CYCLING COMMENT.

The Victor Wheelmen contemplate a club run to Philadelphia in response to the demands of a number of the more ambitious members.

W. H. Rogers gives insurance against theft with every wheel he sells, and for $2 he insures any wheel against robbery. If a wheel thus insured is stolen, and not recovered in 30 days, he replaces it.

The detective in Newark working on the case of the Credenda bicycle stolen from Magnus & Co. of Somerset street report that they have found further traces of the thief, Edward Thomas of Sterling. The Newark man who tried unsuccessfully to vouch for him when he offered the wheel to Alford & Co. Saturday, has tried his hand at the business. He went with Thomas and the Credenda wheel to the Liberty cycle agency and hired a bicycle which he took to a store and sold for $15. Thomas apparently was unsuccessful in selling the Credenda. It is not understood why he stole a wheel in Plainfield where his name was known.

Good Horses and Good Use.

A. C. Blair and Frank Day are both well known in Plainfield as experienced horsemen, and they are conducting the Metropolitan Stables, 147 North avenue, in a style that warrants full patronage. If you own a horse, you can leave it in no better hands than theirs. If you do not own one, whenever you want a satisfactory rig try go there.

His Slumbers Disturbed.

Policeman Schelmer chased a horse, which seemed to be running away from a milk wagon, at the corner of Park avenue and Seventh street at 4 this morning. He caught the animal and was turning it around when the driver woke up and crawled out from beneath a blanket in the bottom of the wagon.

WELL-WATER DEFILED.

Victims Revenge in the Negro Quarters.

A State-Frisson offense was committed on Race street some time during the night. A well in the rear of the tenement house 21 Race street, owned by City Judge William A. Coddington and occupied by Cesar Taylor, a colored gardener, was fouled by some person or persons with a spite against the family.

The colored people along the street have not been very neighborly since the appearance of a number of them in Justice Crooley's Court a short time ago on counter-complaints of using abusive language. Houses owned by A. J. Lutkins and by the City Judge adjoin.

The residents in each of the two houses do not like those in the other. The well on the Lutkins property has been used for use and the tenants who were expected to use the water from it have sought to obtain water elsewhere. They were forbidden to use the pump in the Coddington backyard, and this fact, which indirectly brought about the dispute which was aired in Court, is thought to have some connection with the filthy work of last night. The people suspected are held in contempt by white and colored neighbors alike.

AMONG THE FIREMEN.

Plainfield will probably have no representative at the firemen's convention in Montreal in September.

William Townley of Alert Hose Company will return to duty from his vacation Monday. He is the last to have a leave of absence this year.

An object lesson for Plainfield servants is the Friday cleaning of the fire department headquarters when every part, from officer's office to stables, is thoroughly scrubbed and rubbed.

With a limited number of tickets and an unknown destination the members of Engine Company No. 2 expect to keep their claim-bills exclusively to themselves and their invited friends.

The truck was taken for practice by the members of the company to the corner of Grant avenue and South Second street last evening. Ladders were raised against Michael Watson's corner building.

Bernard Rogers of Engine Company No. 2, Loren's Spicer of Gazette Engine Company No. 1, and Harry Demarest of Alert Hose Company, will go to Atlantic City Wednesday, Sept. 19, 1894, as delegates from the local firemen's Relief Association. Chief Doane and August Salzman, being life members, will also attend as representatives of the association.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. Dr. E. C. Sage will preach in the Park Avenue Baptist Church Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Stinson, formerly a pastor of the Duaneville Presbyterian Church, will occupy the pulpit of Rev. C. E. Herring Sunday, August 26.

The entertainment given in the M. E. Church last evening was enjoyed by a large number of people in Duaneville and vicinity. The programme as given in these columns yesterday was rendered in an excellent manner, each selection being heartily received. Mr. VanEpe of Plainfield delighted all with his playing on the zither, and Mr. Cobb as elocutionist was meritorious and deserving of the applause given. Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Kinsey pleased all with their vocal duets. The entire entertainment was a success, both financially and otherwise.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Horace J. Martin will talk about the Cleveland convention at a Christian Endeavor meeting in Bedminster next Tuesday evening.

Good Time at the Shore.

The excursion of Trinity Reformed Church yesterday was enjoyed by all who went. Councilman Bird and W. F. Oliver, of the Committee of Arrangements, were assisted by H. C. VanEmburgh, Edward Cooley, H. E. Gayle and Will Crawford. Conductor Bass made a quick run down, but on the return trip an open drawbridge and the several other extra excursion trains made the train a little late.

Socially the excursion was a great success, though a hot land breeze prevailed. All teachers and scholars of Trinity are taken free, but the patronage of the public was so liberal that expenses were about met.

The Body Recovered.

The body of little Mabel, daughter of E. B. Ryder, was found Wednesday night at Far Rockaway, four miles from the drowning. Mr. Ryder, who visited the beach again yesterday in his unwearying search, brought the news of the discovery to Plainfield last evening, and the body reached Plainfield on the 10:45 train this morning. The funeral will take place at the home of the afflicted parents, 110 Central avenue, Monday afternoon at 3.

Feminine Opportunity.

Mrs. L. Adams, whose millinery establishment under the First National Bank is a favorite with Plainfield women, will conduct a closing-out sale of bargains tomorrow. She will sell untrimmed hats at your own price, and trimmed hats from $1.50 to 75 cents. She will sacrifice her India silks at 35 cents a yard.

The Nature of special features at the September fair of the C. Y. M. L. will be decided upon by the committee at their meeting in the club-house tonight.

[Special to The Press.]

LINCOLN, Neb., August 10.—The railroad wreck which occurred just after 10 last night near here was one of the worst that has happened in this part of the country in recent years.

The north-bound Rock Island passenger train went off a high bridge between four and five miles south of the city. Eight persons are known to have been killed and several others were injured. The wreck caught fire and some of the persons were burned to death.

THE SECRET ORDERS.

The hunters degree will be worked on several candidates by Mintonomoh Tribe of Red Men tonight.

In Central Lodge last night the programme published in The Press was rendered, together with speeches by Finscinder Newcorn and visitors present. Those who attended, besides the members of Central Lodge were Deputy Grand Master Workman Ettinger, Grand Overseer Morris and Past Master Workman Williams of Elizabeth and Past Master Workman Liefke of Columbia Lodge.

At the regular meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., held in their hall last night, there was a large attendance, including visiting brethren from most of town. They decided to wear white Balmorale caps, and white gloves and carry canes, at Asbury Park, American Day, and have engaged the Independent Fifo and Drum Corps for their parade. After the regular business had been finished, Brother Stratton presented to Lewis M. Dunavan the first shirt he wore, which created great laughter. One member was elected by card, and one proposed by card. The following members were shown into the mysteries of the order: Council: F. E. Tilton of William G. Bolton Council, Dunellen; C. O. Pearson, George Newmiller, Frank E. Spilane, and J. L. Burnett of Franklin.

Come on a Bat.

The U. S. Expressmen in Jersey City will be astonished tonight on opening a cigar box consigned to them, to find with it a dead bat placidly holding a cigar in its mouth and saucily saying by placard "Have a cigar, you bat!" The creature was caught by the employee of Superintendent Mills in the Plainfield office last night, and was boxed as a joke.

Positively No Credit.

FISHING REGULATIONS.

Americans Want To Angle in Canadian Waters.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 10.—The Dominion government has decided to take some action in regard to the private fishing entered by Americans who are now summering at Alexandria Bay and other points on the St. Lawrence against the objectionable fishing regulations which prevent Americans fishing in Canadian waters.

Hayter Reed, assistant superintendent general of Indian affairs, is at Alexandria Bay investigating the whole matter. It is generally believed here that the result will be a change in the regulations in the directions asked for.

JOHN AND MARION RETALIATE.

They Sue Isaac H. Wernberg, of New York, for $200,000.

Boston, Aug. 10.—John and Marion Macdonald-Mason, the actors, have brought suit against Isaac H. Wernberg, of New York city. The writs are returnable in September in the superior court. The plaintiffs claim that Wernberg, formerly a matinee star and without probable cause instituted and prosecuted a criminal charge, at the same time knowing that he had no case justifying a criminal charge, and that he secured the issuing of a warrant for their arrest by false statements made by him to Judge Burke.

Broke the Record.

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 10.—George C. Smith, representing the New York Athletic club, who is here training for the races to take place here to-day and to-morrow, broke the half-mile record yesterday of Champion Zimmerman from 1:27 to 1:15. Smith made this good time without the aid of a pacemaker.

Wait for Thatcher.

AFRAID OF CONSUMPTION.

People who lose flesh are in danger of consumption. Light weight is too often a sign of some "wasting disease," which gets its start from indigestion. Cure the indigestion and health is rapidly regained.

Paskola, the pre-digested food, prevents indigestion by its wonderful invigorating and nutritive properties. For loss of vigor, dull feelings, headaches, constipation, sour risings and other symptoms of dyspepsia it is a sovereign cure.

Paskola rapidly increases the weight. Under its nourishing power the hectic flush soon leaves the consumptive's cheek the skin assumes the hue of health, the night sweats cease, the cough dies away, and the emaciated is fast under a coating of solid, warm and normal flesh.

Paskola is not medicine but a food, pleasant to the taste and agreeable to the weakest stomach. Feeling pre-digested is absorbed by the system the instant it is swallowed.

A pamphlet giving full particulars about Paskola will be sent on application to the Pre-Digested Food Co., 30 Beade st., New York.

ENGLAND'S GRADUATE HEROINE.

Miss Ada Maria Jane Elizabeth Johnson and What She Accomplished.

A just brown maid, with cheeks as red as roses and a mass of dark hair almost too heavy for the shapely head—that is Miss Ada Maria Jane Elizabeth Johnson, the heroine of the day, the young lady who stands alone in the first division of the first class in the second part of the Cambridge mathematical tripos.

Truly she is a "sweet girl graduate" (without the degree), this youthful mathematician who has "beaten all the men," as she sits high up in her little room in Old hall reading her letters and still aglow from an exciting game of her favorite pastime, tennis. From the tree tops, deep below in the lovely grounds of Newnham, comes the warble of a blackbird. The air is sweet with the scent of many roses on the small table in the center of the room at which Miss Johnson sits, fingering her congratulatory letters and telegrams. A bow of magnificent oriental poppies blooms in the corner, a striking contrast to their airy, fairy cousins—a vase full of faded poppies, daisies and delphiniums of deep orange and pale lemon tints and of silvery white. Perhaps all these decorations are tributes, too, to the successful girl student, as are the letters and the telegrams.

She bears the burden of her splendid success cheerfully, and as she sits there blushing and blushing, and there is absolutely nothing about Miss Johnson that suggests the grave and ponderous and formidable scholar, a vision of whom may appear to the inward eye of the "outsider," reading about the studious Newnham girl who has "beaten all the men" and demonstrated one against the fact, which needs a good deal of demonstrating in certain quarters, that a woman, too, may "stand and work" as well as a man and yet remain untainted by the particular taint of the "shrill shrieking sisterhood."

She is eager enough to talk about her hall, her college and about the generous way in which her fellow students have shared with her the joy at her success. Indeed they had a dance on the Tuesday evening in honor of the girl who "beat all the men." But when it comes to talking about herself then Miss Johnson has only smilingly, and with the prettiest unconsciousness, bashfulness, to confess that "there is nothing at all to say."

But there is, after all, and what there is to say is well worth knowing were it only for the sake of encouraging other struggling girls who have no special educational advantages to go on undaunted, for this fair wrangler has had none of the "special advantages" by means of which ambitious parents have sometimes succeeded in bringing about a certain amount of success to their sons and daughters. There has been no cramming, no private coaching, "no nothing," except a good, sound elementary education. "Then, you see, my dear," she says, "the boys at Cambridge, and their equivalents, so-called higher grade schools, are there, and at one of these in Park street, Cambridge, Miss Johnson laid the foundation of her present success. Even as a child she was fond of mathematics, and after she left school she continued her favorite study, mostly alone, but not without some desultory lessons. For the last two years she has been at Newnham, and last year she took the first part of the mathematical tripos, standing in rank between the fifth and sixth wranglers.

Thus mathematics have never had any terror for Miss Johnson. In fact, she has handled her "problems" with much the same ease as that with which, as a member of the Newnham Tennis club, she handles her racket. But this year a slight doubt disturbed her serenity with regard to the result of the examinations, for when the great day arrived it happened that Miss Johnson, though there is absolutely nothing of the pale and haggard student about her, was not in her usual good health, but "run down," and therefore not quite at her best.

Hence she awaited the "list" with nothing but the most modest expectations. And then, to her surprise, it came out, to the joy of all Newnham, and in the evening the girls danced—the fair mathematician and all the rest.

Tennis and walking are the forms of play in which she delights, and now she has actually come to think of cycling. Such is the latter day lady wrangler, reveling in games, young, spry, glowing with strong health, and not afraid of problems, by the way, connected with Euclid or with what the French call cyclisme.—Westminster Budget.

TENTING LAST NIGHT.

This Lawn Party Had Several Features and Was a Delight.

A charming lawn party with novel features was given by Thomas Howell at his home on Raymond avenue near Front street last evening. About 60 from Plainfield and the borough, Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Brooklyn and New Brunswick attended. The night was cool, and nothing interfered with the general enjoyment.

Singing and music began the evening. The grounds were lighted with many Chinese lanterns, and the effect presented as the guests sat about under the trees listening to the music from the piazza was very pretty.

A tent, lighted within and with open side of this music for a curtain, was a prominent object station in front of the house. Its use was soon shown to the guests when a series of elaborately arranged shadow pantomimes and tableaux were exhibited.

The programme, presented with careful posing and excellent effect, was as follows:

SHADOW PANTOMIMES.
Daughter of the Regiment—Miss Minnie Howell
A Game of Cards—Miss Minnie Howell

Elliot Collins, Isaac Enyard, William Tell, Wm. and Walter Tallman, The Three Graces—Miss Grace Meeker, Minnie Howell, Eva Falk.

BISHOP VINCENT'S BROADMINDEDNESS.

The St-Plainsfield Preacher Sends Henry Greeting to His Roman Catholic Brethren.

There is a good deal of "Christian charity" in the world, after all. The Catholic Summer School, an institution modeled after that of Chautauque, is in session at Plattsburg, and at the same time Bishop Vincent's School is in session at Chautauque. During the session of the Catholic School Wednesday, Rev. Thomas J. Conaty, its President, received the following telegram:

CHAUTAUQUE, N. Y., August 7.
By vote of 5,000 Chautauqueans tonight, Chautauque sends greetings and best wishes to the Catholic Summer School.

JOHN H. VINCENT.
The telegram was received just before Father Pardo's lecture on "The Papal Encyclical and the Bible," and was read to a crowded audience which received it with enthusiasm and loudly applauded it," and then sent the following reply:

The scholars of the Catholic Summer School of America are deeply grateful for Chautauque's cordial greetings, and send best wishes to Chautauque in return.

THOMAS J. CONATY, President.
Certainly that was very much better than hurling anathemas at each other, and seeking for points of disagreement by which to show the world that they were filled with all uncharitableness towards each other. Evidently "the world moves," notwithstanding the efforts of the A. P. A. to prevent it.

Then They'll Come Home to Hunt for Jerry Office.

Senator Foster M. Voorhees, Assembly Charles N. Oodding and Judge J. B. Grech of Westfield will start for the woods next Saturday. They will do their best—says The Elizabeth Journal—to get where no papers can reach them, where no telephone can call them up, where no constituents can call them down, and where they will have a chance to take a well-earned rest for about three weeks.

They will go first to Portland, Me., thence to Farmington; thence to the Rangeley Lakes, and thence to a place called Tim Pond, fifty miles away from any railroad and about eighteen miles from the Canada line. They will lodge in log huts, catch trout and eat them, hunt deer and kill them, if they can.

Next Get the Permit First.

The officers of the Salvation Army are preparing to hold weekly outdoor meetings. If a permit can be obtained from the Mayor the first will be held tomorrow night. The place has not been definitely decided upon.

Social Gossip.

N. H. Guttman's band will go to Cranford tomorrow night, as the concert at the Arlington Hotel will be given tonight. Another social dance has been arranged for next Thursday evening.

Third Ward—B. Frank Correll, M. Marvin Dunham.

Fourth Ward, First District—A. Angelman, Wood Thaworth; Second District—J. R. Higgins, John Dixon.

The committee will begin to hold weekly meetings for the preliminary campaign work early next month.

HER EXPERIENCE.

One of George Thatcher's Actresses Meets With an Experience About Gotham, Set Down in the Play.

It was during the slack hours of trade and travel about that busy centre of Gotham marked by the intersection of Liberty street and Broadway, when, one day last week, up from the Jersey Central ferry there tripped a bright young creature with dancing eyes, laughing lips and beautiful auburn hair, dressed in the latest of gingham gowns, but her shoes that now and then peeped from beneath her skirts were covered with dust; that red variety that suggests at a glance the thought that Plainfield or vicinity was in all probability her place of abode.

She encountered on the corner the bootblackening chair of a little old Italian, tattered and torn, who has long been a familiar feature of that part of Broadway. He differed nothing from his accustomed appearance as he monotonously solicited business from the passerby, yet it was destined to be a glorious day for him, and to grant him that need of fame that rarely comes to the "lower five" of sunny Italy who are sojourmers of New York, save by the use of stiletto or knife.

Beauty looked at the chair, rested her eyes on the face and figure of the Italian, mentally calculated he was to be trusted with her tiny feet, gazed up and down the street rapidly, but comprehensively, and then mounted the chair.

The ancient-boot-black lifted his eyes, saw sitting in his chair the fairest vision that had ever rested on his soiled and polished cushion and then looked down to the feet so confidently placed on the foot rests.

The old man knew his business. He was not to look at faces, but at feet, and forthwith he drew out his brushes, cloths and dressing. All this took but a moment, then the trouble began for Miss Jersey.

A messenger boy toddling along with the usual hot weather gait, and ready for any excuse to stop, caught sight of the girl in the chair. "Give 'Whiz' was his ejaculation, and he stopped.

Somewhere or other the street began to fill up. Men sprang from every doorway, and all looked at the girl. There she sat, her eyes riveted on the Italian, as he washed the clinging, tell-tale dust of New Jersey from her No. 2's.

One shoe was almost polished. She looked up, and gave a startled glance at the crowd, now numbering nearly one hundred. "Goodness gracious!" she said, and with a bound was on the sidewalk, pushing her way through the crowd, and in less time than it takes to tell had boarded a moving uptown cable car.

The Italian was dismayed, the crowd laughed, and an old gentleman came up and paid the five cents, muttering: "John, my office is near here; next time she comes I'll shine 'em myself."

It wouldn't be fair to tell the name of the young lady, but a hint to those who contemplate witnessing the first performance of "About Gotham" in Music Hall Thursday evening, Aug. 23—the Mrs. Frolley of the play might know more about the above occurrence than you could get her to admit.

The Epworth League connected with the Methodist Church have three girls from Springfield avenue, Newark, enjoying a week of country pleasure at the home of William Day on Mountain avenue.

Vincent J. Sleser, the new hotel proprietor, will race his black trotting mare against a stranger's pacer next Saturday afternoon. The event will be decided on the driving park south of Plainfield in the rear of Ellis Campbell's club-house. The stakes amount to $200.

Dr. Coles of the mountainside has not yet recovered the valuable Italian greyhound which he lost the first of the week. He offers a reward and will be very grateful for the return of the animal. It is said that the dog was last seen Tuesday morning at 9:30, running along Mountain avenue in the direction of Springfield.

George Johnson is doing good work on the Scotch Plains team, keeping in practice by daily pitching with a few of the players on the new grounds. He came to the Plains fresh from a successful series of games as pitcher and outfielder on the Kingston team, from which he received a good salary.

Gathering potatoes is the work of the farmers at present. "Doctor" Charles Layton contemplates a profitable crop from the seed he planted on shares on Mrs. Buckley's land on Elm street. Jacob Mosler has purchased a new digging machine, and is working on the field grown by Fred Clark and John Flannery.

Nearly 60 people of the Plains and Fanwood have applied for membership in the choral society which Rev. J. S. Braker of the Baptist Church has started to organize. It is expected that about 75 will join at the organization meeting in the latter part of September, the date of which has not yet been fixed. Miss Hannah Hayes and William B. Buckley are securing names.

The Plains ball-players are still discussing what they term the mean treatment of the "Grosvenor" team of Plainfield, a body of men who promised to play them last Saturday afternoon and then failed to show up or report a reason. They expect to hit tomorrow afternoon, when they will go to Rahway to play with a Y. M. C. A. team. It is claimed that the Plains players will not dare come to the Plains while Fitcher Johnson remains with the club.

The stereopticon lectures in connection with the Sunday evening outdoor services of the Baptists are proving very popular. The congregation last Sunday night was the largest that Pastor Braker has preached to since he came to the charge. The next lecture, Sunday evening, will also be on the life of Christ, following up the thoughts of last time.

A large number attended during the afternoon and evening, and most everyone made a purchase to encourage the young folks and also to assist the Sick-Baby Fund. The members of the club deserve much credit for their efforts in such a worthy cause. The profits are about $12.

Wm. Elker, coachman for Frank Covey, was awakened Wednesday night about 12 by the barking of a dog which is kept at the barn. He got out of bed, and, looking toward the barn, saw that someone was striking matches. Mr. Elker dressed, and, taking a revolver, went forth. When he reached the barn and entered it he heard voices, and one person said "Here he comes". Just then he stumbled over a saddle which lay on the floor. When he regained his feet he turned and saw two burly Negroes. The strangers ran and escaped in the darkness. Four shots were fired from the coachman's revolver, but without effect. Several attempts have been made to break into the barn recently, but Wednesday night's experience will probably keep intruders away to the future.

The Girl Found, Through The Press.

Edith Florence Beaser, for whom inquiry was made through the columns of The Press last night, has been found as a direct result of the publicity thus given. The girl was put in the Children's Home about three years ago by Ed Murphy, coachman for Constantine P. Ball, who after she was left an orphan secured that disposition of her through motives of humanity. Mrs. Kimball of the Home states that the girl is in the best of hands and will be restored to her grandmother as now requested.

Ice-Water for the Horse.

A farmer drove up to 147 North avenue yesterday afternoon and began to draw a pail of ice-water from the glass case in front of the Hygiene Ice Co. The ice melted slowly, and as he waited a group gathered and watched him.

He was finally asked if he intended to water his horse and when he replied in the affirmative the effect of ice-water on a horse and the location of a warmer fount tain were explained to him.

A Retired Business Woman.

A Page From Her History.

The important experience of others are instructive. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My last month I was in a very weak condition, and I was directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost petrified. Where I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 224 W. Harrison St., Chicago.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, located by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, 25c. per bottle, six bottles for $1.50. It is positively free from all opiates or dangerous drugs.
