THE DIRECT TAXES

States Must Pay What They Owe to the Government.

OLD WAR CLAIMS HUNTED UP.
Secretary Blaine Resumes His Duties in the State Department.

Mr. Lemcke Will Not Accept the Treasuryship—The President's Trip to California—Names Mentioned for Judge Seefeld's Successor—The Surplus in the Treasury Creeping Up.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—It is one thing to have Congress appropriate money and another thing to get it out of the Treasury. Indiana is having an illustration of this, and Maryland will also receive a set-back when her application for her share of the direct taxes is taken up for payment.

Secretary Foster has directed that the Assistant Treasurer at Chicago pay to the State of Indiana $789,144, less $50,000, which latter amount the books at the Treasury Department show that Indiana is indebted to the government as excess of payment on war claims.

In the case of Maryland it is found that she owes the government $8,136 on account of the Indian Trust Fund. The records of the Department are being hunted up, and it may be found that other States are indebted to the government.

A conference was held during the day by the accounting officers of the Treasury to determine upon some plan for the payment in connection with the States. In these States the tax was collected from individuals. It was decided to pay the direct tax to the Governors of the Southern States, in trust for the people who are entitled to it.

MR. LEMCKE DECLINES.

He Will Not Accept the Treasuryship and Will Sail for Europe.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Mr. Julius A. Lemcke of Indiana, whose name has been under consideration by the President for the position of United States Treasurer, in case the resignation of Treasurer Huston was accepted, has informed the President, through a friend, that he does not desire to have his name considered in connection with the place, as his health is such that he could not possibly accept it if it were tendered to him. Mr. Lemcke will sail for Europe within a few days.

This leaves the question of the treasuryship in the same position it has been for some time. The impression prevails that efforts are being made to adjust the differences between the President and Mr. Huston, and that they are likely by Douglas, in the presence of the fact that Mr. Huston will serve out his term of four years.

MR. BLAINE AT HIS DESK.

He Says There Are No New Developments in the New Orleans Affair.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Secretary Blaine went to the State Department during the day for the first time since his recent indisposition and spent several hours there.

Mr. Blaine said that there were no new developments in the Behring Sea controversy or the New Orleans affair.

Miss Grace Fuller Married.
WASHINGTON, March 31.—Miss Grace Weston Fuller, eldest daughter of the Chief Justice of the United States, last night became the bride of Archibald Lapham Brown of Chicago. The ceremony was performed at St. John's by Rev. Dr. Douglas, in the presence of the family relatives and one of the most representative gatherings of distinguished government officials and diplomats seen at the national capital this season. The bride was attended in a court robe of white satin with silver trimmings.

Judge Seefeld's Successor.
WASHINGTON, March 31.—A vacancy has been created in the Court of Claims by the retirement of Judge Glenn M. Seefeld of Pennsylvania. It may go to an Ohioan, ex-Congressman Grosvener and Thompson being mentioned for the place, which pays $4,500 a year and is for life.

The President's California Trip.
WASHINGTON, March 31.—It is now announced that President Harrison intends to make his contemplated trip to California. He will leave Washington by the Southern route about two weeks hence.

The Surplus Creeping Up.
WASHINGTON, March 31.—The surplus in the Treasury is creeping up, and at the opening of business to-day was about $18,000,000.

Dr. Crosby's Funeral.
NEW YORK, March 31.—The funeral of the late Dr. Howard Crosby will take place from his church to-morrow morning.

DIXON THE FAVORITE.

The Colored Pugilist Leads in the Betting on To-night's Fight.

THEY, N. Y., March 31.—The glove contest between George Dixon of Boston and Cal McCarthy of Jersey City, which will take place at the Cribbs Club to-night is the chief topic discussed at the various sporting houses in this city.

Dixon is the favorite at odds of 100 to 80. The betting on the result of the contest has not been very heavy so far. A few $500 to $400 bets have been made.

Although the followers of McCarthy have unlimited faith in his ability to whip Dixon, they are holding back for larger odds. A number of men are hoping that the betting will be 2 to 1, or at least 100 to 60, before the boys enter the ring. Billy Donahue wants to bet $500 against $1,000 that the Jersey lad will prove the victor.

He will be at the ring side with his friends, all of whom will be ready to wager heavily on McCarthy's chances.

The contest will be one of the closest and most exciting, as well as one of the greatest, that have ever taken place between featherweights in this or any other country. Both men stand the world's championship of their class.

A SERIOUS ERROR.

A Word in the Wrong Place in New Jersey's Ballot Reform Law.

TRENTON, N. J., March 31.—A serious error has been discovered by the Attorney-General in the amendment made by the Legislature to the ballot reform law.

The intent of the amendment was to exempt towns of less than 4,000 from using the election booths in their local elections. The word "and" was put in the wrong place, and it makes the use of booths applicable to towns of 4,000 inhabitants or less and not to towns having over that number.

The Attorney-General expresses the opinion that the intent of the law will hold notwithstanding the error.

FORBES WILL NOT FLINCH.

The Murderer Says He Will Go to the Scaffold.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 31.—The chain by which the leg irons of Ernest Forbes are fastened to the floor has been loosened, and he is now enjoying the freedom of his cell. He put on the new suit provided for his execution and burial and is pleased with it.

Forbes says he will not flinch on going to the scaffold. He heard the hammering as the scaffold went up, and sometimes he would say, "These they go working on my scaffold."

Then he would vary it with: "It's a sad fate." He expresses a wish to see the scaffold. Friday next is the day appointed for the execution.

The Funeral of Assemblyman Brundage.
ALBANY, N. Y., March 31.—The funeral of Assemblyman Brundage will take place at Bath on Friday or Saturday. Should it occur on Friday the Assembly will probably adjourn for the week on Thursday afternoon. The committee accompanying the remains will return before the funeral, and another committee will be selected to attend the obsequies.

Father Craft Previews Mine Trouble.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 31.—Mr. Eugene T. McLaughlin of this city has received a letter from Rev. Francis M. J. Craft, the Indian missionary at Pine Ridge, predicting a war outbreak among the Indians at the agency unless the management of the Indian troubles is at once transferred to the War Department.

Decker Quietly Extradited.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 31.—An officer from Philadelphia quietly slipped into town early in the morning, and on extradition papers signed by Governor Bulkeley secured possession of Baseball Player Decker, who was in the county jail. The detective left town at once with his prisoner.

New Offer of Reward of $5,000.
NEW YORK, March 31.—The Board of Directors of the Mechanics and Traders' Bank at a meeting adopted a resolution offering a reward of $5,000 for evidence sufficient to convict the party or parties who operated a bank in connection with the bank's stability.

Road Over and Killed.
SALAMANCA, N. Y., March 31.—James Hackett, father of John Hackett, ex-justice of the peace in this county, was run over and killed by a train near Steamburg at 10 A. M. He was 73 years of age.

The Elliotts Arraigned for Murder.
COLUMBUS, O., March 31.—The Elliotts were arraigned in the Criminal Court for the killing of Osborne and Hughes. Both entered pleas of not guilty.

Carriage-makers to Strike.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 31.—The carriage and wagon-makers in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, about 600, at a meeting last night decided to go on strike to-night if their demand for a nine-hour day was not granted. The employers have refused to recognize the union.

Conference of Mine Workers.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 31.—The officials of the United Mine Workers of America are holding a conference here to-day, and will endeavor to enlist the aid of all labor organizations on the side of the coke strikers.

A RESORT TO FORCE

There is Intense Excitement in the Coke Region.

SEVERAL OUTBREAKS REPORTED

Pennsylvania's Governor Has Been Appealed to for Assistance.

Warrants Served Out for a Large Number of Editors—Wives of the strikers King-learners—President Roe Calls the Operators Swindlers—The Workmen Stirred Up to a Fighting Pitch.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 31.—Excitement runs high here over the coke strike situation. About 500 strikers with drums and banners marched to the fair grounds, where they were addressed by National President Roe, Master Workmen Wise and others.

Roe declared the profits of the coke industry were increasing year by year, and were greater by $5,000,000 in 1890 than in 1889. He called the operators swindlers and scoundrels, and told the men that he would win the strike for them if they stood by him.

The raids and riots at Morewood, Jintown, Leisening and Leith have stirred the operatives to a fighting pitch.

LOOKING FOR RELIEF.

Warrants Served Out for a Large Number of Strikers.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 31.—Frick's General Superintendent Lynch and Cap-Schoonmaker are here to see what relief the court will afford them. They declare that the spirit of violence and destruction has at last reached the stage when the law must either afford them protection for life and property or be declared impotent in such emergencies.

Frick's Superintendent Harvey White was arrested and beaten at Leith, the wife of the striker being the ringleader. He drew his revolver in self-defense, and they snatched them from him, beat him and drove him from the ground. He swore out warrants for 11 of the rioters, including three women.

Cap-Schoonmaker swore out warrants for the arrest of 27 of the Jintown rioters for assault and conspiracy. Cap-Schoonmaker and Supt. Lynch, with their two Goats who have long been in chains, and asked for an injunction restraining Master Workmen Wise and Messrs. Keegan, Crow, Eger and others, 37 in all, from congregating about the mine, making threats or in any way interfering with those who desire to work. They submitted the affidavits of a number of workmen, who state that they were afraid to do so.

The Attorney-General expressed the opinion that the intent of the law will hold notwithstanding the error.

He Had Three Wives.
LOWELL, Mass., March 31.—Since Geo. Mansueti was convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to imprisonment the Lowell police have discovered that he has three legal wives living. One of his latest wives is that of Nellie, under 16 years of age. The second one is Victoria Lovell, residing on Factory street, Nahua, and the third is a resident of Salem, Mass.

Protected by Police from Strikers.
NEWARK, N. J., March 31.—Seven Russian ladies who crowded in a hallway on Broome street at an early hour, while several hundred excited people gathered around the building, armed with sticks, awaiting an opportunity to attack the ladies. Police officers made an assault upon the men, who were struck by the mercy of the police, who the strike is in progress.

An Ex-Follower's Great Power.
SALINA, Mass., March 31.—C. E. Legrand, a former member of the police force, has developed a remarkable power to heal the sick by the laying on of hands. One of his latest cures is that of Nellie, a four-year-old daughter of Augustus Ryan of Lynn, whose hand and arm were completely useless from paralysis.

The Walstrom Murderer.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 31.—The coroner's investigation into the murder of Walstrom Bradford has been concluded, and the official statement is that he has secured sufficient evidence to convict Peter Estrom, one of the men under arrest. The other prisoners will probably be discharged to-day.

Stone Warriors Off for Europe.
CHICAGO, March 31.—Forty-three Ogalala Sioux from Pine Ridge Agency and 20 Ogalalas and Brules who have been held as prisoners of war at Fort Sheridan left by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for New York. They will join Buffalo Bill's show, which opens in Strasburg April 20. The party was in charge of Major Burke.

A Veteran of Two Wars Sidelined.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 31.—Gen. Charles A. Johnson, a retired army officer who served in the Mexican and Civil wars, committed suicide at 7 A. M. by shooting himself in the left breast. He came from Utica, N. Y., about five years ago. He was 65 years of age, and a descendant of John Quincy Adams.

Rocheater Quitters in Distress.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 31.—About 40 per cent of the regular force of cutters are at work. There are many destitute families of tailors in consequence of the lockout. The clothing factories were through with tailors early in the morning, and the tailors are looking for work. There was none for them.

Deaths from Grip in New York.
NEW YORK, March 31.—Dr. Nagle of the Board of Health reported six deaths to-day and eighteen yesterday from the grip. This makes 139 in all since the scourge made its last appearance.

SEIZED THE CREW.

The Menhaden Fisheries War Renewed at Keyport.

KEYPORT, N. J., March 31.—The trouble between the New York authorities and the men employed in the menhaden fisheries continues, and has resulted in the capture of two of Keyport's fishermen and the narrow escape of several others. Capt. Frank Hiler's sloop Hogarty was boarded and detained by officials from Staten Island.

The crew of the sloop Hogarty were at work in a morning. As the wind suddenly ceased they were forced to stop, and while they were in the cabin eating the sloop drifted 25 yards over the line, when over 40 men came out of the cabin of the Staten Island watch boat Nellie Lee, and with the aid of several smaller boats surrounded the Hogarty and captured Captain William Howard and Mate Thomas Morrigan, of this place. They were lodged in the Essex County jail to await the action of the grand jury.

For some time past there has been more or less trouble with the authorities on the fishing question, and the arrest of many of Keyport's fishermen has been the result. All who have been captured have served time. Captain Abram Post narrowly escaped being captured.

Miraculous Escape from Death on the Reading Railroad.
SHAMONKIN, Pa., March 31.—Passenger train No. 6, on the Philadelphia & Reading line, was wrecked at Vestines last evening.

Flagman J. F. Marts of Williamsport had his ribs broken and was otherwise badly hurt. Constable Hoover of Sunbury received several deep gashes in the head, and his shoulder-blade broken; Mrs. Trepper of Lewisburg was cut and bruised about the head and body, and Contractor Wetzell of Danville was severely injured. The other passengers were badly shaken up.

The rails spread and the parlor car left the track and landed on its side some yards distant. It was a miraculous escape from death for fifteen passengers in the coach.

MINE ON FIRE.
A Large Force of Men Are Fighting the Flames.

ASHLAND, Pa., March 31.—The Lawrence & Brown Mine at Mahanoy Plane, which gives employment to 300 hands, is on fire, and the indications are that this industry will be destroyed.

For several days past flames have been coming in one of the horres which was not discovered until last night. It is now feared that the flames will spread to the Stanton gangway, in which event the mine would have to be flooded.

A large force of men are fighting the flames and every effort is being made to extinguish them. The vein of coal on fire is directly beneath the Mahanoy blasting plane, thus endangering the props and causing a cave-in.

Is a Serious Affair.
LONDON, March 31.—All the morning dailies comment upon the gravity of the Manipur rebellion and the possibility of strong measures to retrieve the British position. Some of the papers think that Commissioner Quilton's force was inadequate and that he committed a blunder in underestimating the strength of the enemy.

LIVELY TIMES AT SINGO.
The Surprised Are Kept Busy Dressing Broken Heads.

SINGO, March 31.—The mayor has refused the use of the Town Hall to either Irish faction.

The McCarthyites canvassed and Farnell addressed meetings at Tinegh. Some of the papers kept busy dressing broken heads.

False Reports from Monte Carlo.
NICE, March 31.—A press agent is maintained at Monte Carlo by the interest of the gambling establishment at that place. Most of the stories of large winnings and of persons breaking the bank are sent out by this bureau for the purpose of attracting wealthy tourists from Europe and America. The stories, it is said, have generally no foundation.

Denial by Farnell's Side.
DUBLIN, March 31.—Miss Agnes Farnell has written a letter for publication in which she denies the statement made that she has not spoken to her husband, Charles Stewart Farnell, since his incarceration in Kilmainham jail.

Italy and the World's Fair.
ROME, March 31.—The Italian government has announced that it will adhere to the principle of not taking official part in international exhibition, but will give every facility to artists and manufacturers desiring to exhibit at Chicago.

Another Heavy Snowstorm in England.
LONDON, March 31.—Another heavy snowstorm prevails in the northern portion of Great Britain. The snow is especially heavy at Aberdeen, where tramways are blocked. Railways are badly delayed in that vicinity.

An American Girl's Portrait.
LONDON, March 31.—The most interesting portrait to be exhibited at the forthcoming exhibition of the Royal Academy will be that of Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain (Miss Marie Endicott) painted by Millais.

AFRAID OF RUSSIA

The Massing of Troops Causing an Uneasy Feeling.

THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE ABUSED.

Bulgaria's Reserves Notified to Be Ready for Service on Call.

The Russian Minister Suspected of Plotting to Assassinate Stambouloff.

BELGRADE, March 31.—The murder of the Bulgarian Minister of Finance is one of the chief causes of the sudden flurry among the officials of the War Office, and it is looked upon as a serious indication of the gravest designs on the part of Russia.

Despatches have been hourly passing between the Foreign Offices of Britain and Vienna and also Bucharest, and it is stated that the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the accession of King Charles of Roumania at Bucharest next month will be made the occasion of an informal conference between the powers of the triple alliance.

The sovereigns of the triple alliance will spare no effort to improve the friendship of the Roumanians and guard that Roumania is in an excellent position for defense, having nearly completed a series of formidable fortifications along the Russian frontier, and having a navy that is far from contemptible. The British Minister at Bucharest, Mr. G. G. G. G., is suspected of having had a hand in the plot to assassinate Stambouloff.

The Bulgarian reserves have been notified to be ready for service on call, and the principalities is alive with warlike preparations.

TERRIBLE SLAUGHTER.

A Large Force of Native Troops Killed on the Assam Frontier.

CALCUTTA, March 31.—Alarming advices have been received from Simla, a well-known minister of British India, and the Viceroy, abandoning his projected tour, has started for the place with five regiments. A mountain battery has been ordered to Manipal.

Two companies were being engaged at Kohima, on the Assam frontier, bring news of a terrible massacre. The trouble originated in a feud between the Rajah of Manipal and a leading chief of the tribe. The Rajah was killed and his head was deposited and he appealed to the Viceroy.

Mr. Quilton was sent to settle the trouble and started from the headquarters at Shillong escorted by the 13th and 44th Goorkha Light Infantry.

After crossing the frontier Mr. Quilton's camp was attacked and a general massacre followed.

Another account says that Colonel Sheel, the commander of the Goorkhas, Quilton, with his son and daughter, Captain Boileux and six others were killed, the natives refusing to give them a quarter. The rebellious tribe is famous for cunning, cruelty and audacity. It is estimated that 470 people were killed.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The United States Supreme Court Sustains a Railroad Rate for Damages.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—A decision of the United States Supreme Court rendered by Justice Harlan affirms the decision of the United States District Court for New Jersey granting damages to C. B. Converse for injuries received by a Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad train while crossing a track near Jersey City.

The Court says that while those using the public highway are under a duty to keep out of the way of railroad cars crossing it, and exercise to that end such care as the circumstances make necessary, the railroad company in moving cars upon its road is bound to exercise like care toward those who, while traveling on such highways, whether on foot or in vehicles, are obliged to cross over its tracks.

The right of the railroad company to its tracks for the movement of engines and cars is no greater, says the Court, in the eye of the law than the right of an individual to travel over a highway extending across such tracks.

DYING BY HUNDREDS.

Nearly Three Hundred Deaths in Chicago in 24 Hours.

CHICAGO, March 31.—It was hoped last week that the death rate had reached its maximum, but when the Registrar of Vital Statistics Tomlinson closed his books last evening he had chronicled the death of nearly 300 people for the past 24 hours.

Never before in the history of the office has it submitted such a report in one day. It showed that Chicagoans are dying at the rate of one every five or six minutes. Streets leading to the graveyards were choked all day with funerals. It is estimated that there are 600 bodies awaiting burial in Chicago.

PLAINFIELD RAPID TRANSIT.

NO STREET CARS FOR NETHERWOOD.

Instead, the Evans Contract Will Keep the Benefit.

Because of the bitter opposition that certain Broadway people have made against the proposition to run street cars through their doors, Netherwood is going to lose altogether, for a time, the benefits of the proposed electric railway, and will be shut out from rapid transit until such time as the obstructionists shall have come to recognize the value of the system as put into practical operation under their very eyes in other parts of the city, and shall have petitioned for an extension into their neighborhood. The amended route over which the railway will run is as follows:

Beginning at a point in Somerset street at the line of North Plainfield Township and running thence southerly to Front street, thence through Front street easterly to Park avenue, thence through Park avenue to Sixth street, thence through Sixth street westerly to Plainfield avenue, thence through Plainfield avenue southerly to Seventh street, thence through Seventh street westerly to Monroe avenue, thence through Monroe avenue northerly to Fourth street, thence through Fourth street easterly to Grant avenue, and thence through Grant avenue northerly to Front street, thence through Front street easterly to Park avenue, thence through Park avenue southerly to North avenue, thence through North avenue northerly to Peace street.

The cutting out of the Netherwood route was the chief amendment made in the proposed street railway ordinance at last night's meeting of the Plainfield Common Council. The revised ordinance, with all amendments incorporated in it, and as passed by the council on its second reading, is published elsewhere in this issue.

Councilman Spangenberg, who was responsible for the amendment shutting Netherwood out of the route, explained that he offered it because of the strong opposition that had been aroused against the railway company in that section. The Council were unanimous in voting for the amendment.

Councilman Glina tried to secure the passage of an amendment compelling the railway company to vacate a piece of the width of eight feet each side of their track, the streets through which they are to pass; and Councilmen Ackerman and Bishmore, through various amendments which were killed as fast as introduced, sought to impose a heavier tax on the company for the privileges of the franchise. Councilmen Hetfield, Smith, and Moffett explained that before the proposed ordinance was drawn every attempt was made to squeeze income for the city from the company, and the plan outlined in the ordinance was the best the company would agree to. If the Council sought to impose tribute the only result would be that the company would withdraw altogether their proposition, and would build no road.

In arguing against these fruitless attempts to squeeze the company more closely than they would stand, Councilmen Hetfield asserted that area of the company were disgusted with the proposed ordinance, and were making and were half a mind to wash their hands of the entire business. It was dangerous, he added—to try to crowd the railway people too far. The railroad was to be a god thing for the town, and the people needed and wanted it, and to be too dictatorial would be to drive it away.

Various other amendments were introduced by Councilmen Ackerman and Glina which Councilman Hetfield and others declared unreasonable and which in their opinion would cause the company to refuse to accept the franchise on any terms, but all such were lost by a vote of 6 to 5, Councilmen Gallup, Hetfield, Moffett, Roberts, Smith and Spangenberg voting no.

The ordinance as finally perfected, and as published in this Press to-day, was finally unanimously adopted of its second reading.

All the Councilmen were present at the meeting. President Smith presided. Complete passage of the ordinance was not reached until some minutes past one o'clock in the morning. During the meeting, however, a recess of half an hour was taken; in order that the Councilmen and reporters might get a glimpse of the fire that illuminated the city.

SOME OF THE OBSTRUCTIONISTS.

Property Owners Who Helped to Shut the Railway Out of Netherwood.

During last night's Council meeting and before the ordinance was amended in that particular, another protest against the introduction of the proposed electric street railway into Netherwood was presented. It was signed by J. E. Martine, A. D. Cook, Catherine H. Webster, I. P. Brown, Chas. P. Hazen, Mrs. N. H. Day, D. W. Day, Nelson Kenyon and F. S. Runyon, purporting to represent a frontage on Broadway of 2,500 feet. The signers stated that they had once consented to permit horse or storage-battery cars to run past their doors, but were opposed to the trolley system and withdrew all consent that might be used as having come from them in favor of the trolley system. They intimated that their consent to a storage-battery system had been distorted into consent to a trolley system, and denounced such alleged action as a false pretense and a fraudulent scheme.

Margaret T. Mahon and T. S. Davis also withdrew their consent to have a railway pass their property on Park avenue and Sixth street.

SHARP TALK FROM MR. NEVINS.

No Plans to Give Plainfield the Wake-up it Needs.

When President Nevins of the Plainfield Street Railway Company got a chance to get on his feet and speak for himself, at last night's Council meeting, he eagerly accepted it, and told some very plain and wholesome truths.

He stated candidly that he thought some of the people were trying to crowd the company too much to the wall, and asked that mutual fairness and good will be shown. He was coming to Plainfield, he said—in the best spirit, and with best wishes for the city. He was going to be in every way honorable, honest and just with the people. The advent of his proposed superior system of rapid transit was to benefit the city as much as to benefit himself. Their mutual interests were at stake. The town needed waking-up, and he intended to wake it up most thoroughly. He did not expect to make 40-cent out of the street railway inside of five years at least, but he expected to expend $300,000 in purchasing and building up property in the outskirts of the city, and promised that in two years he would, through the medium of his road, increase the property valuation of the city 40 per cent. His object was to build up the town, and share with the city the profits of the era of increased prosperity the coming of the road would bring. No place had a greater future—he concluded—than Plainfield. What it needed was more enterprise, and he and his friends desired to introduce new life into the municipality. The road they were going to put in was to be the best road in the country.

Mr. Nevins was loudly applauded by the lobby.

THEY REALLY LIKE THE ROAD.

But They Don't Want the "Big Six" to Win the Honors.

During the debate of the Council meeting, last night, Councilmen Ackerman and Glina both fell full observation that they were heartily in sympathy with the plan to give Plainfield rapid transit, but that they thought that every possible restriction should be thrown about the company.

Councilman Hetfield thereupon took occasion to remark that as a matter of fact very few people were really opposed to the road. Of the 12,000 inhabitants not more than 150 had signed remonstrances against the road's coming. Should that be considered a representation of public sentiment? The truth was that the source of all objections was from a very few persons who thought themselves prominent in social and political circles and who didn't want the six now holding a majority in the Council to get any credit for introducing public improvements. The "kickers" were not opposed to street railway, sewerage, or water-works; they only wanted to keep the six in majority from winning honors.

A Pure and Wholesome Plan.

"The Old Homestead", which will be presented at the Stillman Music Hall on Wednesday evening, is well-known as a simple story, and deals with one of the purest types of country life in New England, into which is thrust a wedge of "life in the city," a moving panorama of the two. Many a parent can look back over their past life, and remember just such scenes, and how many times these have been recalled for the benefit of their own children. The moral tone is perfect, the impression pure and wholesome as the most scrupulous can desire; its success is its simplicity in dealing with a subject that comes home to most of its auditors. Very few families to-day but what have their "Joshua Whittcomb," "Aunt Tildy," and son "Bube," and the characters of "Cy Prime," "Seth Perkins," "Happy Jack" and "Bickety Ann" go to make up the list of familiar faces under many a family roof.

Holy Cross Parish Meeting.

The annual parish meeting of the Church of the Holy Cross took place in the church last evening, and resulted in the election of the following officers for the ensuing year: Senior Warden—George P. Dupce. Junior Warden—Charles J. Taggart. Vestrymen—Mason W. Tyler, Thos. E. Warren, John H. Carman, M. D. Samuel Townsend, Wm. L. Saunders. Delegates to Convention—John H. Carman, M. D. William L. Saunders, Clarence L. Murphy. Alternates—George F. Edwards, Harry Bartling, Henry R. Phillips.

New Officers of Grace Church.

At the annual parish meeting of Grace church, held Easter Monday, March 30, the treasurer read his report of receipts and expenditures for the year, and the following were elected for the coming year: Warden—E. L. Finch C. P. Bull. Vestrymen—Jno. B. Dumont, O. T. Waring, William E. Lowe, Howard Fleming, E. N. Erickson, W. R. Cook, W. T. Pelletier. Deputies to Diocesan Convention—J. B. Dumont, W. E. Love and C. P. Bull. Alternates—H. N. Erickson, C. C. Howard and H. Fleming. Delegate to Convention—C. C. Howard.

A Card of Thanks.

I hereby heartily thank my brother foremen and friends for their prompt response to duty and their untiring efforts to save all possible from the flames, in the destruction of my property last night.

The Game and Fish Laws.

Slight changes were made in the Game Laws of New Jersey by the last Legislature, and none in the fish laws.

The following is the "open season" for game birds, animals and fish, and the amount of penalty for violations:

Table with columns: Game, Penalties, Dates. Includes Ruffed Grouse, Quail, Woodcock, Upland Plover, English Snipe, Prairie Chickens, Red Bird, Rail Bird, Wood Hen, Marsh Duck, ANIMALS, Gray Squirrel, Fox Squirrel, Rabbit, FISH, Salmon Trout, Brook Trout, Black Bass, Oswego Bass, Pickerel, Pike.

The law strictly prohibits any net lines or stream stocked by the State with game fish, under a penalty of $25 fine, or any device whatever that will interfere or deter said fish from ascending the streams.

The penalty for killing any song or insectivorous bird, or taking or destroying eggs of such bird, is $25 for each offense.

The penalty for trapping or snaring any game bird at any time or place, either on one's own property or that of another, is $15 for each and every offense.

Non-residents not complying with the laws of the Game Protective Societies of this State are prohibited from shooting within its limits under a penalty of $50, or imprisonment until the fine is paid. The Secretary's office of the "New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Societies" is Plainfield, N. J.

By an act of the last Legislature the charter of the "West Jersey Game Protective Society" was repealed.

Under an act of 1879 the "New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society" was organized at Plainfield, N. J., and to-day it numbers many hundreds of members. Non-residents desiring to join the Society may receive all information by corresponding with the Secretary, W. L. Force, Plainfield, N. J.

SUPERNATURAL TALES.

Julian Hawthorne Writes a Quaint Autobiography.

Personal Experiences in the Occult Revealed by Means of Pen and Ink—The Shadow on the Wall and Other Mysteries.

(Copyright, 1891.)

It often happens to people of my profession to be asked to tell a story—a ghost story by preference—and, if possible, a ghost story of their own experience.

It has happened to me, at many times, and I have uniformly failed to make a good showing. Whether this was because my material was worse than the average, I know not; but I incline to think it was more because I handled it badly.

I am no hand to give the eye narratives. My object is to reach the point of the story by the shortest route, and so have done with it.

But put the shade over the lamp. When I was a boy of twelve or thirteen, I used to sit and watch a hand working a pencil, moving to and fro over a sheet of paper.

The place was situated in a room where all who were familiar with it declared to be haunted. It was an ancient Italian villa, or castle, perched on a hill of the town Apennines overlooking a wide valley.

And several times, as I lay on the floor, watching the hand sweep over the bare wooden floor, I used to suppose it was my mother, and it was not until some years later that I discovered that it was either my imagination—or something else.

As to that, I can only say that none of my children had the least fear of ghosts, or knew that anybody feared them. I had never been frightened by infidels.

However, to go back to that hand. It was a white, well-slender, woman's hand, with long slender fingers, and a turquoise ring on one finger.

It was the era of the Fox Sisters, and of Home's Spiritualism had not lost its novelty. Science has delivered no verdict, and nobody knows whether to believe or not.

AN ORIGINAL RECIPE.

I do not think that I am very vain, but this I do assert, and will maintain, that my recipe for nice brown bread is the product of a genuinely educated head.

Take equal quantities you must, of wheat, Cornmeal and Graham flour (no wheaten flour).

Two eggs, and melted butter, one-half cup of pure, sweet milk, a pint. (Don't drink it, though tempted thereto.) Molasses! Yes, you'll need.

A full half-cup, and after that, indeed, a teaspoonful, and beside, a generous amount of salt. Then, for a guide.

Like cake, so all who eat it will agree that it is praiseworthy with justice.

Handsomeness. Dainty trifles which add to the attractiveness of the Dinner Table.

To the housekeepers who have time and means to add other attractions to their tables than the snowy linen all may have, nothing can be more dainty and fresh than the new center pieces and dollies, in which some flower composes the entire dolly, and forms the border of the center piece.

The design given is just one-third the size of original, and shows a white rose dolly, embroidered in white silk on white damask.

The edge of outer leaves is cut out and worked in button-hole stitch; then the outlines of center leaves are done in stem-stitch, long-and-short-stitch and satin-stitch as shown in illustration.

The flowers for border of center-piece may be used the same size as the dolly, in which case eight will make border, one in each corner, and one in center of each side, two sides being made longer by leaving a small space the width of one leaf, between the side flowers and corner working the same as edge of leaves.

A pansy makes a simple design. While daffodils worked in shaded yellow silk on white make a very rich pattern.

Any of these designs may be followed in colored silks on colored damask, if preferred.

A beautiful center-piece may be done on botanizing silk, by cutting out and painting pansies for border in natural colors and sizes, and fastening them on with invisible stitches.

These same designs make beautiful toilet sets, or lamp or vase mats.

A pretty lamp mat is made by painting the pansy border on the colored chamois, so much the style just now. Table covers and tops of pin cushions are also made of this colored chamois.

In all these it will be found easier to paint the border first, then cut the edges away, making a pretty colored scalloped-edge.—Eva Evans, in Household.

Medici Collar Fichu. A Handsome and Popular Accessory to the Toilet.

A handsome finish for any nice dress to be worn in the house. It is made of cream-white silk, finished in the manner to stand up around the neck at the back, and folded to form V-shaped revers inside a pointed shawl collar of black silk upon which black thread lace about four inches wide is gathered in a ruffle.

DUKE'S FLAYTHING.

A True Story of a Wondrously Smart and Clever Dog.

Who do you suppose Duke is? Some nobleman, who has a great showing that he comes of a proud old race of men?

Oh, no. Duke is a noble, great dog, and not a man at all. But what do you think Duke has for a plaything? Is it not a rubber ball, nor a stick, nor any thing of the kind?

It's a doll. Duke's mistress says she has to give him a doll to play with, just the same as she does her little girl.

When Duke feels like playing he will go to find the doll where he left it after his last frolic, then he will shake it as if he meant to shake the breath out of poor Dolly's body.

He will chew her as if he meant to eat her up. Next he will catch her up in his mouth and run away with her.

By and by, when he is tired of playing, he will run and put Dolly in some dry place, where he can get her the next time he wants to play.

I must tell you something else that is funny about Duke. He never makes it a habit to follow his master or mistress when they go away from the house except on Sunday, when the family starts for church Duke always goes too.

He trots merrily along until he reaches a certain corner, then he stops, turns around and trots home again. Do you not think him a very wise dog?

When Duke sees his master take down his gun he goes peepily wild. He is in part what is called a "setter," a dog that is very fond of hunting.

One day, when his master was going out gunning, he shut Duke up in a room to see what he would do; then he shot off some powder from his gun.

There was a screen in the window covered with cloth in the room where Duke was, and when he heard the gun go off and saw the door was shut, he gave one great bound, burst through the screen, and was at his master's side in a moment.

I do not think Duke was to blame for bounding through the screen, do you? His master will not shut him up in a room again, and then fire off a gun to see what he will do. He has found out.

It would have been very grave had made Duke stay at home because he spoiled the screen. His master loved him too well for that. Duke went hunting, and a fine time he had, too.

Is it not strange that a dog should know so much? How kind every one ought to be to the animals who are so gentle and kind themselves.—Mrs. Harriet A. Cheever, in Our Little Ones.

PASTORIKER'S NERVE TONIC.

A Perfect Success.

The Rev. A. Austin of Rutland, Vt., writes that he is able to judge, I think further than any other, that Pastoriker's Nerve Tonic is a perfect success, for any one who suffered from a most painful nervousness as I did, I find now like myself again after taking the Tonic.

A Strong Proof.

OSKIZIA, CALIF., CANADA, June, 1890. I was first attacked by epilepsy in November 1889, residing in New York. I consulted the best physicians, but they could only arrest the disease, the best one was told that there was no cure for it—I was compelled to give up my profession and return to Canada in 1890; since then I tried innumerable remedies and consulted some of the best physicians, but nothing benefited me until I began to use Pastoriker's Nerve Tonic in September, 1890, since then I feel as usual.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.
