that there are more writers in this State than in any other proportionate of course, to its size. It is said that more than 200 were dreamed of have sprung up in Newark alone. But then many of them do not make literature or even journalism their profession, and so have been little heard of. If the number added to the scrapping party were limited to those who have earned or do earn their living by journalistic work, their labor would not be so great. As matters stand, it is going to be a large scrapping party.

Marshall Pangborn arrested William Rosentre late Saturday night for disorderly conduct and disorderly. He was creating a disturbance at a house breaking the furniture and kicking up a mess generally. This morning he appeared before Justice Crossley, and it being his third offense, he was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or be committed to the county jail for sixty days. It was taken to Socorroville by Marshall Pangborn this afternoon.

Among the many new houses which are being erected in the borough, the handsome residence which Charles Lyman is erecting on Washington avenue, opposite Holy Cross Church, is worthy of note.

Quite a number of wagons loaded with coal are being driven with the sleighs and sleighs alone, which were seen on Front street early last week attached to a Newark wagon.

It is said that a pigistic contest took place on two places Saturday night, between two well-known out of town sports. The police were unable to locate the scap.

FUN ON THE BROADWAY HILL.

One of the Neighbors Dispute in the Courtroom and the Best Help the Young People Have in a Reckless Party. - Shows that the Party of the World is Not That Far from the Future.

Since the snow came the early part of this month, Dunlap Hill, which is a part of Broadway running west from Belvidere avenue, has been the resort of coasting parties. Men and boys, women and girls have departed there with an elegant train. There are but few people living in the immediate vicinity of the hill and few teams pass that way, the road to the southward of the hill leading through the woods and not being traveled much.

Within a few days past, as was noted in the Courier, complaints were sent in to Chief Grant about the disturbance caused from looting horses and the hindrance to the investigation of the complaints showed that they came from but one family living on the hill, and that the other neighbors instead of being annoyed by the boys and girls coasting, were rather in favor of it as a lark which is not often enjoyed in this city, since the hill is the first season in years that there has been snow enough for it. Mrs. Croukhan who made the complaints at once became unpopular among the coasters.

The coasters say that Mrs. Croukhan had had a party on the hill to break up their sleighing, but she denies this. They say that she had another party down the hill with a horse and cutter, and by manipulating the reins kept the horse prancing on the ice track to cut the sleighs. In passing there she took a blow at the sleigh which struck Albert Simmons and broke the whip. This she also denies. On account of these things she was called a "coaster hater" and she has been in receipt of letters and since then there has been a disposition on their part to show her no courtesy, though they have been willing to stop sliding while those of other people were on the hill.

Mrs. Croukhan says that the noise of the horses at night has been so loud as to keep her two children awake and she has been so annoyed that she has had to change their sleeping room. She also says that on one occasion some one drove out of her field nearly and left the horse on the road so that she had to get her husband to remove them before she could drive down the hill, and that during the operation the horse nearly ran into the carriage of the coachman of Mr. Smith who lives near by. She also says that on one occasion, while her little daughter was driving her pony up the hill, the horse was stopped by the coasters who refused to allow her to pass until the coachman appeared on the scene. Some of the coasters acknowledge that obstructions were put across the road on one or two occasions but it was only the boys and they were left across only a few minutes. The horse slid away, and did not obstruct driving.

Neighbors who live on Belvidere avenue say they have no objection to the sleighing for teams in traveling the hill, or if there was, they could easily come from Broadway by way of the street passing by Belvidere, and cause all trouble from the coasters. The neighbors are inclined to take a liberal view of the matter and to put up with the pleasure of winter sports during the time they last, even if it does entail some little inconvenience to them.

Mr. Finch who lives at the top of the hill addressed a petition to the Mayor, signed by the coasters, and members of Mr. Leach's school as well as others asking that coasting be permitted on Broadway and the way was granted. It was merely a matter of form, however, for the city ordinances contain no provision which prohibits coasting. The petition, signed by the boys and girls who had slid down hill to their heart's content.

THE MELIOPOLITANS.

At the next concert of the Meliopolis, Joseph Hollman, the celebrated Dutch violinist, will appear. Upon the occasion of his first appearance in New York on December 2 last, the musical critic of the New York Herald said of him: "He is the finest player ever heard in this country, or at all events the effect produced by his playing is the deepest. How much of this result is due to his really marvellous Stradivarius violin is rather difficult to say. It is an instrument that equals in power and tone any two ordinary violins. At the end of the concerto the audience burst forth with a prolonged roar of enthusiasm such as is seldom heard in any concert. Herr Hollman responded to the applause with Schubert's 'Ave Maria'."

At the Evening Post this morning his marvellous work. "Mr. Hollman plays run and double stops and rapid pizzicato passages and difficult passages with an ease which astonishes, and with a half joy in his own achievements which proves contagious to the audience."

Another soloist engaged for this concert is Mrs. Anna Barth, the soloist of her singing at a production of Mendelssohn's "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" at the Lyric Opera, February 5, 1891, the Tribune said: "The soprano part was sung by Mrs. Anna Barth, a young and capable soprano, whose fresh voice, excellent intonation and musical phrasing are worthy of all praise. She sang her numbers in true artistic fashion."

It would be difficult for Meliopolis directors have spared no expense in securing the best solo talent for this concert. They have never given anything less than the best and the result is that the concert is the most enjoyable musical event in Plainfield.

THE MELIOPOLITANS.

At the next concert of the Meliopolis, Joseph Hollman, the celebrated Dutch violinist, will appear. Upon the occasion of his first appearance in New York on December 2 last, the musical critic of the New York Herald said of him: "He is the finest player ever heard in this country, or at all events the effect produced by his playing is the deepest. How much of this result is due to his really marvellous Stradivarius violin is rather difficult to say. It is an instrument that equals in power and tone any two ordinary violins. At the end of the concerto the audience burst forth with a prolonged roar of enthusiasm such as is seldom heard in any concert. Herr Hollman responded to the applause with Schubert's 'Ave Maria'."

LET US KNOW OUR OWN INTERESTS.

The "Woman of the Street" Case. Will not sell with the "Woman of the Street" Case. As they have during the past week.

The sympathy of residents of the city is being solicited by the Press for the case of the "Woman of the Street," which is a paper points out the exposure of the man's work, apparently hobnobbing with the extreme desire to do something good, proposes to raise enough money to build some sort of a shelter for the men on the case.

Such a scheme would be just what the railway company would want. They are not anxious to go to any more expense than is necessary, and yet they will know that their cars are not the sled it was expected they would furnish. The ordinance relating to their cars, in Section 12, distinctly states that the cars shall be those known as vestibule cars, and shall be similar in construction and design to the cars of the Rapid Transit Street Railway Company of New York and New Jersey, as everybody knows, have a glass vestibule front, inside of which the conductor stands. Instead of paying the railway company of the cars, for their neglect, would it not be better to compel them to have their equipment furnished in accordance with the ordinance?

THE FIRE WAS AT SCOTCH PLAINS.

About half past twelve o'clock yesterday morning the sky toward the east was lighted up very brightly and in a few minutes an alarm was sounded from the box at Front and Richmond streets. Greenleaf, Hook and Ladder No. 1, and the Hose Wagon responded running as far as the limit, Leland avenue, when they found that the fire was at Scotch Plains.

It proved to be the barn of John Smith, a butcher, who lives on Front street corner of Fanwood road. Two horses and a cow were burned to death. The Scotch Plains firemen had the old hand engine which formerly belonged to the Gascoles. They were assisted by the Passaic Hose Company and for their efforts the house which stood near was saved. The only fire truck saved were the plug pump were, however, quite badly blistered.

It is believed that the barn was set on fire. A large number of nail-burned matches were found near the barn, and the fire broke out which led to this belief. The loss all told may amount to $1,500.
