A STARTLING REPORT

Sensational Disclosures Are Made in New Orleans.

THE GRAND JURY STILL PROBING
A Discovery that Detective O'Malley Was a Record Tamperer.

The Batch of indictments to be handed in by Saturday—A Man of Prominence Connected With the Perjury Case.
Leader Parkerson Denies that He Wrote a Letter for Publication.

New Orleans, March 26.—The Grand Jury by Saturday will bring in a batch of indictments, handing in its findings all together. Among them will be one against a man of more prominence than any yet mentioned in connection with the perjury case.

It will bring in a special report giving a full history of the Hennessy case and the attempt to prevent a fair trial and an honest verdict. It will pay its respects to a number of people, against whom there is not enough direct evidence to justify indictments.

After that the prison affair will be taken up, and it will depend upon whether any parties are positively identified as breaking into the prison whether there will be any indictments found or not. It is more than likely that the course already outlined will be pursued, and that the Grand Jury will announce that it cannot indict the people.

Some sensational disclosures are made in connection with the Grand Jury investigation. It is learned that the defense in the Hennessy case made an effort to doctor the records of the electric light company, in order to show that the light at the corner of Grand and Basin streets burning dimly when the assassin occurred. The defense laid particular stress on the light.

An employee of the company who kept the records says unknown persons tampered with them and changed them to show that the lights were poor between certain hours. This employee and two others were summoned by the defense, but were not put upon the stand. A subpoena duces tecum was issued for the records, but for some reason unknown the books were not offered.

The report of the grand jury promises to be startling, as Detective O'Malley is said to have participated in having the records altered.

PARKERSON DENIES IT.
The Mob Leader Negates a Letter Published in New York.

New Orleans, March 26.—The morning dispatches state that a New York newspaper contained a letter purporting to come from Mr. Parkerson, leader in the recent massacre, in which, among other things, Mr. Parkerson is made to say that the people have nothing to apologize for and will repeat what they have done, if the occasion ever arises.

Mr. Parkerson was shown the letter, and he pronounced it a positive forgery.
It is full of bragadoocio, he said, and he would have to have been either drunk or crazy to have penned such a note. He has never written a line to any paper concerning the tragedy and has not accepted an offer to write an article on the lynching and will repeat what they have done, if
the occasion ever arises.

Wanted His Millions and Poor Now.
New York, March 26.—Alcega Vadoro, a Greek, 25 years old, told a weird story at the Grand Jury yesterday. He says he inherited $2,125,000 in 1893 upon the death of his mother. His father, he said, was chief engineer of the Suez Canal. To-day Alcega has not a cent of the two millions of money he inherited, and is in America looking for work. Speculations in cotton futures and "plunging" on the stock tracks of England and France is the cause attributed by Vadoro for the complete disappearance of his fortune in six short years.

Judge Sylvester Dead.
HAGERSTOWN, Md., March 26.—Hon.
Andrew Sylvester, Associate Judge of the Circuit Court of Washington county, died here during the morning after a lingering illness. Judge Sylvester was formerly Attorney General of Maryland, and while in that office he conducted the prosecution of the notable case of Mrs. Mary E.
Wharton, tried for poisoning General Ketchum. He was also connected with other famous Maryland cases.

The Elliotts to be Arraigned This Week.
COLUMBIA, O., March 26.—Judge Duncan overruled the demurrers to the indictments in the Elliott murder case and the prisoners will be arraigned this week.

CRUELLY BEAT A PUPIL.

Professor Dumbart, Most Answer for His Acts in Court.

NEWARK, Conn., March 26.—Prof. E.
H. Dumbart, of the East Norwalk School, severely whipped Richard Hendricks, one of his pupils, and will have to answer for it in court.

The boy has been absent sick for a week, and when he appeared in school during the morning he gave the professor a note from his mother explaining his absence.
The professor said it was a forgery and ordered the boy to go to his private room.
There the professor beat him severely about the body with a ruler.

The boy was carried to his home by his classmates. The lower part of his body was beaten to a pulp with a mass of jelly, from which upon the slightest touch the blood cooled. The boy was placed in bed and medical aid summoned. He is at present in a precarious condition. The mother of the boy swore out a warrant for the arrest of the teacher. She has also complained to the Connecticut Humane Society, and the society will take action in the matter. She also intends to bring a civil suit against Professor Dumbart for damages.

The action of the professor is harshly criticized here, and a number of parents of children who attend the school have taken their children away. Professor Dumbart came to this city from Brooklyn, where, it is claimed, he lost a lucrative position in the schools on account of his treatment of the scholars.

NEARLY KILLED BY WHISKEY.

A Baltimore Citizen Falls Unconscious After Winning a Wager.

BALTIMORE, March 26.—Henry Beckheiser made a bet last night that for every stroke of the bell announcing the hour of ten he would drink a glass of whiskey. He won the bet, and he had swallowed thirteen good sized drinks of whiskey and four schooners of beer. As he swallowed the last drop he fell unconscious to the floor.

A policeman was called in who had the man taken to the City Hospital, where, after working on him some time, he became conscious. In the morning he paid a fine for being drunk and went before a magistrate and made oath that he would never drink another drop. He said he had had enough.

BIG MASS MEETING.

Ten Thousand Colored Workers to Assemble on Saturday.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., March 26.—President John B. Rice has been here for four days in close touch with the labor leaders. A general mass meeting of the strikers of the entire region will be held on Saturday and 10,000 men are expected to be present.

At a mass meeting at Trotter and Lesening's residences, were passed that any miner who would venture to return to work before the trouble was settled would be looked upon as a thief.

Will Publish a Paper in London.
New York, March 26.—The Sun Publishing Company of London, England, was incorporated in Jersey City, with a capital of $150,000. The incorporators are George E. Barrett, of Newark, N. J.; Carey Taylor, of North Bergen Township; W. J. and John F. O'Connor, of Jersey City. The object of the company is the publication of a Sunday newspaper in London and to carry on the business of general publishers. There will be three directors, Barrett, Taylor and T. F.
O'Connor, M. P., of Chelsea, England.

Social Sensation.
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 26.—A sensation was created in this city by the announcement that the young widow of the late millionaire Christopher Meyer had gone to Montana and there married Clifford Bartlett, of New York, the latter having secured a divorce from his wife in order to marry Mrs. Meyer. Bartlett is Judge Advocate General of the State of New York on Governor Hill's staff, and is a son of the late William O. Bartlett, the well known lawyer and litterateur.

Barrett to Die.
DANBURY, Conn., March 26.—John Langdon, employee of the Danbury Gas Company, was burned to death at the works last night. He accidentally upset a pail of condensation, a combustible material composed of tar and water, and the flame of a lamp which he carried ignited this. His clothing caught fire and he was so frightfully burned that he died a few hours later in terrible agony.
He was single.

Wanted for Many Robberies.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 26.—It is believed that John Mooney, arrested at Wheeling, is one of the burglars who broke into the Freeport Bank. One of the bonds stolen there was found on his person. Judge McAllester states that Mooney is wanted in almost every State in the Union. He says he is chased as a burglar, thief and safe blower away above the ocean.

THE RACE QUESTION

An Address to the Negro Voters of the North.

THEY ARE URGED TO ORGANIZE
The Anglo-Saxon May Fight His Political Battles Alone.

A Newspaper Article Severely Condemned—Mention and Langston Bury the Hatchet—Minister Fava Waiting for Instructions from Italy—Petitioning the President for a Priest.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Interstate Civil and Political Rights Association of the United States, an organization of colored men, has issued an address to the negro voters of the North, in which they say that the President has done all that he "could do to influence such action" in Congress as would result in the holding of fair elections in the South, but that some few Senators "have seen fit to vote in such a way as to retard the political chains upon our brethren in the South and negative the influence of the negro voters in the North."

Important elections, the address says,
"are to be held this autumn in Northern States where the negro vote is the balance of power, and each State in the north is urged to 'constitute himself a committee of one to see each other voter and urge upon him the importance of refusing to vote for any candidate upon any ticket which is known to be a firm friend of the negro, and the casting of a free ballot and having a fairly counted.'"

The negroes are urged to organize for offensive and defensive purposes, and allow the Anglo-Saxon to fight his political battles alone whenever he is one of these men who have said that the negroes are an inferior class of people to the Anglo-Saxon race.

MRS. DIMMICK'S POSITION.

A Groundless Publication that Has Annoyed the President and His Family.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A great deal of indignation is expressed here at the way the ladies of the President's family have had their names dragged through the gutter in connection with a recent newspaper sensation.

A story, which has been widely published, represented Mrs. Harrison as keeping a female relative of hers on the public payroll as housekeeper of the White House, and in this way a share of the money went to her. The story was said to have been told by a woman who had snubbed the lady on finding out her position.

The story is wholly untrue. The lady referred to is Mrs. Harrison's niece, Mrs. Dimmick, who has at various times been an inmate of the family. The same story was quietly started some time ago, but did not then get into print. Mrs. Dimmick and her family are naturally very much annoyed at the groundless publication, and if the authors of it can be identified it is possible that an order will be issued excluding them from the Executive mansion.

Positioned the President.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A numerous signed petition has been presented to the President by Secretary Blaine asking that the Rev. Father William Joseph Larkin, formerly a chaplain in the army and doing duty in the Indian country, be placed on the permanent retired list. Among the signers are Bishop Keane, president of the Catholic University of America; Senators Morgan, Cullop, Padcock, Mitchell, Hough, Sherman, and Keane, and a number of others.

Great Britain Will Exhibit.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The State Department has been formally notified that the Government of Great Britain accepts the invitation extended by President Harrison to take part in the World's Columbian Exposition Fair to be held at Chicago in 1893. Lord Salisbury writes the President that a royal commission would be appointed to assist in forwarding the interests of British exhibitors.

Edmunds and Proctor Will Not Resign.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—There is no truth in the rumor that Senator Edmunds will be appointed to one of the new Circuit Court judgeships. The rumors about Mr. Edmunds' probable resignation arise chiefly from the published statement that Secretary Proctor is to resign in order to be a Senatorial candidate. This Mr.
Proctor has denied.

Waiting for Instructions from Italy.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Nothing new has occurred in the negotiations concerning the New Orleans affair between Secretary Blaine and the Italian government.
The Italian Minister, M. Crispien, has not called on Mr. Blaine, but he will do so when he receives instructions from his government.

Minister Blair Will Go to China.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Secretary Blaine says that ex-Senator Blair would go to China as United States Minister.
The Secretary declined to say what instructions he had given to Blair, but he gave to Mr. Blair, but simply repeated the statement that he would go to China as United States Minister.

No News from Chill at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The State and Navy Departments are still ignorant of the status of affairs in Chile. It is believed at the departments that the telegraph and cable lines are cut, or else the party in control has established a strict telegraphic censorship.

McKinsley's Trial Goes on.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The trial of Charles E. McKinsley for killing ex-Congressman Taylor, of Kentucky, in the Criminal Court here, Samuel Donnell, formerly deputy clerk of the House, Harry E. Lovell

SURPRISED THE BURGLAR.

Three Peckey Women, Armed With Pistols, Prevent a Robbery.

BOSTON, March 26.—As Mrs. Kate D.
Desmond was looking from her window on Mystic Avenue, Somerville, early in the morning she saw a man remove the storm windows and enter the house of a neighbor. She ran over and told Mrs.
Johnson and Mrs. Kent.

The three women armed themselves with pistols, shovels and brooms, the only weapons handy, and sallied forth to the combat. Mrs. Desmond taking command, after placing her sentinels at the doors and windows, she called upon the intruder to surrender.

A full grown man jumped from the pantry window and grappled Mrs. Desmond, who made several lunge at him with the broom and dealt him an ugly wound on the cheek. The burglar, seeing he was getting the worst of the affair, beat a hasty retreat up Austin street, closely pursued by the three guards, Mrs.
Kent, who waved a shovel, shouting "Stop thief!"

Patrolman Brown appeared eventually and found a large amount of goods packed in a bag, which the burglar had to abandon, upon being attacked by the plucky women. He was not arrested.

PLACING THE BLAME.

Decision in the Railroad Commissioners in the New York Tunnel Accident.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 26.—The Board of Railroad Commissioners has given a decision in the matter of the accident in the tunnel of the New York & Harlem Railroad Company, leased by the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, on the extension of Fourth avenue, New York city, Feb. 20.

The board finds that Lewis Fowler, engineer, of Charles A. Wellington, firemen, was directly responsible for this accident, by passing the distant and home signals while set at danger from failure to see them in consequence of fog, steam and smoke.

Secondly, it finds that the New York New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company is directly responsible for the death of the victims of the accident in as far as such death was contributed by the burning of the cars, because of the failure of the said company to conform to the law requiring its cars to be heated other than by stove or furnace therein.

DEATH TRAP FOR GIRLS.

An Educational Institution Charged with criminal Carelessness.

CHICAGO, March 26.—The Tribune declares editorially that no prudent parent can be justified in keeping a daughter in the female department of the Northwestern University at Evanston so long as the policy of the present management continues, and warns parents of their responsibility. It says the building is unsafe and deficient in fire escapes.

There would be an awful loss of life if there should be a fire at night. Oil lamps are used instead of gas, and the building is overcrowded. Since the elevator will not hold delicate girls, and compelled to climb four pairs of stairs several times daily. This condition of affairs is not due to lack of funds, as the institution clears several thousand dollars nearly by boarding the girl students.
The editorial created a sensation. A large number of students are from New York, Pennsylvania and one or two other Eastern States.

Death of Dr. Wickham.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 26.—The death of Dr. James P. Wickham, was directly due to heart failure, superinduced by the grip. He was prominent for many years in educational matters of the country.
Under President Arthur, administrator he represented the United States at Denmark. He was also at one time State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He commanded a regiment throughout the Gettysburg campaign of the civil war.

The Clerks Declare Their Victory.

NEWARK, N. J., March 26.—A representative of the Clark Thread Company advises that the company has won a victory over the strikers in the present trouble, and the strike so far as the firm is concerned, is at an end. The old men will not be allowed to come back to work in the mill under any circumstances in a few days the Jersey City police will be withdrawn, their presence no longer being considered necessary.

Arrested on Suspicion.

EAST WINDFELD, N. H., March 26.—The man supposed to be William Wright, who it is thought is guilty of the Ruttington murder, was arrested at the Davis House in West Wakefield, at noon, on a suspicion charge of the robbery of articles of clothing, etc., the property of John F. Rickey of Rochester, N. H. The man was turned over to Rochester officers.
The prisoner exhibited extreme nervousness.

Political Affairs in Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 26.—In the House the Senate resolutions declaring the Democratic State officers elected were rejected, in accordance with the report of the Committee on Canvases of Votes, to whom the resolutions were referred. Executive Secretary Brainard again made a demand on Comptroller Stann for the salary due him for the month of February and was again refused.

Anxious to Resume Operations.

PITTSBURGH, March 26.—The McClure Cook Company, one of the Frick concerns, located at Mt. Pleasant, has posted notice that it wishes to resume work. It is reported that the conditions are a three-year sliding scale, with rates equivalent to a 7 per cent. reduction, the men to resume the old rates which once reaches $2.15.

Banquet to McKinley is Providence.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 26.—Ex-Congressman McKinley delivered an address at Infantry Hall last night before the Young Men's Republican Club. About eleven hundred persons sat down to the banquet, which preceded the speaking.
Mr. McKinley's speech was the same as that delivered at Worcester.

TO DEMAND JUSTICE

Newfoundland Will Send a Delegation to England.

NO COERCION WILL BE ALLOWED.
If Great Britain Persist in Armed Resistance Will Be Made.

Such Significance in the Honor Being Paid by Russia to President Carnot Today—General Foster's Mission to Spain—Queen Victoria's Welcome at Grasse—Pope's Advice to the Irish.

St. John's, N. F., March 26.—The Government attended the Council Chambers yesterday to assent to a certain bill. The Assembly summoned his presence by the Black Rod.

A motion was made that the members do not comply, as a protest against the coercive and treacherous policy of the British government. A large majority favored the motion, only members of the Cabinet following the Speaker to the Governor's presence. A large audience cheered the protesting members, and hissed those complying, calling them traitors and spies. Intense excitement prevailed.

Meetings continue to be held all over the colony protesting against coercion.
If the threatened legislation is enacted, armed resistance will be made to the enforcement of the regulations made under it. The people demand only the equitable settlement of the whole question, having regard to all undoubted French rights, but they object to the piecemeal treatment at present adopted by the British government against the protests of the colony.

The Legislature decided to send a delegation of five to England. Two opposition and three government delegates will be empowered to treat for the final arrangement of the whole subject. They will be named to-morrow, and will probably leave immediately.

FRANCE AND RUSSIA.

The Presentation to President Carnot Today Very Significant.

PARIS, March 26.—Baron de Mohren-heim, the Russian Minister here, will today present to President Carnot the Grand Cordon of the Order of St. Andrew, the Russian decoration which the Czar by a recent decree conferred upon him.

This ceremony according to impressions prevailing in Berlin, marks an important epoch in the history of France and Russia, and is supposed to point to the actual conclusion of a formal alliance between them. It is said that until recently the Czar had resisted all attempts to go beyond an entente cordiale.

The Pope's Advice to the Irish.

ROME, March 26.—Archbishop Walsh gave the Pope an account of the schism in the Irish parliamentary party, and His Holiness counseled the Archbishop to increase the clergy to adhere to their principle. The Pope to-day gave audience to the Bishop of Chingquini, from Quebec.

The Queen Welcomed at Grasse.

PARIS, March 26.—When Queen Victoria arrived at Grasse she was received with great enthusiasm, the people turning out with flags and banners. The prefect of the department and the Mayor of the town welcomed the Queen and Spain for and thousands cheered her. The Queen bowed repeatedly and cordially.

News from Washingtonville.

The annual meeting of the Washingtonville Union Sunday-school was held in the Memorial chapel Tuesday evening. The President, E. L. Bonny, presided. In his report he showed that the Association and its work were in a most flourishing condition. Quite a number had been added to the membership. Several had joined the different churches in Plainfield, and others who had not yet joined the church had found their spiritual life, with new hopes and new incentives to a better life. It was also urged, that these too might find a church home in some of the churches of the neighboring city. This being an undenominational Sunday-school, each one is induced to join the church of his personal preference.

The Treasurer reported the financial condition good, the running expenses being met as fast as they matured; although the expenses were considerably increased, yet the collections met them without any special effort. The envelope system in use was very satisfactory.

The following officers were elected: Superintendent—E. L. Bonny. Treasurer—G. W. Winans. Secretary—Alfred Winans. Organist—Miss Nettie J. Beeching. Librarian—George Howard.

W. H. Rogers was re-elected trustee for three years.

After the naming of the different committees, the first annual meeting, showing a most prosperous year's work, was adjourned.

A Christian Endeavor society was recently formed among the members of the Washingtonville Sunday-school. Andrew Wilson was chosen President, and John Bicknell, Secretary. The question of joining the local and national societies will be taken up at the first business meeting. To the efforts of the Rev. Asa Reed Ditts, of Plainfield, and Henry Wise, much of the work of organization is to be credited.

The Rev. Mr. Dwight will preach in the Memorial chapel next Sunday morning.

Conducted by Mr. St. John of This City. The spring meeting of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union will be held in the Presbyterian church at Cranford this evening, and it promises to be one of the most interesting conferences the Union has held.

The societies in Cranford are arranging for a handsome entertainment of the delegates. The societies of this city will be represented. The programme will be as follows: 7:45 p. m.—Song service; prayer service, conducted by E. St. John, of this city; words of welcome, Rev. George F. Greene, of Cranford; paper, "Junior Societies," Miss Alice Smith, of this city; paper, "Loyalty to the Church," J. H. MacConnell, of Cranford; music; paper, "Bible Study for Personal Culture," Mrs. J. Anderson Frazer, of Elizabethtown; paper, "Christian Fellowship," W. E. Haverstick, of Newark; address, "Local Unions," state Secretary Halcy W. Hammond, of Bonton; closing prayer; benediction; Christian fellowship exemplified; adjournment.

The delegates from this city will leave on the 7:03 o'clock train.

The Borough Demands Protection.

The Prospect avenue crossing over the Jersey Central railroad at Dunellen, where the recent terrible killing of Willie Cannon and Daniel Liebe occurred, is protected by gates from early morning until nearly nine at night. The gates are in charge of Michael Donahue, one of the most faithful and trustworthy employees on the road. For nearly forty years he has served them, and all who have occasion to cross have heard his well known words of caution. Notwithstanding all this, the feeling against the company is intense, because there is no night watchman to take the place of the man on duty during the day. The indignation expressed will result in a request by the Board of Borough Commissioners to the company to right these wrongs or pay the penalty. No blame is attached to the engineer of the train which killed Cannon and Liebe. He is charged with the duty of making such time as is laid down for him in the time schedule, and he must do it or lose his place.

A Town With Five Railroads, Coal, Iron, Coke and Timber.

By some the South is thought to be over estimated as the coming industrial center. This may be true of some localities, but when you go to Bristol, Virginia and Tennessee, and find five railroads already built and under actual construction, and three of these roads connected with coal and coke, and two with vast deposits of Bessemer iron ore, and all within two or three hours haul of each other, with immense virgin forest of almost every variety of timber. You can make no mistake in such a place, whether it be North, South, East, or West. It must come to the front. Bristol is not on paper, she now has everything enjoyed by most large cities except high taxes, and advertises herself elsewhere in THE PRESS.

FOREIGN ARMY NOTES

The British canteen system has been adopted in the barracks of Germany, with a view to keeping the soldiers away from the liquor shops.

The army of the pope for 1891 is made up as follows: Two generals, two colonels, a major, two captains and four lieutenants and sixty men. This number includes the famous Swiss legion.

The Canadian militia department has decided to increase the capacity of the cartridge factory at Quebec, so that the Martini-Henry ammunition for Canadian use can be manufactured there.

Dr. CORPUS, who had been charged by the Belgian government to examine the sanitary institutions of Germany, states in his report that the annual army death rate is in Germany, 8.97; in Belgium, 4.07; in France, 6, and in Austria-Hungary, 6.94 per cent.

TURKISH soldiers are very poor marksmen. Recent target contests in the Turkish army demonstrated the fact that not one soldier in twenty could hit a man at twenty paces. A target about four feet in diameter, placed thirty rods away, was hit on an average only once out of thirty shots.

Every French soldier will receive shortly from the ministry of war a package containing antiseptic cotton, bandages and two safety needles. He will carry the package with him into battle, so that if wounded the materials for dressing his injuries will be at hand for the field surgeon.

URUGUAY has reduced her standing army to one-fourth its former strength. Before New Year's the Uruguayan troops consisted of two infantry regiments of one thousand each and one artillery and one cavalry regiment of one thousand each. The artillery and cavalry have been abolished, and each of the infantry regiments has been cut down to five hundred men.

PROF. MOLLER, of Carlsruhe, has made a series of observations on the height of clouds, and finds that cirrus and cirro-stratus clouds have an average height of thirty thousand feet, while cumulus clouds range from four thousand to five thousand feet at their lower surfaces; to sixteen thousand feet at their upper surfaces.

GRANT ALLEN, the clever English writer, has just received the extraordinary prize of five thousand pounds for a new story.

EDGAR FAWCETT is much opposed to the use of dialect in literature, and says that if he had occasion to put a rude Maine fisherman in a novel he would make him converse in classical periods.

MISERY—HAPPINESS.

A Story Which Will Interest Troun nd.

Happiness and misery are measured by the stomach. Did you ever think of this? The happy person is the one who eats well. The miserable person is the one who cannot eat, has no appetite, or is unable to digest his food well.

Did you ever know a head-achured dyspeptic? On the contrary, anything that irritates the stomach, causes blue, also causes depression in mind, always looking upon the dark side of everything, and allowing critics to irritate and annoy them?

For good, wholesome, healthy, for good-natured enjoyment of the world, for quiet and high ambitions, for all that makes life worth living, look to the person who eats well and has a good digestion and assimilation. The human body, notwithstanding its intricacy, is a machine, and if any of its organs are out of order, the machine cannot run. GOOD HEALTH MEANS GOOD DIGESTION.

"Good digestion waits on appetite, and health on both."

You, therefore, who suffer from spring debility, loss of appetite, indigestion and dyspepsia, who cannot eat because food disagrees with you, who have ratings of gas, flatulency, belching and gnawing at the pit of the stomach, swelling or bloating, who have marria and are bilious, with dizzy, dull feeling head, bad taste in the mouth, and a general feeling of uneasiness, try the mouth moraines, and feel distressed, lack your old-time energy, are depressed in mind and miserable in body, remember that it is your stomach and weakened nerves which cause all your difficulties.

It may be true that written above another in the world's happiness, if there is one gift without which life is a wretchedness of black, misery, and with which all the blessings of life are mingled with its joys and pleasures, are at command, that gift is good digestion.

How to get it is the great question—no many things have been tried without avail. But there is one remedy which never fails, and that is that greatest of all stomach medicines Dr. Greene's Nerve. If you have not tried this wonderful remedy which so quickly and simply restores the action of the stomach and bowels, assists digestion, and so at once and speedily will be years. It is Dr. Greene's Nerve, purely vegetable and harmless, and is for sale by all druggists at 50 cents per bottle.

How Any One Can Have Good Digestion. Close attention to business and excessive use of tobacco made my nerves very weak, and led to indigestion, constipation, and a general feeling of uneasiness. I could not sleep, and my appetite was gone. I took Dr. Greene's Nerve, and in a few days I was able to sleep, and my appetite was restored. I am now in perfect health, and my business is going on as usual.

Dr. Greene, of 25 West Fourteenth St., New York, his discovery, is the famous and reliable cure of nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor has devoted special attention to the treatment of all forms of chronic diseases through letter correspondence, and will give by mail his opinion and advice in any case free of charge. The perfection of this system renders a complete cure almost assured, as his success in treatment by correspondence is wonderful and unequalled.

Send for symptom blank to fill out, or write Dr. Greene about your case, and a carefully considered letter, fully explaining your disease and giving you a perfect understanding of all its symptoms will be returned, free of charge.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PLAINFIELD—

TAKE NOTICE:

All property owners on the line of the proposed Plainfield Street railway, who are opposed to electric railroads, are respectfully invited to go to Newark on Friday, March 27, to inspect the workings of the Rapid Transit Street Railroad of that city, which is the same system and equipment that is to be given to the City of Plainfield, should we get the franchise.

A special train will be at your service, at the expense of the Plainfield Street Railway Company, leaving Plainfield at 1:30 P. M., and returning after you have looked over the Newark line.

It is earnestly hoped that all those property owners opposed to the Railway will be on hand, that we may have an opportunity to show them that electricity is the safest, least noisy and best way for propelling street cars.

THOMAS NEVINS, President, Plainfield Street Railway Company.

A Perfect Success.

The Rev. A. Antonio of Buffalo, N. Y., writes: As far as I am able to judge, I think Factor Koenig's Nerve Tonic is a perfect success, for any one who suffers from a most painful nervousness, as I did, I feel now like myself again after taking the Tonic.

A Strong Proof.

OSHELTON, ONT., CANADA, June, '90. I was first attacked by epilepsy in November 1879; residing in New York I consulted the best physicians, but they could only arrest the disease, the honest ones told me there was no cure for it—I was compelled to give up my occupation and return to Canada in 1879; since then I tried innumerable remedies and consulted some of the best physicians, but nothing lessened the terrible attacks. I began to use Factor Koenig's Nerve Tonic in September '90, since then I had no epileptic attacks.

THE WOMAN OF FASHION.

She is Wearing Pearls at Morning, Afternoon and Night.

The Hags for Jewelry Has Led to the Introduction of Colored Passermenterie, Upon Tailor-Made Gowns—Miniature Pearls Seen in Pins.

(CONTINUED, 1891.) To be quite fashionable now, one must wear a string of pearls morning, noon, evening and night.

At morning they are considered very becoming above a dainty breakfast gown, cut just low enough in the neck to show the fair throat of the wearer. At noon they are fashionable as a head-dress to the high-collared walking dress which is worn upon all street occasions, and evening nothing could be lovelier upon the skin than the beautiful pearls outlining the bodice, or drawn high around the throat. And at night when one would naturally suppose that the pearls had done their work for the day, they are taken off only while their owner arranges her tresses for the night, and are again put securely on to be worn all morning. Jewelers say that pearls are preserved by the wearing and that constant friction and exposure are necessary to keep the pure, clear, creamy tint which is the admiration of pearl lovers.

Elaborate coiffures are the rule rather than those of severe plainness. In copying the Greek and Empire styles, the coil should be always so arranged that it ends in a point at the back of the head. This is done by means of puffs and curls, so constructed that a mass of curls tops the coiffure, and from the center of the mass peeps one curl in saucy prominence.

On the forehead the curls are brought low down in the center, or if the forehead is low, the curls are massed on each side. Strings of pearls and hair pins with brilliant tips are fastened around the coil, strung through it, or stuck into its depths.

Jewelry, brilliant passermenterie and colored stones are seen in what would, make a drapery at front and back. The edge of the drapery is trimmed with sable. On the other shoulder no puffing is allowed, but, in place of it, are two white satin ribbons snugly drawn over the shoulder. Across the upper arm is a jeweled amulet and below it is a band and bow of white satin ribbon. An enormous pink feather fan with silver sticks accompanies this bodice and a silver comb with amber top. The skirt is simply made of pink satin with sable band and brocade train.

Lace is the prevailing trimming of the day. It is seen upon toques, it forms the basis of tiny muffs, it adorns glove tops and is used for flounces upon the skirts and bodices of street dresses. An old rose street gown had a deep flounce of black net lace around the bottom of the skirt. The flounce was cut in points in palm leaf design. Another gown, a French gray, was trimmed with narrow black lace box plaited closely around the skirt.

Chiffon and bengaline are dividing honors in wedding gowns. At the Astor-Willing wedding more than COIFFURES RECENTLY DESIGNED.

Twenty toilettes were either draped or composed of the former, while bengaline was almost as popular.

A wedding gown recently ordered is to have a train and bodice of bengaline. The front of the skirt is to be of white net embroidered in silver and pearls. The pointed bodice front will be composed of the embroidery as will also the high collar.

Crepes d'ete make pretty soft evening gowns. It is again the fashion to wear thin materials over colored under-skirts. A fall crepe d'ete bodice is belted at the waist with long, flowing ribbons. These fall over a crepe d'ete skirt trimmed with Valenciennes lace. This skirt is slightly tucked up at one side, showing a heliotrope silk underskirt with silk racking.

Old rose crepon makes a beautiful tea gown. The front of the skirt may be cut as severely plain as the skirts of our most modest walking dresses. The back must be entrain. The bodice is laid in accordion plaits from the neck to the waist. Here it is caught with an elastic, making the waist slightly blouse. An applique of passermenterie trims the front of the waist and a band of it extends the full length of the sleeves, which are long and puffed to the wrist. Thick white racking edged with pink is at the neck and sleeves.

A high Louis XIII. jacket is more appropriate for the sharp March winds than the open-necked Louis XIV. coat now so fashionable for dinner and calling gowns. A beautiful dark brown

EVENING BODICE.

Louis XIII. jacket has a high outer collar and is edged with fur down the front, upon the pockets and on the cuffs. It is lined with old gold satin, glimpses of which peep forth from beneath the long-skirted bodice as the owner walks.

Musical instruments. The natives of the New Hebrides, who are still addicted to the practice of anthropophagy, form a curious study. Nothing is more curious than their musical instruments. These consist of hollow tree trunks, containing apertures connected by a vertical slit. These trunks are ornamented at the upper part with sculptures representing heads, feet, war clubs and ships. By striking each of them with a stick the natives produce sounds resembling those of the tom-tom. They perform their dances to the sound of these instruments, after having beamed their faces with red and black. They have also three other musical instruments: a sort of trumpet made of a shell perforated at the side or extremity; a syrinx with six or seven or eight pipes, from which they sometimes obtain harmonious sounds; and a long pipe perforated at the lower extremity and consisting of a single piece of bamboo with three holes and a mouth-piece. These instruments are used only within doors to amuse children.—N. Y. Ledger.

A Valuable Dog. Hurley—'I wouldn't take five hundred dollars for that dog. Miss Castigate—No, I don't think you would. You are too conscientious to swindle anyone.—Jury.

An Ungracious Remark. Emma—I rode in a horse car half an hour to-day before I got a seat. Amy—That's too bad. It's such a misfortune not to be good looking.—Boston Herald.

An exquisitely pretty evening bodice is of pink satin. Heavy brocade is fastened at one shoulder, forming a puff, from whence it is brought down to

TOY FLYING MACHINES.

Explanations Which Will Enable Any Bright Boy to Make Them.

A feather flying machine is a very simple thing to make; but it will only fly up as there are no wings or aeroplanes to support it when flying horizontally. The motive power is furnished by a whalebone bow, which causes the aerial screws to revolve as it unbends.

For this model you will need eight feathers. They should be carefully selected of the same size and shape. The best are good stiff wing feathers. From them form two screws by sticking them in cork, as in Fig. 1; one must be arranged to revolve to the right, the other to the left, because the bowstring turns the upper in one direction, while the reaction tends to turn the lower in the opposite way, and if both screws were right-handed or left-handed they would work against each other, and produce little or no effect.

The upper screw is fastened to the spindle, while the lower is attached to the bow. The spindle turns in a hole bored through the bow and into the cork; it moves freely because it simply rests in the hole, and is not fastened to the lower screw. The bowstring is tied to the spindle near the top. When finished, hold the lower screw in one hand, and turn the upper with the other until the string is all wound on the spindle. Now let go the upper screw, and toss it gently into the air, when it will fly until the bow straightens.

The aerial screw (Fig. 2) is like the feather machine, but the bow is replaced by a strong rubber band, tightly twisted. The backbone is made from two knitting-needles. The cross-pieces are made of thin brass brazed to the needles; that is, fastened with solder melted in a candle flame, and then allowed to cool. The main ribs of the screw blades are made from several light bamboo strips (from a broken Japanese fan) lashed together, and the cross ribs of short pieces of the strips bound to the main rib. The whole blade is covered with the Japanese paper of the kind that is used for table napkins, sewed on with a fine needle and white thread.

The manner of winding up the machine is similar to that for the feather model. This contrivance flies much higher and steadier than the latter.—Harper's Young People.

TIRED OF CHURNING.

Bose Gave Up His Home Rather Than Make a Slave of Himself. Mr. Brown had a large, strong dog named Bose. Bose ate so much that Mrs. Brown said he ought to be made to work so as to pay for a part of what he cost them in the way of food.

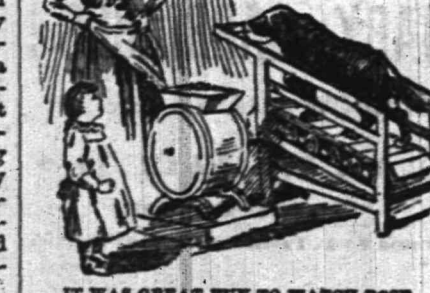

Bose was a kind dog, and they all were fond of him, and at first they thought it great fun to see him churn, and they used to give him meat and bread when he was through. For Mr. Brown had fixed a tread-mill in such a way that Bose could churn the cream, and on Tuesdays he did the churning.

At last Bose grew tired of the churn. Each week when the time came for him to churn, he would not be found. He would hide, and no one could find him until the next day. Then Mrs. Brown changed the time from week to week so that he could not know on which day to keep out of sight.

One day he went to the field to see them cut the grass. At noon Mr. Brown said: "Come, Bose, come home and churn." He went on to the bars at the end of the lane, and Bose was walking near him.

When Mr. Brown was half-way up the hill, he turned round and looked. Bose had run off as fast as he could go, and now quite out of sight.

Bose has not been seen since, and we think he made up his mind that he would churn no more, though he must lose his nice home by the means. This story is true, for Mr. Brown lived in the next house to us, and Bose used to play with me.—Ellen S. Eastman, in Our Little Men and Women.

"No More Doctors for Me."

"They said I was consumptive, sent me to Florida, told me to keep quiet, no excitement, and no tennis. Just think of it. One day I found a little book called 'Guide to Health,' by Lydia E. Pinkham, and in it I found out what ailed me. So I wrote to her, got a lovely reply; she told me just what to do, and I am in splendid health now. She informed me that she likes to receive such letters of confidence, as they appeal to her as a mother, and how glad she is to have the records of her life's experience among women made available to all women. These records are the largest in the world, and contain facts that cannot be found elsewhere. This will her noble work be perpetuated."

"Why, Are You Sick?"

"I know precisely how you feel; it is that nervous, irritable feeling, your back troubles you, and when you try to read a little your head aches. Isn't that so? I knew it. Oh, bother the doctor! Get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and take it faithfully as I have done. I've been through this thing myself, but am never troubled now."

"I am Sure It Would Help Them."

Thousands of delicate young ladies, employed in fashionable dry goods, millinery, and other stores, others in mills, factories, workshops, etc., where through the long day they are constantly on their feet. Among this class some of the worst cases of female diseases occur, and when their ill-health becomes apparent they are at once discharged.

The society girls who are whirled along in the excitement of fashionable life, and who overlook those minor ailments, that if not checked are death to health and beauty.

Actresses, singers, and others of the profession, do not always think; they rush into the tide of popularity regardless of all same fate and fortune. How often we read of some favorite actress, "ill in London, nervous prostration," etc.

Prudent women who best understand their ailments, find in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a remedy for all those distressing ills that require prompt and effective treatment as a signatory to good health.
