CILMAN AND A NETHERWOOD MAN.

Authory R. Dyett Insists That the East End of the City is Neglected in a Disgraceful Manner-Mr. Frost's Tart Reply. Considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed from time to time by the erwood over what has been termed the pad condition of the streets and sidewalks in that section. Frequent communications have been addressed to improvements in Netherwood, and some differences of opinion have almost necessarily arisen between the petitioners and those who were looked to to carry out the wished for charges. Among those who went in strong wood was Anthony R. Dyett, who is Belvidere avanue. September 16th Mr. Dyett wrote a letter to Council man Frost, of the Second ward, complaining of the heavy growth of weeds nue, which he stated were so high and rank as to ruin the clothing of persons using the sidewalk in wet weather. Mr. Dyett also complained that the law to compel the laying of flag side walks had not been enforced by the mediate steps be taken to compel vio- interest. lators of the law to lay suitable sidewalks, so that it would not be necessary for residents to walk in mud in order to reach the station.

He made the point that while the instation, had paid in taxes in the last five years $40,000, not one dollar had been expended on street improvements along the property in return by the city. This he called "unjust diserimination," and stated his fear that someone might be seriously injured at night on the bad crossings and the city be mulcted of a considerable sum.

SHARP LETTERS BETWEEN A COUN- DR. LEWIS VIGOROUSLY ATTACKS THE LICENSE SYSTEM.

The Traffic is an Enemy to All the Good Influences of the Cummunity and It Ought Not to Be Countenanced To the editor of The Daily Press:-The timely words of various Plain citizens and property-owners in Neth field pastors as to the vote on the license question in Plainfield at the coming election are worthy of the most careful consideration. Men like the pastors in Plainfield, men of the Common Council regarding needed culture, of wide observation, and of good common sense have a right to be heard on such an issue. The too common notion, especially among politicians, that preachers are harmless fellows who are expected to say "goody goody pla titudes" confor repairs on the sidewalks of Nether | cerning public affairs, which no one need to heed, is a shame to those who the owner of a pretty residence at 473 hold it and an insult to religion. TROLLEY LINE ON OR OFF COUNTY ROAD, WHICH? ELOPED WITH A NEGRO? BARROWS IN IT ALONE

Widening of Westfield Avenue

From Elizabeth to Plainfield Declared to Be Feasible,

The plans of Frank Bergen for county ownership of trolley lines will be again considered tonight at the Courthouse, Elizabeth, when another public meeting will be held to receive the final report of the committee that was selected last September to devise a plan for widening Westfield avenue, and so mapping it out that there could be a double track trolley line, a cycle path, a dirt driveway and a macadam road the entire length of the avenue. Westfield avenue is the county road from Elizabeth to Plainfield. The committee's report will undoubtedly recommend that the avenue should be widened to 100 feet, the widening to begin at Orchard street, in Elizabeth, and end at Watchung avenue, in Plainfield, except for a short distance through the villages of Cranford and Westfield, where the cost of widening would probably be excessive. It is estimated that the cost of the proposed improvement would be as follows:

Right of way.

Removal of buildings.
Grading, pipes bridges and masonry.

Twelve miles double-track railroad, including overhead work.

Cycle path, twelve feet wide.

Ten per cent. for contingencies. 23,680.90

Total. $387,853.40
The committee will also recommend that in view of the benefit which will accrue to land along the avenue by this improvement, a part of the cost of widening it, say $50,000, should be assessed on the property specially benefited. There are about 105,000 lineal feet of building lots on the avenue, including both sides, and an average assessment of 50 cents a front foot would yield over $50,000, which should be used as a sinking fund to relieve the county to that extent.

A bill has also been drafted by the committee to give legislative authority to the county to make the im provements.

It provides that the Board of Chosen Freeholders of any county in the State shall have power to construct and maintain a single or double track street railroad on any road or highway that has been or shall be under control of the board, and to equip the street railroad for operation by electricity or by other motive power, except steam locomotives.

When the street railroad shall have the board to lease the same for operation to any person or corporation for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, upon such terms as may be Will Become Paster of the Brick Church agreed upon, and to renew the lease from time to time.

It is provided that upon ascertaining the cost of improving any public highway the board shall cause notice to be given by publication that an application will be made to the Circuit Court of the county for the appointment of three disinterested freeholders as commissioners to make an estimate and assessment of the special benefit conferred by the widening, straightening or changing the location of any such highway. The Court shall then appoint three commissioners, who will make the assessments and report to the Court. The Court shall direct notice to be given, by publication, of a time and place for hearing any objectious that may be made to the assessments; and after a hearing the Court shall either confirm the report of Netherwood, on the Citizens or refer it back to the same or other commissioners to be appointed.

Upon confirming the report it shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county, and a copy, so far as relates lying in each township, borough, municipality or taxing district through such townships, boroughs, municipalities or taxing districts, and after ments shall remain as first lien upon the land so assessed.

Provision is also made so that the Board of Chosen Freeholders may borrow such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of conwise improving any highway, and to issue either registered or coupon period not longer than thirty years from their date, shall bear interest at Last evening about 6 o'clock a lamp a rate not exceeding five per cent. per annum, and, that it shall not be law-field to Cranford, which will not include the county road. The original purpose of the company was to lay its tracks over the county road from Cranford to Middlesex street, in Westfield, through the town on Middlesex, Broad and Elm streets and North avenue, and thence on North avenue to the Fanwood line, then to Scotch Plains and to this city. In the amended scheme, the route from this city to Broad street, Westfield, which does not in clude the county road, is left unchanged. After reaching Westfield the proposed new route will run on North avenue to Elm street, on Elm to Broad street, to Middlesex, to Picton street, and on Picton to Chest-

SWALLOWED A SCARF PIN.

Most Remarkable Thing Was That There Were No Serious Results.

Otto Linke, the ten-year-old son of Frank Linke, the West Front street liquor wholesaler, has been having an unenviable experience. The lad was playing with a gold scarf pin Sunday and while holding it carelessly in his mouth swallowed it. Mr. and Mrs. Linke were much frightened at the mishap and at once summoned the family physician, who did all in his power to lessen the danger of a fatal result. It was feared every moment that the pin, which was fully two inches in length, might pierce a vital organ and bring about a fatal result. The anxiety continued until this morning, when the physician succeeded in removing the pin before it had caused any injury. The escape seemed like a miraculous one. The boy attended school as usual today.

THORN ON THE RACK

Tells the Jury That Mrs. Nack Killed Guldensuppe.

THE DEFENSE OUTLINED

Lawyer Howe Denounces Mrs. Nack as the Arch Fiend of the Century and Declares that Thorn Is Innocent-The Defense Rests.

New York, Nov. 30 .- When it was promised six weeks ago by the counsel for Martin Thorn that the most astonishing denouement ever known in a murder trial would be sprung, it was generally understood that Lawyer Howe intended to introduce evidence to dispute the identification of the dismembered human body and that a witness would be produced who would swear that William Guldensuppe was still alive. Indeed, the impression was allowed to get abroad and was never contradicted that the missing Turkish bath attendant might walk into court and disprove instantly by his living presence that he had been murdered at all. A postponement was obtained on the ground that a witness would be brought on from Germany to testify to having seen him in the flesh there and

The defendant himself repudiated this promised dramatic ending of the trial on the witness stand yesterday. He swore that he had not committed the murder, but that Augusta Nack had; that Guldensuppe was really dead and had really been assassinated, but that he had no hand in the crime.

Mr. Howe began his opening address to the jury immediately after court was convened. He spoke in deep, sepulchral tones, with solemnity and after the manner of a man delivering an oration at the side of a bier. Before he began he asked that John Gotha be brought into court, and the barber took the witness stand to be asked but a single question.

"Gotha," asked the lawyer, in his most impressive tones, "were you ever an inmate of the inebriates' home at Fort Hamilton?" "No, sir," replied the witness, loudly and positively. "Nev-er?" repeated Mr. Howe, with rising inflection. "No, sir," and with this answer the barber was permitted to re-

Says Mrs. Nack Did It.

"Martin Thorn is innocent of the murder of William Guldensuppe," be-gan the defendant's attorney, suddenly, "and we shall show you that the crime originated in the mind of the sin, Augusta Nack; we shall show you it was she who hired the Woodside cottage for the purpose of converting it into a slaughter house and taking the life of her lover."

Placing his hand on his heart, and with an indescribable air of sincerity, Mr. Howe declared that he was in the sere and yellow leaf, in the Autumn of life, and that in his long experience at the criminal bar he had never knowingly deceived a jury.

"You come here, gentlemen of the jury," he continued in a voice choked with emotion, " not thirsting for blood. You have not given up your peaceful avocations and given your children their farewell kiss to take the life of a fellow men." fellow man."

Howe's Scathing Denunciation, Then exhausting the vocabulary of the terms of horrible things, he described the killing in the cottage, beginning with the decoying of the vic-tim to Woodside and ending with the disposal of the evidence. It was all Mrs. Nack. It was Mrs. Nack who planned, and it was Mrs. Nack who executed. He quoted from "Lady Mac-beth" and from "Hamlet." He painted plastic tool in the hand of a vile and designing woman; a chiv-alric protector, who sought to protect the object of his infatuation, but without criminal knowledge. The co-defendant was painted in the colors of a fiend incarnate; a creature beside whom Lucretia Borgia was a whitewinged dove of innocence, while Thorn was held up as a weak unfortunate.

As to the evidence, Mr. Howe said that the only thing that the people had produced to connect the defendant with the murder was the testimony of John Gotha. "Thorn will tell you," con-tinued the counsel, "how he came to talk with Gotha, and how Gotha, Judas-like, went to the police and related a conversation that never took place. We shall show you, gentlemen of the jury, that while Thorn was under arrest he told a series of lies; that he. poor, infatuated idiot, was trying to shield her by these false statements."

Before Thorn was called as a witness three of his former employers testified to his good character.

The cross-examination was unimportant, and when it was concluded a recess of ten minutes was taken so that the courtroom might be venti-

Immediately upon court being reconvened, and after Justice Maddox had warned the spectators against making any demonstration or interrupting the proceedings in any way whatever Martin Thorn was called to the witness

The prisoner was deathly pale, but self-possessed. He looked inquiringly at Justice Maddox for a moment, gave one glance at the jury and then fixed his gaze on the face of Lawyer Howe as he arose to begin the examination.

Thorn Tells His Story. The story told by Thorn of the murder was substantially the same as printed in these dispatches yesterday.

Thorn told the story without faltering. He spoke for the most part in a low voice difficult to hear in the rear of the room. He was calm and self-pos-

He told with many details a story which represented Mrs. Nack as dis-membering the remains and wrapping the parts up in bundles. Thorn said he held the head while Mrs. Nack covered it with plaster of paris. He also helped to hold the body while she cut it up. Cross-examination up to the recess did not shake the prisoner's testimony so far as the story of Guldensuppe's death went. Thorn faced Judge Weller calmly and took plenty of time to frame his answers. He admitted several lies, but when it came to the incidents that oc-curred in the cottage on June 25 he told one story and stuck to it. The evidence in some places was so sensational that before the trial opened the women were ordered excluded from the courtroom. Three, however, got past the doorkeepers and occupied seats in the gallery.

At 3.10 the prosecution finished the cross-examination of Thorn, and Lawyer Howe proceeded with the redirect xamination Lawyer Howe is desirous of producing as testimony in corroboration of Thorn's story the testimony of Mrs. Nack in the mistrial. This caused a legal storm. District Attorney Olcott and Judge Weller declared that that testimony was irrelevant and could not be introduced. Judge Maddox said such testimony could be brought in only should Mrs. Nack die.

Lawyer Howe jumped to his feet and said: "Mrs. Nack is dead to us and to all the purposes of the law. She is engulfed in a tomb and is protected by the prosecutors, who are afraid to produce her on the stand. They protect her now when she is not on trial. I ask that you, Judge Maddox, protect Mar-

"I ask-Your Honor to make an order directing the woman to be produced in court. I will make her my witness."

Judge Maddox replied: "The Court has no authority to bring a person into court in custody. There is a legal process to be followed."

Defense Rests. Thorn was excused from the stand at 4.34 and the defense rested its case. The trial was adjourned at 5 o'clock until 9.30 this morning. Lawyer Howe will subpena Mrs.

Nack by habeas corpus, and she will be placed on the witness stand to-day. She may refuse to testify, however. To-day will probably be devoted to the addresses of the lawyers, and it is very possible that the case may go to the jury late in the day. Thorn will soon know his fate. It is said he ... ould prefer conviction to a disagreement of statement he has done so for effect.

A hung jury would be a virtual victory for Mr. Howe, and would doubtless mean that Thorn would never sit in the electric chair. If the barber 18 not convicted at this trial, when almost no defense has been made for him, he will never be convicted.

the jury, but if he has made such a

NEW VANDERBILT LINE.

Short Lines of Western Roads to Be Welded Into a Trunk Line.

Chicago, Nov. 30 .- John Jacob Astor and a distinguished party of Eastern capitalists and railroad magnates are in Chicago to take steps for welding several short lines of Western roads into a new trunk line from Chicago to New York. The new route is to find its terminals over the Nickel Plate and the Illinois Central.

It is but another giant link in the Vanderbilt trunk-line system, having for its special purpose an invasion of the Pennsylvania roads in Ohio and Indiana territory, and to provide more adequate terminal facilities in this city for the Nickel Plate road as well as the practical construction of a double track for that road from Cleveland to this city.

Those in the party were Mr. Astor, A. B. Ely, George Chapman and G. F. Hawkins, of New York, and W. T.

Rainey, of Philadelphia. With the exception of Mr. Hawkins, who is Mr. Astor's private secretary, they were all directors of the Findlay, Wayne & Western Railroad, a short line of only eighty miles, extending from Fort Wayne, Ind., to Findlay, Ohio.

The People Believe What They Read About Hood's

Sarsaparilla

Their Faith in This Medicine is Grounded on Merit They Know It Absolutely Cures

When Other Medicines Fail Hood's Sarsaparilla is not merely a simple preparation of Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and a little Iodide of Potassium. Besides these excellent alteratives, it also contains those great anti-bilious and liver remedies, Mandrake and Dandelion. It also contains those great kidney remedies, Uva Ursi, Juniper Berries, and Pipsissewa. Nor are these all. Other very valuable curative agents are harmoniously combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is carefully prepared under the personal supervision of a regularly educated pharmacist. Knowing these facts, is the abiding faith the people have in Hood's Sarsaparilla a matter of surprise? You can see why Hood's Sarsaparilla cures, when other medicines totally, absolutely fail. "My little girl was afflicted with eczema and suffered for seven years. She was attended by physicians and tried many different kinds of medicine without relief. After taking a few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla she was cured." MRS. EMMA FRANKLIN, Honeoye, New York.

It was in the case of He left town last Tuesday and has not H. S. Berin, of Washington, attorney for Jacob Young, late of Troop B, Tenth Cavalry. The facts are: "The claimant was pensioned under the general law at the rate of $8 per month. On July 14, 1890, he applied for pension under act of June 27, 1890. Cer- ley tariff bill went into effect for the tificate issued March 3, 1892, to allow purchase of revenue stamps. pension under said act at the rate of $12 per month from date of application and claimant's name dropped from the rolls under the general law. The appellant, in claimant's behalf, on Sept. 16, 1896, filed under the general law a claim for restoration and increase. Certificate issued July 14, 1897, to restore the claimant's name to the rolls under the general law and to allow straight increase at the rate of $14 per month from Feb. 10, 1897. On this issue Mr. Berlin was certified a fee of $2. Upon appeal he contended that ne should have been allowed a fee of $11 in addition for securing an increase of the former rate allowed under the general law, as the claimant's name was restored to the rolls under that law." Assistant Secretary Davis says: "The rule may be properly stated as follows: The restoration of a pensioner's name to the rolls under any law, as the result of the allowance of a claim for increase when the claimant's title to pension under that law is admitted, does not entitle an attorney to any greater fee than he would be allowed for securing increase, were the claimant in receipt of pension by virtue of the law under which the application for increase was made." As a fee was denied the appellant for the reasons indicated, his claim, in this ase, was rejected.

STOCK BOARD WORK STOPPED. Pennsylvania Has No Money to Proteet Her Cattle.

Under the act estabforcing the laws relating to diseased attle are met out of moneys in the tate Treasury not otherwise approoriated. All expenses are paid by the Auditor-General and State Treasurer on approval of the Governor and Secretary of Agriculture Owing to the contingent character of the appropriation the board meets every six months to decide on the amount which can be used during the following six months. For the year ending May 30, 1897, $50,000 was given, and on June 1 last another meeting of the board was held and $20,000 was set apart for its uses. REVENUE COLLECTOR MISSING.

Not Entitled to an Additional Fee Failed to Account to Brewers for Over $19,000 of Their Money.

Albany, Nov. 30.-Developments show been seen nor heard from since.

His accounts with the Government are all right. The shortage is in the funds which were placed in his hands by Troy and New York brewers about a week previous to the time the Ding-

Nearly one hundred thousand dollars was deposited with Mr. Pratt on this account, but he returned at different times during the past four months either in revenue stamps or cash all but $19,219. The brewery companies which state that Mr. Pratt failed to account for moneys advanced by them are the S. Bolton Sons' Brewing Com-pany, of Troy, $13,458.75; Quandt Brewing Company, of Troy, $2,583.75; Ruscher Brewing Company, of Troy, $2,926.55; David Mayer Brewing Company, of New York City, $250.

Owing to Mr. Pratt's continued absence, the authorities at Washington yesterday appointed his deputy, H. P. Draper, to take charge of the affairs of the revenue department here. Government Inspector James C. Wheeler began an examination of Mr. Pratt's accounts last week in order that the affairs of the office might be ready to turn over to his Republican successor, soon to be appointed, Mr. Pratt's term having expired on Nov. 18. Inspector Wheeler says that the Government accounts are satisfactory and that no shortage appears.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Pratt was in financial diffi-culty, brought about principally through disastrous real estate speculations in which he embarked in this city several years ago, and that his home and furniture had been placed on the ful of his financial condition, asked to be relieved, and Mr. Pratt transferred his bond of $200,000 to the City Trust Company, of Philadelphia. As the moneys missing were not department revenues, it is said that the brewers will have to bear their loss; that the Government is not responsible and that the surety company cannot be proceeded against.

Mr. Pratt was always a strong Cleveland Democrat until last Fall's Presidential campaign, when he became an ardent Bryanite. He was one of the leading henchmen of Supreme Court Justice D. Cady Herrick, who secured his appointment, and until his promi-nence in politics interfered was a prominent churchman. His wife and her four children are now staying at her brother's home. The Secret Service de-tectives are looking for Pratt.

AFTER THE COLORED VOTE.

The G. O. P. managers in this city are determined that every effort shall be employed to win their straying colored sheep back into the fold of Republicanism. Last Friday evening a meeting of the Republican colored ward workers was held in the G. O. P. headquarters on East Front street, and they passed a resolution expressing their loyalty to the party and its candidates. The effect of this was not altogether what had been hoped for, however, and so it was decided by the powers that be to have the resolution, with a few unimportant changes, circulated for signatures among the colored voters. This was carried into effect, and for the past few days the papers have been circulating briskly, and many signatures have been se-

A BOWLING SCHEDULE.

How the Teams in the Journal League Will Play.

The new schedule for the Central Journal Bowling League was issued last evening for the first, and will be read by a great many bowlers with much interest. Two team prizes will be given, the first one valued at $25, and the second at $20. There will be individual prizes also. The first prize for the highest average, valued at $10; the second prize, highest average spare, $5. No player will receive more than one prize. Seventy-five per cent. of the games must be rolled to qualify for individual prizes, but the average will be computed from the total number of games rolled. Visiting clubs are to take the alleys at 7:45 o'clock p. m., and retain them until the game commences. The games are not to be called later than 8:15. The following time. is the schedule:

Muhlenberg's Managers Appreciated the Big Benefit's Workers.

Now that the affairs of the Spielkartenfest have been settled up, the last remaining duty of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, under whose management the great benefit was given, was to extend their thanks to their assistants. At a meeting of the Board of Governors, held at the Public Library last evening, the following resolution was unanimously passed: Resolved. That the thanks of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital are hereby extended to the ladies of the Woman's Auxiliary Board for their unselfish and successful work, in so largely adding to the hospital funds, through the "Spielkartenfest," and to the people of Plainfield for their liberal co-operation and patronage.

The peport of the Medical Director for the past month, Dr. E W.Hedges, was received. It showed that 16 patients had been admitted during the month; 17 had been discharged cured, and 3 discharged improved. One had died. The total number treated was 34, and the number re maining is 13. There were 45 dispensary patients and 152 visits to dispensary by patients.

PREMATURE GRAYNESS.

A tendency to early grayness may be hereditary, but as a ru'e an unhealthy condition of the scalp is responsible.

Hair turns gray when the glands have so far lost their vitality as to be unable to secrete the coloring matter. This condition is usually due to dandruff or some other scalp affection.

RUM AND QUININE HAIR TONIC

THEATRICAL.

"Madeline of Fort Reno" will be the attraction at Music Hall Friday. It is a romantic wertern military drama. "Madeline of Fort Reno" is a consis tent play, as the scenes and incidents depicted have actually occurred, and as Long Bros., Pawnee Bill and May Lillie are the producers the audience is assured of a production in which nothing can be felt to be wanting. Typical western characters are introduced to the audience including U. S. Cavalrymen and soldiers, scouts, cowboys and a tribe of genuine Souix Indians, who have been procured by the management of this production, and are traveling about by the consent of the Government of the United States.

NEW TARGETS FOR THE ARMY. Old Bull's-Eyes to Give Way to Figures of The Murderer of a Christian Regarded as Men, Stationary and Movable. When the trained marksmen of the Transvaal routed the regular troops of following account of the execution of Great Britain at Majuba Hill by shoot- a native for the murder of Herr Hassing with such marvelous skill as to ner, a German banker. "The circumpick off the redcoats like so many deer stances of the murder have remained on a hill, a great outcry was heard in British army circles against the folly of teaching a soldier to shoot by placing him opposite a target and telling him to place a bullet as near to the bull's-eye as possible.

The United States Army officers have just come to the same conclusion as did the British after the disaster of Majuba Hill. As a consequence of this awakening there will shortly be issued a set of targets to be used at the various rifle ranges that will revolutionize the old system of training soldiers to become marksmen. Instead of the buil's-eye in the center of a square target, the object to be aimed at will be remained in almost pitch darkness, a black mark representing, as nearly as possible, the figure of a man as it ter, and very little of that. Of course, appears when he lies prone on the had not the murdered man been a ground, rifle presented, in the act of European, little would have been taking aim.

The largest target of all, and the one therefore, that will be used at extreme range, is intended to represent the figure of a mounted man. This is more particularly designed for carbine practice by cavalrymen. The troopers will be taught to shoot at the target from horseback as well as dismounted, and, as in the case of the standing man target, will be instructed to aim at the centre of the mass, the idea being that killing the horse of a cavalryman does no less damage to the fighting effectiveness of an enemy's force than shooting the rider.

A project of introducing moving targets based on the same system as that described above is being considered

JUSTICE IN ALASKA.

An Appeal to Congress for a Court in Cir- ly: cle City, in the Yukon Valley.

A cry for justice comes to Congress from Alaska, says the New York Sun. Away up in the Yukon Valley is a place called Circle City, where there is a population of 5,000 loyal citizens of the United States. Sitka, the capital of Alaska, where the federal court is held, is so remote that the people in in a letter addressed to the Governor at once named as a suitable person. of Alaska, by Mr. George W. Morgan, who describes himself as the chair- charged him." man of the grand jury at Circle City, the writer says that "It would take one not only a great loss of time, but great appointed. expense to himself, as he would not be able to return here until the next year." It appears from a petition accompanying this letter that the grand jury of which Mr. Morgan was chairman was a select body of citizens appointed at a meeting of the residents of the mining district "to inquire into the causes whch led to a recent homicide in our midst," and that in fact there is no justice whatever there except wholly outside the law through the agency of miners' meetings. This is an evil which ought promptly to be remedied by congressional action.

A $3,000 SADDLE.

Much Silver Used In Its Adornment and More Added Each Year.

The finest and most costly saddle in America is owned in California, where it was manufactured. It is owned and was designed by Dixie W. Thompson, a wealthy rancher of Ventura county, whose home is in Santa Barbara. The saddle is of typical Mexican pattern, with a high pommel, well hollowed seat, and the most elaborate trappings. The work was done in Santa Barbara under Mr. Thompson's supervision, and is such as only the Spanish could proluce. The saddle is of fine embossed leather, set thick with silver buttons and rosettes, the pommel incased with silver, the corners of the apron tipped with it, the stirrups faced and edged with silver half an inch thick, elaborately chased and carved. The saddletree is hung with silver rings to answer the vaquero's requirements. The girth is woven from horses' manes by native artisans, and is full eight inches broad. The reins, martingales, and whips, are composed of solid silver in woven strands. The bridle, reins, and accessories, we ghing about twelve pounds, are worth about $250 in the value of coin silver used. Each year Mr. Thompson adds something to the peauty and value of the saddle, and it has already cost about $3,000.

The X rays are now used in the Queen's kitchen. They are an instant and infallible detective of stray fish bones, plum stones and what not that may accidentally get into the royal food. The ray lifts a great weight of responsiblity fom the cook's mind.

A MOORISH EXECUTION.

A correspondent at Tangler gives the entirely mysterious. The German legation here put pressure on the local authorities. After a short time a woman went over to Gibraltar for safety, and sent word from there that she could throw light on the affair. Upon her information three men-a Spaniard and two Moors-were arrested and thrown into the prison. they were tortured by the thumbscrew, and the Spaniard confessed. He, however, was claimed by the Spanish authorities, and what has become of him I do not know. The other two were kept in prison. The smallest newspaper in the world is published in Guadalaaraj, in Mexico. The E. Telegrafo, a weekly publication, is printed in eight columns, each 41/8 inches wide, on thick manilla paper.

Among the many remedies for indigestion is the agreeable one of the rocking-chair. An excellent medical authority declares that the slow, rocking motion after meals stimulates the digestive functions, and gives marked relief. The patient ought to be placed in an almost horizontal position.

The Thames of England is 170 miles long. The river of the same name in Canada, is said to be 160 miles long. Its namesake in the United States is hardly more than a dozen miles in length, but is better for navigation than either.

A SMUGGLER'S TRICK. Paste Diamonds Made to Serve Many Val-

nable Ones "All this talk about smuggling recalls some of the things I learned when I was in the service," announced retired crook catcher the other day. 'New ways of beating the government are being devised right along and many of the tricks I discovered are old now. There used to be more trouble with the diamond smugglers than there appears to be at present. I have found the sparklers in women's back hair, hat ornaments, hollowed shoe heels and sewed up in various articles of wear; in dog collars, in horses' hoofs, in fruits and vegetables, in trunks with false bottoms, in pipes and cigars, in canes, on the necks of carrier pigeons and even buried in men's flesh after the manner of the Kaffir diamond thieves.

"But the man who did the slickest business, without ever being suspected, told me about it afterwards. He was a retired detective who had served with great credit. Shortly before resigning he claimed to have received a beautiful diamond ring with three very large stones, from a New Yorker for whom he had been able to save a good deal of money. It was certainly a magnificent ring and the matter was duly exploited in the papers. He professed to be doing a private business, that took him across the river frequent ly, and he would often use the ferry three or four times a day. He always wore the dazzling ring and I looked at it every day for months. Yet that fellow was making big money smuggling diamonds.

"How? Why, he had a paste ring made exactly like the genuine one. He would wear the paste one over, leave it to be set with diamonds, wear them back, have them replaced with paste, and thus carry on the game right before our admiring eyes. We never suspected the rascal.'

The experience of Plainfield people proves this. Here's a case in point:

Mrs. R. A. Martin, of No. 70 Jackson avenue, says: "I have had pains in my back and lcins for about one year of more, no doubt being caused by my kidneys being out of order. I felt it more in the morning just after getting up or if I did any stooping or lifting. Notwithstanding the fact that I took all kinds of medicine I never found anything which helped me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at L. W. There was some criticism of the management of the Plainfield A. A. that they did not schedule games with the small college teams in the vicinity. The truth of the matter is that the management wrote in plenty of time but the colleges did not want to play. They had nothing to gain and lots to lose by meeting the Plainfield team. Rutgers had already had her scrub team nearly swept out of existence and she did not care to risk the 'varsity team. Stevens' Institute had heard considerable about Plainfield's strength and would not come.

The football season is over in Plainfield. The Plainfield Athletic Association has disbanded its team for the year. While there have been mistakes has much to be thankful for. Plainfield was given the strongest team Boice, Runyon, Ulrich, city and but for several unfortunate happenings that come to every club, the season was a successfully one. Financially, the club was a success and sufficient money was taken in to pay off every bill and leave a small balance behind which will be turned into the treasury for use next year. The greatest hinderance to the management was that the local players would not turn out to practice as they should and so the team play that to accomplish a result so gratifying. was expected did not appear in most of the games. Individually, most of the players were excellent and there was excellent material to work with.

In the first game the Parks scored 731 and the Rosolle team 723. In the last two games the visitors rolled scores of 779 and 813 as against 710 and 795 for the Parks. There was nothing of any special interest about the games, and no high scores were made. REV. W. R. RICHARDS EXPLAINS. He Quotes His Words in Refere to the News Editorial.

To the Editor of The Daily Press: Your paper last evening contained a reference to my sermon of the day before which was not quite correct. In quoting from a recent editorial in one of our papers I did not name the paper and, furthermore, made no charges against the writer of the a ticle. There was nothing in what I quoted to show whether the materialistic view presented in the article received the writer's own endorsement as what ought to prevail, or whether he merely stated it as the view which he thought would prevail in the action of our city government. So nearly as I can remember my words were these: "I have read these sentences with a feeling of shame, and I ask you, as Plainfielders, whether you are willing to endorse that as the proper policy for our city to adopt,"

The error in your report was unin tentional, I think, but, in justice to myself and others concerned, it seems to call for this word of correction. W. R. Richards.

THE QUEEN CITY BAND.

Plainfield's New Musical Organizatio Duly Organized, The new band in this city which excited so much favorable comment at the dinner given by the firemen on Thanksgiving day at the Pierce Cycle Academy by its excellent renditions, was duly organized last evening at its charter membership of eighteen. The organization was conducted in a thor ough business-like manner, and the following officers were elected to serve one year: President, O. C. Nichols; vice-president, Adolph Kahrmen; secretary, Owen Smith; treasurer, David Urin; business manager, Benj. La-Vere; librarian, Chris. Sorenson, Jr.

The band will hereafter be known as the Queen City band, and has no connection whatever with the Plainfield Cornet band. The band starts off with a bright future in prospect, and promises something novel and good in the line of band concerts next summer, and judging by the progress already made, it may be safe to say that the citizens of the city will, in this band, have one of which they may feel duly proud.
