REPLIES TO MR. GAVETT. REFERS TO AMERICAN PATENTS TO

SUPPORT HIS CLAIMS. would Prefer That the City Should Settle the Matter at Dace, But Declares His Company is Ready for a Suit if Necessary. The controversy between the City of Plainfield and the American Sewage Disposal Company, of Boston, which corporation claims to control by patents the system that the Oity Council is considering for use at the sewage disposal beds, is naturally one of interest to every citizen of Plainfield. A. J. Gavett, street commissioner. recently replied to a communication from Mr. McClintock, president of company. Another letter from Mr. McCiintock was received this morning. He writes as follows:

To the Editor of The Daily Press:the sewage farm with Mayor Rockfellow in May, 1900, each of the twenty filter beds was filled with sewage to the depth of several feet, so that the sewage was overflowing the artificial banks, and escaping into the stream which flows by the farm. The sewage flowed onto these beds at the rate of about 25,000 gallons per acre per day. The coment-like qualities of the solid matters of the sewage had sealed up the filters so that nothing would pass through them; and so they were use-

Mr. McClintock, representing the original discoverer of septic action in this country, if not in the world, and the party to first apply septic action to sewage disposal, and to combine septic action with filtration in the care of sewage, explained to the Mayor that septic action would remove from the sewage those matters which clog the filters, and would cause a one acre bed to do what twenty beds of like size failed to do, without septic ac ion.

The attention of Street Commissioner Andrew J. Gavett, Corporation Counsel Marsh, and others generally, is called to French patent 144,904, and United States patents, numbers 258,744

As an expert, Civil Engineer Gavett must decide that patent number 258,-744 covers a structure which would Brown & Quimby, of Boston, to cover of the Patent Office files, the next step in advance is found in patent number 559,522. As an expert, he must see that this patent covers septic action and filtration in combination. It was drawn by Mesers. Wright, Brown & Endeavor Society will observe Chris-Quimby to cover septic action in combination.

It is true that similar works are bescribed in The Engineering Record of be present, May 9, 1896, and in the U.S. Geological Report, 1899, No. 22, page 42. The Massachusetts State Board of Health's Cameron, of Exeter, England, first utilized the combination in 1896. Rudolph Hering, in the September, 1898, number of The Engineering Magazine, makes the same error. These eminent experts are the authority that no works were built at an earlier date. In the 1895 report, the Massachusetts State Board of Health condemn the system as recommended

Whether the Patent Office officials were justified in issuing the patent on such an important discovery as that septic action and filtration in combination would separate the impurities from the water in the sewage and allow the latter to flow away purified is a matter which if contested the United States Courts must decide and there is probably no city in the United States where the benefit and novelty of the discovery can be more clearly demonstrated than in the case of Plainfield, N. The terriblymangled body was picked up and taken to Johnson's undertaking rooms in Somerville. He was 49 years old and leaves a wife but no ehildren.

Cox had been to Plainfield during the afternoon and had returned as far as Finderne by trolley. He got off at this point to cross the railroad track to visit a friend near Meyers' dairy. There is no gateman at the crossing and it is protected only by a continuously ringing bell. Whether or not Cox heard the bell will never be known. He walked directly in front of the train which was running at a rate of nearly a mile a minute. It is supposed that he became bewildered by the storm as the snow was falling heavily at the time.

But it Wasn't of the Kind That Blocks Traffic and Brings Sleighing.

FEW CUTTERS WERE OUT.

ACK OF POWER DELAYED CARS ON THROUGH TROLLEY LINE.

Snow Ended Last Evening, About Three Inches of Snow Having Fallen-Ed. Campbell Had First Sleigh Out

After enjoying a green Christmas and bare ground since winter began Plainfield was treated with the first real snowstorm of the season yesterday. While it was not one of the kind the oldest inhabitants delight in telling about, still there was no denying the fact that it was a snowstorm and for that matter it served its purpose, which was to remind the citizens that they were still living in a region where they might expect such things. The first intimation of the coming storm was when the sun "rose cheerless over the hills of gray" in the early morning, and within a few hours was completely hidden behind a pall of leaden clouds. About 9 o'clock the first few venturesome fiskes began falling, and, aided by recruits in constantly increasing numbers, began covering Old Mother Earth with her proverbial, but somewhat delayed wintet coat. At noon the appearance of the streets convinced everyone that the storm had began in earnest, and at 3:30 the ringing of sleigh bells announced to the anxious and expectant small boys that there was really enough snow to warrant the overhauling and bringing out of old sleds.

At this time the ground was covered to the depth of about two; inches. While the snowfall continued until after dark, it had lessened considerably, and by 9 o'clock had ceased completely. There was nearly three inches of it. With its cessation the work of clearing the walks and streets began and continued until belated travelers were able to proceed homeward without slipping and sliding in all direc-

As far as travel was concerned there was really no impediment as the snow was very light and not inclined to pack. The two large electric snow sweepers of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central New Jersey Street Railway Company, were brought into service early in the afternoon and were kept at work until after midnight. The cars encountered but little difficulty in keeping up with the regular schedule except on the Elizabeth-Plainfield line where the lack of power delayed them. The first cutter to appear in town was driven by Edward Campbell, of Avon Park, and while the traveling was not of the best, he seemed to enjoy it immensely. Other cutters appeared and by night there was a merry jingling of bells in all parts of the city.

This morning the sun appeared in a cloudless sky and the white blanket is already beginning to depart as silently as it came.

Something About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Coers May Care. Ito Witness.

Wm. A. Brady's great production of Marie Corelli's great dramatic work, "The Sorrows of Satan," wi'll be seen here for the first time at Music Hall Monday night. Those who are familiar with the story will realize that it could not properly be presented on the stage without an exceptional cast and accessories of an unusually elaborate and costly character, while those who have seen any of Mr. Brady's other productions know that he would not attempt this even if it were possible. Marie Corelli's admirers may therefore safely anticipate an entirely adequate presentation of this strange tale of the Davil on earth. ouse While Considering the Agricultural Bill Incidentally Revives the Antipolygamy Fight.

WASHINGTON. Jan. 31.-The shipping bill was kept at the front in the senate throughout yesterday. No appreciable progress was made, most of the time being occupied by Mr. Turley of Tennessee and Mr. Jones of Arkansas in speeches opposing the bill and severely arraigning its alleged favoritism. Mr. Jones declared it should be entitled "A bill to permit a select coterie of shipowners to loot the United States treasury."

After the speeches the formal reading of the bill was completed, but the consider ation of amendments was not entered

Early in the day an unsuccessful effort was made to secure agreement to the conference report on the army reorganization bill. The antipolygamy crusade which re-

Four Saloons Wrecked In Danville, Kan.

RAID HEADED BY A NEW LEADER.

Plans Being Made For a Genera Antisaloon Fight-Women Volunteer For Mrs. Nation's Band. Many "Joints" Closed.

ANTHONY, Kan., Jan. 31.-Mrs. Car rie Nation was outdone here yesterday when a band of W. C. T. U. women headed, by Mrs. Sheriff of Danville, Kan. completely wrecked the fixtures in four fjoints," smashing plate glass windows and mirrors right and left, and turned gallons of liquor into the gutters. The women, who were of the best families in Anthony, were accompanied by their husbands, sons or brothers, who assured protection. No arrests were made, and the hand will, it is said, start out today on a tour of destruction through Harper county, which is prolific in saloons. Mrs. Sheriff, who led the raid, is under bond to appear at Danville in April to answer a charge of saloon wrecking placed against her six weeks ago. Mrs. Sherifi came to Anthony late Tuesday and worked all night procuring hatchets and other implements of destruction, and it was 2 o'clock in the morning before she had perfected plans for the raid. She en-listed the following women: Mesdames M. J. Davis, William Scott, F. H. Brubaker, Louis Macy, T. G. Hooper, John Hickens, Charles Robinson, John Kendall, J. H. Shelton and the Misses Mc-Kay, Page, Massey, Robinson and Nixon, all of Anthony. They began their attack shortly after daybreak, taking the saloon keepers and the town officials by surprise

The women knelt and prayed within sight of the wreck they had spread. One woman in an impassioned appeal to the Almighty asked that he guide them to dens of iniquity and direct their footsteps to other rum cursed towns in Kansas. This prayer was interpreted to mean that the Anthony women would ex-tend their crusade, and word was hur-riedly sent over the telephone wires to adjacent towns by local saloon sympa-thizers who wished to warn their fellow saloon keepers. The mayor quickly swore in extra police, and the crusaders were placed under strict surveillance. He also preserved the names of the women engaged in the work.

Mrs. Nation Gets Recruits. TOPEKA, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Carrie Na-tion organized a band of 46 women to follow her leadership and assist in wiping out "joints." The band was organized Mrs. Nation and presided over by her at the Presbyterian church. Every seat in the house was occupied. After a short talk Mrs. Nation called for volunteers, and 46 women at once signed a paper which pledged them to follow Mrs. Na-tion wherever she may lead and do her bidding at a moment's notice. Mrs. Nation announced that they will proceed re-gardless of the Women's Christian Tem-perance union, but will give warning before resorting to violence.

Many Saloons Closed. WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 31.—Wholesale liquor dealers here received telephone messages from Harper last night stating that there was not an open saloon in town at sunset. Harper is half way between Anthony and Danville, and it is said that the local W. C. T. U. leaders have been strangely active there all day. Messages have also been received here that three saloons at Attica have closed.

Defeated Revolutionary Leader Said to Be a Filibuster. SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 31.-It is reported here that the Venezuelan gunboat Restaurador, formerly Mr. George Gould's vacht Atalanta, is on her way from Brooklyn, with orders from President Castro to intercept in the Caribbean sea Senor Andrade's filibustering expedi-

steamer Philadelphia, from La Guayra Jan. 27, which left for New York yesterday, asserted that Caracas was in a state of suppressed excitement when the steam er left Venezuelan waters, President Castro's troops had defeated the insurgents near Cumana, and a comparatively unimportant mutiny among the troops in barracks at Caracas had been quelled. They also reported that the Venezuelan con gress would meet Feb. 20 to legalize the acts of President Castro, who, since the expulsion of Senor Andrade, has been a dictator, acting without electoral sanction. It was further gathered from the passengers that a general uprising might take place about the time of the assen bling of congress, but that the Nationalist party, a prominent organization in Venezuela, had offered its services to Presi dent Castro to maintain peace.

General Uribe-Uribe, the Colombian revolutionary leader, is a passenger on the Philadelphia. He goes to New York to purchase arms and predicts the success of the insurgents. Fighting, he says, is still in progress in the interior, where he has 5,000 men, though without ammunition. He declares that the city of Pana ma is likely to be attacked by the revolu-

GUTHRIE, O. T., Jan. 31.—Immediate statehood was demanded of congress in an enthusiastic convention called to order here by Sidney E. Clark of Oklahoma City, chairman of the statehood executive committee. Every county in both ferritories was represented. The 200 or more delegates here are unanimous for statehood at the earliest minute possible. The majority of them are for single statehood for Oklahoma, although the minority, which favors both territories being included in one state, is aggressive enough to give its claims great weight.

The missionaries met and prepared final resolutions, which were presented to the British minister, Sir Ernest Satow, and the United States minister, Mr. Edwin Conger. The preamble sets forth the fact, "not sufficiently emphasized in the note," that the Chinese attacked everything representing progress, that there has been no adequate rebuke for the flagrant violation of treaties and that no indemnity is asked for the Christian Chi nese who suffered heavy loss. Finally, the missionaries say, nothing has been inserted in the note safeguarding the missionaries, and they earnestly request Sir Ernest Satow and Mr. Conger to see that the former treaties protecting missiona ries are reaffirmed; that the government should be forced to allow Chinese of any rank to accept Christianity without injury to their prospects; that the missional ries should be allowed to live in the interior, own property and possess passports compelling their official acceptance; that friendly intercourse between the mission aries and officials be encouraged and that relief should be found for the suffering native Christians. The missionaries earnestly hope that Great Britain and the United States will take a leading part in the coming transformation of China, helping the rulers to enter lines of reform

New Terminal System For Chicago CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The Post says Chicago is likely to have at an early date one great terminal system for all the roads entering the city from the east, south and west. The establishment of such a system will be the consummation of a plan the general details of which have yet to be worked out. The pur-chase of the Chicago Terminal Transfer property by the E. H. Harriman syndicate is the first step toward carrying out the general plan. The need of such a terminal system has been felt individually and collectively by the roads which will use the new system of consolidated terminals when it is completed. Present methods of handling traffic have for many years been utterly inadequate to meet the needs of the city.

Peace on the Frontier. HENRIETTA, I. T., Jan. 31.-Peace among the warring Creeks has apparently been reached, and all that remains to be done is to give Chitto Harjo, the chief Snake, who has caused all the trouble, a preliminary hearing and send him to Muskogee for trial for treason. In the meantime a few more of the leaders will be arrested. The troop of cavalry under Lieutenant Dixon will probably remain here a few days until the last vestige of the uprising has passed. The Indians burned signal fires Tuesday night on the hills surrounding the town at a distance of two or three miles from the camp, and, fearing an attack, the soldiers remained under arms till daylight, ready for instant action. But the Indians at-tempted no depredation. Lynched Negro's Parents May Sue KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 31.-The parents of Fred Alexander, the negro who was burned at the stake by the Leavenworth mob on Jan. 15, are seek ing advice about suing the city and county of Leavenworth for damages and support. The father of the dead negro is a Baptist minister. He said he had written a number of influential friends in Kansas and Missouri in an endeavor to raise money to prosecute the case. He has as yet received no positive promises of finan-cial aid, but he is confident, he says, that an appeal to the colored people of the United States will bring forth a popular subscription large enough to carry the case to the highest courts in the country.

Royal Funeral Procession to Be on a Grand Scale.

ALL BUSINESS WILL BE STOPPED

The Display of Flowers at Windson Castle Draws a Crowd of Admirers-The London Florists Swamped With Orders.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The procession in London, as indicated by the war office orders issued last evening, will be a gor-geous military pageant. Detachments of 40 regiments, with an almost equal number of distinctive uniforms, embracing all arms of the service, will make a constantly changing picture. The uniforms of all the great armies of the world will appear, for, in addition to the brilliant entourages of the visiting kings and princely envoys, there will be the military attaches of the embassies and legations.

All the field marshals of the British army able to endure the fatigue will ride with their staffs. The naval corps will also take part in the procession, which will be two miles long. The war office directs that Beethoven's and Chopin's funeral marches only shall be played. From the time the coffin reaches London to its departure guns will boom slowly in Hyde park. Londoners are just awakening to the full proportions of the obsequies and the result of days of mourning, which to numerous tradesmen and others means absolute closure and is causing consternation. Suddenly to stop every industry in the United Kingdom and to turn the masses into the streets, with millions hoping to concentrate along the two miles of the route of the procession, is an undertaking which has begun to be fully appreciated by the police, but the public of London is dismayed to find that all the great markets-Covent Garden, Smithfield and others where the food of the metropolis is supplied—are to be absolute-ly closed at the end of the week. The railways of the United Kingdom will reduce their arrangements to the Sunday schedules. Restaurants and bars will be shut, and the crowds will have to wander in the streets. A small crowd gathered at Windsor to view the wreaths sent up from Osborne and placed around the ancient cloister adjoining St. George's chapel. Masses of flowers made up in crosses and crowns from rare blossoms that are the gifts of royal personages down to humble posies sent in by children. Several thousands of flower pieces, including tokens from most of the members of the aristocracy, numerous clubs, country towns, cities, societies, regiments, inmates of workhouses and even the smallest nosegays are laid out for public view side by side with the designs of the great florists. Some of the flowers are fading, but every express brings fresh additions. Windsor castle was deserted save for these sightseers. The hospital ship Maine has sent a beautiful shield, the design being the American colors in violets, geraniums and white flowers, surmounted by an eagle in deep violets, the whole being 12 feet high.

The American society in London has sent a bouquet of lilacs and lilies of the valley. Almost every public body in the United Kingdom, besides individuals of all classes, from the highest to the lowest, will be represented in the tributes. The death of the queen has created an unprecedented demand for flowers for wreaths. Some of the leading florists have had so many orders as to be obliged to decline to fill any more. The continent has been scoured for orchids and other expensive blossoms. Prices have risen tremendously. The show windows of florists in Regent street and other fashionable thoroughfares are always surrounded by crowds admiring the wreaths exhibited. Duke of Orleans Will Attend. PARIS, Jan. 31.-The Duke of Orleans has decided to attend the funeral o Queen Victoria. He will arrive in Lon-don Saturday and Sunday will deposit a wreath on the casket containing her majesty's remains. The duke's decision is interesting in view of his message of congratulation to the Paris artist who caricatured Queen Victoria in a most insult-ing manner, which resulted in the duke's being ostracized in England.

Two Years to Contemplate Death. MONTPELIER, Vt., Jan. 31.—In the supreme court yesterday the death sentence was passed upon Frank Shaw, who killed Deputy Sheriff Hoffman of White River Junction more than a year ago while the latter was leading a posse in pursuit of Shaw and his father after they had broken jail. Shaw was convicted last June. The murderer will have plenty of time to reflect over the crime, as the sentence is not to be carried out until February, 1903, in the state prison at Windsor. Shaw will spend the intervening time at hard labor, with the exception of the last three months, during which time he will be placed in solitary confine Operators and Miners Meet, COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.-The joint conference of the bituminous coal opera-tors and miners will convene at the Board of Trade auditorium in this city at 4 o'clock today. It is composed of about 200 operators and 800 miners representing western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The question of admitting representatives from Iowa and Michigan will be determined by the conference. The miners are in favor of admitting those states to the agreement, but their admittance will be vigorously opposed by the Illinois operators.

Bostock's Zoo Destroyed. BALTIMORE, Jan. 31.—Bostock's 200 n the Cyclorama building was destroyed by fire last night. The animals, with the exception of an elephant and a camel. were burned to death. Two lions were shot to prevent their escape to the street.

For a time all sorts of sensational stories were circulated relative to wild animals running loose. The fire was caused by a defective electric wire. The loss will amount to about $200,000. Antityphold Serum. VIENNA, Jan. 31.—The Klinische-Wochenschrift ascribes to a physician Staten Island Bridge.

Anyone who desires to reach Staten Island from the outside world is now compelled to take one of the numerous ferries which go from both New Jersey and New York. Freight and coal are being constantly taken to that island, however, without the trouble of ferrying as the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has a bridge across the flats and the Arthur Kill south of Elizabeth. This bridge is only used for freight and coal trains and no passengers are carried over it save an casional excursion to the resorts on the Staten Island shore of New York

Dunellen, Jan. 31-The Whist Club was very pleasantly entertained by Fred Haynes and Miss Jessie Haynes at their home Tuesday evening. A large number of games were played and at their conclusion prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wynkoop. Before leaving for home refreshments were served and those present enjoyed a social time.

The schedule of the Middlesex and Bomerset Company cars yesterday was as usual very much out of gear. Waits of one hour between cars were frequent and a more lengthy one occurred in the afternoon, caused by a fuse burning out in one of the cars as it was approaching the western end of the borough. Toward night the service was somewhat better, but there was still room for improvement.

Aleck Harris has been about the borough during the past few days making preparations for the opening of the fishing season by engaging a number of men as assistants. He has ased "Garrison's Haull" in the Raritan for the entire season and will have his nets placed early in the spring.

In honor of his birthday anniversary, Peter Trimmer entertained twelve of his friends Tuesday evening. Various amusements made the evening pass pleasantly and at their conclusion all partook of a collation. A telegram received from Miss Lillie Warden yesterday, who sailed for the south last Friday, announced her safe arrival at Brunswick, Ga.

Miss Loretta Clawson returned home from Salem, Va., yesterday where she has been visiting relatives for the past two months.

WAS HELD LAST EVENING AT HOME OF HIS DAUGHTERS IN BROOKLYN.

Was Father of City Clerk J. T MacMurray and Resided at Mountainside For Many Years.

The funeral services of the late James MacMurray, father of City Clerk James T. MacMurray, were held tie MacMurray, on Nostrand street, ance of relatives and friends. Included among the latter were Andrew McCardell, Postmaster and Mrs. E. H. Bird and Collector F. H. Smith, of this city.

Rev. Dr. Ketcham, pastor of the Congregational church, at Westfield, officiated, and spoke words of comfort to the bereaved relatives. He also spoke of the upright life of the departed and of his many excellent qualities. There was a large and beautiful display of floral tributes, including some very handsome set pieces. The interment takes place at South Amboy today. The pallbearers were the four sons, James T., Charles and Hugh, of this city, and Andrew, of Westfield.

Mr. MacMurray was one of the oldest and most respected residents of Mountainside, near Westfield, where he had lived for many years. About two weeks ago he went to Brooklyn to visit his daughters, and very suddenly he was taken ill with typhoid fever. Mr. MacMurray's wife had preceded every attention. ## Continuation of the Great One-Half Sale on Women's Winter Coats.

Genuine winter weather is here now. Just the kind when a good, well-made winter coat feels nice. Well, we can fix you out in fine shape; and best of all, from your standpoint, we'll do it at onehalf the price that we would have asked you if you had visited our coat department previous to last Tuesday. Every winter coat that we have got on hand is being sacrificed for one-half of its value. Such bargains as we offer in this line now is an incentive for us to write extensively about them in our advertisements, but we are going to stop right here and simply rehearse the one-half off prices to youconvinced that you will appreciate the remarkable reductions we have made.

ter Wardrobe. Gowns of colored silk are veiled with black net having a large design embroidered with chenille. An old silk gown may be made over in this way, as the net conceals many small defects.

A new decoration composed of mousseline de soie is seen. It consists of tiny ruches set as closely together as possible, so that they form a continuous mossy and gold fine cord. In addition there are lines of stitching which lose themselves over collar faced with velvet. The pa-goda sleeves are stitched at the edge and bordered with embroidery. Under these are silk puffs drawn in at the waist. The hat of beige felt is trimmed with brown velvet and feathers. JUDIC CHOLLET.

HOSIERY.

Black Still Prevails, Although Coi-ors Are Also Worn,

Black stockings, which have reigned so ong, still maintain their empire, although more fancy colored hosiery is now seen than was thought of several years ago. Black stockings are in the great majority, however, and are shown in all variety of plainness and ornament. Openwork and chantilly lace fronts are seen, clocks and especially embroidery in both black and colors. Black silk hosiery with colored embroidery is a particular fancy of fashion at present, and all manners of designs are employed. Some of the newest are flights of birds or butterflies across the front or thick garlands of flowers in colored silks. There are also applications of lace motifs embroidered down with silk. Black stockings are un-doubtedly those most advantageous to the foot and ankle, which is one great reason that the mode has been so constant to them. Bronze silk stockings perhaps rank next in becomingness, but the average foot would better keep clear of anything more striking and conspicuous.

An illustration is given which shows a new bolero. This forms points in front and also a point at the back. It is of cloth, with an application of velvet which simulates a corselet. The wider pelerine collar is of cloth, the narrower of velvet. and enameled buttons ornament the front. The sleeves are tight as far down as the elbow, below which they flare slightly, terminating in a velvet band fastened by an enameled button. Full puffs emerge from the sleeves and are gathered into a band at the wrist. The bolero is worn over a light silk waist. The hat has a crown of plain velvet and a brim covered with striped silk and velvet. The trimming consists of plumes. JUDIC CHOLLET.

The materials used in them are of reason I do not feel that an apology the richest in satin and silk, both is necessary for the following paragraphs concerning the gowns for summer that are coming.

The favorite skirt is to be the double one. Of these the under, or foundation, skirt, is either white or colored, as the taste may designate, and may be silk or lawn, as the price of the gown determines. Many organdies of the prettier styles have pink or light blue underskirts. The waist is then lined with the same color, which is made together with the white overmaterial, and is not an underbody with the white waist over it. Silk underskirts and silkoline, as well as lawns, are made with these garments and are a part of the garment and not intended to be worn separately, though they create this separate idea. Organdies, etamines and Swisses must necessarily be made full flowing and not hard and seweddown styles. Consequently, the form of double skirt is likely to prove most satisfactory and likewise most grace-

Of the waists a Dry Goods Economist writer who ought to know says they are the particular high points of no ticeable form, and give a very strong dea of what the best designers think summer will do for style. It is evident that the directoire forms are going to be more sought than the empire. It will be Louis XIV., and the vaists will be the summer styles of Marie Antoinette interspersed with shoulder capes, berthas, surplice arrangements and the short, round waist of that period, old-fashioned, short sleeves or long, full sleeves embellished with lace in more modern style and diversified by our lighter and more complete range of trimmings and ornaments. The gowns will be low-necked in many instances, short-sleeved in many more. But for the low-necked, surplice and bertha styles our manufacturers provide a stock collar and gimp which can be worn with this costume and which is distinctly a contradiction of the historical outline of the remainder of the

REPURTS OF COMMITTEES. By new Court House committee:

The Board of Chosen Freeholders. Gentlemen: The committee hereto fore appointed to consider the nessity and advisability of building a new court House would respectfully report progress in the matter. We realize that the matter is of considerable importance and should not be acted on too nastly. We find that the present Court House and offices are in many respects inadequate and inconvenient, and that an enlarge ment and repair of the present buildings, to an extent i creseary to meet the present and constantly increasing demands of the public business, is quite impracticable and that moneys ex-

Your committee consider that the present is an opportune time for the erection of such a building, owing to the present prices of building material and the present low rate at which money may be borrowed.

Your committee has inspected some buildings in other counties with a view to obtaining an idea as to the style, cost, etc., of a building suitable to the demands of Union county, but are not prepared at this date to make a full report as to said matters, and would respectfully request further time in which to report more fully. Signed,

Bespectfully yours,
John Farrell, B King, W. H. Swain,
Jacob Brucklacher, Henry Krouse, Committ e. Dated Jan. 2, 1901.

The Explorer of Mountains.

One of the best mountain climbers in the world is over 60 years of age. His name is Mr. Edward Whymper, and he lately sailed for London on the Lucania, after spending several months in exploring the Rocky mountains. He intends to return in the spring and head a party of American scientific men, who wish to explore the Canadian Rockies. "It is a region utterly unknown to man," he says. "There are miles and miles of mountains where not even an Indian has made his way. My plan is to cover about 500 miles of territory, starting at Calgary. We shall be obliged to travel very slowly, as it is almost impossible to use animals through that country. Great forest and fallen trees have combined to keep the tourist out, but we expect to conquer them and find out many important factspossibly some startling ones—about the northwest."—Little Chronicle.

Strongly Reminded of Home. We have a young San Franciscan in our midst, and she is homesick as homesick can be for that city of uncountable hills and innumerable heliotrope hedges. Nothing in Washington pleases her. We went to the matinee the other day, and midway of the performance I heard from her a gasp of delight. She grasped her right arm with her left hand and rubbed the skin vigorously for a moment or two. Then the hopeless, homesick look settled on her face again and she sighed.

"I thought for a moment I was out

home again," she said, wistfully.
"What made you think so?" I asked "Oh!" said she. "It was only for moment. It wasn't really true, but just for a minute I was sure I felt a flea."-Washington Post.

The Best Way.

A teacher in one of the local grade schools the other day gave the children an object lesson on the wild duck, thinking that that subject would be the most likely to awaken their interest at this season. "Now children," said she, after a lengthy explanation, "who will tell me; the best way to shoot the wild duck?" The children looked puzzled. Only for a moment, though, for the little girl at the bottom of the class really couldn't miss the chance. Up wen her hand to the highest possible altitude it could assume. "Yes, dear," said the teacher. "Please, miss," she almost gasped, so eager was she to get it out; "please, miss, I know, Wait till the duck's not looking."- winter race meet at New Orleans, told a good story the other evening to e Times-Democrat reporter of an adventure on a Cunarder. "You never heard of invisible ink?" he said. "Well neither had I up to a dozen years ago and my introduction to it was rather peculiar. At that time I was considerably greener in the ways of the wicked world than I am at present, and coming across on the Etruria, after a season in London. I was fool enough to sit in a four-handed poker game with three fellows I met in the smokingroom of the ship. The vulnerable point bout any greenhorn who plays poker is his proud conviction that he can protect himself against any kind of 'work.' That was my own opinion, and consequently I didn't care a copper who my three acquaintances might be, as long as I found their society entertaining. Two of them, I may as well say right here, were plain, everyday business men from Boston. The other was a small, dark, smooth-shaven chap, who introduced himself by the name of Cummings and said he was a lace buyer for a firm of importers in New York As is customary aboard ship we select ed our seats at the beginning and kept them throughout the play. Cummings sat with his back to the partition wall, I sat opposite and one of the Boston fellows was on the other side mention this arrangement because it has a bearing on what followed.

"We started out at a very easy gait," continued the turfman, "but soon raised the ante high enough to make it pretty warm. As far as I could see, one of my three friends played more than an ordinary clubroom game and at the outset the bulk of the luck drifted to the lace buyer and myself. At the end of the first day we were each about $150 ahead. Next day I made most of the winnings myself and was astonished at the succession of good hands l held. On the third day luck weered around to the lace buyer, and he not only gathered in my entire winnings, attractions of that section to settlers but nearly $200 besides. Meanwhile he from the northern states and from tapped one of the Bostonians for $300 and the other for $150. Altogether he stood about $1,200 ahead at the close of the afternoon. Cummings left the table first and I tarried for a few moments to smoke a cigar and chat with the Boston men. "I had to get up to procure a light, and on returning I dropped into the chair which had been occupied by the lace buyer and began idly shuffling the deck of cards. While so doing I happened to notice a peculiar metallic speck at the upper righthand corner of the top pasteboard, which proved to be the king of clubs. It looked like a minute dot of some kind of analine ink. The end of the room where we sat was rather dark, and there was a fixed lamp in the molding behind Cummings' chair that was kept burning day and night. The spot caught the gleam from this light and could only be seen when the card was held at a certain slant. From any of the other chairs it was entirely invisible. I was surprised, of course, and in running over the dech I soon found that all the face eards and aces were similarly spotted, some with one and some with more dots, the arrangement being different in each case.

"The discovery upset me completely, and, to make a long story short, we sent a steward after our lace-making friend, and after a very brief but spicy preface gave him two minutes by the watch to disgorge his spoils. I must admit he earried it off pretty well 'This looks considerably like a welsh,' he said, coolly, 'and if the deck is marked I know no more about it than you do. However, if you want your money back you can have it. A gentleman,' said he, 'always wishes to avoid a scene.' With that he counted out his winnings and bade us good night.

"A year or so afterward I saw him at Saratoga and learned positively that he was a professional short-card player, who made a business of working the Atlantic boats. To get back to the original point, the stuff he used in marking the deck was what is known as 'invisible ink,' and while it is seldom employed nowadays it can still be bought from any dealer in gambling tools. It has the peculiar property of being visible only by artificial light and when viewed from a certain angle. How and when Cummings did his marking and why he left the deck on the table are matters of mere conjec-

SPORTING. THEY HONORED HIS MEMORY.

Owing to the illress of several of the players scheduled to meet but one game was played in Krewson's pool tourney Tuesday evening. The contestants were McCann and Walsh and while the game was not remarkable for any brilliant plays, it proved very interesting. McCann took the lead at the start and held it until the end despite his opponent's attempt to pass him. The final score was 45 to 42 in favor of McCann.

The following are the winners and the scores made in the pool tournament at Krewson's last evening: Kingston defeated Walsh, 45 to 45; Ammons defeated Moore, 55 to 55; McLaughlin defeated Smith 40 to 55, Harvey Wentwrick Struck by Stone Inside Snowball-Smashed Hat and Stunned Him.

Soon after the snow storm had ceased last evening a number of young boys stood on the porch of an East Second street residence and amused themselves by throwing snowballs at the passersby. The snow was very light and in order to make the missles carry better the young men placed stones in some of them. One of the latter struck Harvey Wentwrick, of East Second street, partially stunning him and smashing a new hat, Mr. Wentwrick will make a complaint against the throwers in order to secure redress for the damage caused.

F. H. Jacobs, who so successfully conducted the singing at the last State convention, will have charge of the music, and those who sang in the convention choir will compose the large chorus. Robert A. Alberts, whose executive ability contributed so materially to the success of the State convention, is chairman of evangelistic committee, and he and his co-workers are bending every energy toward making the meeting a helpful and practical one. It is believed that the service will have a beneficial effect on the meeting to be held by the individual societies on February 3 designated as "Decision Day."

The World's Student Federation has set apart February 10 as a day of special prayer for schools and colleges and it invites all Christians join its members in petitions for the deepening of the spiritual life among the young men and women of the various educational institutions of this and other countries, Rev. Francis E. He will present this petition on behalf of the examiners. The petition will represent that the number of candidates is constantly increasing, and that while there are as many applicants of excelient qualifications as in the past, there are, far more than ever before, those whose education is not such as to fit them for the bar.

The petitioners will state that they are of the opinion that the examination should, besides being a test of the candidate's knowledge of the whole field of jurisprudence as administered in this State, test in some degree his general education. They suggest that the court cause an investigation to be made by competent persons of the work of the American Bar Association, and of the experience of other States on the subject, and that a report, based upon that inquiry, be made upon the best methods of Miss Lovylipz-Oh, George! Now that testing educational qualifications, both general and professional, in candidates for admission to the bar, to the end that the court may, in the light of that information, frame some remedial measures.

Will Observe Endeavor Day. Sunday being Endeavor Day, the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church will hold a special service in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. The programme to be followed is the one prepared by the United Society, of Boston, and the services will be of interest to all Endeavorers. Rev. C. L. Owing to a great diversity of spec! fleations used in building roads in All New Jersey, it has for some time past been thought advisable to hold a meeting of the county engineers of the State and adopt uniform specifications the engineers held a meeting, compared views, and decided that some action should be taken inasmuch as New Jersey leads all other States in the Union in road building and fine And all other goods in proportion. roads. There has been a great demand for the reports issued in this State concerning roads. Only re cently Gen. Nelson A. Miles wrote for one of the reports and specifications, and the officials at Washington have also been writing for them.

In view of this uniform specifications were deemed essential. New Jersey has every kind of soil known that is used in road building and this has an important bearing in the matter. The result was that two whole days were recently spent discussing specifications and last Tuesday the county engineers met at Trenton and adopted uniform specifications, which will be the stand- class references.
