BY THE WAY.

The new iron bridge at Somerville has been accepted by the Board of Freeholders as being complete and in every way ready for travel.

Mayor Cooley of North Plainfield last evening sentenced "Sailor Jack" to the County Jail for fifteen days. He was arrested the night before for being drunk.

A regular meeting of No. 2 Engine company was held last evening, with Charles Krewson in the chair. Only routine business of interest to the company was transacted.

The second of four young homing pigeons belonging to Mr. George Sanders, of North Plainfield, that were released in Washington, D. C., three weeks ago, returned to its loft today.

"Ab" Cook, an old rounder, was sent up for thirty days by Judge Ulrich, this morning, and Charles Williams, his pal, was committed for sixty days and fined $25. The latter wanted to thrash Officer Lynch at the station house, but the officer wasn't "built that way."

The "Juniors" defeated the "Seniors" of the High School on the Park avenue grounds, Wednesday afternoon, by a score of 16 to 4 in favor of the former. Only three innings were played, else it would have taken all the figures in our office to "set up" the "Juniors" total.

The Workers' Training Class of the Y. M. C. A. resumed its regular work on Sunday morning, Oct. 2d, under the leadership of Mr. C. T. Kisseam, and will be continued every Sunday morning from 9 to 10.15 o'clock. Young men desiring greater efficiency in Christian service, will find this an important means of accomplishing the same.

On to-morrow will occur the Fall meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association. The meeting will be held in the North Plainfield public school building, beginning at ten a. m., with a business session, followed by the reading of papers on "Business Forms," "School Law," etc., and an address by Prof. Wm. Griffin of Paterson.

The North Plainfield Democratic primary will be held in the school house this evening, at half-past seven o'clock. North Plainfield Township is entitled to five delegates to the county convention, which meets at the Court House in Somerville on Monday, October 17 at ten o'clock. A full representation of the Democratic voters in the township, is desired at the meeting this evening.

Pine Needle cigars are a good smoke and a relief for hay fever, catarrh and asthma, combining the full aroma of the Havana tobacco and imparting to the taste and breath a pleasant aromatic flavor; never failing in their help to the turbulent and painful diseases, and by the introduction of the Pine Needle absorbing all nicotine and poison in the plain tobacco. In the advertisement on the next page is a testimonial from Prof. Thos. B. Sullivan, formerly of this city.

The members of the New Jersey Cycling and Athletic Association are afraid that they will have to give up their pretty grounds at Roseville. It is said that their treasury was emptied in buying a cycling track and making other improvements, and now they have to meet a bill of $500 for rent. An appeal has been raised for funds to pay this, as they have been notified that the property they have on the grounds will be sold if the money is not forthcoming.

The Prohibitionists of Elizabeth will hold their city convention for the nomination of a Mayor and Chosen Freeholder, this evening. William B. Wood, who they nominated for State Senator, has declined, and the Executive Committee have named Alden B. Bigelow, of Cranford, for the place. Dr. McConnell, of Cranford, whom they nominated for Coroner, has also declined, and the vacancy has been filled by putting Charles W. Bleecker, of Linden, on the ticket.

The guide boards in many places in this county are dilapidated or missing. Township officers should at once repair them before Winter. If not, travelers may sue for the penalties as provided by law.

The Central Railroad company will sell excursion tickets to and from Somerville on the occasion of the 15th Regiment re-union on the 19th instant, at reduced rates. Excursion tickets from this city will be sold for 35 cents.

A regular meeting of the Order of American Firemen was to have taken place in the parlors of Zephyr Hook and Ladder company, last evening, but there was not a quorum present, and consequently no business was transacted.

A correspondent writes that an effectual remedy for the extermination of cockroaches is to mix a quantity of borax and pulverized sugar together and scatter the same about the room. The sugar, he says, will cause the vermin to eat the borax.

Constable Smith appeared before the City Judge this afternoon to answer a complaint for violating section six of the city ordinance, relating to the morals, peace and good order of the City of Plainfield. He gave bonds to appear for a hearing on Tuesday.

The officers, directors and committeemen of the Y. M. C. A., upon invitation of Mr. C. T. Kisseam, will meet at his residence on Dunellen avenue, to-morrow, Saturday afternoon, from 4 to 8 o'clock. Let all who have not already signified their intention to be present, arrange to devote some portion of their time at least to this important gathering.

Charles Schroppe, an employee in the coal yard of the David J. Boice estate, was severely injured about the head and back while unloading coal at Dr. Rushmore's on Park avenue, this morning. By a sudden jolting of the wagon Schroppe was thrown from his seat to the ground, striking the side of the building in the fall. A physician dressed his wounds and he was later taken to his home on Church street.

Anna Barrett, a two-year-old colored girl, living on E. 3d street, was badly burned about the face and hands yesterday afternoon, while playing around a bon-fire. The little one's clothing took fire, and before the flames could be extinguished she was severely burned. A young cousin of the injured girl, named Josie Barrett, assisted in putting out the fire. Dr. Boone was called in and prescribed the usual remedies.

Farewell Reception to the Rev. Mr. Holmes.

In spite of other attractions in the way of entertainment the same evening, the parlors of Crescent Avenue church were comfortably filled last night with those invited to take part by their presence in a farewell reception to the Rev. R. S. Holmes. After some years of residence in this city, and connection with the Chautauqua University as its Registrar, Mr. Holmes leaves to accept the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Warren, Pa. As he departs in a few days, the members of the C. L. S. C. in this city, the scholars of his class, the teachers of Warren Mission and a few others invited from his many friends, gathered together last evening in an endeavor to make the parting less sad.

About seventy-five were present when the Rev. Dr. Richards made a few remarks and introduced the Rev. Mr. Hurlbut. The latter's speech closed with the presentation of twelve handsomely bound volumes—six of Browning's works and six of other poets. The speech was a most flattering one, but true and just, and in reply Mr. Holmes expressed his regret that it could not be preserved because he would ask for no better obituary. He thanked the members of the Local Circle of the C. L. S. C., for the books presented. Later he was again called upon to give thanks, after Superintendent H. B. Newhall had presented a handsome lamp of polished brass with a beautifully made shade of yellow satin, from the members of Mr. Holmes' bible class. There was besides music by a quartette composed of Mrs. Davis, Miss Runyon and Messrs. Runyon and Barnes, and refreshments for two hundred. Dr. J. H. Vincent, who is West, sent his regret at his absence.

North Plainfield Republican Primary.

The republican voters of the North Plainfield Township met in the basement of the public school building last evening for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention to be held at Somerville on Tuesday Oct. 18th at 11 a. m. Hon. Charles Place presided and Mr. H. Newton Spencer was secretary. The secretary read the call and stated that it was now in order to proceed with the election of delegates. The township is entitled to five delegates to represent it at the convention and the following were selected: Messrs. Isaac Brokaw, Alex. Milne, H. N. Spencer, J. Worth Coddington and Thomas Rutledge. The delegates were empowered to fill any and all vacancies which may be occasioned by sickness or otherwise.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Walter McGee of North Plainfield, tendered a dinner to a few of his most intimate friends on Tuesday evening.

Mr. A. D. Shepard and family of Scotch Plains returned on Wednesday, from an extended western trip, including California.

Detective "Murphy" wishes us to state for the benefit of the young man who went to the Scott Press Works a few days ago and made inquiries concerning him, that if the young man will call on Murphy he will give him the desired information.

Mr. A. Hooley of Central avenue received a day or two ago an apple from Rhinebeck, N. Y., that weighed 22 ounces and it had a bite out, too. This is believed to be the largest apple ever seen, and big enough to break up a half-dozen Gardens of Eden.

The funeral of the late Wm. Dawe, who died suddenly on Tuesday took place from the house on Orchard Place at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Dr. VanMeter officiated, and at the close of the service the remains were interred in the Methodist cemetery.

The latest success of Mr. Leo Daft, the electrician of this city, is the proposed adoption of his electric motor by the Jersey City and Bergen Railroad company. A successful trial trip was made over the road at midnight on Wednesday, when a number of interested gentlemen witnessed the workings of the new motor.

Mrs. C. N. Griffin, a sister of Rev. W. E. Honeyman arrived in town today on the way to her home at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The lady has been on an extended trip through the West and Southwest, stopping at St. Louis, Topeka, Denver, Hot Springs, Santa Fe, and other cities. The entire trip occupied about three months.

During all day of today, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Somerset county is holding its second annual convention at Raritan. Included in this afternoon's programme are "Talks" by Mrs. Tomlinson, President of the Plainfield W. C. T. U., and Miss Clemmie Yates, Supt. of the Kitchen Garden Conference of Workers.

The Presbyterian Synod of New Jersey will convene at Asbury Park on Monday at 3 p. m., and continue for three days. It is expected that between five and six hundred delegates will be in attendance. Besides the pastors, each church is entitled to one elder as an accompanying delegate. Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham, Rev. W. E. Honeyman and Rev. W. R. Richards will represent the Presbyterian churches from this city.

The long promised lecture from Col. Mason W. Tyler is to be given in Music Hall, Tuesday evening, Nov. 8th. The subject will be "The Constitution of the United States" Admission with a reserved seat will be placed at 50 and 75 cents, and the entire proceeds will be given to the Public Library for the purchase of books. One of the Trustees pays all the cost of the Hall, so the gain should be a large one.

In response to an invitation from Mrs. William Taylor of East Fifth street, a number of the clergymen of the city and others interested attended at that lady's residence, last evening, an informal reception to Pundita Ramabai, a High Caste Hindu lady and Vice President for India of the World's Woman's Christian Union. Although very tired after long travel, she expressed herself as much pleased to meet and shake hands with so many friends of her hostess. This morning Ramabai visited Plainfield's public schools and told a Press reporter afterwards of her surprise and admiration at the good order and fine appearance of the classes and scholars. This evening she will address a meeting under the auspices of the Parlor Meeting Committee of the Plainfield W. C. T. U., in the Congregational church, Seventh street, at 8 o'clock, upon "The condition of the women of India."

Grace Church.

The last of the Mission services now being conducted in Grace church, corner Sycamore and Sixth streets, will be held for men only on Monday night, beginning at 8 o'clock. Dr. VanDeWater, the Missioner, will preach to men on "Purity." It is hoped that this attempt to reach and benefit the men of our community will be successful, and to make it so, let our men attend in goodly numbers. The times in which we live demand serious thought by earnest men, and lives devoted to truth and righteousness.

Reform Club Meeting.

Notwithstanding the numerous other attractions last evening, there was a fair attendance at the usual weekly meeting of the Reform club. President French was in the chair. The principal speakers of the evening were Peter S. Bergen of Somerville, otherwise known as the "silver tongued orator of Somerset county," Col. Dietrich and Cadwalader Jones. All the addresses were instructive and entertaining, and the meeting was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Close of the Fair.

St. Mary's Hall was again opened for business last evening, and all of the articles left over from the recent fair in aid of St. Mary's church were then disposed of. The competition for "chances" by the young ladies on the various articles was very amusing, and at the close of the fair one young man was heard to say that he had been "bled" of about $2.50, and "didn't draw anything either." Articles were awarded from the several tables to the following persons:

Sodality Table—Set of China, Miss Gussie Laughlin; set of silver, Miss Nora Callahan; silver cake basket, Miss Julia Bannan; lemonade set, George Force; pin cushion, Dr. W. C. Boone; statue, Mrs. K. Barry; quilt, Mrs. Jones.

Dramatic Table—Castor, John O'Reily; doll, P. Lawler; pictures, Miss Emma McIntyre; pond lily plaques, Miss M. Egan.

St. Mary's T. A. B. Soc'y Table—French clock, Dr. W. C. Boone; Canary, Miss Sarah McNally; pair blankets, Martin Roth; umbrella, J. C. Watson; boy's suit of clothes, Miss Katie Morris; barrel of flour, R. H. Burt.

Rosary Table—An elegant dinner set of 100 pieces, was awarded to Mrs. Dr. McElroy of No. 146 Thirtieth street, N. Y. This handsome prize will be presented to Rev. Father Smyth, rector of St. Mary's church. Handkerchief case, Miss Maggie McBride; silver cake basket, Miss Alice Ennis.

At the close of the fair some of the members of the Dramatic Association serenaded the Misses Carney at their home on West Third street.

Bowling at Dunellen.

An interesting bowling match between the members of the Dunellen and Middlesex bowling Clubs, took place on the grounds adjoining Mr. C. Schefflin's residence at Dunellen, yesterday afternoon. The match was the first of a series of contests for the Handren Challenge Cup to be competed for annually, the Club winning it three times in succession to become the permanent owner of the trophy. The skip making the greatest number of points against his opponent, becomes the custodian of the cup for the year. Yesterday the cup went to Hon. James Stevens of Jersey City, to be held by him during the year. The following is the result:

Taken to His Friends.

Early in July last Neil Scheim, a tramp, was passing through Dunellen on a coal train, when he lost his hold, and falling to the ground was run over by the cars. His left leg was so terribly crushed that amputation became necessary, and the operation was successfully performed at Muhlenberg Hospital, where the injured man was taken. THE PRESS remarked at the time of the accident, that when the man proceeded on his journey he would have to travel minus a leg. Since then, however, he has been gradually improving under the treatment of the efficient corps of physicians and surgeons at the Hospital. Yesterday the man walked out of that institution accompanied by a crutch, and through Mr. J. A. Haynes, the Central Railroad Company furnished him with free transportation to Pittsburgh, where he claims to have relatives living. He took passage on the Baltimore and Ohio express train last evening for Pittsburgh.

To Visit Philadelphia.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., of this city, will visit Philadelphia next Tuesday, as the guest of Winfield Scott Post, No. 114, of that city, to participate in the ceremonies of the unveiling of the General George E. Meade statue. All ex-soldiers or sailors, or friends of the Post desirous of availing themselves of the reduced rates of fare ($2.56), may do so by leaving their names at the stores of Comrade George W. Moore or Comrade M. C. Dobbins, or by applying at G. A. R. headquarters, No. 14 East Front street, on Tuesday morning, before 7.30 o'clock.

Delegates From New Market.

At a Republican primary held at New Market Oct. 12th, the following delegates were elected to the County Convention to be held at New Brunswick on Oct. 19th: A. J. Coddington, Daniel Gaskill, A. S. Coriell, Henry Garretson, C. A. Coriell, Abm. Pierce. To Assembly Convention—Calvan Drake, Clinton Randolph, States Tittsworth, Robert Swazee, Renne B. Manning. Mr. Abm. Pierce acted as Chairman and Mr. Daniel Gaskill as Secretary.

THE CITY SAUNTERER.

He Tells How a City Doctor Took His Own Medicine.

DEAR PRESS: If I dared mention names in this matter you would not dare publish them, so in relating the story—which some of your readers in the secret can vouch for the truth of—I will only refer blindly to the principals. A gentleman of this city sick in his bed sent for one of our city's many and able physicians—a practitioner who for many years had served the gentleman faithfully with his skill and his bill. Knowing the patient's chronic complaint, the doctor brought the usual remedy—a powder—with him, and handed it to the sick-room attendant with the usual instruction—mix in a goblet of water and take by the spoonful at intervals. The servant emptied the powder into a glass standing conveniently near, and left the room for fresh water to dissolve it. As the doctor turned from the sick bed with a "Well! Good bye! We'll see you up in a day or two!" the patient asked "won't you take a thimble-full of iced water—before you go, doctor?" The physician although asserting loudly he seldom did take anything, almost filled a glass standing near from a decanter and left. Upon the return of the servant the discovery was at once made that the doctor had drunk from the glass into which had been emptied the powders. The next day the patient on his way to an early train and the resumption of business in New York, passed the doctor's office as that gentleman was being helped into his carriage by his coachman. The doctor was surprised to see his patient "up and well," but the latter was not a bit astonished to see the physician so suddenly stricken down in health. I pity all the unfortunate, but there is one more unfortunate than all, that is this doctor who took his own medicine. Whenever I pass him on the street—although he is now entirely recovered—he receives a glance of sympathy from Democratic Primaries.

Pursuant to the call of the Democratic Executive Committee of Union county, Plainfield is requested to elect delegates to represent the city at the County Democratic Convention to be held at Library Hall, Elizabeth, on Thursday, Oct. 20th, at 2 p. m.

The apportionment of delegates, times and place of such election are as follows:
First Ward—3 Delegates, Democratic Association rooms, Monday, Oct. 17th, 8 p. m.
Second Ward—3 Delegates, Democratic Association rooms, Tuesday, Oct. 18th, 7:30 p. m.
Third Ward—1 Delegate, Democratic Association rooms, Tuesday, Oct. 18th, 8 p. m.
Fourth Ward—5 Delegates, Democratic Association rooms, Wednesday, Oct. 19th, 8 p. m.

At the same times and places delegates will be selected to represent the City at the Third Assembly District Convention to be held in this city on a day to be hereafter announced. The representation of the several wards will be as follows: 1st ward, three; 2d ward, two; 3d ward, one; 4th ward, five.

Next Tuesday at Music Hall.

Mr. Geo. S. Knight, who for three years has been identified with farce of the broader kind, will attempt a serious piece of work as Rudolph, and with Mr. M. A. Kennedy and Mr. Charles Bowser, will form a strong trio of comedians. Little Julia Stuart, who two years ago made a hit in Brooklyn in "The Lily of Yeddo," will make her first appearance since then in "Rudolph." She was but fifteen years old at that time, and has been in school ever since. The female comedy part is in the hands of Mrs. Knight, who has a character after the style of Mrs. Dick, which Agnes Booth created in Mr. Howard's "Young Mrs. Winthrop" at the Madison Square. It is the first strong comedy part she has played since she was seen with the Worrell Sisters years ago. The dresses, which are very elaborate, have all been made in Europe.

Almost A Conflagration.

The cook in the employ of Mr. D. S. Knight, who occupies Mr. Wm. Bloodgood's handsome residence on Ninth street, discovered fire breaking out through the wall near the parlor grate, this morning early, as she first came down stairs. With some difficulty the fire was quenched, but a half-hour later, if not discovered, it would have developed into a blaze that would probably have destroyed the entire house and its contents. The timbers had been built too near the fire place, and had been charred until they burned their way through at last.

A Lost Child.

A groceryman driving through Leland avenue, this morning, found a child accompanied by a black-and-tan dog, wandering along the road. He tried to discover from it, and by driving around the vicinity, where it belonged, but without success. The child—a boy of about three years of age—is now awaiting an owner, under the care of Chief of Police Dodd. It wears a blue dress with yellow dots, and has fair hair.

Mr. Aronson's Company in "Erminie."

This excellent company is undoubtedly the most completely organized and carefully conducted body of opera comique artists touring the country. Mr. Rudolph Aronson's remarkable success at the Casino, New York, has been won by the most legitimate and artistic methods and that popular house has become the acknowledged home of comic opera in America. Long runs have been common enough there, but "Erminie" has exceeded all previous records and leaped into such phenomenal favor as to surprise even its warmest admirers. Summer and Winter for two years it attracted the crowds, and when it reached its five hundredth night it was still being greeted by throngs. But Mr. Aronson had already made contracts that were irrevocable for its production outside of New York and it was taken off to tour the country. The company that appeared here is one of the largest and most thoroughly equipped of comic opera organizations. The cast needs no commendation as all the artists were good in their parts, while the chorus was a strong and efficient one and the scenery and costumes all that they were at the Casino. "Erminie" as presented by Mr. Aronson's company will be a subject of long and pleasant remembrance. Every seat in Music Hall was occupied last evening.

Even a comparison can be made of this company and the original, without being odious to the former. Miss Addie Cora Reed has not Pauline Hall's buxomness, but she is not a day older and sings many things as well. Mr. Harry Hilliard sang his solo in the second act in a way that should insure his promotion into the place Courtice Pounds fills so awkwardly in the New York company. Miss Jeanette Henri sings "Cerise" music very acceptably. Mr. Fred Solomon is as near like Frank Wilson as possible in the part of "Caddy," and Henry Walton is a clever "Ravvy."

Junior Order United American Mechanics.

The Junior O. U. A. M. was instituted in May, 1883, and since that time has steadily increased, and with the beneficiaries now attached is progressing more than ever. The Order has for years existed and exists today as an Order of United Mechanics, recognizing every one possessed of the birth requirements, who work for a maintenance, either by hand or brain, or both, as legible for membership, and numbers among its members men of every profession and calling. As an organization it recognizes no connection with those associations known as Trade or Labor Unions, and does not seek to control either capital or labor, and could not without proving false to a portion of its membership as both are represented therein.

It is simply a thorough American Organization, with a beneficial department attached. It is American to that extent that it admits none to its membership except those who are native born, and it recognizes the fact that to the native born belong the first rights and privileges under our free institutions, and teaches to its members that principle of self-protection that is inherent to all nations, not to that extent, however, that lays it open to the charge of bigotry, or the proscription of any class, for it does not forget that our land should be an asylum for the oppressed of all nations, but claim that when it is sought as such, they should conform to our customs, and institutions, and by our laws, and not establish distinct nationalities, nor seek to engraft upon our social system, any of the customs and laws of the down-trodden countries of the old World, and thereby become a stumbling block to our national progress.

Maj. Anderson Post Meeting.

The first regular business meeting of Major Anderson Post, No. 109 G. A. R., recently instituted in the city was held in the Knights of Pythias room on East Front street last evening. Commander Nelson Runyon in the chair. Dr. A. S. Tittsworth, one of the charter members who was unavoidably absent at the installation and subsequent collation of a few weeks ago, was last night mustered in and afterward elected and installed as surgeon. Reports were heard from the various committees, and other business of interest to the Post was transacted. The regular meeting night of the new post will be on the second and fourth Thursday evening in each month.

WASHINGTONVILLE.

The new bridge near Wm. Spencer's is finished at last and will be open to the public in a few days.

Miss Minnie Bloom of New York, who has been spending the Summer at "Claravilla," has returned to the city where she will spend the Winter.

The auction of the personal property of the late William Allen, was well attended, mostly by relic hunters. Many of the goods brought as much as they could be purchased at the store for. H. Hand was the auctioneer.

CLEVELAND HONORED
HIS SPEECHES RECEIVED WITH GREAT APPLAUSE.

Kansas City in Gala Attire in Honor of the Presidential Party's Visit—
For the South.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14.—Yesterday was a day to be remembered by the people of Kansas City, the streets being crowded with eager sightseers and nearly impassable. The president of the United States and his handsome wife have been the attractions. They are now on their way to Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland occupied room 215, a suite furnished expressly for their party by the proprietors of the Coates house. Room 215, directly opposite, was the private dining room of the party. It was elegantly fitted up for the occasion. Orange trees, ferns, century and other plants in pots were distributed about the room. The furnishings of the table were especially fine. The silver was of the most magnificent. The glasses were hand-cut. The breakfast plates, small plates, butter shells and cups and saucers were white, semi-transparent china, adorned with the most delicately colored designs. The water pitcher, sugar bowl, syrup cup, as well as the seven individual coffee pots and pitchers, were of plain silver. Servants were busy in this apartment at an early hour yesterday morning. Covers were laid for eight, although there was only seven in the party.

The president and Mrs. Cleveland arose at 8:15 o'clock. About the same time Col. Lamont walked up the hall toward his own room clad in a gray and blue striped dressing gown. He had been to see Mr. Walt R. Bissell, the president's old law partner. Leclair, the president's steward and valet, went to the rooms of the party and intimated that the president was ready for breakfast. Mrs. Cleveland wore a brown and fawn skirt, which at the back fell in graceful folds. A red sash completed her costume. Mrs. Vilas wore a dark gray dress. The president's temper evidently had not been soured by his midnight vigil. He joked with Mr. Bissell, and the entire party seemed infected with his good spirits. There was jollity all through the meal.

It was 10 o'clock when the president and party came down to enter their carriages for the drive about the city. The president and Mrs. Cleveland met the postmaster-general and Mrs. Vilas in the hallway, and the four came down in the elevator together. The special entertainment committee, with Dr. Bryant, Mr. Bissell, and the representatives of the press, were waiting for the party at the foot of the elevator. Mrs. Cleveland stepped out first, gracefully bowing right and left. Mrs. Vilas and the gentlemen followed. The president and Mrs. Cleveland, Mr. Bissell, Dr. Bryant and Mr. Bissell were then presented to the special reception committee by Mr. E. H. Allen. The president bowed with dignity and shook each hand heartily. Mrs. Cleveland bowed and smiled to each gentleman as he was presented, and had a pleasant word for every one.

When the party appeared at the entrance to the hotel a great shout went up from the multitude outside. It was repeated when the carriage drove away. The president removed his hat and bowed right and left, and Mrs. Cleveland smiled her appreciation of the applause. Several hours were spent in driving about the city and in viewing the many points of interest. The exposition building was visited, but the president did not enter. A stand at the corner of the exhibition was of the most pronounced character. Women not only waved their handkerchiefs, but cheered the president, and the example was emulated by their children.

Crowds began to gather in the vicinity of the Young Men's Christian Association building, the cornerstone of which the president was to lay, as early as 9 o'clock. When he drove up, between 8,000 and 10,000 young men stationed on the temporary platform which had been laid over the foundations. A stand had been erected at the Ninth street front of the building. It was decorated with the national colors, and on a shield extending from the top of the stand to the ground were the words, "Welcome to the President and Mrs. Cleveland." When the distinguished guests appeared on the platform there was vociferous cheering. Every hand struck up, and for a few minutes the tumult was wonderful. The president stood near the cornerstone while delivering his address. His manner was easy, and his every word was listened to with rapt attention.

At the conclusion of his remarks the President was forced to undergo another period of popular applause. When it had subsided he led Mrs. Cleveland to their carriage and in a few minutes they were in the privacy of their rooms at the Coates house. After lunch came the final ordeal of the day. The irrepressible entertainment committee was on hand within an hour and the route of the custom house place of the grand open air reception, was taken up. The scene of the forenoon were repeated at every stop of the way. Mr. Cleveland looked better than at any time since his arrival, and bowed and smiled as if he were enjoying himself to the utmost. It was 2 o'clock when he reached the stand and heard the Mayor's address of welcome. His reply was delivered in a clear voice, which reached every ear in the assemblage of 20,000 people which faced him.

With the concluding utterances there were generous applause and the thousands of people began walking past the chief magistrate and his wife. Owing to the vast concourse hand-shaking was dispensed with. Over two hours were spent in this queer kind of a reception.

At 6 o'clock the presidential party sat down to a banquet at the Coates house. It was attended by many leading residents of Kansas City and Missouri and was pronounced a success. Later Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland reviewed the parade of the Franks of Pallas. The streets were beautifully illuminated and the parade was the most imposing ever seen in the west, surpassing the famous "Volled Prophet" parade at St. Louis. Soon after 10 o'clock the president and party drove to the Union station, and amid much enthusiasm departed for Memphis.

Implicated in a Postoffice Robbery.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 14.—In the United States District court, "Bobby" Adams, now serving a term in the state prison at Joliet, Ill., for the Minneapolis postoffice robbery of July of last year, testified implicating John W. O'Connor, alias Billy Connors, now on trial for the same crime.

Jacob Sharp About the Same.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Jacob Sharp, the convicted liar, now in Ludlow street jail, is very sick, but no worse than he has been for some time.

A WEALTHY CORPORATION.

The Pullman Car Company Stock Increased to $20,000,000.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—The capital of the Pullman car company, already at the enormous total of $15,920,000, was today increased 25 per cent, making the aggregate amount nearly $20,000,000. This action was taken at the annual meeting which has just been held here. The financial statement showed the surplus for the year to be $1,596,834.

The increase of stock was recommended by president George M. Pullman, who said that it was for the purpose of "providing the capital required to meet the cost of additional equipment and for further extension in the near future." The board of directors were empowered to issue the increased stock as in their discretion it might be required. It was decided that the new stock be offered to the stockholders at par, in proportion to their holdings, and upon terms to be fixed by the board of directors. All shares not subscribed for by the stockholders and all subscriptions not paid for in accordance with the terms prescribed will be forfeited to the company. At a meeting of the board of directors the former officers were re-elected, and the usual quarterly dividend of 2 per cent was declared, payable Nov. 15.

President Pullman, in his address to the stockholders, said that the number of persons employed by the company in its operating and manufacturing departments is 9,000, and the wages paid during the year was $5,044,623. The earnings from the operating of cars were $5,621,017, and from manufacturing rentals, patents, dividends, interest, etc., $830,114. During the year contracts for the operation of the cars of the company have been concluded with seven railroads. Renewals of contracts have been made with six other railways, including the Missouri Pacific, Chicago and Grand Trunk, and the Great Trunk of Canada. The number of passengers carried during the year was 3,085,342.

Fatal Accident on the Missouri Pac. Co.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14.—An accommodation train on the Missouri Pacific railroad, consisting of four passenger coaches, left Independence, Mo., yesterday morning, crowded with passengers for Kansas City. Near Rock Creek station the accommodation train was hit in the rear by the Wichita express, consisting of eighteen coaches, all heavily loaded. A lady standing on the platform of the station was struck and killed by the debris. H. H. Noland was badly injured. Mat Chapman, baggage master, suffered a broken leg, and Edward Milton was seriously hurt. A large number of passengers injured themselves in trying to break through the windows. The accident was caused by the failure of the train dispatcher to notify the conductor of the express that the accommodation had preceded him.

Trains from San Diego to St. Louis.

SANTA FE, Oct. 14.—It is learned here from official sources that negotiations will be closed between the Spreckles Oceanic steamship company and the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe road, whereby the latter will, June 1 next, begin running through passenger trains between San Diego and Los Angeles and Chicago and St. Louis, the trip to be made in four days. Vice-President Smith says a contract has been given the Pullman company to furnish costly equipment for this contemplated new service. There are to be eight trains, seven cars each, and the contract stipulates that they shall be vestibule trains with all the modern appointments.

New York Capital in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Ex-Senator John Fox and Mr. Alexander L. Latta, the civil engineer, have bought the old Calvert estate on the Baltimore and Ohio road, near Washington, and are organizing a branch of the prevailing suburban boom. The old Calvert mansion is one of the historic colonial houses. Henry Clay was intimate with the last Calvert who owned the place and often visited there with Christopher Hughes, William Pinckney and other distinguished Marylanders of the time.

Another Paper for New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Argus, which is to support Henry George and the labor ticket generally, will appear on Saturday of this week. The backer of the enterprise, however, insists that it shall be run on purely business principles, and that while it lends its support to Henry George it must not be run as a distinctively labor journal. John P. Foley, late city editor of the Leader, will have charge of the paper, assisted by William G. F. Price and others.

Loss of a Fishing Schooner.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 14.—The schooner Thomas L. Tarr, that sailed from here August 19, with a crew of fourteen men on a fishing voyage, is given up for lost with all on board. She was last seen at anchor September 3, the day of the disastrous hurricane on the banks.

Indiana's Coal Mines.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 14.—Twenty-five hundred to three thousand miners are out on a strike in southern Indiana and a coal famine prevails. They appeal to all miners in the state to help the fight.

Sporting News.

The injured jockey, Billy Donohue, is getting along very nicely. Littlefield is also convalescing, but he was more seriously hurt than was first thought.

Jem Carney has determined to take a short rest before resuming training for his fight with McAuliffe, and, knowing no better, he has gone to the hotel for a vacation than New York is now in that city. He is attracting a great deal of attention from sporting men.

George Fordham, the English demon jockey, is dead. He was 50 years old, and long ranked with the best knights of the turf. From 1831 to the period of his retirement in 1853 he won 2,500 races, including a Derby on St. Berys. He made a fortune, but lost it in a Honduras investment. He was honest, shrewd and fearless, and generally well liked. He leaves a widow and two children.

John L. Sullivan says he "is out for the dust" of England, and will sail in the Cephalonia from Boston on the 27th inst. He will take Jack Ashton with him as his sparring partner and Jim McKee as his financial representative. The big fellow seems much pleased with his new manager, Harry Phillips, who promises to back him against any man in the world for $5,000 or $10,000 a side. Sullivan is a financial representative. ALLAN'S PINE NEEDLE CIGARS.

(PATENTED.)

Use the Pine Needle Cigars for a delicious smoke and a certain cure for HAY FEVER, CATARRH and ASTHMA, combining the full aroma of the Havana Tobacco and imparting to the taste and breath a pleasant aromatic flavor; never falling in its help to the turbulent and painful diseases, and by the introduction of the Pine Needle absorbing all nicotine and poison in the plain tobacco. Read the testimonial of the celebrated Professor Stillman as to their efficiency.

DEPARTMENT OF ANALYTICAL CHEMISTRY, STEVENS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY, Hoboken, N. J., September 7, 1887.

Messrs. ALLAN, DUNN & SMITH:
GENTLEMEN—I have examined the cigars manufactured by you and in which you include a few pine needles for the relief of Asthma and Catarrh.

These pine needles (of the Pinus Sylvestris) have for many years been used with success for the relief of Catarrh and Asthma by burning the same and inhaling the vapor. Now, however, you have succeeded in combining the pine needles in a pleasant way with the tobacco (that which was formerly a disagreeable operation) becomes a pleasant and effective one. The vapor of the pine needles retains its efficiency in the presence of the tobacco smoke and you will undoubtedly find a large sale to persons afflicted with Asthma and Catarrh.

Very truly yours,
PHOS. B. STILLMAN.

THE NEW YORK STRIKERS

THE PRINTERS WILL NOT YIELD TO EMPLOYERS.

A Strong Effort to Settle the Difficulty—700 Men Out of Work—The Brass-workers Hopeful.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The reports in circulation as to the basis of the settlements of Harper & Brothers with their book and job printers had a remarkable effect upon both the printers and the members of Typothetae. John Polhemus, the printer of Nassau and Ann streets, told his men that he could not possibly be expected to fail his associates in accepting the new scale if exclusive concessions were made to Harper & Brothers, and his men put on their coats and left the shop. The proposition remained at work. C. C. Burgoyne issued this document:

NEW YORK, Oct. 13, 1887.
To the Employees of the Burgoyne Quick Printing Company:

GENTLEMEN: When the scale was presented to me on Friday last I supposed the union was acting in good faith and would strike every office in which it was not conceded in its entirety. I saw how it teeth and too nails upon that assumption. Now I find that the union has cheated me. They are making "fish of one and flesh of another." They have "bargained" with the Messrs. Harper, allowing them to retain their non-union hands, at the same time proclaim from the house-tops that the Harpers have given in.

I respectfully submit that such a course of procedure if not fair to this office; not only unfair to this office, but unfair to every office that is a real "card shop." It is an outrage which calls for the intervention of every officer connected with it, and as I do not propose to burn my hands raking the typographical chestnut from the fire, unless this outrageous bargain is annulled to-day, this office will declare a lock-out to-morrow.

THE BURGOYNE QUICK PRINTING CO.
G. G. BURGOYNE, President.

This was a blow for the union men, for they thought that it would be followed by a similar action by all the large printing and bookbinding establishments in the city. President Glavin hurried to Pythagoras hall and posted this bulletin:

This is to certify that no non-union men are at present or will be employed by Harper Bros.

Fres. Typographical Union No. 4.
JOS. SMITH, Chairman Strike Committee.

It was given out and understood that the men to whom the union objects have been taken temporarily from the composing room and are employed in another department. This was not officially announced by the firm, and as an attempt to settle the entire matter was being discussed, Mr. Burgoyne concluded at a late hour not to lock his men out. But if in the meantime he finds that the original story is true he will close his office.

There are still 700 printers out of work on account of the scale of prices presented by the book and job printers to the employing bosses. Of this number about 300 are press-men, who struck out of sympathy for the printers. Mr. John Smith, chairman of the committee on strikes, said that the firms of John C. Rankin, Jr., J. W. Hallenbeck, Edward O. Jenkins, Wynopow & Hallenbeck, and the Exchange printing company, had acceded to their terms.

A circular has been issued by Typographical Union No. 6 levying an assessment of 25 per cent. on all money made every $10 per week for the support of the striking printers.

The forty pressmen employed by Little & Co. struck early in the morning; and were received with tumultuous cheers when they reached Pythagoras Hall.

It was announced by Secretary Pasco at midnight that the Typothetae had requested the committee from Typographical Union No. 6 to report to the union that it had for a long time been the practice of the Typothetae to hire only union men, and they have now no disposition to change this rule. They requested the union, however, to drop their demands the clause regarding "card" offices. In all other respects they were ready to accept the scale. The committee refused to accept these terms, and all negotiations are terminated for the present.

There was no change yesterday in the brassworkers' strike. Each side remains firm in the determination to hold out until the other gives in. Military hall was crowded with men in the morning; and in the afternoon a meeting was held that was largely attended. At the meeting the men expressed their determination to remain out until their employers came to terms.

The manufacturers have done nothing further to bring about a settlement; in fact, they are waiting the action of the men. What the future course of the men will be is not positively known by themselves. They have received offers of assistance from the Metal Workers' section of the Central Labor Union and this means that the metal workers in all trades will strike in sympathy with the locked-out brassworkers.

This also means that every trade that is represented at the central labor union will probably strike, if by so doing they force the employers to concede the half holiday. The pickets who are on guard at the factories reported that all was quiet and no men had applied for work. At John Cassidy & Sons' factory four men were at work all day, but the union men said that they were "scabs" who had deserted their union, and if a settlement is ever reached they will demand the discharge of these men.

THE AMOUNT INCREASES.

Making up Examination of Stafford's Broken Bank.

STAFFORD SPRINGS, Conn., Oct. 14.—Excitement over the downfall of the Stafford Springs National bank continues to run very high. United States National Bank Examiner Forman has been here and said that the shortage grows bigger and bigger. The latest investigation he said reveals the fact that the deficit, according to the exact figures is $84,000, but there is no doubt that it is in excess of that amount, which further investigations will verify.

Aside from the above the bad debts amounted to $70,000, in addition to what is recorded in the books in the way of notes, making an aggregation of over $150,000.

Storm in Cuban Seas.

KEY WEST, Oct. 13.—The remarkably low barometer and phenomenal weather few days, and still continue are explained by the following message from Havana: "Barometer, 29.64. Wind east, twenty-four miles an hour. Rain heavy. Centre of cyclone south of this station. What effect the northern, now traveling in this direction, will have, cannot be foretold."

Nothing Known of Warlike Apaches.

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 14.—Officers of the district military headquarters here have no such information as that reported from Ascension, Mexico, via El Paso, referring to a band of hostile Apaches and depredations on stock of the ranchmen in the northern part of Chihuahua.

BOULANGER ARRESTED.

THE GOVERNMENT DOES NOT LIKE HIS COMMENTS.

Gen. Caffarel guilty of offenses against honor and honesty—Six months' imprisonment for Spain—Morocco's sultan.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Standard's correspondent at Paris announces the arrest of Gen. Boulanger for his comments on the Caffarel scandal.

Paris, Oct. 14.—The cabinet will to-day discuss the question whether Gen. Boulanger shall not be removed from his command for statements made by reporters attacking the government. Gen. Ferron telegraphed to Gen. Boulanger at Montluçon, ordering him to return forthwith to the headquarters of his headquarters, asking him if the words attributed to him by the newspapers were correctly reported.

Gen. Boulanger, in reply, said: "I have returned to Clermont-Ferrand. I am unable to procure the newspapers mentioned. Send them to me."

The newspapers alleged that Gen. Boulanger informed a reporter that he never doubted that the prosecution of Gen. Caffarel was aimed at himself. He said that he defied the most minute inquiry into his conduct, and said that if he had been minister of war and Gen. Caffarel had offered him a revolver with which to blow out his brains.

Gen. Boulanger has telegraphed to Gen. Ferron that he did not use the language attributed to him in the newspapers. At the request of M. Wilson, the minister of war, Gen. Boulanger was questioned by M. Ratazzi, M. Linnoulin and Baron Krieger, and all admitted that the accusations against M. Wilson were false, and were made in the hope the affair would be hushed up.

GEN. CAFFAREL GUILTY.

The Cross of the Legion of Honor to be Taken Away from Him.

Paris, Oct. 14.—The court-martial composed of five generals met yesterday at the ministry of war and unanimously decided that Gen. Caffarel had been guilty of offenses against honor and honesty, and that he was no longer worthy of belonging to the army. The judgment of the court involves his dismissal from his post as the minister of war, the removal of his name from the active list of the army, the loss of his Cross of the Legion of Honor as well as of his other decorations and medals, and the diminution by more than one-half of the pension of 4,000 francs, which he was entitled to in consideration of his thirty-nine years' service in the army. This is, of course, independent of the criminal action which will be instituted against him by the public prosecutor.

Spain to Have More Iron-Clads.

MADRID, Oct. 14.—The queen regent has signed a decree authorizing the construction of six iron-clads of 1,000 tons each, which shall be capable of attaining a speed of from sixteen to twenty miles an hour; also four large and sixty small torpedo boats.

Senor Comacho has resigned the presidency of the tobacco monopoly. He will be succeeded by Senor Ruiz Gomez.

Sultan of Morocco.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—The Journal des Debats says that an official despatch has been received announcing that the sultan of Morocco is better, and that he mounted his horse before the palace and showed himself to the people.

Mrs. Craik Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The death is announced of Mrs. Dinah Mulock Craik, the well-known English authoress.

HE FAILED TO APPEAR.

Where is the Mysterious Stranger of the Villa Lela Case.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—Lawyer William Welch has filed a demurrer to the indictments against him for libeling Postmaster General Vilas, on the ground that the various statements upon which the indictments are based were not against Mr. Vilas personally, but against a corporation of which he was a member, and if any one were to bring suit for libel it should be the corporation and not Mr. Vilas. The demurrer will be argued next Saturday.

"I do not know exactly who is responsible for the indictments against me, but I learn that these parties have entered into a conspiracy to harass and annoy me, I shall certainly take steps to make it exceedingly interesting for them."

There is something a little mysterious about the manner in which the indictments were brought. Some time before the jury met, a stranger, an agent of Mr. Vilas, came here, presented the matter to the county attorney, and promised to be present to testify when the case came before the jury. The mysterious stranger did not appear.

Another Grand Army Reunion.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—The grand army of this city have determined to hold a three days' celebration for grand army men October 26, 27 and 28. The first will be reception day, the second grand army parade and the third jubilee day. Gen. Andrew Hickman has been chosen for commander. The intention is to collect all the grand army posts in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and other places that can come and to include all other military organizations. Committees are already at work making preparations.

Yellow Fever Spreading.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 14.—The fact that a death from yellow fever had occurred in Palatka became known here yesterday. The president of the county health board immediately declared quarantine against Palatka and sent out a special train with extra officers to stop a train from Palatka at the border of the town. A special from Tampa says there have been six new cases and two deaths. Dr. Porter and nurses from Key West have arrived.

Assault in the Second Degree.

KINGSTON, Oct. 14.—Clemence Smith, a New York man on trial here for a week for attempting to assassinate Jacob K. S. Rountree, a prominent business man, has been found guilty of assault in the second degree. The shooting was one of the incidents of the war that prevailed for about a year in St. Peter's German Catholic church here.

Assistant Manager O'Dell Resigns.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 14.—J. T. O'Dell, assistant general manager of the Northern Pacific eastern division, has resigned his place and accepted the post of general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio at a salary of $12,000 a year.

HERMAN TUBER FOUND GUILTY.

Ex-Gov. Abbott Severely Criticizes the Charge to the Jury.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 14.—A loud murmur of surprise and dissent ran through the dense crowd of workmen who packed the Hudson county court as the foreman of the jury in the case against silk weaver Tuber announced a verdict of "guilty as charged in the indictment."

"The maximum punishment," remarked Prosecutor Winfield immediately after the verdict had been entered, "is two years' imprisonment. And I shall ask that the full penalty be imposed."

Governor Abbott, as counsel for Tuber, made, however, a motion for a stay of proceedings, which was granted until the 15th inst., when plea for a new trial will be argued.

The eminent lawyer for the defense severely criticized Judge Lippincott's instruction to the jury. It was, he thought, more a plea for conviction than an impassioned explanation of the law of the case. The charge occupied more than an hour in delivery. Among the specially interesting points were the following:

"To constitute resistance there must be some overt act, but a show is not necessary."

An unlawful assemblage is any meeting whatever where three or more people assemble under circumstances that will raise fear and give reasonably courageous people cause of disturbance of the peace.

The jury was also charged that they could consider whether the question of the meeting being held on Sunday was a legal and moral one to create a breach of the peace. If it was, the jury was to find the defendant guilty. The jury had, furthermore, according to Judge Lippincott, a right to consider the alleged translation of the German circular, which referred to the Chicago anarchists, as part of the case for the meeting, though it contained no reference to place, time or speaker.

Mrs. Hinton, the wife of Col. Richard Hinton, went before the Hudson county grand jury to enter formal charges of deliberate perjury against Officer Feeney, alleged to have been committed during his testimony at the trial of Tuber. The policeman swore that Mrs. Hinton urged Tuber and others to resistance, while she stated that it can be proven by any number of witnesses that she never arrived in Union Hill till after the affray and when Tuber was already under arrest.

CAN'T IMPORT MINISTERS.

Holy Trinity Church to be Sued for $1,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—United States district attorney Stephen A. Walker has decided that it is his duty under the law to proceed against the Church of the Holy Trinity to recover $1,000 fine from it, the ground being that it has violated Federal law by importing the Rev. E. Walpole Warren of London, into this country, under a labor contract to preach the gospel. Mr. John S. Kennedy of 40 Wall street, president of the St. Andrews society, initiated the proceedings to test the law. He had felt greatly aggrieved at the manner in which the law had been enforced against some of his fellow Scotchmen, who if they had been allowed to land, would have made valuable citizens. His hope is, as he says, by enforcing the law, to make an "unreasonable law" to be instrumental in having it abrogated. Mr. Kennedy is a member of a Presbyterian church. Holy Trinity is an Episcopal church.

Talk About Telegraph Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The subject upon which all congressmen who have arrived are most in accord is, that it is expedient that some legislation shall be enacted by the fifty-third congress looking to the control of the telegraph. No definite plan has been formed by any member so far as can be ascertained, but several have suggested that, as it is evident that attempts will be made to amend the interstate commerce law, it will be well to incorporate in the law legislation which will provide for the control of interstate telegraphs. It is urged that there will be more necessity for government regulation of the telegraph, now that practically all competition is ended, than there was before and that justice and equality in the rates of transmission of messages are as important to the people as the provisions in the interstate commerce law which regulate the railroads of the country.

Mysterious Disappearance.

LYONS, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The strange disappearance of George A. Taylor, one of the prominent citizens of Solids, has caused much excitement in that village. Taylor is proprietor and manager of the Opera house in Solids, and interested in several industries in that place. He went to Rochester on Oct. 1, and was making collection in that city until Oct. 3, when he bade good-by to his friends and started for the train to return home. He never reached the depot, and if he had been instantly swallowed up by the earth his disappearance would not have been more mysterious and complete. His family is distraught at his long absence. Circulars have been sent out, and all of his friends inquired of, with no result. Taylor is temperate and an unusually domestic man. It is believed that he has met with foul play.

A New Political Club.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—A new political club was organized last night under the name of the Republican National League, with officers as follows: President, Gen. Edward F. Beale; Vice-Presidents, W. W. Dan-nhower, H. A. Willard, Fred Douglas, ex-Senator Cragin, and Col. W. A. Cook; Chaplain, the Rev. Dr. John P. Newman; Recording Secretary, E. B. Fox; Corresponding Secretary, Col. Thomas W. Gardner; Treasurer, Capt. J. H. Howell. A committee was appointed to secure a club house, and to invite such republicans as they thought would be desirable to become members. It is said to be the intention to frame the club after the style of the Union League Club of New York.

A Cork Leg Inhabited.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—In the cork leg he has worn since the war Dr. Dancloaf of Westmoreland discovered a large colony of bedbugs this week. There were at least 500 of them. They seemed to breed in the knee joint and in a hole on the side of the limb. His wife, a very neat woman, fainted upon the discovery. She had been mystified by the fact that the beds in her splendid mansion, were infested with vermin. Houses that she and husband visited were similarly infested by the leg bugs. The New York firm to which the leg has been sent for cleaning says that bedbugs have a partiality for cork legs.

To Utilize the Sarp.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The treasury department has under favorable consideration a proposition to extend to depository banks in other large cities, the privilege recently granted such banks in New York of holding public funds to the amount of 100 per cent. of their bond deposits and to increase the maximum amount so held to $1,000,000. Secretary Fairchild is known to favor this plan of utilizing the surplus.

Assistant Manager O'Dell Resigns.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 14.—J. T. O'Dell, assistant general manager of the Northern Pacific eastern division, has resigned his place and accepted the post of general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio at a salary of $12,000 a year.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam, for Coughs and Colds, does it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes E. J. Shaw to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The Large Bottles are 50c. and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

HYMN OF LABOR.

"Woe for the pale and the burden, the weary wasting of days!
Woe for the toll and the tangle, the dim desolation
of ways!
Lost, in mist of the Past, are the early faiths
and fears,
Dead, in the womb of the Future, the dream of the distant years.
Shadows lengthen and shrink, and bleak day
followeth day;
Idle are all words spoken—What is there left to say?"

This—it is well, indeed, that old faiths slumber
and sleep,
This—that the dream deemed dead may one day quicken and leap;
Winter is well forgotten, but Spring and Summer
for to tell,
Go, turn thy feet to the fields for birth of the corn and oil!
Leave thy wreck of the Future—thy grave of a dead dream,
Lift hand to the plow, and gird strong loins for the fight.

Strive for the strife's sake only, smite not foe
men nor friend—
Strive for the strife's sake only, set no shrine
for an end,
Set no goal for the winning, no bright bourn
for the scope;
Ask no guerdon of praise, and hope thou nothing from Hope.
If, after in the sunrise, white wings flash and
are fled,
Lift not thy hand from the toiling, turn not aside thine head.

Corn-husks gladden the swine, and ashes are left of fire,
Dead leaves shake on the trees—but what thing comes of Desire?
Dear is the Peace after Pain, and balm for the flint-worn feet,
Great peace cometh of Labor—out of the Strong
the Sweet.

So shalt thou come to thy reaping, so shalt thou say—"It is well—"
With lips redeemed from the curse, and soul from the uttermost hell.
So shalt thou look through the sunset, glad,
and weary, and free, Saying: "A life's space only—a little while—
but 'tis well!"

MARVELOUS STRENGTH.

A Little Ohio Hercules with a Never-Failing Nerve.

Away back in the sixties I was financially interested in two or three Texas enterprises with a man named George Sloane, writes a contributor to the New York Sun.
That was his right name, but in many localities in Texas he was known only as Nervy George. I have seen a great many statements concerning his adventures in print, but all more or less exaggerated.
Some of the adventures which came about while we were in company I will now give to the press for the first time.

Sloane was an Ohio boy, and I made his acquaintance and chummed with him in the Andersonville prison pen. We went West together after the war, and at that time he was only twenty-seven years old. He was five feet seven inches high, weighing one hundred and sixty pounds, and was the strongest man I ever saw outside of a professional wrestler or cannon-ball tosser.
His flesh was so hard that he could crack a walnut on his leg. On two or three occasions I knew him to break the bones in a man's hand by a single grip. He took no training of any sort, but the strength and ruggedness were born to him. As if not satisfied in making him a young Hercules, nature gave him the most wonderful nerve and courage. He once told me that he would give one hundred dollars to realize for five minutes what fear was. I saw him in some of the hottest places a man could get into, and I never saw him falter or hesitate or make a mistake in doing just the right thing.

One afternoon, after we had finished up some business in Dallas and were ready to go, we entered a saloon for a parting nip.
It was full of gamblers, cowboys and rough characters generally, and every man wore a revolver in plain sight. We were sip-ping our drink when a burly, big ruffian, who was a fighter from way back, intentionally fell against Sloane with considerable force, and then stood off and loomed at him, and said:

"In waiting fur ye to ax my parding fur that, banty!"

Sloane never carried a weapon of any sort while in a town. He looked the big fellow over in a cool and quiet way, and finally asked:

"Did you intend to insult me, sir?"

"Insult ye!" echoed the other. "Who talks of insults? Why, ye little gamecock from somebody's barnyard, I'll give ye two minutes to git down on your knees to me."

"If you do not bog my pardon before I finish this glass," replied George, "I will make a wreck of you."

By this time every body in the saloon had crowded around us, and it was easy to see we had no friends there. There was something in Sloane's eye and tone which cautioned the big fellow, and if left to himself he would have retired from the scrape.
But he was egged on and braced up by the crowd, who cheered to see a row, and he stepped back a little, drew his revolver and growled:

"Now, banty, get down on your marrow bones, or you'll take a dose of lead!"

Sloane leaned on the bar with his elbow and sipped his wine slowly, paying no further attention to any one. He was, perhaps, a minute and a half finishing his glass, and during the last half minute he was covered by the man's revolver. When he set the glass down he wiped off his mouth, returned the handkerchief, and then turned and advanced upon the ruffian. The man fired point blank at his head, cut off a lock of hair, and the bullet killed the bartender. Before he could fire again George seized him, one hand on his throat, and the other on his knee, lifted him high in the air, and held him thus for ten seconds. Then he gave the body a flip upon some whisky barrels ten feet away. It was an astonishing feat of strength, and the silence of death fell upon the room. When it was broken it was by a man who had tipped over to the barrels to look at the ruffian,
and who hoarsely whispered:

"Great heavens! Tom is as dead as a fish!"

"So he was. The iron fingers had cho'te-the life out of him as he was held aloft, and when he struck the barrel almost every bone in his body was broken. George stood there for two long minutes, looking from one to the other, and then asked:

"Does anybody else want me to go down on my knees?"

Never a man replied. Never a hand was lifted, and we went slowly out and mounted our horses and rode away unmolested.

A month or so later we were at Waco, and one night attended the performance at a concert hall. A rough crowd couldn't have been brought together. In the first few minutes of our stay, I saw three hundreds of beer shot out of the hands of waiters, and a hat was knocked from the head of one of the stage performers by a bullet.

I sensed a row and wanted to go, but George asked me to wait a bit. Directly in front of us sat an outlaw from the Indian Territory. He was in an ugly frame of mind, and anxious for blood-letting, and pretty soon he turned on us with:

"Which of you vermin spit on my nati?"

"Neither of us, sir, politely answered my friend."

"You are a liar!" shouted the man, as he rose up.

"No shooting! No shooting!" called a hundred voices, and the stage performance was suspended to see the row out. We were chock up the side of the hall, with a wide aisle in our front. Retreat was cut off, while we could be approached by three men abreast. We put our backs to the wall, and I called out that we were unarmed and wanted fair play. Twenty people shouted back that we should have it, but in place of two men approaching us a whole half dozen jumped into the aisle.

"Leave them all to me," whispered George,
and he obliged me to do so by stepping in front.

The crowd came at us with a rush, sleeves up and fists clenched. George stepped out to meet them. Biff! Biff! went his iron knuckles, and every man was knocked down inside of forty seconds, and that before one of them could get in a blow. Then George picked each one up in turn, gave him a shake which elicited a howl of pain, and flung him among the spectators. Not one of them came back after more, and no one else in the audience cared to rush in with us. It was over in five minutes, and after the stage manager had tendered us a vote of thanks, the performance went on.
Three of the five men received broken limbs in the toss, and one was made a cripple for life by having his spine injured.

One of the nerviest things in Sloane's whole career happened at Navasota, on the Brazos river. We were sitting on the veranda of the hotel, when a fighter entered the village on horseback, and armed with a Winchester and two revolvers. He took a drink or two, and then started in to capture the town. There was only one street, and he rode up and down this at full gallop, capping right and left and uttering terrific yells.
In five minutes he had the town. People disappeared from sight with amazing celerity, and every body was thoroughly cowed.
The fellow fired two shots among the sitters on the veranda, and we stampeded. I own up that I had no desire for a closer acquaintance with the ruffian, and I was among the first to seek cover. When we were all inside I peered cautiously from a window and saw Sloane still outside. He was on his feet, leaning against a column of the veranda,
and smoking a cigar as cool as you please.
I shouted for him to come in, but he shook his head. Appeals were made by others, but he turned a deaf ear.

The cowboy had by this time reached the lower end of the street, and turned to come back. He came at full gallop, but checked his horse in front of the hotel and fired three shots at Sloane from a distance of fifty feet.
The first zipped past his ear, the other two cut cloth without drawing blood. We were looking full at the shooter from the windows, and as he fired his third shot without bringing his man a look of wonder came to his face, and he bent forward for a closer look, and shouted:

"Who are you, man or devil?"

George sauntered along to the steps, slowly descended and approached the man, and as he came near enough he grabbed for him. Next instant the cowboy was pulled off his horse and being literally mopped all over the road. He tried to use a weapon, but was disarmed with scarcely an effort,
and when George got through with him he lay as one dead. Rifle, revolvers and knife were broken and flung in a heap beside him, and George sat down on the steps to finish his smoke. He had kept his cigar alight through the fracas. I personally interviewed the doctor who was called to see the cowboy, and he gave me a list of the injuries as follows: Left arm broken, thigh on right hand broken, three scalp wounds, right shoulder probably dislocated, three teeth knocked out, five bad bruises on various parts, one eye closed.

The fight did not last three minutes, and yet the little giant laid the fellow up for three good months and taught him a lesson he never forgot. I saw and talked with him a year later, and he told me he never was so scared in his life, and that he was not yet entirely well from the drubbing.

CHOLLY'S PROCESSION.

The Hercules Task Which a Philadelphia Belle Gave to Her Lover.

The engagement is just announced of a Philadelphia belle and a young man whose name has been conspicuous in the tennis tournament this summer, says the Providence Journal, and the story the gossip tell thereof is something like this: The youth was greatly smitten by the charms of the damsel last winter, and followed her to the watering place she chose for her summer outing. There he offered his hand and heart, and she like a silly child made her acceptance conditional on his winning a first prize at some tennis tournament. She did worse, for with the most inexcusable vanity she told her girl friends what she should do. When asked what she should do if her champion were everywhere beaten, she refused to consider such a possibility for a moment; "although," she is said to have added on one occasion, "of course, I should marry him any way."

Ignorant of this mental reservation on the part of his lady love, the young man, put on his mettle, played ferriously and constantly, but never got even so far as the finals in the tournaments he attended. Meanwhile his lady love found that her caprice had deprived her of the companionship of her adored, that she was simply going about from place to place and getting ingloriously defeated so that it was important that something must be done.

In this emergency she took counsel with her brother, and between them they concocted a clever scheme. The brother consulted his boon companion and suggested that it would be a clever and amusing device to get up a tournament with the condition attached to the championship cup that the man winning it should provide a dinner for the players.

"We can put in a dollar apiece," he said,
and buy some sort of a cup and then we'll get Charlie here and let him win. He's just crazy to get a championship and we'll stick him for the biggest kind of a dinner.
He always does every thing of that sort up awfully brown."

So said and so done. The tournament was organized. Charlie was sent for and carried every thing before him. He came very near failure when one of the players took it into his head to win the first set and make it five games love on the second before giving up the match. By the time this point was reached Charlie got so thoroughly demoralized that his opponent had to play with ludicrous awkwardness in order to lose, and those who were in the secret were divided between fear of losing their dinner and amusement at the situation. However, in the end every thing worked according to the plan, and at the dinner given by the champion he announced his engagement.

A Bit of German Humor.

A General on his return from the war showed his family a regimental flag all torn and a riddle with bullets, which he had captured from the enemy with his own hands.
On the following morning, says the Berlin Kourier, this trophy was to be presented to the Commander-in-Chief. When he came to look for the flag his industrious housekeeper brought it to him with a smile of proud satisfaction and said: "I sat up all night and mended the flag. It now looks nearly as good as new."

PRESENCE OF MIND.

How Men Should Act Under Trying Circumstances.

One of the Handiest Attainments Known to the Present Generation—The Value of Keeping One's Mind
in Sudden Emergencies.

Many people need presence of mind,
writes A. W. Bellar, in the Detroit Free Press. The art of knowing just what to do in a sudden case of emergency is one of the handiest attainments you can have along in your vest pocket. Many people do not know how to act, but sit in a weak daze, which is just as bad as a month's days for all the good they do.

Now, in case you fall out of the window, or are thrown out, keep your wits about you; calculate the height; if there are people on the walk yell to them to get out of the way, or tell them they will get hurt; this takes the responsibility off of you. Don't be in a hurry to reach the ground, it will be worse for you if you do. See that you are going down feet first, which is the safest way. If there are babies and things in the way, have them removed before you get there. Look at your watch and see if you have time to have a feather bed brought out; you'll find it handy to light on. Come down easy and all's well. If you drop down all in a lump it is dangerous, and without presence of mind you are likely to fall on some one and injure him.

If a lady faints don't run away nor get excited. Lay her in the shade with her head raised so as not to muss her back hair; rip her gloves open so that respiration may begin. Take her teeth out on a plate so they will not choke her. Call for air if there isn't any. Wash the powder from her face with a cold, wet towel, and tell her to sniff ammonia. If all things else fail, have some woman in the crowd remark that her bonnet is one of last summer's done over, but this is the last resort, and often makes the patient too strong and active on a sudden.

Should you fall into deep water and are not able to swim, don't get excited and give up for lost. With heavy boots and clothes on it is useless to struggle. Keep in mind that the main support of life is air, and that you are greatly in need of it, and don't get to thinking of all the low, mean things you have done in your life, and try to compare the good ones with them, but sit on the bottom of the river and pull off your boots and remove your coat, taking the valuables out of the pockets, including the letters your wife gave you to mail a week ago. Don't yell for help while you are down there, nor sit there and give up, unless the weather is as hot as it has lately been, but give a spring and try to reach the top.
You'll find that is the best place for you,
and when you get to the top stay there till help comes, and don't try to see how many times you can go down without realizing on your insurance money. If they take you out insensible, have them roll you over a log, and stand you on your head in the fence corner to drain. Don't let them leave you to go for the coroner before you really are in a dead condition.

Once, may be, before you die you might be going along in one of your most joyous moods and unexpectedly come upon an awful man you owe! Don't allow yourself to become paralyzed and give up without an effort. You should have had your eyes out, but it is too late now, even to dodge into a millinery shop and ask what is the price of grindstones. Keep your wits and nerve up.
Shake hands and smile, but not ghastrly.
Tell him that little amount you will pay soon, for haven't you assured him you would twenty times? Inquire about his trade and inform him he looks in excellent health, and tell him a man's gone round the corner who owes you and break away, and keep off that street after this.

If you are thunderstruck by lightning and knocked cold, look around and see what it was that hit you before you associate it with your wife and a flat-iron. You can easily tell if you have any life left by trying to move your limbs, or working your toes or your ears. If you are alive, stay in the same spot till the storm is over, and get where lightning won't strike the next time. If you see a storm coming get on a feather bed, but don't lie on a feather bed all the time expecting storms, or poverty will strike you.

When your car jumps the track and rolls down the hill, keep your seat and don't leave it and go to standing on your head and cutting other capers like you were out of your mind. By leaving your seat you are likely to get into difficulty. To avoid the collision always wait and take the next train.

If your hotel is afire don't get excited and put the wash-stand out of the window and get on it and ride down. Keep cool. Pack your valise carefully, adjust your necktie and arrange your button-hole flower. Always leave the key at the office, so take it out and deliberately wade through the smoke to the stairway. The smoke won't hurt you after you've ridden on St. Louis street-cars. Slide down the bannisters, report at the office and settle your bill. Always wake up in time, and don't let the fire get too much start of you.

To wake up and find burglars in the room is trying on the nervous system and other personal adjuncts. Don't yell murder, nor wake your wife; get over between her and the wall quietly, and observe just how much space there is between the bed and the wall. If there is no space at all, you will be in a most uncomfortable predicament unless the bed has castors, but if you can, squeeze yourself down and lie there securely until night, and the burglars have disappeared, then you can inform your wife, and take an inventory of your goods and chat-
ties at your leisure.

You will see that there is nothing life keeping one's mind in sudden emergencies;
the body then is pretty sure to get through all right.

BRIEF SNAKE STORIES.

Seven Enchanting Yarns for Lovers of Reptilian Lore.

The county clerk of Lonoke, Ark., is responsible for the story of a jay bird killing a snake eight foot long.

A farmer living on the old Peachtree road, Atlanta, Ga., counted over 150 snakes in an hour's stroll on his farm recently.

A black snake five feet two inches long entered the house of Alonso Baldwin, of Missouri City, and dined on four pretty canaries that were in a cage hanging against the wall.

After the poultry house of Willis Perryman near Bonne Terre, Mo., had been nearly depopulated, he tried rat poison, and found the next day in his henhouse a dead bull snake of enormous size.

Fat Pierce's wife saved her four-year-old boy, who had been bitten by a moccasin, by sucking the wound, giving the child whisky and putting a tobacco poultice on the wound.
She lives near Macon, Ga.

Eleven-year-old daughter of Calvin Banks, of Griffin, Ga., was bitten on her foot by a six-foot rattler while she was topping cotton. Remedies were promptly applied, but the child died in a short time.

While chopping wood, David McGraham, of Yellowstone, Wis., was bitten on the end of his finger by a rattlesnake. In a second, with one blow of the axe, he had amputated the finger, and he never felt any effects from the bite.
