TO THE SICK, SUFFERING AND AFFLICTED: For many years past I have been afflicted with bleeding piles.

So great was my distress and so bad my condition that I sold my farm, not being able to work in any manner.

I had been under the treatment of ten different physicians, some of New York City, Easton, Washington and elsewhere, without benefit whatever.

THE DAILY PRESS.
A. L. FORD, Publisher and Proprietor.
WALTER HENRY COLEMAN, Managing Editor.
CIRCULATION EXCEEDS THAT OF ALL OTHER PLAINFIELD PAPERS COMBINED.
PLAINFIELD, N. J., SEPT. 17, 1894.
CITY EDITION, 4 CENTS.

During the visit of Stephen A. Ginn to Montreat his friends are conducting a quiet campaign with his nomination as the next mayor in view. Meanwhile, the friends of Charles F. Park are not inactive.

Republicans of the district are clamoring for nominations which can only end in the favor of defeat by the Democratic opposition. The latest local suggestions are: Senator Benjamin A. Vall for Assembly from Union County, and both ex-Senator Vall and Sheriff George Kite for Congress.

Some of the New York papers were misled into printing this morning a thrilling story of how two young men of Plainfield fell down a 100-foot cliff, how two of them were fatally injured, and how the other two and their horse mysteriously vanished. The story was based on an ordinary and not unusual accident truthfully told in another part of this paper. Credit for the charming fiction is due to the staff of the Republican ring organ, which is accustomed to seeing through glasses darkly.

The New York Herald remarks that "There is one thing the Democrats of New Jersey must not forget in making up their minds as to how they will vote in the next election, and that is that the next United States Senate will probably be Republican or Democratic, according as the Senator who is to be chosen by the next Legislature at Trenton is a Republican or a Democrat."

Since Jersey's vote is to settle the National political complexion, New Jersey Democrats have a plain duty before them, and that is to stick by the party nominees in the forthcoming election.

While the Republicans claim to possess all the morality belonging to politics, some of their "very good" and prominent leaders have presided over and countenanced "fairs" damaging to morals and indecent in their methods. The Waverly fair was presided over by Elsie B. Gaddis, one of the Republican leaders of Essex County, and we all know that it was a disgrace to the State. Gambling was allowed all over the grounds, and the exhibitions of beauty undisturbed compared favorably with a model artist exhibition of a past age. The Somerset County agricultural fair was, if anything, even more disgraceful than the Waverly indecency, and we find that Lewis A. Thompson, a Republican "reformer" of the New Jersey Senate, licensed all kinds of fakirs, three-card monte men and gentlemen who manipulate balls under cups to rob farmers and boys; bets on races were publicly made at licensed booths, and half-dressed females danced indecently before the spectators. The Waverly and the Somerset fairs seemed to be conducted this year on a plane to drive decent people from them in the future.

The Horse Sale.
The bazaar at Edsall's Saturday night was a great success. The idea originated with Mr. Edsall, Jr., and under his special direction was carried into effect. He and the young men in the store who aided him are deserving of much praise for the artistic skill displayed in the arrangement of the whole affair. The sale will be continued during this week with changes and new attractions.

The booths are beautifully decorated, and presided over by attractive and attentive young ladies. The public has a great chance for both bargains and enjoyment in this sale.

A Saturday Night Carousal Which Results in Damage Chiefly to the Record of a Ring-Organ Writer.

A drunken Saturday night carousal ended at daybreak yesterday morning in a driving smash-up in which four young Plainfield men participated.

Stories reached town early in the day that a carriage had fallen from the embankment by Wilson's stone-cruiser. Rumors of the results varied, from the tale of a man who was found unconscious to the stronger yarn of the killing of a horse, a man and three women. A ring-organ reporter fed his imagination and wired to a New York news bureau the exaggerated sensational story, full of false "details" which the morning papers published today.

The whole affair started Saturday evening when Walter H. Leland of Central avenue, Thomas Boldy of Spooner avenue and William Dean of Summit avenue met in a North Plainfield saloon. A ride to the dance at Peddion's hotel over the mountain was proposed, and as Dean works for S. G. Taylor, who was in Brooklyn over Sunday, he was selected to furnish the horse. Leland said he had a wagon.

Constable Taylor's white horse was led from the barn and taken to the stables of Tinsmith George H. Leland, brother of Walter. The owner was home in bed, but the men managed to enter without a key. They hitched Taylor's horse to Leland's light business wagon and drove to Peddion's. It was on the return trip that the accident happened.

Bravely thinks it was about 1 when they left the dance-house, but it was day-break when they reached Wilson's stone-cruiser by the road in the notch this side of Demler's hotel, so his memory must have been faulty. The road slopes towards Plainfield there at an opposite angle to the wagon track which turns down the side to the crusher. At the upper end the road is perhaps 40 feet above the narrow driveway and thence the height decreased to the south until the road meets on the level.

According to the story told by the men, who were by this time in an advanced stage of intoxication, the breeching-strap broke as they started down the slope. Then the girl parted and the shafts went up above the horse's head. The driver pulled the wrong rein steadily and crowded the whole outfit against the guard rail which marks the west side of the road. One of the poets supporting the 240 strip was torn from the ground, two lengths away, and the outfit dropped to the lower road, about 12 feet beneath at this point.

No one jumped. The wagon landed nearly upside down with the two rear wheels in the air. The shafts and harness were broken. Dean found himself under one front wheel with Leland under the other. Gulluck was beneath the body of the wagon, while Boldy had been thrown out, landing on his back on the stone road. Dean was uninjured, Gulluck's face was covered with blood from cuts, Leland felt a slight pain in his back, and Boldy's back was bruised and bleeding in several places.

Dean pulled Leland away from the wheel. He was so drunk that he went to sleep at once where Dean left him. The driver gathered up the harness and led the horse home. The animal's only injury was a slight scratch on the neck. Leland and Gulluck awoke later and went off home to report up, promising to send a hack for Boldy.

At 7:30 W. M. Demler saw Boldy lying where he had been abandoned, and brought the news to Tinsmith Leland. Walter was found asleep in his bed. A rig was hitched up and Boldy was carried to his boarding-place, 209 Spooner avenue.

Dr. Simpson was called and found that Boldy's injuries were slight. His back was somewhat bruised, but no bones were broken. He will return to work in Boldy's tomorrow. One similar accident occurred some time ago; he broke three ribs. Walter Leland had a mustard plaster applied to his back and went to bed. Gulluck's cuts do not trouble him much. Dean cleaned the horse and mended the harness this morning.

Sewerage Contract Signed.
The sewerage contract was signed by the city and Cook & Co., Saturday afternoon. Work will probably be begun Thursday.

Cook & Co. announce that Plainfield men will have the preference. They should apply for work along the line of ditching. The wages will be $1.10 to $1.30 per day.

The latest news from the war is that the Japanese lost only 30 men in routing a Chinese army. The Chinese loss was 20,000 men.

Mrs. Adams will open to the public Wednesday a complete line of the latest fashions in millinery, also a fine stock of silks. The feminine heart will rejoice in the treasures she unfolds.

A number of the children of the Seaboard members spent yesterday afternoon in Taylor's grove on the mountain. Ice-cream and candy were freely served and the children were amused with running races and games. A few who remained late were drenched by the storm.

A SUNDAY-SCHOOL RALLY.

Supt. Murray Gives a Sentimental Illustration of How Sin is Wonward Away.

"Bible Day" services were held in the Chapel of the Crescent Avenue Church Sunday-school yesterday afternoon to mark the change in the sessions of the school from morning to afternoon. Supt. William D. Murray conducted the services, H. O. Newman taking charge of the primary department in the place of J. C. Pierson.

In opening the superintendent read Psalm XXIV. After silent prayer and the Lord's Prayer, "Praise the Lord in Song" was sung. The Creed, the Gloria, and the Ten Commandments followed, and then the primary scholars sang "Birds Are Singing, Flowers Are Springing". John IV-42 was read responsively, and after all present had responded to the roll-call, D. E. Titworth rendered very sweetly the solo "Thy Word Is a Lamp Unto My Path, Lord".

Rev. Dr. W. B. Richards led in prayer and Rev. Cornelius Benek made an address. His subject was "Jesus' Life from His Birth to His Talk with Nicodemus". He spoke very effectively on the period between the "generation of Christ and the regeneration of man." "Galilee, Bright Galilee" was the next song.

The lesson, on the woman of Samaria, was taught by Superintendent Murray. He explained how "Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst". He effectively introduced a chemical experiment to illustrate the redemption of man. He showed a pure liquid which represented the soul. Mixed with another which he called sin it became black. Then a red liquid, which he explained represented Christ's blood, was poured into the black, turning the soul's symbol back to its original purity. At the close of the service Mr. Titworth rendered another solo and the services closed with the singing of "I'm Satisfied with Jesus Here".

CHURCH CHIMES.

By request, Rev. C. E. Herring will repeat his sermon of yesterday evening next Sunday night.

The attendance at the Plainfield church last night during the terrible thunder-storm varied from 13 to 102.

Robert Clark, Jr., tenor of Trinity Church choir, very acceptably filled the position as organist at the first part of the morning session yesterday, until the arrival of A. L. Titworth, who was unavoidably detained.

In conversation with a Plainfield man last week, Evangelist Dwight L. Moody said: "Of course I know Rev. Ralph Gillingham. He is one of my young men, and is exceedingly bright and earnest, and does good work wherever he goes. I am sure you will like him." Mr. Gillingham will commence his work in Plainfield Thursday evening at Hope Chapel. Meetings will be held every afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Stephen Matthews, National Organizer of the "British Women's Temperance Association" of London, and a co-worker with Lady Henry Somerset, will deliver an address at the W. O. C. T. U. County Convention to be held at the Seventh-Day Baptist Church tomorrow evening. The morning session begins at 10, afternoon at 2, and evening at 8. All are cordially invited to attend each and every session.

Policeman's Strange Death.
The body of Policeman Christian Otto, in full uniform, was found this morning at 2:20 on Washington avenue and East street, Elizabeth, at the foot of an electric light pole. Otto evidently had been leading against the pole, or had been up the pole trying to arrange the wires, when he received a shock that caused him to fall to the ground.

CYCLING COMMENT.

COULD HARDLY BREATHE.

Cataract of the Nose, Throat, and Eustachian Tube Made Miserable by Headache, Pain and Cough.

Lida McClelland, No. 1230 South Thirty-fifth street, Philadelphia, in conversation with a reporter, said: "I had a very bad case of catarrh of the nose, throat and stomach, with frequent headaches, pain under the shoulder blades and a horrible cough. I had to keep my mouth constantly open day and night to breathe, and felt as miserable as one possibly could. I was advised to try Munyon's Catarrh Cure. I am happy to say that from the beginning I felt relieved and continued to grow better until now I am entirely well. I am so thankful that this remarkable remedy was ever discovered, and I hope others will take advantage of my experience."

"Have you Catarrh? Are you willing to investigate treatment that cures Catarrh by removing the cause? If so ask your druggist for a 25c bottle of Catarrh Tablets. The Catarrh Cure will eradicate the disease from the system and the Tablets will cleanse and heal the affected parts and restore them to a natural and healthful condition. Munyon's Homoeopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specially for medical purposes, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle. 9 17 m t
