BY THE WAY.

—In our advertising columns is offered at auction a lot of furniture to be sold November 1st.

—The first grand sociable of the Merry Five will be held at Excelsior Hall, Scotch Plains, N. J., November 2nd.

—A grand minstrel entertainment will be given in Mt. Bethel Hall, Mt. Bethel, N. J., on Tuesday evening, November 1st.

—The ball match between the "Seniors" and "Juniors" of the High School, was postponed yesterday, on account of the weather.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association will take place in Cutler's Hall on Monday evening next.

—It is said that within the past few days, a large force of men have been put to work at the Pond Tool Works, many of them being foreigners.

—Cries of "murder" were heard on South Second street about nine o'clock on Monday evening. Men searched about the place from whence the cries originated, but could find no one.

—The Mission which for the past ten days has been in progress in Grace church, closed on Monday evening. The success of the meetings is very gratifying to those who conducted them, and great benefit has resulted.

—Barnum's combined shows will arrive in town early to-morrow morning, and pitch their tents on the circus lot, adjoining the Oil Cloth Factory. The school children are in ecstasy over the advent of Barnum in Plainfield.

—Mr. Richard Day the North avenue liveryman says he is annoyed by persons inquiring of him the cause of his wishing to dispose of his business. Mr. Day says he has no such intention, whatever, and requests that we announce the fact.

—There was a large number of persons from this city present at the 15th Regt. Reunion, held at Somerville yesterday. Most of the trains over the Central Railroad to and from Somerville were obliged to carry additional cars, in order to accommodate the rush.

—Mr. Howard Mac Sherry, who is counsel for the two young men, Burke and Runyon, charged with robbing the Dunellen post office, has been busy for several days past in looking up evidence for the defence. The case will come up for trial at Jersey City, to-morrow.

—A brakeman named John Hare, employed on a shifting engine at Bergen Point, was run over by the cars at that place late on Tuesday night, and had his right leg taken off above the knee. The injured man was taken to Elizabeth and placed in a hospital. He has a wife and three children residing at Elizabethport.

—The sixty-fourth annual meeting of the Presbyterian Synod, representing all the Presbyterian churches in the State, which has been in progress in Educational Hall, Asbury Park, during the past three days, closed yesterday. Revs. Dr. Ketcham, W. R. Richards and W. E. Honeyman, represented the Presbyterian churches in this city.

—If the statement made by a detective who was doing detective service in this city a few weeks ago, is to be believed, there is plenty of room for some excellent detective work in Plainfield. He is reported to have said, before leaving the city, that during his engagement here he succeeded in obtaining liquor on Sunday in almost every licensed place in town.

—Tax Collector Johnson informs us that already about $4,000 of the total tax levy of $95,000 has been paid in on this year's taxes. Most of the tax bills sent out thus far are to property owners residing outside the city, and in almost all instances, payments have been promptly made. Last year but $3,500 in all was collected during the entire month of October.

BY THE PRESS SPECIAL SERVICE.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Robert L. Livingston Re-Nominated For Senator.

[Special Dispatch to Daily Press.]

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 20, 4 p. m.—The Union County Democratic Convention was called to order in Library Hall at two p. m. Dr. James S. Green was made Chairman. Senator Robert L. Livingston was re-nominated on the first ballot.

Fourth Ward Democratic Primary.

The Fourth ward Democratic primary for the election of delegates to the County and Assembly Conventions, took place in the Democratic Association rooms, last evening. The attendance was large and the proceedings harmonious. Judge Nathan Harper was elected Chairman; Vincent L. Frazee, Secretary; Elmore D. Moffett, Judge, and Thomas H. Keller and William J. Tobin, Inspectors of election. Delegates to the County Convention were then elected as follows: Daniel McCarty, Peter Flynn, Jr., E. D. Moffett, P. Casey, T. H. Keller. The following were chosen as delegates to the Assembly Convention: Vincent L. Frazee, M. Fields, S. A. Davis, Thos. Clacey, Peter Galbraith. Vincent L. Frazee was elected a member of the County Executive Committee for the year 1888. The delegates were empowered to fill any vacancies which may occur in their ranks. At the completion of the business session, addresses were made by Judge Harper and James E. Martine, after which the meeting adjourned.

Sons of Temperance Banquet.

At eleven o'clock last evening, covers were spread for about fifty guests of Plainfield Division S. of T., at Vincent's restaurant, North avenue. The occasion was the celebration of the new Temperance organization just instituted in the rooms of the Republican Association, kindly offered by the Hon. Joseph W. Coward, of Front street. The Grand Worthy Patriarch of the State, with his retinue of grand officers, occupied the head of the table, with visitors from Westfield and Elizabeth, headed by Mr. Frank Miller, ranged to his right. The efficient master of ceremonies, Mr. N. W. Pike, with his assistants, chaperoned the honored guests and introduced the speakers in approved style. The new Division, No. 223, thus celebrated their first and successful gathering with but one drawback—the refusal of one Osmond, janitor of the hall of the Knights of Pythias, to honor an order of the Trustees to open their room for the use of the new Division.

Burglary During the Family's Absence.

On Monday night the dwelling house of Mr. A. Trask, on Dudley avenue, Westfield, was broken into by burglars. An entrance was effected by using a jimmy and breaking the catch on the kitchen window. Mr. Trask and family are absent in New York State, and his workman, Fred Baldwin, has charge of the premises. He left the place on Monday at about six o'clock p. m., and returned on Tuesday morning, when he discovered that the house had been broken into. The thief or thieves had ransacked every room in the house, taking out the bureau drawers and throwing their contents over the floor. The beds were also turned over. Mr. Baldwin could not say whether anything of value had been taken. He telegraphed to Mr. Trask of the robbery.

Half-Holiday, To-Morrow.

The scholars of the public schools, to-morrow, will be permitted to take a half-holiday upon presentation of a note from their parents to that effect. So the young folks can all go to Barnum's, and yet be marked present and perfect at school. But how about the poor teachers?

In this office the same plan will be followed. THE PRESS will be issued about noon, and our employees can enjoy themselves in the tents of the wicked clowns and the wild beasts of the cage.

—The delegates from Fanwood to the Democratic County Convention are Messrs. Thos. J. Nicholl and Wm. N. Pangborn.

—No. 2 Engine was taken to a new driven well on East Front street, near Berokman, this afternoon, to try the capacity of the well.

—The Central Railroad Company have begun burning soft coal in their locomotives, on account of the scarcity of hard coal. The first engine to burn soft coal was No. 191. Cornelius Middleworth has been employed to instruct the firemen how to use the new fuel.

—One of our oldest resident milkmen started out the other morning to serve his customers. The first came to the wagon for his daily supply, but got nothing but a good laugh over the milkman's astonishment upon opening his cans and finding them empty. He had forgotten to take his milk aboard before starting.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Messrs. Edward Nelson and Clarence Teal will return from a fishing expedition to Lake Hopatcong this evening with—

Mr. A. J. Winckler and family of North Plainfield, returned on Tuesday from an extended trip through the Western States.

Mr. Jacob Van Deventer of Netherwood severely sprained one of his ankles, while running to catch a train at the Netherwood station on Monday morning.

B. Fosgate, the architect of North avenue, is preparing plans for two handsome and expensive dwelling houses for Mr. James Ferguson, to be erected at Cranford, N. J.

A young son of Mr. John Schroope, of North Plainfield, died this morning from an attack of diphtheria. The little one was in the fifth year of his age. Funeral services from the house to-morrow afternoon.

Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis and daughter returned from Spring Lake yesterday afternoon on the 2:16 p. m. train. His daughter, Miss Mary, was able to walk from the cars to a carriage with the assistance of her father.

Victor Lorton, a young son of Mr. E. V. Lorton, of W. Fifth street, was painfully injured on Monday. He was playing about the yard when he accidentally ran the prong of a rake through the palm of his hand. A physician dressed the wound and made the little fellow as comfortable as possible under the circumstances.

Mr. J. H. Taber, Superintendent of the Plainfield Electric Light Company, is suffering from the result of an accident that happened at the Plant last evening. While personally directing the moving of some heavy machinery it fell upon his foot, and so seriously crushed that useful member that the unfortunate Superintendent may be laid up for a few weeks.

Little Carrie Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Green, entertained a few of her friends and playmates at the residence of her parents, W. Fourth street, last evening, from six to eight o'clock, the occasion being a birthday party given in honor of the fifth anniversary of the birth of her cousin, Master Edwin Stillman, of Westfield, N. J., who with his mother is at present visiting in this city. The little folks enjoyed themselves greatly, and some of the older members in the gathering enjoyed the occasion by rendering several popular vocal selections, including "Miss Brady's Piano Forte."

Opening the Gates of Wonderland.

F. T. Barnum & Company will this year present the perfected show of the age—one that is up to and abreast of the times in which we live—with no old-time features about it except its title—Barnum and London Shows. The circus this year is larger, better, richer and grander than ever before in its history, with its three separate rings, occupied by 300 expert performers; its Roman hippodrome and numberless daring and perilous races; its elevated stage performances, upon all of which over 100 thrilling acts are given; its museum of living wonders and curiosities, elephant pavilion with a herd of these big beasts, double menageries, droves of camels, 500 horses, huge tents—the biggest seating 20,000 persons—80 railroad cars, 800 people on the pay-roll, the wonderful hairy family from Burmah, King Theebaw's sacred mascots, Captain Paul Boyton in his marvellous aquatic performances in a specially constructed lake of crystal water; the flying gymnasia, wherein Senor Myers performs daring feats on the trapeze while traveling at the rate of 30 miles an hour; reproduction of the colossal Jumbo, the big ivory-boned elephant-skeleton; Alice Jumbo's widow; dwarfs, midgets, and thousands of other curious objects and features. Is it any wonder everybody goes to see it?

Fifteenth Regiment Re-Union.

Yesterday was the greatest day Somerville has experienced in many years. The occasion was the re-union of the 15th Regiment, and the event will be a memorable one in the history of the place. Visitors from the surrounding country flocked into town to witness the exercises, and most of them remained to witness the pyrotechnics! display in the evening. Winfield Scott Post of this city attended in a body, and the members' report having had a grand time. The parade in the morning was followed by a business session in the afternoon. Among the notable persons present were Gov. Robert S. Green, Congressman William Walter Phelps, Congressman James Nelson Piddcock, Senator John Roderick McPherson, Gen. Wm. J. Sewell, Gen. Rustling, Capt. Lewis Van Blarcom, Col. David Sandercock, Col. Thomas, Col. E. W. Davis, Assemblymen Geo. E. Pace.

—The regular weekly meeting of the Reform Club will take place this evening.

—Wm. Wilson, a prisoner in the Somerville Jail, who has served 308 days in jail for threatening to shoot a man, was on Monday released, having served out his sentence. A heavy fine was also attached to the sentence, but this was remitted.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

The Arc Lamps to be Done Away With—285 Incandescent Lamps Will Light the City During the Coming Year, At a Saving of $822.

President Marsh called the Council to order in special session at 8:10 last evening, and when the Clerk called the roll the following Councilmen responded to their names: Messrs. Bowers, Carey, Cox, Dunham, Simpson, Waring and Wilbur. Mr. Dumont came in later. Messrs. Taylor and Voorhees were absent. The Clerk read the call which was for the purpose of taking action on the proposition of the Electric Light Company to light the city with incandescent lamps.

Mr. Bowers, from the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee, to whom was referred the proposition at a previous meeting, returned the paper, with the request that the Clerk read it. The paper provided that not less than 300 lamps, 25-candle power, be used in lighting the city, said lamps to burn every night in the year from sunset to sunrise, at the rate of $14.60 per lamp per annum. The district to be lighted is about the same as that lighted by the present system. For each additional lamp within the specified district the rate per lamp to be the same; all lamps located outside the district and within 1,000 feet of the circuit to be lighted at the rate of $17.30 per lamp per annum. The Company agree to enter into a bond for the completion of the work within sixty days after signing the contract. Mr. Bowers reported that the Committee had met and conferred on the matter. He offered a resolution in effect that the Council accept the proposition and draw up a contract based on the one now in force. Mr. Cox moved to accept the report but before it was put to a vote, Mr. Bowers spoke at length on the cost, etc. He said among other things that the city now pays $5,046 per year for the use of 50 arc lamps, 12 gas lamps, 6 incandescent and 25 gasoline lamps; besides an additional cost for 18 bridge lamps. The total cost per annum for 300 incandescent lamps would amount to $4,330. Another point he illustrated was the increase in the number of hours the lamps were to burn. The total saving to the city, he said by adopting the incandescent system, would be about $822. Mr. Alex. P. Wright, the Company's representative, then described the style of iron posts to be used, where it becomes necessary to erect additional ones.

Council then took a recess, and for a long time the members conferred with each other. Upon re-assembling at 9:30 p. m., Mr. Bowers asked permission to withdraw the resolution above alluded to. The request was granted and in its stead he submitted the following:

Resolved, That the Common Council on behalf of the City of Plainfield, accept the proposition of the Plainfield Electric Light Company for lighting the streets of Plainfield with the system of incandescent lighting as offered by them for 285 lamps as located on the map, with privilege to add more from time to time, provided that said contract contain a proper stipulation that upon failure of the Company to light or maintain one-half of the lights for a period of ten days at any time, then the Council may be at liberty to rescind the contract and sue at once upon the bond for damage; that for every failure to light and maintain any lamp any night between dark and midnight, the Company shall forfeit double the price for that lamp for that night, to be deducted from any bill paid the Company for lighting; further, that it shall be expressly stipulated that they shall maintain the 25-candle light power all through the night, or that lamps shall be considered as not lighted for that night and liable to the forfeiture; that the Company expressly stipulate that they only claim the extension of the right to use the poles and maintain wires for domestic lighting during the existence of this contract or any renewal thereof, and that the Corporation Council be directed to draw up a contract accordingly, embodying the provision of the old contract as to the erection of lamps and right of Council to locate the same and locating of poles and stringing of wires and to draw the bond called for, and to submit said contract and bond to the Law and Ordinance Committee, and when approved by them to be signed by the proper parties.

The Company, through its manager, Mr. W. H. Moore, agreed to accept the following additional clause: "That the contract be drawn for one year with privilege of two years more upon same terms."

Mr. Bowers moved the adoption of the resolution, and the vote was recorded as all ayes.

Game Protection.

An interesting meeting of the Board of Directors of the New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society was held at the Secretary's office, this city, last evening, President Wm. H. Brower presiding. Encouraging reports were received regarding game protection and the prospects for game this Fall. The names of several members were proposed and acted upon. Arrangements were made whereby certain localities will be guarded against illegal shooters between now and Nov. 1st, the commencement of the "open season."

—The sale of tickets for "Bunch of Keys" will begin to-morrow morning.

Hymeneal.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Sixteen years of married life were commemorated, Monday evening, Oct. 17th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Smith, 153 Central avenue, this city. Sixteen years—how long in anticipation, how short in realization, what a scope for changing scenes, fluctuating emotions, blending the colors of virtue with the tints of love; which completes in the whole a picture to charm the most æsthetic taste. A large and pleasant company of friends assembled at the happy 16th year anniversary of the esteemed bride and groom, to view the picture of a pleasant married life. Were the fortunate couple to have asked the advice of "Puck," sixteen years ago, he would probably have advised them as he did all contemplating matrimony, in the significant word "don't." But love is blind they say, and Puck's advice would have been scorned, and, the awful but beautiful, dreamful yet holy, step would have been taken, and the Goddess of Fortune would have been invoked to verify the wisdom of the choice. Kindly indeed has the Goddess been true to her trust, and Cupid's dart found its permanent resting place during the sixteen years intervening from the time the nuptial vows were pledged until the event was refreshed in memories which oft grow dim through the cares of life, by the anniversary occasion. A pleasant home, sweet children, smiling faces—bespeaking a successful journey so far in life—greeted the many guests as they assembled, to wish the conventional and sincere "much joy." Many beautiful tokens of remembrance and esteem were given as souvenirs of the occasion. Finemusic was furnished and the guests spent a right glorious evening in tripping the light fantastic. The refreshments were of an excellent order, and were justly appreciated by the trained tastes of the (for the time being) disciples of epicurus. The gaieties of the evening were continued until the wee sma' hours, when the guests departed, leaving behind them kind wishes for a long continuance of this pleasant married state through many anniversaries, and carrying with them the recollections of a joyful anniversary which puts a premium on that holy bond of matrimony. Words are feeble to express the deep sentiments wrought into the lesson of the occasion. God's kindness has indeed been shown, and the seeds of faithful devotion scattered sixteen years ago, were fitly reaped in the harvest festival of Oct., '87. Even the muse of the poetess lent its mystic touch to the occasion, in flowing verse which blends the practical with the perspective of imagination, and with which we bring this tribute of our pen to a close by its apt quotation.

To my friends I and Seymour on the Sixteenth anniversary of their marriage.
You'd scarce expect a gray-haired maiden,
For an eve like this to write a lay;
For what can she know of this mystical beauty,
Of such a theme what can she say?

Standing outside the fairy temple,
Where Hymen his beautiful altar hath reared,
What can she know of the glorious vision,
That hath never to her in its beauty appeared.
The red of the rose, and the white of the lily,
Are the same to the blind who their hues can't see,
To the deaf ear, the music of birds in the Spring,
Hath no sweeter sound than the moan of the sea.

And so I am puzzled to know what is fitting,
And what I should say at this festive time,
To choose just the words that will seem best fitting,
And make sense and reason agree in my rhyme.

But you'll not doubt my truth through this lack of expression,
And with all the kind greetings this eve brings
Receive my best wishes that ever the future
May be laden in its joys and its blessings to you.
How well we remember that day in October,
When with solemn vows pledged as bridegroom
You started to walk on life's journey together,
A maidenly trust, and young manhood's pride.

And now looking backward, how short seems
That journey, that journey, that journey,
You scarce can believe you're so far on life's way,
For each day is so filled with its cares and its joys,
That swiftly the months and the years glide away.
But with all the changes that time ever brings,
It comes richly laden with blessings to thee;
The halo of youth round your pathway yet lingers,
And the rainbow of Hope still unclouded you see.

May the children that now are your joy and your blessing,
To a true, noble manhood grow up by your side,
And your heartstone be never by sorrow or cloud,
And you in Peace's sunshine forever abide.

Dear friends, may the years that shall bring
Yet crown you again with the purest of gold,
And the friends that now hold you in tender remembrance
There meet to rejoice once again as of old.
BROOKLYN, Oct. 1887.
AUNT CARRIE.

WEDDING BELLS.

MCNABB—LANE.

Miss Anna H. Lane and James McNabb of Bound Brook were married by the Rev. H. B. Macauley at seven o'clock last night, at the residence of Mr. Chas. McNabb, on Union avenue, at that place. The folding doors of the parlor were pushed apart, thus disclosing a beautiful arch, which was artistically decorated. When the hour arrived the bride and groom came in and stood under the centre of the arch while the ceremony was being performed. The bride was attired in a traveling dress, which was a becoming steel colored silk, handsomely trimmed. The groom wore a black Prince Albert suit. After the congratulations were tendered, a reception was given the friends and relatives of the happy couple by Mrs. Henrietta Lane, mother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. McNabb left town at 8:30 p. m., for Washington, D. C., amid showers of rice and the hurrying of the symbolic old shoe. They will travel for the present and have not selected a permanent future home. The presents were numerous and costly. Mr. McNabb has been engaged for a long time in the capacity of clerical work at the New York office of the Central Railroad. He owns a beautiful residence on Mountain avenue now occupied by Rev. W. W. Jordan. Among the guests were the following: Mother and brothers of the groom, Mr. Robert W. McBride, of Illinois; Mr. Charles McBride, editor of the Elizabeth Journal, Miss McDonald, of Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. James Lane, Miss Anna Kershaw, Mr. Jacob Kershaw and Miss J. Thompson, of Redington; Mr. and Mrs. John Whitenack, Misses Sarah and Phoebe Lane, Miss Lizzie Whitenack, Mr. George Van Arsdale and Mrs. Gertrude Lane of Somerville; Miss Mary Doty, of Pluckamin; Mr. and Mrs. Ciekner, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Reynold, Mr. and Mrs. Hickman, Miss Mary Hickman, Mr. Gains Hoffman, Miss Mary McNabb, Mr. and Mrs. Doctor Compton, Miss Lizzie F. Coddington, Mr. W. A. Coddington, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Coriell, Miss Anna McBride, Miss Carrie Blackwell, Mrs. Isaac Brokaw and Miss Alice Rockafeller of Bound Brook.

WESTFIELD.

William A. Brown, who received the contract for grading the grounds in front of Fairview Cemetery, commenced operation today. He is to have the work finished by Jan. 1st, 1888.

The Prohibitionists will hold a rally at Locust Grove School house this (Thursday) evening. It will be addressed by Messrs. S. W. Ransom, E. L. Masett and F. P. Kelly, Esq., candidate for Assembly in the Third district.

At the Republican primary held on Wednesday, the following gentlemen were elected delegates to the county convention: Messrs. Charles A. McQuoid, C. M. Smith, C. A. Smith, Anson F. Grant and James T. Pierson.

On Monday evening the Central Railroad freight depot was broken open by pulling out the staple which held the lock on the front door. The miscreant evidently was dry, as he rolled a barrel of vinegar out of the back door and off the platform onto the ground. The barrel burst in its fall, and the vinegar and burglar both escaped.

"A Bunch of Keys."

The first and funniest of the farcically athletic pieces that are now making the public laugh, "A Bunch of Keys," will be presented at Music Hall, next Tuesday evening. The agile young ladies and gentlemen at present concerned in its representation are Misses Marietta Nash, Ada Bothner, Ada Boshell, Marie Uart, and Messrs. Jas. B. Mackie, George Lauri, Alex. Bell, Tim Murphy and William Smith. They enter into the spirit of the piece, and their performance is notable for vim, energy and fun. Miss Nash is an accomplished dancer, and her gymnastic feats in long-trained dress produce hilarious applause. Mr. Mackie excels also in the gymnastic line, while Mr. Lauri sustains the principal speaking character with unflinching humor.

The Thieving Washerwoman Indicted.
Mrs. Henry M. Staats was indicted by the Grand Jury and taken to Elizabeth yesterday, for receiving and stealing $450 from Frank Nevius, coachman of Mr. G. W. Tice, of Westfield. THE PRESS gave an account of the affair at the time. Nevius took his clothes to Mrs. Staats' to be washed, leaving $450 in a pocket of his overshirt. When questioned about it, Mrs. Staats denied seeing anything of it, but through the exertions of Officer Marsh, of Westfield, $411.86 of the stolen money was recovered for Mr. Nevius.

Republican Mass Meeting.

The Republicans of Union county will hold a mass and ratification meeting in Library Hall, Elizabeth, to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, upon the adjournment of the Republican County Convention. Addresses will be made by Hon. William Walter Phelps and by the Republican candidates for county offices.

HEAVY RAIN IN ATLANTA.

THE FIRST STORM OF THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR.

Mr. Cleveland and Party Witness the Sham Battle—The Enthusiasm of the People Not Dampened by the Rain.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—The Gate City has really testified her appreciation of the privilege of entertaining the President and Mrs. Cleveland. The enthusiastic manifestation of the populace has carried conviction of the sincerity of their welcome. The president and his wife have expressed themselves as more than pleased with their brief sojourn in the midst of our people.

Heavy rains, inadequate accommodations and muddy streets failed to interfere with the display of enthusiasm.

A visit to the exposition grounds was arranged for yesterday morning. When the party arrived at the exposition park, escorted by the Governor's horse guards, fully 75,000 people had preceded them, and when the carriage rolled on to the race every one of that immense concourse was suddenly impressed with a desire to swell the volume of the cheering.

The military which had volunteered their services in the sham battle was drawn up in review, and as the president passed along the line he acknowledged the salutes of the various commandants by repeatedly raising his tie.

The carriage was driven around the ellipse while the military was manœuvring on the field and the army men were preparing for action. A shot from the cannon on Club House hill announced the inauguration of hostilities. General Spring promptly dispatched couriers to the heads of the opposing forces, and the action was begun with the usual preliminary skirmishing. The presidential party were interested witnesses of the struggle from a commanding position in front of the stand. Bombardment shot into the air, exploding with a deafening crash, amid the thunder of artillery, marked by a detachment of regulars, was suggestive of the terrors of war.

The rattle of musketry and the charges of the cavalry were strikingly realistic. When the engagement had reached its most interesting stage the excited crowd had so transgressed upon the contested field that a continuation of the firing was extremely hazardous, and the struggle was brought to a somewhat unsatisfactory conclusion.

The presidential party retired at an early hour, as their schedule of engagements would not admit of their witnessing the fight to the end. President Cleveland lunched at half past two o'clock with Mr. Julius L. Brown, at his residence on Washington street. The front porch of Mr. Brown's elegant home was elaborately decorated with flags, and as either side of the entrance to the porch a large date palm was placed. The president's dinner card was about twelve inches square and consisted of the coat-of-arms of the United States, made with colored feathers. It was made in Mexico.

Those present were president Grover Cleveland, Postmaster General Vilas, secretary D. S. Lamont, Judge J. P. Bissell, senator Joe E. Brown, senator A. H. Colquitt, governor John B. Gordon, Evan P. Howell, Robert J. Lowry, J. C. Marcy, Patrick Walsh, Henry W. Grady, Robert Falligan, Jos. M. Brown, Julius L. Brown, Mrs. Julius Brown and Miss Martha Brown.

While the president was being fêted by the ex-governor Mrs. Cleveland was being entertained at the residence of Mrs. Henry W. Grady, where a most exclusive coterie of ladies was invited. Mrs. Cleveland wore a pale olive plaid dress, trimmed with cream and lace, cut modestly décolleté back and front. The court train fell straight from the waist down, and was girded by a large silver cord. Her hair was done in the French twist, which met and was lost in the fluffy bangs which crowned her face.

The freshness of Mrs. Cleveland's beauty was never more happily revealed than in this becoming attire.

The crowning scenes of excitement, however, were reserved for last night, and despite the heavy rain which showered the people, their enthusiasm was not dampened.

The president and Mrs. Cleveland were escorted at half-past eight o'clock to a gallily illuminated stand, where they stood for two hours and reviewed fifteen thousand and young democrats in torchlight procession. The couple then returned to the hotel. Crowds, however, lingered about and kept up the cheering continuously, while cannon boomed at regular intervals until the hour of the president's departure had arrived.

The presidential train started for Montgomery at twelve o'clock, followed by the shouts of fully one hundred thousand people and salvoes of artillery.

LIBERTY OR DEATH.

Either Acquit Me or Bring in a Sentence of Death.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 20.—Macy Warner, who is on trial here for murder, said when the judge charged the jury:—

"YOUR HONOR AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY:—

"When I was fifteen years of age I was sent to the house of refuge. From there I escaped and returned to Indianapolis, where a policeman attempted to arrest me and I shot him. For this I served five years at Michigan City. When released I was employed by a commission house in Indianapolis and was sent to Vincennes to assist in shipping poultry. While there a saloon keeper put me out of his house, followed me into the street and struck me. I shot him dead and was sent to prison for twenty-one years. Frank Harris insulted me and I cut his throat with a shoe knife. I do not want to go to prison for life and desire you to either acquit me or bring in a sentence of death."

The Oldest Eloping Couple on Record.

WILKESBARRE, Oct. 20.—George Flaherty, aged 63, and Mrs. Elizabeth Slater, aged 55, of Tunkhannock, eloped on Tuesday and have been arrested here. Mrs. Slater is the wife of a well-to-do farmer, when she eloped she took $300 of her husband's money. The conductor says the woman paid the fare and the old couple were quite loving on the train. They are believed to be the oldest elopers on record. Mrs. Slater said she was Flaherty's sweetheart forty years ago, and never surrendered her love to any other man, although her parents compelled her to wed Slater.

Secretary Bayard Apologizes.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—A despatch from Secretary Bayard to the imperial government has been received here in which Mr. Bayard expresses regret that the orders for the release of the three Canadian sealers seized in Behring's sea were not obeyed by the officers in Sitka, and says that fresh orders for their release have been given.

NO HOPE FOR THE ANARCHISTS

Preparations Being Made for the Execution—Not and Bloodshed Expected.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The sober judgment of nearly every person in Chicago whose opinion is worth anything is that the seven anarchists in the county jail will be hanged November 10, according to their sentence. Some few think that the supreme court may grant a stay of execution pending argument, but it would be hard to find one whose expectation goes further than that. There is nothing for the supreme court to interfere about in the case. The best lawyers in Chicago have said so. No one but a few enthusiastic friends of the condemned men dispute it. There is grim evidence that the execution is certainly expected in the quiet preparations going on in the jail.

State Attorney Grinnell showed yesterday what he thought about the result of the appeal. A thief had pleaded guilty of petit larceny and Judge Baker was about to sentence him to the county jail for thirty days. Mr. Grinnell interposed; "In view of what is to take place in the jail Nov. 11," he said, "I prefer that this man's sentence should expire before that time, because it is desirable that as few prisoners as possible should be in the jail when such a tremendous event takes place." Judge Baker acceded and made the sentence fifteen days. Soon after another criminal was to be sentenced, and Mr. Grinnell said:

"Your honor, I am opposed to jail sentences at the present time. If it is necessary that any prisoners should be confined, they should be kept in station-houses until after the execution takes place, Nov. 11."

It is understood that as many prisoners as possible will be taken from the jail between now and the time of the execution. It shows that Mr. Grinnell is very confident that the sentence will be carried out, and the authorities are not oversteering the precautions they have taken will protect the jail from assault on that day. There have been a good many executions in the Cook county jail, but it has never been thought necessary before to keep prisoners away from it at the time.

Even the anarchists themselves have no real hope that the execution of their seven friends can be prevented or delayed. George M. Sloan, the anarchist leader, whom Mayor Roche refused permission to speak on the execution a few days ago, said that he had given up all hope, and fully expected that the hanging would take place. "The execution will be followed by riot and bloodshed," he said, "but it will surely take place. The supreme court is so completely under the dominion of the capitalists that the judges will not dare to interfere."

OUTLAWS IN INDIAN TERRITORY.

They Take Possession of a Store and Feed Their Horses on the Counter.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—The latest advice from the Indian territory are that a terrible state of lawlessness is prevailing in the Cherokee nation. A few days ago Bu Trainor, John Leech, Joe Miller and Bill Chuel, took possession of Mr. Duckworth's store, twenty-two miles from Tahquah, and held it for three days, selling goods to those who would buy, feeding their horses in the store on the counter, and running things their own way. Tiring of this they took what goods they wanted and set the store on fire, burning it down at a late hour in the night. They then fired into a residence adjacent to the store, and as the women and children fled from the house shot at them, after which they fired the dwelling and burned it, together with the stable and corn-crib. Bud Trainor is said to be implicated in the murder of deputy United States marshal Daniel Maples at Tahquah, and the government of the United States offers $500 reward for his arrest and conviction. His father was killed at Tahquah a few weeks ago by the high sheriff of the Cherokee nation. The father of John Leech was hanged here in 1875 for murdering a man and burning his remains. This Trainor gang has been creating much excitement in the Cherokee nation for some time past.

Chicago's Statue of Lincoln.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The statue of Abraham Lincoln, which is to ornament the southern entrance to Lincoln park, was placed in its permanent position yesterday morning. Very few persons were aware of the arrival of the magnificent work of art, so its elevation to the pedestal was carried out in the presence of the park policemen and the few people who happened to be in the park at the time. The statue is the gift of the late Eli Bates, who in his will bequeathed $40,000 for this purpose. Augustus St. Gauden is the sculptor, and he has produced an effigy of the martyred president which is pronounced superior to any yet created. The statue will be unveiled and formally presented to the people on Saturday afternoon.

Epidemic of Typhoid Fever.

ISHERPINE, Mich., Oct. 20.—A terrible epidemic of typhoid fever is raging in Iron Mountain village, on the Menominee river railroad, 100 miles south of here. There were 200 cases, and now cases are reported every hour. Physicians are working night and day, with help from other towns. Deaths are numerous. The authorities and physicians are at a loss to find from what cause the epidemic comes. Poor water and defective sewerage are generally supposed to be the cause. Panic prevails and many are leaving the village.

Only Seventy Indictments.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 20.—The United States grand jury have found seventy indictments in the Fidelity bank cases against ex-president E. L. Harper, and seven each against Benjamin E. Hopkins, Amm Baldwin and Miss Josie Holmes, Harper's private secretary. Joe Willsie and two other bankers are indicted. It is proposed to raise the bond of Miss Holmes from $1,000 to $50,000, and when the grand jury reports next Friday it is expected that arrests will be made.

A Capitalist Charged with Murder.

WINFIELD, Kan., Oct. 20.—E. J. Wilber, a prominent capitalist and politician, is under arrest on the charge of murder in the first degree. Some time ago a man named Vandeve was murdered. Suspicion pointed to Wilber, who was said to have been intimate with Mrs. Vandeve. The arrest was made on the strength of a confession by a negro, who says that Wilber hired him to do the killing. There is much excitement over the affair, which is very mysterious.

A Prominent Man Commits Suicide.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20.—William H. Harvey, the secretary and treasurer of the Commonwealth iron company, and a prominent man both in business and society, committed suicide yesterday. For the past two years he suffered from a peculiar brain disease which attacked him periodically and drove him nearly insane with pain. He had long used chloral as an antidote.

ALLAN'S

PINE NEEDLE CIGARS.

(PATENTED.)

Use the Pine Needle Cigars for a delicious smoke and a certain cure for HAY FEVER, CATARRH and ASTHMA, combining the full aroma of the Havana Tobacco and imparting to the taste and breath a pleasant aromatic flavor; never failing in its help to the turbulent and painful diseases, and by the introduction of the Pine Needle absorbing all nicotine and poison in the plain tobacco. Read the testimonial of the celebrated Professor Stillman as to their efficiency:

DEPARTMENT OF ANALYTICAL CHEMISTRY, STEVENS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY, Hoboken, N. J., September 7, 1897.

Messrs. ALLAN, DUNN & SMITH:

GENTLEMEN—I have examined the cigars manufactured by you and in which you include a few fine needles for the relief of Asthma and Catarrh.

These pine needles (of the Pinus Sylvestris) have for many years been used with success for the relief of Catarrh and Asthma by burning the same and inhaling the vapor. Now, however, you have succeeded in combining the pine needles in such a way with the tobacco that that which was formerly a disagreeable operation becomes a pleasant and effective one. The vapor of the pine needles retains its efficiency in the presence of the tobacco smoke and you will undoubtedly find a large sale to persons afflicted with Asthma and Catarrh.

Very truly yours,

THOS. B. STILLMAN.

W. MESSERSCHMIDT,

FOR IRELAND AND PEACE

GLADSTONE MAKES ANOTHER SPEECH FOR HOME RULE.

Mr. Gladstone's speech for Ireland—Londoner and Editor of the Times.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Mr. Gladstone made a visit to the Congregational Institute at Nottingham yesterday. Crowds lined the streets through which his carriage passed, and he was heartily cheered. He made an address at the institution, in which he said that the pains and anxieties of the present political controversy were greatly mitigated by the conviction that the work of the liberal party, though momentarily one of strife, aimed at peace. He trusted it was not profane or irreverent to say that the prince of peace would recognize and bless their efforts. They sought to unite kingdoms now estranged and to promote harmony among different classes. If the Protestant cause was the cause of reason, truth and justice, in following reason, truth and justice they would be following the Protestant cause.

Yesterday evening Mr. Gladstone, while driving through the park, was enthusiastically greeted by the throngs that lined the route. On arriving at the rink he received an ovation from an assemblage of 5,000 persons. In a speech he said he would boldly sweep away the law of error. He strongly condemned the revival of the phantasm of protection. He urged the extension of local government in the direction of decentralization, but said that these, together with the questions of liquor traffic and dis-establishment of the church in Scotland and Wales, could not be touched until a sound adjustment had been effected in regard to Ireland.

It was hopeless to attempt to deal with the arrears of legislation or to attain a better and healthier position until there had been a total reversal of the disastrous policy which was now being pursued by the government in Ireland. We do not believe," he said, "in indefinitely adjourning the discussion of the great and crying wrongs under which the country is laboring as we believe, from all the signs around us, that the great Irish controversy will in no long time be satisfactorily and triumphantly settled." [Cheers.]

He advocated the enfranchisement of the nation as the primary task essential to the work, and he condemned the vote, declaring that one man should have only one vote. This sentiment elicited cheers from the delegates.

It was sometimes thought that he should go further and bind himself and, as far as he could, his friends (who, perhaps, would decline to be so bound), in determining the precise manner in which all the principal enactments in his future bill for the government of Ireland should be framed. He was not prepared and did not so intend to bind himself, [Cheers.] He had endeavored to give clear and intelligible indications as an honest man should and he was constrained to act within their letter and spirit. He had said regarding many important subjects, the difficulties connected with which would not allow the making of any proposals, that he would not be a party to making any person's opinion impede the settlement of a great question, provided that settlement was compassed with the conditions originally laid down, and was not a fraud upon the people, and provided that Ireland accepted it. Without Ireland's acceptance, who would be fool enough to disturb the present conditions?

"Provided the settlement does nothing to impair, but rather to strengthen and consolidate the unity of the empire," continued Mr. Gladstone, "and provided no claim of the minority is neglected, I think it is a wide pledge—the strongest pledge possible—that I give in saying that in regard to the retention of Irish members at Westminster, the use of imperial credit in the purchase of Irish land, the delegation, instead of the surrender, of power to an Irish parliament (and here let me interject the assertion that no power ever was surrendered, and that there never was any proposal to delegate power), and in regard to the mode of action by which and the particular time when a system that is English and anti-national in spirit is to be changed for a system that is Irish and national in spirit—to all of these proposals the declaration I have made applied. And, rely upon it, you will find that neither I nor any infirmities of mine will upon those points stand in the way of the settlement desired by the two countries." [Cheers.]

GEN. BOULANGER.

Katoff Advised Him to Push on in the Direction of War.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Chronicle learns that the late M. Katoff and Gen. Boulanger were in close communication. The former is even said to have promised to aid Gen. Boulanger to launch himself as dictator. Katoff, who employed Gen. Bogdanovich as an intermediary, advised Boulanger to pay scant attention to the Russian and German embassies, but to push on in the direction of war.

Gen. Schweinitz, the German ambassador of St. Petersburg, managed the story goes, to intercept one of Katoff's letters and conveyed to Emperor William. The emperor complained to the czar, who became greatly incensed when he heard of the affair, and declared that he would never admit Katoff to his presence again. The disgrace hastened Katoff's death.

Editor Welsh on Trial.

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—The prosecution of Mr. Edward Welsh, the proprietor of the Wexford People for publishing articles in his paper in contravention with the coercion act, began yesterday at Wexford. Mr. Welsh attended and was loudly cheered. The counsel for the crown intimated his intention of proceeding first with the summons charging Mr. Welsh with inciting within a proclaimed district to take part in an unlawful assembly. The counsel for Mr. Welsh objected that no intimation of the portions of the paper incriminated had been given, and the case was ultimately postponed until Monday.

Mr. Persico's Mission to Ireland.

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—Mr. Persico, who came to Ireland some weeks ago on a mission from the pope, made a speech yesterday evening at a banquet given in his honor by the Catholic clergymen of the city. In the course of his remarks he said that his experience in Ireland had shown him that the Irish clergy sided with the tenants and opposed the landlords. His remarks were heartily applauded.

Selling Virginia's Order of Secession.

WORTHINGTON, Minn., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Charles Bullis, of this place, has just sold to George H. Treadwell, commander G. A. R. Albany, N. Y., the original order of Virginia's secession passed by the state of Virginia. The consideration was $1,000.

TROUBLE IN THE CABINET.

Bayard and Garland at Odds in Respect to the Seized Sealers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The Star last night says: "There is another report current of a disagreement in the cabinet that may lead to one or more resignations. The trouble, it is stated, is between Mr. Garland and Mr. Bayard, and grows out of the seal fishery question. The seizures of Canadian vessels in Alaskan waters made by the treasury department were according to the laws on the statute books. Mr. Bayard, as is known, holds that this claim to jurisdiction over Alaskan waters beyond the three-mile limit is not tenable. When the cases came before the United States courts at Sitka it became the duty of the attorney-general, through his officials, to secure the enforcement of the law as he found it, and in this to defend the action of the treasury department."

"It is stated that the briefs in the cases prepared by the department argue strongly the side of the question opposed by Mr. Bayard, and thereby place him in an awkward position in disputing the similar claim of Canada to jurisdiction beyond the three-mile limit in Canada waters. Mr. Bayard, it is stated, will lay the matter before the president on his return and will resign if he is not sustained in his position."

Mr. Bayard refused to be interviewed on the subject. A state department friend said the facts had been exaggerated. There was not the slightest danger of Mr. Bayard resigning. The president has frequently overruled the secretary of state and nearly every member of his cabinet without causing any of them to resign. Mr. Bayard would be disappointed if the president should not sustain him in the position he had taken, but under no circumstances would he resign.

The Fourteenth Regiment at Gettysburg.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Oct. 20.—The monument of the Eighty-fourth New York Infantry, better known as the Fourteenth Brooklyn, was dedicated by the survivors yesterday. It stands on Seminary Ridge, west of Reynolds' Grove, and near the railroad cut, and is one of the finest memorials ever erected on this battlefield. It is of granite, the pedestal about ten feet high, and on the summit stands the life-size figure of a soldier in the uniform of the regiment, at the command of "Handie Cartridge." The survivors, accompanied by the Fourteenth regiment, New York National Guards, arrived yesterday and marched to the Springs hotel, about two miles from town. At 2 p. m. they marched to the scene of dedication, led by the regimental band. The exercises of dedication were: Invocation, by the Rev. J. O. Peck, D. D., chaplain of the Fourteenth regiment; music; introductory remarks by the chairman of the monument committee, Gen. E. B. Fowler, colonel of the regiment in the battle; oration, by the Hon. Seth Low; music; benediction by the Rev. Mr. Peck. The veterans numbered about one hundred and the guard two hundred and fifty.

The Crew Had a Close Call.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Oct. 20.—The fishing schooner Edward H. Norton arrived from Boston last night, having on board Capt. Atwood, two men and one boy. The crew of the lobster sloop Fenwick of Plymouth, whom they picked up in an open boat, Capt. Atwood says: "We left Boston at 10 a. m. yesterday, and when two miles southeast of Harding's Ledge our vessel suddenly sprung a leak and sank in five minutes. We had just time to cut the lashings of our boat and jump in, pulling the last man out of the water. We were soon after picked up by the Norton. The Pennsylvania is of twenty tons register and formerly sailed from this port."

Diphtheria in Waterbury.

WATERBURY, Oct. 20.—The total number of cases of diphtheria reported to the health board here so far this month is 54, of which only 6 proved fatal. In nearly all the fatal cases death resulted from a lack of proper treatment at the start, and the mistake that the patients were suffering from sore throat. The health authorities have done all in their power to prevent exposure to the disease, and in many schools the attendance has been reduced one-fourth. There is apparently very little cause for alarm.

Asking Mitigation of an Abundant Sentence.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 20.—Assistant Attorney-general J. R. Halliwell has mailed a petition to Gov. Martin asking that the sentence of James W. Stewart, the Wichita drug clerk convicted of unlawfully selling liquor and sentenced to seventeen years' imprisonment and to a fine of $20,000, be reduced to six months in jail.

Sharps' Case Postponed.

ALBANY, Oct. 20.—The argument on the appeal in the case of Jacob Sharps has been postponed until Oct. 27. This was granted at the request of the counsel for the city Mr. Nicol, the counsel for Sharps, consenting to the postponement.

Sporting Brevities.

Pat Farrell has posted $100 in Pittsburgh as a forfeit for a match with Dominick McCaffrey.

Johnny Farmer has resumed training for his match with Jake Gaudaur. The event takes place on the 27th inst. Johnny ought to win the match.

The hard-headed Scotch are still searching for reasons to account for the defeat of their pet cutter, but the English have at last found but in the wadward work, the most important of all, the center-board can outlast any other kind of vessel. If they were to study our coast charts thoroughly, they would ascertain that boats of this sort are the most serviceable that can be built for trading between deep and shallow water ports, and close their clatter about their being but mere racing machines.

"Pittsburgh Phil," who is now in Baltimore in attendance on the Fenico races, is not overly loved by the bookmakers, as he seems, in a measure, to have solved measurably the difficult problem "How to beat them." He admits that his winning this season will aggregate over $100,000. He intends wintering in New Orleans, where he will combine business with pleasure, and will play the races there this winter with, he hopes, his customary luck. If his system is correct, there is more honesty in horse racing than most losers believe.

Jack Havin, is after Tommy Warren like a hawk after a June bug. He wants to fight fifteen rounds with two-ounce gloves, and posted $200 in Minneapolis to show that he means business. Tommy, who has managed to get himself disliked in the northwest, and he was recently arrested as a "vagrant." As it was evident that there was spite at the bottom of the charge Tommy was discharged by the judge before whom he was brought. Nevertheless, the fact that he has gotten into bad odor with the police will not make his stay in Minneapolis or St. Paul any too pleasant unless he can squander, however, and he is as content as the coppers that he is their best friend.

MUTES AT CHURCH.

Silent Prayers, Songless Worship and a Voiceless Assembly of Worshippers—A Pastor Who Is Actor, Gymnast, Teacher, All in One.

The very church being without spire, belfry or porch, seems to indicate its character, having all the appearance of being without ears, and bearing that introspective, concentrated, unstartled look so observable in the human temples bereft of speech and hearing—a sort of mute appeal to the talkative to leave a little spot in life for them to live in, too, writes Frank Edgar Thomas to the Williamsport (Pa.) Breakfast Table from New York City.

"The tongue of the dumb shall sing," "The ears of the deaf shall be opened," are among the promising assurances which the walls of the quaint little house offer to the groups in "still life" who cluster amongst the pews during the twenty minutes or so preceding service, engaged in voiceless converse on fingers which move no less deftly to the inspiration of friendship, news, gossip—scandal, perhaps—than do the tongues of their more favored brethren and sisters.

A surprising but altogether reasonable feature of this unique sociable is, that conversation is carried on not only between those close together, but those separated by half the width of the church, and by all at the same time. It is almost comical to see an old lady three seats to your right glibly conversing with an old gentleman three seats to your left and four ahead, or a young pink-cheeked damsel "way off" making known her thoughts to a downy moustache by your side. Voices do not have to be raised for distance, you see, and no one disturbs any one else, so all move together like the leaves on a tree set in motion by a gentle breeze.

The service is the Episcopalian form. The entrance of two ministers in white robes is the signal for no less noise, but a cessation of all motion, and without any ado one opens the weird service. He is himself not a mute, first taking hold of the work in the interest of an afflicted sister and now prosecuting it for the good of the cause at large.

For the enlightenment of a stranger in the church whose presence has been made known to him, he indicates along the various portions of the service, of which, little aside, the remainder of the congregation is in entire ignorance, of course. Otherwise the stillness is unbroken, save by the swish of his gown sleeves, the accidental click of his cuff-studs or the occasional slap of the palms together, denoting punctuation.

A wave of his hand across his breast is a signal for all to kneel in prayer, but instead of bowing the head, covering the face, or reading from the book, every eye in the house is fixed upon the man of God, who is rapidly but reverently gesticulating, with eyes now and again raised toward Heaven and an atmosphere of the most fervid devotion about his voiceless leadership.

He uses both hands all the time, making all sorts of passes over chest, face and head, the fingers themselves all the time moving with the rapidity of a skillful performer on the piano, or a professor of ledgerdom.

Responses are given by the assistant, who, of course, occupies a position where he can be "seen and not heard" by his partner as well as the people; though, indeed, should it happen that one commences a little too early or ends a little too late, no confusion would be the result, save, perhaps, to the listeners above, where it is to be hoped all ears are opened.

One frequently hears the remark: "Oh anybody can do that with practice enough." Still there does seem to be a special fitness in some people for certain things, observable here in these two men's renderings of their soundless eloquence, each fully expert, accustomed, trained, one all grace, impressiveness, magnetism, the other simply accurate.

Some portions of the service occupy twice, some half as long time in repetition as conversation would, some about the same. A variation occurs in the repetition of the Creed in unison, in which case the effort to "keep together" is quite manifest. With due or two exceptions the "manual" seems to be similar with all.

But imagine a church service without song! Not a tone, not a note of music; not a line of hymn, not a strain of song! The pretty little organ standing open in the side of the room seems to bear a sort of pitying aspect as it looks out tenderly on those who have "ears to hear can not hear" the most beautiful sounds in the world.

The tables are turned, however, when the door slams, the window creaks, the dogs light under the basement, the old lady's cough "takes on." There is no starting, jumping, twisting, turning or looking round to see who is coming in, or help the janitor to put up the window.

I take notice, too, that the human heart under all conditions is unanimous on the subject of money. The plates are passed with the same regularity, emptied with the same care, and thanks, therefore, returned with the same unctious here as elsewhere.

The prayers show a trace more of the mechanical than the reading of the Scriptures, which is tinged with deep religiousness, but all are work compared with the sermon, which is a discourse on transfiguration.

Here the whole man is transformed into an artist, a finished worker in expression, a preacher, who is at the same time a gymnast in the supple obedience of fingers, arms, head and trunk to the will, a painter of the pictures he draws before the minds and eyes of his audience, and an actor in the subservience into which every muscle, nerve, chord and tissue are brought to the service of the mind in its effort to reach other minds having one of the most important channels of communication closed.

The eye, the great mind window is fairly lit, nor does it scarcely ever rest as if in recognition upon any one person before him. Thought seems centered upon pictures made within. In drawing these upon his own body, their form is reflected upon the breathless company, who hang upon every motion with bated breath, scarcely suffering an eye to wink while following that which eye alone can catch.

The pantomimic benediction falls like peace after a battle, calm after a storm, silence after sound, and individual emotions resume their sway over the fingers of the congregation who disperse as they came, painfully still, busily quiet, voicelessly talkative, till the last God-speed is motioned, and "the door was shut."
