

NEW EVIDENCE

Of Dr. Lighthill's Success.

A Flattering Testimonial From Col. John Dietrich, One of Plainfield's Oldest and Best Known Residents.

10 ARLINGTON PLACE, Plainfield, N. J., July 17, 1894.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Lighthill for his speedy and radical cure of a most painful malady of over ten years standing.

I deem it proper to say to all afflicted to place themselves under the care of this skillful physician and be permanently cured.

I will cheerfully impart any information I possess when called upon.

JOHN DIETRICH.

A HAPPY EXPERIENCE.

The Interesting Testimony of Mr. W. E. Dilts, the Popular Passenger Conductor of the N. J. Central.

ROSELAND, N. J., July 1, 1894.

To My Friends and the Public:

I take pleasure in calling public attention to the remarkable cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in my case. For the past ten years I had been afflicted with a severe form of piles which finally gave me the greatest pain and distress nearly all the time, and from which I could not obtain any relief, in spite of all my efforts.

Hearing of a number of cures which Dr. Lighthill effected in similar cases, I placed myself under his care, and I rejoice to say he effected a complete cure in my case and gave me the new life in doing so. I am sure that I could not have endured my misery much longer. And it will be a matter of importance to those who are suffering from this disease to learn the happy fact that Dr. Lighthill effected my cure without giving me pain or detaching me from work.

W. E. DILTS.

A Card from Mr. T. R. VanZandt,

Of No. 304 and 306 Park Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

I certify with pleasure that Dr. Lighthill has effectually cured me of a most painful case of piles. For some time past I had been subject to its attacks but the last attack was so exceedingly painful that it completely upset my whole system. The pain extended to my legs and in many other directions, and made me so nervous that I could neither sleep nor sit down or move about without severe discomfort and distress. Such was my condition when I applied to Dr. Lighthill for relief, and I am glad to say that as soon as he took hold of my case, I began to improve, and in a short time I found myself completely cured. Dr. Lighthill has also effected a radical and permanent cure in a most terrible case of piles on my cousin, Mr. J. V. Z. Griggs, of Rocky Hill, N. J., whose grateful testimonial is in Dr. Lighthill's possession.

T. R. VAN ZANDT,

304 and 306 Park Avenue.

Dr. Lighthill

can be consulted daily (except Thursdays) on all CHRONIC, OBSTINATE AND COMPLICATED diseases of the human system of whatever name and nature, at his office and residence.

No. 144 Crescent Avenue.

Deafness, Catarrh and Diseases of the Head, Throat and Lungs successfully treated.

One of the most aggravated nature radically and permanently cured in a few weeks, without pain or detention from business, and all other retical diseases are treated with equal success.

Mental and Nervous Disorders, Epilepsy, Diseases of the Skin and Blood, Rheumatic, Neuralgic and Scrofulous Affections.

Diseases of the Heart, Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and Bladder are successfully treated, even when other medical skill has failed.

CAME NEAR TO BLOWS

Corbett and Jackson Meet and Wrangle.

Little Prospect of the Pugilists Coming Together in a Ring—Jackson Says His Life Would Not Be Safe in the South—Corbett Dismisses of Englishmen.

New York, Aug. 14.—After two years of long distance fighting through the public prints James J. Corbett and Peter Jackson came together last evening and nearly settled their respective claims to superiority on the spot. While an actual encounter was averted, the champion and the negro had a wordy battle of the fiercest kind, the chief up until his face was pulled out in the future. They met at the Grand Union hotel, where Jackson is stopping.

The meeting between the two men was as if each other were sparring for an opening. They did not shake hands, but eyed each other suspiciously. Jackson was seated upon a wooden stool, while Corbett sat in a chair and drew it up to Jackson so that they faced each other about two feet apart. When Corbett became excited he drew the chair up until his face was brought within less than a foot of Jackson.

He plunged at once into business and said bluntly: "I want this thing settled. Jackson sneered contemptuously and said: "You're in a great hurry now. What's been the trouble since I first challenged you?" Then Corbett, who was in a momentary epithets were flying, to be followed by recriminations.

Corbett pulled out of his pocket a newspaper clipping in which Jackson is quoted as saying that Corbett was afraid to fight him.

Corbett thundered for an explanation. Jackson laughed insolently and said: "You know you are a big bluff."

Corbett clenched his hand and fairly roared back: "You're about as big a bluff, and I'm dying to fight you."

"Of course, as a gentleman, I won't call you a liar when you say I am a big bluff," said the Australian. Corbett retorted in kind and accused the other of keeping out of each other's way.

"Where will you fight?" finally asked Corbett.

"Not south of Mason and Dixon's line," answered Jackson.

"Well, then, we will fight in the London National Sporting Club."

"I know positively that they will only give me twenty rounds, and I will only fight you to a finish. I can't whip you in twenty rounds, but believe in a finish night my youth will tell." Corbett shouted, shaking his hand in Jackson's face.

"We can have all the fighting we want in twenty rounds," answered Jackson.

"Not enough for me. Besides, I have no faith in the treatment which would be accorded an American at the hands of those Englishmen. Now, won't you fight in the south?" almost begged the champion.

Highest of all in Leaving Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Wal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

MATTERS IN THE SENATE.

Several Subjects of Importance Under Consideration.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The principal matter before the senate is the conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill. The conferees had agreed upon all the subjects in dispute before the two houses, except as to about a dozen, on which further conference was asked. Chief of these was the question of a site for a new government printing office. The senate, when the bill was before it, had adopted an amendment for the purchase of what is known as the Mahone lot; and the house had substituted for that a provision looking to the retention of the present building and the acquisition of adjoining property on which to erect additional buildings. As it was understood that the house was unwillingly opposed to the Mahone site, Mr. Sherman, in order to defeat the house proposition, and to prevent any decision of the subject at the present session, moved to recommit the bill to the committee on the subject, and although that motion was ruled out on a point of order, its purpose was attained by the senate refusing on a yeas and nays vote (22 to 25), to agree to the house substitute. That action cleared away the parliamentary objection to Mr. Sherman's motion, to recommit the bill to the committee on the subject, which motion was renewed by Mr. Aldrich (rep. R. I.) and was carried by a vote of 26 to 19.

The effect of this is to take out of the bill all provision for the printing office site and to let the matter go over until next session.

Among the matters on which further conference is to be had are the amendments as to the Atlanta exposition and as to the Ford theatre disaster.

The house joint resolution extending until the 24th of August the appropriations for the expenses of the government was laid before the senate, and objection to its second reading having been made by Mr. Aldrich, it was laid over till to-morrow.

There was a short executive session between 12 and 1, at which the Chinese treaty was ratified.

OUTWHAITE HURRIED BACK.

Illness in His Family Caused His Absence from Washington.

Washington, Aug. 14.—It is but simple justice to Mr. Outwaite, of Ohio, one of the democratic members of the senate committee on rules, to state that his absence from the city was due to illness in his family. When he learned on Sunday morning that the cause had been called he arranged immediately to leave Cresson Springs, where he was staying, for Washington.

There was no train until midnight Sunday. He would have reached Washington at 7 o'clock yesterday morning but for a wreck on the road, which delayed his arrival until past the hour of noon. He reached the capitol in ample time, however, to attend the meeting of the committee held for the purpose of reporting the special order on the senate amendments to the tariff bill.

CHINESE IMMIGRATION LAW.

Investigating Charges of Alleged Latency in Its Enforcement.

Boston, Aug. 14.—Special Employee T. A. Byrne, of the United States treasury department, is conducting an investigation at the federal building at Boston, to determine whether the officials in enforcing the Chinese immigration law.

It is stated that the investigation, so far as it has been carried, has developed the fact that there has been considerable looseness in the administration of the laws and that Mr. Byrne's report to the federal authorities will contain a statement to this effect.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 14.—The republicans of the Thirteenth congressional district nominated ex-congressman Charles M. Brumm for congress.

BELIEVE TRADE IS IMPROVING.

Rhode Island Mill Men, Therefore, Do Not Favor a Wage Reduction.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 14.—The reduction of wages in the mills at Fall River and New Bedford is not expected to be followed by immediate action by the Rhode Island manufacturers, many of whom are inclined to believe that business shows indications of improvement.

FOR APPROVAL OR VETO

The Tariff Bill Will Probably Go to the President To-Day.

Believed That the Measure Will Encounter No Delay as the White House, as the President is Familiar With the Bill and is Anxious to Join His Family at Gray Gables—Exciting Scenes During the Close of the Fight in the House—The Senate Bill Adopted Without Change, With Thirteen Democratic Votes Recorded Against It.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The senate tariff bill as passed by the house last evening will probably reach the president some time this afternoon. He has ten days within which to sign it, but it is almost certain that he will not delay his approval. It is well known that the president is anxious to join his family at Gray Gables for a few weeks rest and recreation and as he is perfectly familiar with every detail of the bill as passed there is really no occasion for delay.

All talk of the possibility of the measure being vetoed is virtually at rest by the active efforts of the administration leaders to have the bill accepted by the senate bill when it was made clear that no other bill could possibly be put through at this session of congress.

It was exactly at 6:30 o'clock last night when the senate bill, unchanged, unamended, untouched, was passed by the house. It was passed according to the program arranged Sunday and Monday, and the bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

The bill was carried by a vote of 158 to 21. The republicans of the house, who were opposed to the bill, were defeated by a vote of 21 to 158.

THE HOUSE.

Who Opposed the Measure.

Mr. Cokeran (dem. N. Y.) said that the practical question had been overlooked, if not actually misstated. The gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. McMillin) had declared that the question now for the house to consider was whether the senate bill was an improvement on the McKinley act, from a democratic point of view. He did not agree with that gentleman. There was a higher and more vital point at issue. That was whether some unknown moving force was to block the wheels of legislation and make the representatives of the people cover in the dust, surrendering the power conferred to them. (Republican applause and democratic murmurs of dissent.)

The house had passed a bill under the leadership of the gentleman from West Virginia, a bill for tariff reform, which meant the ultimate industrial emancipation of this country, and the ultimate industrial conquest of the world by American labor and American genius. That bill had passed the house amid such a scene of triumph and loyal shouders that it was a pathetic figure was represented that same leader shorn of his support, confessing that he had been deserted by those on whose support he had every reason to rely.

"I desire to say here that in my humble judgment the measure which we are now asked to pass through this house and to make the permanent law of this country is a more obnoxious protection measure than the McKinley act." (Continued republican applause.)

At this point Mr. McMillin tried to interpose some remark, but he was interrupted by Mr. Cokeran, that he was addressing himself to the members of the house, not to the ignorance of the gentleman from Tennessee. (Laughter and applause.)

"I repeat," said Mr. Cokeran, "that the senate bill is a more obnoxious protection measure than the McKinley act and I hope to prove it. Encouragement from the republican side. Before I surrender my sword I must know who asks it. I swallowed this bill as it first passed the house, although everybody knows that I am bitterly opposed to the income tax and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

THE HOUSE.

Who Opposed the Measure.

Mr. Cokeran (dem. N. Y.) said that the practical question had been overlooked, if not actually misstated. The gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. McMillin) had declared that the question now for the house to consider was whether the senate bill was an improvement on the McKinley act, from a democratic point of view. He did not agree with that gentleman. There was a higher and more vital point at issue. That was whether some unknown moving force was to block the wheels of legislation and make the representatives of the people cover in the dust, surrendering the power conferred to them. (Republican applause and democratic murmurs of dissent.)

The house had passed a bill under the leadership of the gentleman from West Virginia, a bill for tariff reform, which meant the ultimate industrial emancipation of this country, and the ultimate industrial conquest of the world by American labor and American genius. That bill had passed the house amid such a scene of triumph and loyal shouders that it was a pathetic figure was represented that same leader shorn of his support, confessing that he had been deserted by those on whose support he had every reason to rely.

"I desire to say here that in my humble judgment the measure which we are now asked to pass through this house and to make the permanent law of this country is a more obnoxious protection measure than the McKinley act." (Continued republican applause.)

At this point Mr. McMillin tried to interpose some remark, but he was interrupted by Mr. Cokeran, that he was addressing himself to the members of the house, not to the ignorance of the gentleman from Tennessee. (Laughter and applause.)

"I repeat," said Mr. Cokeran, "that the senate bill is a more obnoxious protection measure than the McKinley act and I hope to prove it. Encouragement from the republican side. Before I surrender my sword I must know who asks it. I swallowed this bill as it first passed the house, although everybody knows that I am bitterly opposed to the income tax and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

The vote resulted: Yeas, 176; nays, 87; with eighteen present and not voting. The republicans did not vote, and the three negative votes were cast by democrats. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and just as the clerks began to call the roll Mr. Wilson (rep. Wash.) rose to a parliamentary inquiry. 'I want to know,' he said, 'if it will be in order, before this vote is taken, to have the president's letter read again for the information of the house?' (Laughter.)

A GREAT ADVANCE.

How Food and Nourishment Have Been Reduced to an Exact Science So That Dyspepsia is a Thing of the Past.

When one takes a piece of bread into the mouth this is what occurs. The motion of the jaw in chewing forces from little glands the liquid which we know as saliva. This contains a peculiar principle which at once attacks the food, dissolving or digesting it, with the production of certain sugar-like compounds, in which form it is absorbed.

Other foods are similarly acted upon in the stomach, and still others are not digested until they reach the duodenum. If for any reason the digestive organs have become deranged, food is worse than useless, for instead of being absorbed, it ferments and decomposes with the production of poisonous elements that set up all sorts of disorders.

Here is how the ingenuity of man has arranged to assist nature. Scientists have discovered that plants as well as animals digest their food and in much the same way. Digestive principles have been separated from certain fruits and grains and are now used for preparing an artificially digested food known as Foodol, so that it is absorbed immediately upon entering the system.

Foodol long since passed the experimental stage, and is being used with success and satisfaction by thousands of suffering dyspeptics.

Here is the testimony of a prominent insurance agent at Boston, Mass.: "Gentlemen—For several years I had gradually been growing weaker and paler with much loss of flesh. I had no energy, moved about with difficulty, could not eat and of course had a very poor appetite. Last March a friend of mine, living in New York, and known to me by name, sent me two small bottles of Foodol."

I took them according to directions and could see a marked change. In fact, my friends and acquaintances noted the improvement in my appearance and spoke of it.

Today I weigh 160 pounds, or as much as I ever did, and my health is healthy color and I get about as quickly as ever. My sleep refreshes me, my appetite is good and I do not see but that I am well as ever.

I very willingly make these statements deeming it due to those who are suffering as

HANDICAP TENNIS.

Exciting Games on the Courts of the Hillside Club.

A tournament handicap was held yesterday under the supervision of members of the Hillside Tennis Club.

This tournament was thought by many to have better tennis in it than any previous tournament held by the Hillside Club.

The most interesting match of the day was that between L. F. Ryder and C. F. Wals. The play was very exciting. Carl Wals, who had been playing for some time, was in the lead. The score had reached 5-2 and 40-15 in favor of Wals, when Ryder won the set, 6-4. The next set went to him more easily, 6-4.

The rest of the tournament was very exciting also. H. V. Ryder winning his matches with ease, except the last set with T. Smith, which was closer than the score shows. H. V. Ryder is a Sophomore at Yale, getting second place in the Freshman tournament at Yale last year. He is thought to have a good show for the University tournament at Yale, if he keeps on improving at his present rate.

Finals will be played tomorrow afternoon. Following is the schedule:

First round—H. V. Ryder beat Burke, 6-3, 6-0; T. Smith beat L. Glenny, 15, 6-3, 2.
Preliminary—Wals beat the Rensselaer Schuyler, 6-3, 6-2; E. Platt beat F. W. Goddard, 15, 6-3, 2-6; James M. Widdell beat A. Finch, 15, 6-3, 2-6; L. Fish beat M. Dunham, 15, 6-3, 2-6.

First round, continued—C. Wals beat B. Platt, 6-4, 6-3; L. Fish beat J. M. Widdell, 6-4, 6-3.

Semi-Finals—H. V. Ryder beat T. Smith, 6-0, 6-3; C. Wals beat L. Fish, 9-7, 6-4.

Finals tomorrow afternoon. Prizes will be given to first, and runner-up.

STAYS ON THE AVENUE.

Plumber Adds Not to Leave the Place That Has Known His Skill This Score of Years.

Adds the veteran plumber will not leave North avenue. He established his business in 1878 on the spot where The Daily Press is now situated, and he still remains on that thoroughfare. He will occupy the store formerly held by Grocer Fred W. Dunn, where he will associate with him his son Wm. H. Addis, and will open with an entirely new line of sanitary specialties, prepared to attend to the wants of his many friends old and new, and of those who have kindly patronized him for the past 20 years.

Improvements required to be made in the property by the owner, A. D. Thompson, and until he is ready to open the store Mr. Addis's services may be obtained by means of a postal card addressed to him at 318 Orange place.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON.

T. Hazenwood Keller's Offspring Getting Cattlehill Mountain Boys.

From The Daily Mail, the bright local newspaper which enlightens the people of Cattlehill, The Press learns that T. H. Keller's boys are establishing the natives up that way.

The family are enjoying life up at Fred Becker's great Summit Hill House, and the young child of the old block have organized a ball team that has already beaten everything in the vicinity. The players, with their ages and positions, are as follows: Russell Patterson 13 P., Courtney Keller 10 G., Theodore Fall 15 I., Gus Jacobs 12 C., Homer Carol 14 C., Hazenwood Keller 12 B., Fred Child 13 R., Arthur Clem 11 C., Homer Sturtevant 14 I.

Home from Camp.

Clement Thorne, Harry Dencklau, Walter Heford Jr., Percy McVoy, and Wyatt E. Barnes, came home from camp last night. They had been fighting on Cedar Pond, above Newfoundland, and as provisions became exhausted they pulled up stakes. They drove all the way, leaving camp at 5 yesterday morning. Among the views taken by Clement Thorne, camp photographer, is a fine photograph of Uncle John Coles, the typical North Jersey woodsman who does his kind to them during their period of roughing it.

Tree on the Trolley Tracks.

The elm tree which Captain Hand cut down on the place of A. G. Hooley of Central avenue yesterday interfered with the Somerset street line of street cars for an hour yesterday afternoon. Shortly before 4 the immense log slipped from the truck when it was at the corner of Somerset and Pearl streets. It was with difficulty that it was fastened in place again so that it could be drawn away.

Death of Katie Thompson.

In the hope of restoring health to the little one, Katie, the 11-month-old daughter of Mr. Mary Thompson, was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barry, Dunellen. The effort was unavailing, for death came Sunday morning at half-past three. The body was brought to Plainfield, and funeral services were held at 2 this afternoon in St. Mary's Church, followed by interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

In New Brunswick.

Property slowly depreciating and taxes rapidly rising maketh the real-estate owner weary.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedial. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear, or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; this case out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We give $100 for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

J. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS.

Fairwood Township Committee.

Routine business was the rule at the meeting of the Fairwood Township Committee held last evening in Excelsior Hall, Scotch Plains. A step was made towards beautifying the twin villages by trimming the trees along the highways. All the members were present.

After Clerk Hand had read the minutes, Treasurer Miller reported township finances as follows:

Balance, July 18, 1894, $97.50
Paid out..... $29.57
Received from delinquent taxes..... 138.66
Received for registration of dogs..... 3.00
Received from Dr. Coles and Charles E. Stout, subscriptions on Mountain avenue sidewalks..... 50.00

Balance on hand..... $97.50

Committeeman Downer reported minor street improvements and called attention to the unequal lighting on North and South avenues. The Plainfield lighting company had promised to move one of the five North avenue lamps to South avenue where but three were stationed. On motion of Mr. Downer, the clerk was instructed to write to the company and ask them to make the change which would remedy the difficulty.

In the road matter Mr. Miller said he had asked Lawyer Frank Bergen of Elizabeth to draft an ordinance according to law, but that he not yet received a copy. Mr. Miller thought there was no need of hurrying. Mr. Downer thought it would be well to have the law passed before the muddy season began.

Mr. Miller presented an ordinance prepared in accordance with the State law on townships. It ordered that all shade trees on the inner or outer lines of the sidewalks in the township which have grown so that they shade the electric light or hinder pedestrians or the approach of vehicles, be trimmed sufficiently to remove any such obstructions. Owners of adjoining property or persons having control thereof, ordered the proposed ordinance, should have 20 days in which to comply with the instructions. If any one failed to do so he would be liable to a fine of not less than $10 or more than $100.

Mr. Miller said that the ordinance was offered in response to many requests. On motion of Mr. Downer the ordinance was passed and ordered up for final consideration at the next meeting. Mr. Miller referred to a prominent citizen of the Plains who had run the branch of a tree above a sidewalk through his high hat.

Clerk Hand was authorized to write to Mrs. Ackerman, telling her that the lines on Midway avenue had been surveyed, and calling attention to the fact that the posts in front of her property on that avenue were not back far enough. If the obstructions were not removed, the work would be done and charged to her.

Mr. Downer referred to the purchase of a new road machine, and it was decided to purchase, through Elizabeth Trainor, a set of shoes for the old machine. The matter of sheltering the apparatus was discussed, but no action was taken. President Terry referred to one machine which had been sheltered from the weather only to be destroyed by fire. A number of bills were ordered paid. Mr. Miller said he would attend to the replacing of the rotten post near the liberty pole which formerly supported the signboard. The committee then adjourned.

The next meeting will be held next Tuesday night, August 21, when the assessor's duplicate will be approved.

Scotch Plains and Fairwood.

Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company will meet next Monday night.

The local council of the Royal Arcanum will hold a meeting this evening.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Parks has returned from his annual vacation in New England.

John Kane of Westfield made his annual visit to Scotch Plains last night.

David Boes moved yesterday from Westfield avenue to the old Osborne homestead on Front street.

Mrs. John Marsh, who is spending August in Asbury Park, returned home yesterday for a stay of a day.

Foreman William B. Noble of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Co. is enjoying a vacation from his business in New York.

The Stars of the Plains Saturday morning defeated a North Plainfield team on the local diamond by the score of 8 to 5.

Miss Bertha Berry of Brooklyn who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Robert Walpole of Park avenue, returns home today.

John Johnson and family returned yesterday from Asbury Park. They intended to stay on the shore during the whole month.

Jacob Meiler and F. J. Clark had a race between the Plains and Fairwood yesterday afternoon, the former driving the fastest.

The Hollingsworth fur mills are still shut down. It was thought that work would be resumed as soon as the repairs were finished.

Rev. J. S. Braker returned to Ocean Grove yesterday after coming from the coast to conduct services in the Baptist Church Sunday.

V. J. Slesser, the new proprietor of the old Hilary hotel, has received several offers for his fast black trotter since the racing season of Plainfield Saturday.

Rain prevented the outdoor meeting by the Baptist Church Sunday evening, but the eloquent lecture was given in the church as usual. Both a prayer meeting and a lecture are announced for next Sunday night.

The funeral services over the remains of young Arthur W. Hume in the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. Pastor Marlett officiated with the assistance of Rev. Dr. A. H. Parks. The interment was made in the Baptist churchyard.

The unjust umpire in Rahway Saturday was struck several times by swift balls thrown by Fitcher Johnson. The Rahway team whose opponents the Scotch Plains players were defeated and robbed Saturday afternoon have written to the local club asking for a list of the articles stolen with values annexed and a statement of the amount of money stolen. From this the boys suppose they are to be paid for their losses. One of the ball-players who went to Rahway Saturday had $50 with him. He prudent-

AN OLD AND HISTORIC WATCH.

It Belonged to George III., to Sir William Johnson and Chief Joseph Brant.

Dunellen and New Market.

John Donohue is reported today as no better.

Mrs. Walter Apper is visiting relatives in Junction.

Mrs. E. A. Reed is visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Naylor is confined to the house with neuralgia.

Mrs. Harry Cook of Newark is visiting Mrs. C. H. Adams.

Mrs. E. B. Leung of Elizabeth is visiting Mrs. W. D. Dowdell.

Miss Brennan of Cranford spent Sunday with the Misses Hague.

Daniel Kneuter spent yesterday with friends in Netherwood.

E. E. Ten Eyck of Binghamton is visiting relatives in Dunellen.

Mrs. Rebecca Rogers and son are visiting I. D. Tisworth.

A. B. Ahquist of Cortland, Conn., is visiting Charles R. Peterson.

Walter Apper spent Sunday in Junction, returning Monday morning.

Miss Francis Hunt was taken ill Sunday and is confined to her home.

Raymond Smith of Rahway is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. P. S. Apper.

Miss Phoebe Somnerville of New York is the guest of Josephine Trust.

Rev. Frank Fletcher and family have returned from their visit to Ocean Grove.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. C. Dunham of Alfred Centre are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Dunham.

Mrs. Turner and her daughter Miss Eva have returned to their home in Brooklyn.

Miss Minnie Carpenter is spending two weeks with her friend, Miss Emily Toole of Liberty Corner.

Mrs. W. A. Conditon of Plainfield spent yesterday with the Misses Imogene and Fanny Smith.

Mrs. Jacob Fern and children of Brooklyn are spending the week with Mrs. Fern's father, Michael Eyle.

Isaac W. Laing has taken up the work of his father, Smith Laing, who died recently. He started in yesterday.

T. O. Bodine came home from Ocean Grove yesterday and went back last night. The family will leave the shore next week.

C. W. Johnson, the popular real-estate broker, has several important deals on hand which will be closed in a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. F. Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers, of New Market, are attending the Brookfield, N. Y., Conference today.

Miss Maggie Williams of the Newark Institution for the Blind, returned home Sunday after spending a pleasant week at the Park Hotel.

At a recent meeting of the School Commissioners the following teachers were appointed for one year: Miss Ellen Palmberg, Miss Maude Titeworth, New Market; Miss Minnie Carpenter, Maple Grove; Miss Nora Henderson, Easton Landing; The Commissioners meet again this afternoon in the New Market public school, to discuss the subject of raising money to provide text books.

The Protection Society of New Market will celebrate its fifty anniversary next Monday in the school-house. There will be several good speakers, and Friendship Cornet Band will furnish the music. Everyone attending will find an abundance of refreshments, which will be liberally served. Those in charge are William Randolph, William Drake and John Biles. A very large attendance is expected.

WEST END NOTES.

Where is the West End horse carriage movement?

Druggist Freeman rejoices over the tariff legislation.

The fourth press for the Washington Star has just been completed in the Potter Press Works.

Mrs. Fred Haberle and Mrs. Albert Marsh of West Front street are making great progress in cycle riding.

The Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company have received several cars of ice out on the Kennebago River, Maine.

The West End now has an early service of Sunday papers, the package arriving at a local barber's shop at 7:30.

Mrs. Haberle of Brooklyn, accompanied by her daughter, is visiting her son at his home on West Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dent of Brooklyn are spending a few days with Mrs. Dent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Halsey Compton of West Front street.

With the colored camp meeting closed the street car company suffers a loss in travel, and the quiet of the End is not disturbed by so many outsiders.

Superintendent Brooks of the Potter Press Works is still in the capital, looking after the new press recently erected in the room of the Washington Star.

WEST END.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

THE MAINSPRING OF HER LIFE.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Few people realize this.

What can she do, where can she go, so long as that dreadful back-ache assails both strength and ambition?

She cannot walk or stand, her duties are heavy burdens, and she is utterly miserable.

The cause is some derangement of the uterus or womb. Backache is the sure symptom.

For years Sarah Holstein, who lives at 7 Perry Street, in Lowell, Mass., suffered with falling of the womb. The best doctors failed to relieve her, and as a last resort she purchased six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Now she is a well woman.

The dreadful pain in her back stopped after taking the second bottle. She wishes she had taken it sooner, and saved both money and years of suffering.

This Vegetable Compound is the one unfailing remedy for such troubles. A woman discovered it and gave it to woman.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

AN OLD AND HISTORIC WATCH.

It Belonged to George III., to Sir William Johnson and Chief Joseph Brant.

Dunellen and New Market.

John Donohue is reported today as no better.

Mrs. Walter Apper is visiting relatives in Junction.

Mrs. E. A. Reed is visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Naylor is confined to the house with neuralgia.

Mrs. Harry Cook of Newark is visiting Mrs. C. H. Adams.

Mrs. E. B. Leung of Elizabeth is visiting Mrs. W. D. Dowdell.

Miss Brennan of Cranford spent Sunday with the Misses Hague.

Daniel Kneuter spent yesterday with friends in Netherwood.

E. E. Ten Eyck of Binghamton is visiting relatives in Dunellen.

Mrs. Rebecca Rogers and son are visiting I. D. Tisworth.

A. B. Ahquist of Cortland, Conn., is visiting Charles R. Peterson.

Walter Apper spent Sunday in Junction, returning Monday morning.

Miss Francis Hunt was taken ill Sunday and is confined to her home.

Raymond Smith of Rahway is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. P. S. Apper.

Miss Phoebe Somnerville of New York is the guest of Josephine Trust.

Rev. Frank Fletcher and family have returned from their visit to Ocean Grove.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. C. Dunham of Alfred Centre are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Dunham.

Mrs. Turner and her daughter Miss Eva have returned to their home in Brooklyn.

Miss Minnie Carpenter is spending two weeks with her friend, Miss Emily Toole of Liberty Corner.

Mrs. W. A. Conditon of Plainfield spent yesterday with the Misses Imogene and Fanny Smith.

Mrs. Jacob Fern and children of Brooklyn are spending the week with Mrs. Fern's father, Michael Eyle.

Isaac W. Laing has taken up the work of his father, Smith Laing, who died recently. He started in yesterday.

T. O. Bodine came home from Ocean Grove yesterday and went back last night. The family will leave the shore next week.

C. W. Johnson, the popular real-estate broker, has several important deals on hand which will be closed in a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. F. Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers, of New Market, are attending the Brookfield, N. Y., Conference today.

Miss Maggie Williams of the Newark Institution for the Blind, returned home Sunday after spending a pleasant week at the Park Hotel.

At a recent meeting of the School Commissioners the following teachers were appointed for one year: Miss Ellen Palmberg, Miss Maude Titeworth, New Market; Miss Minnie Carpenter, Maple Grove; Miss Nora Henderson, Easton Landing; The Commissioners meet again this afternoon in the New Market public school, to discuss the subject of raising money to provide text books.

The Protection Society of New Market will celebrate its fifty anniversary next Monday in the school-house. There will be several good speakers, and Friendship Cornet Band will furnish the music. Everyone attending will find an abundance of refreshments, which will be liberally served. Those in charge are William Randolph, William Drake and John Biles. A very large attendance is expected.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—Weakness is blighting at Boynton Beach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.

