Mr. Newhall now introduced Jacob A. Riis, of New York, who delivered a very absorbing and entertaining ad dress. His subject was the typical "tough," whom he called Tony. He told of the crowded blocks in New York, where people were packed in after the fashion of sardines. "Only," said he, "the sardine is dead, so he lies still, but the man is alive, and he kicks!" Of course, in such places there are no homes, and what moral ina can you expect of a boy who has no home? And he has no place to he is no abild has got to play, or s no child, and who can wonder that he grows up with the most de praved part of him most fully developed? He can't play in the poor little lard, for the landlord of the tenement won't let him, and in the street the eman is after him. With the adlord and the policeman both siting on his safety-valve, what will ppen? By and by he explodes, and then off he goes to the station-house. Bad boy? Bosh! a Hostlery Up-to-Date in Every Detail.

A thorough renovating within and without and the addition of substantial improvements have transformed The hearts of Christian people in the City Hotel into an apparently new happy homes go out in love and com- hostlery. The changes that have been made there have greatly improved the hotel and now make it an up-to-date establishment of which its proprietor, John E. Beerbower, can be justly proud.

To the passersby, the most noticeable improvements are the new stone side walk to take the place of the old areaway at the side of the hotel and the new entrance placed diagonally across the corner. Within, the owner and lessee have both done their share toward the general improvement of the house. The office has been entirely refitted. The ladies' entrance, the halls and dining room have all received a thorough cleaning and are resplendent with new carpets, paper and paint. Upstairs, the same changes have been made and the rooms are tasteful and neat in their appearance.

The barroom has been enlarged to four times its former size, and equipped after the latest methods. The ceiling is of metal, stamped with an artistic design, while the floor is Charles L. The speaker thought it was a perilous thing to be young, for all along the pathway of life there are great dangers. He said that the young people of this generation are hungry socially, physically, mentally and in many other ways. One of the worst things for a young person is solitary confinement. He thought it was unholy. On the other hand, there are great dangers to be met with too much company that is oftentimes apt to be bad. He spoke of moral and intellectual hunger which young people have, and cautioned all in letting that hunger be rightly directed. Mr. Snodgrass spoke in detail about the perils and benefits to be found in youth, and drew many pointed lessons which were helpful.

A vo e of thanks was extended to the speaker at the close for his interesting address.

Borough Health Statistics

The following is Rev. W. E. Honeyman's report, as registrar of vital statistics in the borough, for the past year: Births, 71; deaths, 65; marriages, 29; burial permits, 60; transit permits, 10; cases of contagious disease, 45, as follows: scariet fever, 41; typhoid, 2; diphtheria, 1; measles, 1. There were two deaths from contagious diseases. Mr. Honeyman has been re-elected to the office for the ensuing year.

'RAS STOLE THE BICYCLE

DIMINUTIVE DARKEY CAUGHT WITH THE WHEEL IN HIS POSSESSION.

He Looks Innocent Enough, But Even His Mother Says He is a Bad Boy-Clever Capture By Officer Frederickson.

To Roundsman Frederickson belongs the credit for tracking down and capturing the first bicycle thief in this city. Wheels have been stolen here and the thief captured elsewhere, but this was the first occasion when the police have made the arrest within After the routine business had been the limits of the city.

Last May, Shepard Dekay, whose home is on Carleton avenue, received New York and Philadelphia Traction a brand-new Crescent, model 2, of Company, presented an entirely new the 1897 style. The theft was then reported to the police and Roundsman Frederickson started out to investigate.

Diligent inquiry in the neighborhood revealed the fact that a small colored boy had been seen riding a maroon enameled Crescent wheel. Further search discovered that Raspberry Harrison, a diminutive piece of dusky humanity, living in the East Sixth street row, had been riding a wheel of that description.

This little black Raspberry, or "Rus" as he is usually called, is alleged to have paid a visit to the new houses that Charles Hand is building on Berckman street and helped himself to the lunch belonging to the men working there. The men' gave chase but the youthful raider eluded them.

The Roundsman went to see Mrs. Harrison, mother of the boy, and she told him that the last she had seen of Ras was at 3 o'clock. She told him that the men had been there and wanted to know what he had done with their lunch and that he must now stay home. She went down stairs and when she came back the lad was gone. She said that he was not an obedient child and that he was always into mischief despite her best efforts.

This morning early the Roundsman was out again looking for the lad and the wheel. He at last found them both in the alley leading to Battle Row. Another boy was riding the wheel while 'Ras was standing nearby. Philadelphia, Oct. 6 .- The police reticent, and will give out no inforcation whatever regarding the man w himself up Monday night, st ing that he was one of three men w murdered William C. Wilson, the a librarian who was killed in his bostore on the evening of Aug. 16:

It has been learned that he has in formed the police authorities that he with two other men, went into the book store for the purpose of robbery and that when they unexpectedly met Wilson in the place, they beat him to death, and then made their escape.

The man's first name is Harry, but the police refuse to divulge his full name. They are investigating the story, and are endeavoring to locate the man's alleged companions in the crime.

The story told by the prisoner to the Philadelphia police tallies with the theories advanced at the time of the murder. It was supposed at the time of the murder that three men took part in the crime, as the interior of the store was all in disorder, and the killing of the aged librarian bore the evidence of more than one man.

William C. Wilson was found dead on the night of Aug. 16 last. His body was found in his store. It would have been possible for passing pedestrians to look through the glass door of Wilson's store, which was used as a circulating library, and witness the crime.

Wilson was known to all women of any social prominence or means in the Quaker City. He was the almost sole purveyor of fiction for the leisure classes of Philadelphia. After the dis-covery of the murder the Mayor offered $1,000 reward for the apprehension of Four men were arrested, but discharged, as there was no evidence against them.

Mr. Wilson was small and spare. His whole life was devoted to his books. He rarely mingled with the outside world and lived alone on the third floor of his Mbrary, the two lower floors being filled with books. None of the rooms were carpeted, and he slept in a single bed. He was last seen alive on the night of Aug. 15, when he left a restaurant where he usually got his meals, to return to the store, at No. 1119 Walnut street. The murder was discovered by a policeman, who found a back gate spen. Everything in the place was topsy turvy, the intruders searching evidently for the money Wilson was supposed to have.

The murder created a great sensation in Philadelphia at the time, and any number of theories were advanced for the motive of the crime.

New York, Oct. 6 .- With yells of defiance and denunciation for Tammany Hall, and with jeers and hoots for Richard Croker and the French ball ticket nominated at the Tammany convention, the acre of people jammed themselves into Cooper Union last night, and acres more who couldn't get in, notified Henry George that he was their candidate for Mayor of the Greater New York, and told him that he was the only Democratic can-didate. They were the simon-pure Democrats, the believers in the Chicago platform, the supporters to a man of William J. Bryan, and they yelled their approval of it and their candidate until they had no voices left to yell with.

Henry George was brought into the big hall after the platform had been read, and then followed a tumultuous time. The Platform.

The platform of the George men is headed: "Declaration of Principles. Jeffersonian Democrats of New York. It says in part:

We, Democrats of Greater New York, in mass meeting assembled, do reaffirm our adherence to the creed of Democracy as set forth in the platform adopted by the National Convention of the Democratic party in Chicago, July 9, 1896; we declare our allegiance to the principles enunciated in that document, pronouncing them the formal expression of the spirit of true Democracy. We send our greeting to the gallant leader of the Democratic party, William Jennings Bryan, and we applaud the earnestness of purpose, the indom-itable courage and the fidelity to the principles of his party which have made him a beacon to which Democrats may turn with confidence for

We declare that the functions of street railway transportation, the lighting of the streets and homes of the people, whether by gas or electricity, the carriage of the people by ferries about the waterways of Greater New York the facilitation of the interchange of speech by telephones or telegraphs, are all purely municipal functions, things which can better be done by organized society than by individ-

We are here to demonstrate that what Democrats shall or shall not think and speak of is not to be determined on English race tracks, nor in secret conclaves of self-constituted bosses. We are here to declare that only by wresting control of the Democratic party from the hands of the paid agents of monopolistic millionaires can the city control the corpora tions, and not the corporations the

Mr. George was loudly cheered when he arose to respond to the notification of the committee. He said, in part:

"The City Convention has acted. It has registered the will of-whom? Of Mr. Croker (hisses and groans) from the English racetracks; a man whom you know (a voice, "a murderer and thief"); who has grown rich on what? He dictates the Democratic nomina-New York, Oct. 6.-Frank Clark, a tion. Is it the Democratic nomination? As a Democrat, I say 'No.' (A voice: "You are right.") The real Democracy -the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson -the regular Democracy (applause), as I hold it, tenders me the nomination to-day. I have sought by every means to have some one else come forward and take this place. I would gladly support him. It was not until it was shown to me that unless I took this nomination Mr. Croker's representative must poll the votes of the Democracy of the Greater New York that I con-

"Now, I accept. (Great applause). Such power as I have, such strength as is left me, such ability as I well can yield, is for your cause—the greatest of causes. (Great applause).

"I am a Democrat. Not a silver Democrat or a gold Democrat, but a Democrat who believes in the cardinal principle of Jeffersonian Democracy (applause), to whom this great truth (applause), to whom this great truth is self-evident, that all men are created equal. (Great applause.) On that principle I stand."

The moment Mr. George had finished the crowd on the stage gathered around him, and in a minute the police made way for him to get out of the hall. He was followed by Mrs. George and her daughters. When it was seen that the candidate was gone again and that the hour was still early, there were more calls for Mrs. Mary Eliza-beth Lease. While they were still hot, Chairman O'Neill, who had been escort-ing Mr. George out, rushed back and up to the desk and announced: "Ladies and gentlemen, I do declare this meeting now adjourned." But the crowd was reluctant to go, and it was several minutes later, when the lights had already begun to go out, that the rush for the open air began.

Chamber of Commerce Banquet. MR. GAGE TO TALK FINANCE

The President Will Attend the Elaborate Preparations for Opening Banquet Hall in the New Delmonico's-Municipal Love Feast-Many Distinguished Guests.

New York, Oct. 6.-It is expected that President McKinley will grace with his presence the dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, which is to be held at the new Delmonico's on November 23. Not since the inauguration has the President had an opportunity to meet face to face the men of this city who worked so valiantly for his election.

Therefore, if the President consents to come on here as the guest of the Chamber he will receive a royal and an enthusiastic welcome. He will find that his views on the currency question will receive a patriotic support, irrespective of what he may possibly say on the tariff.

The arrangements for the dinner

ment her husband was insanely jealous of her and became enraged when anhave not yet been completed. THE EXACT MAJORITY.

The exact majority in favor of the anti-gambing constitutional amendment has been determined to be 737. The total vote for the ad interim amendment was 73,259, against 66,253; majority for, 7,006. The women's sut frage proposition was beaten by 10,295 votes-for, 64,784; against, 75,079. Gov. Griggs has appointed Senators Voorhees, Johnson, Stokes, Gouldand Kuhl to act as a State canvassing board on the 19th inst.

So its seems that Rev. J. W. Wells would rather be a country editor than a country preacher. The difference between the practice of the two professions in Liberty Corner is mostly a distinction. Neither one is likely to bring great renown or a bulging pocketbook.

The reported cost of the Lincoln school building is $27,125.95. It was money spent for a good purpose, besides the fact that the city receives in return a permanent and valuable addition to its public buildings.

Rather than face starvation it is evident that Barney Barnato determined to end his life. The information comes from London that he was worth only $5,000,000.

Tax rates in all the principal New Jersey cities seem to be uniformly high. The latest to record is Trenton, which has been fixed at $2.20.

GRAND JURY CHARGED.

The Most Important Case to Be Considered is the Stony Hill Murderer.

The October term of court was opened yesterday morning with a large attendance of members of the bar from all parts of the county.

The grand jurors, escorted by Sheriff Kirk, entered the court room a few minutes after 10 o'clock and they were sworn by County Clerk Howard. The grand jurors are:

John A. Hicks, Summit, foreman; Chas. W. VanHorn, Francis Spencer, Thomas S. Leoser, Charles H. Ross, Dennis Long, Stephen S. Woodruff, John T. Fritts, Frederick C. Louns berry, Andrew Vanderbeek, Arthur T. Galiup, Kenry Krouse, Caleb C. Pollard, Elias R. Moorenouse, James J. Carter, James M. Silvers, Edward W. Slater, George E. White, William H. Hicks, Lewis W. Miller, John N.

Judge VanSyckel delivered a brief charge, stating to the jurors that since the last term of court an aged citizen of the county had been murdered, referring to Farmer James C. Pitts at Stony Hill.

The coroner's jury had found no evidence pointing to the murderer, and it would be the duty of the grand jurors to investigate such evidence as the public prosecutor might present. Judge VanSyckel stated further that a letter had been handed him in which it is charged that one of the official boards of a township in the county has dispensed public money in excess of the appropriation and has incurred obligations beyond the limit of its ex-

A Friend.

Every now and again New York gets excited and half crazy over some pretty woman or batch of pretty women. Female beauty catches it every time and sets talking and rushing in the direction of the collection of pulchritude. No pretty women, though, have ever made a sensation in the metropolis like that creeted by the small army of diamond-eyed, dewy-lipped Gaiety girls that is now on view at the Knickerbocker Theatre in the successful English musical pretty, soul-satisfying and eye-filling, but they are talented girls besides and their songs and dances given with the easy grace and pleasing refinement acquirable only in the Gaiety School of burlesque acting are as potent factors in the tremendous success of "In Town" as are their good looks. The Knickerbocker Theatre has been thronged every night for the past two months-ever since the London fair ones made their first appearance there-and the triump which "In Town" is making is far greater than ever that achieved by

BANK OF SPAIN REVOLTS.

The Committee Refuses to Advance More Money on Cuban Account.

(Cable Dispatch to The New York Sun.) London, Oct. 6 .- A dispatch from Madrid to the Central News says that serious difficulty has arisen between the Ministry and the Bank of Spain. Application was made to the bank for 50,000,000 pesetas on account of the Cuban administration.

The committee of the bank held a meeting to consider the application and virtually refused to advance the money. Thereupon Senor Salvador, the governor of the bank, demanded that the committee resign.

Unfinished Hotel Collapses.

Charlevoix, Mich., Oct. 6. - The Charlevoix Inn, now in course of construction here by the Charlevoix Improvement Company, collapsed late Tuesday afternoon in a gale of wind, burying fifty workmen in the ruins of the structure, 400 feet long. Work had progressed so far that workmen were roofing in the structure, while lathers and plasterers were at work on the first and second floors. The structure was the largest of any Summer resort in northern Michigan, and the collapse was caused by the strong wind and the inadequate support of the second story. the contractor having neglected to brace and finish the substructure before beginning on the roof. Fifty men were buried beneath the wreck.

Barrios and His Enemies.

San Francisco, Oct. 6.-Mariano Lopez, an exile from Guatemala, and one of the wealthiest men of that country, on whose head a price has been set by Barrios, arrived in San Francisco yesterday from Paris. Lopez has been in communication with the insurgents since the capture of San Marcos. Last night he received a cablegram from the insurgent camp, saying that a decisive battle would begin during the night The forces of Morales are intrenched near Cochan and Tierra Blanca, within thirty leagues of the city of Guate-mala. It was understood that Barrios was in Chiguimula, where another insurrection has begun.

The Salvation Captain Set Free.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 6 .- Half a dozen different persons called on Justice Jackson yesterday to pay the $10 fine imposed on Capt. Herdman, of the Salvation Army, who was sent to the County Farm yesterday for obstructing the streets. The Rev. Messrs. Brooks, Boswell and Shaw paid the fine, and an order was issued for Capt. Herdman's release. The arrest has created considerable adverse comment here, and a movement is on foot to have tested the right of the police authorities to interfere with the Salvationists when carrying on their services without blockading the street.

Killed by Escaping Gas.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 6.-A strong odor of gas in an upper corridor in the Hotel Penn attracted attention to one of the bedrooms yesterday afternoon. door was forced and a dead man found in bed, undressed, with a full head of gas turned on. The man had registered as Alexander Levy, New York City. and had retired early on Monday even-ing. Coroner Griesemer said that Levy was a salesman for Schleissner & Co., 793 Broadway, New York, dealers in braids and laces. He had $10.32 in his pockets, no baggage or checks, but a sample book of laces and braids. The man was about 35 years old, and it is probable lived on Oxford street, Phila-

Michael Will Try the Record Again.

New York, Oct. 6.-Jimmy Michael has decided to make an attempt to refuce the world's records from one mile to one hour. Impressed with the speed qualifications of the Willow Grove track, outside of Philadelphia, he has signed an agreement to make his second trial on that track on Saturday Dct. 9 Michael will have the best pacing crews available for his trial, and in the event of a successful ride is to receive $2,000. In recent rides Michael has easily reduced world's record fig ares, and it is expected that, with favorable conditions, on Saturday he will create new times for all distances from one mile to one hour.

Mine Explosion Kills Three Men.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 6.-A terrific explosion of gas occurred in No. 2 shaft of the Paris Coal Company's mine at Plymouth yesterday afternoon, which three men lost their lives. They were Isaac Edmunds, aged 65 years George Eddy, aged 22 years; Louis Richards, aged 32 years. A door in one of the passageways had been left open and gas in large quantities found its way to the place where the men were working. The lamps the men carried

Mrs. James T. Field says, in an arti-Mrs. James T. Field says, in an article in the Atlantic, that Mrs. Stowe's is ready for Fall business. personal appearance has received scant justice and no mercy at the hands of the photographer. She says herself during her triumphal visit to England after the publication of "Uncle Tom: The general topic of remark on meeting me seems to be that I am not so bad looking as they were afraid I was; and I do assure you, when I have seen the things that are put up in the shop windows here with my name under them. I have been lost in wondering imagination at the boundless loving kindness of my English and Scottish friends in keeping up such a warm heart for such a gorgon. I should think that the sphinx in the London Museum might have sat for most of them. I am going to make a collection of these portraits to bring home to you There is a great variety of them, and they will be useful, like the Irishman's guideboard, which showed 'where the road did not go."

I remember once accompanying her to a reception at a well-known house in Boston, where, before the evening was over, the hostess drew me aside, saying: "Why did you never tell me that Mrs. Stowe was beautiful?" And indeed, when I observed her in the full ardor of conversation, with her heightened color, her eyes shining and awake, but filled with great softness her abundant curling hair rippling naturally about her head and falling a little at the sides (as in the portrait by Richmond), I quite agreed with my hostess. Nor was that the first time her beauty had been revealed to me but she was seldom seen to be beautiful by the great world, and the pleasure of this recognition was very great to those who loved her.

PRAYING BY MACHINERY.

The People of Thibet Make Devotional

Exercises an Easy Performance Thibet is no longer the unknown country it once was. Recent travellers have pentrated to its most remote fastnesses, and in doing so have confirmed what had been looked on as myths of the earlier visitors. One of the most curious habits they find in use in this most curious of all semi-civilized countries is that of praying by machinery.

Small wooden drums are set up with prayers inscribed on them. They are fixed on a pivot, and whirling them with the finger is looked upon as say ing the mystical prayer "Om Mani Padmi Om," with which they are generally inscribed.

Another sort of prayer machine can be held in the hand and made to revolve very rapidly. This is for worshippers of unusual fervor. The demands of the more leisurely class of devotees are met by wheels worked by wind or water power.-New York report a most alarming state of af-fairs. Boats picking their way through the Straits of Mackinaw were particularly hampered. Landmarks were utterly obliterated and lights rendered indistinct at a distance of the length of the steamer. The smoke was attributed to excessive forest fires. Hunting parties careless in their camping are thought to have started the confla-grations. Marine underwriters are apprehensive of numerous strandings on account of smoke, and bulletins from for with great anxiety.

Chicago's southern wards and suburbs are surrounded by prairie fires, and dense smoke overhangs a large part of the territory lying south of Seventy-fifth street. Hundreds of acres of prairie have been burned over and thousands of feet of sidewalks and fencing consumed. Firemen in this division of the city are completely ex-hausted fighting prairie fires by day and night. Most of the fires are started by sparks from locomotives, and not infrequently by mischievous boys, who set the grass on fire for the excite-

A dispatch from Bremen, Ind., says the most disastrous prairie fire known in the history of Marshall County is now raging. Hundreds of acres of land in the northern portion of the county, comprising what is locally known as the "Big Marsh," is a vast smouldering waste. At times, when fanned by a breeze, the heat bursts into a blaze, and, darting across clover fields, corn fields or meadows, lays waste every-thing in its path, only stopping when headed off by plowed fields or high-ways. The drought for the last sixty days has made the pastures brown, compelling flocks to seek the lowlands for grazing, where the fire is smoul-dering underneath. Many instances are reported where cattle, in passing over the treacherous ground, have broken through into the burning peat and per-

Farmers are kept busy day and night fighting the flames and preventing de-struction of their homes, but the lack of water makes the battle almost hopeless. Just west of Walkerton more than one thousand acres have been swept of every vestige of vegetation, many thousands of tons of hay and miles of fences having been consumed. With fire on every side, great anxiety is being felt for the safety of towns without fire protection. Nothing short of a drenching rain can possibly check the progress of the flames.

LANGTRY GOES INSANE.

Former Husband of the "Jersey Lily" Sent to an Asylum.

London, Oct. 6 .- Edward Langtry, whom Mrs. Lily Langtry recently di-vorced, has been sent to an asylum for the insane

Mr. Langtry was found walking, apparently dazed, on a railroad track near Chester. He could give no account of himself.

Mrs. Langtry is said to have been married privately to Prince Paul Esterhazy. Edward Langtry was born in Ireland. He first came before the public in 1876, when he married Emily Charlotte Le Breton on the Isle of Jersey. She was the daughter of a clergyman. He was quite wealthy in those days, and Lily Le Breton was sincerely congratulated by her friends. Soon after the marriage she made a great sensation in society by her beauty, and the Prince of Wales became one of her most sin-

A piece of the window has to be cleaned to let the light in on that flower sent into the home, and frequently the whole room is cleaned to correspond with it. Then the father finds home more attractive, and stays at home from the saloon.

Then there are the boys' clubs; that sort of thing is practical gospel. Another thing; have you any idea what trash these children read? There is a splendid system of home libraries, by which these busy minds are given something to occupy themselves with. Often the boys go to saloons because they don't have enough to eat, and the saloon offers them a good free lunch. But the cooking school knocks all that sort of thing endwise. There are very few men who would not rather be at home than at the saloon, if there were any attraction there, and the cooking school is beloing on that good keeping class is to give boys and young men who are desirous of becoming clerks the good mental equipment that will enable them to more intelligently accomplish duties they may be called upon to perform when in business. While it is called a bookkeeping class the instructors for the coming term will carry out the policy inaugurated several years ago and in conjunction with bookkeeping give as much of a business course as possible during the time at the disposal of the class. The three principal studies of every business college-writing, business arithmetic and correspondence will be as thoroughly gone into as there is time for, and it is hoped that the term of "97" and "98" will prove a profitable one in this department.

TO WORK INTELLIGENTLY.

Aim of the Bookkeeping Class Organized in the Y- M. C. A.

indicating supreme excellence in footwear, has been awarded us by the grand jury of shoe buyers. The mercury is not more sensitive to changes of temperature than the feet are to their surroundings. It hurts them to have more room than they require or to be pioched into a -maller space than they should occupy. Exact fits in soft, easy, yielding shoes are absolutely essential to comfort. Our footwear combines all the fine points at prices as pleasant as sun-hine after a storm. Our men's Bull-Dog toe and Opera toe Russia calf shoe meet all these requirments. One of the leading wholesale manufacturers in New York has tailed and their entire stock was sent to us to be sold at less than forty cents on the dollar they cost to manufacture. The house was noted in New York, and only the very best and choicest lines were handled by them. Recollect these will be sacrifice prices and will last but three weeks. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing

The very finest tailor-made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than half the prices that other stores ask for inferior goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The sheriff must be paid in cash and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine fail and winter suits, fall and winter overcoats, ulsters, heavy-weight trousers, coats and vests, handsomely and elegantly made, equal to the best merchant tailor's work, for less than the actual cost of the labor in making these fine garments. Here is your opportunity to purchase a suit or overcoat for what the lining would cost at any tailoring establishment in the city. A few prices will tell the whole facts. Means a saving of 60 per cent, on every dollar spent. We deal only in reliable clothing, and will not undertake to sell one dollar's worth of clothing unless we know that what we sell will give the buyers as good wear as if he paid us what the garment was worth.
