REMARKABLE CURES
Of Recent Date.

A Statement from Ex-Mayor John Corson, Esq., of Clifton, N. J.

To THE PUBLIC:
I acknowledge with the utmost pleasure the wonderful cure which Dr. Lighthill effected in my case.

I had been a sufferer from piles, which gave me constant pain and distress, during twenty long years, attended with frequent loss of blood and with great and painful protrusion of the pile tumors and rectum whenever my bowels moved.

I tried constantly to get relief from my sufferings, but to no purpose until Mr. Bryan, a friend of mine, who had been cured by Dr. Lighthill of the same trouble, recommended him to me, and he effected a complete and radical cure in my case also, and earned my lifelong gratitude.

JOHN CORSON.

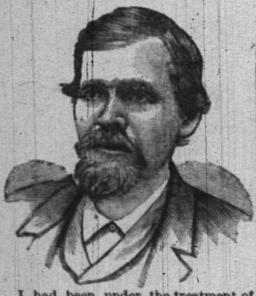

THE CASE OF MR. PETER G. EYCK, OF BISSELL, HUNTERDON CO., N. J.

Dr. Lighthill Effects a Complete Cure Where Ten Physicians Had Failed.

To THE SICK, SUFFERING AND AFFLICTED:
For many years past I have been afflicted with bleeding piles. Every movement of the bowels was attended with loss of blood and with intense pain which lasted for hours and sometimes all day. My condition was aggravated by a prolapse of the rectum, which greatly increased my suffering and sometimes gave me most agonizing pains.

So great was my distress and so bad my condition that I sold my farm, not being able to work it any longer. At one time the protruding pile tumors became so highly inflamed and swollen that they could not be replaced, and I had to go to bed, applying hot poultices for three months before I could get relief.

Dr. Lighthill Effects a Complete Cure Where Ten Physicians Had Failed.

I had been under the treatment of ten different physicians, some of New York City, Easton, Washington and elsewhere, without any benefit whatever, and had given up my case as hopeless when, luckily for me, I heard of Dr. Lighthill's skill and success in such cases, and went to him for treatment, with the happy result that he effected a radical and permanent cure in less than four weeks' time, and I am glad to say that the entire treatment gave me neither pain nor distress.

I consider my cure perfectly wonderful, and so do all my friends and neighbors. I am confident that there is no case of piles which Dr. Lighthill cannot cure.

PETER G. EYCK, Bissell, Hunterdon Co., N. J.

WORK OF THE CYCLONE

List of the Dead and Injured at Little Rock.

Property Valued at $1,000,000 Destroyed—A Scene of Vast Ruin Presented in the City—One Doctor Killed at the Insane Asylum and Another Has a Miraculous Escape.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 4.—The scene of the cyclone here is being viewed by thousands of people. Retail business is suspended and the merchants are lending their assistance to their less fortunate fellow-traders, who were heavy losers by the catastrophe.

The list of the killed and injured continues to grow. The total loss will reach $1,000,000.

A revised list of killed and injured includes the following:

The killed—Dr. J. T. Ingate, Jackson Boyd, son of Jackson Boyd, J. F. Griffith.

The injured—C. T. Monroe, John Easton, Jerry Donahue, S. O. Smith, Will Harvey, John Brown, Eric Reis, Mrs. L. Volmer, Mrs. J. Jaska, Mrs. Lulu Prewitt, Joe Holloway, Joe Swift, John Fontereaux, W. D. Trotter, Miss Lucille West, John Balbau, Tom Forbes, Houser, George B. Cross, C. Prater, J. M. Ryan, J. C. Biggs, J. D. Bowlin, Dr. Lakeland, A. Henry, Will Harvey, convict; Tom Mitchell, convict, probably fatally; G. Baker, convict; G. S. Jenks, convict; Lee Hinson, convict; Will Singleton, convict; J. J. Smith, guard; John Witt, guard.

Never in the history of Little Rock was there such a scene of wrecked and ruined buildings as is presented on the streets of this city. The streets are almost impassable and great yawning chasms in brick fronts tell of the fury of the storm. The damage will aggregate almost $1,000,000. The only insurance held by the sufferers amounts to about $2,500. Of that amount a plate glass insurance company of New York holds policies amounting to $1,000. The remaining $1,500 was against losses by cyclone.

Almost every building between Markham and Third streets on Main was unroofed and in numerous instances entire fronts were leveled. On East Markham street the destruction of property was greater than elsewhere. Several large buildings were demolished and not one escaped injury. Windows and doors were blown out, tin roofs carried away, telephones and electric light wires blown to the ground and poles twisted off at the curbing.

It was the insane asylum where the most complete wreck was to be seen. The buildings built by the state at a cost of $300,000 are located on a prominence three miles west of the business portion of the city, and offered a splendid target for the fury of the storm. The ruin was not complete, but the damage is estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000. There was one death here, Dr. J. T. Ingate, second assistant physician. He and Dr. Robinson, the superintendent, were standing in the hall talking just before the storm struck and as they separated to go to their rooms, the two towers which crowned the main office portico crashed through the three stories, burying Ingate under the debris of one of them. Dr. Robinson had a narrow escape but by pressing up against the wall while bricks and heavy timbers were flying about his head in the dark, the lights having been at once extinguished, he succeeded in getting out without injury. A heavy force of men worked all night in removing the debris to find the body of the unfortunate physician, who was found under a mass of brick and timbers in the vestibule of the main building, lying on his face and mangled beyond recognition. His remains were forwarded to his parents at Mobile, Ala.

Besides the destruction wrought in the main building, the east wall of the interior was completely wrecked away. Wards 1, 3 and 5 and a part of a fourth were blown down and debris has been found half a mile east. Patients remained after the storm had passed and the cells in the south wing were occupied by inmates at the time. About fifteen killed or all large.

The following are still missing and it is not known whether they were killed or at large:

Quincy Jones, Dennis Callahan, Jas. McPeck, William M. Miller, William Burratt, Joseph W. Johnson and Geo. Wackermark.

The storm did damage at the state penitentiary aggregating $30,000. The south half of the roof of the cell-house was completely torn away and carried outside of the walls.

The windows were all broken out, but very little damage was done to the interior. Many of the convicts were in their cells at the time and were not hurt. The new workhouse, chapel and kitchen were badly wrecked. The third story and the east wall of the second story were blown down and are lying between it and the house a vast mass of brick and mortar. The west wall was cracked at the floor and inclined to the east about 45 degrees. In this building where the only death occurred, J. P. Griffith, a white man, sent up from Clay county and in the third story when the wall caved in and buried him under the debris. His remains, badly mangled, were removed from the debris this morning. The hospital building was uninjured except for the wrecking of several chimneys and a portion of the roof. The two-story stable, blacksmith shop and woodshed, that stood in the center of the yard were badly wrecked. Several hundred people sustained losses in this city ranging from $15,000 to $500.

But two hundred citizens escaped death in a most miraculous manner. Telegrams from all sections of the country offering assistance were received by Mayor Hall. All the injured with few exceptions, are doing nicely.

PROF. SWING DEAD

The Great Preacher Passes Away at Chicago.

In a Comatose State for Thirty-six Hours He Died at the End Came—Acute Jaundice His Fatal Illness—Brief Sketch of a Most Interesting Career.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Prof. David Swing died at his home on the Lake Shore drive last night. He was taken ill about a week ago with gastric fever which developed into a few days into acute jaundice. He had been in a comatose state for thirty-six hours before his death and the end was momentarily expected by his mother, Mrs. Ricker and Mrs. Starving, the professor's two married daughters and the immediate members of his family were at the bedside when Dr. Davis pronounced life extinct.

Prof. Swing's ancestry is German, coming to this country before the thirteenth century had been established. David, the youngest son was born in Cincinnati, Aug. 23, 1830, his father dying two years later. When David was six years of age his mother removed to Reedsburg, Ohio, which was the family residence for three years. A settlement was then made on a farm near Williamsburg where during the following eight years David was a farm boy and a scholar in the public school. On this farm was laid the foundation for that sturdy manhood and remarkable self-poise so noticeable in after years. He studied and taught himself so perfectly that at the age of eighteen he entered Miami university at Oxford, Ohio. At this same school were Benjamin Harrison and Whitlaw Field. Young Swing supported himself by working as a teaching school during vacations. His intention was to be a lawyer, but the religious element of his mind predominated and he studied for the Presbyterian ministry. In 1856 Prof. Swing accepted the pastorate of the Westminster Presbyterian church in this city. This service was terminated by the great fire of 1871, which not only swept away his church but all his personal belongings leaving him with nothing but a few dollars in his pocket. Within a year his church was rebuilt on the old site. About this time occurred the most important event in the great minister's career—his trial before the Chicago presbytery on the charge of heresy preferred by the Dr. Francis L. Patton, then editor of the Interior, and a portion of Princeton college. These charges of which there were twenty-eight, specifications of lapses from Presbyterian doctrine were announced at the trial. Sixty-one members in the presbytery and only thirteen voted against him. But the subsequent feeling was so bitter that the trial on such matters to a close by resigning his pastorate, a large number of his friends going with him and forming the Central Presbyterian church. Prof. Swing has since labored with great success. Prof. Swing was a man of broad culture and extensive learning and his library is one of the best in the west.

FOR HIS ACTION ON TARIFF

Not Necessary for Him to Call on Baltimore's Mayor.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Secretary Herbert's attention was called to the conservatism that has taken place in Baltimore between Mayor Latrobe and Captain Charles H. Davis, of the United States cruiser Montgomery, and which the mayor is represented as using very sharp language reflecting on Captain Davis and the navy department. The secretary authorized the statement that he was away from Washington when the Montgomery was ordered to Baltimore but said he had thoroughly looked into the matter and found that a request had been made by the citizens of Baltimore, signed by the mayor, postmaster and others for the ship to go to Baltimore in order to be seen by the people there.

Acting Secretary McAdoo had sent an order to Captain Davis directing him to go there Sept. 11 without further details. The vessel was delayed by repairs and could not obey the order until now. Captain Davis, Secretary Herbert said, was not compelled to make any official visit to the mayor and there was certainly no necessity for him to wear a uniform to see the mayor. He probably called on the mayor to tell him that the ship was there, but there was nothing official about his visit. The Montgomery has been ordered to return to Norfolk by the 17th inst. and the secretary hopes she will be ready to go to Mobile by Nov. 1, when the citizens of Montgomery, Ala., will present the ship with a set of silver.

TRouble OR RUMOR

The Madagascar Blockade Story Denied.

Significant Summoning of the French and English Cabinet—London Papers Generally Deny That There Is Any Likelihood of Trouble With France.

London, Oct. 4.—Routier's agency virtually denies the report it circulated yesterday that the Madagascar ports had been blockaded. It expresses the opinion that the report arose from the fact that French warships had been ordered to exercise increased surveillance over the Madagascar coast to prevent the landing of munitions of war.

The Daily News deprecates the scare which was produced on the stock exchange by alarming reports in regard to the relations between France and England. It characterizes the alleged anxiety concerning them as a mere flurry. The paper admits, however, that the business for which discussion the cabinet was summoned is of a most urgent nature, but says that a glance at the political horizon suggests reasons for wonder why cabinet councils are not held more frequently. The war between China and Japan, the state of the quarrel with the situation in Madagascar, and several other minor questions affecting France and England supply topics concerning which the cabinet may well be summoned.

The Chronicle after its guttering terror over the situation in its issue of yesterday, reads a lecture to the alarmists and trusts that they are ashamed of their story of strained relations with France and of the wholly unjustifiable report of a blockade of Madagascar—a report which was an invention on the face of it. The Chronicle professes to state upon authority that the cabinet was summoned in connection with the reports of maltreatment of British subjects in China.

The Telegraph says it cannot be pretended that the circumstances which caused the summoning of a cabinet council are otherwise than alarming. The paper declines to even guess as to the cause, but says the weight of opinion is in favor of attributing it to the French question, inasmuch as the matter of reinforcing the garrison at Hong Kong for the purpose of furnishing protective escorts to Tien-Tsin and elsewhere could not require cabinet authority.

A dispatch to the Daily News from Berlin says the German foreign office sees no cause for alarm and ascribes the French and English cabinet meetings to be held to-day to the situation of eastern affairs.

GREAT STALLION RACE

Nelson Convicts All That Directum Is No Match for Him.

Portland, Me., Oct. 4.—At Rigby Park all admirers of Nelson were forced to admit that he is no match for Directum. The contest settled all doubts as to their relative superiority. The weather was cool and cloudy, making the attendance rather small for so great a race. There were less than 2,000 people at the park. Among those present were Eliu Thos. B. Reed, who occupied a private box. At a little after 2 o'clock the two great stallions came on the track together. Both had been warming up around the track at intervals since noon, when Nelson's blanket was removed and he appeared on the track, there was great applause from the spectators, who wanted to see the famous Maine horse do his best. Directum was in prime condition and ready to do great things which developed in a few days into acute jaundice. He had been in a comatose state for thirty-six hours before his death and the end was momentarily expected by his mother, Mrs. Ricker and Mrs. Starving, the professor's two married daughters and the immediate members of his family were at the bedside when Dr. Davis pronounced life extinct.

LIKE A DREAM.

SHE COULD HARDLY BELIEVE IT AT FIRST.

But Now It Is a Very Pleasant and Lasting Health—A Popular Person Gives Some Interesting Information.

No dream could be more pleasant than the experience which Ellen C. A. Mitchell, of 297 Mineral Spring ave., Pawtucket, R. I., has had. She has been a fearful sufferer and had abandoned hope, but suddenly her sorrows all left her and she was a well woman. She writes the following most fascinating account:

"Four years ago I was taken sick with typhoid fever which left me entirely unstrung. My nerves were completely unstrung and I could not bear the least noise. The slightest sound would make me start and tremble all over. When these trembling spells came on my only relief was to lie down and try to obtain rest.

"Almost every day I was attacked with severe nervous headaches. If I attempted to walk across the floor the pain would be frightful, as if my head would split open. The palpitation of my heart was something dreadful. I could not go up or down stairs without having these spells.

"The least excitement caused a continual fluttering which was horrible in its suffocating sensations. In fact, life was unbearable. A lady friend who had been greatly benefited by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, advised me to try it.

"The relief which I obtained can only be understood by other sufferers, who, after many years of suffering, have at last found health. My headaches, which had made my life so full of torture, as well as all my other troubles, have been entirely cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"Now I can go through life free from all a fluttering. I can honestly say that I have a new life before me. I urge all sufferers to use this great medicine, if they wish to be well and happy.

"No sufferer can possibly hesitate after reading of so wonderful a cure, to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is a certain cure for disease. It is purely vegetable and harmless, and is the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York City, who has for many years used it in his practice. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted at all, free of charge, personally or by letter.

Captain Davis, Secretary Herbert said, was not compelled to make any official visit to the mayor and there was certainly no necessity for him to wear a uniform to see the mayor. He probably called on the mayor to tell him that the ship was there, but there was nothing official about his visit. The Montgomery has been ordered to return to Norfolk by the 17th inst. and the secretary hopes she will be ready to go to Mobile by Nov. 1, when the citizens of Montgomery, Ala., will present the ship with a set of silver.

FOR HIS ACTION ON TARIFF

Not Necessary for Him to Call on Baltimore's Mayor.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Secretary Herbert's attention was called to the conservatism that has taken place in Baltimore between Mayor Latrobe and Captain Charles H. Davis, of the United States cruiser Montgomery, and which the mayor is represented as using very sharp language reflecting on Captain Davis and the navy department. The secretary authorized the statement that he was away from Washington when the Montgomery was ordered to Baltimore but said he had thoroughly looked into the matter and found that a request had been made by the citizens of Baltimore, signed by the mayor, postmaster and others for the ship to go to Baltimore in order to be seen by the people there.

Acting Secretary McAdoo had sent an order to Captain Davis directing him to go there Sept. 11 without further details. The vessel was delayed by repairs and could not obey the order until now. Captain Davis, Secretary Herbert said, was not compelled to make any official visit to the mayor and there was certainly no necessity for him to wear a uniform to see the mayor. He probably called on the mayor to tell him that the ship was there, but there was nothing official about his visit. A CARPENTER'S FALL.

RICHARD MARTINDALE TUMBLES FROM A SCAFFOLD. His Injuries Not Fatal, But Bad Enough to Lay Him Up For a Time.

Richard Martindale, a carpenter employed by Walter Pound, fell 18 feet from a scaffold shortly after 9 this morning. He was working on the new bay window which is being built on Wilson Place's house, 318 LaGrande avenue.

The scaffolding on which Martindale stood was at the second story in the rear of the building. One of the supports, a 2x3 strip, broke, and the carpenter fell to the cellar steps below. His fall was broken by the boards, but he struck heavily on the edge of one of the stone steps.

The man was carried into the house and Dr. T. H. Tomlinson was summoned from his home next door. He said Martindale's injuries were not very serious, because he talked about the match, and third, because she allowed herself to be beaten, as he was an expert oarsman, and had taught Nellie how to row.

TWO GIRLS ROW FOR LOVE. A Remarkable Boat Race with a Dede For the Winner's Prize. Once in a while one hears of a contest of some sort between men for the possession of a woman, but very seldom a contest between two young women for the possession of a young man who could evidently be very 'happy with either, were 't'other chamber away."

There was such a contest, however, in Brooklyn, on the 21st day. Two girls, named respectively, Mamie and Nellie, rowed a race on Prospect Park lake, with one certain rule of the name of Frederick, as the prize. Both girls loved Fred, and he loved both girls with such impartiality that when they proposed to race for him he not only did not object, but offered his services as referee.

The match, the Standard-Union says in its report of the event, was well contested, and Mamie won, but by less than a half a boat's length. As she stepped from the fall vessel upon the "float," she was met by Fred who congratulated her on her victory. With a look of pride she passed her right arm through his left and disappeared through the arch leading to the Willink entrance. A few minutes later Nellie and her friend followed. The tears were in their eyes. She came from the fall vessel upon the "float," she was met by Fred who congratulated her on her victory.

Her sister-in-law said that she thought Nellie's brother would be very angry with her for three reasons. First, because she was foolish to do anything of the kind; second, because she talked about the match, and third, because she allowed herself to be beaten, as he was an expert oarsman, and had taught Nellie how to row.

UNDER A FLORAL BELL.

CITY JUDGE CODDINGTON TIES THE NUPTIAL KNOT.

Alliance Hall in Berkeley Heights the scene of a Glad Alliance—a Plymouth Brethren Ceremony.

A very pretty rural wedding took place yesterday afternoon, when Miss Emily Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Simmons of Berkeley Heights, was married to John Crowe of New York.

The ceremony was performed by City Judge William A. Coddington, after the custom of the Plymouth Brethren.

Alliance Hall, near Berkeley Heights, was the scene of the marriage. It had been beautifully decorated by friends of the bride. At the far end was a large arch of evergreens, from the centre of which hung a floral wedding bell.

The hall was nearly filled with friends from the vicinity, and New York, Brooklyn and Newark, at 3, the time set for the affair.

The bride entered with two friends as bridesmaids. She was gowned in steel-colored silk and carried a large bouquet of tea roses. The best man was a brother of the groom, and two brothers of the bride acted as ushers. The party proceeded up the aisle and stopped beneath the arch. In front of the Judge and party facing the spectators.

Judge Coddington united the young couple in matrimony with an impressive ceremony which he had prepared for the occasion. As soon as the pair were pronounced man and wife the usual nuptial greetings followed. Devotional exercises were then held in the hall.

In the evening a social celebration of the marriage was enjoyed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Crowe, left on a short wedding tour to return to New York to take up their residence. Mr. Crowe is connected with the New York postoffice.

The Young Men's Auxiliary, at their meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, required of each member a talk on personal adventures that had happened during the summer. Henry Brower spoke of a narrow escape from drowning on the Raritan river. Alva Davis told of a thrilling experience with an old ram.

Edward Kline had for his adventure a chase by police on the Raritan river. Vincent Bittenhouse related vividly an experience among the mountains. James Stafford made the deck of a boat the scene of his excitement. Waldrop Miller gave an account of an episode in a watermelon patch. Wilbur Cornell concluded the evening's programme with an interesting tale of life on the ocean.

A "spoke" talk will be the programme for next Tuesday evening.

The short runs are likely to be very exciting, as there is a number of new contestants who have no records. E. I. Serrell, Fish, and W. Serrell, will make a strong fight from the short marks. H. Crane with 21 yards in the 100-yards dash will have a very good show, and Cornell from the 200-yard mark will be right up in the front.

Smith is almost certain of the shot, despite the handicaps of his competitors. Bicycle races sometimes have surprising finishes and the 1 and 2-mile are both likely to have them. Green, E. L. Serrell, Douglas, and W. Serrell are back mark men, but they deserve to be. Whether the rest deserve their handicaps will be seen Saturday afternoon.

The jumps and throwing the baseball are all likely to be exciting, but who will be in the lead none can say.

The pole vault is a new event, untried among the High School boys, so, under the circumstances, the handicaps were arranged according to general work in that line, but some new men may suddenly turn up and win easily.

There will be no programmes given away for sale at the field, so those interested should save this list of handicaps for reference Saturday afternoon.

ROBBERS RAMPANT.

A PARK AVENUE PHYSICIAN THE LATEST VICTIM.

The Thieves Got Nothing, However, But Establishes Home on the Ceiling.

Dr. M. B. Long's house, 418 Park avenue, was entered by thieves last night. They went into the yard from the front and pried open a cellar window on the south side near the rear. They were satisfied with searching the cellar.

The intruders were evidently hungry. Plainfield people, for all that was taken was a number of cans of fruit, a few glasses of jelly and a basket of potatoes. The affair was not discovered until this morning when the potatoes and a few of the cans were found in the yard where the thieves had dropped them in their flight. Dr. Long says that the cellar door was locked for the first time in six months last night.

SUES PLAINFIELD CITY.

Householder Peck Complains of Sewage Nuisance.

WHAT CESSPOOLS HAVE COST HIM.

Not Only Wants Damages for the Expense He is Put to, But Satisfaction for the Contamination of Green Brook.

If Landlord Peck fulfils his threat, Plainfield will find herself in a peck of trouble over the sewage matter.

While the city is putting in a system of public piping, Mr. Peck on his property on Grove street, is building a disposal plant to care for the sewage from his row of brick flats.

In the time of the general cholera scare, when everybody was looking about for germs, the Plainfield authorities decided that Mr. Peck's cesspools were contaminating Green Brook, by the sewage oozing through the soil. He was compelled to remedy this at considerable expense.

Walling in his cesspools limited their capacity so that much of his rent-money was continually going for the services of cesspool-cleaners. This cost became so burdensome that now he is providing the flats with the new filtration system of sewage disposal. The liquid of the cesspools is conveyed through a series of cesspools which hold the solids in bulk to a section of the land specially prepared, broken tile, gravel and other material being laid in layers underground, where the purified fluid oozes into the earth. The final disposal filter is similar to that of the city, on a smaller scale, and is calculated to lessen materially the inconvenience and cost of the disposal of sewage from the flats.

But Mr. Peck's antagonism has been aroused by so much harassment over the sewage problem, and he has determined on satisfaction. He threatens to demand of the authorities recompense for his enforced outlay, and will insist of the Grand Jury now in session in Elizabeth that it present the city for maintaining a nuisance in permitting the pollution of Green Brook. He says that the offensive deposits of that open sewer accumulate on his land, and he holds that if the city can make him stop that sort of thing he can make the city stop it too.

At Rest.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Catherine Burton, widow of Captain C. B. Burton, were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30. Many friends gathered at the house, 453 West Fifth street, and there were many floral tributes. Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman conducted the Episcopal service in Grand Church. The interment was in Evergreen Cemetery, Plainfield avenue.

A Good Firm's Pleasur.

Larry Burns left a pleasant impression in Plainfield by his visit yesterday. Larry fits about as a shining representative of Stouvenburg & Co., for whom he is special advertising manager, and whose honorable designs are known to all men who like to dress well at moderate expense.

A Preddy.

Little Miss Wieritz of West Front street is only a week old, but she is learning to pronounce the big French words on her papa's handsome wagon, and knows that they mean he's refreshment-provider for fastidious palates.

Plainfield's Loss.

In the Elizabeth Court yesterday the contract case of George Frazee against Augustus Frazee was postponed for the term, the defendant's lawyer not having witnesses ready.

"I OWE MY LIFE TO YOU."

A Wilton, N. J., Girl's Experience With a Noted Massachusetts Woman.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.] Life is never more precious than in the heyday of youth, when every dream is a promise, and every thought an inspiration.

It is natural that Miss Gertrude Slicker, a young lady who lives at Wilton, N. J., is grateful for the great boon which she has received from the medicine which she has used.

She suffered terribly with suppressed and painful menstruations. The doctors could only prevent her from leaving this world by giving her morphine.

At last, when she was completely prostrated, her father got her a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which at once gave her relief.

That did what the doctors could not do. It cured her. She has no trouble now, and no dread of the coming month. "I owe my life to you," she writes to Mrs. Pinkham. "Oh, if other suffering women could try your valuable medicine they would bless you as I do."

Save Another from Injury.

Manager Charles Runyon of the telephone company has made several brave stops of runaways in Plainfield, and just before his accident Monday morning he made another athletic capture of a fast-traveling horse. The runaway turned from Front street into Grove, and the harness being broken the driver was unable to control the animal. Mr. Runyon sprang into the roadway, seized the bridle, and after being carried considerable distance brought the horse to a standstill.

No Indictment Against Kelly.

Charles Kelly, formerly employed by T. B. Panten, Jr., of Bookview avenue, has been released from the Somerset County Jail. The Grand Jury found no indictment against him for assisting Thomas Bookin to escape arrest. Kelly has gone to Cranford to begin keeping house with his bride.

ROW OVER TEMPLE CUP

Manager Hanlon's Action Causes Trouble.

Mr. Temple Protests, Too—The Orioles Will Stick to the "Divide" and Play the Series, Cup or No Cup

To-day, Baltimore, Oct. 4.—The controversy between baseball magnates regarding the Temple Cup games, scheduled to begin to-day, is causing great uneasiness in Baltimore.

Mr. Temple has just received a telegram from Manager Ward protesting against the proposed agreement arrived at last week to divide the gate receipts equally and abide by the majority's decision.

"You may say," said Manager Hanlon, "that the Baltimore players refuse positively to play the series except on the plan agreed between Mr. Ward and myself."

At this juncture Secretary Harry Von Der Horst, who was present, broke in: "You are quite as well as saying that Mr. Temple can present the cup to the New York club if he desires, and we will play the series without it."

Such was the decision of Nick Young, of the league, after receiving a letter from the other member of the committee, President C. H. Byrne.

Mr. Young decided that as the National league had given him and Mr. Byrne full authority to divide the gate receipts, the regulations governing a contest for the Temple cup, the regulations must stand.

He decides that the agreement made by Capt. Hanlon and Ward to divide the receipts equally was in conflict with the regulations, and any games played under the latter would be simply exhibition games, and not for the cup.

Mr. Young thinks, however, that the decision of the committee will not interfere with the series of games scheduled to begin to-day. He said the captains of the two teams will simply be forced to agree to the 65 and 35 per cent agreement.

Mr. Young has received many letters and telegrams from lovers of baseball all over the country scolding the "equal division" agreement between Hanlon and Ward.

Mr. Temple has announced his intention of "covering" Fitzsimmons's money, now held by the sporting editor of a morning paper in this city. He will be in the city to make the match next week.

Corbett Gives In. Said Now That He Has Decided To Fight Fitzsimmons.

New York, Oct. 4.—It is reported that James J. Corbett has changed his mind about fighting Fitzsimmons for the championship of the world.

He has overcome his objection to meeting a middleweight and has announced his intention of "covering" Fitzsimmons's money, now held by the sporting editor of a morning paper in this city.
