TRAINS LEAVE EARLIER.

A CHANGE IN THE TIME-TABLE ON THE CENTRAL RAILROAD.

The Principal Changes Are in the "7:58 Express" and Through Newark Train—A Few Commuters Were Late Today.

A change in the time-table on the Jersey Central railroad this morning made some of the forgetful commuters run for their trains. The express train that has hitherto left Plainfield at 7:58 started to leave here three minutes earlier. The special through train to Newark, that has left Plainfield at 7:50, left today three minutes earlier. Those were the only changes that affected the army of commuters, but as those trains carry a number of them, the difference of three minutes affected a number.

For some reason there are always more late for the train on clear days than on rainy ones, and the general rush for the train after it starts is not by any means as large when the rain is falling and the platforms are slippery.

The conductor and brakemen of the express have been trying to impress the remembrance of the change on their regular passengers for the last week and it seems that they succeeded for nobody was left behind this morning. The train was a trifle late in starting but the commuters were on hand early and boarded the waiting cars without having to run for them.

There was also a change on the fast morning express that left Plainfield at 10:04. It now leaves at 10:14, and arrives at Liberty street terminal, New York, at 11 o'clock instead of 10:50. The afternoon eastbound local that has been leaving Plainfield at 4:48, now leaves at 4:54. The evening New York express that left Plainfield at 6:40, now goes five minutes later according to the new schedule.

There are no changes in the west bound suburban traffic. The west-bound Blue Line train that heretofore stopped here at 6:45 p. m., to take on passengers for the west will not stop now; instead another Blue Line will stop at 5:09 p. m.

WANTED VERDICT GUARANTEED.

German Complainant Who Demanded Favorable Decision for His Side.

Isaac Shrager, the tailor on Madison avenue, whose place was robbed several weeks ago for the third time, is in trouble again. This time his landlord is the aggressor. Christopher Becker owns the premises, 236 East Fourth street, and some time ago he rented the place to Shrager, who brought thither his household goods and took possession.

Now a disagreement arose between landlord and tenant, the former claiming the rent must be paid in advance, and the latter refusing to pay until the month was up. Then Becker hurried to the office of Justice Newcorn and brought suit to recover his month's rent. He demanded that the Judge guarantee to give him a verdict and get his tenant out of the house in three days. The Judge promptly refused.

When the case came to trial last Friday the Judge demanded an interpreter as both plaintiff and defendant were Germans, and resorted to their mother tongue in the excitement. Becker couldn't get an interpreter and the case was adjourned until he could. This morning he refused to have one and the Judge declared a non suit for the tailor.

Domestic Differences.

Patrick Doyle and his wife had some trouble in their little home on East Third street Saturday night and Patrolman Watson was called in to end it. He locked them both up. They were afterwards released to appear this morning for a hearing before City Judge DeMeza. Their case, this morning, was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

How to Help the Poor.

The annual public meeting of the Organized Aid Association will be held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. An address will be delivered by Edward T. Devine, secretary of the Charity Organization Society, of New York, upon "How to Help the Poor by Organized Charity."

Loss Anything at the 'Fest?

All ownerless articles found at the Spielkarnfest last week and were not claimed, will be kept at Hall's pharmacy for the week. Owners can identify them there. There is a choice lot of umbrellas, overcoats, handkerchiefs and various other articles. After this week they will be disposed of.

Justice Mosher's Court.

A summons was issued yesterday in the landlord and tenant case of Justice Mosher. The case will be tried next Monday.

FORSAKING SINFULNESS

GREAT SUCCESS OF GRACE M. E. CHURCH REVIVAL MEETINGS.

The Edifice Filled With Interested and Enthusiastic Listeners Last Night—Several Went Forward Seeking Solace for Souls.

The revival service at Grace M. E. church was continued last evening with encouraging results. Long before the meeting began every seat was taken and many were obliged to stand up during the first meeting.

The service opened with devotional exercises and a song service in charge of the Drew Quartette, and the regular choir of the church also rendered a pretty anthem. The sermon was preached by Rev. C. E. Hesselgrave, and it was a powerful one. It was taken from the text, "The Spirit and the Bride Say Come, and Let Him That Heareth Come." The speaker drew many practical lessons from the text and the audience was deeply impressed with the application. He urged all to forsake their sins and be converted at once, at a time when it was comparatively easy to stand for the Lord when so many were coming out from the world.

The largest part of the audience remained to the after meeting and of those who remained a number went to the altar, and thus gave themselves up to Christ publicly. It was rather late when the service came to an end. Rev. Mr. Johnston, the pastor, announced that next Sunday morning the regular communion service of the church would be held and he desired all who had professed conversion to be present at that time for the purpose of being admitted to membership on probation.

The Drew Quartette concluded their labors last evening and have returned to the Seminary where they will continue their studies. They have felt the loss of the studies and are compelled by circumstances to withdraw from the revival meetings. The services will be continued every night, however, and Mr. Johnston will have charge.

Pastor's Impressive Appeal.

The congregation of Trinity Reformed church listened to an impressive appeal last evening by the pastor on the necessity of giving one's heart to God early in life, and many in the congregation were moved to tears. God's Holy Spirit seems to be hovering over this church and showers of blessings seem ready to fall. During the evening a volunteer choir from the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society of the church assisted very materially in singing the sweet hymns. A male quartette was also present and sang three solos tenderly. The quartette was composed of the brothers, Joseph C. and Horace J. Martin, and Mr. Martin's two sons, Horace J. Jr., and Willard.

A SNEAK THIEF'S VISIT.

Suspicious Encounter That Geo. Bowers Had With a Stranger.

As George Bowers was passing to his room he noticed a stranger come downstairs, carrying a handbag. Bowers lives with his wife in a flat over Moy's pharmacy on Park avenue and East Fourth street. This happened Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. When Bowers reached his room he found the door open and immediately suspected that the man he met had been an uninvited guest in his rooms. He looked over the contents of the rooms but could notice nothing missing. He reported the visit to Chief Grant.

The man was a stranger to Bowers. He was apparently a young man, dressed in a dark suit and with a red face.

RECEIVED A $25 REWARD.

J. E. Bailey Returned Miss Burt's Valuable Timepiece.

Miss Burt, a niece of Mr. Guion, of Carleton avenue, lost her gold watch Monday last, as advertised in this paper. The watch was returned Saturday evening by James E. Bailey, of Manning avenue, who received the reward offered of $25 and the thanks of the owner. The watch was found on Fourth street, near Watchung avenue, at 8:30 p. m., Monday, and as Miss Burt left the Rink at 5:30, it must have been lying there for three hours before Mr. Bailey found it.

The Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

At the young men's meeting Sunday afternoon there was a large attendance. John Fairchild, a converted bartender, spoke; also Joe Fisher, a converted saloonkeeper, who was started on the right track through the Y. M. C. A. in Newark, having been led to their meeting by card of invitation, distributed on the street. Mr. Fisher also sang solos. Next week the Sunday afternoon meeting will be addressed by Lieut. Col. Brewer, of the Salvation Army, one of the most noted speakers in the Army.

'FEST NOW LIVES IN PLEASANT MEMORIES ONLY.

THE GREAT HOSPITAL BENEFIT WAS ENDED IN AN AUSPICIOUS MANNER.

Principal Interest at the Close Centered in the Voting Contest for the Most Popular Dance—New Topical Song by Councilman Runyon—Many Deserve Credit.

The Spielkarnfest is over. That great event of the year is ended, to live only in the memory of those who witnessed that festival of grace and beauty, a result of the united efforts of the public spirited people of Plainfield. The treasury of the Muhlenberg Hospital, one of the most worthy charities in the city, for the aid of which that great benefit was given, has been enriched to the extent of several thousand dollars. What the exact amount is it is impossible to tell at present. The Crescent Rink which was transformed for into a "fairland" of beauty and fashion, has lost that gay throng that haunted it day and night. The pretty booths are fast being dismantled and the decorations of every kind have disappeared. Plainfield has once more resumed its wonted serenity and the bright costumed dancers have resumed the regular duties of life. The Spielkarnfest is over but its memory will long live.

Saturday evening saw the last of the great benefit. The Rink was crowded. Every seat was sold long before the performance began. Then there was a throng who came to stand up and occupied all the available standing room in the building. All came in holiday attire with expectant looks on their faces. Beautiful gowns were numerous in the audience and among the attendants at the booths. Society was well represented but it was not a society affair. The whole city was out and one and all agreed that the Spielkarnfest was a complete success.

The entire programme of dances was given Saturday night. The participants seemed to realize the spirit of the times and entered in the dances with more than the usual vigor. Everything passed off without a hitch. Round after round of applause was given each of the dances. The Pages were accorded a great reception. Friday night, the audience had tried in vain to recall them but Miss Stewart was firm in her determination that no encores should be given. Saturday night, the audience again tried and the young dancers appeared on the stage again after several minutes of applause but only to bow and retire.

As the audience realized that they were to lose the dances forever, they became very importunate as the different dances took place. The Hornpipe was the last on the programme. The applause it received was deafening and continued at intervals throughout the dance. After the Hornpipe, Former Mayor W. L. Saunders, one of the committee, stepped to the front of the stage with a banner which he announced was to be awarded in the contest for the most popular dance. He said that the contest would continue for just ten minutes after the close of the performance. He announced the way that the contest stood at time, with the Hornpipe in the lead and the Pages a close second.

The final result in the game of "Living Whist" was exciting. Messrs. McCutchen and Townsend winning for the week by just two tricks. Friday night, Messrs. Howell and Rogers won by a score of 10 to 8 tricks. Saturday night, the trump card was the Queen of Clubs, Mrs. Lemuel W. Serrell, Jr., who danced a little duet with the Joker. Mr. Rogers had the lead and played the Ace of Hearts to have it trumped by Mr. McCutchen. Messrs. McCutchen and Townsend held the majority of the high trumps and lead them pulling all the trumps of their opponents. Their command of Spades gave them four more tricks and they won by a score of 10 to 3 tricks. The total score for the week was 40 to 38 in favor of Messrs. McCutchen and Townsend.

Former Borough Mayor Saunders then announced that the contest for the most popular dance was open for ten minutes, and there was a general rush for the voting booth in the rear of the room. Vote after vote for the Hornpipe and Pages dance was turned in. The supporters of both dances were determined, and the excitement grew as the additional ballots were announced. The time was growing shorter and the supporters of the Hornpipe added several hundred ballots in a bunch, giving them the lead. There was great cheering. Ernest R. Ackerman had a thousand ballots that he intended to deposit for the pages but there was a slight misunderstanding about the exact way in which the contest was to close and it was claimed he cast them a moment too late so that they did not count. Mr. Saunders then declared that the result of the voting was as follows: Hornpipe, 1,391; Dance of the Pages, 1,178; Danza Cubana, 90; Dance of the Red Cards, 71; Dance of the Court Cards, 24; Dance of the Aces, 19; Tambourine Dance, 15; Chrysanthemum Dance, 15; Dance of the Black Cards, 13; Mirror Dance, 9.

The banner was presented to the dancers in the Hornpipe, and they then led a procession of the dancers that closed the evening's entertainment. After an interval for dancing, the Hornpipe was repeated by request. Over $250 was cleared in the voting contest.

At the beginning of the programme, Councilman William N. Runyon appeared at the footlights and requested all ladies under ninety years of age to remove their hats. The audience appreciated the joke and most of the hats were removed.

Councilman Runyon also appeared toward the close of the evening, in an interval between two of the dances, and sang several verses of his own composition to the familiar tune of the "Son of a Gamboller." He received an ovation which was continued at the end of every verse. The audience was not content with six, but Mr. Runyon stepped to the front and remarked: "I'd like to sing all night, but a reporter of the New York Tribune is here and I don't care for him." In which he referred to a rather sarcastic editorial in the Jersey part of that newspaper in which Mr. Runyon and his song was referred to. The words of Saturday night's verses were as follows:

We're glad to see our friends tonight
In such a goodly throng.
We hope you've come with minds made up
To help our work along.
Just ask yourselves this question
"Now wouldn't it be immense
If every one who's here tonight
Would just spend fifty cents?"
You're doing it all for Charity
Just let me tell you this
You're doing it all for Charity
And a half you'll never miss.
Now whether you spend a hundred
Or just a widow's mite,
We'll thank each one, for all we want
Is every thing in sight.
Now if you don't like music,
And if you don't like noise,
And if you don't like girls and boys,
I really must confess it.
You must be a funny "bloke."
But down the hall you'll find a room
Where you can hide and smoke.
We're doing it all for Charity.
Just bear this thought in mind,
We're doing it all for Charity.
For the lame and halt and blind.
The ladies need the money
To help them pay their debts.
So go and see the dames who sell
Cigars and Cigarettes.
A word or two I'd say to these
Who visit us tonight.
Who've traveled here from out of town
To see this gorgeous sight.
You may have been around the world
And met the girls you've seen tonight.
But I'll bet the girls you've seen tonight
Can dance all the rest.
They're doing it all for Charity
These demurest of us tart.
It's all on account of Charity
That each one's taking part.
With such attractions, 'tis not strange
That to our town you roam.
We marvel more that you can bear
To leave them and go home.
If we could get Alfonso,
The Infant King of Spain,
To come and see the Cuban Dance,
A victory we would gain.
For with these little ladies
He would be enraptured be.
He'd go and tell his dear Mamma
To set fair Cuba free.
They're doing it all for Charity.
Their pinettes and twirls,
They're doing it all for Charity.
These dainty little girls,
And many a poor bed-ridden soul
Will rise and call them blest
For all they've done to help along
Our great Spielkarnfest.
Now if we ever feel compelled
To go to war with Spain,
We'll rig our Hornpipe Sailors out
And send them 'cross the main.
Straightway they'll sail for old Madrid,
And do the funny stunts;
All Spain will say "We can't beat that."
And pray for peace at once.
They're doing it all for Charity.
These sailors red and white,
They're doing it all for Charity
And they're simply out of sight.
To help old Muhlenberg extend
It's kind and watchful care.
St. Mary's boys and girls
Have more than done their share.
Now when this Spiel is finished,
We must never rest in peace.
We've got to raise some money
For our friends the good Police.
We ought to buy them nurses' caps
And teach them how to sing.
So they can tend the little kids
When the "Curfew" starts to ring.
They'll do a work of Charity
In mending family ties.

CAME TOGETHER HARD.

DISASTROUS COLLISION ON SOMERSET STREET IN THE DARK.

One Carriage Completely Wrecked While the Horse Disappeared From View at a Breakneck Speed—High Words Followed.

Last evening between 6 and 7 o'clock on Somerset street, just outside of the borough, two horses and carriages, going in opposite directions, collided and a bad wreck resulted.

In the carriage coming towards the city was Mr. Pearson, of Vine street, and in the other was a Mr. Witman, of Mt. Bethel, on his way home. Each one claimed that the other was on the wrong side of the road and driving fast, and when Chief Marshal Wilson arrived on the scene both men were arguing the question pro and con in an excited manner.

Mr. Pearson's carriage was completely wrecked and his horse had escaped to the mountains. The other carriage was much heavier and not so easily demolished, and the horse was caught before he could get away.

Mr. Pearson had been attending the funeral of his friend, Mr. Thums, who was killed last week while hunting at Martinsville, and he claims that he was driving very slow, while Mr. Witman, he says, was driving fast and recklessly. Both men also claim that they were on the right side of the road. When the two men parted the question of right and wrong had not been settled. Mr. Pearson says he is going to have Mr. Witman arrested and made to pay for the damage. As yet he has done nothing.

EXPLOSION THREATENED.

A Serious Accident Averted at the Sanitary Company's Plant.

That there was not a terrible explosion at the plant of the Plainfield Sanitary Company yesterday afternoon is due to Marshal Campbell, of the borough, who happened to be in the vicinity of the plant. He had driven there to examine the plant and when within a short distance of it he saw smoke so dense that the plant could not be seen. He investigated by opening a window, but the smoke almost suffocated him and he was obliged to close it. No one was in charge of the plant. By this time Bert Littell, of West Eighth street, appeared on the scene, and he was sent to the Clinton Avenue railroad station to telephone to Chief Doane.

The latter soon arrived and it did not take him long to ascertain what the trouble was. Manager McCarthy had filled one of the large hoppers in the crematory with garbage, thinking that it would last until he returned at 6 o'clock. But such was not the case. Owing to the fact that the regular apparatus for carrying off the smoke was not working, the large room was filled with smoke which came from the top of the hopper. This smoke was fast becoming superheated, and when it gets to a certain temperature it is liable to cause an explosion.

Chief Doane is not absolutely certain that such would have been the result, but he thinks that it is quite possible. The difficulty was soon remedied, and a little later Manager McCarthy returned and took charge of the plant.

GERMANS ENJOYED THEMSELVES.

Enjoyed Music and Farce and Awarded a Prize Cake.

The members of the Gesang and Turn Verein enjoyed an entertainment in their hall on Somerset street last evening. An interesting programme was presented, opening with a few remarks by President Henry Haurand and followed with a vocal selection by the German and Swedish sections of the Singing Society. Frank Jellig, of New York, pleased the audience with selections on a guitar, accompanied by his boy and girl on zithers. The next number was a comical farce entitled "A Poor Poet," which was presented by the dramatic section of the society, including A. Wolf, O. Keller, Henry Eimer, Mrs. Mentzenbach and Mrs. Bergen. This was very well received, as was also a violin solo by Mr. Filstrum. The singing section gave another selection, after which the drawing for the cake made by Messrs. Stuewerwald and Gardner took place. The lucky person was a visitor from New York and his name was not secured by the committee in charge. The proceeds from the drawing will be used to purchase a handsome frame for a painting of the late Henry Wedemeyer, which was purchased by the society recently.

Additional locals on third page.

G. Q. Dolliver has purchased a lot of A. D. Thompson, on Fairview avenue, opposite Verdon avenue, 50x180 feet, and has commenced the erection of a house, 24x34. W. C. Smith is the mason, and Mr. Dolliver's brother the carpenter.

GIBSON SCORES AGAIN.

PASTOR OF THE MT. OLIVE BAPTIST CHURCH HEADS OFF COLLECTION.

Sings His Farewell Song to the Congregation in Spite of Orders to Keep Silent, and Then Sells All of His Copies.

Rev. Philip B. Gibson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Colored Baptist church, is not a man who can easily be relegated to oblivion. Ever since the beginning of the trouble between him and the members of his flock, some weeks ago, his enemies in the church have been trying to side-track him. But like Banquo's ghost, he will not down.

At the joint meeting of the trustees and the deacons of the Mt. Olive Baptist church with the deacons of the First Baptist church, in the office of City Judge DeMeza, Friday night Mr. Gibson agreed not to discharge any of the pastoral functions or be heard in the church until then courts had finally passed upon the charges preferred against him by Miss Lucy Swain.

Acting in accordance with this agreement, the trustees engaged D. W. Brown, a lay preacher, to conduct the morning services, yesterday, and in the evening, the Rev. E. V. Hare, of Newark, was secured to take charge. He preached an interesting sermon, and everything passed off smoothly until its close.

Just as the sermon was finished there was a stir in the back of the church. A minute later and Pastor Gibson came up the aisle. In his hand was a stack of printed sheets.

The congregation looked at one another questioningly, but nobody seemed to have an idea of what the pastor was going to do.

"There's a sick sister of this here congregation, and I mean to help her," Mr. Gibson said. "I holds in my hand copies of the pastor's farewell song, which with the consent of everybody present I will sing to this congregation. The copies will be afterwards sold and disposed of for the small sum of five cents each. Will some sister please preside at the organ?"

No one remonstrated. Those opposed to the pastor were too much surprised to decide upon what to do. The only opposition which manifested itself was a groan from one of the ants in a back pew.

The dominie cleared his throat, and as the notes of the organ sounded forth, he sang:

A poor, forsaken child,
Out on life's troubled sea,
Midst storms and raging billows,
Does no one care for me?
I've labored hard to bring you
With Jesus Christ to dwell;
My heart is almost broken.
I bid you all farewell.

After thus getting under way the pastor wandered through a dozen or more stanzas, all expressing his conviction of having done his duty and his sorrow at being discarded. The latter sentiment was expressed forcibly as follows:

Dear friends what have I done
That I should be thrown down?
Speaking of the probable outcome of the trouble, he sang:

Our labors will be ended,
All slanderers turned in hell.

At the close of the song the congregation flocked to the front of the church, and soon all the pastor's copies of his farewell song were sold at five cents a copy.

He then folded his tent and silently sneaked.

And after it was all over and Mr. Gibson had left, the opposition saw that they were again outwitted by the diplomatic pastor. The members had given all their spare change to the pastor and there was no money forthcoming when the collection box was passed.

BOY THIEVES SENTENCED.

Pleaded Non Vult and Sentenced to Thirty Days in Jail.

The four Plainfield lads who were arrested here several weeks ago on the charge of burglary, came up before Judge McCormick at Elizabeth this morning for sentence. The complaint had been changed to petty larceny and the prisoners had pleaded non vult. Charles Westerfield, Fred Rockefeller, Abe Connert and Samuel Riker were each sentenced to thirty days in the county jail for petty larceny and Watson Ralph and Albert Soper were sentenced to the same term of imprisonment for receiving stolen goods. Lawyers Walter L. Hetfield, W. R. Codington and G. W. DeMeza appeared for them.

YALE AND HARVARD TIE

Stirring Football Struggle Between Old Rivals.

BOTH SIDES FAIL TO SCORE

The Teams Put Up a Fast, Clean and Scientific Game—Both Fought Desperately and Successfully Defended Their Goals—25,000 There.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 15.—Yale and Harvard have played their first football draw. Neither could score against the other in their battle on Soldiers Field on Saturday afternoon, their first meeting since the memorable Springfield game of 1894.

For two thrilling hours, in the presence of 25,000 persons, two sturdy eleven men struggled over the white-lined grid-iron, desperately disputing every inch of territory and vainly essaying to cross the coveted goal line. It was a case of two teams, each with a strong defense and weak ground-gaining powers, and the logical outcome of the contest was that neither side scored.

A Harvard victory had been so generally expected that the result of the conflict was dubiously received by the supporters of the Crimson. The fact that Harvard could not force the ball across Yale's goal line, as had been done by Brown, the Indians, West Point and Chicago, was the chief cause for regret, but it was not because of any failure on the part of the Crimson representatives to play desperate football. It was simply because Yale put up an unexpectedly fine defensive game and played with superb judgment all the way through.

The high wind was an important factor in the result. It made necessary a partially different system of offense and defense for both teams. Yale, in winning the toss and securing the wind, had Harvard at great odds. The fact that, heavily handicapped as she was, Harvard defended her territory so strongly, led all to believe that in the second half the Crimson would score an easy victory.

Harvard's well-known defense was impervious to the Yale attack, but that was expected all along. Harvard's failure to score was the subject of unbounded joy and happiness for Yale. The sons of Eli were particularly jubilant over the fact that, with a green eleven made up from raw recruits and coached by veterans, they had succeeded in standing off Harvard's array of experienced men in the rush line for a nothing-to-nothing score.

The game was played without delay, so much so that inside of two hours the playing time had been consumed and the crowd went on its way home-ward. There was absolutely no brutality, no slugging, no roughing, and no injuries to amount to anything. The Harvard team was so well supplied with substitutes that whenever one of the regulars was rather rudely handled he was taken out.

The Yale men played through the game without making a change. At the end of the contest there were no cripples to speak of, and the best of selling, barring disappointment over the fact that no definite result had been reached, prevailed everywhere. It was a model game, one that can be pointed to with pride by those who engaged in it, those who saw it, and those who believe in college football as a manly sport.

Yale-Princeton Game.
New Haven, Nov. 15.—Yale hears the Tiger's roar in the distance. The football players from Old Nassau are due here on next Saturday to close the season at Yale, and in many respects the contest will be one of the most memorable ever played here. It is the first Yale-Princeton championship contest at the Yale field since 1885, when Lamar went out for Princeton by his run, the most noted in football history. Yale is anxious to wipe out the sting of last year's defeat, but her team is made up of new and untrained material, and the chances are that the championship will again go back to Princeton. All the hotels here are planning for the largest crowds they have handled in years. The new grandstands are now ready for occupancy. They seat 15,000 persons and there will be nearly enough tickets to satisfy the demand for seats. What changes the coaches will see fit to make as a result of the Harvard game it is impossible to predict. Of course Dudley will be back from Washington by that time, and is likely to take his former position of halfback. Cutten is recovering from his wrenched knee and may make another try for center. It is expected that more than twenty thousand persons will see the Princeton match here.

Fire in an Aspen Mine.
Aspen, Col., Nov. 15.—A fire that gives promise to close down every big mine in the camp is raging in the 800-foot level of the Smuggler mine. In one of the immense caverns left from the excavation of ore a large crib is burning. This crib is 30 feet wide, 164 feet long and 300 feet high. It contains many thousands of cords of dry timber. At the place where the fire is raging, and for eighty feet above it, it is filled with waste, but the timber is dry and punky, and will smolder for many months unless quenched. All efforts to reach the fire have proven unsuccessful, and an attempt to place outcrops in the connection came near costing the lives of some fifty men. Over forty of these were so overcome by the deadly gas that for a time their lives were despaired of.

Dedication of Battle Monuments.
Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 15.—Chattanooga has been in the hands of Pennsylvanians, headed by Gov. Hastings, for the past two days. The object of the gathering is the dedication of the Pennsylvania monuments on the battlefields here. For the dedication the State made an appropriation of $15,000 and provided free transportation for the veterans.
The regimental dedication began Saturday noon and continued Sunday and Monday. To-morrow the general dedicatory exercises will be held on historic Orchard Knob, when the formal transfer of the monuments to the National Military Park will take place. Saturday night a public reception was tendered to the visitors at the Auditorium. The visitors were welcomed by Mayor Watkins. Gov. Hastings presided.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS.

Postmaster-General Gary Urges Their Establishment—Would Develop Thrift.
Washington, Nov. 15.—Postmaster-General Gary devotes a third of his last annual report to a presentation of his views upon the establishment of postal savings banks, which he strongly favors.

"The establishment of a postal savings system," he says, "would tend inevitably to the cultivation of thrift in a large class of people. Through its instrumentality those who have been improvident in little things, and who have not learned from experience that money makes money, will be educated slowly but surely to save a surplus over and above their living expenses, to the end that a fund may be created which will provide for them when sickness or old age overtakes them. When they realize that their savings may be so utilized under the direction and care of their government that even small amounts will earn money for them, it is but reasonable to suppose that they will be incited to greater exercise of thrift and industry. They would soon come to understand the necessity of depositing with the Government their surplus earnings, instead of expending them wastefully, and, therefore, uselessly. If but a small percentage of the money a young person expends unnecessarily, in the many ways known to all, could be saved and wisely invested, there would be a competency at hand when old age comes."

"In my judgment, the establishment of postal savings depositories would tend to better citizenship. If the masses of the people were thrifty and saving in their habits, they would more likely be contented and happy, and if their hard-earned savings could be placed in the hands of the Government, in the welfare of which they are all so deeply concerned, it is reasonable to suppose that they would come to a better realization of the duties they owe to their country and consequently to each other. The union of common interest would surely result in a broader, wiser and more useful citizenship. The successful operation of a postal savings deposit system would bring into closer relationship the Government and its citizens, and result in the development of practical and enduring patriotism. The citizen who feels that he has a personal interest in the affairs of the Government, beyond the payment of his share of taxes and the discharge of those other duties common to all, is of more value to the community and the nation than one whose conception of citizenship means merely the performance of those duties."

"The advantages to result from the adoption of a system so promising in the growth of patriotic sentiment and good citizenship, in my opinion, constitute a powerful appeal to statesmanship to provide by law for the application and the spread of its beneficent consequences. With the multiplication of depositories would come the elevation of the standard of citizenship, the cementing of the ties that bind the people to the Government, the strengthening of the public credit, and the ultimate betterment of all concerned."

BRUTAL MURDER.

New York Printer's Head Smashed in with Stones.

New York, Nov. 15.—Thomas J. Lyons, a printer employed by the Lockwood Press Company, of 143 Bleeker street, was killed with stones in a lot on Fulton street, near Saratoga avenue, Brooklyn, some time between midnight and 4 o'clock yesterday morning. Two twenty-pound stones stained with blood were found about forty feet from the body. The whole side of the head was smashed in, and the bones of the jaw and cheek on the other side were fractured in a half a dozen places. The condition of the ground showed that the murderer had dragged the body away from the spot where the stones were found. Across the breast he had placed the man's coat, carefully folded, while beside the head he had laid the black derby hat.

The remarkable thing is that a murderer could have been committed on a "frequented thoroughfare" like Fulton street, at a spot less than half a block from a station of the Kings County Elevated Railroad, without causing an alarm. There can be no doubt that there was a struggle. The ground showed that beyond question. It was more or less torn up for several feet around the spot where it is evident the man was killed, and small stones which cover the ground were scattered about.

Over thirty detectives worked from 9 o'clock yesterday morning until long after midnight this morning without getting a clue to the identity of the murderer. They managed to trace some of the movements of the dead man during the night, but that was all. What will make it a harder mystery to solve than any other one thing is the very evident fact that the murder was the result of an altercation which arose between the dead man and some one whom he had met, but with whom he had no previous acquaintance. It is known that Lyons was drunk during the night, and the police think either that he got into a brawl with some stranger and that they went into the lot to settle their differences, or that he was lured into the lot and murdered by some one under the impression that he had money. The police favor the theory of a drunken brawl because the man's coat was off.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Mrs. William A. Kline is dangerously ill at her home on West Third street.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

—Charles Wyckoff, of West Front street, returned Saturday from a hunting expedition and he had a large bag of game consisting of rabbits.

Household Gods.

The ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of today is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's, Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Former Assemblyman George Tice, of Perth Amboy, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Hall, of Duer street.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss L. E. Chapman, of Crescent avenue, who has been very ill for the past six weeks, is now improving.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. ## WHERE IS CHARLES BOYD?

Eight Criminal Suits Against Him for Obtaining Money Falsely.

Pittsburg, Nov. 15.—Eight criminal suits have been entered here against one Charles Boyd for obtaining money by false pretense. Whether he is guilty or not a trial of the charges will determine. A stub book in the office of Boyd's alleged private bank shows that $50,000 worth of certificates of deposit were issued; there is no record that one cent of money was ever paid into the bank by the persons in whose name the certificates were made out. They were all issued to Boyd himself, his wife, and his two sisters-in-law.

Boyd came to Pittsburg a few months ago and started in business in Allegheny, calling himself "The Boyd Lumber Company." Shortly afterward a young man named Straub saw an advertisement in the newspapers and called on Boyd. Boyd told him he was going to start the Pennsylvania Lumber Company, and wanted a partner. Straub gave up $800 cash and was taken into partnership, but soon gave up his interest and left the firm.

A few weeks ago a young countryman from Lancaster County, James W. Johnston, came to town. Reading an advertisement for a bookkeeper, he called at the office of the "Allegheny County Bank," met Boyd, gave up $700 cash, and got the place of assistant cashier. There was no cash to handle, but occasionally Boyd gave him instructions to make out certificates of deposit. Johnston did not know that the alleged bank was but a few weeks old, and thought he had found a good place. Two weeks ago he went on a hunting trip, and when he returned on last Tuesday and went to the bank to open it up he learned from the man living next door that the institution had remained closed all day on Monday. He went to Boyd's house in Allegheny, but was told his employer was sick and could not see him.

Meantime the proprietor of a department store who had sold goods to Boyd deposited with his bank two certificates of deposit for $250 each on the Allegheny County Bank. The bank in which they were deposited, investigated the standing of Boyd's bank, and learned that a commercial agency here did not know of its existence, and that the State Deputy Bank Examiners said it was not chartered. Other certificates of deposit turned up, and on Wednesday the holders of three of them entered civil suits against Boyd for the payment of bills he had contracted. Everybody is wondering what became of the other certificates recorded in the "bank's" stub book. They are all made payable on Jan. 1, 1898. Detective John McTigue believes that they will soon begin to come in from the country banks, where they were deposited by saw mill men who sold lumber to Boyd and received from him certificates of deposit. The detective has learned that the Pennsylvania Lumber Company has sold large quantities of lumber, receiving in many cases only $18 a thousand feet for lumber that was worth $28. Boyd's brother-in-law, a man named Turney, has also disappeared. He was introduced to young Johnston by Boyd as one of the partners in the bank.

So far as young Johnston knows there were no depositors, and Boyd did not seem to worry about the absence of business. The bank was apparently only a department of the Pennsylvania Lumber Company.

THE SMUGGLING OF CHINAMEN.

The Government to Sue Canadian Pacific and Other Railroads.

Troy, Nov. 15.—The arrest of John McKerness, alleged to be an agent for smuggling Chinamen into the United States in violation of the Chinese exclusion act, is likely to be the beginning of an important lawsuit, the parties to which will be the United States and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. McKerness was arrested on a train while on the way from Troy to Plattsburg by Deputy Sheriff Curtis, of Waterford. He was accompanied at the time of his arrest by Lum Hu, a Chinaman, disguised as a woman, whom he was taking to New York to be delivered to Chinese labor contractors. McKerness and Lum Hu were arrested before United States Commissioner Landon, and McKerness was Saturday taken to Auburn on a commitment to await the action of the Grand Jury, which sits at the session of the United States Court to convene here to-morrow.

Commissioner Landon says this is the first case of the kind to come within his jurisdiction, but violations of the exclusion act have become so frequent elsewhere that the Government is about to begin proceedings against the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and other common carriers for damages to cover the costs in cases brought before United States Commissioners and the costs of deportation.

Assistant United States District Attorney C. L. Brown, of Buffalo, who appeared before United States Commissioner Landon in the Lum Hu case, says that a compilation of the cases with a bill of costs is being made under orders from the United States Treasury Department.

OVER SNOW TO YUKON.

Major Walsh's Party Leaves for Klondike by the Land Route.

WILL DESIGNATE STATIONS

Expects to Get Through in Two Months—Inspector McGregor Follows Two Days Behind His Chief with Horses, Dogs and Provisions.

Skaguay, Alaska, Oct. 30, via Seattle, Wash., Nov. 15.—J. B. McGregor, mining inspector of Major Walsh's staff, has left with the last of the administration's party. The Major started half of his party three days ago and left himself the next day with a determination cheerfully expressed that he would certainly get through to Dawson City by January.

He takes one team of dogs only, for packing on the ice when it is reached, but he left Inspector McGregor, who will be several days behind him, to come on with horses and dogs and rescue him if he gets into a tight place. He believes, however, that Mr. McGregor will not catch up with him, but that he will be able, with the mounted police in advance of him with supplies, to push straight through.

Outcome Eagerly Watched For.
The outcome of the Major's endeavor will be eagerly watched for, as it is held that if he can get through on the soft snow, instead of waiting until February, others may do so.

Inspector McGregor is having made here sleighs with iron four inches wide. These are for the horses, of which he takes in ten. The Inspector will also take forty dogs. These were sent to Lake Bennett to be regularly exercised on the snow and hardened for the expedition. Three men go with the dogs and three with the horses. Major Walsh on his way up will designate stations, fifty miles apart, and at each of these stations a train of dogs will be left for the mail service. With stations well provisioned, only fifty miles apart, a regular mail service may be depended upon.

Expedition Is Well Planned.
Then, if Major Walsh should be frozen up when Inspector McGregor catches up with him, the horses will be used to pack in his personal belongings and feed for the animals.

It is a well-planned expedition, and there seems to be no reason why it should not go through. McGregor's party takes 60 days' rations for the animals and 180 days' rations for the men.

There is a great activity in Skaguay building sleds, and several parties will not be able to restrain their impatience until there is a crust on the snow. One of these parties is making preparations to take in turkeys, cranberry sauce and mince meat to Dawson, with the hope of reaching there by the Christmas holidays.

Beef to Be Taken to Dawson.

Willis Thorpe and his partner are sending in their cattle. The plan is to get the cattle to Lake Bennett, there kill them and freeze the beef, then to sell it to camps along the lakes, and get the remainder to Dawson City. About four hundred head will be treated in this manner, so that Dawson, about the beginning of next year, will be well supplied with beef for a time.

There is no diminution in the activity of Skaguay and Dyea, both of which places are now running a race to supply facilities of transportation over the passes. Skaguay's tram road of wooden rails has about thirty men at work, and at Dyea car wheels for a railroad up to near Sheep Camp have been delivered.

$9,000 IN THREE WEEKS.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 15.—Confirmation of the reported rich Stewart River finds is at hand in the person of R. W. Schmidt, who has just arrived from Alaska on the steamer City of Seattle. Schmidt, whose home is in San Francisco, has been prospecting in Alaska for eighteen months.

Last April he and his partners, J. S. Edwards, of Cincinnati; Edward Driscoll, of Indiana, and Fred Williams, of San Jose, Cal., located a claim on Stewart River, about three hundred miles up from the Yukon. After getting it in working condition he says they took out $9,000 worth of dust in three weeks. Some days they panned out as high as $150 to the man. The dirt on that portion of the Stewart River and its tributaries, Schmidt avers, runs from 90 cents to $250 to the pan. What is most remarkable, he says, is that, aside from his party, there are no white men in the district.

"I believe," he said, "there is enough saying dirt in the district where we located to keep five hundred men employed for five or six years. Edwards and I came out for food. One of the nuggets we took from our claim was worth $167."

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)
Rain Tonight and Probably Tuesday.
Warmer Tonight.
At 3 o'clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 45 Degrees.

The Camden Review says: Senator Reed, of Somerset, has just discovered that some of the counties receive more money from the State fund for school purposes than they pay in, and announces his intention of moving for a change in the system when the Legislature meets. Inasmuch as the moneys have been apportioned on these lines for a great many years, with the admitted object of having the richer counties help the poorer ones, Senator Reed's discovery is much in the nature of a mare's nest. Moreover, he evidently fails to comprehend that the public schools are a State institution, conducted in the interest of the State, as a whole, irrespective of conditions in individual counties or this or that locality.

PASTOR'S SON CHRISTENED.

Interesting Ceremony Performed in the Congregational Church.
Two events of especial interest took place in the Congregational church yesterday morning. The first was the christening of the pastor's child, Carter Lyman Goodrich, who was brought into the church by his grandfather, Mr. Carter, of Montclair. The rite of baptism was administered by Rev. M. E. Dwight.

The second event of interest was the pastor's annual sermon to young men, which was an unusually strong, forcible and practical address. The text was a verse in Acts telling of the young man who informed the Roman colonel of the Jewish plot to assassinate Paul, and the subject was "A Young Man With Something to Say." This young man, said Mr. Goodrich, had something to say against evil, the evil plotted by these forty wicked Jews. There are more than forty evils for our young men to contend with in these days; let their voices be heard with no uncertain sound against evil in the body politic, against the saloon, against all in our business and social life and amusements that lower our moral or spiritual tone. This young man had also something to say to help a fellow-man. If you see temptation or danger overtaking another man give him a helping hand; live to uplift others, as well as help right yourself. And then this young man had something to say for the cause of Christ. A Christlike life is a grand thing, but a Christlike life, coupled with Christlike words, is a grander. Unsheath the sword of the Spirit, the Word of God that is in your possession, and God can enable you by it to strike such blows as shall have no small part in uplifting your fellow-men and winning the world for Christ.

Transfers and Contracts.

The following property transfers have been recorded in County Clerk Howard's office during the current week, as reported by the New Jersey Contractor and Gazette:

Leicht and Williams & Sherwood, heating apparatus, Sixth street, Plainfield, $200. A. A. Stryker and Williams & Sherwood, heating apparatus, West Front street, Plainfield, $200.

Faith.

The man who takes an umbrella to church and leaves it out in the vestibule, has got supreme faith, and the man who buys his jewelry at Colliers not only goes away with faith in the excellence and reliability of his purchase, but he gets the benefit of the trading stamp as well.

—Dr. McKane desires to start protracted meetings about December 1st and expects his wife about that time.

—The Endeavor Society of the Christian church will have a social in the chapel on Grove street, near West Front street, tomorrow evening. Thanks are hereby expressed to the Trinity and Dunellen Endeavorers, who helped to make last week's social so successful.

Bought Under the Auctioneer's Hammer $12,000 Worth of Clothing for Men and Boys.

consisting of suits, overcoats and trousers, now being sold at 33c on the dollar. A great purchase and a great sale of the entire stock of a very widely known clothing manufacturer. Cash is King, and the money on the table enables us to sell this extraordinary purchase at less than 33c on the dollar. This sale would prove the greatest sensation of the day if maker's name could be published, but owing to the fact that nearly every retailer of prominence has a stock on hand from these manufacturers, the latter to protect the former, stipulated that their name must not appear in advertisements. The name, however, appears on every garment, which is an absolute guarantee of perfect satisfaction.

Mr. Henry, father of J. E. Henry, has about recovered from his severe illness.

Miss Humpston, of Plainfield, was the guest of borough relatives last Saturday.

Miss Hubbard has been the guest of her sister, Miss Mamie Hubbard, of Plainfield.

Mrs. Elliott and family have moved from the borough to a house near Clinton avenue.

Mrs. M. Williams and daughter, Mrs. Lottie Taylor, have returned from New York.

George Craig left this afternoon for East Stroudsburg, Pa., where he will visit for several days.

Chas. Apper, of Westfield, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Emily Apper, of Church street.

Last Saturday morning Rev. A. I. Martine preached in the Seventh-day Baptist church at New Market.

Randolph Runyon, who has been very ill at his home, is much better and hopes to be out again in a few days.

J. E. Henry and family moved today from their present residence to the house on Front street owned by Mrs. Maier.

Chas. A. Coriell shipped 500 boat fenders to New York last Saturday, and he has received another large order.

Mrs. James Manning, of Trenton who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Runyon, has returned home.

Mr. Kuhn finished painting the Presbyterian church today. The job is a good one and the church presents an attractive appearance.

Tomorrow night the Borough Council will hold a special meeting to receive a petition from the Brunswick Traction Company to operate a trolley in the borough.

There was considerable changing among the local pastors yesterday. Rev. Frank Fletcher, of New Market, preached in the morning in the Presbyterian church, and Rev. A. I. Martine, of the latter church, preached in the M. E. church, while Rev. Mr. Mead, of the M. E. church, occupied the pulpit of the New Market Baptist church. In the evening a union service was held in the M. E. church and all of the pastors took part.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity. Atlas Lodge No. 125, F. and A. M., meets tonight.

Mrs. Tremain, of New York, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cook, of Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Knight, of Elm street, are entertaining friends from New York State.

A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ferris, of Summit avenue, Saturday.

Six children were christened in Holy Trinity Roman Catholic church yesterday morning.

Henry Walter, of Elizabeth, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William C. Barton, of Elm street.

Preston G. Taylor, of Jersey City, was the guest yesterday, of his brother, James I. Taylor.

Rev. N. W. Cadwell preached on "The Choice of a Wife" in the Presbyterian church last evening.

George Condit, of Elm street, has been spending a few days as the guest of his son at Horseshoe Pond, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Hanford, of Picton street, are entertaining a new arrival in their home. It is a girl.

Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Harvey, of Broad street, are entertaining Mrs. Harvey's mother, Mrs. Gilpin, of Newfoundland, Pa.

William Dallas, W. H. Grogan, Fred M. Van Emburgh and William Stitt have been elected members of the Westfield Exempt Firemen's Association.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Georgiana Bogert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bogert, of Central avenue, to Edward Faulkner, of New Market.

The football game which was scheduled to take place in Westfield Saturday, between the Lincoln High School players and the Jersey City High School team, was postponed one week.

The football game which was to have been played on the North Broad street grounds Saturday afternoon did not take place, because of the failure of the Cranford players to put in an appearance at the time set for the game.

The Westfield Christian Endeavor Union, which includes the societies of Westfield, Cranford, Roselle, Willow Grove, Locust Grove and Branch Mills, will hold its annual conference in the Westfield Presbyterian church this evening.

Bishop Scarborough yesterday instituted Rev. Charles Fiske as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church. The institution service took place at 10:30 a. m., with a sermon by Rev. Thomas Ritchey, D. D., of New York. The other services of the day were communion at 7:30 a. m., Sunday-school at 8:30, and evening service at 7:30.

The Westfield Club football team went to Rahway, Saturday afternoon, to play the Y. M. C. A. team of that place again in the Journal trophy series. Trouble was caused at the outset by the discovery that the average weight of the Rahway team was above 145 pounds, the limits established by the league. Westfield's manager entered a protest, and a goal was kicked by Westfield and the game claimed. The teams then played an exhibition game which resulted in a victory for Westfield by the score of 2-0. Westfield will play her last game in the Journal league series with Elizabeth on the North Broad street grounds next Saturday.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues.

Mr. Ogden's housekeeper for one week when she left him and went as housekeeper for Geo. W. Ogden, Jr., a son of the complainant. Mr. Ogden's son charged that she took with her a revolver and several other articles. Mrs. Springstun was brought before Judge Clark and found guilty. The Judge gave her 60 days and $20 fine. She was taken to Elizabeth Saturday morning.

Mr. N. N. Osburn, well-known at Woodstock, Mich., was troubled with a lame back. He was persuaded to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It gave him relief in one night. This remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

—This evening Prof. Thomssen, of India, will give an illustrated lecture in the First Baptist church. All are invited.

THEATRICAL.

"O'Brien, the Contractor," which will be the attraction at Music Hall Tuesday night, is the handiwork of America's two most brilliant writers, H. Grattan Donnelly, author of "Darkest Russia," "Later On" and other successes, and Leander Richardson, whose plays have always been accepted as of great literary value. "O'Brien, the Contractor," is a dramatic gem, tersely written, telling in bright, crisp language, a story full of heart interest, combining humor, pathos, Irish wit, and with such bright, exquisite comedy, that it takes first rank as the representative American play.

Fun will reign supreme at Music Hall next Thursday evening, the attraction being the roaring, rollicking farce comedy, "A Trip to Coontown."

This successful comedy is from the pens of the clever comedians and song writers, Cole and Johnson, who were the stars of Black Patti's Troubadours last season. The comedy is brimful of clean, refined humor, catchy music, new songs, dances and clever specialties, executed by the best colored talent in the profession.

—There will be a "Fagot Evening" at Vincent chapel tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Home Mission Reading Circle of the First M. E. church.

MUSINGS BY THE WAY.

I said if I might go back again
To the very hour and place of my birth:
Might have my life whatever I choose,
And live it in any part of the earth;
Put perfect sunshine in my sky;
Banish the shadow of sorrow and doubt;
Have all my happiness multiplied,
And all my suffering stricken out;
If I could have known in the years now gone
The best that a woman can come to know,
Could have had whatever will make her blest
Or whatever she thinks will make her so;
Yes! I said, if a miracle such as this Could be wrought for me at my bidding, still
I would choose to have my past as it is,
And to let my future come as it will!
My past is mine and I take it all,
Its weakness—its folly, if you please—
I even my sins, if you come to that,
May have been helps, not hindrances!
I saved my body from the flames
Because that once I had burned my hand,
I kept myself from greater sin
By doing a less—you will understand—
I was better I suffered a little pain,
Better I sinned for a little time,
I the smarting warned me back from death,
And the sting of sin withheld from crime,
Who knows its strength, by trial, will know
What strength must be set against a sin;
And how temptation is overcome,
He has learned who has felt its powers within;
And who knows how a life at the last may show?
Why, look at the moon from where we stand!
Opaque—uneven, you say; yet it shines
A luminous sphere, complete and grand!
So let my past stand just as it stands,
And let me now as I may grow old;
I am what I am, and my life for me
Is the best—or it had not been, I hold!
—Phoebe Cary.

A COWBOY VIRTUOSO.

The persistence of Mr. Rime Jenks at length received its due reward—he was asked to fiddle for a dance.
You may remember that this gentleman, who was second to none when it came to close quarters in the branding pen or following a wild calf through the sage bush, had not one ounce of musical capacity in the hundred and sixty-odd pounds of his makeup, yet had a particular ambition and an unflagging zeal to become a fiddler. The object of this writing is to show that he received ample returns upon the zeal invested, but never attained to the ambition.

For so many years that the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, he had packed a violin in his bed roll on the annual roundup, and at every opportunity, when the day's work was done, he resined his bow. Throughout the winter months, when work was light and evenings long he had practised faithfully, if not intelligently, in the bunkhouse until banished by a plebiscite to a nearby dugout, where he found sacks of onions and bins of potatoes more patient sufferers than the general sitting-room afforded. In some former year the outfit had boasted a man who could "play any instrument," and Jenks, seeing how easy it was, decided to become equally accomplished. The violin was not his first choice, but his first opportunity, and, having accepted it, his code of ethics bound him to break the critter or break the cinch.

On February 29 there was a leap-year dance at Richmond's. This place was on a hill in the borderland between the open range and the settlements, and, however much cowboy might despise farmers and farmers detest cowboys, the social amenities were rarely disturbed and the country dance was a popular institution. My friend Rice voiced the general sentiment thus: "I like 'em because everybody is a-leaping and a-kipping, and if anybody falls down he gets up again." The plain inference from Mr. Rice's statement is that at any other than a country dance if one falls down he stays down—which might embarrass and endanger his betters. When I called Rice's attention to this, he explained that he meant "in your mind." "It's like getting on to a bucking horse any morning after breakfast and being dumped," said he. "You don't mind it much, but just tighten your cinch another hole and climb on again. But suppose you are doing some fancy riding or roping at the county fair and your saddle gets emptied, why you feel so low down you don't get over it for a week."

Our boys all went over to the dance at Richmond's, and some one evidently told the committee that Mr. Jenks was a competent fiddler, for soon after his arrival he was approached by a bright-eyed young woman, who asked if he had brought his violin.
"No, I did not," replied the startled Jenks, nervously fingering a large piece of rosin, which he produced from a pocket, "but if you want to use it, I'll be very glad to go back to the ranch and fetch it. It is only about twenty miles."

"I was told," said the girl, slightly showing several white teeth, "that you carry your violin with you wherever you go, and I'm sorry to find that it's not true. Our music has disappointed us; the house is full of people and nobody here to play for them but a cello and a mouth organ. But I think we can get a violin within less than twenty miles, and—here she showed the full set—"will you kindly play for us until Mr. Smith arrives?" "Miss, I should be delighted," said Jenks.

"Oh, thank you, so much"—interposed the girl.
"If I knew how," he continued, "but I don't. You see I'm only learning. I can just start a few."

"Oh, I am sure you will do it well," she replied; "and I will go right out and send for an instrument," and she hurried away.
Mr. Jenks was astonished and perplexed. Of course he had hoped to play in public at some time, but this was so sudden. He was not in a hurry. Some other leap year would be soon enough.

Should he bolt, or face his own music? "What a very pretty girl when she laughs," thought he; "I'll stay. Wish I had practised more. Wonder if I'll break up the party."
In what seemed to him an incredibly short time in which to summon a fiddle from the subjugated valley, the girl reappeared with one in her hand, and, escorting the reluctant and protesting Jenks to the head of the room, introduced him to the cello, the mouth-organ and the floor manager.
"Now, boys," said he, when the committee had turned away, leaving him with his fellow musicians, who regarded him doubtfully, "let's have an understanding. I ain't in this like you for a dollar a head and free drinks, but I'm doing it to oblige a lady. I expect to make some pretty bad breaks, and the first one of you that snickers will eat his instrument right here. Are you ready?"

Jenks is not afraid of any individual man, perhaps not very much afraid of any woman, but when he stood up on that platform with the fiddle in his neck and faced the crowd he was badly rattled.

"Play a waltz first," said the floor manager, "and play it slowly." With a sigh of relief and a thought of "What'll I do when they demand fast music?" Mr. Jenks began that classical strain which fits the words, "Where, oh where is my little dog gone," the cello and mouth-organ struck in, the girls chose the best waltzers, the floor filled up, feet shuffled, boards creaked, and the ball was opened.

Accomplished speakers have recorded the difficulty experienced in learning to think upon their feet, but Jenks, facing an audience for the first time, and sawing away desperately at the first bars and repeat of a slow waltz, had no such trouble. He told me afterward that his thoughts "thunk themselves and came a-running" and that he was conscious of three distinct trains of thought running on parallel tracks. The first concerned Mr. Smith, the delinquent musician; the second subject was "what a very pretty girl when she laughs," and the third, accented to waltz time, ran: "Oh, I never can play them that second strain. I know I'll break down if I try."

To anticipate difficulty is to insure it. After repeating the first strain some twenty times, Jenks made a desperate effort to strike the second movement, failed, and collapsed. The cello and mouth-organ hammered along uncertainly for a time and ceased. The stranded waltzers dotted the floor like boats becalmed on a miniature lake.

The waltzers had been so engrossed in their own efforts, and the rest of us in looking on, that the quality of the music had apparently received little attention. When the player broke down there was only a general movement of impatience at the interruption, and I looked to see the persistent Jenks start up again on the same eight measures. But he had entirely recovered his self-possession. Laying the fiddle aside, he advanced to meet the girl at whose request he had made the effort.

"Don't you think," he asked, "that I have proved that I cannot play?"
"Well, it does seem pretty close to a demonstration," she answered, "but I thank you for helping us out. Mr. Smith has come and will relieve you."

So Mr. Smith took the fiddle and Jenks took the girl's hand for the first dance, and perhaps for others, and the evening was a success.

Many hours afterward, as we rode sleepily homeward, in the gray light of morning, Jenks said to me: "What a very pretty girl when she laughs!"

"What did she say about playing?" I asked.

"Said I must play at the next leap-year dance; 1900 is not a leap year, you know—would give me eight years to practice."
"Did you promise?"
"I promised not to; told her I had something better to work for now."

Rime Jenks is a rather taciturn fellow, and I am not in his confidence, but I know that he goes pretty often to Richmond's Hill, and he has traded his saddle for a cow. I have also noticed him studying a book entitled "Comfortable Cottage for Six Hundred Dollars."—From the Argonaut.

How Bouquets are Made for Wines.
A peculiar industry of the river districts of Norfolk, in England, is the growth of the root of calamus or sweet flag, which sometimes yields as much as $200 an acre. It is used by distillers to give a much valued "bouquet" to certain liquors, including rare varieties of gin.

Such "bouquets" are now habitually manufactured by chemists for the lovers of rare wines and liquors. A substance which chemists call "oxide of propyl" is made from a certain kind of alcohol. Compounded in one way it yields the most delightful odors of ripening grapes and brings up visions of vine-clad hills, but a very slight chemical reaction, such as easily takes place in the human stomach during digestion, changes exactly the same elements so that their odors are those of herring-brine and decaying fish.—New York World.

Pasha.
"What is a pasha?" is frequently asked. "Pasha," also written "bas-haw," is merely an honorary title given by the Turkish government to men of high political positions, as governors of provinces, or to great military commanders. There are three degrees.

He—Yes, "because" is a woman's reason—and it is about all the reason she has.
She—It is all the reason she could have for marrying a man.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

GOSSIP FROM GRIDIRON.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

Charles Dupee, of this city, distinguished himself as fullback on the Yale freshman football eleven Saturday afternoon when the Yale freshmen defeated the Princeton freshmen by a score of 10 to 0. Dupee made one touchdown and kicked one goal. His punting called forth special commendation from the critics.

The Dunellen football team was defeated by the Cranford "Echoes" at Cranford Saturday afternoon by a score of 6 to 0. The Dunellen team was largely composed of the players from the Crescent team. Only one-half was played owing to the fact that Charles Woolston, quarterback for the Crescents, was ill when he came on the field and could not stand more than one-half.

GOLF.

The last game of golf, match play, was contested Saturday afternoon on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. The home team had for their opponents the team from the Suburban Club, of Elizabeth. That the visitors were not in it, is shown conclusively by the score of 31 to 9. The home team played a fine game and seemed to be in great luck, while the visitors could not seem to "get there." Owing to the fact that it was such a windy day, it was difficult to play well and all of the players were at a disadvantage. Below will be found the scores in full:

Saturday morning the contest for the Fisk cup was held among the Junior members of the club, and N. Penleton Rogers, Jr., won with a gross score of 98.

BASKET BALL.

Five boys of the Y. M. C. A. rode over to Summit Saturday afternoon in order that they might have a game with players something like their own age and size. The game was played in two hours fifteen minutes and a half. The contest was a lively one, and both teams showed good courage. The Plainfield team won by a score of 9 to 6.

An Old Spoon.

Mrs. Joseph E. Mosher, of East Fourth street, is the possessor of a rather interesting relic in the form of a very ancient silver spoon. A sister of Mrs. Mosher, Miss Lillie Loring, of Dorchester, Mass., died some years ago and among a number of goods bequeathed to Mrs. Mosher was the spoon in question. Those into whose possession it came had no conception of its great age until a few days ago, when the date 1716 was discovered upon the handle, along with the initials of the original owner, who is supposed to have been an ancestor of the present owner. Time has nearly obliterated the inscription, which accounts for the failure of Mrs. Mosher to discover it before.

—Iona Council, Degree of Poo hontas, will give an entertainment and dance Wednesday evening, Nov. 17th.

The restaurant did a large business Friday and Saturday evenings. The workers in that department for the rest of the week have already been given. Friday night the restaurant was under the charge of committees from the First Presbyterian, the Trinity Reformed and the Unitarian churches. The first committee was composed of Mrs. Williams, chairman; Miss Josephine Petrie, Miss Remson, Mrs. Clarence Bond, Miss Jennie Abbott, Mrs. Hunt. The waitresses were Miss Evelyn Searing, Miss Helen Boice, Miss Nora Williams, Miss Julia Williams, Miss Lulu Avery, Miss Lillian Hunt, Miss Louise Holmes, and Miss Edith Bond. Trinity's committee consisted of Mrs. P. M. Demarest, chairman; Mrs. Frank A. Church, and Mrs. Gillem. The waitresses were Miss Smith, Miss Lillian A. Force, Miss Minnie Arnold, Miss Etta Krymer, Miss Edith Little and Miss Van Fleet. Mrs. S. R. Krom, chairman; Mrs. A. C. Nickerson and Mrs. H. B. Wells was the committee from the Unitarian church. Their waitresses were Miss Carrie Haviland, Miss Caroline Minturn Hall, Miss Mary Wells, Miss Dorothy Wells, Miss Ellen Osgood, and Miss Laura Osgood.

Saturday night the Crescent Avenue church consisted of Mrs. W. L. C. Glenn, chairman; Mrs. J. K. Myers, Mrs. Henry Bowen, Mrs. Budlong, Mrs. C. B. Corwin, Mrs. George H. Goddard, Mrs. Samuel Kimball, Mrs. M. B. Long, Mrs. D. N. Groendyke, Mrs. A. B. Beers, Mrs. C. N. Abbott, Miss Nettie Haviland, and Mrs. Josiah Browne. The waitresses were Miss Edith Tracy, Margaret Tracy, Miss Dean, Miss Farnum, Miss Cook, Miss Sarah Ball, Miss Bronson, Miss Van Deventer, the Misses Ross, Miss Sutphen, Miss Clark, Miss Ada Marsh, Louise Howard and W. L. C. Glenn presided over the carving of the turkeys. The committee from the Congregational church consisted of Mrs. Eugene M. Laing, chairman; Mrs. Mrs. George W. Rockfellow, Miss E. E. Clark and Mrs. Joseph Fuller. The waitresses were Miss Adeline Parsons, Miss Mary Robinson, Miss Williams, Miss Shepard, Miss Cornelia Rockfellow.

Throughout the week not one serious accident occurred and all the precautions happily proved unnecessary. Fire was most feared and several dozen Little Giant fire extinguishers had been donated to the cause by the manufacturers. Charles VanWinkle and W. H. Drayton were in charge of them and were on hand during the week to be ready in time of need.

That the Spielkartenfest has been the great success which more than equalled expectations, was largely due to that personality that was to be found interwoven through everything. The excellence of the dances, the beauty of the costumes and countless other details that made the Spielkartenfest what it was, are all to be traced to one master mind that designed and directed that magnificent affair, the greatest of its kind, which will long remain in the memory of those who saw it. Miss Lila Agnew Stewart is the one to whom so much is due. She accomplished what no one else could. In the face of discouragement and trials she was steadfast. Her bright and cheerful manner encouraged others to renewed efforts, and so after weeks of planning and practicing her triumph came. Miss Stewart made scores of friends during her short stay in this city. The praise given to the Spielkartenfest from every side settled on her as its originator and director. Her wonderful patience and memory was shown in the training of the dancers, whose well-doing spoke for her ability in that direction.

Her popularity was evinced by the numerous gifts that she received Saturday night. She was led before the footlights a number of times by the Joker Saturday evening to receive different gifts. There were numerous bouquets, including a large one from the dancers in the Hornpipe. From the Ladies' Auxiliary Board she received a satin shopping bag, with gold extension top, her initials engraved on it and a gold chain purse containing several gold pieces. The Mirror dancers presented her with a sterling silver brush and comb, engraved with her initials and in a handsome plush case. From the other dancers she received a silver powder box and puff, a silver mirror and a silver shoe horn.

Miss Stewart was not alone in her efforts to make the Spielkartenfest a success. A committee of arrangements, consisting of Mrs. D. T. VanBuren, William R. Cook, William L. Saunders and H. P. Reynolds, was at the head of affairs and has looked after the business end of the benefit. It has been no light task to make all the necessary arrangements, secure the necessary helpers in the different departments, and plan for the care of the audience. They have been active workers, indeed, and deserve no end of credit for the time and labors that they have spent on the affair. The printing committee was composed of Mrs. J. Everts Tracy, Mrs. S. R. Krom and Mrs. G. H. Frost. They were assisted by the press agent of the Spielkartenfest, A. E. Kenney, who proved himself a valuable man for the place. There was plenty for the committee and their agent to do, and they did it creditably and to the satisfaction of all.

Samuel Kimball was in a difficult position as chairman of ushers, but he accomplished what he had to do well. The excellence of the arrangements in the care for the patrons of the reserved seats was remarked upon. Mr. Kimball was assisted in his duties by a corps of young men, consisting of J. Everett Kimball, Fred G. Smith, Joseph L. Myers, Max Munger, James P. Murray, Roger W. Erickson, Walter F. Murray, Edward M. VanBuren, R. A. Beebe, F. L. C. Martin, James E. Murray, E. H. Frost, L. D. Lovell, E. T. Wilson, O. G. Waring, John I. Brower, Walter E. Stewart, Harry C. Munger, Henry West, E. J. Patterson, E. H. Ladd, Jr., Clement Morgan and Mr. Davison.

In all the Spielkartenfest there was no harder worker than the Court Jester, Laurens Hardy VanBuren. He played his part with a grace and easiness that made him an ideal one for the character. He also lent a hand wherever needed and rendered much assistance to the affair, besides filling his own part to the satisfaction of all. His costume was rich and gorgeous, after the fashion of the most improved court jester.

And then the firemen and police, they gave their services to the benefit willingly, and while it luckily happened that there was no occasion for their services, no one doubts but that they would have been at the place of danger ready to do all in their power to check any conflagration or trouble that might occur.

In the contest for the most popular of the afternoon dances, the Mardi Gras was victorious with 314, and the Minuet second with 298.

Tomorrow The Press will publish a tramp piece of poetry entitled, "The Boss Men of the Spielkartenfest." No one claims its authorship, but it is quite funny and appropriate. Look out for it. It is estimated that the profits of the Spielkartenfest will amount to about $3,000.

Four New Steel Frigates.

Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—The Cramps have contracted to build four steel-screw steamships for the Boston Fruit Company, which operates several steamship lines between Jamaica and this country.

These steamers, perhaps, will be the most expensive vessels of similar dimensions ever built in this country. They will be 290 feet long, 36 feet beam, with a carrying capacity of from 2,500 to 2,700 tons. They will be equipped with electric lights, side ports and other modern appliances. They are to be fifteen-knot vessels, and will have accommodations for 100 passengers each.

Train Dynamited in Cuba.

Havana, Nov. 15.—Insurgents dynamited and derailed a train between Yeuilatas and Puerto Principe. The engineer, fireman and ten other persons were killed, and twenty-seven soldiers and passengers were injured. The locomotive was overturned and several cars were destroyed.

American Loan to Hayti.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The United States Minister to Hayti reports from Port au Prince that the Haytian Government has concluded a loan for $4,000,000 in gold through Lazard Freres, of New York, at 9 per cent, to be delivered immediately.

The paper currency of Hayti will be destroyed and the fractional silver and copper coin will be recoined in the mints of the United States.

Gov. Atkinson's Ambition.

Petersburg, W. Va., Nov. 15.—Gov. Atkinson has announced himself as a candidate for the United States Senate. He wants to succeed Charles J. Faulkner, whose term expires in 1899. Friends of the Governor are already hard at work in his behalf, and express great confidence that he will win.

They Will Refuse to Buy Our Cattle. Glasgow, Nov. 15.—The Fishers' Trade Protection Society have given notice to ship owners that after Dec. 1 they will refuse to purchase live stock carried from the United States and Canadian ports by shippers who carry or importers that are not members of the Fishers' Society.
