

PLAINFIELD'S PLANS FOR PROGRESS.

Freight House, Water-Works, and Docks, Receive Municipal Attention.

Just when the unsightly freight sheds are to be removed from the centre of the city is still a matter of indifference. According to facts which came to light at last night's meeting of the Common Council a new and very stubborn obstacle has arisen. Councilman Glina, chairman of the special committee having the matter in charge, reported that the committee had had another interview with President Maxwell, and that official said that if the city would get possession of the property adjoining the freight yard the company would willingly vacate its own property there and transform the entire spot into an attractive park, with lawns, shrubbery and driveways. The owner of the property, however, Mr. Glina continued, refused to part with it for any ordinary consideration. The bulk of the land was devoted to a lumber yard, and unless the city would point out a similarly suitable, procurable site it could not have the present one—and even under such terms the price would be very high—certainly not under $30,000. Such a proposition—Mr. Glina added—could hardly be entertained, yet the committee would like to be continued (and it was) in the hope that some adjustment of the problem might be effected.

In water-works matters another step forward was taken. Councilman Moffett returned to the Council the plans and specifications that had been submitted by J. M. Low & Co., of Kingston, N. Y. G. M. Dorrance of Philadelphia, and the Plainfield Water Supply Company. The committee reported that in their judgment the proposed contract should be given to Low & Co., and by motion of Mr. Moffett the matter was returned to the hands of the committee, and they were instructed to draw up, in connection with the Corporation Counsel, a suitable ordinance.

The proposed dog-muzzling ordinance introduced by Mayor Gilbert at a previous meeting and referred to the Committee on Laws and Ordinances was reported back, in amended shape, by councilman Rushmore, for adoption. Its provisions were that all dogs, male and female, permitted on the streets between June 1 and October 1, should be properly muzzled, and that dog catchers' fees should be fifty cents for each dog caught. Councilman Glina thought that the ordinance already on the books covered the case; all that was necessary was to secure its enforcement. Mr. Glina added that he was opposed to muzzling dogs anyway; it was, he thought, a sort of refined cruelty. Councilman Hotfield added that science had determined that rabies were not peculiar to any season, but as likely to be developed in winter, when dogs ordinarily are unmuzzled, as in summer. Councilman Rushmore explained that so far as muzzling went the proposed ordinance gave the dogs more liberty than did the existing one, for under that now in force the dog is required to be muzzled all the year 'round. The main purpose of the ordinance, he added—was to increase each catcher's fee from twenty-five to fifty cents. No catcher would accept a fee less than 50 cents, and up to date the extra 25 cents not provided by law always had come out of the mayor's pocket. Fifty cents, he concluded—was little enough. No man could be expected to go around catching dogs and getting everybody mad at him for less than 50 cents a dog. The first section of the ordinance, shortening the period of muzzling, was lost. Councilmen Ackerman, Johnston, Rushmore, Smith and Spangenberg voted aye, and Councilmen Gallup, Glina, Hotfield, Moffett, Roberts and See voted no. The remaining section of the ordinance, increasing the dog catcher's fee to 50 cents, was passed. Councilmen Ackerman, Glina, Johnston, Roberts, Rushmore, See, Smith and Spangenberg voting aye, and Councilmen Gallup, Hotfield and Moffett voting no. The amended ordinance was then adopted on its second reading and ordered engrossed and advertised, all voting aye.

Councilman Moffett, chairman of the special committee appointed to secure the passage of the Plainfield sewer bill in the Legislature, reported that the bill had been signed by the Governor, and requested that the committee, having accomplished its work, be discharged, which was done.

An ordinance amending the recently passed street railway ordinance, merely correcting several clerical errors, was passed on its second reading and ordered engrossed and advertised.

In reference to the proposed widening and extension of Peace street, chairman Rushmore of the committee in charge reported that progress was being made, and that the committee were now in consultation with the Young Men's Christian Association and the Society of Friends, whose property would be affected by the change. The committee would—be said—probably be able to report something definite in the near future.

The liquor license application of James O'Neill was laid on the table, and Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh was instructed to give his opinion concerning the legality of some of the signatures on it. The ordinance provides that a signer to an application shall not have signed any similar certificate within a year. Mr. Marsh said that on first reading he was of the opinion that the intent of the law was that no signer should have signed another certificate within a year, whether the former application had been granted or refused, but he desired time to see how the courts had ruled in the matter. Some of O'Neill's signers, it seems, signed other license applications this spring, but the applications for which they signed were refused.

The sum of $100 was unanimously donated, on motion of Councilman Hotfield, to Grand Army Posts 73 and 109, for Memorial Day purposes.

A communication was received from L. V. F. Randolph, Lawrence Myers, Charles Hyde, J. T. Clason, and others, protesting against the rumored proposition to extend the electric street railway out East Front street, and announcing their readiness to resist by all lawful means such a scheme.

Ordinance establishing the grade on North avenue and East Third street were adopted on third reading and final passage.

The Council adjourned to meet again Monday evening, May 11, at 8 o'clock, in spite of the indignant protest of Mr. Glina, who asked why such frequent adjourned meetings were held, and who said that never before in Plainfield's history had there been so many Council meetings, and yet the present Council was not accomplishing any more than its predecessors. We might—be added—just as well stay in continual session all the time. The vote for an adjourned meeting was 6 to 5, Councilmen Ackerman, Glina, Johnston, Rushmore and See voting no.

Westfield Also Needs Two Pitchers to Win. Greg of the Crescents was n't the only Central New Jersey baseball pitcher that was batted out of the box Saturday. In the game between the Westfield Athletic Club and the Pingry team of Elizabeth, Sampson, who pitched up to the sixth inning for the Westfields, was getting pounded in a rather lively manner by the Pingrys, when O'Neill, their expert pitcher, was substituted. He was not batted very hard until the ninth inning, when Ayres and Fredericks succeeded in getting two baggers. Fisher made two pretty hits for the Pingry during the game. Howe and Diven were excellent in fielding for the Westfields, and Johnson hauled in some seemingly safe hits from the Elizabeth boys.

The Pingry showed the effects of well-disciplined practice, handling bat and ball well and running bases daringly, but with excellent judgment. But Westfield won by the score of 8 to 4. The players were: Westfield—McManus, catcher; O'Neill, short stop and pitcher; Howe, second base; Diven, first base; McLaughlin, left field; Johnson, centre field; Trust, right field; Sampson, pitcher and short stop; Wilcox, third base. Pingry—Runyon, first base; Applegate, third base; Ayres, short stop; Fredericks, right field; Redges, pitcher; Armitage, catcher; Pope, second base; Teal, centre field; Fisher, left field.

The game had many spectators, who watched the sport with great interest.

Compers to Reply to Foreword.
LYNN, Mass., May 5.—It is stated here that President Compers has prepared a reply to Grand Master Workman Fowler in answer to his statement in the last number in the official organ of the Knights of Labor with regard to the lock-out of the union printers by the Duluth "Times." It is said that the reply will be issued next week.

A GANG OF BOLD TRAMPS.

They Feed on Stolen Chickens, and Sleep on Public Benches.

A gang of twelve or fifteen tramps have made a rendezvous in the woods along the Central Railroad, between Westfield and Cranford. In the daytime they scour the country roundabout begging, and at night rob hen-roosts and commit other petty thefts. Last Thursday night they raided the chicken-houses in Cranford and took some valuable fowls. Their latest and most serious depredations occurred Sunday night in Westfield. By two and three they wandered about the town all day until the suspicions of some of the citizens were aroused and they asked Constable Marsh to question the men. He did so, but received only evasive replies, whereupon he warned them to leave the place.

One of the tramps went to Dr. Cooper's house during the afternoon under the plea of requiring medical assistance. The doctor being absent at the moment, the man was shown into the private office, but soon went into the parlor and made himself at home on the lounge. Miss Cooper went into the room and ordered the man out. There was fire in her eye, and he left.

Sunday night, at about 9 o'clock, two tramps went into the house of George Burrill, a colored man living on the "flat" and began to ransack the house and to tear things to pieces. Mr. Burrill was at church, but his son, about fourteen, got his father's pistol and fired two shots at the men, neither taking effect. As soon as the news of this affair reached the village there was much excitement, and a company of men and boys armed with revolvers and clubs started out to mob the tramps on sight. The absence of a leader, however, and the uncertainty about storming the tramps' headquarters, had a cooling effect on the crowd, which went no further than the railroad.

Several houses were tried during the night, but the bungling work aroused the occupants in time to frighten the marauders. There is talk of forming a vigilance committee for mutual protection.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.
This is a boy-and question the most successful Cough M. Action we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, and which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 100, 50c, and 25c. If your lungs are sore, chest, or have lame, use Shiloh's Cough Cure. Sold by J. G. Miller, No. 10 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

There May be an Extra Session.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 5.—Senator Donald McNaughton has returned from Albany, where, since the adjournment of the Legislature, he has been giving his attention to his bills which passed the Senate and are awaiting the Governor's signature. He said: "The matter of a special session is not yet settled, though, of course, from present appearances we will have none. There is a strong sentiment, however, for an extension of the Legislature and it may be strong enough to induce the Governor to call it."

Sudden Death of Judge Angie.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 5.—Ex-Judge James L. Angie died last evening a short time after he had moved into his summer residence in the town of Greece, a suburb of this city.

Crucial Election at Huanita.
CRU, O. Mexico, May 5.—Telegrams from the State of Hidalgo state that serious riots have occurred at Huanita.

He Wants the Marked Ballot.
BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 5.—Chairman Grant of the Democratic Town Committee has demanded on Democratic Town Clerk Watson for the ballot box containing the 126 marked ballots, claimed to have been cast at the last election, and the cause of the Governorship conflict. Watson refused the demand, and said he would consult counsel before he surrendered the box.

Out for Nine Hours.
NEWARK, N. J., May 5.—Fully 500 members of the Journeymen Carpenters and Joiners' Union in this city, and at least 600 more throughout the country, have gone on strike for nine hours' pay for eight hours' work. About 150 new buildings are left in an incomplete condition by the strike.

He Is Held to $5,000,000.
LOWELL, Mass., May 5.—G. M. Gale, a partner of this place, has been held to the information that he is one of the heirs to $5,000,000 of property in England.

Senator Call Gains Two Votes.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 5.—Senator Call's vote was increased on the last ballot to 53, a gain of two.

The Word "milliner" owes its origin to the word "milliner" as a substitute for telephone message.
The law of evolution works in language as well as in other things. Twenty thousand words have been added to the English language in the department of biology alone since Darwin's discoveries.

The latest linguistic importation from London is the verb "to finance," which is used to denote the process of furnishing funds for a financial institution. It is rather worse, on the whole, than "induced."
"Pseudopathy" and "pseudotherapy" have been added to the medical vocabulary by Oliver Wendell Holmes. The first of these words signifies the quick science of disease and the other means the quick method of healing.

The great popularity of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is accounted for in the millions of cures it annually makes. It has no equal. Price 25 cents.

AN ECCENTRIC ENGLISHMAN.

The late duke of Bedford made the twelfth year to commit suicide during this century.

By the late duke of Bedford's will not only his body was cremated, but several boxes of personal effects, including boots, slippers and several walking sticks and umbrellas.

His body of the extremely rich and eccentric duke of Bedford, whose recent sudden taking off caused a sensation in England, was incinerated in a crematory built especially for this one cremation.

The late duke of Bedford set in the house of commons for twenty-five years and in the house of lords for eighteen years, in all a parliamentary career of forty-three years, without opening his lips. His estate covered 115 acres in London, with about three thousand residences or shops.

His late duke of Bedford was very much of a hermit. He rarely went abroad, and not one in a thousand of his tenants had ever seen him. His income exceeded $1,000 a day, and every morning he awoke to find himself richer than he was the day before.

Although the late duke of Bedford was cremated, when the heirs raised the coffin they found it as heavy as usual, the duke having left instructions that a piece of lead should be put into his coffin with a statement of the cremation, in case, if the coffin were opened centuries hence, there should arise some suspicion concerning his death.
