BY THE WAY.

The 1:27 p. m. train from this city connects no more with the Long Branch division. Take the 12:33.

The U. S. Mail from Easton was two and a half hours late last night in consequence of an accident on the Central road near Green Brook.

It looks like coming winter to see a thousand dozen of canned goods arriving in town. Messrs. Barkalew & Dunn are the first to get in their supply.

John Quinn, otherwise known as "Sailor Jack," was arrested in the borough last night for drunkenness. He is yet in "durance vile," awaiting a hearing.

Captain Martin of the Bicycle Club has called a "run" for Saturday. Start to be made from the club house at 3:15 p. m. Route to New Market to witness the road race.

The local sheet with the false name suggests as a new way by which the Y. M. C. A. can secure money for a building, a scheme that is already under way in this city for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital.

Hugh Laing was released from the County Jail at Elizabeth yesterday, and Officer Lynch found him suffering from the same old complaint this afternoon, and kindly cared for him.

The officers, directors and committeemen of the Y. M. C. A. will upon invitation, meet at the residence of Mr. C. T. Kissam, on Dunellen avenue, on Saturday, between the hours of 4 and 8 p. m.

A young man who resides sometimes in this city and at other times in the vicinity of Dunellen, has got himself in trouble by circulating false and low reports about his betters in that town. There is a possibility of his being arrested on a just charge of malicious slander.

Parties from Plainfield who went to Orange last night to see Erminie, report that it is ahead of anything yet offered in Plainfield. There are sixty-two people in the cast, and the scenery is beautiful. There are over a hundred unreserved seats in Music Hall for those who first arrive to-night.

"Murphy" to the Rescue.

"Edward J. Murphy," the detective, whose name we have had occasion to quote from time to time, took part in a transaction on North avenue, this morning, which is a little off from his ordinary occupation of doing detective work. A drunken man from Dunellen was staggering along the avenue at the time, when he reeled and fell directly in the rear of two spirited horses, attached to a brewery wagon. The animals became frightened and began prancing about, when "Murphy" happened along and seeing the perilous position the inebriate was in, went to his rescue. He succeeded in pulling the man from under the horses' hoofs, before he sustained any serious injury. Strange to say the Dunellen man was agreeably surprised to ascertain that his rescuer was one whom he had previously had a slight difference with.

Biedelman-White.

At the residence of the bride's brother, on East Second street, at half-past seven o'clock last evening, Miss Hattie L. White, daughter of Mr. James E. White of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles E. Biedelman of Newark. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham in the presence of about twenty of the relatives and near friends of the contracting couple. The bride was becomingly attired in heliotrope cashmere with white lace trimming, and was the recipient of many costly gifts. The groom enjoys a lucrative position at Newark, as agent for the Pleasant Valley Coal Company. After a pleasant exchange of congratulations the newly married couple left on the 8:40 p. m. train to spend their honeymoon in the South, taking up their residence in this city upon their return.

THE CITY'S ARCHIVES SEIZED.

THE SHERIFF LEVYS ON THE SAFE IN THE CLERK'S OFFICE.

Ex-Judge Runyon Wants $16,09.—But Takes All He Can Lay His Hands On.—His Locality "By a Large Majority."

Nelson Runyon, Esq., in 1880 was asked by the Common Council to issue warrants for taxes for certain previous years. Mr. Runyon, who was then City Judge, declined. George P. Suydam, Esq., who was then Corporation Counsel, was directed to apply to the Supreme Court for a mandamus to compel Judge Runyon to issue the warrants. The Court refused to grant the mandamus because it did not appear that the taxes had been returned to the City Judge by the proper officers. The city was ordered to pay the costs.

Nothing further was done until about seven years later, when the idea seemed to dawn on Mr. Runyon that he ought to have those costs. As related in the Press account of the Common Council proceedings of a recent meeting, Mr. Runyon sent a demand to the Council, which, because of its offensive language, the Council laid on the table.

Now comes Mr. Runyon with the Sheriff and with instructions to the latter to levy on the safe belonging to the city, in which are kept the city archives. Of course the Sheriff always obeys instructions when he gets them in writing as in this case. He therefore made the levy.

The Times of today chronicles the proceedings and then declares that Mr. Runyon is ahead by "a large majority," using one of the phrases with which Mr. Runyon offended the Council.

A reporter of THE PRESS called at the office of Corporation Counsel Marsh to enquire about this large majority. Mr. Marsh replied that it was a case of "a large majority" on the wrong side, as in the time of Noah.

Do you propose to resist the Sheriff and his levy?

Certainly I do.

On what ground?

On the ground that the interests of 10,000 people and their affairs of government, are of more importance in the eye of the law than the importunities of a single gentleman for payment of a bill of $16.09.

But is Mr. Runyon not entitled to his costs?

Of course he is, but he cannot take the city by the throat to get them. Suppose he saw fit to direct the Sheriff to levy on the furniture of the City Court room or Council Chamber, or the Collector's books, or the apparatus for extinguishing fire—if the city owns any—do you suppose that he could thus block the whole of city government to secure his petty debt?

Why does not the Common Council pay the debt?

That you must learn from the Council. Will the Sheriff sell the safe?

He may if he is indemnified by Mr. Runyon, unless I get a stay from the Court.

Do you think matters will go so far?

It is not at all likely. The amount involved is small, and the damages the city could recover would in my judgment be large.

What steps will first be taken?

I shall notify the Sheriff not to interfere in any way with the use of the City's property, and that if he sells, he will be held responsible. I shall also take the requisite steps to submit the matter to the Court.

Is this not a tempest in a teapot after all?

The Common Council are entitled to be treated with respect. If that body resents what it regards as an affront, it certainly is my duty to stand by the Common Council, and to assert the rights of the City to the last. That I shall attempt to do. The Common Council will pay cheerfully, as I understand, upon receiving a respectful notice, but they will not pay at the point of the bayonet.

At St. Mary's Hall.

A grand rally will take place at St. Mary's Hall this evening, the occasion being the concluding night of the fair in aid of St. Mary's church. The fair rightly terminated on Monday evening, after a successful run of about ten days, but as there were a number of useful articles, suitable holiday presents, etc., left over, it was decided to reopen the Hall this evening, and offer for sale the entire stock on the several tables.

New Officers of Trinity Church.

At the annual election for officers of Trinity Reformed church, held in the lecture room of the church last evening, the following were chosen:

Elders: Dr. R. Tittsworth, R. B. Field, and G. Q. Dolliver, for two years each. B. A. Hegeman for unexpired term of one year.

Deacons: A. L. Force, E. E. Anthony and J. K. Arnold for two years each.

Royal Reunion of the Royal Arcanum.

From nine o'clock p. m., till midnight of yesterday, the large dining room of Force's Hotel on North avenue was filled with good fellows, good words and good cheer—and the members of Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum, and their guests, were filled with good things to eat. The occasion was the fifth annual supper of the home Council, and as its guests were the grand officers of the State. The menu was a tasteful one, as were its contents, and at each plate was a fragrant bouquet. The hotel exceeded even its past reputation, and spread a supper of oysters, salads, game and pastry that was most bountiful and gratifying. The tables were set along three sides of the room, and in the centre were located Mr. W. J. Leonard, Regent of Plainfield Council, with the grand officers at his right and left. Sixty were present, all of whom thoroughly enjoyed the occasion and fairly overflowed with fraternal feeling. During the course of the supper music stationed in the parlor, lent an additional charm. When the inner man was satisfied and cigars were lighted, Regent Leonard introduced in succession the speakers of the evening, or unexpectedly called upon others for a few words of good will. Mr. Leonard's own words of welcome to all and congratulation to the order, were well chosen and received with applause. He was followed by Supreme Representative McDowell, Grand Regent Charlack, Grand Secretary Alberts, Past Regent Miles, of Asbury Park, District Deputy Grant, of Westfield, and Mr. Cooper of Scotch Plains. These guests all spoke their appreciation of the entertainment set forth and congratulated Plainfield Council on its unprecedented growth of fifty per cent. within the past year. The benefit and fraternal features of the order were thoroughly discussed, and the Christian spirit and charity of the members was shown by the suggestion and the taking up of a collection for Muhlenberg Hospital. While they were enjoying a few hours of pleasure for themselves, they sought to contribute towards a few hours of comfort for some one less fortunate. Twenty-one dollars and fifty cents was the result of this spontaneous feeling. Of the Plainfield members who spoke were Mr. Seymour Marsh, who, by his personal effort and popularity, has brought the greatest number of members into Plainfield Council; Mr. W. H. Lyon, Jr., the founder of the Council, and Messrs. Winton Randolph, John H. French, E. L. Morris, B. F. Coriell, Rev. Mr. Love, and Mr. Faytell. Mr. J. H. Pollon spoke as a guest of his appreciation of the event. Plainfield Council surely deserves every good word said of it and for it. It has increased wonderfully in membership since its organization—on Monday evening passing its first one-hundred. This membership includes the representative men of the city—men of all professions and lines of business. A clergyman, a senator, physicians, lawyers, bankers, journalists and almost every other kind and condition of men, dwell together for one another's benefit in Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Clarence Watson of Crescent ave., after an extended tour of Europe, sails from Liverpool for home on Saturday.

If William Vandover resides in this city or North Plainfield, he will probably find out something to his interest by calling at this office.

Mr. Frank Vosseller, son of the late County Clerk James S. Vosseller, has secured a lucrative position with the popular clothing firm of Marshall & Ball, Newark, N. J.

Dr. Shaw displays in the window of his pharmacy a fine photograph of Detroit's champion ball nine. The picture was a present to the ruler-of-our-weather by President Stearns, of the Club.

Will Find a Home for Her.

Yesterday the attention of Councilman Dunham, Chairman of the Alms Committee, was for the first time called to the destitute condition of Margaret Burworth, who was ejected from a house on East Fourth street several days ago for non-payment of rent. The woman's scanty furniture has remained out of doors ever since, and her children were taken sick from exposure. Mr. Dunham at once placed the children under medical treatment, and will see that a home is provided for the family.

Plainfield Land Improvement Co.

The papers were filed at Trenton yesterday incorporating the company that owns and will build upon the property recently described in THE PRESS as having been bought of the Isaac Randolph estate, in the vicinity of the Pond Tool Works. Those interested are Messrs. Jacob Kirkner, W. H. Brower, J. T. Fritts, M. D. W. C. Kelly, John I. Holly, S. G. Smith, A. Waldron, A. Lutkins and L. A. Hummer.

UNION COUNTY YOUNG REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

A Business Session Followed by Addresses—Organizing for the Fall Campaign—Delegates Appointed.

A regular meeting of the Young Republican League of Union county was held in the Republican Association rooms this city, last evening. Heretofore the meetings have been confined to Elizabeth, but hereafter the league will meet in various parts of the county for the transaction of business. The attendance was large, and when President C. M. Goddard called the meeting to order the room was comfortably filled. Mr. C. C. McBride of Elizabeth, the secretary, and Mr. E. Frank Carson the corresponding secretary were present. Other delegates were in attendance from Elizabeth, as follows: Hon. George T. Parrot, Frank Bergen, Esq., W. H. Ives, T. A. Clark and Benjamin Ogden. The chairman stated that as there was no objection, the regular order of business would be dispensed with. Secretary McBride reported the names of Messrs. W. R. Codrington, J. H. Doane, and C. E. Vall for membership. They were referred to the Membership Committee. The chairman then announced the following as delegates to the State League, held at Trenton on the 19th instant: Elizabeth—E. Frank Carson, E. M. Wood, J. F. Glasby, Kent K. Stearns, James McMaster; Plainfield—City Judge Ulrich, C. M. Goddard; Rahway—C. E. Reed, S. R. Ryno; Westfield—E. R. Pearsall. A motion of Mr. Carson's that the delegates be empowered to fill vacancies, prevailed, and a motion not to complete the organization by the election of Vice Presidents, was carried. The chairman stated that the call for the National Club Convention had been issued and it would be held in Chickering Hall, N. Y. City, on Dec. 15th, 16th and 17th next. He further stated that as there was nothing more to come up for consideration, remarks were now in order, and introduced as the first speaker Frank Bergen, Esq., City Attorney of Elizabeth, who began by saying that it was most gratifying to note the formation of Republican clubs throughout the county, all merging into a State League. Nothing has yet been done, the speaker said, except the spontaneous movement on the part of all Republicans. He alluded to the present administration, and compared the statesmanship of the heads of the two great political parties. If a man is simply in the race for personal gain, he announces himself as a Mugwump and is at once ready for business; the formation of these clubs is merely a protest against the methods of the present administration. The most interesting chapter in the history of this or any other country, the speaker said, is the record of the Republican party, which he heartily endorsed. He also alluded to the proceedings of the last Legislature, and said the only way to rebuke it was to elect a majority of Republicans in the House. He alluded jokingly to our fellow citizen, Hon. Robt. L. Livingston. In conclusion, the speaker said that the election in November would only be a preliminary feast, but next Fall the Republican party would again step into power (a voice—"Gep"—"with Jim Blaine at the head." "Eternal vigilance," he concluded, "is the price of good government."

Mr. E. Frank Carson followed with a few pertinent remarks. He told an amusing incident of his meeting the daughter of a mugwump at a political procession in Boston. In the parade there were numerous transparencies, one of them bearing the inscription: "Twenty years corruption, give us a change." The young lady misconstrued the wording and said: "Twenty years corruption, give us a chance." The speaker threw hot shot into the ranks of the Democracy, and dwelt at length on the High License and Local Option Bill.

He was followed by Hon. George T. Parrot of Elizabeth who began by comparing the morality and intellectuality of the two great parties, and asked the people to decide which of the two parties was better able to conduct the Administration. He gave as his opinion, that the surplus money in the treasury should be devoted to paying off the National debt, and pensioning the widows and orphans of the gallant men who fought and fell that the country might live; the high moral tone of the Republican party, he said, is the cause of its success in the past. All of the speakers were frequently interrupted by applause, and at the close of Mr. Parrot's remarks "Gep" Frazee caused a ripple of laughter by shouting "Blaine will get there, Eli."

The chairman announced that the next meeting of the league would be held in the Arcade building at Elizabeth on Friday evening of next week, at 8 o'clock, and then declared the meeting adjourned.

—The manager of the "Twilights" of Scotch Plains issues a bold challenge to the "Actives" of North Plainfield in our columns today. He also makes an explanation. We hope to publish an acceptance from the "Actives," in a day or two.

Budd Wins the Match.

THE PRESS went to press too early yesterday afternoon to note in full the shooting match on the Middlesex Gun Club grounds at Dunellen, between Messrs. C. W. Budd of Des Moines, Iowa, and John L. Brewer of Philadelphia, for a purse of $500. There was a large representation of the sporting fraternity present, including such well-known shooters as Kleinz, Heft, Peacock, Graham, Cannon, and many local sportsmen. The conditions of the match were at 100 live birds each, 30 yards rise, according to Hurlingham rules. Mr. W. F. Quinlan acted in the capacity of referee and stakeholder, and his decisions were considered just and fair by all. It will be seen by the accompanying score that Budd led by three birds on the twenty-fifth; on the fiftieth Budd led by two birds; Brewer reversed the lead on the fiftieth round and led by one, and at the close of the match Budd led by two birds, he having killed 92 out of 100. Following is the score in detail:

Note—2 indicates second barrel.

After the match, Messrs. Brewer, Heft, Kleinz and Peacock signified their desire to become members of the Middlesex Gun Club, and last evening they were admitted to membership. The Home club, it is stated, can now produce a team of twenty men who will challenge any similar team in the United States. All the shooters speak in the highest terms of the Middlesex club and its efficient management. The club will probably realize in the neighborhood of $500 as the result of the tournament. Dr. Peacock and wife who were in attendance every day of the shooting, left for their home at Westfield, N. Y., this morning, and Budd left last evening for Montgomery, Ga., where he will participate in a grand shooting tournament at that place.

Wreck Near The Green Brook Tanks.

A wreck occurred on the Central Railroad at a point known as "O'Possumtown Hollow," about a mile west of the Green Brook tanks, at dusk last evening, which resulted in the demolition of a dozen coal cars, and delayed all travel over the road at that point for several hours. Engine No. 109, which runs between Elizabethport and Mauch Chunk, was attached to an empty west-bound coal train, and had passed over the heavy grade at the Green Brook telegraph station, when one of the cars in the centre of the train jumped the track, followed by nine or ten others. The wreckage was piled up in an inextricable mass, completely blocking all tracks. Fortunately no one was seriously injured, although the sudden stopping of the cars badly shook up the cabooseman. Wrecking crews were immediately despatched to the scene of the accident, and by midnight the debris was removed and travel resumed as usual. It is claimed by some that the wreck resulted from a broken axle, and by others that the cause was a mystery. At any rate the cost to the railroad company will be considerable. All east-bound passenger trains were held at Bound Brook, and west-bound passenger trains received instructions in this city to approach Dunellen carefully. Coal and freight trains were side-tracked at various points along the line. The engine on the ill-fated train was in charge of Engineer Chas. Rogers and Fireman VanNetter.

The Twilights On The War Path.

MR. EDITOR:—If you can not, or do not, believe the truthfulness of my remarks, you will upon inquiry find it out exactly as I state, when I say that the "Twilights" were not to blame for the failure of last Saturday's match between them and the "Actives." I have tried every way to secure a match, and this is the nearest I ever came to it. None of our players were notified simply because I never received a challenge from the Captain or Manager of the "Actives." Probably the best way is to publish the enclosed letter. Of course the "Actives" say they are right—we say to the contrary. Now if this letter is published and answered, it will then be seen who is in the right, and who is in the wrong. I have tried to make out a fair and friendly challenge, so that neither Club can retreat without showing who is afraid to play, and where the fault lies. I know we are only a suburb of the town in which you live, but your paper has so large a circulation outside the city, that you will certainly do justice to Scotch Plains by giving us an opportunity to vindicate ourselves. My desire is that you publish our challenge word for word.

Very respectfully,
E. J. SAVAGE.

THE CHALLENGE.

Mr. Ren Tonney, Captain of Active Ball Club:

DEAR SIR:—The "Twilight" Base Ball Club hereby challenge the "Active" Base Ball Club to play a match game of base ball, on the following conditions. The game is to be played on your own grounds or any other grounds named by you, on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 15th, at 3 o'clock, or any other time or date, (barring Saturday afternoon, Oct. 22d, on which date and time we play at Somerville). Neither Club shall play any man in the game who has not been a bona fide member of said Club for at least three or four weeks. Neither Club shall play with a professional or one who has ever played, on trial or otherwise, etc. If on acceptance of this challenge a game is arranged, a forfeit of $5 or up shall be deposited at THE PRESS office, and if either Club shall fail to show up, it shall be given to the one who appears on the grounds, as will also the Club that fails to come up to the above conditions. The only answer we at present can give in response to many assertions and remarks made about us, is to let the game tell. We honestly believe we win games that do not fall in our hands. If you think otherwise, and wish to back up the many remarks made by you, and back up your bold assertion, why this is a splendid opportunity to establish your faith, as well also as to convince the lovers of the game you are right. Under the above conditions we will deposit the forfeit, at once, just as soon as you send a reply to THE PRESS, to be published same as copy of the letter. Please reply at once.

Yours respectfully,
TWILIGHT B. B. CLUB.
N. B.—In case you do not care to put up a forfeit, why you need not let that interfere, only publish a refusal or an acceptance of the card.

They Got What They Went After.

MR. EDITOR:—We are not in the habit of writing up our cases—a practice very much in vogue at present by certain lawyers of Plainfield—but a communication appearing in your Tuesday's paper relating to the decision of Judge Magie, in the case of Smith vs. Clarke, is so manifestly unjust and wrong that we wish to call your attention to the error. Mr. Smith obtained a judgment in the Wisconsin Circuit Court against Clarke, which Clarke appealed to the Wisconsin Supreme Court, where the appeal is still pending. Smith brings suit in our Supreme Court upon this foreign judgment. As there is no defense on the merits, in such an action there was nothing to prevent Smith from getting his judgment and execution at once, and selling out Clarke's property in Somerset county, although the judgment might be subsequently reversed by the Wisconsin Supreme Court. To prevent this we asked Judge Magie to do either one of two things—(1) to stay the entering up of judgment, or (2) to stay the execution so as to prevent a sale thereunder until the final decision of the Wisconsin Supreme Court. The Judge stated that he would stay the judgment if Clarke had had a good appeal bond on file in Wisconsin, but as he did not have, he told us he would keep the order open and in case a sale should be attempted, would stay same and give all necessary relief. Certainly we were entirely successful in our application—as our client's interests will be completely and fully protected—and we obtained exactly what we went after. Very Truly,
SUYDAM & STILLMAN.

Church Anniversary at Dunellen.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Dunellen Presbyterian Church held their first anniversary last evening. There was a large attendance both of members of the Society and friends. The exercises consisted of singing and two stirring addresses by Revs. J. T. Kerr, of Elizabeth, and J. A. Davis, of Newark. The Secretary's report showed that the Society has grown in one year from 21 to 55, and the Treasurer's report, that $129 has been raised for church purposes. At the close of the programme Mr. Hamilton, the Vice President, on behalf of the Society, presented the President with a handsome leather-upholstered study-chair.

CLEVELAND IN NEBRASKA

HE IS RECEIVED WITH GREAT ENTHUSIASM EVERYWHERE.

Short Stops Made at Sioux City, Omaha and St. Joseph—An Indian Brass Band, Carriage Covered With Flowers.

OMAHA, Oct. 13.—The president and his party left Minneapolis at 8.10 o'clock Tuesday evening. The two ladies of the party retired early, but the president and the other gentlemen sat for a couple of hours smoking and comparing experiences. The president was frequently summoned to the platform during the evening to receive the greetings of the country people, who seemed to be very wide awake all the way.

At Omaha a dozen tar barrels were burning, an artillery salute was fired, and as the train moved slowly past, a big balloon in national colors was sent up. At Carver the people were out in force with a brass band, and the place was illuminated by Chinese lanterns. At Leasner there was a yet more elaborate illumination and a serenade.

The sun was just rising when the presidential party were called this morning to prepare for sightseeing at Sioux City. The train was stopped outside the town limits to take on Mayor Corvado, who, without formality, welcomed the president and his friends, and when the station was reached, just at sunrise, carriages and a reception committee were found in waiting, as were the military, the brass bands and the people. A rapid drive of five minutes brought the visitors to the city palace.

Mrs. Cleveland was delighted, and turned again and again to examine more closely some unique fabrication. The wax maiden, with hair of corn silk and robe of satin husks, climbing a winding stair of golden cane, the spider of tiny carvings lying in his web of corn fibers; the map of the Union made of cornels, each state having its special color; the huge national flag and the shields, eagles, crescents, crosses, and emblems of various nations; the mottoes from "Ceres Imperatrix" to "Welcome," all made of the unshelled ears, were noted and admired.

At the station in Omaha, Senator Padgett, Congressman Dorsey and the members of the reception committee, composed of prominent residents and the municipal authorities welcomed the city's guests. The carriage to which the President and his wife were escorted was one mass of roses and wreaths, which also bedecked the horses. A multitude of many thousands cheered the party as it made its appearance, and cheers and salutes were its accompaniments throughout the city. The streets had been richly adorned with streamers and devices in gay colors, and banners bearing "Welcome to the President" couched in every form of patriotic phrase spanned the way. The second regiment of United States Infantry, the Knights of Pythias in uniform from all parts of the state, and several political and social organizations, were drawn up in line along the streets, each with its brass band and colors. One of the organizations which attracted the especial attention of the president was a company of full-blooded Indian youths from the Genoa industrial school, with an Indian band of music. They were driven through the principal streets and then to the depot.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 13.—The president's Omaha entourage seemed very unwilling to let him go and the train was fully three-quarters of an hour behind time when the last of the excursionists got aboard. The train reached St. Joseph a half hour ahead of its time.

Artillery church bells and steam whistles heralded the arrival at St. Joseph. Twenty-five thousand strangers had been brought in by rail, and these with the 30,000 natives were all on hand. Mayor Doyle and a reception committee of 130 ladies and gentlemen received the president, and, with the aid of the police, maintained good order while the visitors were taken in carriages.

A stop was made for a moment when the head of the procession reached the central square of the town, where the pupils of the convent of the Sacred Heart, headed to the president a beautiful floral flag, while those of the public schools gave Mrs. Cleveland a costly silver basket filled with flowers.

The train arrived at Kansas City at 5.15 p. m. At the depot and for blocks around an immense crowd had gathered, and a roar of cheers went up as the train slowly pulled in on the siding nearest the street. At the Coates House the guests alighted and retired to their rooms for a short rest before the later events of the evening.

The trades display was an ambitious attempt to-night, and marched through the principal streets and up Broadway past the hotel shortly after the arrival of the party.

The reception of President Cleveland will not be held to-morrow in an abandoned cemetery as was intended, as the owner declared that he would have the whole business arrested, Cleveland and all, if they trespassed there. The public reception will therefore be held at the post-office.

This afternoon an arch over the street bearing the words "Welcome Cleveland," fell to the ground. John Callahan and J. C. Green went with it. Green was fatally hurt, and it is thought that Callahan will not recover.

At the time the president's party arrived a cauldron was thrown into a crowd, injuring eight people, cutting off one man's foot. A reception was held at the hotel. Fifteen hundred people shook hands with Cleveland, Mrs. Cleveland, Secretary Vilas and wife in forty-nine minutes.

A GIGANTIC ENTERPRISE.

A Company Formed to Irrigate 1,500,000 Acres of New Mexican Land.

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 13.—Articles of incorporation for a gigantic irrigating enterprise in the central Rio Grande valley were filed at the office of the territorial secretary. The corporation is to be known as the Albuquerque land and water company. The enterprise contemplates the irrigation of 1,500,000 acres of the choicest fruit and farming lands in the central Rio Grande valley. The water supply is to come from the Rio Grande. The main canal, according to the survey already completed, will be 150 miles in length, and will follow the valley, running through the counties of Santa Fe, Bernalillo, Valencia, and Socorro, to a point on the Rio Grande, opposite the city of Socorro. The head of this canal will be in the San Ildefonso valley, eighteen miles west of Santa Fe, and thence the route leads south, on the east side of the river. Work will begin within the next sixty days.

Twenty Buckshot in His Body.

PONCHATOULA, La., Oct. 13.—On Monday afternoon a negro drowned his wife because she refused to live with him any longer. While she was drowning her brother came upon the scene and fired twenty buckshot into his sister's murderer, who sank with the body of his victim in the bottom of the Amite river.

Four Thousand Bales of Cotton Burned.

SANANAH, Ga., Oct. 13.—Yesterday fire broke out in the cargo of the British steamship, Hugh Lenden, loading for Liverpool, and she burned fiercely. The vessel had 4,000 bales of cotton on board.

SHE COWHIDED HIM.

He Wouldn't Strike Her But Turned Her Husband.

WALTERBORO, S. C., Oct. 13.—This town is excited over a series of cowhiddings and threatened duels, all growing out of the fascinating game of poker. All the persons concerned belong to the first families of the place. The eldest son of Major Edwards, the principal lawyer of the town, has been leading a rather rapid life since he married the beautiful daughter of Col. James H. Rion. Young Edwards's frequent and protracted absences from home at night aroused his wife's ire, and on last Saturday night, guided by a young lad named Izlar, she unceremoniously entered the room in which her husband and several of his male friends were engaged in a game of draw poker.

Among those present was a Mr. Bellinger, who bears the reputation of "a bad man" in a fight. Mrs. Edwards seems to have thought him in some way responsible for her husband's habits, and drawing a cowhide from beneath her shawl, she beat him unmercifully before she could be stopped. Her sex saved her from retaliation on the part of Bellinger, who, however, expressed his determination of holding her husband responsible, and forthwith he drew a pistol to kill him.

Then Mrs. Edwards' nerve forsook her, and, sinking on her knees before Bellinger, she begged forgiveness for the cowhiding and entreated him to spare her husband. Bellinger then left the room, threatening to kill any one who should divulge the occurrence. Next day, when the story got out, Bellinger sought Edwards and wore out a cowhide upon his person. It is further stated that Bellinger compelled Edwards, at the point of a pistol, to go to the house of young Izlar to cowhide him for allowing Mrs. Edwards the pistol.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

Captain Black Goes to New York With the Record in His Case.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Captain Black and Moses Salomon, counsel for the condemned anarchists, started this afternoon for New York, where they will join Gen. Pryor and J. Randolph Tucker. "The finishing touches to the petition for a writ of error," said Captain Black, will be added in New York. We will be there possibly for three or four days to have our printing done, but by the middle of next week we will be in Washington, ready to submit our petition.

"Which justice will you present it to?" "We have not yet considered that question, and it will not be decided until we consult together in New York. But in the ordinary course we would lay it before Justice Harlan. However, any justice may consider it."

Mr. Salomon arrived from Ottawa this morning with the records, 8,950 pages.

The Vote at Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 13.—The complete returns from the mayoralty election show that Haynes has the largest plurality he ever received. His total vote was 10,660 and his plurality over Jackson, the republican candidate, was 1,359. Jackson's complete vote was 9,331. Fine's was 3,519 and Paterson's 1,851.

The law and order and prohibition people are very much discouraged by the result. They were confident that Fine would poll at least 15,000 votes. Republicans are taunting the members of their party who voted for Fine because all they succeeded in doing was to help elect a democrat.

The labor men were also greatly disappointed, as they were confident that Penecost would poll at least twice as many votes.

Templar Grand Officers Chosen.

Protestants Want a Puritan Sunday.

MONTREAL, Oct. 13.—A determined fight is going on between the city council, a majority of whom are Roman Catholics, and the Protestant citizens of Montreal about the Sabbath observance. A bylaw has been introduced to permit the sale of cigars and fruits on Sunday afternoon, and this is bitterly opposed by the Protestants, who desire to have a Puritan Sunday, which will not at all suit the Catholics. The matter will probably be carried to the Imperial Privy Council.

A Virginia Meteor.

PETERSBURG, Va., Oct. 13.—A brilliant meteor was observed in the counties of Lunenburg and Nottingham a night or two ago. The explosion was heard for miles, and the force of it was so great that many houses were shaken as if by an earthquake and considerable fright was caused among the people. The negroes in some sections are holding nightly religious services, as they predict that judgment day is fast approaching, and will occur in December.

Unconditional Club Delegates.

ALBANY, Oct. 13.—The Unconditional Club, of Albany, has elected the following delegates to the state convention of republican clubs called to meet in New York on December 13: John A. Fletcher, Colonel Andrew S. Wood, Robert D. Williams, Eugene Burlingame, W. H. Cull and Howard N. Fuller, ex-officio.

The Statue of General Meade.

PELLA, Pa., Oct. 13.—The Society of the Army of the Potomac have accepted the invitation to attend the unveiling of the statue of General Meade, on October 18, and will assemble at the Hotel Lafayette, on Broad street, at noon.

Mrs. Beach Grant and Her Daughter.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Beach Grant is the guest of Mrs. Hornsby, daughter of the late Judge Black. Mrs. Grant and her daughter, Miss Adele Grant, will take a house in Washington for the coming winter.

THE ROAD TO WEALTH.

Valuable Suggestions from the Venerable P. T. Barnum.

Strict Honesty the Keystone of all Success in Life—Hints to Suit Various Dispositions—What to Do and What Not to Do.

The Chicago Times has obtained from men who have been successful in various walks of life valuable hints for young men on the acquisition of wealth, the most interesting contribution being from the pen of Hon. P. T. Barnum, who writes as follows: The road to wealth is, as Dr. Franklin truly says: "As plain as the road to the mill." It consists simply in expending less than one earns. Many may say: "We understand this; this is economy, and we know economy is wealth; we know we can't eat our cake and keep it also." Yet, perhaps, more failures arise from mistakes on this point than almost any other. True economy is misapprehended, and people go through life without properly comprehending what that principle is. There are many who think that economy consists in saving cheese parings and candle ends, in cutting off two pence from the laundry bill, and doing all sorts of little mean things. Economy is not meanness. This false economy may frequently be seen in men of business, and in those instances it often runs to writing paper. You find good business men who save all the old envelopes and scraps, and would not tear a new sheet of paper, if they could avoid it, for the world. That is all very well; they may in this way save five dollars or ten dollars a year, but being so economical (only in note paper), they think they can afford to waste time, to have expensive parties, and to drive their carriages. True economy consists in always making the income exceed the outgo. It needs no prophet to tell us that those who live fully up to their means, without any thought of a reverse in this life, can never attain independence.

The foundation of success in life is good health; that is the substratum of fortune. Then, how important it is to study the laws of health, which is but another name for the laws of nature. The closer we keep to the laws of nature the nearer we are to good health. Tobacco and rum should be shunned. To make money requires a clear head and steady nerves. No man can be successful who is not blessed with intelligence, for the brain is muddled and his judgment warped by drink, it is impossible for him to carry on business successfully. The safest plan, and the one most sure of success for the young man starting in life, is to select the vocation which is most congenial to his tastes. There is as much diversity in our brains as in our countenances. Some men are born mechanics, while some have a great aversion to machinery. Unless a man enters upon a vocation intended for him by nature, and best suited to his peculiar genius, he can not succeed. After securing the right vocation, you must be careful to select the proper location, and not begin business where there are already enough to meet all demands in the same occupation.

No man has a right to expect to succeed in life unless he understands his business, and nobody can understand his business thoroughly unless he learns it by personal application and experience. You must exercise caution in laying your plans, but be bold in carrying them out. A man who is all caution will never dare to take hold, and be successful, and a man who is all boldness is merely reckless, and must eventually fail.

There is no such thing in the world as luck. If a man adopts proper methods to be successful, "luck" will not prevent him. If he does not succeed there are reasons for it, although, perhaps, he may not be able to see them.

Money is good for nothing unless you know the value of it by experience. Give a boy $20,000 and put him in business, and the chances are that he will lose every dollar of it before he is a year older. Nine out of ten of the rich men of our country to-day started out in life as poor boys, with determined wills, industry, perseverance, economy and good habits.

The great ambition should be to excel all others engaged in the same occupation. Whenever you find the best doctor, best clergyman, best shoemaker or any thing else, that man is most sought for, and always has enough to do. Every boy should learn some trade or profession. Engage in one kind of business only and stick to it faithfully until you succeed, or until your experience shows that you should abandon it. A constant hammering on one nail will generally drive it home at last, so that it can be clinched. There is good sense in the old caution about having too many irons in the fire at once. Beware of "outside operations."

Read the newspapers, and keep thoroughly posted in regard to the transactions of the world.

Be careful to advertise in some shape or other, because it is evident that if a man has ever so good an article for sale, and nobody knows it, it will bring him no return. The whole philosophy of life is, first, show, then reap. This principle applies to all kinds of business, and to nothing more eminently than to advertising. If a man has a really good article, there is no way in which he can reap more advantageously than by "showing" to the public in this way.

Politeness and civility are the best capital ever invested in business. Large stores, gilt signs, flaming advertisements will all prove unavailing if you or your employees treat your patrons abruptly. The more kind and liberal a man is, the more generous will be the patronage bestowed upon him.

Preserve your integrity; it is more precious than diamonds or rubies. The most difficult thing in life is to make money dishonestly. Our prisons are full of men who attempted to follow this course. No man can be dishonest without soon being found out, and when his lack of principle is discovered, nearly every avenue to success is closed against him forever. Strict honesty not only lies at the foundation of all success in life financially, but in every other respect.

Just Like Grandma.

There is residing in Boston a little girl who has no memory of a grandfather, but one of whose grandmothers has lived in the same house with the little girl ever since the latter was born. The child has a boy-playmate to whom she is much attached, and who is almost her constant companion. One day a neighbor was teasing the child about her young admirer, and remarked that when she grew to be a big woman she supposed they would both get married. "No, we won't, either," was the child's decided negative. "I'm going to be an old maid, just like grandma."

Bavaria's Crazy King.

King Otto, the crazy ruler of Bavaria, is said to spend his time in peeling potatoes, being so industrious that the hotel-keepers of Munich depend on him for a daily supply. As a sane King is decidedly averse to doing any useful work, the people of Bavaria are scandalized by the unnatural conduct of their monarch.

A MOTHER'S REVENGE.

How Mme. de Rothschild Punished Her Disobedient Daughter.

According to one of Lucy Hooper's recent Paris letters the sensation in that city for some time past has been the marriage of Mlle. de Rothschild to the Baron van Haar of Belgium. It was a very quiet affair, only the relatives and most intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom being present. It is now some months since Mlle. Helene, the greatest heiress in Europe, packed up her trunks and went down to Compiegne with all her retinue of servants, equipages, dogs and horses, to say nothing of her governess and her lady companion, to stay at the house of the aged physician of the family, Dr. Raymond, and from thence to launch the "three respectful summons" required by French law as a preliminary to matrimony without parental consent, at her mother's, the widow Baroness Solomon. There is not a solitary objection to be made to Baron van Haar, except that he is a Christian, and by no means wealthy. As to the latter disqualification, it might have been overlooked, I think, as the lady's fortune amounts to fully $12,000,000, with as much more in prospect when her mother dies. She is sure to inherit the latter fortune, despite the wrath of the old lady at the marriage, for by the provision of the Code Napoleon no parent can disinherit a child. The Baroness gave in so far as to accord at least a nominal consent to the nuptials, but she was not present at the wedding, and has, it is said, already interred in effigy her disobedient daughter with all the solemn formalities of Jewish rites. She is one of the most bigoted in religious matters of all that bigoted family, and has not for years past so much as spoken to her two sisters, both of whom married scions of the French nobility. It is a singular fact that while several of the ladies of the Rothschild family have married Christians no male member of it has ever been known to do so. It is a well-known fact that Baron Alfred de Rothschild was at one time deeply in love with the beautiful and widowed Mrs. Woodward (formerly Miss Minnie King, of Georgia, and now the Marchioness of Anglesey), but his father, Baron James, of London, sternly prohibited the match, and as he, by the English law, had the power of disinheriting his son, the young man was forced to yield to the parental dictum. The Baron van Haar is said to be one of the handsomest men in Europe; tall, athletic and finely formed with regular features and brilliant expressive eyes. He belongs to one of the noblest families in Belgium, his young cousin and the head of the house being the Prince de Looz-Corsvander. The Prince was present at the wedding and was the first witness for the bridegroom, an office that corresponds to a French marriage to that of "best man" at an English or American one. He is a very handsome young fellow of twenty-seven and has more than once been in negotiation for the hand of an American heiress, he being as poor in pocket as he is noble by birth. But he is a dissipated youth, and his follies and frolics have heretofore hindered him from marrying well—that is to say, wealthy. The new Baroness Van Haar, the bride of the other day, is plain and stout and strong-minded, and something over thirty years of age. She always used to declare that she never would marry, and strenuously resisted all the attempts of her family to make a match between herself and one of her Rothschild cousins. She has had her own way, and has espoused the man of her choice, as an heiress, he being as poor in pocket as he is noble by birth. But he is a dissipated youth, and his follies and frolics have heretofore hindered him from marrying well—that is to say, wealthy. Nearly all the glass works in the country are receiving heavy orders, and some manufacturers think the demand will be strong enough to force an advance before winter. The Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators now has forty-two local unions, which is far beyond the record of any other newly-formed National trade organization for such a short period of existence. The leather-workers of Newark, N. J., are still locked out. For years the owners of these tanneries have been in the habit of discharging workmen for being conspicuous in their labor organizations. A company has been formed at Antimony City, Ark., to erect a Bessemer steel plant, with E. A. Bayard, of St. Louis, as president; Merrill Watson, St. Louis, secretary, and Wm. F. Roberts, manager. Window-glass works are extending throughout the West. The cost of freight from Pittsburgh is more than the cost of the ware in some cases. The Mexican demand for glass is increasing yearly. The capital of the combined stove manufacturers of the United States is estimated at $15,000,000. The total product is $20,000,000 per annum. The Trust expects to be able to earn dividends amounting to 30 per cent. The largest steel casting ever produced in England has just been cast at Sheffield. It weighs seventy tons, and is intended as a tube of a 13½-inch, 66-ton gun. The demand for steel craft and shafts in Great Britain is very heavy.

HUNTING FOR FROGS.

How They are Searched and Served Up in Fashionable Restaurants.

"Ever go frogging? No! Well, you ought to go. Talk about a deer. They're no wilder than a ripe frog. You have to be very cunning. I like the early morning best for spearing. Getting in a boat, I am paddled noiselessly around the grassy shores of some lake, where I find the frogs blinking their big, watery eyes, just preparatory to going to rest for the day. The frog is a night bird, you know, and many persons, especially those who hunt them for market, go frogging by lantern-light. Sometimes they wade along the shores slowly, but the best way is to use a boat and jack-light. You can go more stily and always have better success."

A Milwaukee Sentinel reporter dropped into a popular down-town restaurant a few days later and just in time to hear a gentleman in sporting attire exclaim:

"Ah there, Charley; a dozen frogs will be about my size to-day."

The reporter sought the chef.

"Who eat frog legs?" repeated he. "Well, you see, the sporting people are particularly fond of them. In fact, they are eaten by Americans generally, although it was originally a French dish, as we all know, and so, of course, it is that French became popularly styled the nation of frog-eaters. To stigmatize a Frenchman as a frog-eater has come to be an ancestral chestnut. Very few Germans will eat them. I don't know whether it is because of any squeamishness, or whether they dislike frogs, just because their hated neighbors, the French, make so much of them. Whatever the reason, they won't eat them. Our Milwaukee frog supply is obtained from the little lakes, marshes and creeks over the State, and Wisconsin is a great frog State. The receipts of hams are quite large from Muskogee, Bosobel and Prairie du Chien. The supply is larger this year than last, but it is still much short of the demand, as so many more people call for them. Big frog legs measure from eight to ten inches in length, and for this size we pay from eighty cents to $1.20 a dozen. We wish them out at from $1.20 to $1.50 a dozen, and fix them up so that seven legs make a dozen. At this size they will run about six legs to the pound. We pay from thirty-five to sixty cents a dozen for the smaller ones, and we get from seventy-five to eighty cents for them on the table."

"How do you prepare them?"

"There is only one way to dish up frogs, and that is to fry them like oysters, in a batter of corn meal and eggs. They mustn't be too well cooked, and if just right a more tempting dish was never set before an epicure. They are such a great delicacy, too. Why, we have numerous calls from invalids for frogs' legs, who say such a diet has been prescribed by the attending physician. A sick person can eat and enjoy and digest a dish of frogs, when any other meat you might name would produce almost mortal agony or very harmful results."

The Drummer's Revenge.

A drummer had a spite at a hotel in Palestine, Tex., and resolved on a terrible revenge. So, when he went to Galveston, he "bagged" a lot of cockroaches for which the Island City is celebrated. Bringing a lot of the largest specimens, commonly called by native Galvestonians "digger-loggers," the drummer took them to the hotel and turned them loose in the halls and corridors. In about two weeks the hotel was swarming with them, and they got in the soups, preserves, jams, molasses, in the milk—everywhere, and worked hard all day, and sat up at night to help that drummer get even. They have filled the hotel and gone to work on the private houses, and now Palestine is accursed with them.

WORK AND WORKERS.

A WIRE-NAIL factory is being built at Pindley, O.

Success is reported in the effort to temper steel with electricity.

A large edge-tool manufactory will be established at New Albany, Ind.

Work continues quite dull at the mines in the vicinity of Clarksburg, W. Va.

Workmen at Anniston (Ala.) iron works are paid from one dollar to four dollars per day.

A new wire mill will be erected at Bradocks, Pa. It will employ one hundred men.

It is rumored that a glass factory will be built in the near future at Chattanooga, Tenn.

There are three successful co-operative concerns in New York, with a capital of $100,000.

A new steel-making concern, with a capital of $3,000,000, is soon to be established in East St. Louis.

The pluck-meat stores, against which the Pennsylvania Legislature raised its arm, are still flourishing throughout the State.

Duquoin, Ill., has ten paying coal mines in operation at the present time, with prospects for another in the near future.

The Chinese Government has bought 6,000 tons of steel rails, and the Indian Government has just ordered 18,000 tons.

Five million dollars have been subscribed to build a new town near Stevenson, Ala., where manufacturing will be done on a large scale.

The rich coal fields, iron deposits and timber resources of East Tennessee are beginning to attract the attention of foreign capitalists.

The carpenters of Bradocks, Pa., have been successful in having the nine-hour system enforced in every carpenter-shop and planing-mill in that city but one.

In English mills a replacement of machinery is necessary every ten years. In American mills the machinery being better made and lighter, runs much longer.

Nearly all the glass works in the country are receiving heavy orders, and some manufacturers think the demand will be strong enough to force an advance before winter.

The Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators now has forty-two local unions, which is far beyond the record of any other newly-formed National trade organization for such a short period of existence.

The leather-workers of Newark, N. J., are still locked out. For years the owners of these tanneries have been in the habit of discharging workmen for being conspicuous in their labor organizations.

A company has been formed at Antimony City, Ark., to erect a Bessemer steel plant, with E. A. Bayard, of St. Louis, as president; Merrill Watson, St. Louis, secretary, and Wm. F. Roberts, manager.

Window-glass works are extending throughout the West. The cost of freight from Pittsburgh is more than the cost of the ware in some cases. The Mexican demand for glass is increasing yearly.

The capital of the combined stove manufacturers of the United States is estimated at $15,000,000. The total product is $20,000,000 per annum. The Trust expects to be able to earn dividends amounting to 30 per cent.

The largest steel casting ever produced in England has just been cast at Sheffield. It weighs seventy tons, and is intended as a tube of a 13½-inch, 66-ton gun. The demand for steel craft and shafts in Great Britain is very heavy.

HUNTING FOR FROGS.

How They are Searched and Served Up in Fashionable Restaurants.

"Ever go frogging? No! Well, you ought to go. Talk about a deer. They're no wilder than a ripe frog. You have to be very cunning. I like the early morning best for spearing. Getting in a boat, I am paddled noiselessly around the grassy shores of some lake, where I find the frogs blinking their big, watery eyes, just preparatory to going to rest for the day. The frog is a night bird, you know, and many persons, especially those who hunt them for market, go frogging by lantern-light. Sometimes they wade along the shores slowly, but the best way is to use a boat and jack-light. You can go more stily and always have better success."

A Milwaukee Sentinel reporter dropped into a popular down-town restaurant a few days later and just in time to hear a gentleman in sporting attire exclaim:

"Ah there, Charley; a dozen frogs will be about my size to-day."

The reporter sought the chef.

"Who eat frog legs?" repeated he. "Well, you see, the sporting people are particularly fond of them. In fact, they are eaten by Americans generally, although it was originally a French dish, as we all know, and so, of course, it is that French became popularly styled the nation of frog-eaters. To stigmatize a Frenchman as a frog-eater has come to be an ancestral chestnut. Very few Germans will eat them. I don't know whether it is because of any squeamishness, or whether they dislike frogs, just because their hated neighbors, the French, make so much of them. Whatever the reason, they won't eat them. Our Milwaukee frog supply is obtained from the little lakes, marshes and creeks over the State, and Wisconsin is a great frog State. The receipts of hams are quite large from Muskogee, Bosobel and Prairie du Chien. The supply is larger this year than last, but it is still much short of the demand, as so many more people call for them. Big frog legs measure from eight to ten inches in length, and for this size we pay from eighty cents to $1.20 a dozen. We wish them out at from $1.20 to $1.50 a dozen, and fix them up so that seven legs make a dozen. At this size they will run about six legs to the pound. We pay from thirty-five to sixty cents a dozen for the smaller ones, and we get from seventy-five to eighty cents for them on the table."

"How do you prepare them?"

"There is only one way to dish up frogs, and that is to fry them like oysters, in a batter of corn meal and eggs. They mustn't be too well cooked, and if just right a more tempting dish was never set before an epicure. They are such a great delicacy, too. Why, we have numerous calls from invalids for frogs' legs, who say such a diet has been prescribed by the attending physician. A sick person can eat and enjoy and digest a dish of frogs, when any other meat you might name would produce almost mortal agony or very harmful results."

The Drummer's Revenge.

A drummer had a spite at a hotel in Palestine, Tex., and resolved on a terrible revenge. So, when he went to Galveston, he "bagged" a lot of cockroaches for which the Island City is celebrated. Bringing a lot of the largest specimens, commonly called by native Galvestonians "digger-loggers," the drummer took them to the hotel and turned them loose in the halls and corridors. In about two weeks the hotel was swarming with them, and they got in the soups, preserves, jams, molasses, in the milk—everywhere, and worked hard all day, and sat up at night to help that drummer get even. They have filled the hotel and gone to work on the private houses, and now Palestine is accursed with them.
