CITY ELECTION IS NOW GOSSIP FOR THE VOTERS.

INTERESTED CITIZENS WRITE THEIR OPINIONS OF THE SITUATION FOR THE PRESS.

The Colored Republicans Are Divided Among Themselves, and This May Relieve the Leaders of the Disagreeable Act of Turning Down Their Demands.

There was an unusual stir among the local politicians when the article appeared in The Daily Press regarding the wishes of the colored element to be represented on the Republican ticket at the coming city election. It was conceded that there was such a demand, but many of the local G. O. P. men seemed to be of the opinion that the demand would never avail.

There is undoubtedly a strong sentiment among the colored Republicans of the city that their efforts of the last few years in bringing their dusky fellow-citizens into line should be recognized. They consider that they are entitled to at least one representative of their own color in the Council. Several names have been mentioned for the place, but that of Alonzo B. Hill, the North avenue barber, has been most prominently mentioned. He is considered a sound business man and perfectly capable of fulfilling his duties in the Council, should he be elected to that part of the city's machinery.

If the boom does fall flat, as some of the Republican workers are inclined to believe, it will be the result of discord in the ranks of the colored men. It is well understood that there are two factions among the colored voters of the city. They are jealous of each other and have made things lively in the Colored Men's Republican Club in their efforts to down each other. Neither side is willing to allow the other to take the lead in the matter and receive recognition at the hands of the Republican city convention. This jealousy is likely to swamp the boom before it takes firm root unless some compromise can be agreed upon by the leaders of the faction.

The only show that the colored voters have of securing a nomination of one of their own number is to put up a firm and determined front and announce their wishes as one man. With such a solid delegation at hand, the Republican leaders of the city would think long before they refused them any moderate request. The two factions show very little prospect of coming together, however. They are machine men and rather fear their rivals may at the last moment weaken and leave them out of the swim altogether by deserting to the machine.

Some of the G. O. P. men declare that it would be impossible for the party to place a colored candidate on the ticket without running their chances at the coming election. They admit there is opposition to the present rule and they will try to prevent anything to further destroy the harmony in the Republican party in Plainfield.

The forecast of the strife likely to take place over the election of members of the Common Council December 7th, published in The Press Wednesday and yesterday, has caused no end of talk. The following letters have been received from prominent citizens who are anxious to take a hand in the discussion:

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Your columns are always so "wide open" to friend and foe that I feel inclined to call you down for your sweeping assertion in last night's paper that scores of Republicans believe that the present Council have "administered poorly from a practical businesslike standpoint." I beg leave to differ with you that too much money has been spent "for things that are considered by some as luxuries rather than necessities."

I am strongly of the opinion that the "recent improvements" in our beautiful city is bringing hundreds of people here to settle permanently. All the real estate men will tell you that more houses have been rented in town during the past six months than for years. Ask the building inspector and he will state, I understand, that new buildings are going up for a year past at least one in every two days. The increase in the assessed valuations of the city has been remarkable for the past year. According to your paper recently Passenger Agent Baldwin, of the New Jersey Central Railroad, stated that the station receipts were increasing greater than any other station on their railroad system.

Tax valuations of our real estate is very low, and our assessor shows wisdom in not increasing them other wise the county and State would profit largely at our expense.

Great credit is due the members of the present Council, I think, and a change of administration now would be a step backward. Plainfield is bound to grow in the near future. No business man in town, if he is wise, will vote to change the present policy, which is doing so much to make attractive this city of ours.

Republican.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The statement you made in last evening's Press that the Republican colored voters at the coming election were going to demand a Councilman-at-Large was the talk of the town. I heard of it on the streets, at the Spielkartenfest and at the Country Club. Our colored friends are posted in political tactics, and well know that if they come to the primary and outvote their white brethren, their candidate will stand. They surely will not risk nominating a man likely to be defeated at the polls. If, on the other hand, they are disappointed in getting one of their race nominated, I do not think they will show their displeasure by rushing en masse to the Democratic party without that party giving them a place on their ticket.

The majority rules is a cardinal principle of the Republican party, no distinction being made to race, color nor religion.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Now that the election of Greater New York is over and the problem solved as to who shall rule the big city, let us take up the cry and say who shall rule our beautiful city. Shall it be the present ring rule, or shall we have a new order of things? Why not nominate a Citizens' ticket? Let there be a meeting called of both political parties, who are opposed to the present Council, and let them select ten delegates from each ward to go in convention and nominate a ticket, said ticket to be ratified at a meeting of citizens to be called for the purpose irrespective of party. In that way place a Citizens' ticket before the people that will command the support of the citizens, and elect men to office who would have the best interest of our fair city at heart and who would run the city government for the whole people.

Excellent progress is being made toward securing enough young men to form a militia company in this city. The matter is now in the hands of J. Hervey Doane, of Park avenue, and anyone desiring to join should see him. There are at present about thirty-five signers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Nightingale, of Sandford avenue, have been entertaining company from Pittsburgh.

HUNTERS IN TROUBLE.

SOMERSET COUNTY FARMERS ENFORCE THE TRESPASS LAW.

One North Plainfield Gunner Filled a Rabbit and a Neighbor's Dog With Shot—A Law Suit Threatened the Guilty One.

The farmers of Somerset county are aggressive in their efforts to keep the gunners off their farms. Notices to trespassers to keep off have been liberally posted, and these are emphasized by watchers. Farmer Vanderbeek, of Burnt Mills, caught John Hammond, a New York hunter, and some local gunners in his woods, where notices had been posted, yesterday. The local sportsmen ran away, leaving Hammond at the mercy of the farmer. Hammond, however, showed fight, and danced about Mr. Vanderbeek, pointing his gun at his head until the farmer, with trembling knees, sought for mercy. No sooner had he got out of shooting range, however, than he jumped on a horse and hurried to North Branch for a constable. A warrant was obtained and the remainder of the day was spent in looking for Hammond. The latter's friends spirited him away to New York. The farmers swear vengeance on the gunners, who they say, break down their fences and trample their grain fields, besides shooting all their game.

Ernest Hand and Charles Dodd were out shooting Tuesday with Hand's dog. They had been looking for rabbits but the little bunnies were few and far between. They met a German from North Plainfield, whose name is unknown. He, too, was looking for the elusive cottontail. At last Hand's dog spied a rabbit and ran him in front of the three hunters. The dog was close on his victim when the German let fly and emptied both barrels into the rabbit and dog together. Hand threatens to bring a suit for damages unless the unlucky hunter pays for the dog.

Assemblyman W. R. Codington joined the army of hunters that visited the fields in the neighborhood of Mt. Bethel. He met with more success than most of them and captured seven of the cottontails.

John Abbott, John Sharkey, James Campbell and George Gould went to Three Bridges Wednesday and found plenty of game. They shot thirteen.

Police Officer Jim Babbit, was out Wednesday for a few hours after the frisky cotton tails and come home with seven in his game bag.

Henry Angerbauer, of East Third street, went to Short Hills Wednesday on a hunting expedition.

Frank Vanderhoef went hunting yesterday and brought in five rabbits and three squirrels.

H. A. Weber has returned from a hunting trip to Lakewood.

A TIME OF SOCIABILITY.

First Church of Christ Endeavors Get Better Acquainted.

The inclement weather of last evening did not keep the members or friends of the First Church of Christ Christian Endeavor Society away from the sociable that was held at the home of Miss Mabel VanMiddlesworth, of West Front street, and in consequence the home was filled with guests who passed a very pleasant time in singing and listening to piano and vocal solos. A portion of the evening was devoted to the playing of games, in which all joined heartily. The sociable accomplished the purpose for which it was held, that of permitting the members and friends to get better acquainted. After the serving of refreshments, the guests adjourned to their homes feeling well satisfied with the time they had spent.

SILAS IS ON TOP AGAIN.

MRS. LEASE WRITES A LETTER TO THE LINCOLN BOOMER.

Says She Wants to Talk Business With Him—Miss Egel, of the Common Council, Didn't Like the Story in Yesterday's Press.

It was 9 o'clock, the reporters were reporting, the editor was editing, when suddenly from out above the tumult of thumping typewriters and scratching pens was heard the tinkling of the telephone bell.

Off came the receiver and forth came the words: "Hello! Well!"

"Hello," came the response over the wire, "who's this?"

"The Daily Press."

"This is Lincoln. Is Mr. So and So there?"

"Right here. Go ahead," replied the voice in the sanctum sanctorum.

"Well, this is Miss Egel. I've got something I want to tell you—if you've got time to listen." The voice was smiling of irony, a desultory echo of the story in yesterday's Press concerning the visit of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lease, the most distinguished public woman in the country, to Lincoln.

"Certainly I'll listen, what is it?" replied the Plainfield end in assuring tones.

"Mr. Drake has just telephoned me—will you listen till I get through—that Mrs. Lease, or rather her son, it's the same thing, has written—will you take this as I give to you—"

"Why, of course," chimed in the listener, who hadn't been anything but an attentive listener.

"That they want to meet Mr. Drake in private conference with a view to a business transaction, and they say that they admire Mr. Drake for his hustling abilities. Will you put it in just that way? Mr. Drake says put it in that way even if he has to pay for it."

"Certainly I'll put it in that way," humbly spoke the scribe.

Having accomplished her mission for Silas Dashing, Miss Egel proceeded to deliver herself of her own injured feelings over the story in yesterday's Press. "We are surprised that you would treat us that way," pathetically said Miss Egel.

"Why, what was the matter with it," retorting to the story.

"Well, there were a good many things the matter with it," exclaimed Miss Egel's voice with brisk intonation.

Miss Egel was—well a woman, and it was disagreeable to have a telephonic argument with such a graceful member of the fair sex. And besides, the preposterous idea of a humble penpusher disputing the point made by the president of the Common Council of Lincoln!

Assuring Miss Egel that what she said would be truthfully reported, there was a farewell goodby and the newspaper man commenced his work, of which evidence is herewith produced.

LATER.

Ting-a ling, ting-a ling. The telephone calls again.

"Hello! Well?" Whir-r-r-r.

"Hello! This is Lincoln," said a familiar voice. "Mr. Drake's here and wants to talk to you. This Mr. So and So?"

"Yes."

"Wait a moment."

Mr. Drake's breezy voice was now sounding over the wire. There was no indignant words about him. They were such as to soothe the ruffled spirit. Mr. Drake is a master hand at the business.

The Mayor of Lincoln said that he had just received a letter from Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city, president of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association, in which she expressed regret at not being able to meet Mrs. Lease at Lincoln Wednesday. A previous engagement had prevented her, but at some future time she hoped to see Lincoln and its people.

Then the Mayor said that Miss Egel was coming to Plainfield this afternoon to visit some of the woman suffrage advocates and present a plan by which Lincoln would become the center of agitation for the rights of the fair sex at the ballot-box.

Referring to the letter of Mrs. Lease, the doughty Drake said:

"Yes, I'm going to see her again. In less than seven days Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lease will be in partnership with S. D. Drake. See? Understand? Eh?"

And Mr. Drake rang off.

Teachers to Meet.

The fourth annual meeting of the New Jersey High School Teachers' Association will be held in the Battin High School, Elizabeth, December 4th. There will be sessions, morning and afternoon, and no doubt there will be a large attendance from this city and the borough.

THE 'FEST IS A FEAST FOR MULTITUDES OF EYES.

IT IS NEARING ITS END, BUT THE GLORY OF THE SPECTACLE IS NOT DIMMED.

The Dances Provide an Ever-changing Scene, But the Booths, Filled With Pretty Faces and Persuasive Tongues, Are Not the Least in Results.

The storm of yesterday cleared up last evening, too late, however, to benefit the Spielkartenfest at the Crescent Rink. While the rain undoubtedly kept many away, the house was well filled and the attendance compared favorably with that of Tuesday evening. The sale of reserved seats for last evening had been very large, so that all but the last two rows of those seats were filled. The general admission seats were occupied even before the curtain was drawn on the first scene of the Mirror Dance. The interior of the Rink looked just as beautiful and the dances were just as attractive despite the gloomy weather outdoors. The cloak-room did a thriving business checking the dripping garments of the arrivals who found that much preferable to carrying their wraps with them through the performance.

The Court Cards and the Black Cards did not dance, those dances being omitted last evening. There was a change in the Dance of the Aces, Miss Elsie VanZandt taking the place of Miss Florence Abbott, who was confined to her home with illness. Tuesday night Miss VanZandt had learned the dance in half an hour and was able to substitute that night for Miss Caroline Randolph.

During the programme a number of bouquets were presented to some of the different dancers through the medium of the Joker. Miss Stewart was also led to the front of the stage by the Joker and presented with a handsome bouquet.

The game of "Living Whist" vied with the game Wednesday night for closeness. The trump was the Five of Hearts, Henry W. Brower. A duet was danced by the Joker and the trump card after the other cards had been dealt and before the game began.

Mr. McCutchen had the lead. He held the Jack, Six, Four and Two of Hearts, the Queen, Ten and Five of Diamonds, the Ace, King, Queen, Ten and Nine of Spades, and the Six of Clubs. Mr. Rogers, his opponent, held the Ace, Queen, Ten, Nine and Eight of Hearts, the Ace, Jack, Nine and Seven of Diamonds, the Jack and Seven of Spades, and the King and Eight of Clubs. Mr. Townsend, Mr. McCutchen's partner, held the Seven and Three of Hearts, the King, Four and Two of Diamonds, the Six, Five, Four and Two of Spades, the Queen, Five, Three and Two of Clubs. Mr. Howell, Mr. Rogers' partner, held the King and Five of Hearts, the Eight, Six and Three of Diamonds, the Eight and Three of Spades and the Ace, Jack, Ten, Nine, Seven and Four of Clubs.

McCutchen led with Queen of Spades and played that suit very successfully, winning four tricks on it. Rogers' high trumps carried all before them and with the assistance of his own and his partner's high cards in Diamonds and Clubs, gave them the odd trick, the score being seven to six in favor of Rogers and Howell. The total score for the week so far is 27 to 25 in favor of Townsend and McCutchen.

While the dances provide for the entertainment of the mind, the inner man is not forgotten over at the Spielkartenfest. There are two very important departments that provide specially for him and which have so far not been described. They are altogether very popular places, the ice cream and soda water department and the restaurant.

The space on the left hand side of the hall which is not utilized by the booths, running from the gallery wall to the candy booth, has been converted into a beautiful ice cream garden. The walls have been lined with white on which evergreens have been hung. The electric lights with their red shades give the needed color to the general effect. There are a score of small tables arranged in the space while several screens separate the resting place of the cooling refreshments from the room in which they are served. During the rush of the evening the tables are soon surrounded and the crowd of customers has to overflow into the seats in the hall, where the ice cream is served.

The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Henry Lapsley, chairman; Mrs. F. S. Martin, C. C. Cokefair, Mrs. William Stillman, Mrs. Craig A. Marsh, Miss E. Elliott, Miss Clara Hill, Miss Sarah Drayton, Miss Mary K. Jobs and Miss Belle Butler. The decorating was done under the direction of Mrs. Craig A. Marsh and Mrs. W. M. Stillman. A small army of waitresses divided the work up for the different evenings. They are as follows: The Misses Lena Morgan, Elsie Martin, Mary Anderson Reinhardt, Lella Howard, Clara Hellwig, Gussie Long, Florence Curtis, May Murray, Anna Eastman, Stephanie Krom, Margery Fleming, Mabel Pound, Lucy Pound, May Sebring, Josephine Lapsley, Helen Brown, Florence Patterson, Sarah Richards, Marjorie Sterling, Emma Sterling, Elsa Pfeiffer, Harriet Goddard, Virginia Hegeman, Bessie Bowen, Helen Martin, Madeline Ostermoor, Ethel Bowen, Mary Mann, Ainita Fraley, Margaret Goddard, Grace Peck, May Serrell, Beatrice Miner, Elma Thayer, Mildred Thayer, Clara Hill, Helen Brainard, Helen Lovell, Bessie Taylor, Mildred Cone, Louise Curtis, Grace Day, Helen Pfender, Grace Dunn, Laura Lovell, Elsie Jobs, Edith Little and Grace VanSickle. Abbott Brainard and Frances Martin have also assisted.

The space on the right of the main entrance back of the side door is devoted to the restaurant. The appetizing odors that issue from the depths of that part of the Rink tell very plainly that there is plenty to eat there. The rooms are decorated in white and yellow, while evergreens are hung about the walls with artistic taste. The linen is spotless and the table equipments bright. The menu, which has already been published, is an excellent one and very reasonable, while the orders are generous ones.

The care of this department is under the general supervision of Mrs. R. M. Stover, who is assisted by a new committee each evening. The different churches alternate in the care of this department.

Monday night the committees were from Grace and Holy Cross P. E. churches. Mrs. O. T. Waring, Mrs. VanBoskerck and Mrs. T. Logan Murphy were the chairmen. The other ladies were Miss Tweedy, Mrs. Robert, Mrs. Erickson, Mrs. Gifford Mayer, Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, Mrs. J. E. Terrill, Mrs. B. F. Western, Mrs. M. F. Elderton, Mrs. Horsley Barker, Mrs. A. T. Gallup, Mrs. William Wright. The waitresses were Miss Margaret Long, Miss Agnes Smith, Mrs. Buckingham, Mrs. W. A. Westphal, Miss Barker, Miss Rachael Emmons, Miss Mary Mumford, Miss Edith Little, Mrs. Charles Stover, the Misses Hagen, Miss Mary Collier, Miss Elsie Smith, Miss Clara Woodward, Miss Graham and Miss Peterson.

The restaurant Tuesday evening was under the charge of St. Stephen's and the Church of the Redeemer. Mrs. S. P. Simpson was chairman of the committee from the former. Her committee was composed of Mrs. Hugh E. Knox, Mrs. A. J. Beale, Mrs. N. P. T. Finch and Mrs. P. Woodward. The waitresses were Mrs. Chas. Howard, and the Misses Brown, Burt, Beal, Simpson, Davison, Hasbrouck, Edson, Beale, Fellows, and deMaziere. Mrs. Emil Woltmann was chairman of the committee from the Church of the Redeemer, with Mrs. S. L. Clepp, Miss Stevens, Miss Davis and Mrs. W. E. Brock as the rest of the committee. The waitresses were Miss Clapp, Miss Emily Thompson, Miss Alice Thompson, Miss Mabel VanDeventer, Miss Halla VanDeventer, Miss Clara Woltmann, Miss Helen Phillips, Miss Moore, Miss Audsley and Miss Marion Henderson.

Wednesday night, the committee was as follows: First Baptist church, Mrs. Clinton Randolph; Park Avenue Baptist church, Mrs. J. J. Coard; Seventh-Day Baptist, Mrs. J. N. VanSickle. They were assisted by a number of the young women of those churches as waitresses.

"Spoolcottonfest" Notice. Black diamonds are trumps; and if you would play winning cards you should make George O. Stevens your dealer.

School Entertainment. Two entertainments are being planned to be held in the North Plainfield High School this winter for the benefit of the library fund of the school. The scholars in the High School will probably give an entertainment just before Christmas, entitled "The Temple of Fame," and the primary and intermediate departments will give the other entertainment about Washington's Birthday.

W. K. Dwight, of Princeton University, returned this afternoon to spend a few days at his home on Rockview avenue.

THORN'S TRIAL STOPS

Illness of a Juror Prevents the Continuation of the Case.

NEW JURY MAY BE DRAWN

Thorn Intends to Tell a Different Version of the Murder, Charging Mrs. Nack with Shooting Guldensuppe and Cutting Up the Body.

New York, Nov. 12.—The trial of Martin Thorn for the Guldensuppe butchery came to a halt yesterday morning. Whether it will be resumed is a matter of doubt. Magnus Larsen, the sixth juror, is lying ill with appendicitis, and his physician does not yet know whether an operation will have to be performed or not. If such is the case, it is more than likely that a mistrial will be declared and a new jury impaneled during the present term.

There would have been another sensation yesterday had it not been for Juror Larsen's illness. Martin Thorn would have been put upon the witness stand and he would have sworn that Mrs. Nack shot Guldensuppe in the Woodside cottage, and that it was she who cut the body into pieces and wrapped it up in packages. Mr. Howd was authority for that statement, and says that Thorn will swear to the following story in the witness stand when the court is reconvened:

"Mrs. Nack, who says that I killed Guldensuppe, conceived, planned, plotted and accomplished the murder of Guldensuppe. It was she who suggested the actual murder, who arranged for the hiring of the house, for the meeting of the man, for the cutting up and bundling of the remains, and eventually for the disposition of the dismembered trunk.

Shot Him Himself. "Mrs. Nack herself shot Guldensuppe with the revolver shown in court yesterday. She went into the house at Woodside with Guldensuppe, remained but a few minutes, during which time I heard a shot, and then, down stairs, she told me that Guldensuppe was dead, shot in the temple by herself.

"Later in the day she went back to the Woodside cottage, undressed the body and cut it up into four pieces. "She has reversed the true story, charging me with doing just what she did of this awful business. On the witness stand I will prove conclusively that I am telling the truth, and that man Friend, knowing the true story of the murder and believing that Mrs. Nack would surely be electrocuted, prevailed upon her to swear that I killed Guldensuppe, so that her own life might be saved.

"It was a dastardly piece of work, but by telling the truth about it I believe that I can convince the jury of her desire to take now a second life, mine.

He Helped to Hide the Body. "When the body was cut up by Mrs. Nack and wrapped up in the oilcloth which she had bought for the purpose at Mrs. Reger's, it was she who suggested the distribution of the pieces in the river and in the woods at High Bridge.

"It was hard for me at first to agree to this, because I was afraid that it was a bad plan, but I did not want to get Mrs. Nack into trouble after her awful crime, so I agreed reluctantly to help her.

"The surrey was hired by Mrs. Nack, as every one knows, and her money paid for it. The rent for the Woodside cottage was paid by her, and she drew all her money from the bank and sewed it in her corset, so she would be able to fly at a minute's notice if the story of the murder got out.

"Her purpose in getting rid of Guldensuppe, she told me at the time, was to get him out of the way because she had ceased to love him, and he, realizing this, sought to hold her by threats of beating her to death. He would not have hesitated to kill her. I know that from the brutal way he beat me that day in the flat.

"He even kicked me down stairs after having knocked me down in the room, and he threatened to kill me if I had anything to do with Mrs. Nack.

"I wish to God now I never had had anything to do with her. I have tried in every way to shield her. I have been silent when I might have talked, and talked when I might have remained silent, all to shield and help her, and she has turned on me and tried to fasten her own guilt upon me. Her dread of the chair at Sing Sing has killed all the love she once had for me, and she is now trying to do away with me, just as she put Guldensuppe away, to save herself."

She Says Thorn Lies. A jailer went to Mrs. Nack's cell and informed her that court had been adjourned and that Thorn accused her of the murder.

Her reply was that Thorn's statement was a pack of lies.

Immediately after court was opened yesterday morning and the prisoner had been brought in manacled, District Attorney Youngs stated the facts of Larsen's illness. On hearing this statement made by the physician attending the sick man Justice Smith ordered court to be adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Nack's dreadful recital Wednesday morning had the result of changing the plans of the prosecution as originally laid out. Instead of proving the corpus delicti and then proving the commission of the crime by purely circumstantial evidence, which would have been the programme had she made no confession, the programme was to corroborate her admissions, in accordance with the usual procedure, and to conclude by placing the barber Gotha on the stand, the man to whom Thorn first told the story of the murder. Then the prosecution would have rested its case.

This is what Thorn's counsel looked for and had prepared for. His programme immediately after briefly addressing the jury and denouncing Mrs. Nack as the arch conspirator and the real slayer of Guldensuppe was to place the defendant on the witness stand and there cause him to relate a still more shocking story than that told by the woman, in which he (Thorn) would exculpate himself and lay all the blame upon her.

If Juror Larsen recovers today, Thorn will tell this story to the jury, he has already told it to his counsel and printed above. If he does not lay it bare then and several days intervene, and the spirit of self-preservation becomes stronger than the spirit of revenge, he may not tell it at all—and then the programme will be recast and the tragic play will start afresh.

Judge Weiler says that the District Attorney will finish in an hour and a half, possibly an hour and a quarter, after court meets again.

Suicide Precautions

A panic was caused in the Long Island City jail yesterday morning by a telegram received from Sheriff Doht ordering that Thorn be searched, as word had been received that he had concealed poison and would attempt suicide. Thorn was searched. No poison was found, but the jail officials firmly believe that if Thorn gets a chance he will take his own life. To guard against this a double watch is now stationed inside and one outside his cell, night and day.

There was a rumor this morning that Thorn would offer to plead guilty to murder in the second degree, and that this plea would be accepted to save Queens County the expense of another trial. Howe vigorously denied that Thorn would make such an offer. He would be satisfied with nothing short of an acquittal, he said.

ROBBED OF $19,500.

A New York Bookmaker Fleeced by His Cashier.

New York, Nov. 12.—The Chief of Police of Petersburg, Va., notified Chief of Detectives Capt. George McClusky and the New York office of the Pinkerton's National Detective Agency that he had arrested in Petersburg and held subject to their orders, Frederick, alias "Pinky," Fishel, a Hebrew, 40 years old, who is charged with having stolen $19,000 from Alexander Ullman, a bookmaker, of this city. The crime with which Fishel is charged is alleged to have been committed in this city between Oct. 1 and Nov. 1 of this year.

Ullman is a bookmaker, and Fishel was his cashier. It was a part of Fishel's work the morning after each day's races, or on Monday morning when the races took place on Saturday, to deposit the larger part of the winnings of his chief of the day before, if winnings there were, in the Garfield National Bank. He had a key to the bookmaker's cash box, and also had charge of Ullman's bank book.

Ullman was one of the bookmakers in attendance upon the races at Morris Park, which opened on Oct. 14 and closed on election day. Fishel was in the cashier's box of Ullman's stand at the races on the Saturday before the election. When the races were over Mr. Ullman took his cash box to the Holland House, where he was stopping, and put it in the hotel safe, to be kept there until Monday morning, when Fishel, who lived at the Bartholdi, was to go to the Holland House, get as much of the money in the cash box as it was his custom to deposit, and take it to the bank.

Ullman did not see Fishel on Sunday. On Monday he learned that Fishel had left suddenly for the South. He then suspected that all was not right, and went immediately to the bank and asked for his balance. When he heard the report of the bookkeeper Ullman nearly had a fit. It was many thousands of dollars less than the bookmaker had supposed, and he asked to have his bank book made up at once. When this had been done Ullman didn't need anyone to tell him that he had been robbed.

When he found out that he had been robbed Ullman reported the case to Capt. McClusky and to the Pinkertons. McClusky caused circulars to be printed giving Fishel's description and his photograph. These were sent to chiefs of police all over the country. While these were being sent out McClusky's men learned that a man answering Fishel's description was a passenger on the Baltimore & Ohio train which left Jersey City at 11.30 a. m. on Sunday, Oct. 31. A Pinkerton detective followed this man to Washington, and from what he learned decided that the man was Fishel. When the circular sent out by Capt. McClusky reached Petersburg the Chief of Police there caused a search of all the hotels to be made. At the Imperial Hotel a man answering the description, who had registered under the name of "F. Baum," was put under surveillance. Becoming convinced F. Baum was the man wanted, the Petersburg detectives arrested him Wednesday night.

When arrested Fishel admitted his identity, and said he was willing to come to New York without compelling the authorities to take out requisition papers. He arrived here this morning. As Capt. McClusky has already procured an indictment against him, he will be immediately committed. When arrested Fishel had only $23. He said that all the rest of the small fortune which he had stolen had been lost playing faro in the gambling houses of Long Island City. He has given the names of the keepers of the houses where he lost Ullman's money, and, so the Pinkertons say, steps will be taken to recover the money which Fishel gambled away.

This is not Fishel's first experience as an embezzler. He was arrested at Gravenhurst, near Hamilton, Ont. Jan. 1, 1896, charged with robbing his employers, August, Bernheim & Bauer, clothiers, then doing business at 516 Broadway, of $75,000. Fishel was the firm's confidential bookkeeper. He was an expert accountant, and attended to all the firm's banking business. In less than a year, by a method very similar to the one he employed in his alleged thefts from Ullman, he had taken $75,000.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.
I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. —The Women's Association of the Congregational church will hold a sociable in the church parlors this evening.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. ### Name for Cleveland's Son.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 12.—It is now known that Grover Cleveland's son and heir is to be named Richard Folson Cleveland, in honor of his maternal grandfather. Princeton students are disappointed over this decision. They gave the boy the name Grover Cleveland, Jr., on the day of his birth, and hope that he might be permanently known by it.

PACIFIC MOVE BY SPAIN

Revocation of Weyler's Concentration Order Is Announced.

M'KINLEY'S WISH GRANTED

Sagasta Intimated in His Note that Weyler's Inhuman Edict Would Be Revoked, as the President Asked—Blanco Has Taken Action.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The Administration is greatly gratified at the receipt of a telegram from Capt.-Gen. Blanco, through Minister Dupuy de Lome, announcing the revocation of Weyler's inhuman concentration order. President McKinley, in conversation with Minister Woodford, has been especially solicitous for this action, and has practically made it a sine qua non in the negotiations for a settlement of the Cuban question. In the Sagasta note, sent in reply to Minister Woodford's presentation of his letter of instructions, it was intimated that the wishes of the President in this regard would be respected. The official notification that the action so warmly desired by the President has been taken is accepted as an evidence of the sincerity of the professions of friendship in the Sagasta note, which was read at length at the Cabinet meeting on Tuesday.

The prompt revocation of the barbaric concentration order is further regarded by all members of the Administration as a hopeful sign that Spain will gradually, step by step, accept the good offices of the United States to end the war and allow Cuba to secure its freedom.

Protection for Cuban Planters.

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 12.—Capt.-Gen. Blanco has issued a circular announcing that he has decided to furnish all the protection necessary to the resumption of general planting, harvesting and reconstruction throughout the country, especially in the case of the sugar crop. He further decrees that all the island authorities are to lend unconditional support to the proprietors of farms in gathering their crops and tending their cattle.

The civil authorities are instructed to encourage to the utmost those who are hesitating about grinding sugar cane, and to assure them of the necessary military forces to protect them and their property. The regions where agriculture is more extended will be specially provided for by all the authorities of all ranks. The latter are authorized to assist even those who are behind in their taxes, and to do their utmost to increase the commercial facilities of the planters.

All war measures are abrogated in regard to agricultural implements, machinery, etc., and the right of the railroads to charge 20 per cent. on all freight carried is also done away with.

The Government officials are instructed to faithfully comply with these instructions, and they are notified that, if they show themselves deserving, they will be rewarded in accordance with the degree of zeal they have manifested in pushing the work of bringing about "reconstruction."

Another Concession from Spain.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Assurances have been received at the State Department that the Competitor prisoners are to be released from prison in Cuba. Department officials will not tell the source of the information, but say they are satisfied that it is absolutely correct. It probably came from the Spanish Minister. The information has not been confirmed by the representative of the United States in Madrid or Havana. When such confirmation comes it will be made public. The department also has reason to believe that the postponement of the trial of the Competitor crew, which was set for last Monday, was due to the intention to release the men without further formalities.

Much gratification is expressed by officials of the department over the manner in which the Spanish Government has acted towards Cuba since the installation of the Liberal Ministry.

GOV. BLACK'S PROCLAMATION.

He Names the Twenty-fifth as a Day of Thanksgiving and Prayer.

Albany, Nov. 12.—Gov. Black has given out his Thanksgiving proclamation. It reads as follows:

"The year now passing has been filled with occasions for thanksgiving. Commerce has flourished and all forms of industry have yielded reasonable returns. Charity and benevolence have been exercised and encouraged, the rights of citizenship respected, and the supremacy of the law maintained. The manifold evidences of general prosperity give us courage for the present and hope and confidence for the future. For these beneficent conditions we should acknowledge our gratitude to Almighty God.

"Wherefore, I, Frank S. Black, Governor, do hereby designate Thursday, the 25th day of November, instant, as a day of general thanksgiving among the people of the State, and I recommend that on that day they refrain from their ordinary pursuits and assemble at their accustomed places of worship and give devout acknowledgments to God for the blessings of this year. I also commend for that day special thoughtfulness for the poor and unfortunate. No higher form of worship could grace Thanksgiving Day than the exercise of a truly generous and strong that it will continue unabated throughout the year."

A STUDY IN TAXES.

Here in Plainfield, where the matter of high taxes is discussed so much, and especially just now with city election as an incentive, a study of the report of the State Board of Taxation becomes interesting. Figures compiled by the State Board show that the average tax rate in New Jersey has increased from $1.77 to a fraction less than $1.88. A table of rates by counties shows that last year the rate in Union county was $2.29; this year $2.33. The highest tax rate in any municipality in Union county is $2.86, which is found in Elizabeth. Clark township has the credit of being the lowest, $1.64. The rate in Somerset county this year is $1.47, which is one cent less than last year. North Plainfield has the highest, $2.19, and Franklin township the lowest, $1.05.

AN INGENIOUS FARMER.

It takes the Jersey farmer to devise money-making schemes of a novel character. A Burlington agriculturist is the owner of a hundred acres which is literally a hunters' paradise, and sportsmen look on it with longing eyes. The first day of the hunting season the farmer announced that tickets of admission to that piece of ground would be just $2 each, which would include a good turkey dinner, stabling and feed for horses, and privileges at the cider barrel. Tickets sold like hot cakes, and Mr. Ewan soon began to gather in dollars as fast as he could count. It is a great scheme, he says. It beats raising hogs and tomatoes all hollow, asserts the farmer, and he thinks of turning his whole farm into hunting ground next year.

Senator Reed would surely confer a great favor upon Somerset county if he can have the matter of taxation so adjusted that Somerset will not be taxed to help educate children in other counties. If his investigation and conclusions are correct, as set forth in his views expressed in another column of this issue, then it is time that some action was taken to enforce a more equitable system of taxation. Senator Reed proposes to look into the subject carefully, and if legislation is found necessary, he will endeavor to have a law passed this winter. —Somerville Unionist-Gazette.

It is related that in the twenty-nine years that Charles A. Dana was at the head of the New York Sun he took nearly $2,000,000 out of the establishment as his share of profits and salary. When it is considered that the Sun was one of the moderately profitable newspapers of the metropolis, and always remunerated its employees more lavishly than any competitor, that sum seems stupendous. Beyond this view of it there is also the convincing moral argument that the man who pays a living wage will prosper abundantly.

Major Carl Lentz, the Republican leader of Essex county, was in Camden on a political reconnoitering expedition Wednesday. He saw some of the Camden leaders and then expressed the belief that Essex county could only be induced to accept the House Speakership on a silver platter. This would seem to indicate that Assemblyman D. O. Watkins has almost a clear field.

An opinion given by the Supreme Court holds that where an exempt fireman claims to be entitled to relief from the Firemen's Relief Association and is denied by the officers in whom by statute the jurisdiction is vested to consider the matter, no remedy exists by mandamus to revise such determination.

There is a word of truth in the following from the New York Press:
One Jersey Nimrod returned to his home in Elizabeth yesterday with a 30-cent snipe. On the previous day he had expended $30 for a gun, $20 for canvas clothes, including hip sack and boots, and $5 for ammunition, red and black. He seems to be out $54.70. Others have had a similar experience.

Bought Under the Auctioneer's Hammer

consisting of suits, overcoats and trousers, now being sold at 33c on the dollar. A great purchase and a great sale of the entire stock of a very widely known clothing manufacturer. Cash is King, and the money on the table enables us to sell this extraordinary purchase at less than 33c on the dollar. This sale would prove the greatest sensation of the day if maker's name could be published, but owing to the fact that nearly every retailer of prominence has a stock on hand from these manufacturers, the latter to protect the former, stipulated that their name must not appear in advertisements. The name, however, appears on every garment, which is an absolute guarantee of perfect satisfaction.

A dime social will be held in the M. E. church parsonage on the evening of November 18th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of that church.

It has been decided by the Borough Council that Front street, from Jackson to Jefferson avenues, shall be macadamized. The work will be started at once.

Considering the weather there was a fair attendance last evening at the "Festival of Holidays," being held at the Presbyterian church. The affair will be continued this evening.

Yesterday former Postmaster Abner S. Coriell, of New Market, celebrated the anniversary of his seventy-seventh birthday, and in honor of the affair a few relatives gathered at his home last evening and joined in congratulating him on his well and prosperous condition. The event was in every way a pleasant one.

It is almost an assured fact that the road between the borough and Bound Brook will be macadamized this year, if possible. F. A. Gise, of the Board of Freeholders, is trying very hard to have the work put through, and during this month the county engineer will go over the road and make the necessary plans and specifications preparatory to advertising for bids.

A complete surprise party was given to Abner S. Coriell at his home Wednesday evening. It was arranged by his sister, Edna Coriell, and Carrie Haffner, and was in honor of the celebration of his birthday. The features of the evening were dancing and playing games. Music was furnished by Miss Ella Boice and Charles Coriell, Jr., on the piano and piccolo. The young celebrant was the recipient of many nice presents as souvenirs of the happy event. Those present were: The Misses Edith Boice, Emma Craig, Louise Brakeley, Julia Dodwell, Mamie Teel, Nellie Dodwell, Maudie Wilcox, Edna Vail, Edna Baldwin, Beattie Vail, Carrie Haffner, Nettie Haffner, Edna Coriell, Charles Coriell, Charles Vail, Wm. The pipe which supplies the Lincoln Public School building with water was cut, where it passes through the cellar, by some mischievous scholar yesterday. The deed was not discovered until about an hour after the noon recess, when the janitor, having occasion to go into the cellar, found it flooded with water. An examination showed that the pipe had been cut through.

The commuters of Westfield and Cranford have petitioned the Central Railroad authorities to have the 8 o'clock a. m. train, which runs to Newark, made a New York train. If this petition cannot be granted, the commuters ask to be allowed to board the New York train at Roselle instead of at Elizabeth, as they have heretofore done. ### GOLF.

Tomorrow morning the contest for the Fisk cup will be concluded on the grounds of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. This contest is among the junior members of the club. In the afternoon the regular golf team will meet the team from the Suburban Club, of Elizabeth, on the links in this city. This will probably conclude the regular play for this year. If the weather is favorable there may be a mixed foursome match on Thanksgiving Day for club members only.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

The bowling team of the Plainfield Catholic Club will commence a series of games the last of this month.

A bowling game is being arranged between the T. A. B. and Knob Hill teams, to be rolled on the Ulrich alleys next Tuesday evening.

FOOTBALL.

The Central Journal Bowling League will open for the winter in a few weeks. A meeting of the league has been called for Wednesday evening at the Elizabeth Athletic club-house.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Former Judge W. A. Coddington has renewed his membership in the League of American Wheelmen.

Reform Club's Good Time.

A good-sized audience gathered at Reform Hall last evening and enjoyed the entertainment provided by the committee in charge. W. C. Smith, president of the club, presided and directed the rendition of the programme which consisted of cornet solos by Benjamin LaVere, accompanied by Bert Harold, on the piano, vocal solos by Mrs. J. H. Manley, and remarks by Mr. Armstrong and Vice-president Marley. Next week it is expected that the Ladies' Orchestra will be present and give one of their pleasing programmes.

Stairs to Avoid the Culls.

A big improvement is now being made at the borough lockup under the direction of the License and Marshal committee. On the outside of the building an enclosed stair case is being erected, so that it will not be necessary for persons who want to gain an entrance to pass through the jail proper where the prisoners are kept. The Mayor now has his office in the upper part of the lockup and it is not always desirable for people who want to see him to go through the jail. The improvement is a much-needed one.

Faithful Officers Re-elected.

The regular meeting of the consistory of Trinity Reformed church was held last evening at the home of Elder G. L. VanEmburgh, East Second street, and a large amount of important business was transacted. The present clerk, Fred E. Smith, was unanimously re-elected to serve the ensuing year, as was also the present treasurer, George Gayle. The pastor will announce the standing committees at the next meeting of the consistory.

Justice Mosher's Court.

The contract case of Train against Adams was called for trial in Justice Mosher's court, yesterday afternoon, and as the defense did not put in an appearance judgment was given to the plaintiff by default.

—7 cents yard—fancy flannelettes, tomorrow, Saturday, at VanEmburgh's.

—This evening at Warren chapel the regular weekly prayer meeting will be held. All are invited.

NOTED CHARITY WORKER DEAD.

Mrs. Sophia S. Shea Passed Away in Elizabeth Yesterday.

Mrs. Sophia S. Shea, widow of Dr. John Gilmory Shea, the noted Catholic historian and literary man, died yesterday at her home, 138 Catherine street, Elizabeth, after an illness of one week.

Mrs. Shea was in her sixty-sixth year and has resided in Elizabeth since the close of the Civil War.

While her husband was engaged in his literary labors Mrs. Shea largely devoted herself to works of charity.

She was one of the organizers of the Ladies' Aid Society to help along the Elizabeth General Hospital, and was one of its most earnest supporters. She was one of the founders of the Sacred Heart Catholic church, Elizabeth.

Two daughters survive her. Mrs. Shea was a cousin of James E. Martine, of this city.

ADVISED TO RESIGN.

Rev. P. S. Gibson's White Brethren Tell Him He Ought to Get Out.

There was a lull today in the trouble between Rev. Phillip S. Gibson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Colored Baptist church, and the trustees of the church, who are trying to force him to resign the pastorate. Some interest was awakened by the intelligence that the Baptist Ministers' Association has privately advised Mr. Gibson to resign. A statement to that effect was made yesterday by one who is familiar with the business of the association.

The trustees and deacons of the Mt. Olive church will hold a meeting in the office of City Judge DeMeza tonight to decide upon what further action shall be taken against the pastor. It is understood that some of the members of the First Baptist church will be present and offer their advice.

Cadets in New Uniforms.

The cadets of the New Jersey Military Academy appeared this morning in their brand-new uniforms, which are of cadet grey trimmed with black braid. The uniforms are very natty in appearance and have greatly pleased the cadets. The letters "N. J. M. A." are in gold letters on the collar. The overcoats are of dark blue cloth with capes. The officers of the cadet company are: Captain, George Proctor Smith; first lieutenant, Lindley M. Hillman; first sergeant, Arthur Smith; second sergeant, Aubrey Hull; first corporal, Fred. Bonny. The other officers will be selected later.

White's Coat and Suit Department.

A visit to this great department you will find most interesting. The second floor is devoted to the display of handsome coats for ladies and children, fine skirts and wrappers that are priced so low that it does not pay you to bother about making them yourself. The muslin underwear is also on this floor. Tomorrow they will offer special good values in coats for misses, and capes and jackets for ladies.

Guests Given a Souvenir.

A surprise was tendered to Miss Katie Cortright, of East Sixth street, last evening by a few of her friends. Vocal and instrumental music were features of the evening and the serving of refreshments was enjoyed. As the guests departed each was presented with a Japanese souvenir as a pleasant reminder of the happy occasion.

MUST ANSWER TO UNCLE SAM.

Former Letter-Carrier Will Go Before a United States Judge.

Inspector Lewis, of the U. S. Postal Department, was in Plainfield this morning on business relating to the arrest of John Neighbor, the former letter-carrier, on the charge of tampering with the United States mail and embezzling letters and money. The offense is one against the postal laws of the United States, and comes under the authority of the United States officers.

According to the laws, however, a justice of the peace has the power to issue a warrant for the arrest of an offender under the charge already mentioned.

Inspector Lewis took the papers relative to the case back to Newark with him and a United States Marshal will come to Plainfield to take Neighbor to Newark, where his bond will have to be renewed before Commissioner Whitehead. As he has pleaded guilty, Neighbor is being held for sentence by a United States judge.

VETERAN'S FATAL SORROW.

Son's Suicide After Mother's Death Hastens the End.

Alfred V. Russell, father of Steven Russell, 16 years old, who committed suicide at Newark a few days ago through grief over the death of his mother, died Thursday in the Soldiers' Home in Kearny.

Russell had been ill for some time and the death of his wife a month ago was a severe shock to him. He rallied somewhat and was a little stronger, until he heard of the tragic death of his son. The blow proved too much for him and he gradually sank until death came to his relief. Russell was 65 years old and a veteran of Company E, Seventh Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers. He formerly resided on Stone street, near Somerset street, in the borough, where he was well known.

SIX YOUNG MEN CONVERTED.

Great Success Rewarding the Efforts of Methodist Revivalists.

That the interest in the meetings had in no way diminished was made very apparent last night in Grace M. E. church. After a very impressive service, in which requests for prayers were read and made, the usual invitation was given to come forward and seek pardon from God, whereupon six young men went forward to the altar and became happily converted. At the service tonight the Drew Quartette will be present. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Sherman Powell.

Surprised on His Birthday.

A pleasant surprise party was given to E. B. Maynard at his home, 141 North avenue, last evening, in celebration of his 40th birthday. Singing and games were enjoyed by the party until a late hour, when refreshments were served. A number of appropriate gifts, including flowered china cups and saucers and a handsome teacher's Bible, were presented to Mr. Maynard. An address appropriate to the occasion was delivered by Rev. J. W. Mitchell. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Maynard, Rev. and Mrs. James Groves, Miss Berth Groves, Miss Maud Doyle, Miss Nellie Pierson, Mrs. Peters, Misses Ida and Bessie Mitchell, Alexander Stills, Frank Kelso, William Groves and Mr. Cannon.

Remarkable Act of the Wind.

Just as P. & R. locomotive No. 385, drawing the Philadelphia express, arriving here at 11:10, reached the Clinton avenue bridge this morning, the engineer was startled to see the bell lifted out its socket and tumble onto the running board along the side of the boiler. It seemed to have moved by some mysterious force, as there was no break in the frame that holds it or severe jolting of the locomotive. It was thought, however, the powerful gust of wind got under the bell and actually threw it out of place. The piece of metal weighs about seventy-five pounds.
