CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD
DAILIES COMBINED.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., JULY 12, 1894

"One of the prettiest and most prosperous towns in New Jersey"—that's the description of Plainfield read by all Philadelphia in the columns of The Inquirer of that city. It paid to have that exclamation come to Plainfield. You haven't begun to hear the reports yet; they'll be world-wide and full of praise. Plainfield is like The Press, "Always ahead and on the go."

The orders for the Editorial Souvenir Edition of The Daily Press continue to come in, and copies are freely sent by appreciative citizens to friends at a distance. This is an easy method of making people everywhere acquainted with Plainfield's charms. Order early, as the supply is now limited. Two cents secures a copy, and there is no charge for mailing to any address.

The publication of the Laws of New Jersey is completed by The Constitutionalist this week. The publisher adopted the plan of giving the laws entire in two issues, this being an especial convenience for those who wish to preserve them. Local lawyers have complimented The Constitutionalist on the form, and have found them easiest kept and best for ready reference as published thus. The plan of scattering them in small batches through many issues is condemned by those interested in the laws.

The new directory of New York city contains 357,411 names. On a basis of 5 to 1, which is believed to be a fair ratio, the metropolis contains 1,787,055 inhabitants who transact business on 41 square miles. The Chicago directory gives the inhabitants of 285 square miles. The publishers of the New York directory estimate that 185 square miles, with Central Park as a centre, would include over 4,000,000 persons. The pretensions of Chicago to close rivalry with New York are upset, when the region naturally and closely tributary to New York is considered in the count.

Suppose a front street storekeeper had trouble with his delivery wagon drivers, and suppose they quit work. Add to this that all his employees went out in sympathy with them; then that the clerks of all the front street grocers followed suit; then that the employees of every merchant in the city quit work to help along the cause, and then after this, when all business had ceased, the clerks and drivers and other employees began to burn down the stores and to endanger the lives of all who came along expecting to buy goods. What would Plainfield people think of this situation? And yet isn't it perfectly analogous to that of the Western States?

The arts printorial are faithfully served in the new form of Paper and Press, published by Wm. M. Patton at 1414 South Penn square, Philadelphia. This has long been a popular periodical among the printing trade, and now it is issued in handy magazine form, with features that commend it to all who love handsome printing and beautiful illustrations, besides valuable information of what is new in the publishing, printing, writing, and illustrating world. All of these things Paper and Press contains. The cost to subscribers is only 15 cents a copy, or $1 a year. Paper and Press is a bureau of information to the trade, and a pleasure to all who turn its handsome pages.

Turning from the strikers and their allies, who certainly number less than a million, to the other seventy millions of the people of the United States, one finds an encouraging disposition to give hearty support to the President in the preservation of peace and the enforcement of law. Senator Peffer sought to give aid and comfort to the common enemy yesterday, but was rebuffed by both Democrats and Republicans. Men of all parties patriotically support President Cleveland, and, if necessity should require it, will rally to his support as they did to the support of Lincoln in 1861.

There is continued talk of arbitration to settle the difficulty, but it is mainly by the followers of Debs, who would be very glad to get something to show for their reckless assault upon the public and their sacrifices of life and property. But even the consideration of arbitration should be postponed until the strikers and their sympathizers in all parts of the Union have been reduced to obedience to the law. The deluded followers of Debs and Sovereign have given up work pending a settlement of the Pullman strike. Nobody is trying to force them to work. They can remain out indefinitely, so long as they do not interfere with other men who have the same rights as themselves. Not until the railroads from Maine to California are free to run trains with such help as they may procure will the time come to treat with these sympathetic strikers, who have no grievances of their own, but are seeking to coerce the Pullman Company by inflicting distress upon the people of the whole country and loss upon the railroad companies and the counties and States where property may be destroyed. Submission in the smallest degree to such a boycott would invite others, even more troublesome and dangerous.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Always Up to Date.
(From The Albany Daily Journal.)
H. H. Baker, General Passenger Agent of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, is another prominent railroad man attracted to Asbury Park by the Educational Convention. He made the Coleman House his stopping place.

Everybody praises F. A. Dunham's Atlas of Plainfield, recently published. It shows at a glance the location of every home, store, and place of interest in the city and borough, and The Press finds it a valuable aid in its every-day work. Charles Potter sent Mr. Dunham a check for the Atlas, and wrote across the check "Atlas good thing."

THE BROKEN RAILWAY STRIKE

FAILURE OF THE ATTEMPTED TIE-UP AT TELED.

Passenger and Freight Trains Moving on All Trunk Lines—No Strike on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul—Men Returning to Work.

(Special to The Press.)

TOLEDO, O., July 12.—The strike situation here is decidedly improved. All the trunk-line roads are moving through freight without interruption. Some are getting out local freight irregularly. The Lake Shore has a full complement of non-union men, and is moving all freight without difficulty, and has cleared out all accumulation of cars in its yards. The Wheeling and Lake Erie is at a standstill, having discharged its men, and has yet made no movement to resume freight business. There has not been the slightest interruption to passenger traffic for several days, and it is believed that there will be no more serious trouble here.

The Michigan Central yardmen, who were expected to strike this morning, decided not to do so, and are all at work. The eight yardmen of the Clover Leaf who went out yesterday morning were notified last night to report for duty this morning, or their places would be filled by outsiders. Two went to work, and the others are expected to follow. That road sent out two freight trains, and expects no further trouble.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The report that the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway men decided last night, to strike is emphatically denied by officials of the road today. General Manager Farling says that the who had been on strike have returned to work, and that the road is running its trains without interference.

The engineers and firemen have begun to regard their strike as lost.

A STRIKE LEADER ARRESTED.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

CHICAGO, July 12.—George W. Lovejoy of La Salle, Ill., a prominent member of the American Railway Union, was arrested last night for intimidating John T. Campbell, a telegraph operator.

The railroad companies are refusing to discharge non-union men for the sake of strikers willing to return to work.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Board of Trade will meet tonight.

—D. W. Little ate corn from his own garden July 4.

—The number of M. E. excursionists, Tuesday, was 467.

—Justice Nash this morning issued a summons returnable July 18 in the contract case of Griffin against Cole.

—The infant son of Mrs. Mary Kilgore of Cottage place died yesterday, aged four days. The funeral was held this afternoon.

—A meeting of the Board of Visitors of the Freshen's Relief Association will be held in A. D. Mallinson's pharmacy this evening.

—The election in North Plainfield for members of the School Board will be held in the school-house at 7 p. m., Wednesday, July 20.

—Cranford has repealed the franchise of the Plainfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company to lay tracks through that township.

—Those in need of the services of a loan office will find Samuel Dreier in business at the old stand, 103 Madison avenue, corner of Front street.

—The suit of Augustus Frazer against his son, George Frazer, for $5,000, will be tried by Judge VanSlyke in the Supreme Court, Elizabeth, in September.

—Two contract cases will be tried by Justice Mosher July 17, those of Edward TenEyck against John Galbraith, and of Richard Meade against Patrick Keely.

—Richard Buego and Mrs. Jennie Buckhart, colored, of Cottage place, were married by Justice Mosher in his court room shortly after 3 yesterday afternoon.

—Another jury trial of the case of the Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company against Daniel McCarthy will be held in Justice Mosher's Court Monday morning at 10.

—A horse of Capt. Hand, attached to a carriage, ran away on Madison avenue this morning, and brought up against a tree in front of Alert's old house. No one was hurt, but two wheels of the vehicle were wrecked.

—The letters of "Westfield" in the Daily Press are causing something of a sensation in the Centennial town, and guesses of their authorship are the recreation of the hour. Everyone is wide of the mark, so far as reported.

—Prepare for the emergencies of the season by getting a supply of Summer remedies. Any of those sold by Leggett may save a life if you have them on hand. Do not leave town for the country without a supply, as the remedies may be hard to get where you go.

—W. H. Adams writes a letter to The Press declaring his innocence of the charges made against him by Mrs. Farley, and stating harsh things which The Press feels would be better told to a grand jury. The matter will doubtless be fully investigated by the courts, and Mr. Adams will then receive whatever vindication he merits.

—The enterprising advertising that March, Ayres & Co. are doing in The Daily Press is having the result of attracting large numbers of purchasers to the great sale of wall papers now in progress at that store. This firm has an established reputation for honest dealing, and this is a rare opportunity to secure some elegant bargains for your homes.

141 East Front street is not far from the Post-office, and that is their number. Go there now, before the sale is over.

WIMAN GETS A STAY.

Justice Barrett Has Issued a Certificate for an Appeal.
(Special to The Press.)

New York, July 12.—Judge Barrett of the Supreme Court this morning granted a certificate of reasonable doubt in the case of Erasmus Wiman. Judge Barrett says that all question as to whether the indictment was made with intent to defraud Bullinger or to defraud Wiman's own bank, were substantially excluded from the consideration of the jury. Under the certificate which is now granted by Judge Barrett an application will undoubtedly be made for the release of Wiman on bail pending the appeal and its determination by the General Term of the Supreme Court.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Amos Moffett is slowly improving.

Mayor Gilbert is expected home today from his three-days vacation.

George P. Dupes and son Charles will sail for Europe Saturday, July 21.

Mrs. Charles Matthews has gone to spend the Summer at Mt. Pocono.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Dupes and Master George went to Sea Girt today.

Miss Eliza Flory of Bangor, Pa., is visiting Mrs. J. C. Martin of Duer street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Day of Madison avenue left town today for the Summer.

David Snodder and family of Grove street are at 603 Asbury avenue, Asbury Park.

Miss Catherine Startup of Middletown is visiting Mrs. Alex. Willett of Craig place.

Miss Sadie Holmes of Grandview avenue is spending a few weeks in Long Branch.

Samuel H. Milliken and family left today for the Danvers Sanitarium, Danvers, N. Y.

Mr. Harberger of Boston is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. S. Harberger of West Front street.

F. H. Andrews and family of Central avenue went to the mountains for the season yesterday.

Miss Nellie Warnock of Yonkers is visiting her sister, Mrs. Howard Wilson of Grove street.

Miss Beatrice Chandler of Grove street will spend a few weeks in Belmar, leaving Plainfield Saturday.

Miss Rita Coleman of Anderson, Warren County, is a guest of Miss Grace Rowland of East Second street.

Mrs. Richard G. Fisher of West Fourth street, who was stricken with paralysis in Asbury Park Tuesday, is improving gradually.

Charles A. Reed and family left today for Forked River, to be gone about a month. The Riverside House is their headquarters.

Miss Lucy Randolph of 404 Central avenue was married to Lewis Johnson Sunday night by Rev. J. O. McKelvey of Warren Chapel.

Edgar Sefeld, formerly employed by D. W. Rogers, has secured a position in the baggage rooms of the Lehigh Valley Railroad in Perth Amboy.

Miss Eva Wilkins of East Fifth street returned today from Orange, with her friend Miss Anna Markwith, who will spend some time with her.

Mrs. Frank Green and daughter Carrie have been spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rogers of West Second street and today left for Bound Brook to visit Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Ramsey.

Andrew E. Kenney is home for two weeks from Boston and vicinity. He has been doing good service in the interests of the Catholic Benevolent League. His next field of operations will be Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Asbury Park hotel registers show the following Plainfield names: Owen—Chas. B. Thiel; Metropolitan—Mrs. L. M. French, Mrs. F. A. Pope; Leroy—M. Platt, J. Cornwell and family; Minot—Mrs. J. S. Schoonmaker; Fifth Avenue—Miss Mary L. Newman.

Charles Hogan is today entertaining the following party on board his handsome yacht: Mr. and Mrs. James Scott, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Evans, Mrs. W. J. Roome, Mrs. Saunders, P. B. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brewster.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. R. F. B. Hunsman in the loss of their son Robert John, who passed away yesterday in Belmar. He had been taken to the shore in the hope that the sea air would restore his health. Jack was a remarkably bright and interesting boy; his happy ways will be sadly missed by the wide circle of friends of the afflicted parents.

Marshall Pangborn Chase bears.

Women on East Front street and West Front street were greeted at their doors this morning by bears and their owners. The bears numbered three, and were as big as they were tame. They danced and paraded till they ventured over into the street and headed their owners away. They then headed for New Market, but returned to town and gave an exhibition at the North Avenue station.

BEAUTY PILLOWS.

They May Be Filled With Rose Leaves, Violets or Pine Needles.

It is now the fashion to have a beauty pillow, as it is called, which is a euphemism for something very hard and uncomfortable for the head to rest upon at night. The soft reposeful feather pillows which have hitherto been the confidants of our mid-night meditations are to be cast aside as deleterious to the system, and possibly, and their place is to be taken by a story hearted article distended with rose leaves, violets, pine needles or some other stuffing poetically suggestive, theoretically healthful and practically so hard that that proverbial head that wears a crown could rest no more unasily than does that of the simple republican fiddler.

Vegetation is not the only filling recommended for these new beautifiers. Somebody has lately advised the use of paper torn into tiny fragments. But it would seem that discrimination should be exercised in the selection of material for this sort of stuff. A pillow full of unpaid bills, rejected manuscripts or outgrown love letters might be a fruitful source of restlessness and nightmare while on the other hand, one with an agreeable and soothing table of contents would be calculated to allay mental disturbance and induce slumber. A woman inclined to melancholia might be cured by sleeping on a cushion stuffed with the best jokes that can be culled from the newspapers and funny publications; insomnia might be warded off by old snoring torn very small indeed; a too volatile and frivolous spirit could be cured by a pillowful of death and funeral notices—in fact, there is no limit to psychological possibilities in this direction, and the experiment is certainly worth trying. While we are making up our minds just what sort of a pillow is best suited to our particular case we can use one stuffed with curled hair if feathers and down are too warm.

The sketch given shows a moire and taffeta gown. The first skirt of moire has an application of pointed gulle around the bottom. The second skirt is of taffeta draped at the side. The full pointed bodice of taffeta has moire revers covered with guilpe and decorated with pendent ends of moire. The halloo sleeves, also of taffeta, have guilpe cuffs.

GRANDMOTHER'S TRUNK.

If It Contains a Treasure, You Have a Treasure.

Some women are fortunate enough to have a grandmother's trunk in the garage. Perhaps it is covered with hide and decorated with brass headed nails, or it may be a stout wooden chest made when work was done to last. But whatever the cover, the inside is sure to be rich with the treasures of a past generation, so old fashioned that they are now new fashionable.

NEWS OF NEAR NEIGHBORS.

Dunellen and New Market.

Jacob Henry is visiting friends in New Haven.

Hugo Kries of Brooklyn is visiting at the home of Mr. Kries.

Adam Deslaines went to Somerville yesterday on business.

Fred Nelson has purchased a handsome and stylish team of horses.

Peter Bryan of Sweden is visiting his nephew, Edward F. Brown.

Ray Bartelle of Plainfield is stopping at the home of Rev. Mr. Betsy.

Miss Elvora Grish of New York is the guest of Miss Emma Liebs.

Phillip Kari has returned from a business trip through the State.

A party of five Plainfielders enjoyed yesterday at Washington Rock.

George Fiering of Plainfield was the guest of Dunellen friends yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sedell of South Plainfield called on friends in Dunellen yesterday.

Miss Mary Hague was entertained by Mrs. Fred Canfield in Plainfield yesterday.

Miss Mabel Lewis, after a pleasant visit in Elizabeth, returned home yesterday.

There is one unclaimed letter in the Dunellen post-office—for Adolphus E. Eery.

Mrs. Kitchen of New Market is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Conover.

Daniel Kneuter is spending a few days in New York, and will visit Buffalo Bill's Wild West show.

Rev. Father Gault will occupy the pulpit of the Catholic Church during the absence of the pastor.

Frederick A. Pope of Somerville was in town yesterday in the interest of the sale of the Todd estate.

Rev. V. D. Bogard of the Catholic Church called yesterday for Holland. He will be gone two months.

The Dunellen Juniors are very anxious to meet the Arlington of Plainfield, and would like to arrange a game.

E. E. Anderson of Hightstown is in the borough on business, relative to the new Building and Loan Association.

Summer boarders from the city are scarce this year, and those who usually entertain a number feel the effects of it.

William Burkhardt of New York is pleasantly spending a few days at the home of his grandfather, Herman Trust.

The sale of the late James Todd estate did not take place yesterday. Special Master Voorhees adjourned it for eighteen weeks.

The funeral of the late Maggie Maloney took place this afternoon at 3 from the house. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Plainfield.

The new ball field near the railroad station was laid out and put in excellent condition last evening, preparatory to Saturday's game with the Bound Brooks.

Fairwood.

Col. C. K. Moore left this morning for the State encampment at Sea Girt to remain with his regiment until July 21.

Those stones placed on North avenue just east of Terrill road break up the extending of the trotters. Mr. Force cannot understand why the only good road for speeding should be so impaired.

It is understood that a question as to legality of the present Township Committee was recently raised and appeal made to the Post-office department to ascertain whether a government officer could hold office as a township trustee. The reply was that he could not, and it is a question whether the acts of the present committee are legal. Abner P. Downer being a member of that committee and Postmaster also.

Under the new law relating to school trustees, this township is to elect its members of the board July 24. Very few realize the importance of this election. It is to be hoped that every person entitled to vote will make it a point to see that other business be laid aside for the limit of time necessary to cast his ballot and that only representative men be balloted for. Under the present board and largely through the influence of such men as David P. Hall, Thos. J. Nichol, A. D. Shepard and Dr. Westcott the schools in this township have attained a standing second, in fact, to those of very few in the State. The fact of a greater number of members in the new board than ever before makes the duty of each taxpayer greater to guard against the election of those not in accord with progressive American ideas.

WEST END NOTES.

Fred Wenden is welcomed back to the West End.

The Misses Casper of Newark are visiting friends and relatives in the West End.

Mrs. Frank McElroy of New York is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Coss of 232 Grant avenue.

Alvah Hoffman has returned home after spending a few weeks with friends and relatives in California.

A strong baseball team is being made up, and will be ready soon. The first game will be with the Crescents.

Miss Mamie Cady and Miss Lizzie Clifton of Worcester are attending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. John Ardern of Manson place have returned home.

Rehoboth Restaurant.

As tempting a place for refreshment as any of New York's restaurants is the newly-ditted place of Max Wertz, at 544 West Front street. Mr. Wertz established his reputation as steward of the Union County Country Club, and those who desire a choice dinner or who want to entertain their friends in the highest style of the caterer's art should give Mr. Wertz their orders. Mr. Wertz's restaurant can be secured for the exclusive use of a large party, and orders for catering in private homes will receive prompt attention. The new wagon of the establishment will be ready in a short time. The restaurant is equipped in the elegant style to be expected of Mr. Wertz, given and china-ware. The cook is a high priced man of wide experience, and the service in every way all that the fastidious can desire. It is an institution that Plainfield has not yet had, and one that it should support.

CHURCH CHIMES.

The Abury Park daily papers charge 5 cents a line for the regular Sunday notices.

The Plainfield papers insert them free.

The Mt. Zion camp-meeting, will commence in Vall's Grove, July 21, with more improvements for the accommodation of its patrons than ever before.

The Mystic Mirror, published by Rev. F. G. Warrick, formerly of Plainfield, is a steady arrival from Metawan, and is interesting. The July issue has eight pages, and is printed in red.

Commencing with tonight, there will be held a series of meetings in the East Third Street Mission, every Thursday night at 8. The local pastors will speak. Rev. D. J. Yerkes, D. D., will take charge of tonight's services.

Baton Point is a new resort for Plainfield excursionists, and a delightful place. Those who are fond of a fine trip on the water and a pleasant day on the shore should join the Grace M. E. party next Tuesday. The train leaves Plainfield at 7:45, and the fare is $1.25. Children can go for 50 cents.

An accidental juxtaposition of facts resulted in the appearance of a laughable paragraph in a recent issue of the Brooklyn Times, under the heading of church news:

The Rev. Dr. Crowder, of Rockville Centre, M. E. Church, will exchange pulpits tomorrow morning with the Rev. Mr. Hudson of the Baptist Church. In the evening Dr. Crowder will occupy his own pulpit, taking for his subject, "Behold I Have Played the Fool".

Holy Cross Brotherhood's new, cozy room in the Parish Building was formally opened at the regular monthly meeting last evening, when a goodly number of members made themselves at home in the bright and cheery apartment.

The new room has been most tastefully arranged for the purpose and will prove a great addition to the many attractions of the growing organization. Games and musical instruments as well as a library of books, magazines and papers, go to make the pretty club-room a thing to be proud of. The members were given keys to the room, which will always be open to them for a meeting place for social enjoyment and pleasant intercourse.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck gave credit to The Press in a recent sermon, for the local church statistics. "Why," said he, "I learn from The Press that we have over thirty meeting places in Plainfield! It astounds me." He went on to praise The Press for the information it had given, and thanked the papers of Plainfield, in the name of the church, for the good work they all did in giving up to the churches each week so much space, free of cost, for regular Sunday announcements and editorial paragraphs. He said the newspapers of Plainfield were material coworkers with the Church, in doing so much to interest the public in the services and in striving to secure large attendances.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Cyclers training on the Crescent track find the riding rough.

Harper's Bazar for this week tells how a woman should ride a bicycle. It is full of pointers.

A colored hostler, learning to ride a wheel, collided with another cycle on Park avenue near Sixth street this morning. The colored man's wheel was damaged in the crash.

Beginning tomorrow in the Abury Park races, A. H. Barnett will be a Class B rider. He leaves the stricter class of amateurs because of the way in which he has been handicapped since he won the Irvington-Millburn.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Voorhies of Madison avenue rode on their wheels yesterday over the loops of the century route on the Atlantic Wheelmen's race will be run Saturday. They found the roads bad, especially in the neighborhood of Neahane and Princeton. The principal racing will have to be done between Newark and Plainfield and New Brunswick and Newark.

The Elizabeth Journal says: "Barnett will ride in the two-mile handicap at Abury Park on Friday, Class B. As soon as he accepted Spalding's offer to ride on that team, Abe at once informed Chairman Raymond of the fact. A nice reply, complimenting the Jersey rider for his honesty, is now in Barnett's possession. Barnett is known to be one of the whitest, most honest bicycle riders that ever entered a race."

The members of the Plainfield Lady Cyclers have shown familiar acquaintance with the divine music in the tasteful little book of songs just issued by them through the Daily Press print. The dainty volume contains original verse composed by the various members of the club, and these are set to familiar music. They are clever and witty, and at times full of sentiment. The various local allusions will be especially appreciated.

Wild West in Town.

Westerville avenue boys have become imbued with the Wild West idea, and a large gang of them last evening had great sport in lassoing, dragging, and burning at the stake, victims of their fancy. Two fights resulted, from the boys not being able to keep their temper over the rough play, and while one boy sat down to nurse a bleeding nose another sought parental protection in front of his father's front gate. After the excitement they all gathered under an electric light and discussed their adventures. There's nothing like being a boy.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

CLEVELAND, O., July 12.—Cleveland was gaily dressed in yellow and white, and red, white and blue yesterday when the delegates to the big Christian Endeavor convention began arriving in flock.

Nearly every store, shop and other business establishment in the downtown district was profusely decorated, either upon the outer walls or in the windows, the effect being beautiful and inspiring.

At the railroad stations and steamship wharves, members of the reception committees were to be found at break of day, and they continued at their stations until relieved by others on like missions.

The scene on account of the stricture interfering with the plans of intending visitors has blown over to some extent, and while the attendance will be cut down to a considerable extent, still the convention will be a very large one. Big delegations came from Detroit, Toledo and Buffalo by boat, and every train was crowded. Besides these, a number of specials came in bearing visitors from points east, west and south. To-day it is estimated that from 15,000 to 20,000 have arrived.

Harper's Weekly gives the following interesting statistics:

Christian Endeavor has had a marvelous growth in its fourteen years. It has passed the "big boy" period, and is far on the way to manhood. Its progress is indicated in the following statistics:

MEMBERSHIP OF THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Year	Societies	Members
In 1898	1	48
In 1899	7	481
In 1900	56	2,870
In 1901	156	8,905
In 1902	238	10,964
In 1903	380	50,000
In 1904	524	140,000
In 1905	679	210,000
In 1906	872	285,000
In 1907	1,103	369,000
In 1908	1,384	498,000
In 1909	1,724	670,000
In 1910	2,104	850,000
In 1911	2,524	1,070,000
In 1912	2,824	1,277,000
In 1913 (on record January 1)	3,241	1,734,000

To this may be justly added kindred denominational organizations of young people that have sprung from the Christian Endeavor idea. The most notable of these is the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal churches, with nearly a million members. The Christian Endeavor movement has reached most of the Protestant churches. Twenty-five denominational conferences have been arranged for at Cleveland. The pastor's study has widened, and the world is welcoming the Christian Endeavor study. President Clark in a recent tour of the world, found a Christian Endeavor welcome and a Mizpah benediction in every land.

At the business meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church Christian Endeavor Society held last evening it was decided that the society should do its share in raising the money for the drinking fountain which the local union will erect at the corner of Somerset and East Front street.

An Unusual Opportunity.

The enterprising Newark dry goods firm of L. Bamberger & Co., are at present engaged in the disposal of their remaining Spring and Summer stock at such low prices that it is almost wasteful extravagance not to purchase there while the sale is in progress. The goods are all new, having been bought by them within the past month, and the only reason for this sale and the extraordinary bargains it contains is that it is contrary to the policy of the firm to carry goods from season to season, and rather than do so they have marked many of them to less than cost. Their establishment, well named "the always busy store," has been running since the sale began. It is an unusual opportunity to supply present and future wants that should not be permitted to escape.

Among the Indians.

In Paugh Caught Naugh Siquue Tribe of Red Men last night the chiefs-elect were raised to the stumps by Deputy Great Sachem Warren C. Westlake of Elizabeth. Interesting talks were given by the visiting staff, members of the tribe, and a delegation from Miantonomoh Tribe.

Several palefaces will be adopted by Miantonomoh Tribe of Red Men tomorrow evening. Deputy Great Sachem Westlake and staff of Elizabeth will raise the chiefs-elect, and the usual programme and banquet will follow.

A Delightful Summer Excursion is to Mountain Lake (4500 feet above sea level) or Cloudland (6394 feet above sea level) advertised by the Norfolk and Western Railroad. No heat and no mosquitoes at either of these places. Stop overs allowed at Luray Caverns and Natural Bridge. Tickets part sea and part rail if desired. Address L. J. Ellis, agent, 317 A Broadway, New York.

Recalled from Vacation.

J. Lance Mundy has been called back to work because of the illness of his substitute in Rockfellow's store. This was Bill Conover, who sprained an ankle by a fall from a bicycle about a month ago, and whose injury caused him so much pain that he had to give up work soon after assuming Mr. Mundy's duties. Mr. Mundy was sent for yesterday.

Installation.

THE SCHOOL BANK.

It Inculcates Habits of Saving and Teaches the Value of Money.

In no other way can the habits of thrift and economy be so well instilled in the youthful mind as by means of the banking system as it is practiced in many of the most progressive public schools. Ordinarily deposits of from a cent up are received by the teacher upon the morning of a certain day each week, and pupils may draw money upon that day by giving previous notice. Every child is furnished with a bankbook, in which are printed regulations. Checks, receipts and deposit slips are also given by the board of education, and every scholar above the infant grade is required to fill out all blanks necessary in the transaction of business. This is done not only for the practical ideas it gives the pupil, but as a protection to the system. The money received each week is placed in a local national bank, which, for the honor of being the custodian of the children's funds, is always ready to pay legal interest and allow it to be computed semiannually.

These succeeding six months the bankbooks are written up and the earnings added. Exuberant expectation is shown in the proceeding from the tot with a dollar to her credit to the youthful Crusader who has ten. Girls as well as boys vie with each other as to their holdings, and ample appreciation is evinced of the earning power of money as the interest rapidly compounds itself to the respectable proportions of the principal.

But an hour of the school week is given to the business of the banking department, and when taken into consideration the benefits derived to the child in after life by thus early inculcating the principle of saving and the value of the currency of the land it must be allowed that no other hour is likely to be more profitable in results. A child taught that of its earnings or gratuities at least one-half must be saved will never want for the necessities of life and perchance may be able to indulge in some of its luxuries.

A Sanitary Hint.

A practice which is quite common, and which might be a great factor in spreading disease, is the custom of carrying caskets of small children in carriages to avoid the expense of hearse hire. This should be forbidden by law. Suppose, for instance, that a carriage is called in the morning to carry a casket of a child that has died of scarlet fever. After the funeral the carriage goes back to the stable and perhaps in a half hour is called out by some one. The vehicle cannot help being so full of germs that the innocent people who use it for some time afterward are exposed to the disease. All caskets should be carried in hearses.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

A NOBLE GIFT.

PLACED IN A DAUGHTER'S HANDS.

In Order That a Life's Work May Be Perpetuated.

It was an eventful day.

One of the noblest women of the age felt the weight of years upon her.

Her whole life had been given to one grand work.

and her name was known throughout the civilized world.

Before her was a younger woman, a woman, and they were seated in the great "record room."

where were stored many women's stories of sorrow and joy.

Letters by the thousands, together with great books of record, containing the important points of advice and treatment in special cases, were all about them.

The elder woman turned over the leaves and read:

"I was sorely afflicted with chronic inflammation of the womb. I am now well."

Turning over another page she read:

"They said I was consumptive, and sent me away. But you opened my eyes to the truth, and through you I am well."

Another page and:—

"Your remedy came to me with hope, then the truth dawned upon me. You saved my life, and I bless you consummately."

Then the book was closed and placed in the hands of the younger woman.

"These are the records of my victories over the peculiar diseases of women. They give the history of each case, and how it was treated."

"I am growing old, some day I must give up my work, and I bequeath to you my life work for the physical salvation of women. Carry it forward that all may be cured."

The elder woman was Lydia E. Pinkham. The younger was her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Pinkham, the one woman fully equipped to carry out the requirements of this noble legacy, not only by natural endowments, but from her knowledge through constant study and years of experience in assisting her mother in her voluminous correspondence and personal treatment of women's diseases.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will relieve women from the fearful consequences of all diseases of the womb. All druggists have it for you.
